To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Your article signed "Republican" prompts me to say that a change of administration in city affairs would be a step in advance, not backwards. Every move through the present Council has been in the line of extravagance; until the burdens of taxation have become onerous and burdensome. Reasonable improvements our citizens want, but the present regime seem to know no limit. To say that Plainfield is bound to grow sounds well, but let us take warning from the history of Elizabeth and Rahway. This was the cry of the wild schemers in those cities. We all know the result. Will "Republican" excuse or approve the library appropriation. Was this needed or warranted in these hard times? This is but one of many unwarranted steps. I feel that the conservative citizen will cry a halt. Let a Citizen's ticket, or any ticket that may bring us a change, come before the people, and I feel that it will be ratified. Citizen.

Y. M. C. A. Bible Class.

Mr. Murray's Bible class meets this evening for the study of the life of Paul, the subject of the lesson being "Paul, the persecutor." His spirit and methods; his explanation of his conduct; other causes for his opposition to Christianity; effects of the memory of the persecutions on Paul's mind. All men are invited to join.

Guild Exhibition.

The Guild of the Church of the Redeemer is arranging for an exhibition of "Gibson Pictures" at the Park Club this month. The date will be announced later. The patronesses are Mrs. Charles Matthews, Mrs. George P. Dupee, Mrs. Samuel Townsend and Mrs. E. C. Perkins.

STILL HAVE THEIR FACES

BUT NOT ON PHOTOGRAPHS, AS THEY BARGAINED FOR.

Dunellen People Believe That They Have Been Duped By a Smooth-Talking Man Who Visited Them Lately.

When the people of Dunellen desire to have their photographs taken they will be more careful in the future as to who shall do the work. This decision is the result of an experience they had last week, the outcome of which was only discovered yesterday afternoon.

Last Friday and Saturday a man giving the name of John W. Powlison called on fifty families in the borough and secured from nearly every one the sum of fifty cents or more, for which the payee was to receive one half-dozen elegant enameled cabinet photographs. The man had a large number of coupons, which he was offering for fifty cents. The coupon advertised the firm name of Langhorne & Co., Plainfield, N. J.

Powlison stated to each person that Mr. Langhorne would take the pictures personally and was offering them at such a low price for the purpose of introducing his work in Dunellen.

The time set for taking the pictures was yesterday afternoon. Those who had purchased coupons put on their best togs for the occasion, but waited in vain for the appearace of Mr. Langhorne. Those who bought the coupons began to think then that possibly the scheme might be a fake.

One or two came to Plainfield and interviewed Mr. Langhorne concerning the matter. The latter at once informed them that the scheme was fradulent so far as he was concerned, as he had no such agents doing work for him.

The coupon offered a glass-mounted colored photograph free and the offer was to be good for this month only. The pictures were to be just the same as those sold for $3, and were to be delivered within five days. There was to be no extra charge for family groups, babies or resittings. Two negatives were to be taken and two proofs shown.

Mr. Langhorne was seen by a Daily Press reporter this morning. He is of the opinion that owing to the fact that he has been in business in Plainfield for twenty years the man thought that he probably could work his name very easy, as he is well known in this section. He feels as though he would like to make an effort to catch the guilty man, but says that there seems to be but little hope of doing so. He feels sorry that his friends should have been duped in this way.

The name of Langhorne & Co., Plainfield, N. J., was stamped upon the coupon, thus leaving the coupon otherwise to be applied to any place where the man desired to work his scheme.

TO LECTURE ON EVOLUTION.

Rev. A. C. Nickerson Will Commence a Series of Lectures Friday Night.

The free lectures, given under the auspices of the Plainfield Branch of the National Alliance of Unitarian and other Liberal Christian Women, which in years past have proved so popular and have been so well patronized, will be continued this winter.

The subject of this season's series will be "Evolution," and this interesting theme will be ably treated in six lectures by Rev. A. C. Nickerson, pastor of All Soul's church.

The first lecture of the course will be held next Friday evening at 8 o'clock in All Soul's church. This opening talk will deal with the subject in a somewhat historical manner. A definition of terms, so essential to the correct understanding of such a subject, will form a part of the lecture, and a very important part, as the succeeding lecture will necessarily be built up from this one. The story of the growth of the theory will form the second part of the talk. This theory which revolutionized thought, social philosophy, economics and theology and made it possible to follow natural and reasonable lines of thought in all branches of knowledge. The great names of Darwin, Wallace and Agassiz and all that they accomplished cannot be brought too clearly before our minds. A knowledge of this doctrine and its rapid growth is necessary to an intelligent interpretation of modern life and a correct estimate of the past.

It is to be hoped that this liberal offer of free lectures on this important subject will be appreciated and that the lectures will be well attended.

Change of Date.

The first of the series of concerts by the New York Philharmonic Club will be Thursday, December 9th, and not December 7th, as announced, the lecture in the University course being on that date.

MANY "NO GOOD" MARKS

BOROUGH OFFICIALS GO OVER THE DELINQUENT TAX LIST.

The Purpose Was to Determine Just What Could be Collected—In Session For Several Hours But Did Not Finish the Work

Last evening the Borough Council, Corporation Counsel Reed and Collector Spencer met in the Council rooms for the purpose of going over the delinqnent tax lists recently reported by a special committee from the Council. The members were in session until nearly 11 o'clock and then were not able to finish their task. The Council is anxious to learn exactly how much of the delinquent money can be collected.

Mr. Spencer was able to give the Council considerable light about some of the delinquents, and a great many were marked off as being "no good." The amounts ranged from 10 cents and upwards. Strange enough some of the real small amounts were reported as being uncollectable, although the delinquents were stated to be in the borough and well able to pay.

On some properties it was shown that the wrong person had been assessed and when Council asked who should be assessed for the lot no definite answer could be given.

In fact, in one case it was stated that a certain lot could not be found, although it was recorded in the assessor's book. Lawyer Bird was present and took stenographic notes, and the investigation will be continued at an early date.

The Council is anxious to finish this work as early as possible so as to allow the expert accountant to go over the accounts of the borough and start a new set of books.

THE ART OF PRINTING.

FIRST LECTURE IN THE MONDAY AFTERNOON CLUB SEASON.

The Head of a Big New York Publishing House Gives a Historical Sketch of Book Publishing That Was Interesting.

The first lecture of the season before the Monday Afternoon Club was given yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Casino. Mr. Putnam, of the publishing firm of G. P. Putnam's Sons, of New York, gave an hour's talk on "The Art of Printing and Book Publishing in Holland and the Netherlands." He referred to the claim that the invention of printing was the work of Laurens Koster, of Holland, but believed that the best authorities conceded that the inventor was Guttenberg, of Germany. He gave some interesting facts about block books that preceded printing, when the illustrations were more eloquent than the text, and pronounced some of the illuminated books these publishers produced so superior in color and material that artists of the present day cannot vie with them. He mentioned a number of famous publishers in the Netherlands with some of the difficulties attending their craft, some of them imposed by church and state, and closed with an account of the famous books of the Elzevirs, who possessed unbounded patience and wonderful skill.

Dam Said Not to be Safe.

At the meeting of the Borough Council, held last evening, Mayor Wilson stated that he had recently noticed that on the city side of Tier's dam there is a likelihood of the structure giving way at any time, as it is very weak in appearance. Someone, he said, had placed a piece of timber against the stonework, but this he did not consider sufficiently strong to be permanently safe. The matter was reported to Mr. Woolston and he will report the case to the street committee in this city.

Engineer Porter Leaves the City.

John Porter, the efficient engineer of the city steam roller, has accepted a position for the winter as engineer for the Shanleys, the well-known contractors, who are now building a road at Menlo Park and soon go to Trenton. The city's work with the roller has been completed for the winter and the roller will be put away.

Help For Western Mission.

A large box filled with clothing, canned goods, etc., is being packed at the home of Mrs. M. L. Connelly, 35 Manning avenue. It will be sent to a missionary laboring in Dakota, and will no doubt be a blessing to his large family.

Trolley Obstacle Removed.

The last legal obstacle to the construction of the New Brunswick Traction Company's trolley line to Bound Brook was removed yesterday, and the road will now be pushed to completion.

Will Not Pay His Wife's Bills.

A. G. Vogeler announces in the advertising columns of The Press today that he will not become responsible for any bills contracted by his wife in his name.

AFTER G. O. P. SCALP.

PUBLIC MEETING OF INDEPENDENTS TO BE HELD THURSDAY NIGHT.

Washington Hall Will be the Meeting Place—Enthusiastic Meeting of Enemies of Regular Republicans Held Last Night.

The movement for a Citizens' ticket in the approaching municipal election was given additional impetus last night in the Fourth ward, when half a hundred active opponents of the present official regime came together to further the independent movement.

The meeting was held under the auspices of the Organization of Independent Voters of the Fourth Ward in the vacant house owned by Isaac F. Randolph, at 1101 West Front street, and presided over by George O. Stevens. Representative citizens were present from all the other wards.

The intense feeling which is held by those opposed to the present administration of local affairs was shown in the numerous persons who made caustic remarks concerning the policy now in force, and the means that ought to be taken to defeat the regular Republican nominations at the polls.

After the meeting had been called to order the impromptu speeches followed one another rapidly.

One of the principal speakers was Former Councilman Walter Hetfield, of the First ward, who was a member of the famous "Big Six" compact. Since his retirement from the body of city solons Mr. Hetfield has not been very active in politics, but this year he is in the fight on the Citizens' side.

Mr. Hetfield recited records of Republicans in city government and insisted that it was time there was retrenchment in public expenses. He dwelt particularly on the increased tax rate in a time when the valuations had been raised.

Former Councilman Weber, of the Fourth ward, is among the prominent men associated with the new movement. Mr. Weber served as a Republican Councilman, but he is going to do all he can for their defeat this year. He is an earnest advocate of Plainfield being governed by people whose whole interests are centered here. He was present at the meeting and spoke enthusiastically.

Remarks were also made by Charles Burnett and Henry Liefke. It was decided that the officers of the Fourth ward organization should be empowered to make arrangements to hold a public meeting Thursday evening of this week when an opportunity will be given everyone who is dissatisfied with the present condition of affairs to have their say. Out of it all will be inauguration of a general movement for the thorough organization of the whole city to nominate and carry on the campaign of the Citizens' movement.

This morning Washington Hall, West Second street, was engaged for the meeting Thursday evening.

MISSION WORK IN THE FAR EAST.

Prof. Thomson Spoke Interestingly of the People and the Workers.

Something of life in Ceylon and India was interestingly told by Prof. Thomson in an illustrated lecture at the First Baptist church last evening. The lecture was given under the direction of the Temple Builders' Society and was well attended. Prof. Thomson was an interesting speaker, and he had the advantage of having a large number of very fine stereopticon views with which to illustrate his talk. He took his hearers to Ceylon, giving a description of the manners and customs of the people there, the religious beliefs and the manner in which the missionaries had to work. He next called the attention of his audience to India-proper and spent most of the evening in the Madras province, telling of the wonders to be seen there and something of the manner of life of the missionaries and what they had to encounter. He exibited a photograph of the triumphal march of the Car of Juggernaut.

The End Not Yet.

The services held in Grace M. E. church still prove to be the centre of attraction to a large number of people. The attendance and interest last night proved beyond a shadow of a doubt that the end is not yet. Three persons last night entered into the life of peace and pardon, and those who refused to yield went home under deep conviction. A special feature of the service tonight will be duets and solos sung by members of the choir.

Justice Nash's Court.

The contract case of Welch against Wilmott, on contract, came before Justice Nash yesterday, and on the motion of the counsel for the defence, City Judge DeMeza, a non suit was granted.

George F. Brown, of Grove street, has recovered from a slight illness.

A HORSELESS CARRIAGE.

HUGO STOMMEL'S INVENTION GIVEN A TRIAL ON THE STREET.

Its Weight was Heavier Than the Maker Anticipated, and the Two-Horse Power Engine Could Only Move a Little Ways.

Hugo Stommel's horseless carriage, which has been in process of construction for the past two months, made its first appearance in the streets of Plainfield yesterday afternoon. The mud was thick in the streets and somewhat impeded the progress of the strange-looking vehicle, but it managed to go after a fashion, showing, however, the need of a more powerful engine.

Herr Stommel has been working on the horseless carriage for many weeks. It is of his own invention and is very different from the usual model of horseless carriages. He has been hoping to complete his invention in time to give it a thorough test before the winter sets in, but there have been numerous obstacles that have prevented its completion until yesterday. Despite the unpromising weather, Mr. Stommel was very anxious to give it a trial at the first possible moment and so brought the carriage out of the shops of the Union Tire Company, where it was constructed.

The carriage was handsomely fitted up with nickel trimmings, dark paint and dark grey cushions and upholstering. The carriage weighed 600 pounds, considerably more than its inventor had expected, and the two horse power gasoline engine was only strong enough to move it but a short distance at a time. The carriage was tried on Park avenue, between Fifth street and North avenue, and was found to be comparatively noiseless. The present engine will be replaced by one of four-horse power, when it will be given another trial.

NO RIGHT TO THE NAME.

Seventh Regiment Did Not Have a Base-Ball Team on the Field.

There is, at present, serious trouble in view for two members of the Seventh Regiment of the New York National Guard, as a result of a visit to this city last fall. The two exciting baseball games that were played in this city between the Crescents of Plainfield and the West End Field Club will be remembered. It will also be remembered that the West End Field Club came first under the name of the Seventh Regiment team and they were afterwards spoken of as the successors to that nine. The Seventh Regiment did have a baseball nine early in the season but it was disbanded and several of the Seventh Regiment team went to play with the nine of the West Ends.

It was decided by the regimental authorities that the members of the regiment who had played on the West End team had made improper use of the name of the regiment in connection with the West End nine and charges were brought against them. Both were court-marshalled and now stand in danger of being dismissed from the ranks.

TO PROTECT NEWSPAPERS.

Senator Daly to Introduce in the Legislature a New Libel Law.

Senator William D. Daly, of Hudson county, yesterday announced his intention of introducing in the Legislature at the coming session a bill for the protection of newspapers in case of libel. The bill, which is now being drafted, will be drawn up on lines similar to those upon which the New York libel law is based.

It is proposed to give the newspapers the privilege of immediate retraction, and, in cases where the libellous statements have been furnished to newspaper men and published in good faith, it will hold the parties who originally furnished the libel responsible.

The Meanest on Record.

The most contemptible thief of the season is the one who went into the cornfield of Henry McKensie, at Warrenville, one night last week, and husked out and carted away five shocks of the best corn in the field. The stacks selected would turn out fully three bushels of ears to the stack. Mr. McKensie at the time was seriously ill, and, of course, not able to look after his interests. The people in the neighborhood are naturally indignant, and threaten the culprit, whom they think they know, with a coat of tar and feathers.

Important Real Estate Exchange.

Mrs. Anna Hanigan, of 49 Somerset street, has traded with Woolston & Buckle, the desirable building lot on North avenue, adjoining D. S. Roberts' property, 57x100 feet in size, for a house and lot on Sandford avenue. The genial Charley Lyman made the deal.

—Jerusalem Lodge, No. 26, F. and A. M., will meet this evening and work the third degree.

WRECKED IN DENSE FOG

A MISTY VEIL HUNG OVER MOTHER EARTH THIS MORNING.

Railroad Traffic was Seriously Delayed on the Central as a Result—Two Trains Came Together at Cranford in the Fog.

The traffic on all the railroads leading out of Jersey City, Hoboken and Weehawken was generally delayed this morning by the dense fog. The Jersey Central Railroad suffered with the rest. The fog settled down at an early hour in the morning and made the river a dangerous place for all except the most experienced pilots. The ferryboats wandered about in the fog, sometimes losing their bearings for many minutes only to find themselves way out of their course.

Instead of the usual seven to ten minutes in which the ferryboats of the Jersey Central make the trip from the foot of Liberty street to Jersey City, more than an hour elapsed before some of them reached their berth. All the trains were delayed waiting for the arrival of the boats. The 7:15 train did not start until more than an hour after the scheduled time. The trains due at Plainfield 8:16 and 8:44, did not put in an appearance here until long after 9 o'clock.

The dense fog was the cause of a small freight wreck on the tracks of the Jersey Central Railroad just this side of Cranford, at 4 o'clock this morning.

An east bound coal train, consisting of loaded cars bound for Jersey City, stopped at the water tank there for the locomotive to take water. An eastbound freight train was closely following. The engineer of the latter train did not notice the signals in the dense fog and prepared to stop at Cranford to take water. The train was moving slowly along when the engineer saw the caboose of the coaler and whistled for brakes. It was too late, however, to stop the train, and both engineer and fireman jumped in time to save their lives.

The engine was turned over on its side by the collision and some six of the large coal gondolas were heaped up over the eastbound tracks and their contents scattered about the bank. None of the crew of either train was injured, those of the coal train having been off the cars at the time of the wreck.

A wrecking train arrived on the scene of the trouble half an hour after the accident and the work of clearing away the debris was begun at once. Both of the eastbound tracks were blocked, but they were cleared in time to allow the regular traffic to be resumed at 7 o'clock.

TRAINS COLLIDE IN THE FOG.

Express Runs Into the Rear of the Singer Special at Elizabethport.

A rear-end collision occurred on the Central Railroad in front of the Singer factory in Elizabethport at 6:45 o'clock this morning. A Philadelphia and Reading express train, known as train No. 514, from Washington ran with great force into the rear end of the special Singer train, which is made up every morning at Elizabeth to carry employes to the Singer sewing machine factory.

All of the passengers of the special had just alighted. They stood with blanched faces and watched the express locomotive plough through the rear coaches of the train. The accident was due to the fog. The Philadelphia train was a half hour late.

The Singer train usually discharges its passengers and then crosses over to the westbound track near the Newark Bay bridge. This it was about to do when the collision occurred.

HURT IN A GYMNASIUM.

One Boy, Swinging on a Horizontal Bar, Struck Another.

Fred Marsh, aged sixteen years, of Plainfield avenue, received a slight concussion of the brain last evening while in the gymnasium at the Boys' Club. John Kline was swinging on a horizontal bar, and in going back and forth struck young Marsh on the side of the head. The latter did not notice his danger until it was too late. For a few minutes he was unconscious and suffered with cramps as a result of the shock. Dr. Murray was called and gave proper treatment, and the boy was taken to his home later. He was not seriously injured, however, and was able to go to work this morning.

Roesel in the Union County Jail.

Justice of the Peace Edward B. Kelly, of Summit, went to the Richmond County Jail in New York yesterday and brought Lewis Roesel, who was confined there, charged with being the man who murderously assaulted Mary Davis, the colored housekeeper of James C. Pitts, on the night Pitts was murdered, to Elizabeth and confined there. He will probably be tried at the January term of court.

CIVIL WAR IN SPAIN?

The Result of Weyler's Landing in Spain is Feared.

AUTONOMY NOT A SUCCESS

If the Pending Treaty Cannot be Ratified He Will Urge a Law of Like Effect—Secretary Porter to Resign.

Washington, Nov. 16.—President McKinley has begun active work on his annual message to Congress. He is anxious to complete it before the Senators and Representatives return, and office-seekers are receiving little attention at the White House.

It is known that the question of Hawaiian annexation is commanding the greatest attention in the preparation of the message. It will be made even to overshadow the Cuban question in importance.

Favors Ratifying the Treaty.

Incoming Congressmen, who are beginning to arrive at Washington in considerable numbers, agree that the subject will be one of the first to receive serious attention at the forthcoming session. Much interest is felt in the expression of President McKinley's views and desires as they will be revealed in his message.

It is contended by every one that he will urge the Senate to ratify the pending treaty, but if that cannot be reasonably expected within a short time he will be satisfied with the passage of an act providing for the annexation of the territory of the islands, which would be just as effective as the ratification of the treaty.

Mr. McKinley, however, expects the Senate to ratify the treaty promptly. Opposition to the ratification of the treaty is looked for from the representatives of States particularly interested in the production of sugar.

To Annex to California.

Messrs. Thurston, of Nebraska, and Perkins, of California, however, are ranged with the supporters of the treaty.

Much of the opposition is based on a reluctance to make a State of the islands, inasmuch as the entire population is only about one hundred thousand. To meet this a proposition is being discussed to add the territory to one of the Pacific States—California probably—as a county.

Few appointments are to be made until Congress convenes, and those that are made will be for unimportant places.

Senators Elkins and Fairbanks and Congressman Fischer, of Brooklyn, were among those admitted to the White House to-day. The two Senators talked with the President on matters that will be commented on in his message, while the Brooklyn Representative wanted to talk of candidates for local offices.

Secretary Porter to Resign.

It is asserted again with much positiveness that J. Addison Porter, secretary to the President, will shortly resign to play an active part in Connecticut politics. He would like to be Governor, but first may try to succeed Senator Hawley in the Senate.

CENTRAL PACIFIC NEXT.

Foreclosure Proceedings May Follow a Default in Interest.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Ex-Gov. Hoadley, counsel for the United States in the Pacific Railroad foreclosure litigation, was in Washington yesterday in consultation with Attorney-General McKenna. They were discussing the line of action to be followed by the Government should the Central Pacific Company default on its payment of interest due on Jan. 1 next. The first mortgage bondholders, it is said, understood that the interest will not be paid, and in that case it is probable that the Government will unite with them in foreclosure proceedings.

Nothing has yet been heard from the Reorganization Committee of the Union Pacific regarding its intention respecting the Kansas Pacific, but the Attorney-General is still confident that the Government will realize every dollar of the indebtedness of that line, as it has done on the Union Pacific. This view of the probabilities of the situation is also held by Senator Harris, of Kansas, who has an intimate personal knowledge of the condition of the road. He says it will pay 4 or 5 per cent. on $30,000,000 of securities. The Senator was opposed to the plan for dealing with the corporations adopted by the Administration, but now commends that course, as it has resulted in securing all he ever contended for, the payment of the Government's claim.

Centenarian at the White House.

Washington, Nov. 16.—The most interesting person at the regular public reception at the White House yesterday afternoon was Andrew Montgomery, of Atlanta, Ga., who says he is 103 years old. Uncle Andrew did not appear to be over 60. His hair and mustache were pure white, but he walked with a vigor that seemed to belie his claim to having passed the century mark. He explained to those with whom he talked at the White House that he had come to Washington to solicit subscriptions for the erection of a home for aged negroes. President McKinley received him cordially, and the old man went away smiling and happy.

Soldiers and Sailors' Monument.

Albany, Nov. 16.—Assemblyman Geo. F. Kelly, of this city, is drafting a bill providing for the erection of a soldiers and sailors' monument in Capitol Park, at the head of State street, in front of the Capitol building. He will call for an appropriation of $100,000, and the construction of the monument will be in charge of a commission of four.

Three Shot to Death.

Fairburn, Ga., Nov. 16.—Henry Turner, wife and sister, while crossing a small potato field leading to the main road to Fairburn, less than half a mile from their home, were shot down, but at what hour no one knows.

Bloodhounds were placed upon the trail, but all pursuit has been futile.

John M. Langston Dead.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Prof. John M. Langston, the well-known colored lawyer, politician, orator and college instructor, died in this city at 8.30 last evening.

GREAT SILVER PARTY DESIRED.

Sovereign Will Have an Opportunity to Promote His Ambition.

Louisville, Ky., Nov. 16.—The Courier-Journal, under the caption, "Sovereign's Vaulting Ambition," says:

"The great secret is out at last. Mr. J. R. Sovereign, the retiring General Master Workman of the Knights of Labor, resigned his position in order that he might push his candidacy for President of the United States in 1900.

"Being free now from the responsibilities of General Master Workman and having none of the former difficulties to contend with, Mr. Sovereign has a clear field before him, and delegates to the General Assembly openly acknowledged last night that Mr. Sovereign is an avowed candidate for the Presidency of the United States when Mr. McKinley's term shall expire, and the movement of making him 'field worker' is the initial step of the General Assembly of the Knights of Labor to launch Mr. Sovereign's boom. The effort will be made to unite the free silver forces as they were last year."

"I have no Presidential aspirations whatever," said Sovereign yesterday. "My retirement from the head of the Knights of Labor is not to conduct a canvass, but to devote my time partly to my own affairs and partly to working up the organization. If I should run for President, which is out of the question, I would only get the laboring vote."

"Do you intend to take any part in politics?" asked the reporter.

"I am unable to say. One thing is certain, and that is that I am not a candidate for the Presidency."

SETTLED OUT OF COURT.

It Looks Like Harmony in the Pennsylvania Republican Ranks.

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 16.—The case of E. A. Van Valkenburg, charged with conspiring to bribe Assemblyman Webster E. Weiss, of Northampton County, to vote for John Wanamaker as against the Hon. Boise Penrose for United States Senator during the last session of the Legislature, was settled yesterday by permission of District Attorney Bechtel. Pledges were made by defendant's counsel that all the court costs, amounting to about fifteen hundred dollars, would be paid. The defendant was discharged.

The collapse of the case has been expected for the past few days. The charge, with the conspiracy charge against Gen. Frank Reeder, were the outcome of the fight between the Quay and Hastings factions in the Republican party.

Since the election in which Dr. Swallow, an independent candidate for State Treasurer, got over one hundred thousand votes, the Quay and Hastings men have shown signs of desiring to forget their personal differences and to make up. The Hastings men let the case against Gen. Reeder go by the board, and now in return the Van Valkenburg case, which was really aimed at Mr. Wanamaker, has been dropped.

For a time at least there will be harmony or a truce among the Republican forces.

WOMAN FOR PRESIDENT.

Mrs. Henry Wants the Nomination and Outlines Her Platform.

Versailles, Ky., Nov. 16.—Mrs. Josephine K. Henry, who is being boomed for the Prohibition nomination for President of the United States in 1900, does not hope to be elected, but she firmly believes that the day will come when a woman will be the Executive of this nation.

She is the only woman in Kentucky who ever ran for a State office. She was nominated by the Prohibition party for Clerk of the Court of Appeals in 1890, and again in 1894. Making a spirited campaign after her first nomination she received 5,000 votes.

Mrs. Henry has recently outlined the policy she would adopt in case of her election as President, the central ideas of which are: "The enfranchisement of American women," "free coinage of silver," "recognition of Cuban independence," "pension reform," "reduction of Federal offices," "a non-partisan tariff committee," "law-making lobbying a penal offense," and "the abolition of the liquor traffic." Mrs. Henry is an agnostic. The thinks Thanksgiving day should be abolished and that no reference to God should be made in the Constitution.

SCROFULA

It is Foul Blood's Advertisement

But It is Soon Cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Yes, Scrofula, if anything, may be called the advertisement of foul blood. It is the scourge of the world—offensive, painful, debilitating, stubborn and well nigh unendurable.

Outward applications do not cure, they only drive the difficulty to new quarters. Emollients may palliate, they cannot abolish the evil. There is but one sure way out, and that is to eliminate the taint from the blood.

There is one remedy that can effect this, and it is the only one that, so far as we know, has almost invariably succeeded—even where the system has been poisoned by long years of taint, and the ravages to be repaired are tremendous. That remedy is Hood's Sarsaparilla. Read this:

"My daughter was afflicted with impure blood. There were running sores all over her body and they caused her much suffering. We tried medicines that were recommended as blood purifiers, but could not see that they did any good. A friend told me about Hood's Sarsaparilla and I began giving the girl this medicine. The result was that she was perfectly cured after taking a few bottles. She has had no symptoms of scrofula sores since that time." MARIETTA M. SMITH, South Middleboro, Mass.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Is the best—in fact the One True Blood Purifier. Insist upon Hood's; take no substitute.

Hood's Pills act harmoniously with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

AN ORDINANCE

authorizing the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey to lay down and maintain a Siding or Turnout across North avenue and to run and operate engines and cars thereon. The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey be, and they are hereby authorized and empowered to lay down, construct and maintain one railroad track across North avenue in the City of Plainfield, and to run and operate railroad engines and cars on and over said railroad track across said North avenue, and that such authorization is granted upon the following terms and condition.

A. That the point where such single railroad track shall cross said North avenue shall be between lands of said Railroad Company on the South side and lands of Charles H. Leonard on the North side of said North avenue and not nearer than fifty (50) feet to Berckman street and not farther from said Berckman street than two hundred and fifty (250) feet.

B. That said single railroad track shall be laid and maintained, as nearly as possible, at right angles to said North avenue.

C. That said single railroad track shall be so laid and maintained that the top of the rails shall be on a level with said avenue.

D. That for one foot on the outside of the rails, and between the rails, the said Company shall lay and maintain in good order on a level with the rails, planking, so that the crossing of said railroad track by vehicles shall be easy and convenient, such planking to extend a width equal to three-fifths of the carriage or driveway of said avenue. That the roadway of said North avenue, adjacent to to said crossing, be continually maintained on a level with said planks, and that the planks shall be renewed when, in the opinion of the Street Commissioner, it is necessary.

E. That said Railroad Company in the laying down and maintenance of said single railroad track shall make such culverts or drains, or both, on the gutter lines of the avenue to pass the surface water flowing in said gutters as shall be required by the Street Commissioner of said City.

F. That said Railroad Company shall erect a sign or signal post on one side of said railroad track on the curb line, to be lettered "Railroad Crossing, Look out for the Locomotive."

G. That said Railroad Company shall cause every engine, car, cars, engine and car or cars, which shall be moved across said avenue to be preceded in the going direction of said cars or engines by a flagman to warn persons traveling upon said avenue of the approach of said cars or engines, and no cars or engines shall be moved at a greater speed than such person can walk.

H. That the authorization above granted shall be terminable on thirty days' notice by a resolution of the Common Council to that effect, served on said Railroad Company, and in such case said Railroad Company shall forthwith remove all tracks and rails from said avenue and restore the said avenue to the condition in which it now is.

Adopted by the Common Council, Nov. 1st, 1897, approved by the Mayor Nov. 6th, 1897.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Ernest Conover, of Elmwood place, is much improved from a recent illness.

How to Cure Bilious Colic.

I suffered for weeks with colic and pains in my stomach caused by biliousness and had to take medicine all the while until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured me. I have since recommended it to a good many people. Mrs. F. Butler, Fairhaven, Conn. Persons who are subject to billious colic can ward off the attack by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms appear. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner North and Park avenues.

—Workmen are now busy laying the concrete walk on the Watchung avenue bridge.

Household Gods.

The ancient Greeks believed that the Penates were the gods who attended to the welfare and prosperity of the family. They were worshipped as household gods in every home. The household god of to-day is Dr. King's New Discovery. For consumption, coughs, colds and for all affections of Throat, Chest and Lungs it is invaluable. It has been tried for a quarter of a century and is guaranteed to cure, or money returned. No household should be without this good angel. It is pleasant to take and a safe and sure remedy for old and young. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's, Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.

Miss Lucile Rockwell, of New York, has been spending several days with friends in Plainfield.

The three-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros. of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

W. H. Hillman, of Sherman avenue, has gone to Boston for several weeks on business.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. THE CONFERENCE FAILS.

Experts Disagree on the Subject of Pelagic Sealing.

Washington, Nov. 16.—It is acknowledged that the negotiations of the seal experts have been a failure, and that there can be no agreement between the American and Canadian Commissioners. The propositions of the Americans to stop pelagic sealing for one year and then have a further conference, has been rejected, and there is no other ground upon which the conferrees will agree.

The truth of the matter is that the Canadian Commissioners came here ostensibly on the seal question, but really to secure concessions in regard to reciprocity and the labor and immigration questions. Since their arrival in Washington they have had every opportunity to discover, and have done so, that to secure the latter there will have to be legislation by Congress, and although the Government is willing to negotiate a fair reciprocity treaty under the law it must be ratified by Congress. The present state of that body is not favorable to granting Canada or Great Britain anything in the line of concession.

The expressions of Senators Elkins, Carter and others, who are now in the city, against such action, have shown the Canadians that it is almost useless to proceed further with the negotiations for reciprocity, because they cannot get what they desire. Therefore they do not intend to make an agreement in regard to the seals, for they think by holding this question in abeyance they keep it as a club to beat this Government into concessions on other matters. Therefore the negotiations ended yesterday.

Comment of the English Press.

London, Nov. 16.—The newspapers devote editorial articles to-day to the visit of Premier Laurier to Washington. They generally agree with the Pall Mall Gazette in saying "that the visit of Sir Wilfrid Laurier will make the relations between the United States and Canada closer is a dream."

The Globe declares "the statesmen at Washington have played their cards badly, and they know it. Canada has learned the lesson of patriotic independence and self-reliance, and magnificent discoveries of gold, which promise her in the near future an enormous increase in population, have confirmed her in the just confidence that, with the mother country at her back, she needs no American assistance in the work of carving out for herself an honorable and prosperous career."

A CONFERENCE WITH QUAY.

Martin and Magee to Talk With Him About the Governorship.

Philadelphia, Nov. 16.—A conference of Republican leaders of more than ordinary significance is on the slate for the next ten days or two weeks, and the outcome will, no doubt, have a material effect upon the course of State affairs in the Gubernatorial contest. The present intention is to have Philadelphia as the meeting place, though this may be changed. Besides Senator Quay, there will be present Secretary of State David Martin, Senator Chris Magee, of Pittsburg, among whom there has been cemented a new bond of friendship, and several others, among whom is mentioned Thomas Dolan, of this city.

The purpose of the gathering is avowedly the discussion of the situation in the State and the consideration of the strength of the many candidates for Gubernatorial honors, in the hope that all three can unite upon a candidate. The change in the situation since the friendly relations have been renewed between Senator Quay and Martin and Magee has been such that the senior Senator is not likely to announce himself for any candidate, and the statement is authoritatively made that he will indorse the candidate of Martin and Magee.

The final details of the meeting are now being arranged by an emissary of Senator Magee, who is in Florida in company with Quay, and who, upon his return, will bring positive news of the exact time of the home-coming of the Beaver County man.

Poker Ruined Him.

Olathe, Kan., Nov. 16.—After losing his money and reputation at poker, John F. Herman, for fifteen years a lawyer, but latterly on the staff of the Olathe Herald, and president of the Southeastern Kansas Editorial Association, committed suicide yesterday by taking carbolic acid.

He was to have been tried at Lawrence yesterday on a charge of obtaining money under false pretenses. Herman came here from Carlisle, Pa., more than fifteen years ago. He was an ardent Sunday-school worker, but the fascination of poker overcame his better impulses.

More Gold Coming.

San Francisco, Nov. 16.—The steamship Mariposa, from Sydney and Auckland, due Thursday, carries $1,500,000 in gold, consigned to two local banks.

This makes the aggregate received this Fall from the same source $10,000,000. It is largely in payment for American grains shipped to Australia.

To Hasten Durrant's Execution.

Washington, Nov. 16.—On motion of Assistant Attorney-General Anderson, the Supreme Court has decided to issue immediately its mandate in the Durrant murder case. Mr. Anderson thinks this will settle the matter and hasten Durrant's execution.

M'KINLEY ON HAWAII

President Begins Active Work on His Annual Message.

WILL URGE ANNEXATION

Annexation Believed to Be the Only Salvation of the Island—Insurgents to Make a Demonstration Before Congress Meets.

Havana, Nov. 16.—Considerable anxiety is expressed in official circles here as to what will happen after the arrival of Gen. Weyler in Spain. Some believe trouble will follow any determined effort of the Spanish Government to discipline the former Captain-General, and that in any case serious events will occur in January or February next. Many Spanish officers are returning home on leave of absence, and their number has commenced to attract attention. Even in this city there is a feeling of suppressed resentment against the Sagasta Cabinet, and murmurs are heard against the Queen Regent, due to her permitting the Premier to attempt to establish autonomy in Cuba, and because she is alleged to have permitted the Spanish press to insult the Spaniards residing here, without taking into consideration the enormous sacrifices of men and money made in behalf of the crown.

It is intimated that a civil war in Cuba would be certain to follow the establishment of autonomy. It can be said that there are no signs of the troubles in the island ending at any early date. On the contrary, it would appear that the mere prospect of autonomy is making matters worse than ever, and the belief grows that annexation to the United States is the only thing that will save Cuba from anarchy.

Concerning the movements of the insurgents very little is apparently known here, but a reliable man who has just arrived from the interior says that Gen. Maximo Gomez has not been able to pass the Moron Jucaro trocha, and that this is the reason why many of the insurgents' leaders were unable to take part in the Presidential election. It is also said the report that Domingo Mendez Capote was recently elected President of the Cuban Republic is untrue. It is asserted that Cisneros continues to act as President.

Rumors are current that the insurgents are contemplating an important demonstration previous to the meeting of Congress, in order to strengthen the hands of their friends in the United States.

Senor Quesada's Tour.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Senor Quesada, the secretary of the Cuban Junta, who has just arrived at the Washington headquarters after a tour of the United States and Mexico, says:

"I have been on a tour from Michigan to Vera Cruz. Everywhere the people are enthusiastic in their belief that Cuba should be free. The feeling is universal. It would be utterly impossible to describe the fervor of our sympathizers. It has been a most encouraging tour in every way.

"It is utter folly to believe that the Cubans will be hoodwinked into accepting the farcical reforms of Spain. They mean nothing. We receive hundreds of letters laughing at the idea of giving up the fight now for any such sham. The Cubans are more powerful and more confident than ever before."

DR. THOMAS W. EVANS DEAD.

The Famous American Dentist, Expires in Paris.

Paris, Nov. 16.—Dr. Thomas W. Evans, the famous American dentist, who assisted in the escape of ex-Empress Eugenie, died here Sunday night.

Dr. Evans was born in Philadelphia about seventy-five years ago, and went to Paris in 1846, where he won a great reputation. He attended Napoleon III. and many other royalties. His fortune was estimated at from twenty-five to thirty-five million dollars.

The secret of Dr. Evans' success as a dentist may be said to be due to the fact that he was practically the first person to introduce gold filling for teeth into Europe.

One of his first customers was the Duchesse de Rochefoucauld, one of the most prominent ladies in Paris, and she was so satisfied with his work that she spread his fame throughout Paris, and from there to every capital of Europe.

The French Emperor, Napoleon III., was one of Dr. Evans' best friends, as well as best patients. He was thoroughly trusted by every one at court. Many of the improvements undertaken by Baron Haussmann, which made Paris the pleasure capital of the world, are said to have been undertaken by the advice of Dr. Evans.

Half a Million Lost.

English, Ind., Nov. 16.—Excitement grows over the failure of the three banks in the county. Cashier Richard H. Willett, of the Leavenworth Bank, has not been heard from, but John H. Wentworth is said to have telegraphed to friends here that he will return and pay 75 per cent., if the depositors will accept and protect him from injury. It is thought this will be accepted.

The present estimate of the failure, including county and township moneys, private deposits, borrowed money and debts among merchants from whom they purchased electrical machinery and other stock, is $500,000.

County Treasurer Brown, who has nothing to show for $27,000, was yesterday stricken with paralysis and is not expected to live. Every development indicates a premeditated bank wreck on some one's part.

THE CITY ELECTION.

City election is just three weeks off and the intervening time is bound to be marked with energetic interest by those citizens who look to the welfare of the city as administered through the municipal officers. Essentially, political events are shaping themselves into a fight between those who believe that the present state of affairs is good government and those whose ideas are contrary to the policy pursued by the administration in power. In accordance with what seems to be an unwritten political law the Republicans have engendered strong antagonism in the course of their almost absolute sway for the last few years. That opposition, even arraying itself strongly in their own ranks, will become focused in concentrated action to defeat the candidates who will represent the ideas now in official force. As has been pointed out in the news columns of The Press a Citizens' ticket has been reasonably assured all along, and it is a certainty now that one will be put in the field. It is no idle comment to say that indications—as represented in the general sentiment about town—point to an independent movement that will be a strong one. The Press is in a position to state that from the present trend of affairs there will be no Democratic nominations this year, the leaders believing that by uniting with the Citizens' movement the defeat of the Republicans can easily be accomplished.

ORGANIZATION NEEDED.

The Somerset Democrat believes in thorough political organization. In a leading editorial last week The Democrat accounts for the poor showing that the Democrats of the county have made in recent years to the lack of organization in party ranks. Then follows this advice:

Let a few of the leading Democrats issue a call asking all the Democratic voters of the county to assemble to choose from their number a county leader and an executive board. Then let the Democrats in every polling place assemble and elect a district leader, or let the county leader and executive board appoint district leaders, whichever should be preferable. Let the policy of the party be directed by these leaders and the executive board, and then let every Democrat take off his coat and help the leaders. Do this and success is ours. Do this and the Democratic party will grow in power and influence, and be the means of accomplishing much good to our county by effecting wise and judicious legislation in the interest of the masses.

If something of this kind is not done the Democratic party in the county will be successful only by accident. This fact was fully demonstrated at the polls at the last election.

The opinion of the Philadelphia Press that "New Jersey is keeping its schools well abreast of the times," speaks well for the work of State Superintendent Baxter, of this city.

THEATRICAL.

Stage Productions That Plainfielders Have a Chance to Witness.

In addition to many other meritorious features, "O'Brien, the Contractor," which comes to Music Hall tonight, has one of the very best singing quartettes ever seen in a drama. Their selections include the very latest up-to-date musical hits. Their execution and rendering of their selection combine a rare blending of harmony and melody and has been a most enjoyable feature in this high class entertainment. A play of unusual merit, full of heart interest, a company of uniform excellence, bright comedy, beautiful scenery, exceptionally beautiful dresses, which are worn by the ladies of the company, all unite in making an evening's entertainment that will please the most blase theatregoers.

A merry time is in store for the patrons of Music Hall, Thursday, Nov. 18th, when the clever colored comedians, Cole and Johnson, and their company of thirty artists, will present their roaring, rollicking, musical comedy, "A Trip To Coontown." There is not a dull moment throughout the three acts, while many new and novel features are introduced. Cole and Johnson, who were Black Patti's principal comedians last season, have made the hit of their lives in this merry comedy, and have selected the very best colored artists in the profession to support them.

BOSS-MEN OF SPIEL-KARTEN-FEST.

Behold a man worth your regard.
The Grand Mogul and Boss ——d;
Stern is his brow, his glance is keen.
But in his heart there's nothing mean.
His voice is gruff.
At times he's rough.
He's apt to rile
And stir your bile.
But he'd rather die than tell a lie.
And with a zest
He does his best
Among the rest
For the Spiel-karten-fest.

Now here's a man does naught that's bad.
His family name is Gov'nor ——d;
Fine is his smile.
And free from guile
He totes the chest
And does his best
Among the rest
For the Spiel-karten-fest.

A third is here, sound as a rock.
Everyone knows good Billy ——;
Square as a brick.
By friends he'll stick;
He takes no rest
(As do the rest)
Doing his best
For the Spiel-karten-fest.

A fourth there is, who tickets holds.
A pill-er he, by name ——s;
Fat as a match
And hard to catch;
By night and day
He toils away
For the Muhlenberg play.

Our fifth, to no man he panders.
Is known as ex-Mayor ——s;
He's good at sums.
He hates all bums.
He's on the make
The cash to take
For Muhlenberg Hospital's sake.

consisting of suits, overcoats and trousers, now being sold at 33c on the dollar. A great purchase and a great sale of the entire stock of a very widely known clothing manufacturer. Cash is King, and the money on the table enables us to sell this extraordinary purchase at less than 33c on the dollar. This sale would prove the greatest sensation of the day if maker's name could be published, but owing to the fact that nearly every retailer of prominence has a stock on hand from these manufacturers, the latter to protect the former, stipulated that their name must not appear in advertisements. The name, however, appears on every garment, which is an absolute guarantee of perfect satisfaction.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Mrs. E. J. Dunn is visiting relatives at Leonardsville, N Y.

Miss Anna Todd is visiting friends in New York for a short time.

Mrs. John Tingley and family spent yesterday in Plainfield with relatives.

Miss Nellie Brown spent Sunday with Miss Pauline Denton, of Plainfield.

Mrs. F. A. Long, of North Plainfield, has been the guest of borough friends.

F. L. Reed and family have moved to Plainfield, where they will reside in the future.

John Tingley, Jr., rode his wheel to Somerville last Sunday and spent the day with relatives.

Miss Lucy Palmer Davis, of Plainfield, has returned from a visit with friends in the borough.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tingley spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Closson, at South Plainfield.

A union service will be held next Friday evening in the Seventh Day Baptist church at New Market.

A baby boy has been born to Mr. and Mrs. Fred Dunn, and congratulations are now being showered.

Isaac Stites and family have moved from their present residence to the house on Church street, owned by Mr Stites.

Miss Ethel Simmons, of Brooklyn, who has been the guest of friends in the borough, has returned to Plainfield, where she is visiting friends.

Irving Dunham, of Tennessee, is spending a week with his mother, Mrs. Ann Dunham. Mr. Dunham has a good position as engineer on one of the principal southern rail roads.

P. C. Staats has lost his valuable dog and has not been able to find him. Mr. Staats thinks he was stolen from his yard. This makes the third dog missed from the neighborhood within a short time.

Samuel Merrill, who has just had his horses clipped, has invented a novel method for doing the work. He has his clipper attached to a bicycle and he then hires a boy to ride the wheel. The wheel is, of course, stationary, and does the work satisfactorily.

If the Brunswick Traction Company complies with the requests of the Borough Council there is very little doubt but what they will get a franchise to operate a trolley in the borough. A meeting will be held this evening to receive a petition from the company.

SCOTCH PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Thomas Newman, the driver of the Plainfield stage, is on the sick list.

Norman Dunn, the new postmaster at Scotch Plains, took possession of the office last night.

A pound sociable will shortly be given in the parlors of the Scotch Plains Methodist church.

William Bacon has returned to his home in Haverstraw, N. Y., after a visit with friends in Scotch Plains.

Thomas Paff and Charles Wade were initiated as members of Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., last Friday night.

The play being arranged by the choir guild of All Saints' Episcopal church, of Scotch Plains, will be given in the Fanwood clubhouse Tuesday evening after Thanksgiving.

LINCOLN.

Mrs. Mary E. Lease and Mayor Drake are conducting negotiations, so the latter says, looking to the location of Mrs. Lease in Lincoln.

The Lincoln Hose Company was organized Saturday afternoon by the election of the following officers: Chief, Ralph T. Back; assistant chief, Joseph Maylor; foreman, Charles Roy. The company has fifty members.

Miss Minnie Bublitz, of West Seventh street, has returned to school after a three weeks' illness.

WESTFIELD

VARIOUS BITS OF NEWS.

WESTFIELD HAPPENINGS SERVED UP TERSELY FOR THE PRESS.

Many People Go and Come in the Pretty Suburban Town—Items Interesting Because of Their Brevity

John Sortor is confined to the house by illness.

The I. O. S. will hold its monthly meeting Thursday evening.

E. C. Howe, of New York, is spending a few days in Westfield.

Thomas Hyslop, of South avenue, is ill with a serious throat affection.

The Domino Club will meet at the residence of Miss Georgina Lee, at Mountainside, Friday evening.

Burt Clark, of this place, who underwent a surgical operation for tumor last Tuesday, is now improving.

Work is being rapidly pushed forward on Judge L. E. Hart's new brick building at Elm and Quimby streets.

Miss L. A. Daisley, of Brooklyn, has returned home after a visit with Mrs. J. R. Paterson, of Cumberland street.

The regular business meeting of the Epworth League was held in the Methodist church parlor last evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kells, of Brooklyn, have returned from a visit with F. P. Kelly, of North Broad street.

The Westfield Universal football team has arranged to play a game with the Battin High School team, of Elizabeth, for Saturday afternoon. The game will be played in Westfield.

Charles N. Codding, William Dallas and C. M. Smith have returned from a week's hunting trip in Northern New York State. The party had excellent luck, bringing home over 100 partridges.

Andrew Gordon, colored, of South Broad street, came home intoxicated Saturday night and choked and beat his wife severely. The woman's screams brought the neighbors to her rescue, and Gordon was roughly handled for a time.

The Sanctus Benedictus and the Augus Dei which were finely rendered at the services in St. Paul's Episcopal church Sunday morning, at the institution of Rev. Charles Fiske, as rector, were especially composed for the occasion by George Velton Steeb, the choirmaster of the church.

The Westfield Presbyterian church is considering the subject of revival services, and a joint meeting of the session and the officers of the various departments of the church will be held after the regular church prayer meeting tomorrow night to consider the best methods of revival work.

The Christian Citizenship League, of Westfield, will hold a meeting in the Methodist church Friday evening, the 26th inst., for the purpose of arranging a jubilee meeting in celebration of the passage of the anti-gambling amendments. An effort will be made to secure Rev. Everard Kempshall, D. D., of Elizabeth, as a speaker.

The work of grading and macadamizing Broad street is being pushed rapidly forward by Engineer H. C. VanEmburg and Road Overseer Connoly. A new sewer basin is being placed on the south side of the street to carry the surface water into the brook, and iron culverts will be placed in position at Elm and Prospect streets by the bridge committee of the Board of Freeholders. When the work is completed, Westfield's principal street will present a model appearance.

The annual conference of the Westfield Christian Endeavor Union was held in the lecture room of the Westfield Presbyterian church. Delegates were present from the societies of Westfield, Cranford, Roselle, Willow Grove, Locust Grove and Branch Mills. President Arthur N. Pierson was in the chair. The exercises began at 7:45 o'clock with a praise service led by Roland Randolph. The principle addresses of the evening were "Echoes of the Paterson convention," by members of the union; "Evangelistic Work," by Miss Addie Lambert, and "Missions," by Miss May Bradley. After the reports from the different societies and a short business session, the conference adjourned for a social hour. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, Miss Barton, of Roselle; vice-president, I. O. Woodruff, of Cranford; treasurer, Burt Clark, of Willow Grove; secretary, R. P. Greaves, of Westfield.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. The Remedy cured me, and I want all of my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will do them good. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, cor. of Park and North avenues.

Peter V. Huff, of Somerville, was in this city yesterday on business.

Miss Nettie Goff, of Liberty street, has returned from a visit with friends in Elizabethport.

The BALDNESS PROBLEM.

People who find themselves growing up through their hair ought to be prompt in the use of a remedy. It is far easier to prevent baldness than to cure it. But not all people who are bald are hopelessly so. It all depends on the amount of vitality remaining in the hair bulbs. There is one sure way of finding out whether a new growth can be started. Try

WHILE WE MAY.

The hands are such dear hands;
They are so full; they turn at our demands
So often: they reach out,
With trifles scarcely thought about,
So many times; they do
So many things for me, for you—
If their fond wills mistake,
We may well bend, not break.

They are such fond, frail lips
That speak to us. Pray, if love strips
Them of discretion many times,
Or if they speak too slow or quick, such crimes
We may pass by; for we may see
Days not far off when those small words may be Held not as slow or quick, or out of place, but dear,
Because the lips are no more here.

They are such dear familiar feet that go
Along the path with ours—feet fast or slow,
And trying to keep pace—if they mistake
Or tread upon some flower we would take
Upon our breast, or bruise some reed,
Or crush poor Hope until it bleed,
We may be mute,
Not turning quickly to impute
Grave faults; for they and we Have such a little way to go—can be Together such a little while along the way,
We will be patient while we may.

So many little faults we find.
We see them; for not blind
Is Love. We see them; but if you and I
Perhaps remember them some by-and-by
They will not be
Faults then—grave faults—to you and me,
But just odd ways—mistakes, or even less—
Remembrances to bless.
Days change so many things—yes, hours,
We see so differently in suns and showers.
Mistaken words to-night
May be so cherished by to-morrow's light.
We may be patient, for we know
There's such a little way to go.
—From The Independent.

A LONE HAND.

"Those who blame their failures to Providence or Fate, or whatever they may chose to call their Creator—those individuals, who, are idlers or cowards."

The speaker was one of a group of men lounging on the dock of the Great Northwest, which a few hours earlier had commenced her slow, upward progress against the mighty current of the Yellowstone. That he did not belong to either of the classes he condemned was written in the mingled resolution and complacency of his sunburned visage, while his right to "teach as one having authority" was established among his hearers by their knowledge that he was a prosperous ranchman of —— County, Montana, returning from an Eastern visit.

"We all get our chances," he resumed, after a puff or two at his pipe and a pleased glance around the observant circle. "It is our fault, not the Lord's, if we don't keep hold of them. And I'll tell you a story with that text, if you like—a story which shall be new, though the text is a chestnut."

There was an acquiescent laugh, a drawing nearer of camp stools, and the ranchman continued,—

"It happened some years since, before the Northern Pacific had crossed the Rockies. The terminus that season was at Zenith City, and the class of travel which demands luxury did not come beyond Bismarck, where the company economically shunted the Pullmans before rushing away from civilization. So the train which started from Zenith City one November morning was made up as usual, of a passenger car, a box car, and the locomotive, while its quite unusual number of travelers was composed entirely of a party of twenty cowboys. They had just been paid off for their summer's work, and had begun their holiday on the previous evening with an all-night spree. But amusement in a prairie town was not varied enough for them. They meant to go East for such a length of time as their cash would endure; and though it was burning in their pockets to get spent, they were resolved not to waste any of it in railroad tickets—a resolve of which they informed the conductor when he came to them about half an hour out from Zenith City.

"He was a young fellow, as were the cowboys. Everything was young in Montana in those days, except the sky and prairie, which are eternal, or seem to be. This chap Lloyd, however, was slim-built, with a color that changed like a girl's—threatened with consumption then, though he had got the better of that, as of other disadvantages—and very queer he looked among the big brown, brawny roughs, who left their card playing to swarm into the aisle, or lean over the seats nearest those of their comrades who had answered to his request for tickets that they had none.

"The company will take money for fares also,' Lloyd said, without glancing at the gathering crowd.

"'When the company can get it, somebody chuckled.

"'Invariably,' Lloyd asserted; 'or the passenger who refuses to pay is put off the train.'

"'You don't say so? Suppose you try. Here are Tim and me to begin with! And the whole carful after us, for not one cent of our earnings is going into the money bags of your —— swindling company!'

"'That's so!'

"'You bet!'

"'Not a chip!'

"Lloyd listened to these expressions of general determination until they came to an end. Then he was considerably paler, but his eyes had grown uncommonly bright.

"'You will hurt me much more than the company,' he said when he could get a hearing. 'I shall lose my place if I don't collect your fares——'

"'That is your lookout.'

"'We ain't going to tell your boss, if you keep quiet.'

"Lloyd's shining eyes turned from one to another of the twenty tall fellows lounging around him, so sure of the trumps they held that they were in no hurry to finish the game.

"There is a greed for tormenting animals which disfigures most human nature, from Spanish bull-baiters to those rat-fighters down east. We are not without a touch of it here in Montana. And that the tormented animal belongs to our own kind adds a keener relish to the fun, when the party doing the tormenting has swallowed as much bad whiskey as the cowboys had that morning. So these bright eyes of Lloyd's didn't met any more encouragement than did Father Noah's the first time he took a squint at the Flood through one of the portholes of the ark.

"Without speaking, he stood, very pale and still, for a moment, looking at the open pocketbook in his hand, while they all stared at him, grinning and jeering. There was a firmness about his mouth that didn't suggest unconditional surrender to two or three who watched him closely, and who were much surprised when presently the color rushed back over his face, and shutting his book with a snap, he went out of the car.

"He was followed by a roar of laughter and facetious yells.

"'Call again, young fellow!'

"'Always glad to see you!'

"Then the crowd returned to poker playing, some of them just a bit disconcerted with their victory, and muttering that twenty to one was too big odds for any chap, 'specially a slim little chap, with fists which couldn't their own against a 'kid.'"

The story-teller interrupted himself with a chuckle.

"They counted fists, you see, and forgot to take stock of brains. How should they guess that the man they had put to proof carried more brains inside his handsome head than furnished the twenty of them, though they were not fools, either?

"A quarter of an hour later the train stopped, not gradually, but with a jerk which sent poker chips flying. There was a cowboy half out of every window in the car quicker than you could have cocked a pistol, for stations were seldom within a hundred miles of each other in those days, and they all knew that this stop wasn't regular.

"Behind and before them the track stretched as far as they could see, while on both sides the prairie spread away to the low edge of the gray sky, which wasn't any grayer than itself, lonely as the ocean, and infinitely more silent. Not a sound or a movement, except that of the locomotive whisking off at full speed.

"In came the cowboys' heads with a volley of hard swearing and there stood Lloyd in the doorway, cooler than I am this instant, but holding a six-shooter.

"'You have just five minutes to make up your minds,' he said, and his voice was as steady as his eyes. 'Will you pay your fares like honest men, or get out and tramp to the next settlement, forty miles from here? Our engineer is waiting within hail of us, and he will not come back unless I give him the order. Oh, you may murder me if you choose!' he cried, stepping further into the car, as half a dozen pistols were grabbed. 'But I can shoot as straight as any of you—I don't mean to die alone—and at the sound of the first shot our engineer will be off to Bismarck.'

"For one long moment the prairie wasn't stiller than that carload of excited humanity. If Lloyd had even blinked! Thank God, he didn't. Then a big fellow broke into a laugh, took his pistols from his belt, and laying them on a seat, walked toward Lloyd, holding out his empty fists.

"'Shake!' he said. 'That was a lone hand! And pluckily you played it!'

"From Lloyd's side he faced the lot of them.

"'Boys,' he cried, 'a chap who can look straight down the muzzles of so many cowboy shooters for the sake of doing his duty, that chap will make the kind of partner most of us want to yoke with, if he will let us, eh?'

"Lloyd smiled, slipped his pistol into his pocket, and gave his slim fingers to the other's brawny grasp.

"Well, sir, all crowds are alike, whether cattle or men—they follow a leader. There was a cheering presently which astonished the waiting engineer. Then the fares were paid as fast as Lloyd could take them. And that is the end of this story."

The ranchman paused, and began carefully to light his pipe, which had died out.

"Where is Lloyd now? In Helena, State Senator from —— County," he answered an eager questioner, when the pipe was again in working order. "Where is the fellow that stood by him?" he laughed jovially. "Neither he nor his whereabouts point the moral of this tale. But, when Lloyd runs for governor, as he will next year, he shall have my vote, for he runs to win in any race he enters. And that is my creed of life, boys—'the Lord helps those who helps themselves'—I've seen it, and I believe it!"

They Keep Pets.

Everyone knows that certain species of ants keep "aphides," just as men do milch cows, to supply them with the sweet liquid they secrete. Therefore it is not so astonishing to find that these marvellous little insects keep pets which, although apparently of no direct benefit, seem to amuse them.

These pets are generally beetles and crickets, which live on the best of terms with their hosts, playing round the nests in fine weather and retiring into them on wet days. The ants have actually been watched carrying these pets of theirs from place to place during their migrations!

Wood ashes and common salt mixed with water to the desired consistency makes a durable and safe cement for any common use around the farm.

AN ORDINANCE

to Provide for the Construction of an Addition to the System of Sewerage Already Constructed in the City of Plainfield.

WHEREAS, At an adjourned regular meeting of the Common Council of the City of Plainfield, held on the 21st day of May, in the year eighteen hundred and ninety-four, a petition signed by the owners of at least three fifths in value of the real estate in said City as shown by the Assessor's books, was presented to the said Common Council, praying them to provide for and cause to be constructed a system of sewerage in the said City in the manner provided in and by a certain act of the Legislature of the State of New Jersey, entitled "An Act to provide for drainage and sewerage in Cities of this State," approved April 7, 1890:

AND WHEREAS, On said 21st day of May, A. D. eighteen hundred and ninety-four, the said petition was by a unanimous vote of the said Common Council referred to the Committee on Finance for verification:

AND WHEREAS, On the fourth day of June, eighteen hundred and ninety-four, said committee reported that they had duly investigated and ascertained that said petition contained the requisite number of signatures as aforesaid, which report was then and there duly accepted by the Common Council and ordered together with the said petition spread upon the minutes of the said Common Council:

AND WHEREAS, It has appeared and does appear to the said Common Council and the said Common Council has found and determined and doth hereby find, ascertain and determine that the owners of at least three-fifths in value of the real estate in the said City as shown by the Assessor's books have petitioned said Common Council to provide for and cause to be constructed a system of sewerage for said City in the manner provided by said act:

AND WHEREAS, In the opinion of the said Common Council the public good required that a system of sewerage should be constructed in and for said city under the provisions of said act, and the said Common Council so determined and adopted the ordinance entitled "An Ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved July 25, 1894, and an ordinance entitled "A further ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved June 21, 1895:

AND WHEREAS, In the opinion of the Common Council the public good requires that an addition, as hereinafter described, to the system of sewerage already constructed under said ordinances should be constructed in and for said City under the provisions of said act and the Common Council has so determined and does hereby so determine; therefore,

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the Common Council doth hereby direct and order that an addition to the system of sewerage already constructed under said act be constructed in and for said City under the provisions of the act of the Legislature aforesaid with all the appurtenances necessary to complete the same, and of such dimensions and meterial and according to such plan as the said Common Council may hereafter direct in and through the following described streets, avenues, property, land, and rights of way, described, mentioned and referred to in this ordinance, to wit:

Collars and Cuffs

nicely laundered are essential to every gentleman's toilet. We have every facility for doing up collars and cuffs that are used by the manufacturers in Troy, N. Y. Our plant is an exact duplicate of theirs. So is our work. If you want your collars and cuffs to look like new have our wagon call for them. We are the only laundry in New Jersey having a plant of this kind.

We guarantee linen to last longer when washed by us than when done elsewhere. We absolutely guarantee not to fade colored shirts that, when new, cost $1 or over. We don't know of another laundry that offers to do this. We don't charge any more than the others, either.

Chronic Kickers

Some in Every Household in Plainfield—But They're Growing Less.

Chronic kickers the kidneys are—when they're sick.

What makes the kidneys sick? A simple thing.

They have too much to do.

Must keep up their work, they never rest.

Can't blame them for kicking.

Ever have your kidneys kick?

Ever have a bad back, a lame, weak, or aching one?

Know it's the same thing?

The back aches because the kidneys are blocked.

Help the kidneys with their work.

The back will ache no more.

Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

It's the best proof for it comes from Plainfield citizens; read this case in point:

Mrs. W. W. Mills, of No. 86 Summit Ave. says: "Ever since the birth of my last child I have suffered at times with a severe pain across the small of my back and in my hips. If I did any lifting or stooping my back became lame and sore and though I used plasters they only helped me for the time being. I was feeling very bad last Spring when I had my attention called to Doan's Kidney Pills. They were so highly recommended for troubles like mine that I got a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store. I felt their good effects in a few days, and when I had finished the one box my back was better and stronger and I had much more energy to attend household duties. Doan's Kidney Pills have my endorsement and I am always pleased to recommend them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

FOR CURRENCY REFORM

Former Gov. Merriam Says It Is Necessary to Prosperity.

BUSINESS MEN DEMAND IT

Congressman Fowler on His Monetary Bill—Government Should Retire Its Demand Obligations—Let the Banks Conduct Commerce.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Ex-Gov. Merriam, of Minnesota, who is in this city and has had frequent conferences with the President, said yesterday:

"There is no question before the American people that begins to equal in importance the movement for a reform in our monetary system. We cannot have thorough and permanent prosperity until the national finances are put on an indisputably solid basis. The business men of the country, realizing that the fruits of last year's victory are not complete until this is brought about, are looking to see Congress take the matter up and deal with it energetically and patriotically. The Monetary Commission is working along right lines, and their plan, when formulated, while not likely to be accepted in all its details, will, no doubt, be valuable to the legislators.

"Personally, I favor the retirement of the greenbacks, which will always be a source of danger. They were a necessity of a war epoch, but the time has come when, in the interest of a stable system some better plan should be adopted. The danger of currency contraction is overestimated, for it is easy to provide other forms of money.

"In the meantime the country is getting in good shape. In my section everybody feels the improvement. Our cereals have brought large revenues to the farmers, and another leading source of wealth, lumber, is in demand at better prices. My belief is that at least we are touching the edge of prosperity, if we have not as yet pierced its centre."

Mr. Fowler's Currency Measure.

Washington, Nov. 16.—Representative Fowler, of New Jersey, has collated the comments of the financial press on his explanation of his currency reform measure. In addition to the arguments advanced in his address Mr. Fowler says:

"Our present system of currency is such that the slightest doubt thrown upon our ability or disposition to maintain it upon a gold basis shakes every business to its very foundation, spreads devastation of values everywhere, paralyzes enterprises and brings upon our people losses of untold millions. In addition to this disturbance to business and incomprehensible loss to the people, the Actuary of the Treasury has informed us that since 1879 it has cost the Government $339,984,222 to maintain our paper upon a gold basis, or an average of $21,000,000 per annum. This shock to commerce, loss to the people and cost to the Government can be obviated by throwing the maintenance of our standard of value upon the banks, where the burden belongs.

"The Government should retire its demand obligations and let the banks assume the conduct of commerce, taking with it the right of note issue upon certain conditions. As a first consideration of the privilege they should carry the Government debt at a rate of interest not to exceed 2 per cent., thereby saving to the people more than fifteen millions in interest annually. As a second consideration they should maintain gold payments by currently redeeming their notes in gold, which should be guaranteed by the payment of a sufficient sum into the Treasury of the United States in the form of a tax upon circulation. In addition to such guarantee fund the Government should have a first lien upon the assets of the banks (which now exceeds seven billions of dollars) for the purpose of ultimate redemption in case of a failure. As a third consideration they should be required to pay into the United States Treasury a sufficient tax upon deposits to insure all depositors in national banks against loss in case of failure. Such a tax would not have exceeded an average of one-twelfth of 1 per cent. per annum during the past thirty-three years, which is an infinitesimal sum compared with the great advantage to be derived therefrom, not only to the people, but to the banks themselves.

"Certainly, the saving annually of more than thirty-six millions in interest and the cost of maintaining gold payments with an absolute guarantee to the note holders and depositors in our national banks against loss would not only be an adequate, but a rich consideration of note issue."

BYE-ELECTION IN ENGLAND.

The Conservatives Retain the Debtford Seat by a Small Majority.

London, Nov. 16.—The vacancy in the House of Commons for the Parliamentary division of Debtford, caused by the elevation of C. J. Darling to the Judicial bench, was filled yesterday by a bye-election, which resulted in the Conservatives retaining the seat. The vote stood: Mr. Arthur H. A. Morton, Conservative, 5,317; Mr. J. Williams Benn, Liberal, 4,993; Conservative majority, 324.

At the last general election, when Mr. Darling was returned for the district, the Conservative majority was 1,229. The poll yesterday was 10,315, as compared with 10,079 at the last election.

Japanese Urging War.

London, Nov. 16.—A special dispatch from Shanghai says serious tension exists between Japan and Russia owing to the latter's efforts to control the Corean customs, and that some of the leading Japanese ministers are urging the adoption of strong measures, even to the extent of war with Russia. But, it is added, the Marquis of Ito discountenances this step, and urges instead that Great Britain, the United States and Japan make joint representations to Russia on the subject of Corea.

To Reduce Sugar Bounties.

London, Nov. 16.—The St. James Gazette says that negotiations are on foot between Austria, France and Germany in regard to the opportuneness of convening an international conference to secure a general agreement for the diminution or abolition of the sugar [illegible]

RENOVATING THE CAPITOL.

Fitted Up and Cleaned for the Approaching Session of Congress.

Washington, Nov. 16.—In preparation for the approaching session of Congress, the Capitol Building is undergoing a thorough cleaning. It is expected the work will be finished by the end of the present week, and when the Congressmen reach Washington they will find the interior of the great building completely renovated. According to the usual custom the halls of the Senate and House of Representatives have been fitted with new carpets. This is found necessary at the beginning of each new Congress, and it may be an interesting fact to note that according to law the new carpet provided must be of an entirely different pattern each Congress, and cannot be duplicated.

The amount of money expended each year in renovating the Capitol, including the two Houses, revarnishing the desks of the members, and work of this character, is immense, and perhaps is not realized by most people. The approaching session will be a long one, and consequently more work was required in getting the two houses ready for the session. The appropriation for the work this year, it is said, amounted to $30,000. Much more money is expended in this line by the Senate than by the House, and it is said the room of the Vice-President has been refurnished at a cost of $2,500 alone.

Nothing has been done this year to the completion of the frieze work around the rotunda, as was anticipated some time ago. For years this work has been left in an unfinished condition, and the scaffolding left hanging to the wall of the rotunda, which is an ungainly sight to visitors. The reason for this is said to be the inability of the committee having charge of this matter to come to a conclusion as to the historical representation to complete it. Many hundreds of suggestions have been made, and it is expected that a figure representing the driving of the last spike in the Pacific Railway will eventually be adopted.

Will It Be a Short Session?

While most members of Congress predict a short session of Congress, the Republicans fear that their hopes in this direction may not be realized. Although the tariff is out of the way, having been disposed of at the last session of Congress, there will be an immense amount of work to engage the attention of the two Houses. Many of the members, while they would like to see the anticipations of a short session realized, fear that it may prove to be one of the longest sessions on record.

Although there is a strong feeling among Republicans for the repeal of the Civil-Service law at the coming session, it is not likely it can be accomplished. Even if the anti-Civil-Service men could secure in getting such a bill through the House and Senate, which it is not believed they can do, the President would be sure to interpose a veto, or else to withhold his signature for the ten days provided by the Constitution.

Gov. Jones Stops Football.

Little Rock, Ark., Nov. 16.—The Governor of Arkansas is the first chief magistrate to disapprove of the game of football. In a letter to J. L. Buchanan, the president of the State University at Fayetteville, Gov. Jones takes the recent game between the Fort Smith and university teams as a text, strongly condemns the sport as brutal, and recommends that there be a stop altogether to the playing of the game by the students of the university. The Governor is an ex-officio president of the University Board of Trustees.

New York Horse Show.

New York, Nov. 16.—The blooded aristocrats from all parts of the country are on exhibition at Madison Square Garden, where the National Horse Show Association is holding its thirteenth display, and all society is paying homage to the Four Hundred of the equine world. The best specimens of the horse family have been brought from Kentucky, Ohio, Illinois, Iowa, Massachusetts, Virginia, Connecticut, New Jersey, and other States where horses have family ties, and all lovers of the horse are invited to come and gaze upon them.

Germany Demands Redress.

Cologne, Nov. 16.—A dispatch to the Cologne Gazette from Berlin says that the sailors and marines belonging to the German cruiser Division, off the coast of China, have made a landing in force at Kiaochan Bay, the nearest port to Yen-Chu-Fu, in the southern part of the Chinese province of Shan-Tun, where the German missionaries were recently murdered, with the view of forcing the Government of China to completely satisfy the demands of Germany.

Brooklyn Murder Mystery.

New York, Nov. 16.—Despite the fact that Brooklyn's entire detective force has been at work since early Sunday morning, little or no progress has been made in the search for the murderer of Thomas J. Lyons, the printer who was found dead in the lot on Fulton street between Saratoga and Hopkinson avenues early on Sunday morning.

CYCLING COMMENT.

John Burroughs, of Clinton avenue, has purchased a bicycle and is now learning to ride.

Thomas A. Cuming, local consul at Plainfield, N. J., does not believe in hiding his light under a bushel, but, on the contrary, prefers to hang his banners on the outward walls, where he who runs may read. He has just had made a neat rubber stamp with which he imprints on all his personal cards, note paper and envelopes the following condensed sermon: "Wheelmen, would you increase your own and your country's prosperity? Join the L. A. W., and lend your assistance in securing good roads. Thos. A Cuming, Local Consul, Plainfield, N. J." As a matter of course, Mr. Cuming does not claim his is a new idea, but he deserves credit for his enterprise, none the less.—L. A. W. Bulletin.

FOR BETTER SHIPPING FACILITIES.

Plans for Deepening Staten Island Sound and the Kill von Kull.

Interest in the plan for deepening the Kill von Kull and Staten Island Sound is growing, and the project is attracting attention in many quarters. Philadelphia merchants are interested in the matter and are hoping that the project will be realized, as they foresee that it may eventually lead to a great ship canal being built from the Sound to their city. The people of Newark and Passaic are also enthusiastic over the idea, and the Elizabeth Board of Trade, which was the first to cooperate with the Staten Island Chamber of Commerce, is helping forward the plan with energy.

The plan is a vast one, involving the expenditure of millions, but if it is carried out the docks and wharves of Staten Island and the Jersey coast will be benefited very largely, as regards safety of approach.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

Robert Love will lead the meeting in observance of the week of prayer which will be held in the Y. M. C. A. building at 9:30 o'clock tonight.

The next entertainment in the Y. M. C. A. Star course will be given on Thanksgiving evening when "Judge" William B. Green, the famous reciter and story teller, will be heard, and Charles Thompson, necromancer, will give an exhibition in the magic art.

Students wishing to join the Y. M. C. A. educational classes may still do so, as a few vacancies remain Applications should be made to the officers of the association at once.

Drummer Boys in Newark.

The Independent Fife and Drum Corps went to Newark on the 7:30 train last evening to assist at the exhibition drill of the National Fife and Drum Corps, of Newark. The drill was followed by a dance and the Plainfield party returned home on the 2:07 train this morning

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—There will be special Thanksgiving Day services at the Congregational church next Sunday evening.

—The borough marshals, commencing with tonight, will patrol different beats, in accordance with the monthly change.

—A complete stock of new dried fruits, figs, raisins, mince-meat and table nuts can now be found at Neuman Bros., the Watchung avenue grocers.

—Arrangements are now being made to give a reception to Rev. Mr. and Mrs. McKane, of the First Church of Christ. The Ladies' Aid Society of the church have the matter in charge.

—Mayor Wilson and the borough Council are inclined to be lenient with the property owners on Harmony street as regards the laying of stone sidewalks, as they have been under the heavy expense of macadamizing that street.

—George Moore, the East Front street butcher, lost a valuable horse, Saturday. Over a week ago the animal lay down upon the floor of the stable, at night, and could not get back upon its feet again. In its struggles it received injuries which resulted in lockjaw.

PASSING COMMENT.

"If you've got rats," said the Plainfield man on the ferryboat to the Newarker who was carrying home a bulky trap, "if you've got rats, I can tell you a better way of circumventing them than that. All you have to do is mix a little plaster of Paris with dry meal or flour and set it where the rats can get at it. Then put a cup of water near at hand. Oh, it's a sure thing."

"What happens?" asked the now inquisitive Newarker.

"Well, it's like this. The rats eat the plaster with the meal and of course it makes them feel dry. They drink the water and the plaster sets in them, making an excellent cast of the digestive tract and preventing its further use for that purpose. Consequently the rats die. Oh! it's a sure thing."

REFUSED TO PAY THE REWARD.

Somerset County Freeholders is Making a Distinction in Detection.

The Somerset Board of Freeholders, at their meeting last week, refused to pay two bills of $100 each, for rewards offered by the Board for information given which would lead to the arrest and conviction of any person for "breaking and entering any dwelling house or store in this county, and stealing therefrom any money, goods and chattels." One bill was presented by George G. Brokaw, conductor on the Central, who gave information which led to the arrest of Harry Hampton, who stole a horse from William Taylor at Bound Brook. The other was presented by George McCray, who aided in the arrest of Wm. Bright, who stole a cow from Abraham Voorhees in Montgomery township. Both bills were approved by Prosecutor Dungan. The Board refused to pay them because in neither case was the stolen property taken from a store or dwelling house.

The Century Magazine For the Coming Year.

The Century Magazine with its November number, enters upon its twenty seventh year. During its long existence, by reason of its many notable successes, it has won an assured and commanding position. During the coming year The Century will maintain its exceptional position as a magazine of entertainment and as a leader in art and thought.

Its pictorial features will be notable, and it will command the services of the foremost artists, illustrators and engravers of this country and of Europe.

Nothing like a complete announcement of its literary features can be attempted now. Dr. Weir Mitchell, whose novel of the American Revolution, "Hugh Wynne," is the great success of the year, has written a new story for the present volume. It bears the piquant title: "The adventures of Francois; Foundling, Adventurer, Juggler and Fencing-Mastur during the French Revolution." The tale is full of romance and adventure. Mrs. Burton Harrison contributes a new novel of New York life, called "Good Americans," in which contemporaneous social types and tendencies are brightly mirrored and described.

There will be a group of clever stories about horses and people who like horses, under the general title of "Gallops." "A Woman's Reminiscences of the French Intervention in Mexico" will be given in a series of graphic and highly picturesque papers by Mrs. Cornelius Stevenson. Further contributions to the interesting series of "Heroes of Peace" will be made by Jacob A. Riis, Gustav Kobbe, Elizabeth Stuart Phelps Ward, and others.

For the benefit of readers of The Century an unusal combination offer is made for this year. There has been issued "The Century Gallery of One Hundred Portraits," made up of the finest engravings that have appeared in the magazine, and representing a total expenditure of nearly $30,000. These are printed on heavy plate paper, with wide margins, like proofs. The retail price of the gallery is $7.50, but this year it will be sold only in connection with a subscription to The Century, the price of the two together being $6 50

ART PRINT EXHIBITION.

TO BE UNDER THE AUSPICES OF THE CAMERA CLUB NEXT WEEK.

Arrangements Are Now Completed for the Affair—Prizes to be Awarded for Best Exhibitors in the Various Classes.

One of Plainfield's most enterprising organizations is the Plainfield Camera Club, an association of local amateur photographers. Last year the club held a very successful loan exhibition, which far excelled anything of the kind ever held in the city. This year the Camera Club will give a photographic art prints exhibition in the club gallery in the Babcock building. The exhibition will begin next Monday and continue through the week. The exhibition is not for Plainfield alone; it has been opened to the amateurs of New Jersey, New York and Pennsylvania, so as to assure plenty of entries and excellent work. Many of the members of the New York, Brooklyn and Philadelphia Camera Clubs have signified their intention to compete, besides others from smaller places. Many local photographers, who spend their spare time in that fascinating work, and are not yet members of the club, will also send in some of their work to compete for the prize.

After due consideration the committee in charge of the exhibition, of which Harold Serrell is chairman and J. Hervey Doane secretary, has decided upon the following classes: Landscapes, marines, interiors, groups, portraits, genre, lantern slides, hand camera work. In each class there will be a first award of a diploma and second award of honorable mention designated by a ribbon badge. A medal will be awarded to the owner of the best collection of photographs of six subjects. No entrance fee will be charged in any of the contests.

Single mounted prints must be framed and such single prints must have been made from plates not smaller than 7x5. Mounted prints of any size may be framed collectively, with or without glass, or arranged tastefully on foundation boards at the discretion of the exhibitor. To entitle an exhibitor to an award, the entire work must have been done by the exhibitor. There will be many prints exhibited, however, that will not be eligible for the awards.

The awards will all be made before the exhibition begins by a committee composed of an amateur and a professional photographer and an artist. The personal of the committee has not yet been announced. The committee will make the awards without any knowledge of the names of the exhibitors.

BOOKS FOR THE CHILDREN.

An Exhibit to be Made at The Public Library.

Friday afternoon, beginning at 2 o'clock, and all day Saturday, an exhibit of over 330 of the best books for children will be given at the Public Library. These comprise fairy tales, stories, books of travel, histories, etc., suited to children of all ages. Printed lists of the books exhibited will be sold for 3 cents each. There will be no postponement on account of the weather as the books cannot be longer withheld from circulation.

Parents who are perplexed as to what books to buy for their children or recommend them to read, will be glad to know what competent authorities consider the best in this line. This list bears the endorsement of the American Library Association, and has been compiled by Miss Hewins, who has for the past fifteen years made a specialty of children's reading. Members of Sunday-school library committees, teachers, and all others who come in contact with children in an educational way, cannot fail to find this exhibit of much practical value. The exhibit will be held in the ladies' room. All interested are invited to be present and to examine the books exhibited.

Third Anniversary of Marriage.

Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Hoagland, of West Front street, celebrated the third anniversary of their marriage last Monday evening in a very pleasant manner. There were about twenty relatives and friends present who joined in congratulating the bride and groom, and wishing them many happy returns of the day. The evening was well spent in music and song, and sociability was not the least of the many enjoyable features. A pleasing supper was served during the evening, and when the guests left for their homes they carried with them many delightful remembrances of the happy event.

ARRESTED THE 'POSSUM

THE VARMINT WAS MAKING A RAID IN A CHICKEN COOP.

Taken to the Borough Lockup and Found in a Cell By the Chief Marshal—He May Make a Dinner for the Policemen.

There was a surprise in store for Chief Marshal Wilson when he called at the borough lockup early this morning. On the blotter was recorded the arrest of a prisoner, whom, it was stated, was to be found in cell No. 1. The entry stated that the prisoner had been arrested during the night at the home of J. M. Bettman, on Willow avenue. The charge was that of stealing chickens. It stated further that the prisoner was to appear at 8 o'clock before Recorder Thomas for a hearing. The Chief looked into cell No. 1 and expected to see a man. To his surprise he found an unusually large opossum.

It seems that during the early morning hours Marshal Kliner was passing near Mr. Bettman's house and heard a great disturbance among the chickens. Knowing that Mr. Bettman had been troubled by thieves he thought he would investigate and possibly be able to solve the mystery. When he reached the chicken coop he was very much surprised to find an opossum who was playing havoc with the fowls.

The officer entered the coop and after much difficulty succeeded in catching the varmint. He was obliged to use his club to subdue the animal, after which it was an easy matter to get away with him. When the marshal went off duty he brought the 'possum to the lockup and placed him in cell No. 1.

Just what disposition will be made of him has not yet been decided. Chief Wilson placed the animal in a barrel for safe keeping. He is so large that he takes up all of the space in the bottom of the barrel. It has been suggested that the members of the police department have the 'possum cooked and enjoy a big dinner.

FAGOTS BURNED SOCIALLY.

PLEASANT EVENING SPENT BY MANY.

The Novel Event Held in Vincent Chapel—Names of Those Who Helped to Make an Entertaining Programme.

"A Fagot Social" was the novel name given to an entertainment held in Vincent chapel last evening under the auspices of the Reading Circle of the Home Mission Society of the First M. E. church. In spite of the disagreeable weather there was a goodly number of people present to enjoy the programme of the evening. The plan of the entertainment was that each person present was given a small bunch of fagots and also given a number. When their number was called they put the fagots on the fire, and while they were thus being consumed it devolved on the owner to entertain the audience. The plan worked to perfection and an entertaining programme was presented.

Among those who entertained were Mrs. L. M. French, Rev. and Mrs. Snodgrass, Mrs. Horne, Miss Bertha Jenkins, J. R. Joy, Miss Lucy Palmer Davis, J. C. Peck, Mrs. O. L. Jenkins, Mrs. Henry McGee and Frank MacDonald. Readings, recitations, vocal and instrumental solos were given. Every number was well received and heartily applauded.

Those in charge of the affair consisted of Mrs. J. H. McNaughton, Mrs. D. E. Davis, Mrs. N. W. Pike, Mrs. Charles Horne, Mrs. L. M. French, Mrs. P. M. French, Mrs. J. W. Jackson, Mrs. Templin, Mrs. Williams, Mrs. Leveridge, Mrs. John Cory, Mrs Crane, Miss Susie Jackson and Mrs. I. L. McVoy. Nelson Y. Hull assisted at the door by receiving the admission fee. The proceeds will be devoted to the work of the Home Mission Society of the church, and the amount received was very gratifying to those in charge. After the entertainment, refreshments were served in abundance to all.

MUST PAY FOR THE SLATE ROOF.

Mrs. Hodge Couldn't Prove That Contract Had Not Been Filled.

The case of C. R. Graves, of this city, against Mrs. William Hodge, of Graceland, was tried before Justice Mosher yesterday afternoon, and judgment in full, with costs, was awarded to the plaintiff. About a month ago Graves was engaged to construct a slate roof upon the house of Mrs. Hodge, at Graceland. The work was completed some days ago, but Mrs. Hodge refused to pay, claiming that all the conditions of the contract had not been performed by Graves, and that she was justified in withholding payment. City Judge DeMeza represented the plaintiff and J. P. D. Kirch appeared for the defendant.

Charles Burnett, of Madison avenue, was in Easton, Pa., yesterday.

THE REPUBLICAN VIEW

A G. O. P-ITE WHO INDULGES IN SOME CAUSTIC COMMENTS.

He Looks at the Citizens' Movement as Representative of Spiteful and Backward Sentiment Among a Very Few.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—According to last night's Press the movement to organize a Citizens' ticket is fast materializing. It seems to be the "old fight" to be fought over again between the town proper and the commuters, or "rooters" as they were called a year ago.

There is to be a public meeting tomorrow night, I observe, of citizens, irrespective of party affiliation, opposed to the present administration, who demand a retrenchment in public expenditures.

When these disgruntled taxpayers meet let them pass resolutions denouncing our public spirited councilmen for improving and keeping clean the streets; for giving our city a sewer system to prevent sickness or pestilence; for granting a trolley franchise; for a water supply; for fine police and fire departments.

Let resolutions also be passed favoring the closing of the Public Library to put a stop to any more money being spent there so foolishly.

Let the townpeople rebuke the commuters so that their wives and daughters give no more Fetes to beautify our Park, or Spielkartenfests to support our Hospital. Let a strict line be drawn no matter who is hurt. No matter if shop keepers lose trade, less work be given our wage earners, fewer buildings constructed or houses rented!

Plainfield today is a place of beautiful houses, filled with noble people who are proud of their city. Who are the men, and what amount of taxes do they pay, who will advertise to the world that they condemn the present administration for building up this beautiful city which is attracting here so many hundreds of people?

No! public improvements will go on; more buildings will be erected; more trade for shop keepers and better times for all the working classes and wage earners. Dust cannot be thrown into the eyes of our voters and they will vote for men who will build up rather than overthrow! Republican.

MISSION WORK IN FRANCE.

An Interesting Lecture to be Given Under the Auspices of McAll Auxilary.

An illustrated lecture on Paris and the McAll Mission will be given by Rev. J. F. Loba, in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church next Saturday evening, Nov. 20th, under the auspices of the Plainfield McAll Auxillary. The same lecture was given in New Haven last May at the annual meeting of the American McAll Association.

We quote a portion of an article of the evangelist of May 20th; "Last Wednesday evening Rev. J. F. Loba, D. D., of Evanston, who for a time was in the McAll work in Paris, gave a lecture on 'The Work in France,' illustrated with stereopticon views. The lecture first presented some of the historic buildings of the city, next gave some scenes of the commune, and then described the work carried on by the Mission in its halls and by its boat. Dr. Loba is an exceedingly winning speaker, and his intimate knowledge of the Mission lends authority to his opinion."

THE COUNTY TROLLEY LINE.

Committee to Present the Final Details of the Report They Have Prepared.

A meeting will be held at the court house in Elizabeth Tuesday evening, November 30th, to receive the report of the committee appointed at the meeting held last September to consider the matter of widening Westfield avenue and constructing a street rail road upon it by the county. The committee met last night and agreed on the final details of their report, and have requested Mr. West, chairman of the meeting held in September, to call a meeting for November 30th to hear and consider their report.

The Hornpipe Dance to be Repeated.

This evening in Saengerbund Hall on Somerset street an entertainment will be given for the benefit of St. Joseph's church. A feature will be the repetition of the "Hornpipe Dance," which was given so successfully at the "Spiel" last week.

Odd Fellow Delegates.

Joseph Sheppard, of Plainfield Lodge, No. 44, I. O. O. F., and Louis DeCamp, of Queen City Lodge, No. 226, I. O. O. F., went to Trenton today to attend the annual meeting of Odd Fellows to be held at that place.

—Enoch Berry, a mechanic living at Morristown, has at his home a device which, he claims, will revolutionize the motive generating machines of the world.

UNIFICATION OF ITALY.

PROF. WHEELER'S THIRD UNIVERSITY EXTENSION LECTURE.

The Sunny Land Has a Fascination For the Student of History, and the Lecturer Brought Out Interesting Points.

In spite of the extraordinarily sudden rainstorm which burst upon the city at about a quarter before eight last night, the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church was well filled with University Extension students, to listen to the lecture on "The Unification of Italy," delivered by Prof. Wheeler, of Yale.

Professor Wheeler began by speaking of the fascination which Italy has for the student of history, and then described her condition during the opening decades of our century, split up into small States or duchies, and under the domination of Austria. "Italy was divided on the map, but she had made up her mind to be one." Everywhere throughout the peninsula there were risings against the despotic rulers, forcing them to grant constitutions and institute reforms. The new Pope, Pius IX, having disappointed the hopes which his early espousal of the popular cause had awakened, the hopes of the Italian patriots were turned to Victor Emmanuel II, King of Piedmont.

Victor Emmanuel's great minister, Count Cavour, had as his single aim and purpose the independence and unification of Italy. The predominence of Austria in the peninsula had long awakened the jealousy of France. Cavour, having made a secret arrangement with Louis Napoleon, gave Austria to understand that unless she ceased to interfere in the affairs of Italy, war would be declared. France drove Austria out of Italy, with the exception of Venice, in the war which followed, and Victor Emmanuel had a population of 9,000,000 added to his subjects. One long step was taken in the way of Italian unity and freedom. A strong Italian kingdom was thus formed, and a firm basis laid for the national organization of the entire peninsula. The Neapolitans and Sicilians now voted almost unanimously for annexation to the kingdom, and in 1866 Venetia also was surrendered by Austria. Rome alone was now lacking to the complete unification of Italy.

Upon the overthrow of the French Monarchy and the establishment of the Republic, Victor Emmanuel was informed that France would no longer sustain the Papal power. The Italian Government at once gave notice to the Pope that Rome would henceforth be considered a portion of the kingdom of Italy, and forthwith an Italian army entered the city, which voted to join itself to the Italian Nation.

The family was now complete. The temporal power of the Pope was at an end, but Rome was the capital of a free and united Italy. In 1871 Victor Emmanuel entered the city and took up his residence there. "Reform and progress have since marked Italian affairs to such an extent that Italy, so recently the prey of foreign sovereigns, of petty native tyrants, and adventurers, is now justly regarded as one of the prominent powers of Europe."

SOCIAL SISTERS PLAYED WHIST.

Miss Jessie Hockridge Entertained—The Prize Winners.

The "Sixteen Social Sisters" whist club was entertained by Miss Jessie Hockridge, at her home on East Fifth street, last evening. The prizes were carried off by Miss Nellie Hockridge and Miss Lulu Young, Miss Hockridge winning first prize. The latter part of the evening was spent in dancing and several piano selections by Miss Mabel Force, also vocal solos by other members of the club. The "Sisters' Club" will next be entertained by Miss Eva Wilkins.

Anxious to Get Out of Town.

George Dwyer, of Bound Brook, was the only prisoner arraigned in the City Court this morning. He was caught stealing a ride upon an eastbound coal train, and when the train reached the North Avenue station, Dwyer was handed over to Policeman Myers by the crew. When arraigned before the Judge upon a charge of disorderly conduct, he was penitent. After treating him to a lecture His Honor suspended sentence, and Dwyer, upon being released, immediately commenced to run over the landscape to get without the city limits.

No Borough School.

The balance of this week will be devoted to the sessions of the Teachers' Institute in Somerset county. The meetings will be held at Somerville, and all of the borough teachers are in attendance. In consequence the borough school will be closed the rest of this week.

TROLLEY FOR DUNELLEN

BOROUGH COUNCIL RECEIVE AN APPLICATION FOR A FRANCHISE.

Brunswick Traction Company Presented the Petition—Understood There is But One Serious Objection to the Road.

Last evening the Borough Council of Dunellen met for the purpose of receiving a petition from the Brunswick Traction Company asking for the franchise to operate a trolley system through the borough. Every member of the Council was present, and the first business was that of introducing a resolution which provided that the Council proceed at once to accept the petition and take steps toward granting a franchise. This resolution will have to be published for three weeks in the Dunellen Call, after which an ordinance will be drafted and published for five weeks.

In the meantime the Traction Company will endeavor to secure the consents of the property owners along the line which they desire to run. The Councilmen and Mayor seemed to be heartily in favor of the trolley and the resolution introduced last evening was unanimously adopted by them.

As far as can be learned there is little or no objection to the trolley, and so long as the Traction Company will abide by the agreements, which are considered only fair, there is not likely to be any trouble in their securing the right of way through the borough.

TO TALK ON TIMELY TOPICS.

FRIENDS' HALF-YEARLY MEETING

Evening Session to be Devoted to Temperance With Special Reference to Liquor License in Plainfield.

A philanthropic session of Friends' half-yearly meeting will be held tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock in the meeting-house, Watchung avenue and Third street, at which a paper will be read by Mariana W. Chapman, of Brooklyn, upon "The Peace Movement in Europe and America."

Robert S. Haviland, of Chappaqua, N. Y., will read a paper upon "Conference Work Among Friends."

An evening session will be held at 8 o'clock to consider the subject of "Temperance," with special reference to the popular vote for or against the licensing of liquor saloons in Plainfield, as provided for by the Common Council, at the approaching municipal election.

Addresses will be delivered by Aaron M. Powell, Robert S. Haviland and others.

The public is cordially invited for both the afternoon and evening meetings.

NO DEMOCRATIC TICKET.

It is Stated That Democrats Will Unite With the Citizens.

It was definitely decided this morning that no regular Democratic ticket would be put in the field for the city election campaign. The following statement was furnished The Press for publication today:

To the Public:

The Democrats of the city of Plainfield deem it inexpedient and unwise to make a party ticket in the coming municipal election. While adhering to our political faith we feel that the best interests of the city should be paramount to partisan interest, and to that end we will not present a party ticket, thereby leaving the field open for a Citizens' movement irrespective of parties. We believe a change in the present administration is necessary for the best interests of our city.

James E. Martine,
Michael Flynn.

ONE RECRUIT MUSTERED.

Business Transacted by John Hand Camp Last Evening.

One recruit was mustered at the meeting of John Hand Camp, No. 28, Sons of Veterans, held last evening. The fair committee made a report and it is thought that about $275 will be made as profit from the recent fair. It was announced that at the next meeting, November 30th, the Camp would be inspected. At the same time nomination for officers will be made. A communication was received from the Division officers asking the Camp to contest for a Division banner which is being offered to the Camp that makes the best showing during the year. The by-law committee made a final report and the Camp Council was instructed to have the same printed in pamphlet form.

An Approaching Marriage.

The marriage of Miss Georgia Fountain, daughter of Borough School Commissioner Fountain, of 73 Jackson avenue, to Lawyer Charles J. McNabb, of the firm of Clark & McNabb, of this city, will take place next Wednesday afternoon at the home of the bride, at 5 o'clock.

TO FIGHT AT THE POLLS.

DISGRUNTLED REPUBLICANS WILL NOT GO TO SECOND WARD PRIMARY.

Councilman Frost's Opponents Will Let Him Get a Republican Nomination and Then Try to Defeat Him With Their Votes

Two weeks ago there was every prospect of a lively time at the next Republican primary in the Second ward; now it looks as if the clouds that threatened its piece and quietude had dispersed and all will be unanimous. The Republican leaders had fixed upon Councilman Frost as their nominee for the ward ticket as Councilman and wished to renominate him. There was said to be a decided opposition against Frost on the part of some of the Republicans who were opposed to E. H. Ladd's candidacy last year. It was understood that the primary would be a hot fight when the two factions came together. Who the antagonist of the present Councilman would be was not announced. Now, however, it seems to be understood by those on the inside that the opponents of the present Councilman will not attend the primary at all but will throw their influence with the Citizen's movement. In fact, one of the leaders of this faction has said that it was the wish of his followers that Mr. Frost should be renominated as they considered him easier to defeat than many others whom might be nominated by the Republicans.

The Citizens' movement in the Second ward is going to be a union of forces. The Democrats, the Netherwood contingent and the dissatisfied ones from the G. O. P. ranks have about decided to unite and join issue on this coming election. With unity, they will be undoubtedly a strong power in the ward, but the exact strength will be unknown until more of the voters come out for one side or the other.

Judge Nash, who has been a prominent worker among the Republicans of this ward, will not remain with the party this year. To a Press reporter he said that he utterly refused to take any active part in the coming campaign, although importuned by the leaders of the Citizens' movement, but his sympathies would be with the Citizens' party and that he would give his advice to the counsels of that aggregation of voters. His reason for giving up politics this fall, he says, is on account of his health, which will not permit him any undue excitement. Two years ago nervous prostration resulted from overwork in political lines and he does not fancy a repetition of it.

IT MAY BE MANSLAUGHTER.

Investigation to be Made in Regard to the Death of William Neurowski.

Prosecutor Nelson Y. Dungan, of Somerset county, has ordered an autopsy to be made on the body of William Neurowski, a mill worker, who died at his home in Somerville Sunday night. The physician who attended Neurowski says that his death was caused by fever, while the wife of the dead man charges that he died from a stab wound in the side inflicted by some Poles a few weeks ago.

Neurowski, Chas. Reis, his brother William, Harry Nawak and Henry and Charles Bartch, it is alleged, were drinking in a saloon at that time, and a quarrel arose, during which Neurowski was stabbed several times. All were arrested with the exception of Neurowski for assault on him, and were tried in the Somerset County Court. The jury acquitted the accused, regarding the matter in the light of a family row, as it came out that some of the accused men were related to Neurowski.

If the autopsy which Prosecutor Dungan has ordered shows that a stab wound, and not fever, caused the death of Neurowski, the men who were tried and acquitted for assault may be rearrested this time on a charge of manslaughter.

Help for a Western Minister.

The large box that was filled with clothing, canned goods, etc., by the members of the Ladies' Christian Work Society of Trinity Reformed church, this morning at the home of Mrs. M. L. Connelly, of Manning avenue, was sent to Rev. Frederick Schaefer, Aplington, Butler county, Ia.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

The prayer meeting at the Y. M. C. A. last night in observance of the week of prayer for young men, was well attended considering the stormy weather. Robert Love acted as leader, and all present took part with prayer or testimony. Another meeting of a similar character will be held in the Association building tomorrow night.

In anticipation of the approach of winter, the storm doors have been erected at the Y. M. C. A. building.

Mrs. George Dunham spent today with friends in New York city.

MONETARY COMMISSION

Full Report of the Conference Has Reached This Country.

VERY LENGTHY DOCUMENT

Negotiations Fell Through, Notwithstanding the Expressed Willingness of the French Government to Open Its Mints.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The official report of the correspondence in regard to bimetallic proposals of the United States Monetary Commission to the Government of Great Britain, together with the report of the proceedings at the conference of the British Premier, the Secretary of State for India, the First Lord of the Treasury and the Chancellor of the Exchequer, with the French ambassador and our commissioners, has reached this country.

The negotiations fell through notwithstanding the expressed willingness of the French Government to open its mints, owing to the rejection by the British Government of the proposition to again open the Indian mints to free coinage of silver. None of the other propositions was replied to because that one, the most important of the concessions requested of Great Britain, could not be conceded to.

The Government of Great Britain, in making her answer, deferred to the wishes of the Government of India, to which the proposal was referred, and the reply of the Government of India, therefore, is the most important communication in the correspondence. It is a lengthy document, in which the advantages, pro and con, to India are argued, and a very strong case from their standpoint is made out in favor of the rejection of the proposal.

BANK WRECKING LEADS TO RIOTING

A Mob at English, Ind., Waiting for a Fugitive Banker's Return.

Indianapolis, Nov. 17.—The excitement at English, Crawford County, was intense yesterday, and the town has been patrolled by fifty extra deputy sheriffs. The excitement grows out of the bank failures there and at Leavenworth and Marango last week. The operations of President Weathers and Cashier Willett wrecked the three institutions and involved every business man in the two counties of Perry and Crawford.

Monday, after a partial investigation, the liabilities of the three institutions were roughly estimated at $160,000, with the personal indebtedness of the two men something in excess of that amount, and word was received that Weathers, who has been in hiding in Harrison County, was willing to return if protection were guaranteed. He said that he would settle up the affairs of the banks, and guarantee to pay seventy-five cents on the dollar. He was invited to return.

When the creditors heard of his intended return they began to assemble upon the streets, and by 10 o'clock Monday night English was in the hands of a mob. The angry men paraded the streets all night, and yesterday morning Sheriff Ballard tried to disperse them, but he was answered only by shouts of defiance. He then swore in a number of deputies, but the latter are in sympathy with the people and refused to do anything till a movement was made to demolish the brick building in which the bank's fixtures and a small amount of cash remain. This was prevented, and the Sheriff left for Harrison County to bring Weathers back, leaving the town in charge of a deputy.

Some twenty of Weathers' friends accompanied the Sheriff, and a crowd is now awaiting their return. It is not believed that Sheriff Ballard will dare to bring back the bank president, but if he does trouble is expected.

South Carolina Stirred Up.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 17.—The State is stirred up over the recent murder of the Rev. J. H. Turner of Spartanburg, by Chief State Constable Newbold, and the subsequent events. Newbold escaped from Spartanburg when the killing occurred, last Wednesday. On Saturday the Governor offered a reward for his delivery to the Sheriff of Spartanburg. Since that time the police here have evidence that Newbold is in Columbia, that he was driven here by a friend from Winsboro, and that he delivered himself to Gov. Ellerbe on condition that he would not be sent to Spartanburg till danger of lynching subsides. The Governor refused to talk. Some people think that Newbold was in hiding in the Governor's mansion.

New German Ambassador.

New York, Nov. 17.—Dr. Theodore von Holleben, the new German Ambassador to the United States, arrived yesterday on the North German Lloyd steamship Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse, and proceeded to Washington. The Ambassador's face is much scarred with the marks made by the swords of young men with whom he fought duels in the days when he was a student. He was formerly in the diplomatic service in China and Japan. He has traveled in many parts of the earth and speaks several languages.

Esterhazy the Man.

Paris, Nov. 17.—M. Mathieu Dreyfus, brother of Capt. Alfred Dreyfus, who is now serving a sentence of life imprisonment under conviction by a court martial of having betrayed Government secrets to a foreign Government, has addressed a letter to Gen. Billot, Minister of War, accusing Count Walsing Esterhazy of the crime of which Capt. Dreyfus was made the victim.

Count Esterhazy is a retired commander of the French army, and is now living in Italy.

His Umbrella Brought Death.

Philadelphia, Nov. 17.—Harry Potter, a negro, 37 years old, was looking in a store window last night at 1706 South street. He held an umbrella with steel rod in it over his head. Above him was an electric arc light.

The end of the umbrella rod touched the iron frame of the lamp and a current of electricity passed through his body to the iron covering of a coal shaft in the sidewalk, killing him instantly.

Bank in Colorado Closes.

Delta, Col., Nov. 17.—The Delta County Bank has closed its doors. The capital stock of the bank is $50,000.

SETTLED AT A HEARING.

The Bribery Case Against Van Valkenburg Dropped.

Pottsville, Pa., Nov. 17.—A settlement was reached yesterday in the case of F. A. Van Valkenburg, who was charged with bribing Representative Weiss, of Northampton County, to vote for John Wanamaker for United States Senator last Winter. In making the settlement $1,516.12 was handed over to the District Attorney in payment of the local court costs. The defendant and some of his principal witnesses and attorneys were present in court, and so were the District Attorney, Detective McSweeney and the local attorney of the prosecution. These court costs are only a small part of the entire bill of expenses. The money to pay them was furnished by the private secretary of one of Pennsylvania's leading Congressmen, a man very close to Senator Quay.

When Quay came home from Florida in September on his first visit to Philadelphia he met Secretary of the Commonwealth Martin, and among other points he insisted that Martin must have the Van Valkenburg case nolle prossed. Martin said that he had no connection with the case, and that anyhow the question of a settlement would rest with the prosecution; that the Quay people were the prosecutors; that the defendant insisted on a trial, and that the only way to reach the defendant was by going over his head to Thomas Dolan. The pressure for a settlement of the case was very strong, and the big independent vote for Swallow scared the leaders of the warring factions into an agreement that the case must positively be settled. As further disclosures of shady political transactions would result in the positive defeat of the Republican ticket next year, not only the candidate for Governor, but many of the statesmen of the State joined in the demand for a settlement.

The next question was, where was the money to come from, as it would require fully forty thousand dollars to pay all the detective and legal costs of both sides. The Quay people went to State Republican headquarters and wanted this to be made a State campaign debt, but the managers would not consent to this, because they had not enough money to run the campaign for themselves and were many thousands of dollars in debt. Congressman Connell, of Scranton, it has been repeatedly said and never denied, was willing to liquidate all indebtedness on consideration of his being made the next Gubernatorial candidate. Finally it was decided that Quay should take care of the prosecution expenditures, and that Connell would pay the legitimate court costs. The Quay people are said to have paid, before this talk of settlement, nearly twenty thousand dollars to the detective agency that was used to try and entrap the Wanamaker people. In making the final settlement the Quay people said that they would take care of the detectives and attorneys, while Connell was to pay the rest of the bill, but Connell did not get any promise of the Gubernatorial nomination.

The court costs run about fifteen hundred dollars, the detective agency's bill all told nearly thirty thousand dollars, and the attorneys' fees for the defence will run close onto ten thousand dollars, the principal counsel getting $5,000, while the others get fees ranging from three hundred to one thousand dollars. There were eight lawyers in all acting for the defence. Of the prosecution, the leading lawyer, Mr. Lenahan, of Wilkesbarre, gets his fee out of the money paid to the detectives, and the detectives also paid the local attorneys for the prosecution.

KANSAS WILL FEED OUR POOR.

Farmers Will Spend Thanksgiving Killing Jack Rabbits.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 17.—Thanksgiving in western Kansas will be observed this year in a practical way. That entire country is swarming with jack rabbits, and farmers, to protect their young orchards, are anxious to get rid of them. Several counties offer a bounty of three cents a scalp on all that are killed.

Gov. Leedy's Thanksgiving proclamation suggested a way out, and to-day he was informed that the people in several of the jack-rabbit counties would devote the day to killing these pests, load them into the cars, and ship them to the poor of Chicago and New York. Jack-rabbit potpie is good eating, and in this way, west Kansans say, they can render a valuable service to this section, and at the same time supply many poor hungry children in the big cities with strength-giving food.

Convict Leases to Continue.

Atlanta, Nov. 17.—Unless present indications are untrustworthy the old convict-lease system will be re-enacted in Georgia. The shocking disclosures of brutality in the camps a few months ago made it seem probable that reform legislation would be passed, but the present General Assembly, by several test votes, has demonstrated its opposition to the bill presented. An amendment to the reform bill was introduced yesterday providing for a return to the old system, and it will probably prevail.

Bear to Sail on Nov. 23.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The revenue cutter Bear will sail from Seattle on Nov. 23 on her trip to the North Pacific in aid of the imprisoned whalers off Point Barrow. Lieut. Dodge, of the Dexter, who has been selected to accompany the overland expedition from Norton Sound, or wherever it lands, to Point Barrow, will be compelled to leave New York to-day, on less than two days' notice, if he would make sure of reaching Seattle in time to leave on the Bear.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph.

Mrs. Harry Becker, of Somerset street, is seriously ill at her home. Dr. Adams is in attendance.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Rev. Mr. and Mrs. Bowden, of the south, recently moved to Plainfield, where they are doing missionary work. Mr. Bowden is now preaching at Neshanic.

How to Cure Bilious Colic.

I suffered for weeks with colic and pains in my stomach caused by biliousness and had to take medicine all the while until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured me. I have since recommended it to a good many people. Mrs. F. Butler, Fairhaven, Conn. Persons who are subject to bilious colic can ward off the attack by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms appear. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner North and Park avenues.

William VanDeventer, of East Fifth street, is somewhat improved from his severe illness.

Household Gods.

The ancient Greeks believed that the Penates were the gods who attended to the welfare and prosperity of the family. They were worshipped as household gods in every home. The household god of to-day is Dr. King's New Discovery. For consumption, coughs, colds and for all affections of Throat, Chest and Lungs it is invaluable. It has been tried for a quarter of a century and is guaranteed to cure, or money returned. No household should be without this good angel. It is pleasant to take and a safe and sure remedy for old and young. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's, Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.

Patrolman Freleigh is confined to his home on West Fourth street with rheumatism.

The three-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros. of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Miss Mabelle Smith, of Westervelt avenue, has returned after a visit with relatives at Glen Cove, L. I.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. GARTER CLEW.

The Body Found in the Hartford Reservoir Identified.

Hartford, Ct., Nov. 17.—The mystery surrounding the body of a handsome woman, richly dressed, which was found floating in the Garden street reservoir, has been partially solved. The unfortunate woman was Miss Alice I. Patton, residing on Capitol avenue, one of the most fashionable streets in this city. Whether her death was the result of murder or suicide is a question, and though the police say suicide they are evidently in doubt.

Though 40 years of age, Miss Patton was strikingly beautiful, and the fact that she had never married has for years caused no end of gossip in swell circles.

Her beauty and her money, gossips said, were amply sufficient to attract scores of suitors, and many tales of a broken heart, long, long ago, have been freely discussed by almost every one who knew the woman who killed herself.

To all outward appearances Miss Patton had all that she could wish for. She was always full of life when with her friends, who were counted by scores, though some of these friends who knew her best intimated that she was not always as happy as she seemed to be.

Shortly before noon Monday Policeman Harris found her body floating in the reservoir. It was removed to the police station by order of the Coroner.

Most of the clothing was new and stylish, but there were no marks upon it which told of her identity. In fact, the only thing the police had to work upon was a heart-shaped garter buckle, with a monogram marked "A. P."

Subsequently a bag containing a pair of gloves, bought in New Britain; some silver money and a package, was found near the reservoir. Miss Patton usually carried a well-filled purse.

Detectives were sent out on the case, and finally yesterday identified the woman by the heart-shaped garter buckle, which was recognized by one of the servants at the late home of the suicide.

CUT UP ALIVE?

A Strange Story Reaches Ambassador Hay in London.

London, Nov. 17.—The American Embassy here is having some trouble in investigating a strange story of the alleged kidnapping of an American citizen, which, despite its improbability, compels inquiry. A respectable man, describing himself as John Garner, a schoolmaster, of Harrow road, brought to the Embassy yesterday a letter addressed to the American Ambassador and superscribed: "Will the finder deliver immediately, for God's sake?"

Mr. Garner said that he found the letter on the sidewalk in Harley street, which is mainly occupied by leading physicians. He knew nothing further about it.

Ambassador Hay opened the letter and found a lucid narrative, which was signed by Henry S. Clay. It declared that the writer was a resident of Boston, and that he had been decoyed some days ago into the house of a prominent physician, who is an ardent vivisectionist. Since his entry into the house he had been confined in a garret. A little food had been given to him, but opiates had been mixed with it. The writer said he was convinced that his captor intended to perform an operation on him, and he implored the ambassador to procure his release. In conclusion he said that he would throw the letter from a window in the hope that some one would find it and deliver it to Col. Hay.

The Ambassador was entirely incredulous concerning the truth of the story, but he nevertheless summoned Detective Froest, of Scotland Yard, who, with several assistants, has since been investigating the matter, thus far without success.

A Vivisectionist Fake.

London, Nov. 17.—The officials of the United States Embassy say that the story of the alleged kidnapping of "Henry S. Clay, of Boston, Mass.," by a "prominent physician who is an ardent vivisectionist," is a pure invention.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 17.—Maj. W. H. Smythe, the newly-appointed Postmaster, assumed the duties of his office yesterday afternoon, and informed Maj. Couper, the assistant postmaster, that E. F. Blodgett, a Republican, had been appointed in his place. Maj. Couper refused to retire, asserting that he was protected by the Civil Service law.

The new postmaster insisted. Coupe went before the United States Court and obtained an injunction restraining Maj. Smythe from installing Blodgett until the Civil Service Commission renders an opinion in

THORN'S SAW IS FOUND

Imbedded in the Ground Near Where Mrs. Nack Indicated.

RESULT OF SUNDAY'S RIDE

The Instrument With Which Guldensuppe's Bones Were Disintegrated Found Near the Spot Pointed Out by Mrs. Nack.

New York, Nov. 17.—The saw with which Mrs. Augusta Nack says Martin Thorn severed the bones of William Guldensuppe's body in the Woodside cottage, was found yesterday within one hundred feet of where the woman said it was thrown by Thorn.

The saw was found at the bottom of an elevation known as College Point Hill and known also as Stratton's Hill. This place is about a mile outside of Flushing, on the way to College Point.

The find was made by Anton Tastenski, a Pole, who was working in the employ of District Attorney Youngs. Tastenski had swung a scythe vigorously over the ground in the neighborhood from early Monday morning until nightfall, mowing down the meadow grass and underbrush with which it was covered and had started in again at daylight yesterday morning by direction of the District Attorney. A little before 10 o'clock the point of the scythe struck an obstacle only a little above the surface of the ground, which stubbornly impeded its motion. Tastenski found the end of the steel blade firmly imbedded in the wooden handle of a saw, and immediately notified the District Attorney of his find by telephone.

Police Captain William Methven was dispatched to secure the new link in the chain of evidence, and at a little before noon he returned to Youngs' office with the trophy. The blade of the saw had been buried in the earth, being pressed down vertically and only a small part of the handle being left exposed. It is a brand new saw and very fine, and is similar to those generally used by surgeons in sawing bones. It is partly covered with rust, but there were no blood stains on it.

Result of the Search in the Coach.

After Mrs. Nack's dramatic recital of details of the murder of Guldensuppe in court last week, District Attorney Youngs had a long talk with her in her cell, and while he was reticent about the result of the conference, it is said that it was productive of revelations which might prove valuable in completing the chain of evidence needed to corroborate Mrs. Nack's confession. It is certain that early on Sunday morning the woman was taken away from the prison in a coach, in which rode also the District Attorney, Capt. Methven and Detective Denis Sullivan, of the District Attorney's staff. The object of the trip was to give Mrs. Nack an opportunity to point out the spot where she said Thorn had hidden the saw.

Mrs. Nack gave the directions to the driver of the coach, but for a long time the search was fruitless. The route was changed, after further questioning, and when the point above named, where the saw was found yesterday, was reached, she indicated it to the District Attorney. The ground is of a marshy character, and was at that time so covered by meadow grass and underbrush as to render the search the party was able then to make necessarily inadequate.

District Attorney Youngs was not satisfied, and while his faith in the woman's story was not shaken, he decided upon the measures which have since resulted in the finding of the saw.

That the instrument was imbedded in the earth, within one hundred feet of where Thorn's accomplice declared it to be, is regarded as strong proof of the genuineness of her pretentions to knowledge of its whereabouts, for she is admittedly unfamiliar with the territory.

New Search for Guldensuppe's Head.

It is said that still further efforts to discover the head of the murdered man will be made by the authorities between now and next Monday. This will be done with the aid of information furnished to the District Attorney by Mrs. Nack. On the witness stand the latter made the statement that Thorn had thrown the bundle containing the head from a ferryboat during a trip across the river. Mrs. Nack here again pleaded her ignorance of the ground over which she traveled with Thorn, declaring that she could not tell by what ferry line the couple went to New York. The programme now is to take her from the jail in the custody of officers and traverse the route over which she and Thorn probably passed when the head was disposed of.

Man and the Mastodon.

Lexington, Ky., Nov. 17.—A committee from Kentucky University has returned from Blue Lick Springs, where it went to examine the bones of a mastodon which was recently unearthed there. The remains of an old roadway well paved with stone were found many feet below the surface of the earth, and below the stratum of gravel in which the mastodon bones were found. The committee believes that the workmen who are excavating there are on the eve of important discoveries, which will show this country to have been inhabited by an enlightened people at a time when mastodons roamed the forests.

Fair Tonight; Partly Cloudy Thursday; Low Temperature Tonight; Slightly Warmer Thursday.

At 2 o'Clock the Thermometer at Loggett's Pharmacy Registered 44 Degrees.

Instead of bothering themselves and other people exploiting prudish notions in this modern age, the progressive women of Newark, represented in the Women's Municipal Improvement Association, have turned their attention to more practical objects, the undertaking and accomplishment of which merits commendation at the very start. Their plan is to use their endeavors in keeping the streets of Newark in better condition than they are now, and to that end they have invoked a definite and systematic plan of action.

It is statistically related that since the establishment of the Pekin Gazette 1,800 Chinese editors of that paper have lost their heads. A Chicago humorist remarks that "With us one editor has been known to lose his head 1,800 times, which is a great saving of raw material as compared with the Chinese system." The humorist must have been reading Editor Runyon's paper.

ILLNESS LAID TO BICYCLING.

Aged Former Judge Alward in a Critical Condition at His Elizabeth Home.

Former Judge Joseph Alward, the oldest member but one of the Union County Bar, is lying very low at his home in Elizabeth, and his recovery is not expected. He has heart trouble, brought on, it is said, by riding the bicycle for the past six months.

Lawyer Alward is seventy years of age and was the first Judge of the Elizabeth District Court. He also served as a member of the Elizabeth City Council, was City Attorney and also Superintendent of Public Schools. He is one of the deacons of the First Presbyterian church, and in politics has always been a Democrat. He has been a member of the Union County Bar over forty years. Thomas Shafer, of Rahway, is the only member who antedates him.

WILD ENGINE'S RAPID RUN.

Cut Loose from Train by Collision, it Sped at Fifty Miles an Hour.

There was another accident on the Lehigh Valley Railroad, at Landsdown, Monday evening. The fast east bound freight struck east bound passenger train No. 50, knocking the engine loose from the train.

The engineer could not control his engine and, with the firemen, escaped injury by jumping. Word was quickly telegraphed along the line to look out for the runaway engine. It soon reached the rate of about fifty miles an hour, but by the time it reached Flemington Junction its speed had been greatly reduced, so that it was only running at about thirty miles an an hour.

The engine was derailed near Neshanic, where it lies, badly wrecked. No one was injured. Traffic was delayed for a short time.

Justice Newcorn's Court.

Justice Newcorn yesterday issued summons in the following cases on contract: William C. Boone against Patrick Loughlin, T. H. Tomlinson against James Dawe, Tomlinson against Peter McDonough, J. Sternberg against John Ward, William C. Boone against Charles Lewis, Boone against John Whitehead, J. Sternberg against Robert Wood, Marc L. Clawson against R. Wood, Clawson against J. Pike, Clawson against M. Finnerty, Clawson against Edgar McCray, and Clawson against Frederick Mills. The cases will all be tried on Friday, the 26th.

—The Thursday Night Euchre Club will hold its first meeting of the season at the home of Miss Mabelle Force, on Watchung avenue, tomorrow evening.

JOTTINGS OF THE DAY.

ENTERPRISINGLY GATHERED AND CONCISELY TOLD BY REPORTERS.

Newsy Notes of More or Less Importance Bunched Together for the Ready Reference of Press Readers.

—Rogers will sell oysters for turkey dressing next week for 30 cents a quart.

—A meeting of Unity Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will be held this evening.

—Articles lost at the Spielkartenfest can be secured this week only at Hall's pharmacy.

—Thomas Doud, of the borough, has just completed the laying of 300 feet of gas pipe at Linden.

—Former Judge W. A Coddington has moved from the City Hotel to his house on East Second street.

—Questions of interest to business men will be answered at the meeting at the Congregational church this evening.

—Edward Campbell, of Park avenue, has captured the raccoon "Corbett" that escaped from him nearly a year ago.

—A special rehearsal of Grace P. E church choir will be held this evening to practice Thanksgiving Day music.

—Cards containing all the game laws of the State of New Jersey can be had at the office of this paper for the asking.

—There will be two propositions to be acted upon at the meeting of Queen City Lodge of Odd Fellows next Monday evening.

—Rev. Arthur Crane, of this city, is now holding successful revival meetings in the 50th Baptist church, Philadelphia.

—A sociable will be given by the Women's Society for Christian Work of the Seventh-Day Baptist church in the church parlors this evening.

—The large show window in front of MacDonald's grocery store presented a beautiful appearance yesterday, filled with vegetables and fruits.

—There will be no session at the Plainfield public schools Friday. The Union County Teachers' convention will be held at Elizabeth Friday and Saturday.

—Iona Council, Degree of Pocohontas, will give an entertainment and dance in Red Men's Hall, West Front street, this evening. The music will be furnished by O'Reilly.

—At the Palace shoe store handmade worsted shoes for the babies. An excellent house shoe for these cold days. Every baby should have a pair. Soft, warm and comfortable.

—The Slape house, purchased by the city, has at last been placed on the new foundations in the rear of the City Industrial Home, and will now be made ready for occupancy.

—The American Sheet Iron Works at Phillipsburg, which have been idle since last spring on account of a strike, resumed operations yesterday, the employes having agreed to return at a slight advance in wages.

—Miss Jennie Rose, an accomplished young woman, has charge of an exhibit of the American Brand Extract of Beef at Randolph's pharmacy this week, and she will dispense this delightful beverage free to all who call.

—There was a strange coincidence regarding the breaking of the large plate glass window in Armstrong's pharmacy which has just been replaced. The glass was insured up to a day a month ago at noon. At 5 o'clock of that same day the glass was broken through an accident.

—A bright, well-dressed, smooth-tongued man thoroughly canvassed Glassboro about four weeks ago and took many orders for pounds of tea at 60 cents a pound. His great attraction was a fine eight day clock which was to be delivered subsequently. The purchasers, still looking for their clocks, have just begun to realize that they were victimized.

—This evening in the rooms over the Misses Gorsline's store on West Front street, the members of Class No. 1, of Trinity Reformed church Sunday school, will serve a delightful Klondike supper to their friends for twenty-five cents. The object is to raise funds to furnish the new Sunday school rooms, and the supper should be well patronized.

—In the accounts of the Spielkartenfest, The Press neglected to give more than passing notice to the orchestra, which was furnished by George Rogers, of this city. It was very satisfactory to all and received much commendation for the excellent manner in which the different selections were rendered. Mr. Rogers proved himself a good leader and he was ably assisted by competent artists.

At the meeting of Excelsior Hook and Ladder Company, held in Excelsior Hall Monday evening, the question of the purchase of a fire engine by the company was discussed, and a report was received from the committee appointed by the company at its last meeting to investigate the subject. No definite action was taken, however, and the committee was instructed to bring in another report at the next meeting. The action of the company in the matter is in response to a feeling in the township that better fire protection is needed than can be afforded by the Hook and Ladder truck, which now composes the entire fire apparatus of the village.

Advisory Committee Elected.

An advisory committee, according to the provisions of the new constitution of the Plainfield High School Athletic Association, was elected at a meeting of the association held yesterday afternoon. Carroll L. Runyon, president of the association, presided Prof. A. E. Meredith was elected as the faculty member of the advisory committee, and Thomas A. Cuming and Charles Burdette Morse as the alumni members of the committee.

Blocked the Trolley.

A wagon belonging to Rushmore & Co., the lumber dealers, and laden with shingles, was passing along Fourth street, between Park and Watchung avenues, late yesterday afternoon, when the load toppled over and fell across the trolley tracks. It took some little time to remove the shingles, and until this was accomplished the trolley line was blocked effectually.

SPRING STREET FRACAS.

LANDLORD AND TENANT COME TO BLOWS.

The Latter Was Worsted and Camped Out of Doors—Death of Bernard Williams—Court News and Other Items.

A lively fracas occurred between a landlord and tenant on Spring street, last evening. Mrs. Mary Holmes rented a house some time ago of Julia Kane and got in arrears for her rent. Yesterday she decided to vacate the house, but Mrs. Kane would not at first allow her to remove the furniture until the rent was paid. Mrs. Holmes sought a Justice to obtain relief. While she was gone her landlord experienced a change of heart and began removing the furniture to the side walk. Mrs. Holmes returned as it was growing dark and found her chattels standing on the sidewalk in the rain. In this unexpected plight she changed her mind and attempted to move her furniture back into the house. The two women came to hot words and then to blows, and Constable Marsh had to be summoned to quell the disturbance. The tenant was not able to regain possession of the house, however, and kept a lonely vigil over her furniture throughout the night. Both parties declare that they will carry the matter to the courts.

Justice Collins yesterday issued a summons in the contract case of Dr. Theodore Smith, of Westfield, against Daniel M. Anderson, of Springfield, and Dayton Baldwin, of New Providence. The trouble arose over a horse trade, the plaintiff claiming that the defendants violated their agreement. The case will be heard next Wednesday.

The BALDNESS PROBLEM.

People who find themselves growing up through their hair ought to be prompt in the use of a remedy. It is far easier to prevent baldness than to cure it. But not all people who are bald are hopelessly so. It all depends on the amount of vitality remaining in the hair bulbs. There is one sure way of finding out whether a new growth can be started. Try

THEATRICAL.

For November 8th, the management of Music Hall have a real novelty to offer to their patrons, when the rollicking, roaring musical comedy "A Trip to Coontown" will be seen for the first time in Plainfield. Cole and Johnson, the well-known authors, comedian and producers, who were the stars of Black Patti's Troubadours last season, have written this clever farce, and have surrounded themselves with the very best colored talent available. From curtain to curtain the audience is compelled to yell, roar and scream at the many ludicrous situations that occur with amazing frequency. Interspersed through the comedy are many original features in songs, dances and clever specialties.

"October is one of the peculiarly dangerous months in which to speculate in stocks. The others are July, January, September, April, November, May, March, June, December, August and February," says Pudd'nhead Wilson. The months in which it will please you to meet "Pudd'nhead Wilson" are twelve in number, beginning with January and ending with December. "The Latch String is Always Out" at Dawson's Landing, Missouri, and the folks Mark Twain has introduced to the world as citizens of that village on the Mississippi, and who Edwin Mayo and his excellent company of players will make you personally acquainted with, will be as glad to see you as you will be to see them. The coming of this play with its Missouri flavor will no doubt make its appearance at Music Hall Saturday night one of the most enjoyable theatrical events of the season.

Hoyt's "A Stranger in New York," having passed its fiftieth performance at the Garrick Theatre, has now been transferred to Mr. Hoyt's own playhouse, called "Hoyt's," the scene of the long run of "A Trip to Chinatown," which Messrs. Hoyt and McKee say the new piece will eclipse. As "A Trip to Chinatown" made the greatest hit since Dixey in "Adonis," "A Stranger in New York" has a long career in store at Hoyt and McKee's home theatre. The mirth provoking complications of the jolly people involved, who go to the French ball and entertain there Harry Conor as the Stranger, are among the most ingenious the author of "A Milk White Flag" and "A Black Sheep" has yet devised. The cast is really brilliant in its personalities. There is, as has been mentioned, Harry Conor, the funniest farceur on the stage today. Then there is Sadie Martinot, the Frenchy heroine of comic opera comedy, and in fact of almost every kind of theatrical output. Harry Gilfoil has made a hit. There are many other well known comedians of the Hoyt school in this piece.

Hotel Man Dead.

C. A. Moore, aged fifty-three years, proprietor of the Washington House, at Basking Ridge, died last week after an illness of about six weeks. Mr. Moore was stricken with apoplexy about six weeks ago. He had nearly recovered from that stroke and was able to sit up in his room when he was taken with another stroke and died in about five hours. Mr. Moore was an active member of the Masons, Knights Templar, and of several other orders. The funeral services were held Monday afternoon at his late home.

Mr. N. N. Osburn, well-known at Woodstock, Mich., was troubled with a lame back. He was persuaded to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It gave him relief in one night. This remedy is also famous for its cures of rheumatism. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

ENTOMBED 13 DAYS.

THE PLUCKY FIGHT FOR LIFE OF MINER STEVENS.

His Rescuers Dug Through 127 Feet of Rock to Save Him—He Tapped with His Hammer Now and Then to Let the Boys Know He Was There.

A remarkable instance of physical endurance has been brought to notice in Arizona, where a miner was entombed for thirteen days in the Mammoth mine by a cave-in, and his rescuers dug through 127 feet of hard porphyritic rock to save his life. James Stevens, the miner, stopped in Denver on his way to his family in Central City, and told his story. Stevens is a man of medium size. An Englishman by birth, he has lived in the mines of Colorado for eighteen years, during which time his habits were of the most regular nature. It was due to his past life and his sturdy constitution that he survived the ordeal of existing in a narrow drift underground without food or water in dense darkness for thirteen days. Men have survived a longer fast than that he was forced to undergo, but not under such discouraging conditions.

"I am feeling pretty well now," he said, "though kind of weak here"—rubbing his hand across his stomach—"and my legs are still shaky. I've quit gaining in flesh now, though I still lack ten or twelve pounds of weighing what I did before the cave-in. But you should have seen me grow the first days after I was out. I could feel the flesh coming on just the same as I felt it leaving me in the mine. I weighed 156 pounds before, and when they pulled me out I weighed only 112 pounds. I lost that weight in just thirteen days and ten hours.

"When I went to work on Sunday night, the old timbers in the worked-out portion of the mine were creaking at a great rate and the dirt was flying. That was nothing unusual, for it had been going on for a long time. We all knew that the cave-in must come some time, but nobody was looking for it quite so soon. Preparations had been made to fill in the stopes with dirt from the new extensions in order to make that old part safe. I was working alone in the second level extension into new ground, away from the old workings.

"As I stood in the drift, thinking what it was best to do, there came a fearful roar, the ground about me trembled, and I knew it was all up with me. I could hear the old timbers crashing as they broke under the weight of the mass of rock above them and the thud of the rock and dirt falling down into the lower drifts and stopes. I jumped back and ran toward the breast of the drift. The air blew in strong, puffed out my candle, and filled my throat with dust.

"Then I lay down and tried to think it all out. I was penned in good and tight, and there was nothing to do but to wait, and, maybe, die. As soon as I had made up my mind to the situation I began to take account of stock. I found I had a piece of cake and two pieces of pie in my dinner bucket, and about two quarts of water. I had two candles and fifteen matches. My tobacco I threw away, thinking that it might cause me more harm than good. I decided not to eat excepting when the pangs of hunger grew too severe and then only to take a small nibble of the pie or the cake. I might as well have eaten the food all at one time, for the nibbles seemed only to make the pains more severe.

"About three hours after the cave-in I heard sounds of rescue work. First it was a rapping on the air box, and I knew that the men must be down in the third level near the main working shaft, for the airbox came up to the new extension from there. I took my hammer and rapped back, and then they knew that I was alive. Then they began to sink near the prospect shaft. I listened to their working when I was not sleeping, until on Wednesday all sound ceased. I listened and waited, and wondered what had happened. Not a blow was struck for five hours. It was then that I began to give up all hope. If they could not reach me that way, how was I to escape? That was the toughest day of the whole time. I was in intense pain from hunger and thirst. My throat hurt me very much. It was hot, and stinging pains chased each other right along. Sometimes the stomach pains were so severe that I was helpless and after they would die away I lay back exhausted. The last bit of food had disappeared on Tuesday noon. It was just as well that no other man was left in the drift with me, for one of us would have certainly eaten the other.

"There was not a drop of water in the drift after my canteen was exhausted, and my throat pains were frightful. After that awful silence of five hours on Wednesday I heard sounds in a new place. I located them up in new ground and then I knew that they were going to sink for me through the rock. I was doubtful about it. I sized up my strength and decided that I might hold out nine or ten days altogether. Three days were already gone and they had to blast through 127 feet of solid rock.

"The pains now eased up, and the spasms occurred only once or twice a day. I realized I was getting weaker rapidly, and I felt as though my flesh was dropping off. My knees grew so weak that I could hardly stand. I wondered if, after all, I should die easy, with no horrible pangs of thirst or hunger. I slept all I could, and the only exertion I made was to knock with my hammer once or twice a day to let them know that I was still alive. The last day was the hardest to bear. I was afraid that they might give up and conclude that I was dead. The pains increased and I was in constant agony. My mind was beginning to weaken, but I tried to think rationally. I hammered and scraped every little while to assure them that I was alive. This made them think I was crazy, I afterward learned.

"On Saturday morning, about 7 o'clock I saw light and the glisten of a drill point. I jumped up and shouted, 'Is that you Joe?,

"'That you, Jim?' came back to me.

"'For God's sake give me water,' I called.

"'Can't do it, old fellow,' the answer came, and then the men worked away faster than ever.

"In a few moments they had made a hole and I was pulled through. They would give me no water, but some medicine, and then they put me back in the drift to wait until the sun went down. They said the mercury was 105 degrees and that I could not stand the heat and light. After sundown I was hauled out in a bucket and the men cheered. They wanted to carry me to the reading room, but I would not have it, and I walked a hundred yards. Then I went to bed. For three days more they made me do without water, giving me only medicine. I had to live on chicken broth for two days and still without water. Then I drank and ate a smashing dinner. The first three days I gained fifteen pounds and I mended rapidly after that. The boys got up a benefit ball for me and the company paid me full wages for the time I was underground and did not charge me a cent for my board."

JENNY LIND'S MARRIAGE.

It occurred at Boston and Her Honeymoon Was Spent at Northampton.

Of all those who took part in the concerts of Jenny Lind in this country nearly fifty years ago, the least distinguished of them all was the pianist, Otto Goldschmidt, but he distinguished himself sufficiently shortly afterward by marrying her.

This last event was foreshadowed by a quiet visit to Northampton in Jan. 1852, when she engaged a suite of rooms at Round Hill hotel. A little later Otto Goldschmidt, of Hamburg, Germany, and Jenny Lind, of Stockholm, Sweden, were married at the residence of Samuel G. Ward, of Boston.

The utmost secrecy was observed regarding the mrriage, and in fact, nothing was known of it until Mr. Goldschmidt went for the certificate on the morning of the wedding. As she said, she "cheated the people nicely." Her silver was marked with an O enclosing a J, which were afterwards found out to mean Otto and Jenny. She said she was nothing but a cipher anyway.

Her life in Northampton was passed in much the same way that a cultured American woman would pass her time in Sweden. The manners and customs of our countrymen and women were as interesting and amusing to her as those of Sweden would be to us. She wanted no society, but simply to enjoy her honeymoon quietly and in her own way. She was welcome everywhere, and she made use of her freedom by paying visits wherever her fancy led her. She was not generous in the large sense; her larger gifts in this country at first being part of Mr. Barnum's advertising scheme, but she delighted in distributing small sums just as an American traveler with plenty of money would do in Europe, and these she placed where they would do the most good.

Before leaving Northampton in May, 1852, Mr. and Mrs. Goldschmidt gave a farewell private charity concert in the new town hall, which netted nearly $1,000. Of this sum $700 was given to the library of the "Young Men's Institute," the nucleus of the present Clarke library, and the remainder placed in the hands of Dr. Wm. Allen for private charities.

The illustration herewith is from a daguerreotype of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Goldschmidt, taken soon after their marriage. The pose is characteristically foreign. You may see just such groups in any gallery where the young people go who have not been long on our shores. Their affection is always frank. We were always grateful to Jenny Lind for looking the camera and us straight in the eye, and glad Mr. Goldschmidt did not. It would have spoiled the charm.—Easthampton News.

Her Attractions.

The following story is told of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe: One day she appeared at a club of which she is a member with her bonnet wrong side front. After some hesitation a member of the organization informed her of her mistake. "What a blow to my vanity!" said Mrs. Howe, with a smile. "I thought I was receiving an unusual amount of attention as I came down town in the car, but attributed it solely to my attractions."

This iron is soothing because extracted from bullock's blood.

All other iron medicines are irritating because made from pieces of iron dissolved, or cut up, by powerful acids.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per large box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price by The Capsuloid Company, Downing Building, 108 Fulton Street, New York City.

"Our American Homes and How to Furnish Them."

'Horner's Furniture'

The Best in the Market.

All who desire to buy reliable Furniture, whether in medium or finest grades, will find our stock the most advantageous to select from for these reasons: It represents the productions of the best makers only, and is the largest and most varied in America, while our prices are the lowest at which goods of similar quality can possibly be sold for.

The completeness of our assortments can best be understood from the fact that we exhibit more than five hundred different Bedroom Sets in every variety of wood, over 70 patterns of Brass Bedsteads, as well as endless lines of Parlor, Drawing Room, Library and Dining Room Furniture of the most artistic styles, and ranging from the modest and inexpensive to the most elaborately carved and inlaid.

One entire floor devoted to Venetian Carved Furniture, French Cabinets, and other foreign productions.

Send for our Illustrated Book.

Ready for Business

evidently, and the business should be done by all means. Buildings require paint. Of course a house may be left unpainted and left to become weatherbeaten and a wreck. That doesn't pay, though; it's much cheaper to paint, and our paints in all colors are the best in the market for durability under the most trying conditions. They are well adapted to our exposure and we sell everything in the line of paints and painters' supplies at short prices.

Collars and Cuffs

nicely laundered are essential to every gentleman's toilet. We have every facility for doing up collars and cuffs that are used by the manufacturers in Troy, N. Y. Our plant is an exact duplicate of theirs. So is our work. If you want your collars and cuffs to look like new have our wagon call for them. We are the only laundry in New Jersey having a plant of this kind.

We guarantee linen to last longer when washed by us than when done elsewhere. We absolutely guarantee not to fade colored shirts that, when new, cost $1 or over. We don't know of another laundry that offers to do this. We don't charge any more than the others, either.

ALIEN LABORERS TURNED BACK.

Commissioner Powderly Gets Twenty-eight Hungarians.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Immigration Commissioner Powderly has succeeded in running down a portion of the Hungarian immigrants whose arrivals at various times within the last year aroused the suspicions of the immigration officials. Twenty-eight of them have already been arrested and will be deported, in accordance with the provisions of the Alien Contract Labor law. Other arrests are in view. About a month ago a party of fifty suspects was detained at Baltimore while Mr. Powderly made a personal investigation.

Although unable to develop anything that would warrant further detention, the Commissioner was satisfied that they came to the United States in violation of the law, and he put Special Inspector George E. Baldwin on their track. Baldwin followed them to a stave cutters' camp in Mississippi, in the vicinity of Memphis, the party pursuing a devious route as if to avoid detection. There, at the risk of his life, aided by local labor leaders in Memphis, Baldwin learned that not only these men, but others, had been brought from Crotia, in Austria-Hungary; that they were sent from Vienna and consigned to different cities, but all finally bring up in stave cutters' camps in Missouri, Arkansas, Mississippi and Louisiana.

Warrants were issued on Saturday for the arrest of fifty of them, and twenty-eight were found yesterday in Memphis, where they had been abandoned by the "Boss," who evidently scented danger and disappeared. The other twenty-two will be apprehended in the lumber camps, and the whole party sent back to Europe at the expense of the steamship company which brought them over.

A party of 132, supposed to be bound for the Louisiana lumber camps, arrived at Galveston the other day, and they will also be traced out and deported, if found to be here in violation of the law.

GAMBLING AMENDMENT CONTEST.

Point Now Raised That the Amendment Did Not Receive a Majority.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 17.—The preliminary argument on the application for an order to compel a recount of the votes cast for and against the race-track amendment was finished yesterday, and the Supreme Court Justices took the papers and reserved decision.

Allen L. McDermott appeared, with ex-Senator Edwards, in support of the motion, and Attorney-General Grey in opposition. Mr. Grey argued that the matter was ended, so far as the courts were concerned, by the issuing of the Governor's proclamation promulgating the amendment. From this Justice Dixon dissented, and said if that were so the Governor might have promulgated the woman suffrage amendment, which was defeated, and the courts would be powerless. Attorney-General Grey further argued that the applicants for a recount had no standing in court, as the amendment did them no harm, and worked harm to no one; besides, the ballots had been removed from the ballot boxes, and some of them had been destroyed.

Mr. McDermott argued that it was the duty of the Court to interfere and enforce the constitutional provision that a majority shall rule. He also made the point that whether there was a recount or not the anti-gambling amendment had been defeated and did not belong in the Constitution. This point is based on the following from of the Constitution."

"And if the people, at a special election to be held for that purpose only, shall approve and ratify such amendment or amendments, or any of them, by a majority of the electors qualified to vote for members of the Legislature voting thereon, such amendment so approved and ratified shall become part of the Constitution.

The total vote cast at the special election was 141,673, and a majority would be 70,837. The anti-race track amendment received but 70,443 votes, which is 394 short of a majority.

THEY WANT THE TWIN CITIES.

Gunn and Mrs. Holloway Lay Claim to 7,000 Acres in Minnesota.

Washington, Nov. 17.—A legal representative of two Ohio men astonished Commissioner Hermann, of the General Land Office, yesterday by requesting his assistance in securing official papers to establish the right of his clients to 7,000,000 acres of land, embracing the cities of St. Paul and Minneapolis and much of the surrounding country. The claimants are A. N. Gunn, of Maumee, and Mrs. C. B. Holloway, of Holland. They are descendants of an English pioneer, Jonathan Carver, who settled in the Northwest before the Revolutionary war, became chief of an Indian tribe, and, according to the claimants, received a large tract of land from the Indians. It is contended by the claimants that the transfer of the land to Carver was approved by George III. and ratified by the Continental Congress. Commissioner Hermann promised to give them his assistance.

Objections to a Colored Juryman.

Columbus, Ga., Nov. 17.—For the first time in the history of Muscogee County, a negro was empanelled as a juryman in the Superior Court yesterday. The fact caused surprise, and the white members of the jury were indignant.

The negro was placed on the jury by mistake. His name is J. T. Thornton, and A. J. Thornton, a white farmer, was drawn as a juror. The subpoena was sent through the mail and was delivered to J. T. Thornton by mistake. The negro, pursuant to instructions, appeared at the court house, and was duly qualified. When the court reconvenes to-morrow he will be removed.

Meyer Guilty of Murder.

New York, Nov. 17.—The jury in the Meyer murder trial at 3.54 yesterday afternoon brought in a verdict of murder in the first degree. The jury was out just twenty-five minutes. Meyer never moved a muscle. He sat like a marble statue. He will be sentenced on Tuesday by Justice Fursman.

Meyer was caught in the act of robbing a poor-box, and shot Policeman Smith, in the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 17.—The Russian Locomotive Construction Company has been authorized by the Government to place orders for 400 locomotives abroad.

CANADA'S WILY MOVE

Want a Joint Commission to Take Up Pending Questions.

NO AGREEMENT IS LIKELY

The Proposition Amounts to an Announcement of the Failure of the Conference — Why the United States Must Positively Refuse.

Washington, Nov. 17.—The Canadian Commissioners acknowledged the failure of the conference over the Behring Sea question to-day by announcing that, instead of accepting the American proposition to stop pelagic sealing for one year and then to hold a conference for a permanent arrangement, they propose a joint commission to take up not only the seal question, but reciprocity, immigration and other matters affecting the two countries.

The Americans say that by accepting the counter propositions they would leave the sealing question in its present unsettled condition. No joint commission could be appointed except by the consent of Great Britain and the United States, and meanwhile there would be no protection for the seals. Some modus vivendi must be arranged before the United States can consent to any joint commission. The Canadians claim that reciprocity, immigration and the boundary questions are of as much importance as the Behring Sea matter, and therefore all must be taken up and settled at the same time, and they will listen to no other scheme than a joint commission.

In other words, this is their way of announcing the failure of the conference, which is now nothing more than a farce. Both sides fully understand that no agreement can be reached, although they meet and adjourn with all outward show of seriousness.

Secretary Sherman to Laurier.

Washington, Nov. 17.—It developed that Secretary Sherman had written a letter to Sir Wilfrid Laurier which may have an important bearing on the Canadian negotiations. It is said this letter resulted from the divided responsibility here, Gen. Foster having charge of Behring Sea, Secretary Gage of immigration, Mr. Kasson of reciprocity, etc. While each of these officials was desirous of making friendly arrangements with the Canadians there was no one person who could consider the subjects homogeneously, granting a concession on one matter for an equal concession on another. This being recognized as an embarrassment it is understood that Mr. Sherman's letter to Sir Wilfrid suggests means for a broader discussion of the relations between the countries.

The Behring Sea meeting began at 11 o'clock yesterday under the usual circumstances of secrecy.

The experts concluded their work on the technical features of the seal question this morning, reaching an agreement on all points of difference. It was agreed that the report should not be made public until it had been submitted to their respective governments.

AUNT MADE HIM KILL.

Gave Him Wine and He Murdered His Uncle.

Biddeford, Me., Nov. 17.—Jean Baptiste Guillemet, who was arrested here in connection with the murder of his uncle, R. La Plante, at St. Liboire, Quebec, Oct. 30, has made a partial confession to the effect that he committed the crime at the instigation of his aunt, the wife of the murdered man, who promised to marry him after the death of her husband.

Guillemet, who is 17 years old, says that for two weeks befort the murder his aunt was constantly urging him to get rid of his uncle. On Saturday, Oct. 30, Mr. La Plante went to St. Hyacinthe on a collecting trip. This was seized upon by his aunt as the proper time for the murder of her husband, and, Guillemet says, after giving him wine to nerve him to the crime, his aunt directed him to lay in wait for his uncle.

He did so, and when the man appeared his nephew struck him with a club on the skull, killing him instantly.

Mrs. La Plante, the woman Guillemet accuses of complicity in the crime, is about 35 years old, and has six children.

GERMAN GUNS READY.

Force Landed on Chinese Soil Has a Fine Base of Operations.

Berlin, Nov. 17.—The papers declare that the German Government intends to press the claims against China for the murder of missionaries in the "most emphatic manner."

Kiaochan Bay, where marines and sailors were landed from the naval division yesterday, is considered a splendid base of operations.

The strength of this naval division is as follows:

The flagship Kaiser, with 644 men; the second-class cruisers Irene and Princess William, each with 365 men, and the third-class cruiser Arcona, with 268 men. The division is under the command of Rear-Admiral von Diederichs.

Russia has been negotiating for the cession of Kiaochan Bay and Tala Bay in order to use them as naval ports.

Montana's Inheritance Tax.

Helena, Mont., Nov. 17.—The Supreme Court of Montana has decided that the Inheritance Tax law passed by the last Legislature is constitutional in every particular. This is the first test of the law before the State's highest tribunal, and the decision is so sweeping that if the law is attacked again it will probably be in the Federal courts. The law imposes a tax upon all estates worth over $7,500, and applies to all in course of settlement at the time the law became operative last Spring. This takes in the estate of A. J. Davis, the Butte millionaire, which was finally settled and distributed several weeks ago. By this decision the Montana treasury will receive about forty thousand dollars from estates amenable to the law this year.

Carlisle a New Yorker.

Washington, Nov. 17.—Ex-Secretary Carlisle states that he has rented his residence here and taken a home in New York, where he expects to practice law.

Mr. Carlisle has intimated strongly to his friends that he will never again take an active part in politics.

WHIST.

The sixth match for the A. W. L challenge trophy was played at Boston Saturday night between the American Whist Club, of Boston, holders, and the Philadelphia Whist Club, challengers. The result was a victory for the Philadelphia Whist Club by the score of 23 tricks to 13. The players were: American Whist Club—L. M. Bouve, captain; H. H. Ward, C. L. Becker and W. S. Fenollosa. Philadelphia Whist Club—M. C. Work, F. P. Mcgridge, W. H. Watson and E A. Ballard. Next Saturday the Cleveland Whist Club will send a team from Ohio to try their skill against the eastern cracks. Cleveland finished in thirteenth place at the last congress, playing for this trophy, but they think they have a much stronger team now.

WORK OF THE REVIVAL.

Nearly Sixty Persons Have Been Touched by the Plea For Their Souls.

No one expected that when the special meetings began in Grace M. E. church the outcome would be of such magnitude. It was reported last night that very close to sixty souls professed conversion since the meetings began. This does not include some who did not give their names, or those who at some other time professed to be Christians, nor does it refer to that almost innumerable number of church members who have been quickened. At last night's meeting there was a most gratifying attendance, and two more souls entered into the life of the Spirit. Rev. G. W. Smith, D. D., will preach this evening. Some time during this evening's service the pastor and all those recently converted will retire to the lecture room where Mr. Johnston will speak a few words to them.

To Amend the Constitution.

The members of the Ladies' Aid Society of Warren chapel met yesterday afternoon and introduced an amendment to the constitution which will be voted upon at the next meeting of the society. The latter part of the meeting was devoted to talk about the missionary work being carried on in Mexico. Mrs. A. V. D. Honeyman, the president, conducted a question box, and each one present gave answers to the questions concerning Mexico and the work being done by the missionaries. The members of the society are preparing a barrel of clothing, etc., which will be sent south for missionary purposes.

A Morning Runaway.

A horse owned by J. M. Smalley, the Somerset street butcher, ran away this morning from in front of H. G. Runkle's residence on West Eighth street. The wagon was slightly damaged, but the horse was caught after a short run and was not injured at all The accident occurred while the driver was in a house delivering meat.

Justice Mosher's Court

The case of Huff against DeHart, on contract, was tried in Justice Mosher's court yesterday afternoon, and judgment was rendered in full for the defendant. The case of the Simmons Furnace Company against Barrett, on contract, which was to have been heard at the same time, was adjourned for one week.

ENDS OF HIS FINGERS NIPPED OFF.

Pond Tool Works Employe Caught Them in the Gearing of a Machine.

Martin Conniff, an employe of the Pond Tool Works, met with an accident while at work yesterday, which cost him the loss of a portion of two fingers upon his right hand. Conniff was operating a small crane, when in some way his fingers were caught in the gearing between the cogs of two wheels, and in a moment's time the ends of two of them were nipped off. Conniff, who for a time suffered intense pain, was taken to Muhlenberg Hospital, where the wounded fingers were dressed by the house surgeon and he was then taken to his home on West Third street. He will be unable to discharge his duties at the Pond Works for some time.

A Library in Itself.

Few people are able to buy as many books as they would like, yet it is possible without them to keep in touch with all the leaders of literature, as well as to follow the world's progress in every department of science and industry. The Youth's Companion already provides the means for more than half a million households—at an expense to each of $1.75 a year. Every issue of The Companion gives as much reading matter as a 12mo book of 175 pages, and The Companion comes every week. The quality of its contents is shown by the announcement for 1898, which promises contributions next year from the Rt. Hon. W. E. Gladstone, Rudyard Kipling, Speaker Reed, Capt. A. T. Mahan, Mary E. Wilkins, W. D. Howells, Lieutenant Peary, the Marquis of Dufferin, Senator Hoar, Justin McCarthy, and more than two hundred other eminent men and women.

All new subscribers for 1898 will receive The Companion's gold embossed calendar, beautifully printed in twelve colors, and the paper will also be sent free from the time the subscription is received until January, 1898, and then for a full year to Jan. 1899. A handsome illustrated prospectus of the volume for 1898 will be sent to any one addressing the Youth's Companion, 205 Columbus avenue, Boston, Mass.

CASTORIA

For Infants and Children

Fac-simile signature of Chas. H. Fletcher. 35 DOSES 35 CENTS WRAPPER

The New Volume of St. Nicholas.

St. Nicholas, conducted by Mrs Mary Mapes Dodge, enters upon the twenty-fifth year of its successful career as the leading magazine for boys and girls with its November issue. A remarkably varied and attractive list of features has been secured for the coming year, including contributions by several of the foremost writers of the day.

Rudyard Kipling's first "Jungle Stories" were written for St. Nicholas and this year he will contribute a new series of stories to the magazine, called "The Just So Stories," written in a new vein—fantastic stories. Some stories, Mr. Kipling says, are meant to be read quietly, and some are meant to be told aloud. Some are for rainy mornings and some for long, hot afternoons, and some are for bed time. These stories of Mr. Kipling's are meant to be told "just so," and one must not alter one single little word. They are stories about animals, queer, very queer animals.

Mr. Frank R. Stockton will contribute "The Buccaneers of Our Coast." This is a series of narrative sketches in which will be treated the origin, characteristics, adventures, and exploits of that wild body of searovers, calling themselves "The Brethren of the Coast," who during the greater part of the seventhteenth century ravaged and almost ruled the waters and shores of the West Indies.

Mr. J. T. Trowbridge has written a serial, "Two Biddicut Boys, and Their Adventures With a Wonderful Trick Dog." This is marked by his best qualities and is full of effective interest. A lively story of track and field is "The Lakerim Athletic Club," by Rupert Hughes which will tell of a year of sports carried out by a party of "real boys." Mr. W. O. Stoddard writes a stirring romance of chivalry, "With the Black Prince," telling of the fortunes and adventures of an English lad who fights at the battle of Crecy. A fairy-tale of science "Through the Earth," by Clement Fezandie, is a serial of the Jules Verne order. It tells of the daring conception of a scientist of the next century, who by the enormously increased power of electricity succeeds in boring a hole through the earth and sending a boy in a cigar shaped car through the tunnel.

There will be the usual number of articles of instruction and entertainment, short stories, poems and jingles, as well as hundreds of pictures by leading artists. The price of St. Nicholas is 25 cents a copy, or $3.00 a year.

Justice Nash's Court.

Judgments for the plaintiffs were rendered by Justice Nash Monday in the following contract cases: Randolph against Blair, Boyce against Johnston, Wolfe against Ryno and Turton against Wilmot. A summons was issued in the case of Carples against Guttman, on contract, returnable next Monday.

—The improvements at the borough lockup were completed today.

—William Sharkey has removed his blacksmith shop from Lincoln place to the place on Race street formerly known as Schenck's machine shop.

—Neuman Bros. have received a car load of the celebrated Curtis preserves, jams and soups, which will be sold at special prices to purchasers taking a dozen cans or a case.

—Early last evening the trimmings in one of the show windows of Crane & Clark, on West Front street, caught fire from a gas jet. The blaze was discovered in time to prevent serious loss.

George Goodwin is very ill at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Ida Bauers, 215 West Front street.

An Unburied King.

It will surprise most people to learn that the late King of Spain is not yet buried, but, covered with a winding sheet, lies on a marble slab in a vault of the Escurial. This is in accordance with a custom dating from the year 1700. The body will lie where it is until the present King dies. Then it will be deposted with great pomp beside the remains of his predecessors in the chapel of the Escurial.

"When I Was Abroad."

I had once a great friend who had travelled all around the world. When almost on his deathbed he spoke to me on the subject for the first time with humorous pathos. "My dear fellow, you will do me the justice, when I am gone, to say that I never told you one word about it." But he was a noble exception.

Nouveau Riche—That big fellow with the trumpet did nothing half the time. Don't let it happen again.

Bandmaster—Ah, yes, sare; but that was during the piccolo part. It was the trombone rest.

Nouveau Riche—I pay men to work, not to rest!—Truth.

Fuddy—I understand that Wigley spends most of his evenings here at your house?

Duddy—I had an impression that it was my evenings that he spends here.—New York Herald.

Bridget: "Indade, mum, I do. The perlaceman who used to call on me in me last place was a regular epicac."

A PAIR OF SEA SERPENTS.

Seen by a Fisherman Plowing Through Long Island Sound.

Greenport, L. I., Nov. 17.—C. Edwards Stauson, a drug clerk of this place, went fishing yesterday morning on the Sound, to the north of this village, and returned at 11 o'clock with a thrilling story of having seen not only one sea serpent, but a pair of them. He says he was about to start for home when his attention was attracted to the head of a monster sea serpent, tearing through the water not over one hundred feet from shore. Terrified at the monster, whose head was not less than four feet in circumference, Stauson sprang from the rocks to the shore and watched the antics of the creature, which appeared to be about fifty feet in length. Suddenly he saw a second serpent, identical in shape and size, some fifty feet behind the first. Both were tearing madly through the water in a westerly direction along the Sound coast. The motion of the sea serpents was that of a snake as they darted through the water. The bodies at no part were less than a foot in circumference, and the action of the creatures lashed the sea into a foam.

CHARMING HOME WEDDING PERFORMED ON PROSPECT AVENUE.

Miss Mabel Darling Joined in Wedlock to Edgar L. Fitch, of Westfield—Bride's Home Beautified for the Occasion.

One of the charming home weddings of the fall season took place last evening, when Miss Mabel Darling, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Darling, of this city, became the wife of Edgar L. Fitch, of Westfield.

The ceremony took place at the residence of the bride's parents, 943 Prospect avenue, at 7 o'clock. The parlor was handsomely decorated with chrysanthemums and other potted plants, and formed a pretty setting for the picture presented by the bridal party.

After the guests, to the number of about one hundred, had assembled, the strains of the wedding march sounded forth and the bride entered, attired in a gown of white silk, and carrying in her hand a bouquet of bridal roses. She was accompanied by her maid of honor, Miss Mabel Fitch, a sister of the groom. Miss Ruth Berg made a charming flower girl

The groom was accompanied by J. Herbert Pearsall, of Westfield, as best man. Rev. J. W. Richardson, pastor of the Park Avenue Baptist church, performed the marriage ceremony.

The ushers were Wm. Taylor and Moreland Townley, of Westfield, and Miss Allie Crosby, of Westfield, presided at the piano.

After the ceremony the bride and groom held a reception and received the well wishes of their many friends, and a wedding supper was then served, to which the guests all remained. The supper was served by Caterer Max Wiertz. The presents received were numerous and of beauty and value.

At the close of the wedding supper Mr. and Mrs. Fitch left for their wedding trip through New York State. On their return they will make their home with Mr. and Mrs. Darling in this city.

MARRIAGE OF COLORED COUPLE

Miss Sarah Hedgman Becomes Mrs. Richard Yetman.

At the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Northrop, 31 Rockview terrace, last evening, occurred the marriage of Miss Sarah Hedgman to Richard Yetman. It was a fashionable colored wedding. The ceremony was performed by Rev. James E. Grobes, pastor of the Mt. Zion A. M. E church.

The house was prettily decorated for the occasion with choice flowers and plants, and every effort was made to give the bride and groom a royal send off. Miss Dora Hedgman, sister of the bride, was bridemaid, and Joseph Bolden was the best man Following the ceremony those present congratulated Mr. and Mrs. Yetman and wished them plenty of happiness and success.

A reception was held later in the evening at the home of Nelson Batts, on Somerset street, and the bride and groom left for Newark on the 11:28 train. They will be absent a few days, and on their return they will reside at their former place with Mr. and Mrs. Northrop by whom they are employed. They received a costly and useful collection of presents from their friends.

POLLUTING THE BROOK.

Electric Light Company Said to Be Running Refuse Into Green Brook.

The Borough Board of Health recently located a large quantity of oil in Green brook, near the new Sycamore avenue bridge, and decided that the oil came from the Plainfield Electric Light Works on Madison avenue. At the corner of New and Front street there comes from the catch basin a foul air and steam, much to the annoyance of the residents in that vicinity, and it is urged that the Plainfield Board of Health should put a stop to the nuisance. Last year the same trouble prevailed and no effort was made to remedy it. When the North Plainfield Electric Light Works was in operation the prevalence of oil in various wells about the works caused the Borough Board of Health to take action and put a stop to it, which they did. The members of the Borough Board think that it is the duty of the City Board to take some action regarding the pollution of the brook by oil near Sycamore avenue.

WED UNDER A FLORAL BELL.

JOINED AS AUTUMN DAYS WANE.

Miss Emma Florence Angleman and Gillard W. Apgar the Contracting Parties—The Details.

One of the prettiest weddings of the fall season was that of last evening when Miss Emma Florence Angleman, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. W. Angleman, of 226 East Fourth street, became the wife of Gillard W. Apgar, of Richmond street. The ceremony was performed in the presence of admiring relatives and friends by Rev. W. C. O'Donnell, pastor of Monroe Avenue church.

At 8 o'clock the bridal party entered the parlor while the wedding march was being rendered by Miss Margaret Sheppard, a friend of the bride. The party formed a semi-circle beneath a beautiful arch made of evergreen, chrysanthemums and autumn leaves, and in the centre was suspended a floral bell made of chrysanthemums and roses. Immediately after the ceremony the bride and groom were showered with the best wishes of their relatives and friends.

The bride was gowned in white organdie over white satin, trimmed with silk lace which was caught up with rhinestones. She carried a beautiful bouquet of bridal roses. The bridemaid, Miss Bertha Wenzel, of Clinton avenue, wore a gown of white organdie over pink satin, trimmed with pink ribbons and lace, and she carried pink roses. Miss Isadore L. VanCampen, niece of the bride, and Miss Lillian Geary, of Newark, acted as flower girls. The former wore a gown of nile green trimmed with ribbons and lace, while the latter's gown was of pink organdie. Both carried baskets of beautiful flowers. The best man was George Townley, of North Plainfield.

The bride and groom left the house in time to catch the 10:17 train for New York. They will enjoy a wedding trip of two weeks, during which time they will visit various places of interest, and on their return they will reside in Harlem, where the groom has a good position.

Just before they left the house the guests played a clever joke on them by tying them together with ribbons. They also received the usual shower of rice on their departure. The handsome and useful collection of presents received gave evidence of high esteem on the part of relatives and friends.

Those present to witness the marriage included David Apgar, of White House; Mr. and Mrs. H. L. VanCampen, Asa Taylor, of Newark; J. R. Rollison, of Rahway; Elmer Neal, of New York; Mr. and Mrs. J. Apgar, Miss Stella Apgar, Miss Nellie Apgar, Mr. Apgar, J. Pilger, Miss Fanny Haven, Mrs William Hedden, Miss Ida Hedden, Miss Emma Stratton.

Moore—Killmer.

The wedding of Miss Grace Killmer, the daughter of Wm. G. Killmer, of New York, to Walter J. Moore, of Plainfield, took place yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Gilt Room of the Holland House, New York, in the presence of their nearest relatives and a few intimate friends. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. Howard Duffield, of the old First Presbyterian church. Miss May Coursen, of Scranton, was the maid of honor. There were no bridemaids. The best man was Eugene A. Moore, and the ushers were Alfred G. Killmer, Horace E. Moore and G. Edward Raymond. A wedding reception and supper followed the ceremony. Mr. Moore is a graduate of Harvard University and the Columbia University Law School.

SEIZED WITH A FIT.

Was Looking for His Uncle When Overcome With the Illness.

George Bennet, of Newark, aged 33 years, came to Plainfield last evening for the purpose of finding his uncle, a Mr. Bennet, who is a contractor. While walking down East Front street he was seized with a fit. A patrolman happened to be near and he had him removed to the police station. Dr. Probasco was called, and decided that it would be best to have him removed th the hospital. He does not seem to be in a critical condition, although as yet the doctors are unable to tell just how serious his illness is. In falling Bennet injured his back to some extent. He is unmarried and was unsuccessful in his search for his uncle.

HIS SKULL FRACTURED.

BOUND BROOK YOUNG MAN SERIOUSLY HURT WHILE FUN-MAKING.

Albert Lee Was Indulging in Harmless Frolic When August Arnold Made an Assault That May Result in Death.

A young man, with his skull badly fractured, was brought to this city from Bound Brook last evening, and taken to Muhlenberg Hospital. His wound was the result of a blow from a heavy iron tool wielded by a fellow-workman at the shops of the American Engine Company in Bound Brook.

Albert Lee was the victim. He is a young man of twenty-four years who is employed in the machine shop of the American Engine Company. He boarded at Bound Brook. August Arnold was employed in the machine shop also. He was a young Frenchman and lived at his father's home in Bound Brook. There has been ill-feeling between the two young men, it is said, and Arnold claimed that Lee had injured him in some manner

Business has been brisk at the shops of late, and many of the men have been working overtime, spending most of the evenings at the shops. Lee and Arnold were among that number. Last evening, shortly before 8 o'clock, several of the men started a friendly battle with bunches of waste which they threw at each other. The fun was at its height when, it is alleged, Arnold picked up one of the heavy iron tools lying on the floor and struck Lee across the back of the head. Lee fell to the floor with a groan and was unconscious for some time. The skull had been fractured by the blow, and a sharp projection on the tool had entered Lee's head. The fracture was on the left side of the head above the ear.

Lee was taken to the Jersey Central station and brought to this city on the train arriving here at 9:15 o'clock. He was then conveyed to the hospital. He was conscious this morning and told those in attendance that he had been injured by a blow from one of the movable parts to a stationary engine at the shops. He denied that he had been assaulted but presisted in the story that his injuries were the result of an accident. His wounds were very serious and he now lies in a precarious condition.

August Arnold, the young man who, it is alleged, struck the blow, was arrested at his home in Bound Brook at midnight by a Bound Brook constable and taken to the Middlesex county jail at New Brunswick to await the result of Lee's injuries. A warrant was sworn out for the arrest of Arnold early in the evening by some of Lee's friends before Justice Brampton.

IONA COUNCIL'S GOOD TIME.

Music and Recitations Followed by Dancing—The Committee.

Iona Council, Degree of Pocohontas, gave its members and friends a jolly good time last evening with an entertainment and dance. The attendance was large. The progamme consisted of a piano solo by Mrs. Canfield; a vocal solo by Charles Dresselt; a recitation by Miss Bland; a piano duett by Miss M. Kinsey and Miss Ethel Kinsey; a recitation by Miss Josie Murphy; a recitation by Miss Lena Barrell, and character songs by Ethe Reynolds. The programme concluded with a comical sketch entitled "Murder will Out." Mrs. Fred Westphal played the part of "Grandmother Stiles;" Miss Florence Pullin that of "Dinah;" Mrs. J. Haberle, "Bridget O'Flaherty;" Miss Ethel Murphy, "Minnie Sprague;" Miss Lena Barrell, "Laura Stiles;" Miss Bland, "May Taylor." The sketch was well presented.

Councilman William A. Westphal acted as master of ceremonies, and his exemplanatory remarks added greatly to the pleasure of the occasion. Following the entertainment there was dancing. The committee in charge consisted of Mrs. Charles Dodwell, chairman; Mrs. Fred. Wesphal, Mrs. Weigman, Mrs. Kinsey, Mrs. Claasen, Mrs. Richter, Miss Florence Pullin and Mrs. Vaughn.

True Reformers Entertainment.

Madame Marie Dorsey, a colored woman with a French name, sang in Reform Hall last night under the auspices of the Plainfield branch of the United Order of True Reformers. In the intermissions between Madame Dorsey's selections, a number of solos were sung by local talent. The audience numbered about one hundred people, and the proceeds of the entertainment went toward supporting the home for aged colored people which the order has established near Richmond, Va.

A BOARD OF ASSESSORS

TO BE APPOINTED BY THE MAYOR TO SUCCEED MR. HUBBARD.

Definite Decision of the Matter Arrived at by a Councilmanic Conference Last Night—Board Consists of Four Members.

J. A. Hubbard will be the last Assessor of Plainfield. Beginning with the first of the new year, the delicate job of assessing the value of property within the city limits will be conducted by a Board of Assessors, composed of one representative from each ward. The new officials will not come before the good people of this city to be voted for, but will be appointed by the Mayor, acting under the advice of the Common Council.

Such was the decision arrived at in a conference between Mayor Fisk, Corporation Counsel Marsh and the members of the Common Council, held in the Mayor's office last evening. This decision was in accordance with a State law passed in 1893, which provides, in substance, that in all cities of the second class, under 35,000 population, where the assessors are now by law elected by vote of the people, that this method of election shall be abolished and that the Mayor, by and with the approval and consent of the Common Council, shall appoint a Board of Assessors. This Board shall consist of one member from each ward, who, when appointed, shall hold office for three years. Their salary shall be fixed at the time of their appointment and shall not be changed during their term of office. Appointments are to be made at any time and term of office to begin at expiration of present incumbent.

The term of office of Mr. Hubbard expires on January 1, 1898, and the new Board will be appointed to take office at that time. The appointments will probably be made at the adjourned meeting of the Common Council on Monday evening when the Mayor will present the names of those whom he considers the most suitable and the Council will be asked to indorse his opinion.

THANKSGIVING TABLEAUX.

PICTURES OF SEASONABLE SUBJECT.

Seventh-Day Baptists Enjoy a Pleasant Evening With the Women of the Church.

A delightful Thanksgiving entertainment and social was given by the Woman's Society for Christian Work of the Seventh-Day Baptist church in the Sunday school room last evening. A large audience was present and entered thoroughly into the spirit of the occasion. The first part of the evening was taken up with the entertainment portion, which began with a vocal solo by Miss Nan Randolph and a recitation, "The Origin of Thanksgiving," by Miss Luella Clawson. "The First Thanksgiving," by the Misses Bessie Dunham, Mamie Rogers and Eva Rogers, was well rendered, as was also the recitation, "The Physician's Dinner," by Frank Pope.

The unique part of the evening's programme was the series of tableaux referring to Thanksgiving season. The first was a series of five tableaux of illustrations from the experiences of the Pilgrim Fathers. They were: "The First Harvest," "Devastation by the Indians," "The Revolution" and "Peace and Plenty." The audience was very enthusiastic over these tableaux, each one of which was roundly applauded.

A vocal solo was next rendered by Miss Maude Mosher, and Master George Rogers sang a song, after which the second series of tableaux, illustrating Whittier's poem, "The Pumpkin," were shown. Those who took part in the various tableaux were: Stanley Mosher, Miss Nillie Miller, Miss Helen Rogers, Miss Ethel Rogers, Daniel Rogers, Wendell Mosher, Charles Neagle, Robert Mitchell, Miss Lizzie Allis, Miss Bessie Randolph, Miss Dorothy Linn, Miss Luella Clawson, Asa Randolph and Stanley Mosher.

After the last of the tableaux had been show, David E. Titsworth sang as a solo the familiar piece "The breaking waves dashed high, on a stern and rockbound coast." After this solo the guests were served with refreshments and a pleasant social hour followed.

The general committee in charge of the affair was Miss Ida Spicer, Mrs. A. L. Titsworth and Miss Ida Randolph. Those in charge of the refreshments were Mrs. Lewis Rogers and Mrs. Amanda Maxson.

Elected a Deacon.

At the congregational meeting last evening of Trinity Reformed church, held for the purpose of electing one deacon for the full term of two years, F. C. Adams was unanimously elected to the position, no other nominations being made.

POLITICAL.

G. O. P. PRIMARIES CALLED.

MAKING READY FOR THE BATTLE.

Republican City Executive Committee Transact Important Business—Primaries For Next Tuesday.

The Republican city executive committee held a meeting last evening at Republican Headquarters for the purpose of making arrangements for holding the primaries and city convention in connection with the election to be held Tuesday, December 7th.

The meeting was called to order by Chairman W. R. Codington, and Secretary J. B Coward officiated in his capacity. The other members present were Sheriff William T. Kirk, Charles Barbour, Lawyer Newcorn, William Drayton and John Keely. It was decided to hold the primaries Tuesday evening, November 22d, in the various wards, and the city convention Saturday evening, November 27th, at Republican Headquarters

The delegation to the convention was based on one delegate for each fifty voters in a ward, and at that rate the proportion will be First Ward, 8; Second Ward, 8; Third Ward, 7; Fourth Ward, 11.

After the payment of a $5 bill owing Charles VanWinkle, the meeting adjourned to next Wednesday evening at the same place at 8 o'clock.

THE COLLECTOR'S SALARY.

Councilman Dumont Quotes Some Instructive Figures For the News.

President of the Common Council Dumont writes a letter to The Press today in which he shows the material injustice of the News' criticism of the salary paid to the City Collector. Councilman Dumont says:

For many years, I think fifteen, it has been necessary to employ a delinquent tax collector. This year, having an efficient Collector, it was unnecessary. At the beginning of former Collector Johnson's term the salary of the Collector was determined by State law, a percentage on amount collected, and although the amount collected then each year was less than half the amount collected last year the salary was larger than that fixed by the Council for 1897—$2,000. The following shows:

1893—Collector's salary		$1,500.00
	Delinquent collector's salary	1,407.83
		$2,907.83
1894—Collector's salary		$1,500.00
	Delinquent collector's salary	962.92
		$2,462.92
1895—Collector's salary		$1,500.00
	Delinquent collector's salary	864.35
		$2,364.35
1896—Collector's salary		$1,500.00
	Delinquent collector's salary

Vincent W. Nash was delinquent tax collector 1893, 1894 and 1895 and Mr. Bird in 1896. The difference in 1893 and 1894 was in consequence of a reduction made by finance committee in the percentage allowed.

The $500 allowed Collector for sewer assessment cannot be reasonably criticized by anyone at all familar with the work he has performed in connection with same. Yours truly,

J. B. Dumont.

"NOT TONIGHT."

Attendants at Revival Meetings Putting Off the Important Declaration.

A large congregation gathered last night to hear Rev. G. W. Smith, D. D., in Grace M. E. church, who preached a strong convincing sermon. For the first time in two weeks there were no seekers at the altar, though requests for prayer were made, and many were convicted of sin, but who went home repeating "Not tonight."

Before the service closed the pastor met in the lecture room the young converts. It was a fine sight to behold their happy, earnest faces, and to hear their bright, joyous testimonies. A goodly number of them are going to unite with this church on probation next Sunday morning. The others will be recommended to the pastors of the different churches they desire to join. Services will be held tonight at 8 o'clock.

A Klondike Supper

Tomorrow evening a Klondike supper will be given by Class No. 1, of Trinity Reformed church Sunday-school, in the rooms over the Misses Gorsline's store on West Front street. The proceeds will be devoted to furnishing the new Sunday-school rooms. Twenty-five cents includes admission and supper.

Road to be Macadamized.

Yesterday afternoon the Somerset County Board of Freeholders met at Somerville and decided to macadamize the road from South Bound Brook to Montgomery, a distance of four miles. The estimated cost is $28,000, and Contractor Reel, of Somerville, being the lowest bidder, secured the contract for the work.

THE CITIZENS' MEETING.

REPUBLICAN FOES TO MEFT IN WASHINGTON HALL TONIGHT.

Remarks Will Be Made By Prominent Men Who Want to See the Present Municipal Rule Swept Away at Election.

Tonight is the time and Washington Hall the place for the foes of the regular Republicans, so far as the management of the city government is concerned, to gather and resolve themselves into a general movement looking to the defeat of the candidates to be nominated as representatives of the present administration.

The meeting is designed to provide a common ground whereon all those who want to see the Republican rule dissipated can meet for mutual conference and action. The particular purpose of the gathering is to determine the sentiment of the forces that will be depended upon to array themselves against the Republicans. It is expected that many prominent citizens will be present and make brief remarks on the situation.

The following committee was appointed by George O. Stevens, president of the Organized Independent Voters of the Fourth Ward, to conduct the arrangements of the meeting: DeWitt C. Ivins, Walter L. Hetfield, Henry Leifke and Charles P. Burnett.

The meeting will be called to order about 8:15 o'clock.

Against "Big Six" Influence.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—I read with much interest in The Press your articles on "The Citizens' Ticket Movement," and wish to say that reformers must be reformed before they talk reformation. I should think that the medicine given to the "Big Six" combination was strong enough to prevent them ever coming before us seeking office at the hands of an outraged community. I also believe that neither Messrs. Brown or Slauson will permit their names to be used on such a ticket, backed by any of the "Big Six."

BOYS DEBATE A LIVE QUESTION.

Last Night They Discussed "Is the Trolley an Advantage to Plainfield?"

The first of a series of debates that are to form an interesting part of the educational work at the Boys' Club this winter was held at the clubhouse last evening. The subject for debate was: "Is the Trolley an Advantage to Plainfield. The debaters for the affirmative were Clarence Waldron and Joseph Galbraith. Charles Peterson and John Kline defended the negative side. The debate was well contested and both sides brought up many well-taken points. The question was left to the house to decide and a vote was taken on the question. The members decided in favor of the affirmative by a vote of 16 to 8.

A debate was arranged for the next week's meeting and the subject taken was: "Should Convict Labor be Allowed?" Charles Peterson and Charles Palmer were chosen to speak for the affirmative and Robert Goldsach and A. B. Kane for the negative.

The regular weekly meeting of the club was held at the same time. Charles Palmer was added to the committee on amusements.

A Malicious Act.

Some person with a mania for mischief entered the toilet room in John J. Goff's hotel at Liberty and West Third streets, some time yesterday, and cut the water pipes in several places, so that the water escaped. The act was not discovered until some time afterward, and it was not possible to discover who the guilty person was. The cutting was apparently done with a penknife.

Miss Reinhart's Birthday.

Miss Mary Anderson Reinhart entertained a few friends in an informal manner last evening, at her home on Belvidere avenue, in honor of her birthday. Most of the evening was spent in playing games. Those present, besides the charming hostess, were the Misses Constance Patton, Elsie Martin, Elsa Pfeiffer and Hattie Goddard; H. Reeve Stockton, Arthur Murphy, Carroll L. Runyon and Alan Wilson.

C L. Case, of Central avenue, went to Philadelphia today on business.

Fred O. Ball, of Myrtle avenue, went to Washington this morning on a business trip.

Mrs. J. T. Green, of Steiner place, went to Summit yesterday to attend the funeral of her mother.

Mrs. T. Randall Armour, of Brooklyn, is visiting her friend, Mrs. Harry A. Connett, of East Fifth street.

LAURIER GOES HOME

Canadian Commissioner and Colleague Leave Washington.

SEAL CONFERENCE FUTILE

Proposes to Send a Commission from Canada to Carry on the Negotiations—A Practical Victory for the United States.

Washington, Nov. 18.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his conferree, Sir Louis Davis, left for Canada yesterday. The result of their mission has in the main been a failure, but, according to Sir Wilfrid it has been satisfactory, because a start has been made toward an agreement between this country and Canada on other questions than the Behring Sea. A commission will be sent from Canada to Washington to carry on the negotiations in regard to the Behring Sea, reciprocity, immigration the boundary and labor questions.

The failure of the diplomatic conference just closed was because the Canadians considered the seal question the least important of any before the commission, and came here to settle all the questions at the same time. While they were willing to do something for the seals, they asked the American commissioners to pledge themselves in advance to agree on reciprocity and immigration.

Could Not Agree.

The Americans told the Canadians frankly that they could make no such pledge, because a reciprocity treaty would have to be considered by the Senate. Upon this answer Sir Wilfrid Laurier acknowledged his inability to agree on the American proposition to stop the pelagic sealing for one year. After the conference last night it was decided to waste no further time.

Before he left Sir Wilfrid expressed himself satisfied as to the progress made, and ventured the hope that when the proposed joint commission met it would be able to carry the negotiation further than he had done.

Killing Off the Herd.

The reports signed by the seal experts are, however, a victory for the United States. It is a concession by Great Britain and Canada that pelagic sealing is destroying the seal herd. The Canadians have always contended that it did no harm to let the seal catching go on as now pursued.

But the United States has contended that the pelagic sealing has been injurious, and that something must be done to stop it. The Canadians, in their negotiations for reciprocity and other things, have held that the question of seals could wait until other matters were settled. To prove their arguments fallacious their experts have signed a report that the present system is harmful. This has literally destroyed the only argument of the Canadians. Therefore the refusal of Sir Wilfrid to agree to the proposition of the Americans to stop pelagic sealing for a year only emphasizes the failure of the diplomatic end of this conference.

As the Canadians will send a commission here to again open the question, the matter will be brought before Congress early in the session.

Canada's Demand.

Washington, Nov. 18.—Gen. Foster has made public the following official statement:

"The representatives of both the United States and Canada who participated in the seal conference yesterday at the residence of Mr. Foster deny that they have stated to any correspondent of the press or other person that the negotiations have been broken off or that an ultimatum has been presented and rejected. On the other hand they state that the negotiations are still in progress.

POSTMASTERS APPOINTED.

Pennsylvania—Abbottstown, Adams County, Jacob J. Wolf; Big Cove Tannery, Fulton, Peter Kirk; Cassabdra, Cambria, A. H. Boyle; Cessne, Bedford, W. J. McCallion; Clemo, Wayne, Mrs. Louisa Stahl; Confluence, Somerset, H. B. Tissue; Dillingersville, Lehigh, W. R. Kleinsmith; Fairfield, Adams, James W. Moore; Gillett, Bradford, E. M. Craig; Glen Richey, Clearfield, James S. Hoyt; Grampian, Clearfield, G. P. Doughman; Hammersley Fork, Clinton, Fred Goodman; Harford, Susquehanna, John C. Tanner; Lincoln University, Chester, Cyrus W. Rigdon; Olanta, Clearfield, William J. Owens; Porter's Sideling, York, John W. Sterner; Reeds Gap, Juniata, W. H. Barclay; Rittersville, Lehigh, Thomas J. Flores; Shrewsbury, York, G. F. Kilnefelter; Upper Black Eddy, Bucks, Charles Shaw; Westover, Clearfield, R. F. Jackson; White Ash, Allegheny, Howard E. Smith; Wysox, Bradford, F G. Smith.

Armor for the Wisconsin.

South Bethlehem, Pa., Nov. 18.—The Bethlehem Iron Company yesterday rolled the first armor plates ever produced by that process in this country. The process was entirely successful, and promises to make a revolution in armor manufacturing. The plates rolled are for the top of the turret of the battleship Wisconsin. They were thirty feet long, four feet wide and eight inches thick. Heretofore all the armor has been forged. The rolling process will effect a saving in the cost of manufacture of armor plate.

Boycotting on Woodwork.

Glasgow, Nov. 18.—The order issued by the Joiners' Union on Nov. 10, prohibiting joiners from using manufactured joinery that had been imported from the United States, was carried into practical effect yesterday.

The union withdrew the joiners from a series of new tenements upon which they were working upon the ground that the contractor was importing American timber for use in constructing the buildings.

MIRACLE IN A CHURCH.

Image of the Blessed Virgin Appears in Scranton.

Scranton, Pa., Nov. 18.—There is much excitement among the church people here over the appearance of the figure of the Madonna on the east wall of St. John's Catholic Church, on Fig street, over the thirteenth station, which represents the taking of Christ from the cross. The figure of the Virgin appears to stand out from the wall when viewed from a short distance, but when the observer comes closer the relief figure gives way to a very distinct outline on the wall.

A young woman noticed the apparition first on Sunday night at her devotions, but paid no attention to it, mistaking it for a shadow, but yesterday several hundred persons saw it while attending the 7 o'clock mass, and the attention of Rev. Father Melley, the pastor, was called to it. He made an examination, and felt inclined, at first, to discredit belief in anything of a supernatural nature, but finally was obliged to concede that it was a decidedly peculiar matter, and he is fairly impressed with the belief that the image is that of the Virgin.

Devout Catholics from all parts of the city and surrounding towns flocked to the church yesterday, and so dense did the crowd become that it was necessary to call on the police to keep them from blocking the entrance to the church. The figure represents the head and shoulders of the Virgin, with head slightly elevated, and a veil hanging from the crown and over the shoulders.

The presence of sunlight intensifies the image, and even the most incredulous are now inclined to believe that it resembles the upper portion of Murillo's great painting of the Madonna. The excitement and religious fervor have reached such extremes that many ailing persons visited the church yesterday in hopes of being relieved.

St. John's Church is a wooden structure, built ten years ago, and is in a part of the city inhabited by steel workers.

A. P. A. COLLAPSES.

Forced Out of Business by Heavy Debts.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The Supreme Headquarters of the American Protective Association in this city has been closed, and the property in the way of office furniture, etc., has been sold under the hammer, Messrs. Hartman & Cadick, a publishing house here, having foreclosed a mortgage, given to secure payment for indebtedness contracted for printed supplies.

The passing of the order as a national organization was caused chiefly by dissensions, which had their origin in the recent Presidential campaign, and which have caused a falling off of more than 50 per cent. in membership.

John W. Echols, supreme president, says that one reason for the failure of the order is that a large number of the members wanted office under McKinley, and when they were disappointed held the national officers responsible.

Another reason which Mr. Echols gives is that at least one-third of the members of the order are "trying to make a living out of it." He declares that the organization owes him $1,000 salary, and that he is ready to resign as soon as it is paid.

ESTERHAZY WAS WARNED.

Count Told that He Was to Be Made a Scapegoat.

Paris, Nov. 18.—Count Esterhazy has written to Gen. Billot an angry protest against Mathieu Dreyfus' denunciation of him, concluding with a demand for an immediate military inquiry.

Count Esterhazy says he was warned three months ago of a plot to incriminate him in the Dreyfus affair. He received an anonymous letter informing him that he had been chosen to serve as a scapegoat for Dreyfus. He afterward received another letter in the same handwriting, proposing a meeting at the Alexander Bridge Works. Count Esterhazy went to the place at midnight and met a veiled lady, who descended from a carriage. She gave him a paper, saying:

"This proves Dreyfus' guilt. I sent it to London, but I have been there to fetch it to you."

The lady added that it was intended to brand her also, and that she had been a subject of inquiry at the War Office. It is asserted that this document is of the most serious character, and that it will prove Count Esterhazy's salvation and Dreyfus' damnation.

Neighbors Could Not Bear to Look Upon Her—A Grand, Complete Cure by Hood's Sarsaparilla After Others Failed.

"I was taken with neuralgia in my head and eyes. Not long after this, a scrofula sore appeared on my left cheek, extending from my upper lip to my eye. Other sores came on my neck and on my right arm and one of my limbs. They were very troublesome and painful and soon became great running sores. My face looked so bad that some of my neighbors could not bear to look at me and advised me to wear a bandage, but I feared this would irritate the sore and make it worse. So I Could Not Hide the Sores.

My niece, who was familiar with a case similar to mine, which had been cured by Hood's Sarsaparilla, urged me to try it. Finally I was persuaded to do so, and in a short time I saw it was helping me. The sores began to heal and the neuralgia in my head was better. In a few months the sores on my arms and limbs all healed; those on my neck gradually disappeared and now they are all gone. I have never had any symptom of scrofula since. One large scar on my right arm is all the sign that remains of my terrible affliction. The neuralgia is also cured." MRS. J. M. HATCH, Etna, New Hampshire.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY

To Charles B. Barber, Mrs. Charles B. Barber Frank W. Tyler and Mrs. Frank W. Tyler.

By virtue of an order of the court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein Edward Smith is complainant and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the bill of said complainants, on or before the first day of December next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a mortgage given by Frank H. Odiorne and wife to Edward Smith, dated September 20, 1894, and you, the said Charles B. Barber and Frank W. Tyler are made defendants because you hold encumbrances on said lands or some estate therein, and you the said Mrs. Charles B. Barber and Mrs. Frank W. Tyler are made parties because you are the wives of said Charles B. Barber and Frank W. Tyler respectively, and may claim some interest in the premises by virtue thereof.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

—A Thanksgiving Eve dance, under the auspices of the colored citizens of the West End, will be given in T. A. B. Hall.

Mr. N. N. Osburn, well-known at Woodstock, Mich., was troubled with a lame back. He was persuaded to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It gave him relief in one night. This remedy is also famous for its cures of rheumatism. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—Lawyer George Ball has leased rooms in the First National Bank building and will take possession soon.

Household Gods.

The ancient Greeks believed that the Penates were the gods who attended to the welfare and prosperity of the family. They were worshipped as household gods in every home. The household god of to day is Dr. King's New Discovery. For consumption, coughs, colds and for all affections of Throat, Chest and Lungs it is invaluable. It has been tried for a quarter of a century and is guaranteed to cure, or money returned. No household should be without this good angel. It is pleasant to take and a safe and sure remedy for old and young. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's, Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.

—Street Commissioner Conover, of the borough, is preparing to macadamize Watchung avenue close to the new bridge on the borough side.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. The Remedy cured me, and I want all of my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will do them good. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, cor. of Park and North avenues.

—Presiding Elder George Washington Smith, of this city, had charge of the weekly prayer meeting at the Centreville M. E. church last week, and the services was one of special interest.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75 cents.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

How to Cure Bilious Colic.

I suffered for weeks with colic and pains in my stomach caused by biliousness and had to take medicine all the while until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured me. I have since recommended it to a good many people. Mrs. F. Butler, Fairhaven, Conn. Persons who are subject to billious colic can ward off the attack by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms appear. Sold by T. S Armstrong, apothecary, corner North and Park avenues.

GERMANS LAND IN CHINA.

Admiral Diederichs Takes Possession of Kiaochou Bay.

(Special Cable Dispatch to the Sun.)

Shanghai, Nov. 18.—Admiral Diederichs, commanding the German Asiatic Squadron, upon arriving in Kiaochou Bay, on the Shantung coast, whither he had been ordered for the purpose of obtaining satisfaction for the recent murder of two German missionaries, found three forts occupied by Chinese troops. He arranged his ships opposite the forts and trained his guns upon them. Then he sent an ultimatum to the Chinese commander calling upon him to evacuate the forts in three hours, after which he landed 600 men, with six guns, who marched toward the forts.

The Chinese watched the sailors and marines for a few moments until they became convinced that the "foreign devils" were advancing in earnest, and then the three garrisons bolted across the hills behind the forts. The Germans quickly occupied the positions and hoisted their flag, which was saluted by the war ships. The Chinese General and his family alone did not flee, and it is said that they received German protection.

Official Chinese here consider that Germany, by landing an armed force and capturing the forts, has committed an act of war, but they do not believe that the Pekin Government will treat it as such.

British and American warships have been ordered to proceed to Kiaochou Bay to watch developments there. It is said that the region is immensely rich in minerals. The harbor is one of the best on the whole coast. It is believed that the Germans intend to stay there.

SLAIN BY SAVAGES.

Party of Americans May Have Fallen Victims of Strange Tribe.

Washington, Nov. 18.—United States Consul Hugh Long, in Nogales, Mexico, has furnished to the State Department particulars of the supposed murder of a party of Americans, headed by Capt. Porter, by the Seris Indians on Tiburon Island, in the Gulf of California.

According to the statement made to the Mexican customs officials by Martin Mendez, master of the sloop Otila, Capt. Porter sailed from San Diego, Cal., with his companions in a small boat to collect shells. They left Guaymas on Aug. 2, under permission from the Mexican Government to explore the islands of the gulf.

The Consul says Tiburon is peopled by a tribe of Indians noted for their large size and extraordinary athletics. Those who have witnessed their aquatic sports declare that many of them can walk, or rather run, upon the water, with no other assistance than broad rawhide shoes. They destroy all children that are malformed or appear to be lacking in intelligence. In this way the standard of physical and mental conditions in both sexes is kept very high.

The nucleus of this race was formed from captives made at various times. The natives guard their shores day and night, and no one is allowed to penetrate the island. No man or woman is allowed to live more than seventy years, no matter how well preserved in body and mind. Many of the women have a transparent, peachy complexion and deep auburn hair.

WAR ON THE MARINE BAND.

Labor Unions Protest Against Competition with Union Musicians.

Washington, Nov. 18.—A merry war is on between the Musical Union of Washington and the United States Marine Band, because the members of the band are permitted to play in theatres, entertainments and in street parades. The Navy Department has been drawn into the controversy, and is being deluged with petitions from labor organizations over the country protesting against the competition of Government bands with union musicians. Secretary Long is considering the matter, and it is said that President McKinley has given some attention to it.

The bandsmen enlist in the Marine Corps, and are rated as musicians. They get about thirty-five dollars a month. The leader, also an enlisted man, gets $720. According to the members of the band, they would be unable to support themselves and their families if they were not permitted to add to their incomes by playing at private functions. They also say that the band could not secure men if the restrictions asked by the musical unions are granted. Politics will probably play a part in the settlement of the dispute, as the unions are bringing the influence of labor organizations to bear on Senators and Representatives.

Betting on Sharkey-Goddard Fight.

San Francisco, Nov. 18.—Betting on the Sharkey-Goddard fight to-morrow night is 10 to 7 against Goddard. Both men are said to be in fine condition. Sports here who are backing Sharkey count on his youth and his great punishing powers. They claim also that Sharkey has greatly increased in skill as a boxer since he met Corbett and Fitzsimmons. Although Goddard is a hard man, and has seldom known defeat, they declare that Sharkey is twice as quick as the Australian and a clever boxer. Sharkey himself knows that he must put up a square fight, or he will never have another chance in the ring.

Sultan Announces That He Will Give Satisfaction to Austria.

THREATS FROM VIENNA

Mersina Was to Be Bombarded and the Austrian Ambassador Was to Leave Constantinople—The Story of the Trouble.

London, Nov. 18.—A dispatch from Vienna says that a telegram has been received there from Baron de Calice, the Austrian Ambassador at Constantinople, saying the Sultan has declared his willingness to give Austria full satisfaction for the Mersina incident and in regard to the disputes in connection with the Oriental Railroad.

A dispatch from Constantinople confirms the report that Turkey has agreed to the demands of Austria. The Val of Adana and the Mutessarif of Mesina have been deposed. Herr Brazzafolli will be indemnified. The Sultan will pay the claims of the Oriental Railroad.

The Threats of Austria.

Vienna, Austria, Nov. 18.—If the Turkish Government does not yield to the demands of Austria for redress for the indignities offered to an Austrian merchant of Morsina, Herr Brazzafolli, by noon to-day, the Austrian Ambassador at Constantinople, Baron de Calico, will leave the Turkish capital, and an Austrian war ship will bombard Morsina, Asia Minor.

Austria demands that Turkey salute the Austrian flag; that the Vali of Adana, in whose district Mersina is situated, be dismissed from his post, and that the Mutossarif, or local Governor, of Mersina be removed. It was announced on Tuesday that the Porte had agreed to the Austrian demands, but this turned out to be premature, and the Sultan, strengthened by the result of the war with Greece, will not, it is believed, yield until the last moment.

Brazzafolli, who was the agent at Mersina of the Austria Lloyd Steamship Company, was expelled from Mersina last month because he was suspected of having intrigued against the Turkish Government. He appealed to the Austrian Government. The latter made representations on the subject to the Porte, and, eventually, Brazzafolli was allowed to return to Mersina. But when he attempted to land the local officials, with the knowledge of the Vali of Adana and the Mutessarif of Mersina, it is claimed, allowed Brazzafolli to be so grossly maltreated that he was compelled to appeal to the Austrian Consul for protection. The latter interfered and was himself repeatedly insulted.

In reply to the note of the Austrian Government, demanding an explanation of the outrages, it developed that Brazzafolli had incurred the suspicions of the Turkish authorities by befriending fugitive Armenians and by giving the most deserving cheap passages from Mersina on the vessels of the Austrian Lloyd Steamship Company.

Austria will also insist on the Porte furnishing definite assurances respecting other matters, notably the complaints made by the officials of the Austrian company operating the Oriental railroads.

It is announced here that in addition to dispatching the cruiser Franz Josef, the coast defense ship Wien and other vessels to Mersina Austria will stop all traffic on the Oriental railroads and "have recourse to other important political reprisals."

The Austrian dispatch boat at Constantinople, with the representatives of the Austrian Embassy on board, will accompany the Austrian squadron to Mersina.

McKinley in Bronze.

Washington, Nov. 18.—The President has consented to sit before a sculptor in order that his features may be immortalized in bronze. The sculptor began modeling his clay for the bust of the Chief Executive yesterday. It is believed that the plaster cast will be completed within a couple of weeks.

Mr. McKinley has agreed to sit daily between the hours of 9 and 10 a. m. The first cast will be placed in one of the State Departments of the White House. Subsequent casts will be made, one going to Gen. Alger, Secretary of War; another to the city fathers of Canton, Ohio, and a third will be placed in the State House at Columbus, Ohio.

New Kind of Skin Grafting.

Paris, Ill., Nov. 18.—An entirely new experiment in skin grafting is being tried in this city. John Acklin, aged 25, was run down by a cable car in Chicago several weeks ago, and the skin was nearly all torn from the back of his right hand.

Being unable to secure human skin for the grafting operation, Acklin's surgeon took several pieces from the back of a live 'possum and applied them to the wound. This process will be continued until the wound is covered, provided the experimental graft is successful.

British Arbitration Schemes.

San Diego, Cal., Nov. 18.—The officers of the British gunboat Wild Swan, which has arrived here, give news of a great increase in the English naval force on the Pacific coast. They say that the squadron of this station will soon be the largest ever gathered on the coast, and will include several big armored cruisers and a number of 30-knot torpedo-boat destroyers. The Britons, when questioned as to the cause for this increase in the British force, became uncommunicative and absolutely refused to discuss the mat-

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Fair Tonight and Friday; Slightly Warmer Friday.

At 2 o'Clock the Thermometer at Leggett's Pharmacy Registered 45 Degrees.

From all indications the public meeting in Washington Hall arranged to further the Citizens' movement will be made up of men who are in the fight not only to talk but to work for victory over the Republicans. It is surprising when one hears some of the names associated with the movement to sweep the Republicans out of office—so far as the places to be filled this year are concerned. The leaders concerned in this new political combination are doubtless keenly conscious of the power of organization and the fact that the regular Republicans have a "machine" that is well-geared and oiled at all stages of a contest. The outcome of the meeting tonight will be of much moment to Plainfield.

Among the present councilmen who will probably receive a renomination at the hands of Republicans is William A. Westphal, of the Fourth Ward. Some of the prime movers in the Citizen's movement it is said, are in favor of giving Mr. Westphal their endorsement, instead of nominating a rival candidate in his ward.

L. B. Broomfield, of the Second ward, is being prominently mentioned as a Republican candidate for Councilman at-Large. By party leaders he is considered as a particularly eligible man for the honor.

THEATRICAL.

Cole and Johnson, the clever colored comedians, with their big company of thirty artists will present the roaring, rollicking comedy, "A Trip to Coontown," at Music Hall tonight. This comedy has been received on the road with great cordiality, and has left a trail of laughter behind it. The cast comprises the best known artists in the colored profession, among whom may be mentioned Lloyd Gibbs, Tom Brown, Bob Kelly, Jesse Shipp, Walter Dixon, Lord Barney, Camille Casselle, Vincent Bradley and a superb chorus of 20 well trained voices. Many original features are introduced and from curtain to curtain the audience is kept in a constant roar at the ludicrous incidents that occur repeatedly. At 11:45 the entire company will make a street parade headed by the celebrated coontown band.

When you see the name "Pudd'nhead Wilson" in the newspapers and on the dead walls you may say: "Hello! what's that? Judging from the name it must be another one of those plays built with a broad axe and a garden hoe." But if you see "Pudd'nhead" you will know how little is in a name. You will find it is written with a pen of gold, dipped in fountains of mirth, and thrills and tears. That it sweeps with a master touch the chords that lead to all human emotions and produces a harmony that makes all the world kin. No play of the time has been so universally praised as the one Frank Mayo has made of Mark Twain's Missouri story, "Pudd'nhead Wilson," and in which has been created a character, "Dave Wilson," that will without doubt outlive any American character the stage has known. The play with the cast and production that gave it such great success in New York at the Herald Square Theatre for two long runs, will be at Music Hall Saturday night.

"The Geisha," at Daly's Theatre, in New York, if not the most rollicking in its fun, is the daintiest and most melodious of all the musical farces or burlettas lately produced there. Its music is full of charm and is not quite as devoid of originality as that of many recent operattas. Indeed, the music of "The Geisha" all through is good enough for operetta, and above the usual level of musical farce. The story, though spread out rather thinly over the two long acts, is comprehensible and serves its purpose. The prose dialogue is always smart, and sometimes really witty.

William B. Ayers, of the West End, has recovered from a severe illness.

Former Councilman F. E. Marsh, of Madison avenue, is in Trenton today on business.

Miss Hawkins, of LaGrande avenue, will entertain her Sunday-school class at her home next Monday evening.

CHURCH AND THE 'FEST.

CAN THE DANCES BE COUNTENANCED—THAT'S THE QUESTION.

Rev. Mr. Goodrich Took up the Delicate Query and Said What May be Considered as Criticism of the Big Hospital Benefit

The midweek service held at the Congregational church last night was something quite out of the common, and of unusual interest. "Questions asked by Plainfield business men and answered by the pastor," had been announced as the topic, and after Scripture reading by the pastor, prayer by E. L. Suffern, and a very pleasing vocal solo, "One Sweetly Solemn Thought," by L. H. Bigelow, Mr. Goodrich brought forward a number of questions, which had been handed to him not by members of his own church, but by other business men of the city.

The first question read was: "Do you think the duty of honesty and integrity is sufficiently emphasized from the pulpit?" Mr. Goodrich replied that perhaps it was not; though preachers usually considered that to impress the spirit of Christ, the embodiment of all the virtues, was the best way to teach virtue. Honesty and integrity are traits which especially appeal to business men, who would be glad to see them in all with whom they have to deal, and it is well to lay strong emphasis upon them.

The second question took up quite another line of thought: "Are the movements toward church unity, of which we hear so much, supposed to include the Romish Church, and would such an effort be a wise one?" Mr. Goodrich's answer was that movements toward church unity were generally supposed to cover only the Protestant churches, and worked especially toward uniting denominations which are very much alike. A union of all Christians, however, is a grand thought, and an inspiring one. The speaker added that he had no antagonism toward the Church of Rome, and urged his hearers to remember the great service she rendered the world during the middle ages, and to see the good which exists in the church today.

Question number three asked: "Why do business men reject sure Bible promises of success?" Mr. Goodrich quoted several such promises, among them "Seek ye first the Kingdom of God and His righteousness, and all these things shall be added unto you;" and "Give, and it shall be given unto you," and he then said perhaps it was because the men did not wish to fulfill the conditions, or felt that they were not fulfilling them. He knew of some, however, who had taken God at his word in this matter, and had proved him true.

Mr. Bigelow then sang, "When the mists have rolled away," after which Mr. Goodrich read another question, which was a rather startling one: "Is it wise for the churches to countenance a ballet, given under the guise of charity?" Mr. Goodrich said it sounded like a very simple question, and would probably be answered with a decided negative in any other town, or in this town at any time except the week after the Spielkarten fest. He went on to say that he had never seen a ballet, so he could not speak from experience, but that it was never wise or right to do under the guise of charity what it would not be wise or right to do under other circumstances. He spoke of the great interest in the hospital in terms of the strongest commendation, and gave all possible honor to the many who had freely given time, money and work to the great festival for its benefit, but he wished it had been done in a way that could be questioned by no one. If the same amount of money had been given outright into the treasury of the hospital, and the time expended in soliciting more funds, the amounts realized would have been greater, and the city would not be tired out, and feeling that they don't want to do anything more for the hospital.

When the little boys are overheard saying that the girls in the dances are doing an immodest thing, and when we know of instances in which young girls have had some of their native freshness and sweetness rubbed off by these festivals, can we feel that we would like to go to the hospital and be treated with money that was earned in such a way? It is a question, whether all the good the hospital can do would outweigh one such loss to sweet young girlhood. It is not wise for the church to countenance anything that works against the ends for which it exists. It exists for special ends, and anything which tends to lower the moral tone works against those ends. Let it be remembered, too, that the churches, as churches, did not countenance the Spielkartenfest; it was carried on by some of the good people in the churches, but not by the churches themselves.

The next question asked: "Will work displace religious doubts," to which Mr. Goodrich replied that to a large degree he thought it did, and he knew of instances where it had. The safest place for a man troubled with doubts, was to be hard at work for Jesus Christ.

The last question had somewhat of a Salvation Army tone: "How can we keep well saved?" Mr. Goodrich said that the way to keep well saved was the same as the way to be saved at first—believe on the Lord Jesus Christ, and abide in Him from day to day, not letting other things take precedence of the spiritual life in the soul.

The meeting closed with singing and the benediction.

It now seems to be the general opinion that the Brunswick Traction Company will have no trouble in securing consents of property-owners to run the trolley in front of their land in the borough. Representatives of the company will at once go to work securing the necessary consents. The Council and people being favorable, there does not seem to be any obstacle in the way. The tracks will probably be laid so as to connect with the Plainfield trolley and passengers can be transferred at that point. They will not be allowed to run over the tracks of the Plainfield Company unless they pay for the right of way, or buy out the road. It is quite likely that ere long the railroads will be run under one management, and people will be able to ride from Plainfield to New Brunswick, Bound Brook and Somerville. This is being anxiously awaited by the people in the above towns,

Rev. J. S. Braker, pastor of the Scotch Plains Baptist church, is a believer in the value of the weekly prayer meeting as a stimulant to spiritual growth, and when the attendance upon the prayer meeting in his church began to fall off, some time ago, the fact caused him much anxiety. The carelessness was particularly marked on the part of the men, whose indifference was shown at the prayer meeting last Friday night, when there were eighteen women present and only one man. This was too much for the pastor, and he decided then and there that come what might he would deliver a lecture to the members of his flock upon the need of more activity and zeal. Accordingly Sunday morning when he had finished preaching Mr. Braker requested that all the members who were interested in the welfare of the church should remain after the service. A number stayed, and received from the pastor a plain talk upon the situation and the duties of the members. The people are now waiting with interest to see what effect the pastor's words will have.

Johnson came to Westfield in company with his father Sunday and while here he met Tobin on the street, and the latter it is charged, struck him several blows in the face.

The three-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros. of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

The BALDNESS PROBLEM.

People who find themselves growing up through their hair ought to be prompt in the use of a remedy. It is far easier to prevent baldness than to cure it. But not all people who are bald are hopelessly so. It all depends on the amount of vitality remaining in the hair bulbs. There is one sure way of finding out whether a new growth can be started. Try

AIMS FOR PURE MILK.

COMMISSIONER M'GUIRE WOULD PROTECT CITY CONSUMERS.

He Proposes to Have a Law Enacted That Will Make it Imperative That All Dairies Be Regularly Inspected by the State.

It will be remembered by many that last August the city and borough Boards of Health sought to keep the sale of milk under their official eye by imposing a license and restrictions that would prevent the distribution of the impure fluid. At the time the matter was taken up the local officials had the co-operation of State Dairy Commissioner McGuire, and it is now announced that the latter proposes to drive impure milk out of the dairies of the State, if possible, and has begun a systematic inspection of every cow that gives milk for the market. Complaints have been pouring into the Commissioner's office from different parts of the State against the quality of milk served consumers, and McGuire has concluded that decisive action must be taken.

He has drafted a bill which he will make an effort to have enacted into law by the Legislature next winter. It is similar to a measure introduced by Assemblyman Thorn at the last session and which was defeated.

The bill will provide that the local Board of Health of every city, county, township, borough, town and other municipality shall cause a registry to be made of all cattle which are kept within the respective jurisdictions of the local or county Boards of Health, and that a description of the place where the cattle are kept shall be given. The owners of the cattle will be required in May each year to file with the local Board of Health a statement of the number of milch cows owned by them and the physical condition and sanitary surroundings of the cattle.

No person or corporation shall have for sale or sell any milk which is produced by milch cows which have not been registered. Any person or persons who shall keep cattle in an unhealthy or crowded condition, or feed them upon swill or garbage, or other impure food, shall be deemed guilty of a misdeamanor and punished by a fine of not less than $50 nor more than $200, at the discretion of the court, and if the fine be not immediately paid, shall be imprisoned in the county jail for not less than thirty days, or until the fine be paid.

The dairymen of the State opposed the passage of last year's bill and managed to defeat it.

The importance of such legal restrictions upon the dairy business of New Jersey, to the people of Jersey City and New York will be understood when it is known that there are 200,329 milch cows in the State, the product of which is largely sold in those two cities.

THE TWO MORTONS.

Dolly is the most maddening, tantalizing, perverse and charming—I might as well admit it, you'd soon have found it out—young woman of my acquaintance. I've been in love with her for five years, and it's a wonder my hair isn't white; sometimes I think it is turning gray, but when I spoke to Dolly about it, she said, not to bother, I was old enough to be gray any way. Ah! that's where Dolly hurts, and she knows it, for I am fifteen years old than she is, and when that wilful young woman wishes to be particularly cruel she treats me with respect.

One night I was desperate. I had sent her violets as usual—as he is particularly fond of them, and most of my money goes that way. Sometimes she wears them, and often carries them, but this night they were nowhere to be seen, and in her hand was one large red rose. I went to her; appearing to be sorry to see me was the particular form of torture which commended itself to her on this especial night.

"You here!" she said, lifting her eyebrows, in astonishment, and without a smile; all put on, of course, because I am always where she is.

"Oh, no, I'm not here, I'm somewhere else," I said, wittily.

She laughed immoderately.

"You're—so—funny," she remarked choking.

"Yes," said I, severely, "I suppose I am funny, very funny—but where are my violets?"

"Why, had you—any—violets?" said she. "I didn't know—how should I know?"

She said it seriously, but there was a look in her eyes that I was used to; I'd have liked to shake her.

"Dolly, you know exactly what I mean; where are my violets?"

"If you mean the violets you sent me," she replied, with dignity, "I understood that after they left you they belonged to me; do you want them back?" This freezingly.

"Oh, Dolly," I said, reduced once more to my usual condition of asininity. "I didn't mean it, dear, I don't want the d——I beg your pardon, of course I don't want them; I only wanted you to wear them or carry them, you know, darling."

But she saw that she had the best of me, so carried things with a high hand. "The rose was sent me by a friend," she hesitated, "and I suppose I have a right to wear what I please; but sit down, don't stand so long, you'll be tired!"

This was an illusion to my age, and it maddened me.

"You are exceedingly rude!" I said, turning away and leaving her.

It was the most severe speech I had ever made to Dolly, and I suffered at the thought of it. For four days I didn't go near her or send her violets once. It was an awful four days.

Finally I wrote to her, fully conscious that it was a very silly letter wherein I told her I was merely angry at myself for not knowing she cared for red roses, and I sent three dozen. The letter I received was one characteristic of Dolly.

A few days after I had been such a cad to Dolly I called upon her, and heaven favoring me, I found her alone.

"Dolly, dearest," I began, "I am so sorry——"

"Don't," she said, "that incident is closed. There are so many nicer things to talk about; Jane Hunt, for instance."

I shivered; I was about to be punished.

"Is she nicer?" said I.

"What do you really think of her?" said Dolly, with rather an anxious look, I thought; of course I was mistaken.

"Oh, she's a very good girl, very good!" with a desperate desire to make Dolly jealous if I could, which I could not.

"Is she?" Dolly tossed her head. "Well, Mr. Morton, do you want to know what I think she looks like?" The "Mr. Morton" was ominous; I shivered again.

"I think she looks like a cook!" she declared triumphantly, while I, inwardly agreeing, protested,—

"Splendid wife she's made!" said I, not meaning to rouse Dolly.

But suddenly she turned and said the most terrible thing to me that she'd ever said since I'd known her.

"Then you'd better marry her!" This from Dolly.

"Oh——" I began, but she was gone, and there was nothing for me to do but to pick up my hat and go, which I did, calling myself a beast and a brute as I went.

That night leaving the theatre we happened to meet a moment. She was radiant and scornful.

"Dolly," I said, resolving not to notice the contretemps of the afternoon, "who are you going to dance the cotillion with at the Terrys' to-morrow night?"

"With Mr. Morton," she answered sweetly.

"What a dear you are—I was afraid you'd promised somebody else."

And then she laughed.

"With the pleasant, agreeable Mr. Morton," she continued, "who never says the wrong thing."

And then I knew she meant the other one! I'm afraid I said a bad word, her mocking laugh followed me in the darkness, and echoed in my dreams that night. I wished I'd never seen her—and took it back immediately.

I debated a long time within myself whether or not I should go to the Terry's; but as usual ended by going. I could dance stag and take Dolly out, and—lovely idea—perhaps she would take me out! Then as I thought of the way I had left her the night before, this beautiful hope faded. What would she want with a brute like me?

I never saw her look better than that night of the Terry's dance; she was in white, which best became her, and she seemed to me like an angel. And that beastly Morton looked pretty well too. I had to admit to myself that he was rather a well appearing chap.

Mrs. Floyd Hopkins, who aspires to be something of a belle herself, stood for a moment and followed the direction of my glance.

"Miss Dalrymple is looking particularly well this evening,' said she,a very gracious speech, indeed, for her.

"Very!" I replied, having sense enough left not to discuss Dolly with a woman.

"But what an awful flirt," she went on; this left me gasping.

"And engaged, I understand, to Mr. Morton all the time."

"Who said it?" I asked hoarsely. Dolly engaged—and to that—cad—with my name.

"Oh, everybody says so," and then she looked at me with such an unpleasant smile. "That's your name too, isn't it?"

"Yes, I believe it is," I said brilliantly, moving away from her.

Dolly engaged! I couldn't grasp the full significance of it; the thought left me dazed and bewildered. This very night would decide it. I would go to her and ask her if there was any truth in it. Just then she came toward me as if she was going to take me out, but something in my face must have stopped her.

"What is the matter?" she said, turning a little white.

"Dolly,' I said, sternly, "will you give me the first two dances after supper?"

"Of course—if you want them; but won't you dance now?"

I never saw Dolly so meek before.

"No," I answered almost roughly, "not now." She left me with a strange look in her sweet face.

It seemed centuries until supper; I tried to think of what I should say to her, but my mind was in such a chaotic state that I decided to depend on the inspiration of the moment.

At last supper was over and I found her, tucked her arm in mine, and marching off to a quiet nook, put her in the only seat, and stood accusingly before her.

"Dolly," I began, "look at me!"

This she did, a little timidly, I thought, and I almost forgot what I was going to say in the joy of looking at her.

"Dolly darling," I went on, "I have loved you so long, so well, and hoped that in the course of years you might come to care——" she dropped her head; just then I remembered that horrible gossip, "but to-night, Dolly, I heard something that turned my heart to stone."

"What was it?" she asked.

"That you were engaged to——"

"Who?" breathlessly.

"Morton," I grasped, "that wretched caddish——"

"Stop!" she said, with dignity.

"Tell me, you shall." I grasped her wrists, "is it so?"

If it had been any woman in the world but Dolly I should have said she was embarrassed. She actually blushed.

"No," she said, slowly, "it is not so, but ——" her hands went up and covered her face. My heavens! suppose she should cry.

"But what?" I insisted cruelly; you're not engaged to him, but you're in love with him?"

She took her hands away and her face was very red; if it had not been such a serious moment I should have said she had been laughing.

"Mr. Morton has—never—asked me to be his—wife—if he does—I shall ——"

I was beside myself.

"And if he does?' 'I hissed.

"I shall say yes," very softly.

A terrible silence ensued; the earth was sinking beneath my feet.

"You love Mr. Morton?" I said, sharply.

And then the very queerest thing in the world happened; Dolly's face whitened a little, as she rose and put out her hand.

"Yes, you old goose," she said, "I love this Mr. Morton!"

It didn't take me long to gather Dolly into my arms. The next five minutes are not to apepar in this narrative.

"Dolly," said I blissfully "did you ever know such a stupid old fool as I am?"

"Never in all my life," said the sweetest of girls, her voice coming from the vicinity of my coat collar.

"And do you suppose that woman meant me when she told me that gossip, my darling?"

"Of course she—did," said the voice, "And I'm glad she said it—I don't believe you'd ever have asked me, otherwise!"

My answer would not look well on paper.

"Do you know, Dick, that you never have asked me before?"

And when I came to think of it, I never had.—The Peterson Magazine.

Railroads Want More Time.

Washington, Nov. 18.—Petitions of railroads asking for an extension of the period within which they must equip their cars engaged in interstate traffic with safety couplers and automatic brakes will be heard Jan. 1, 1898. Only two of the prominent railroad systems of the country—the New York Central and Chicago, Burlington & Quincy—have fully complied with the law, and the commission estimate that less than 5 per cent. of the railroads are entirely equipped, although a great majority of them have been continually at work making the changes on their cars. The request for an extension is made by a third of the roads, and although it is opposed by local branches of the various order of railroad employes, it is believed that the commission will grant the request.

Senator Hanna in New York.

New York, Nov. 18.—Senator Hanna, of Ohio, chairman of the Republican National Committee, arrived at the Waldorf Hotel yesterday. He is here solely on business matters, and has nothing whatever to say concerning the political situation in Ohio. Before returning to his home Mr. Hanna may make a flying trip to Washington. As to the business situation in Ohio the Senator said:

"Prosperity has come, and factories are running on full time. The farmers are getting better prices for their products, and every one seems to be more or less happy. The mining troubles have been adjusted happily, and, on the whole, good times have arrived."

Speaker Reed's Intentions.

Washington, Nov. 18.—No importance is attached to the story printed in New York that Speaker Reed would retire from Congress, remove to New York and become a candidate for the Presidential nomination in 1900.

The Speaker denied the story last Summer, and there have been no new developments since.

Chronic Kickers.

Some in Every Household in Plainfield—But They're Growing Less.

Chronic kickers the kidneys are—when they're sick.

What makes the kidneys sick? A simple thing.

They have too much to do.

Must keep up their work, they never rest.

Can't blame them for kicking.

Ever have your kidneys kick?

Ever have a bad back, a lame, weak, or aching one?

Know it's the same thing?

The back aches because the kidneys are blocked.

Help the kidneys with their work.

The back will ache no more.

Lots of proof that Doan's Kidney Pills do this.

It's the best proof for it comes from Plainfield citizens; read this case in point:

Mrs. W. W. Mills, of No. 86 Summit Ave. says: "Ever since the birth of my last child I have suffered at times with a severe pain across the small of my back and in my hips. If I did any lifting or stooping my back became lame and sore and though I used plasters they only helped me for the time being. I was feeling very bad last Spring when I had my attention called to Doan's Kidney Pills. They were so highly recommended for troubles like mine that I got a box at L. W. Randolph's drug store. I felt their good effects in a few days, and when I had finished the one box my back was better and stronger and I had much more energy to attend household duties. Doan's Kidney Pills have my endorsement and I am always pleased to recommend them."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name Doan's and take no other.

MORE THAN 40 PERISH

Disastrous Landslide in the Province of Quebec.

WHOLE FAMILIES BURIED

The Scene of the Disaster is Forty-Five Miles Southwest of Quebec City, Where Similar Landslides Recently Occurred.

Quebec, Nov. 18.—Meagre reports have reached here from St. Edouard, in Lotbiniere County, some fifty miles southwest of here, that a landslide has occurred. At least forty persons are said to have lost their lives. The slide occurred on the banks of the Duchesne River, whose formation is like that of the Ste. Anne, on the north shore of the St. Lawrence, where similar landslides have occurred.

It is difficult to obtain particulars of the disaster. The only man who had come from the scene of the disaster is in such a state of excitement that scarcely anything intelligible could be got out of him.

As far as could be learned the following families were buried in the landslide. Homisdas Labadie, father mother, wife and one child; Alphonse Esdras Leclaire, father, mother, wife and one child; Castonguay mother, wife and one child; Castonguay family, composed of eight or nine persons; family of Peter Wright, consisting of three persons, and family of Lozet.

These are all whose names are definitely known, but it is known that very many others perished. The landslide covered an area of some twenty acres. The victims lived in comparative isolation, there being no other inhbaitants for some distance around. The few who did not perish are working to recover the bodies of those who did.

St. Edouard is a small village in the centre of Lotbiniere County, with a population of about five hundred souls. It is surrounded by a very thickly wooded country, in which extensive lumbering operations are carried on. Secretary of War Alger and ex-Senator Warner Miller are interested in large timber limits on the St. Maurice River, not far distant.

The Duchesne River, or, to give it its more imposing local title, La Grande Du Chene, is a small stream which rises in Lotbiniere County and empties into the St. Lawrence. Like all streams in this vicinity it is very low during the Summertime, but in the Spring and Fall it becomes a swollen torrent. During the past fortnight heavy rainstorms, followed by snow., have fallen in this section of the province of Quebec, and more than one of the villages on the river banks, composed as they are of groups of one-story log or frame huts built right up to the water's edge, have been threatened.

Lotbiniere, the village of any size nearest to St. Edouard, is the home of Sir Henry Polli de Lotbiniere, Controller of Inland Revenue in the cabinet of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who is the Seigneur of the district, and has always manifested the greatest interest in the welfare of the inhabitants of the country.

The only other place of any size near by is Deschambault, a town on the other side of the St. Lawrence River.

This is the second awful fatality which has occurred in this vicinity, the other disaster having taken place two years ago at Craig's road station, a few miles distant, where an excursion train of pilgrims to the shrine of St. Anne de Beaupre, was telescoped by a Grand Trunk express, and many lives were lost.

HARVARD VS. PENNSYLVANIA.

Preparations for the Big Game at Philadelphia on Saturday.

Philadelphia, Nov. 18.—As the day for the big game with Harvard draws near there are greater evidences at hand that this meeting will be attended by the largest football crowd that has ever turned out in the city by Philadelphia to witness a game. Whether this is the effect of the tie game which Harvard played with Yale, giving a chance to the Pennsylvanians, as it were, of indirectly matching their team against the Blue, or merely the natural growth of football in the popular idea is a question.

It is likely that it is the latter to a great degree, for never in the history of the game has such consistent growth marked the attendance of one year over the other. The football crowds in Philadelphia this year have exceeded those of last year by an average of easily fifteen hundred to a game. Whatever the cause, the attendance of enthusiasts on Franklin Field next Saturday will be larger than it has ever been.

The advance sale of seats has shown a wonderful demand, and aside from a very small number, there is not a seat to be had. Twenty-four thousand is the approximate seating capacity of the field, and if the plans now being considered to increase that capacity by the arrangement of some standing accommodations are carried out, this number will be increased to 28,000.

The field in West Philadelphia has been completely surrounded by tiers of seats as perfectly arranged as the latest ideas of modern football accommodations dictate, and unless signs fail it will also be surrounded by an eager throng, which will witness one of the best and most interesting games ever played by the two great universities.

Florida Abolishes Its Quarantines.

New Orleans, Nov. 18.—Florida yesterday abolished all quarantines. The only State which still keeps up a quarantine is Mississippi. The Southern Pacific has not yet been able to resume its passenger business beyond Lafayette on account of the obstinacy of Lake Charles, La., which still holds out for quarantine. Another frightened town is Jackson, Miss., which still refuses to allow passenger trains to stop within the city limits.

Grover Cleveland's Thanks.

Princeton, N. J., Nov. 18.—Ex-President Cleveland says: "The number and heartiness of the congratulations we have received on the birth of our son are so gratefully appreciated that I wish to have conveyed through the Associated Press my thanks to all the kind people who have thus given proof of their friendliness."

Coughs and colds nee not be endured; they can be cured, and that quickly.

Many mixtures are temporary in effect, but Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites is a permanent remedy.

The oil feeds the blood and warms the body; the hypophosphites tone up the nerves; the glycerine soothes the inflamed throat and lungs.

The combination cures. This may prevent serious lung troubles.

THE ALABAMA A TERROR.

Samuel H. Cramp Says the New Battle Ship Will Prove One.

New York, Nov. 18.—Samuel H. Cramp, the Philadelphia ship builder, is at the Waldorf. To a reporter he said:

"Boat building is at present rather quiet. We are finishing contracts that were awarded some time ago for a cruiser for the Japanese navy, and for the big battle ship Alabama, for the United States fleet. The Alabama will be in many respects the greatest war ship we have constructed. She will be a terror when in action. She represents quite a number of improvements in naval architecture. Her engines are superbly modeled, and we expect they will develop tremendous power." Mr. Cramp said that he did not think there was much room for improvement in the construction of ship machinery.

"Do you think there is imperative need of more vessels for the navy to maintain the confidence of the public during the frequent war scares?" asked the reporter.

"No. I think it would be wiser, and less expensive, to wait until war is declared, and then seize the enemy's ships. We could do it, too. The vessels of our navy have sufficient speed and power to make this possible in case it was necessary. While there certainly is a need of a greater number of ships to constantly represent the maritime interests of this country, yet I see no reason why so much fear should be prevalent whenever there is the slightest hint of war trouble. The United States Navy is greatly underestimated."

MRS. NACK IDENTIFIES THE SAW.

Says It Was Used in the Dismemberment of Guldensuppe's Body.

New York, Nov. 18.—Mrs. Augusta Nack was taken from her cell in the Queens County Jail to the District Attorney's office yesterday afternoon. After remaining in the District Attorney's office a short time in private consultation with her counsel, Emanuel Friend, she was escorted into the Grand Jury room. Surrogate A. N. Weller, who is helping the prosecution, was present at this juncture.

The saw which was used in the cutting up of the body of William Guldensuppe, the Turkish bath rubber, after he had been murdered in the Woodside Cottage, was unfolded from a newspaper and shown Mrs. Nack. The woman, who admits that she lured Guldensuppe to the cottage to meet his death, positively identified it as the saw used by Thorn in dismembering Guldensuppe's body.

The saw, as told in these dispatches, was found in the meadows between College Point and Flushing. It was found within one hundred feet from where Mrs. Nack said that Thorn had buried it after the murder. The saw used by the murderers of the bath rubber is about eighteen inches in length and has fine teeth. It is of fine make, and after being used in the butchery was apparently well cleaned, as it is said that the District Attorney has not been able to discover the slightest trace of blood or human flesh on the blade.

JERSEY GAMBLERS LOSE.

Unable to Secure a Recount of Vote on Anti-Gambling Amendment.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 18.—Justices Van Syckel, Dixon and Collins, of the Supreme Court, yesterday denied the application for a recount of the votes on the anti-gambling amendment to the State Constitution. The opinion was written by Justice Van Syckel, and represents the unanimous sentiment of the court.

In the opinion no view is expressed as to the power of the court to order a recount. It is held, however, that the matter of having a recount is not a matter of private or individual concern, but is one of public policy and concerns only the government. This leads to the conclusion that the applicants have no standing in court.

The opinion goes on to say that, the matter being one of public policy, the Legislature had a right to say how the vote should be canvassed, and a proclamation of the result made by the Governor, and the canvass having been issued in accordance with the result of the canvass, the matter is now closed.

NEW YORK'S HORSE SHOW.

Continues to Draw Large Crowds Prize Winners Last Night.

New York, Nov. 18.—There wasn't the suspicion of a cloud to mar the perfect success of the third day of the National Horse Show Association's exhibition, and as a consequence, both yesterday afternoon and last evening, was the largest of the week. The prize winners last night were as follows: Harness horses—Lieut. Wilkes, Lord Brilliant, George B. Hulme; second prize, Gold Pointer, Mate, George S. Gagnon; third prize, Don Wilkes, His Excellency, Louis W. Wormser. High School horses—First prize, Prince, E. A. Hoffman; second prize, Cardinal (gentleman rider), C. L. Bailey; third prize, Prince, C. Tilenius. Special prizes—Coxey, Brown Donna, C. F. Bates; no second or third prizes. Class Corinthian—First prize, imp. Kathleen; second prize, Kensington, Warren M. Healy; third prize, Huntress, E. S. Reynal.

CLEVER AND AMUSING.

VARIED ENTERTAINMENT GIVEN BY ST. JOSEPH'S YOUNG PEOPLE.

The Affair Given in Saengerbund Hall—Hornpipe Dance Scored Another Hit—Names of the Charming Entertainers.

The entertainment given by the Children of Mary, of St. Joseph's church, in Saengerbund Hall last evening, drew together a large audience, who showed their appreciation of the programme by frequent bursts of applause.

The opening number of the entertainment was a song entitled "The Music of the Birds," by about fifteen young girls, members of the society. An amusing farce, called "No Cure, No Pay," was next produced and scored one of the hits of the evening. The story as enacted was that of a woman who was suffering from an imaginary illness, and was cured by a clever deception practiced upon her by her daughter and three of her girl friends. The friends masquerade as new school physicians, and many laughable scenes are presented. The principal parts in the piece were taken by the Misses N. Beglin, M. Walsh, K. Egan, M. Caffery, M. Leahy, K. Carty and A. Kennedy.

A song and chorus, "We Are Jolly Blacksmiths," by fifteen young boys, led by Clarence Hand, was the next number, and made a good impression. The boys were roundly applauded. The first part of the programme closed with a well-rendered recitation, "The Bishop and the Cow," by Miss Richardson; a song, "You Can't Play in My Yard," given by request, by the Misses Berkham and Southard, and an amusing song and chorus, "Mrs. Jones and Her Baggage," by twelve members of the society.

After a short intermission, the second part of the programme began with a pantomime, entitled "Jesus Lover of My Soul," by eighteen little girls. The vocal solo, "Waiting," by Miss T. Smith, was well received, and the second dramatic selection of the evening was then given. It was called "Train to Mauro," and set forth the perplexities of Mrs. Buttermilk and her son Johnnie in their efforts to catch the train. The situation was complicated by a number of laughable errors. The parts were well taken by Miss M. Kiely, J. Kallahan and A. Carney, Jr.

The Hornpipe Dance, which became famous during the Spielkartenfest, was next given with considerable skill by six dancers. The stage was hardly large enough to allow the performers sufficient room, but they went through the evolutions of the difficult dance well, and received hearty applause. Two finely rendered solos were next given by a quartette from the Opera Rigoletto. The soprano and alto were the Misses Betz, tenor, F. LaForete, and bass, J. Baily. The last selection of the quartette, "My Old Kentucky Home," was illustrated by a living picture representing a scene in the south. About twelve boys and girls, with the aid of burnt cork, made the scene a very realistic one.

The last number upon the programme was a series of statue posings, illustrating different qualities of the mind such as courage and weariness.

After the entertainment, the floor was cleared and dancing was in order until a late hour. A voting contest was held to decide the most popular dancer in the Hornpipe, and the competition was quite sharp. The entertainment will be repeated tonight.

Passengers in Dangerous Predicament.

An incident happened at the Central Railroad station at Cranford, late yesterday afternoon, in which the lives of a number of passengers were in terrible danger for a minute. The way train for New York which leaves this city at 5:54 o'clock was several minutes late, and when it stopped at Cranford the passengers were just commencing to alight when there was a scream from the women and children, and the Philadelphia express train was approaching on the west-bound track, next to the standing train. There was just time for the terrified people standing upon the track to squeeze themselves tightly against the way train when the flyer whirled by. The faces of all present were blanched with fear at the close escape they had.

Her Majesty's Corsets.

Miss Thorne, of Her Majesty's Corset Company, has only two more days to remain at White's store, and ladies should not miss this opportunity to see her in regard to good wearing and perfect fitting corsets. Everyone who has tried the corsets is more than pleased with them.

D. W. King and family, of Craig place, will spend Thanksgiving in Brooklyn with relatives.

Football Forbidden.

Philadelphia, Nov. 18.—President Fetterolf, of Girard College, has issued an edict against football, and henceforth the students of that institution must keep off the gridiron.

The ban on football was the result of a boy having his leg broken last Saturday during a practice game. As soon as President Fetterolf learned of the accident he issued an order prohibiting all future games.

THE U.S. POSSESSIONS.

UNCLE SAM OWNS CANNIBALS AND HOOLA HOOLA GIRLS.

Sixty Different Islands or Groups Belong to This Country—Since 1859 We Have Been Gaining Bits of Empire in the Pacific Waters.

There is something in one of the amendments to the Constitution which provides that any citizen of the United States may be a voter without reference to color or previous condition of servitude. Now if that holds good, Uncle Sam has some queer citizens on his list who have a right to exercise the privilege of citizenship. Uncle Sam is a much more widely diversified individual than most people imagine. There are parts of the United States sticking about all over this globe. Nothing is ever said about them, because for the moment they are not needed, but if some day we become involved in an unpleasantness with another country, which would necessitate our operating in the Pacific, it would be discovered that Uncle Sam could be at home most any day out there in that broad sheet of water.

Did you ever hear of Christmas Island? If you have not you may learn that it is half way around the world. At least that is what the sea captains say. They mean by it that it is just as far east or west from Christmas to Greenwich, from whence the longitude is taken. You may go either way from Christmas, and barring a few roundabouts like Cape Horn you will get to the Eddystone lighthouse in the same time.

Uncle Sam is the owner of this halfway house from everywhere. It is not a pretentious place. Christmas is just a coral atoll, that is, a low-lying island with a coral bed for a foundation and a coral reef for a sea barrier. You may get inside of this reef and be safe from the storms, but you will not find much of a country ashore. There are some guano beds and some eggs and a few cocoanut trees, but Christmas does not look its name, and the people are not nice.

They are dark, very dark, and they have a funny way of wearing their clothes which would not suit your American taste at all. They have been known to dine off folks which is another unpleasant feature of the place. But this same tall, dark gentleman of the Pacific is a citizen, and a voter if that famous amendment is good law, and he might have a say in the nation's councils if he were not too busy with his own.

They are making a lot of noise about the annexation of Hawaii, but Hawaii is not the only thing in the western sea. We have been trapesing about over that area of billows ever since 1859, picking up bits of empire here and there. Along about that year Congress got an idea that we needed fertilizers in this country. Bird deposits, known under the commercial name of guano, are a good fertilizer. The South Seas are full of islands, large and small, where the deposits of guano are enormous. So Congress passed a law that any time an American found a guano island which nobody else had gobbled, he might annex it and take the spoil. It is not like an American to overlook a thing of this kind, and various persons went about annexing until Uncle Sam became the owner of half a hundred islands in the South Pacific.

Talk about your wild, untamed savages of the West. They are not a marker to some of the discolored American citizens who live on our sea islands. It is not unlikely that if a person should attempt to do a "coochee-coochee" dance on the lawn at the nation's capital a hundred police would rush virtuously to the front and land her in jail.

But Uncle Sam owns more "coochee-coochee" dancers than live in Egypt. On his public grounds out yonder in the Pacific the "hoola-hoola," which is the "coochee-coochee" well done, is danced nightly to barbaric music made by people in barbaric lothes. A Washington bluecoat would stand about as much chance of stopping the fun as a fly would of moving the City Hall. And yet these are citizens of the United States just as much as you and I are, and Uncle Sam takes care of them. He is not as attentive as a married couple to their first born, but he sends a white ship down now and then to see that they have not moved.

Right there is a compartively small area this Government acknowledges paternity to sixty different islands or groups. Some of them are uninhabited except by birds, but many of them have large sized native towns on them, as, for instance, America and Palmyros. While these places were taken up for their guano deposits, many of them may some day be valuable for pearl fisheries.—New York Journal.

The Chinamen's Eye for Business.

One of the public drinking places erected by the Philadelphia Fountain Society is embellished by a rather unique design, in the form of a man's face. It is rather grotesque in appearance, and this effect is heightened by the fact that the water comes gushing forth from the mouth of the stone figure. Two Chinamen, evidently the proprietors of laundries, stepped in front of the fountain and seemed deeply interested in it. They cocked their funny little heads to one side, gazed at the spectacle from every possible point of view, and, after a moment of contemplative silence, proceeded to pass critical judgment upon it. "Him squirtee belly good," said one. "Yes," replied the other, "me likee havee him all alongee my laundly."—Philadelphia Record.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

North Plainfield is to have an active representative in the suburban bowling work this winter. Last evening the Central Journal Bowling League resumed operations for the winter and the Park Club signified its intention of taking part in the tournament for the championship of the League. A meeting of the League was held at the club house of the Elizabeth Athletic Club and Fred O. Ball was present as representative of the Park Club. There will be five clubs in the League this year instead of seven as was the case last winter.

The five clubs that will contest are the Park Club, of North Plainfield, the Westfield Athletic Club, the Roselle Casinos, the Elizabeth Athletic Club and the New Jersey Athletic Club, of Bergen Point.

HELPING THE WORTHY.

THE WORK OF THE ORGANIZED AID ASSOCIATION REVIEWED.

Annual Meeting Held Last Night and Reports Heard From Officers—Remarks by New Yorker—Officers Elected for Year

The annual meeting of the Charity Organized Aid Association was held in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church last evening and was well attended. President Mason W. Tyler was in the chair.

In the report of the president the general work of the association for the past year was reviewed. Mr. Tyler stated that he is of the opinion that there is an increase in the number of those who are dependent upon the association. He considered that the poor and dependent are being constantly separated from those in moderate and well-to-do circumstances. He urged the perfection of system and co-operation on the part of the members.

Treasurer H. P. Reynolds reported that the receipts during the year were $711.55, of which amount $420 was contributed. The expenditures were $671.51, leaving a balance of about $103.91 to which a few dollars had been added since the report was completed. He stated that a number of the churches and societies in Plainfield are contributing to the support of the association. There is yet due from enrolled members from $60 to $75, making in all about $125 due the association.

The report of the executive committee was presented by the secretary, and for the finance committee C. W. McCutchen reported. The latter showed that at present there are 144 members on the roll, and during the year several large contributions were received which materially assisted the association in carrying on its work.

For the committee on co-operation, Mrs. Frederick Mead presented a very interesting report. She said that during the year eighteen churches had asked for aid in assisting needy cases. She also spoke of the assistance rendered by thirty-seven societies in Plainfield that are connected with the association. From the committee on legal questions a very interesting item was reported. It was that of a woman named Matilda Thompson, who was at one time a city charge, but who was afterward found out to be a moderately wealthy person. It was learned that she owns valuable property on Broadway, New York, and from the settlement of the estate she realized about $3,000. The report submitted by H. M. Maxson for the committee on publication, gave a general idea of the work accomplished by the committee in the way of having certain matters printed. The report submitted by Mrs. Opdyke, through Miss Tweedy, for the committee on employment, was a lengthy one but interesting. It stated that during the year not many applications had been received for work. The wood yard was reported to be a success, and the committee had been able to furnish clothing for needy men, women and children.

David P. Hall reported for the district committee, and stated that it had been learned that many people had been found begging about the city, and people were warned against giving discriminately. This committee paid a compliment to the City Industrial Home for its perfect appointment and material aid. One hundred and forty-three cases were reported during the year, an increase of nineteen over last year.

The report of the agent, Mrs. Woodruff, stated that during the past twelve months 639 cases had been considered, of which number 238 were American born. The report showed that much relief had been given and much good accomplished. The co operation of all the members of the association was urged.

At this time the audience was favored with a piano selection by Miss Marion Dumont. Following this the president introduced W. T. Devine, secretary of the Citizens' Organized Aid Association, of New York, who gave a very practical talk on the subject "How to Help the Poor Through Organized Charity." Mr. Devine has had a wonderful experience in the metropolis and he gave the Plainfield members the benefit of it.

President Tyler appointed H. P. Reynolds, Dr. Murray and David P. Hall as a nominating committee to select officers for the ensuing year, and the choice and election resulted as follows: President, Mason W. Tyler; vice-presidents, H. B. Newhall, Mrs. C. J. Fisk, Mrs. J. K. Myers; secretary, John Doul Miller; treasurer, H. P. Reynolds. This concluded the business of the evening and the meeting adjourned.

FRIENDS DISCUSSED TEMPERANCE.

Declare Their Uncompromising Opposition to the Continued Licensing of Saloons.

The semi-annual meeting of the Society of Friends was held yesterday in the meeting-house, at Watchung and North avenues.

The morning session was devoted to worship and to the business of the society, and in the afternoon subjects of a philanthropic nature were discussed. In this connection the question of peace among nations and international arbitration was dealt with by Mrs. Mary Chapman, of the Brooklyn Woman's Club, in a most interesting paper, and Robert S. Haviland, of Newcastle, N. Y., read a paper on "Conference Work Among Friends." Remarks upon the subject of the meeting were also made by Phoebe C. Wright and others.

The session of most general interest was the evening one, at which the subject of prohibition of liquor selling in this city was considered. A. M. Powell, of this city, presided and opened the discussion with some spirited remarks on prohibition. People are apt to point to the amount of revenue derived from saloon licenses in this city, he said, and make that an excuse for the license system, but it would be better to lose the $15,000 or $20,000 that is derived from this source every year than to have one boy in Plainfield go to destruction by way of the saloons.

He praised the Woman's Town Improvement Association for its efforts to make Plainfield a clean city, but expressed a doubt that it could ever be a clean city in the true sense of the word so long as the people hesitate on the saloon question. What is needed is to arouse the Common Council to the higher consideration of the moral welfare of this beautiful city.

At the close of Mr. Powell's remarks a communication was read from Rev. W. E. Honeyman, expressing his sympathy with the purpose of the meeting, and remarks in similar vein were made by Robert S. Haviland, Dr. John Schottler, of Belmar, and others. The meeting then passed the following resolution by a unanimous vote:

Resolved, That this meeting, composed of members of the Religious Society of Friends and others, hereby declares its uncompromising opposition to the continued licensing of saloons for the sale of alcoholic intoxicating beverages in Plainfield as inimical to the best welfare of its citzens; that it deprecates the raising of public revenue from a traffic which is morally wrong; and that it earnestly appeals to all good citizens to improve the opportunity provided by the Common Council at the approaching municipal election to vote against the continuation of licensed liquor selling.

"AT HOME" AT ROADENDING.

Fashionable and Pleasant Society Event Held Yesterday Afternoon.

Mrs. J E. Corlies and her daughters, Mrs. H. E. Adams and Mrs. W. C Delancy, gave a pleasant "at home" at their residence, Roadending, at the extremity of Central avenue, yesterday afternoon from 4 until 6 o'clock. The following ladies assisted the hostesses in receiving: Mrs. William Palmer Smith and her daughter, Miss Smalley; Mrs. J. W. Reinhart, Miss Reinhart, Mrs. Richard Cox Mrs. E. VanByren, Mrs. L. Timpson, Miss Edith Hyde, Miss Mary Adams, of New York; Mrs. Johnson, of Bridgeport, Conn., and Mrs. J. Parker Mason.

The beautiful house was decorated with cut flowers, and presented a charming appearance. A tea table was in a convenient nook and the guests were served with the enticing beverage by some of the ladies assisting in the event.

The number of cards sent out by the hostesses was 800, and of those invited a very large number, including most of Plainfield's fashionable society folk, were present. Besides the guests from this city, there were also a large number from New York city.

Arranging for a Public Meeting.

The board of managers of the City Union of the King's Daughters held a meeting in the small hall of the Y. M. C. A. building yesterday afternoon. The attendance was very good, and an interesting report was received from Miss Palmer, the city nurse employed by the King's Daughters. Arrangements were made for the meeting which will be held under the auspices of The King's Daughters in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church on the first Thursday in December. Miss Curray, the matron of the West field Fresh Air camp, will make an address, and other interesting features will make the meeting well worth attending. The meeting will take place in the afternoon, and at its close tea will be served.

J. A. Powlison, of Grandview avenue, and Morris C. VanArsdale, of Somerset street, spent yesterday at Pluckamin attending a family reunion.

COMMITTEE OF FORTY TO NAME CITIZENS' TICKET

INDEPENDENT VOTERS TOOK FORMAL ACTION AT THE PUBLIC MEETING LAST NIGHT.

About Three Hundred Voters Present, Who Are Determined to Defeat the Republicans—Walter Hetfield Presided—Justice Nash Spoke Enthusiastically—Chairman Empowered to Appoint Committee.

The movement against the Republican machine of Plainfield for the coming municipal election was formally inaugurated last evening, when the G. O. P. was given to understand that the opposing forces had united and would put a "Citizens" ticket in the field. For nearly a year there has been individual wailing against the present administration of city affairs, and at last found an opening in the Fourth ward a week ago. The Organization of Independent Voters of the Fourth Ward was formed and its principal act was calling the meeting of last night, to which all were invited to discuss the advisability of putting the opposition ticket in the field against the regular Republican ticket.

The meeting was held in Washington Hall and was to begin at 8:15 o'clock, but it was nearly twenty minutes after before it was called to order by Cadwallader Jones, of the Fourth ward. The voters from that ward seemed to be in the majority, but there were representatives from all the wards, including Democrats and Republicans. The Democrats were in the majority at the meeting, but the leaders of the movement had the assurance from many of both parties who were not present, that they would support the movement. Some of the adherents were rather backward in coming out so directly for a Citizens' movement, but preferred to work behind the scenes. There were some 300 people present, however, and they all enthused over the prospect of turning down the machine at the city election.

Former Councilman Walter L. Hetfield was made chairman and made a short address regarding the object of the meeting. He stated at the start that he did not wish to be chairman on account of the communication in The Press in which it was said that the "Big Six" were trying to run the Citizens' movement. He then went on to tell how some fifty or sixty voters representing every ward had met a few evenings ago and discussed the advisability of putting a Citizens' or Tax-payers' ticket in the field. He then spoke of the reasons for such a step.

The people who attended the meeting, he continued, felt that the way in which the city's affairs had been conducted have been extravagant and unnecessary and that all the reasons given were embodied in a resolution passed by the Republican county convention at Elizabeth. Mr. Hetfield read the paragraph in question in which the municipal governments were criticized and requested to retrench.

Mr. Hetfield first spoke of the increase of taxation from 1.96 in 1883 to 2.52 in 1897. Property values had been increasing at the same time, he said, as the tax rate had been raising. Individually they had nothing against the Councilmen, but as a body they thought they had been over-burdening the taxpayers. They had levied $30 000 directly as sewer tax instead of issuing bonds to make the burden come easier. Then they had compelled people to connect with the sewer and consequently with the water. Times had been very hard and many found it difficult to get along. The Council, he continued, not satisfied with what they had done, resurrected the Martin Act to bring in more revenue and taxpayers found themselves suddenly confronted with a tax bill for years ago. Still not satisfied, the Council had compelled the people to flag their sidewalk and curb it. All this coming at a time when it was hard enough to pay a moderate rate of taxation.

In reference to a library tax, Mr. Hetfield showed that it had increased from .05 last year to .14 this year, an increase of .09. While he was in favor of a library as much as any one, Mr. Hetfield thought that at this time such an increase was not needed. In the librarian's report for September he showed that of the 2,976 books in circulation during that month, over half had been fiction works. Much of that, Mr. Hetfield said, was trash that did no one any good.

He went on to tell of the calling of the meeting and how it was not for Democrats or Republicans alone but for all citizens of Plainfield. He then invited any who wished to speak to do so.

Cadwallader Jones was the first to respond. Like Mr. Hetfield's remarks, his also were interrupted with applause. He told how he fell right in with the movement after he learned its purpose. He said that he had heard a grumbling like thunder and a thunder clap had come done in the Fourth ward. On Election Day the clap would strike somebody.

He declared that most of the money raised went to beautify the centre of the city while the people in the rest of the town were left out in the cold. He referred to the methods of assessing and taxation and said that it was very unequal.

Mr. Hetfield spoke further on the taxation point. He said that the man who owned a little home of $1,500 or $2,000, is taxed on the 50 per cent. basis, and in some cases, they have to pay from 60 to 75 per cent. The large properties, he continued, do not have to pay over 20 per cent. or 25 per cent. of their value.

"How about the Babcock building?" shouted a man in the audience. Mr. Hetfield continued by saying that he had learned on creditable authority that the building had cost Mr. Babcock $250,000, while it was now assessed at $50,000. The Jackson building, he said, had cost $100,000, and was assessed at $24,000. The Vanderbeek building had cost $30,000 or $40,000 and was assessed only $8,000. These, he said, were merely examples.

Mr. Hetfield referred to the action of the Mayor and Council in appointing a Board of Assessors at this time and thought it strange that such action should be taken just now.

Justice V. W. Nash was invited to speak. He said that he had no intention of making a speech or taking part in the campaign. It was a time, however, when men should drop party lines and look to the bettering of their city's interests. He referred to the fact that at the election two years ago, the Republicans had advertised good roads as a rallying cry, and he pointed to the present condition of the streets as showing the way in which they had failed to keep their pledge. He thought the money had been wasted on the streets and all the pretended improvements had counted for naught. Referring to the fight for the Citizens' ticket, he said that they would have to compete against the machine and all the purchasable vote in the city.

He finally moved the appointment by the chairman of a committee of two from each ward, to select eight others from each ward, making a committee of forty in all, to select suitable candidates to form a ticket to be presented to a future meeting for ratification. John Ross seconded the motion.

Arthur Scott inquired what promise the citizens had that the Citizens' ticket would do any better than the Republicans had done and he thought there should be a platform or declaration of principles to which they should swear allegiance. He said that down in the Fourth ward, rents had decreased as taxes had increased and that when improvements were made there the rents increased again and the poor man had to move away. The motion was then put and carried and the meeting adjourned.

There was a sprinkling of Republican workers among the crowd that attended the meeting. Whether they were there from curiousity alone or to spot the wavering ones it is impossible to say. Among them were Sheriff W. T. Kirk, City Clerk J. T. MacMurray, City Collector E. H. Bird, Councilman W. A. Westphal and Charles VanWinkle.

Kicked by a Horse.

Martin McDonnell, one of the employes of Fred. W. Dunn, the grocer, was kicked in the abdomen by a horse yesterday. He was assisting in the clipping of one of Mr. Dunn's horses at his stable on Sandford avenue when the animal became excited and struck McDonnell a hard blow. A physician was summoned and cared for the injured man. He was finally able to be taken home in a carriage and is better today and able to be out.

Borough Will Not Fight.

The Borough Council has decided not to make any fight to have the work of the Watchung avenue commissioners sustained, against the property-owners, who will take the matter into court. If the court sets the report aside a new set of commissioners will have to be appointed, and if it is sustained the collection of the several amounts be commenced at once.

HE WENT TO NEW YORK.

BUT IT WAS AN EXPENSIVE TRIP.

A Franklin Park Farm Hand Underwent an Experience That He Bitterly Repents.

Alfred Berkman, of Franklin Park, Middlesex county, has been to see the Greater New York and says that he will never go there again. Berkman worked for a farmer at Franklin Park for two years and managed to save some money. He then decided to see New York. He landed in the big city Wednesday, and soon afterward he was accosted by a stranger on West street, who claimed that he knew Berkman.

The latter could not remember having seen the man before, but finally became familiar. The two parted and Berkman went to a hotel on Pearl street where he remained that night. When he awoke in the morning he learned that his clothes and everything that he had brought with him were missing. He reported his case and was helped out of his predicament by the hotel people who furnished him with sufficient clothing to get as far as home. He knew that his former employer, Mr. Nevius, had a brother in East Orange. He walked to that place, but could not find Mr. Nevius. Then he walked to Plainfield, arriving here last evening about 5 o'clock. He went to the borough and applied for a place to sleep.

Clerk Arnold, gave the man something to eat and Chief Marshal Wilson gave him a place in the lockup to sleep. This morning he started early for Franklin Park, and he will endeavor to secure work with his former employer.

PLAYING EUCHRE AGAIN.

First Meeting of Thursday Night Club Since the Summer Season.

Last night, the members of the Thursday Night Euchre Club gathered together for the first time since the summer vacation and spent an evening together at their favorate game of euchre. The club was entertained by Miss Mabelle Force at her home on Watchung avenue. There were four tables.

The first prizes were awarded to Miss Charoltte Ayres and Will F. Williams. The winners of the second prizes were Miss Etta Krymer and Will Tier. The others present were Miss Etta Neuman, Miss May MacLaughlin, Miss Clara Williams, Mrs. Will F. Williams, Mrs. Will Tier, George W. DeMeza, Walter Clark, Ernest Millard, Theodore Mantz, Robert M. Clark and George Neuman.

After the games were concluded, the remainder of the evening was interspersed with vocal and instrumental solos.

The officers of the club for the ensuing year were elected. Mrs. Will Tier was made president and Miss Mabelle Force secretary.

A SOCIALOGICAL SUBJECT.

Arthur W. Milbury to Talk on "Helping Men to Help Themselves."

One of the important branches of Seth Low's recent campaign was the Citizens' Union Lecture Bureau, which held 309 meetings throughout Greater New York in the English, German, Italian, Armenian and Yiddish languages. This bureau was conducted by Arthur W. Milbury. Mr. Milbury will come to Plainfield Sunday and address a meeting at the Congregational church Sunday evening, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Mr. Milbury will talk on "Helping Men to Help Themselves." He is particularly fitted to speak on the subject as he is secretary of the City and Suburban Homes Company which is building model tenements in New York and individual family cottages in Brooklyn. The work is considered one of the most important socialogical experiments ever undertaken in the United States, providing comfortable, sanitary, wholesome homes for people of small means but on a strictly business basis. Mr. Milbury is a fluent and interesting speaker and will be sure to attract many to hear him.

Hospital Patients Improve.

The physician in charge at the hospital was much pleased today with the improved condition of Alfred Lee, of Bound Brook, who was brought to this city Wednesday evening with a fracture of the skull. Mr. Bennet, of Newark, who was taken to the hospital the same evening suffering with convulsions, is also much better.

Their Two Hundredth Member.

This evening Perseverance Lodge, K. of P., will initiate its two hundreth member, and in honor of the event members from other lodges throughout the State have been invited. An excellent programme has been arranged, including a banquet.

SIMPLE, YET BEAUTIFUL

RUNYON—SPANGENBERG NUPTIALS CEBEBRATED YESTERDAY.

The Ceremony Performed by Rev. J. H. Richardson in Park Avenue Baptist Church and Witnessed by Many Friends.

One of the notable weddings of the season was celebrated yesterday afternoon at 5 o'clock in the Park Avenue Baptist church, when Miss Alice B. Spangenberg, daughter of former Councilman and Mrs. Leonard Spangenberg, of Netherwood, and David Milton Runyon, assistant cashier of the First National Bank, were united in marriage by Rev. J. W. Richardson, pastor of the church, in the presence of an audience of relatives and friends that completely filled the auditorium.

It was a pretty wedding owing to its perfect simplicity. About the pulpit platform and choir loft there was a profusion of the choicest flowers, palms, etc., arranged artistically, while a pleasing effect was obtained through the use of smilax and greens.

Miss Alice Coard presided at the organ and, while the guests were being received and escorted to their seats by the ushers, she rendered a programme of classical music.

At precisely the appointed hour 5:30 o'clock, the presence of the bridal party was announced by the first notes of the Lohengrin wedding march. First came the ushers, Joseph M. Hawkins, Fenton Haynes, Arthur Heath, Frederick Fish, Jr., Thomas Cuming and Thaddeus Doane, Jr. They were followed by the bride, leaning on the arm of her father.

A traveling suit of cadet blue ladies' cloth, opening over bodice of raspberry silk, trimmed with duchess lace, was worn by the bride, also a velvet hat, with castor plumes, to match suit. She wore gloves of cream white kid, and carried a bouquet of La-France roses, tied with wide raspberry satin ribbon. The groom's gift to the bride was an elegant pin of diamonds, pearls and opals. A large number of elegant presents, consisting of glass silver and china, was received from relatives and friends.

At the altar the party met the groom and minister, and a semi-circle was formed. The bride was given away in marriage by her father. The ceremony, which was a beautiful one, was performed with a ring. The responses were clear and could be heard distinctly in every part of the church.

On retiring from the church, the bride and groom preceded the rest of the party, and kindly recognitions were received by the guests as they walked up the aisle. Mr. and Mrs. Runyon were at once driven to the North Avenue station where they took the 5:34 westbound train for Philadelphia. Today they will leave the latter place for Washington where they will remain for a week. At the station they did not escape their friends so easy as they were met by two hundred people who showered them with congratulations and rice. The congratulators almost crowded into the pasenger coach to continue their pranks. Before the departure of the bride and groom, J. M. Hawkins, the head usher, secured the bride's bouquet and presented to many of her friends a rose with the compliments of the bride.

Upon the return of the bride and groom they will be given a reception.

The bride, who was State Superintendent of the Missionary Department of the Christian Endeavor Society, has been a devoted worker in the Christian Endeavor cause, as well as in her own church and Sunday-school. Every Sunday during the past nine years she has partaken of her lunch in the church to avoid the trip of going home, and thus be able to remain to Sunday school after the morning church service. The groom is also a devoted church worker and a teacher in the Sunday-school. He is also assistant cashier at the First National Bank, and is held in high esteem by all who know him. He has been employed at the bank for many years. They have the best wishes and congratulations of a host of friends for a prosperous and happy journey through life.

For Widening Westervelt Avenue.

The first meeting of the Westervelt Avenue Commissioners was held last evening. W. E. Pinto and A. D. Thompson were present while Alonzo Ayres was detained at home by illness. Mrs. Antoinette Bebaud appeared before the Commissioners in behalf of herself and mother. J. B. Coward appeared for one of the owners of the land to be taken. Corporation Counsel C. A. Marsh was also present. The Commissioners adjourned until next Wednesday.

REPORT OF SEC'Y BLISS

Exhaustive Review of the Work of His Great Department.

AN INTERESTING PAPER

Laws Needed for the Protection of the Forest Reservations—976,914 Names on the Pension Rolls and 200,000 Claims Awaiting Adjudication.

Washington, Nov. 19.—In his first annual report, which was given to the press yesterday, the Hon. Cornelius N. Bliss, Secretary of the Interior, deals at length and in a very interesting manner with the current work and future needs of the many divisions of his important department. The General Land Office, the Patent Office, the Pension Bureau, the Indian Bureau, the Geological Survey and the Bureau of Education, with all their varied branches, come within the scope of the Secretary's authority and jurisdiction, and his report touches upon the working of all these branches.

In treating of the subject of the devastation of the public domain by forest fires the Secretary testifies to the wisdom and practical excellence of the act of Feb. 24, 1897, entitled "An act to prevent forest fires on the public domain," and recommends its retention. On the general subject of forestry the Secretary says:

"There are now existing nineteen forest reservations, embracing lands having an estimated area of 18,993,280 acres, which from time to time have been set aside by proclamations. Thirteen forest reserves created by proclamation of Feb. 22, 1897, were, with the exception of two in the State of California, suspended by the Sundry Civil act of June 3, 1897, until March 1, 1898. The suspended reservations contain an estimated area of 19,951,360 acres. The preservation of the public forests is a matter of vital interest to the entire nation. The enactment of adequate laws for their protection and the proper enforcement thereof, coupled with the inauguration of a comprehensive forest system, can only effect such result.

"I most heartily concur in the recommendation of the Commissioner of the General Land Office that liberal appropriations be made by Congress for the forestry service.

"Attention is directed to the law which provides a penalty for the cutting or destruction of live oak or red cedar, or other timbers, on the public lands. It is open to serious objection in that it is inadequate for the punishment of offenses to which it relates; it fails to discriminate clearly and justly as to what constitutes a crime with respect to the use of public timber. As this law is the principal penal statute upon which the Land Department has to rely to check the waste and destruction of public timber, its failure to meet the ends desired is a serious matter, and legislation more in accord with the needs of the times should be secured."

Secretary Bliss calls attention to the report of the Commissioner of Pensions, already published, which shows that on June 30, 1897, there were on the pension rolls 976,014 names, an increase of 5,336 during the year. Of these there were sixteen widows and daughters of Revolutionary soldiers, seven survivors of the War of 1812, 281 widows of soldiers of that war, 18,994 survivors and widows of the Mexican war, 6,661 survivors and widows of Indian wars, 663 army nurses and 438,064 survivors and widows and children of deceased soldiers and sailors of the war of the rebellion. The latter number represents those pensioned on account of disabilities or death resulting from army and navy service. The number of persons remaining on the rolls June 30, 1897, who were pensioned under the act of June 27, 1890, which allows pensions on account of death and disability and chargeable to the service, was 508,799.

The number added to the rolls during the year was 54,072, the number dropped from various causes was 41,122, and the number of claims of various classes disallowed was 76,234. The amount disbursed for pensions during the year was $139,199,242.12, exceeding the amount disbursed during the fiscal year 1896 by the sum of $1,584,480.18. During the year 99,454 pension certificates were issued.

The Secretary indorses the recommendation of Commissioner Evans for the passage of a law providing that no pension shall be granted to the widow of any soldier who shall hereafter marry. As to the status of pension claims generally, he says:

"There are about 200,000 pension claims awaiting adjudication, and it is estimated that 40 or 50 per cent. thereof will be finally admitted. If these claims are rapidly adjudicated they will swell the pension roll from $5,000,000 to $7,000,000. When, however, these claims are adjudicated and first payments made thereon the amount of the pension roll will decrease very rapidly, possibly to $125,000,000 or $130,000,000 the first year. The Commissioner estimates that $140,000,000 will be required to pay pensions during the year ending June 30, 1899. In view of the foregoing statements, however, it is probable that a deficiency appropriation may be necessary. He recommends that the Executive order of July 14, 1897, suspending the operation of the order of Feb. 6, 1897, consolidating pension agencies, be continued indefinitely, as the interest of the service and the Government will be subserved thereby."

Groom 100, Bride 77.

St. Joseph, Mo., Nov. 19.—John Joverton, aged 100 years and 1 month, was married here yesterday to Mrs. Mary Henderson, who is 77 years old. This is believed to be the record breaker for marriages of old persons. Both bride and groom are in excellent health.

Reception to Vice-President Hobart.

Brick Church, N. J., Nov. 19.—The Republican Club of East Orange gave a large reception last evening in honor of Vice-President Hobart. Nearly 1,000 Republicans and a few Democrats were present. There was no speech-making.

Mr. Depew to Preside.

New Haven, Nov. 19.—The Yale Union has received word from Chauncey M. Depew accepting the invitation to preside at the annual Yale-Harvard debate here on Dec. 3.

READY FOR THORN'S TRIAL.

Lawyer Howe Says the Saw Was Planted in the Meadow.

New York, Nov. 19.—District Attorney Youngs has completed arrangements for the beginning of the second trial of Martin Thorn for the murder of William Guldensuppe in the Queens County Court of Oyer and Terminer on Monday morning next.

Mr. Youngs says if there is not a long delay in getting a jury, the trial ought to be finished in ten days. The prosecution expects to occupy three days to present its side of the case. There is a possibility that the trial may not take longer than a week.

District Attorney Youngs keeps his officers at work on a still hunt for the missing head of the murdered man. The Flushing meadows where the saw was found Tuesday have been carefully gone over by the searchers, but up to the present time without success.

Mrs. Nack, who without doubt knows what disposition was made of the head, has told conflicting stories. This, she says, has been due to her slight knowledge of the English language.

When she is asked questions bearing on the guilt of Thorn or herself she now insists upon talking through an interpreter.

She, however, told her long confession on the witness stand and defended herself against the severe cross-examination of Counselor Howe without the aid of an interpreter.

District Attorney Youngs is reticent about revealing any new developments in the case. It cannot be stated positively whether Mrs. Nack has told Mr. Youngs where to look for Guldensuppe's head, though the common report is that she has done so.

Lawyer Howe said yesterday that he has evidence that the saw found in the Flushing meadows was planted there.

DIED OF HYDROPHOBIA.

Wilkesbarre Man's Life Ends in Frightful Agony in a Room.

Wilkesbarre, Pa., Nov. 19.—Julius Ganski of Hanover Green was bitten on his right hand nine weeks ago by a rabid dog. A physician cauterized the wound. In a short time the man was able to be about.

Feeling a twinging pain in his right arm and shoulder on Wednesday, he consulted Drs. Evans and Williams of Nanticoke. He told them that he had much difficulty in swallowing fluids. The physicians examined him and found that the man was suffering from symptoms of hydrophobia. During the day the patient was so ill that it was impossible for him to take any liquids whatever.

Ganski became violent late yesterday and raved so ferociously that four of his watchers fled from the room in terror. Ganski smashed his bed and broke every pane of glass in the window. He raved in this manner for nearly half an hour, and then there was silence.

After a time his watchers summoned up courage to open the door and saw Ganski motionless in a corner. He was dead.

CREATER NEW YORK MAILS.

No Change Yet Ordered in Mode of Addressing Letters.

New York, Nov. 19.—Postmaster Van Cott, when asked what would be the correct method of addressing letters to residents of Greater New York after Jan. 1, said: "So far as we are informed, there will be no change made. It will be necessary for people in Brooklyn to have their letters addressed to Brooklyn, N. Y., as at present, and letters intended for persons in Long Island City or on Staten Island will have to be addressed as at present.

"Any change of addresses will have to come by order of the Postoffice authorities in Washington, and we have not yet received any intimation that the several postoffices in the Greater New York territory are to be consolidated under one management after Jan. 1. Even if the postoffices were so consolidated, however, it would be necessary to keep the present method of addressing letters in the territory while there are so many streets of the same name or number in the different parts of the greater city."

TO END THE GLASS STRIKE.

Negotiations Crippled by the Rivalry of the Unions.

Pittsburg, Pa., Nov. 19.—The meetings preliminary to the conference between the manufacturers and glass workers on the wage scale yesterday afternoon indicate that no settlement will result. The cutters and flatteners decline to go into conference jointly with the blowers and gatherers, as it would compromise those crafts by a tacit admission of membership in L. A. 300. The blowers and gatherers are prepared to make concessions, but not sufficient to satisfy the manufacturers, who will leave the conference and make terms with the cutters and flatteners.

The employers have sufficient members who are dissatisfied with President Burns to start a large number of factories and break the lockout. The entire trade is crippled at present.

Train Wrecked in Arkansas.

Kansas City, Mo., Nov. 19.—Train No. 2 on the Kansas City, Fort Scott & Memphis Railroad was derailed just west of Williford, Ark., yesterday.

The combination coach, chair car and sleeper went over the bank, the combination car going into Spring River. The chair car and sleeper were both burned.

One passenger was fatally injured and twenty-two others less seriously hurt. Fortunately, the passengers in the burning cars were rescued before the fire had reached its height, and no one in the combination car was drowned.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Household Gods.

The ancient Greeks believed that the Penates were the gods who attended to the welfare and prosperity of the family. They were worshipped as household gods in every home. The household god of to-day is Dr. King's New Discovery. For consumption, coughs, colds and for all affections of Throat, Chest and Lungs it is invaluable. It has been tried for a quarter of a century and is guaranteed to cure, or money returned. No household should be without this good angel. It is pleasant to take and a safe and sure remedy for old and young. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's, Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.

Deafness Cannot Be Cured

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75 cents.

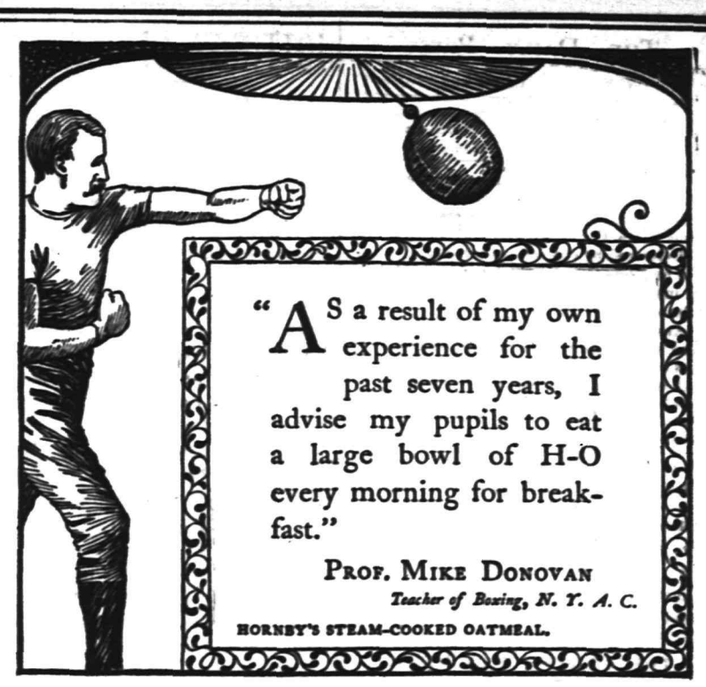
How to Cure Bilious Colic.

I suffered for weeks with colic and pains in my stomach caused by biliousness and had to take medicine all the while until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured me. I have since recommended it to a good many people. Mrs. F. Butler, Fairhaven, Conn. Persons who are subject to bilious colic can ward off the attack by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms appear. Sold by T. S Armstrong, apothecary, corner North and Park avenues.



AN ORDINANCE

granting permission to the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, its successors and assigns, to lay and maintain underground conduits cables, wires and manholes for electrical conductors in the city of Plainfield, New Jersey, to be used for telephone and telegraph purposes.

The Inhabitants of the City of Plainfield, by their Common Council, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That the New York and New Jersey Telephone Company, its successors and assigns, be and it hereby is authorized and empowered to construct and maintain for the uses and purposes of its business aforesaid, a system of subways or underground conduits, including the necessary manholes and street openings, and lateral connections to property lines beneath the surface of the streets, avenues and other highways in the City of Plainfield, and to place, maintain and operate in said system of subways or underground conduits the wires, cables or other electrical conductors necessary for its said business; also to construct, maintain and operate for such purposes a system of electrical conductors in connection with the necessary poles for distribution from the electrical conductors to be placed in the subways or underground conduits herein before mentioned.

Section 2. And be it further ordained that the following streets, avenues and highways and parts thereof are hereby designated for the construction of the underground conduits of said Company to be opened only after the adoption of a resolution granting permission in each street:

Front street from the Eastern to the Western limits of the City.

Somerset street from the Nothern limits of the City to Front street.

Park avenue from Front street to Randolph road.

North avenue from Park avenue to Watchung avenue.

Watchung avenue from Front street to Kensington avenue.

East Fifth street and South avenue from Watchung avenue to Leland avenue.

Eighth street from Park avenue to Plainfield avenue.

Sixth street from Watchung avenue to Plainfield avenue.

Central avenue from Front street to Randolph road.

Fourth street from Watchung avenue to Plainfield avenue.

Liberty street from Front street to Eighth street.

Washington avenue from Front street to the Northern limits of the City; and all other streets, avenues and highways of said City as may be necessary and from time to time designated in permits to be issued by the Street Committee for the construction of such conduits; said Company may on the same streets, avenues and parts thereof erect the necessary poles fixtures and supports for distributing its electrical conductors along, across and above the surface of the streets in connection with said subways; said poles shall be placed inside and within eighteen (18) inches of and adjacent to the curb line; said cables shall in all cases be placed under the carriage-way and within five (5) feet of the curb line, unless obstructions make it necessary to go further from the curb line, and then only after written permission has been given by the Committee on streets and sewers, and shall be placed at least eighteen (18) inches below the surface of the street.

Section 3. And be it further ordained that the said manholes shall be located beneath the surface of the streets at such points along the line of the subways or underground conduits as may be necessary or convenient for placing and operating the electrical conductors which the said Company may from time to time place in said subways or underground conduits, and shall be so constructed as not to interfere with the passage of the public over and along the said streets; and the said Company shall restore any street or avenue which may be disturbed in the construction or maintenance of said subways or conduits and manholes to the condition in which it was at the commencement of the work thereon and free from any cost or expense whatever to the City of Plainfield. And the said Company and its servants and employes in the laying of any wires or conduits, in excavating or replacing the earth in any street, alley or public place, and of the pavement thereon, shall be under the supervision of the Street Commissioner, and shall promptly comply with any order of said Commissioner in reference thereto.

The earth removed in making any excavation shall be restored, and the pavement taken up shall be relaid by the said company in as good condition as before the making of such excavation or taking up of such pavement, and thereafter shall be maintained in as good condition as the surrounding pavement, until such street, avenue or highway in each case shall be repaved by the City. No street, avenue, alley or public place shall be incumbered for a longer period than shall be necessary to execute the work for which the excavation is made. The cost of restoring the earth or otherwise, arising from such excavations, and the laying of pavements and repairs thereto, caused by the opening of any such avenue, street, alley or public place, shall be paid by said Company, and said work shall be done under the supervision of the Street Commissioner.

In case the company shall fail to restore, relay or repair any pavement or street surface within 48 hours after receiving notice from the Street Commissioner that such work is required, said Street Commissioner shall have the right to cause such work to be done, and the cost thereof shall be paid by the Company.

Section 4. And be it further ordained that said Company shall indemnify the Common Council of the City of Plainfield against and assume all liability and damages which may at any time arise, come or occur to said City, from any injury to persons or property from the doing of any work herein mentioned, or from the neglect of the Company or its employes to comply with the provisions of any ordinance of the City relative to the use of streets or other public places, especially as to the putting up of lights or barriers at or around excavations; and the acceptance by the Company of this ordinance shall be an agreement to pay to the Common Council of Plainfield any sum of money for which the City may become liable from or by reason of such injury and damage.

Section 5. And be it further ordained that the said Company shall file with the Mayor or City Clerk its acceptance of this ordinance within twenty (20) days from the date when such ordinance shall take effect, and shall also file with the City Treasurer a satisfactory bond with sureties approved by the Mayor in the sum of Three Thousand Dollars ($3,000.) that it will faithfully comply with and perform all of the terms and conditions of this ordinance.

Section 6. And be it further ordained that the said The New York and New Jersey Telephone Company shall provide sufficient space in said subways or underground conduits to accommodate the telegraph or telephone wires or conductors operated from time to time by the Police, Fire and other Departments of the City of Plainfield.

Section 7. And be it further ordained that said Company shall pay into the City Treasury all advertising and printing fees incurred by the City under this ordinance, and that this ordinance shall take effect immediately.

Adopted by the Common Council November 1st, 1897.

Approved by the Mayor November 11, 1897.

CHAS. J. FISK, Mayor.

Attest: J. T. MacMURRAY, City Clerk.

PLOT TO RUIN DREYFUS

Beautiful Woman and the Lebaudy Gang in the Scheme.

BLACKMAIL THE OBJECT

Forged War Plans, and When He Refused to Pay Exposed Him to His Fate—Startling Romance of Paris Crime.

Paris, Nov. 19.—The alleged false imprisonment of Alfred Dreyfus, the former captain of French artillery, who is undergoing a sentence of imprisonment for life after having been convicted by a court-martial of selling French military plans to the agents of a foreign government, has taken on a new aspect.

From a person who is in the counsels of the family the correspondent of the Associated Press here learns that their presentation of the prisoner's case to the French Government reveals a thrilling romance with the gang of so-called "journalists" and stock jobbers who beset young Lebaudy, the millionaire conscript, known as "the Little Sugar Merchant," and not as "the Little Sugar Bowl," as sometimes the unfortunate young man is referred to, and a prominent member of the demimonde as the chief actors.

It is claimed that the documents Dreyfus was charged with selling to Germany were never really sold to the agents of that country, but were concocted as forgeries in Dreyfus' handwriting to blackmail him, his wife being a wealthy woman, and he himself being in good circumstances.

The plot, it would further seem, was conceived in 1893, when the wave of "Jew-baiting" swept over Europe.

Dreyfus is of Hebrew extraction, and these so-called "soldiers of fortune," casting about for funds, determined to bleed "this wealthy Jew."

A beautiful adventuress, whose house was the resort of a number of French officers and foreign diplomats, is said to have acted as the go-between in these shady transactions and was secured as a catspaw by the blackmailers.

By invitation Dreyfus was a frequent visitor to her house, and in due course of time the plan for the mobilization of the French army, which had been drawn up in a handwriting which cleverly imitated that of Dreyfus, was produced and money was demanded for its surrender.

Dreyfus, however, it is added, refused to pay the sum demanded, knowing that the purchase of the document would be an admission of his guilt and would furnish ground for future extortion, and being aware that he had been a friend of this woman would be considered part of the strongest evidence of his guilt.

The newspapers whose inspirers were concerned in the plot have constantly maintained a warfare against Dreyfus, and in consequence the prisoner's wife and family are obliged to keep secluded.

Attempts have constantly been made, it would appear, to extort admissions from them to be used against Dreyfus, and it is also said that advances have been made to Mme. Dreyfus, wife of the prisoner, in behalf of the anti-Dreyfus press, offering to cease all opposition to his release "for a consideration."

The plan for the mobolization of the French army which Dreyfus is said to have sold to the agents of a foreign government was a comparatively unimportant document, the features of which were in the possession of all foreign governments, and was easily fabricated by experts.

THE HORSE SHOW.

Over 15,000 Persons Attended the Exhibition Yesterday.

New York, Nov. 19.—Interest in the Horse Show continues to be sustained, the fourth day of the exhibition finding the attendance at high-water mark. Counting afternoon and evening, fully 15,000 persons paid homage to the horse, and there is no longer any doubt as to the popularity of the exhibition. It is a prominent feature of the Autumn season in New York, and will continue to be popular as long as it is conducted as it has been since its inception.

By all odds the feature of yesterday's show was the jumping in the contest over six fences five feet high, which wound up the evening's programme. The prize winners and owners follow in the order named:

Saddle ponies, first prize, Princess, Joseph E. Widener; second, Margie, Adam Beck; third, Wasp, Miss Martha Cameron. Harness horses, first prize, Sundown, James Stellman; second, Storm King, Mrs. John Robinson; third, Flash, Thomas M. Hilliard. Municipal police horses, T. Sheehan, F. Fink, M. Vogt. Jumping five feet, first prize, American Beauty, Ralph Pulitzer; second, Chappie, J. Halloway; third, Perfection, Mrs. Francis D. Beard.

THE CITIZENS' MOVEMENT.

No one who is acquainted with the political conditions that prevail in Plainfield will deny that the backbone of the independent movement, aimed to effect the defeat of the regular Republicans in the approaching city election, is furnished in the middle and poorer classes, as measured in the value of the world's goods. The public meeting held in Washington Hall last night was composed principally of those classes, but it was none the less representative of an honest and substantial feeling that will increase in earnestness and influence as the candidates and issues of the campaign are brought to the foreground. But while it is the moderately well-to-do people who are taking the initiative to combat the present official regime there is withal a very large number of wealthier citizens who are also determined privately to oppose the Republicans, but who, for one reason or another—many of them conceived in social amenties or a disinclination to openly identify themselves with a movement that has for its object of attack the regular organization of a party which they have had a life-long affiliation with—declined to add strength to the movement by personal attendance. Considering this condition, and also the fact that there was no urgent means undertaken to bring out a large crowd, the number present must certainly indicate that the movement is destined to be something more than a passing expression that will waver and fall from lack of support before it can do injury to the element whose intended purpose it is to relegate.

It seems that through the foreclosure of a mortgage T. C. Platt, the Tioga county boss of Republican politics of pretty much all of New York State, has become the owner of a farm in Middlesex county. It is the barest possibility that the trend of recent political events in and about the metropolis has so picqued the political warrior that he will become a commuting resident of this glorious commonwealth. If he should follow such an inclination in the future we warn the doughty Thomas that in Middlesex county he will find men versed in political ways quite as smart as himself.

World's W. C. T. U. Convention.

According to the calendar arranged for the Thursday afternoon meetings in the W. C. T. U. rooms, the parliamentary drill held yesterday was largely attended by an attentive and interested audience, most of whom took part in the proceedings. After the usual practice Mrs. T. H. Tomlinson told of her visit as delegate to the World's W. C. T. U. convention, recently held in Toronto, over which Miss Frances Willard presided, and with her on the platform were the representative women from Iceland, Syria, Armenia, Japan and India, each dressed in the native costume of her country.

The three-year old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros. of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—The curbing has been set on the city side of Sycamore avenue and the avenue is gradually getting into shape. When completed this will, without a doubt, be one of the finest avenues in the city or borough.

THEATRICAL.

Mark Twain's "Pudd'nhead Wilson," which comes to Music Hall tomorrow night, will no doubt bring out one of the largest and most refined audiences of the season. It is the No. 1 company that we are to have and Edwin Mayo will play the title role. He has the support of the same excellent cast that played in the piece during its long run at the Herald Square Theatre, New York city. There are many who saw this play in New York and many a time and "oft" has Manager Edwards been asked the question, when are you going to give us "Pudd'nhead Wilson?"

Those Philharmonic Concerts.

The subscriptions to these concerts are being received in a very encouraging number, and it would be very pleasant to the promoter if those who intend subscribing will do so promptly in order to facilitate arrangements. These concerts will be up to the standard heretofore maintained by the New York Philharmonic Club. Subscriptions will be received at Armstrong's Pharmacy.

CADETS DRILLED.

High School Boys Improving in Their Military Tactics.

The bracing weather yesterday afternoon seemed to have its effect on the Plainfield High School Cadets. They held their regular weekly drill on the second floor of the Whittier building, during the afternoon, under the direction of Captain George F. Edwards, and the cadet company made an unusually fine appearance. There seems to be more interest than before in the corps and all the boys showed a tendency to improve their work. The command made an excellent showing, with the promise of a finer one with more practice. The company has greatly improved over last year and has a better knowledge of the tactics.

The commissioned officers were selected some time ago, but the positions of the sergeants and all but the first two corporals have been vacant. Yesterday they were appointed. Joseph DeForeest was appointed first sergeant, Henry Dean second sergeant, William A. Fisher third sergeant and Fred Overton fourth sergeant. The corporals are as follows: First, Abbott Brainerd; second, Roy Radford; third, Roy Fosgate; fourth, Howard Mason.

THE SENIORS ORGANIZE.

Also Select a Pretty Design for Their Class Emblem.

The seniors at the Plainfield High School are already beginning to think of the graduation day, now only seven months away. In the meantime they have completed their organization which was started two years ago. The officers for the last year have been selected and the very important positions for the class spread filled. The presidency was given to Henry W. Brower, who is also captain of the High School Cadet Corps. The other officers are vice president, Miss Caroline Kampman; secretary, Miss Constance L. Patton; treasurer, Henry A. Pierce, Jr.; prophet, Rhey T. Snodgrass; poet, Miss Bessie L. Hunt; historian, Miss Adele Hope Kirby.

The design for the class pin has been selected and the pins are expected in a few days. The design is a crescent of gold with the figures "98" on it. The letters, "P. H. S." in blue enamel, connect the horns of the crescent. The class colors are blue and gold.

Miss Virgie Tunison will spend the winter at her home in Glen Gardner.

George Craig has returned from a few days visit with out-of-town relatives.

Miss Ethel Fenner, of Peapack, is visiting her sister, Mrs. Harry Swackhamer.

A business meeting of the Building and Loan Association was held last evening.

Employes of the Central Railroad were busy yesterday clearing up the station park.

Thomas Robinson, of Newark, spent Wednesday evening with friends on North avenue.

It is reported that at an early date the Dickson property on North avenue will be traded for Somerville property.

Rev. Mr. Peterson will have charge of the union meeting to be held in the Seventh-Day Baptist church this evening.

Mrs. W. H. Cole and Mrs. George Craig, who have been visiting relatives at East Stroudsburg, Pa., have returned home.

Adam Dealaman and A. N. Randolph are enjoying a two days hunting trip at Buttaville, Pa. They will probably come back with a large bag of game.

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Vail entertained a company of friends at their home last evening. The time was passed in the usual pleasant manner, and dancing was the feature.

Ludlow Frazee, who has just completed the work of painting the Presbyterian church, has received the contract to paint the interior and exterior of Alvah Gray's house on Washington avenue.

As yet the Dunellenites who were duped by John Powlison, who claimed to be a representative of Mr. Langhorne, of Plainfield, have heard nothing of his whereabouts, and they hardly think that they will.

December 6th is the time set when all objectors to the trolley can meet and offer their objections if any they have. The Brunswick Traction Company desire to select as their route through the borough, North avenue, from one end to the other, and it is understood that they have agreed to macadamize the street from curb to curb.

SCOTCH PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Twilight Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., meets tonight.

The Lincoln High School football team defeated the team of St. Francis Xavier Academy, of New York city, on the North Broad street grounds by the score of 8 to 0 yesterday afternoon.

Rev. Father Smith, pastor of Holy Trinity Roman Catholic church, is again able to attend to his pastoral duties in Westfield after an illness of several weeks in the Newark hospital.

Central Council, No. 131, Jr. O. U. A. M., will give its members and their friends a musical and literary entertainment in the lodge rooms tonight. Members from neighboring councils will be present and short addresses on the good of the order will be delivered by former District Deputy Stamets and some of the visiting brethren. At the close of the entertainment refreshments will be served.

A serious fire was narrowly averted in the residence of George E. Richardson, on Summit avenue, last night. Mrs. Richardson was passing from the parlor to the hall with a lamp in her hand, when the fringe of the portieres upon the parlor doors caught fire and in a few seconds they were ablaze. The flames next caught the lace curtains, and threatened to spread still further. Mrs. Richardson's cries attracted the attention of her husband, and he tore the burning curtains from their hangings and succeeded in beating out the flames. The loss was about $25.

Lincoln Real Estate.

FOR SALE—At a great sacrifice, a contract of sale for lots at Lincoln, N. J. Address L. R., Babcock Building. 17-12t

The above advertisement appeared in Thursday's Plainfield paper. A firm of architects, of Plainfield, purchased two lots at Lincoln ninety days ago on monthly payments, for which we have their bond and agreement. They have notified our company in writing that they are unable to carry out their contract. I have notified them to call at our office and get all money paid on said lots and be released from obligation, and I will immediately sell said lots to another party at an advanced price. This is published in The Press so that all can see it as we are prepared to pay an advance price on all contracts for sale of lots that have been made at Lincoln to this date and this proves that there must be some object in publishing the above except to getting out of a contract at a sacrifice.

The Plainfield Press purchased a lot on Lincoln Boulevard—for which we will sell same on or before May 1st, 1895, at forty per cent. advance on price paid for same, provided they desire to dispose of same.

Yours truly,
New Jersey Mutual Realty Co.

President.

The BALDNESS PROBLEM.

People who find themselves growing up through their hair ought to be prompt in the use of a remedy. It is far easier to prevent baldness than to cure it. But not all people who are bald are hopelessly so. It all depends on the amount of vitality remaining in the hair bulbs. There is one sure way of finding out whether a new growth can be started. Try

"MECHANIC" ANSWERS "REPUBLICAN"

A Correspondent Who Detects Some Faults of City Government.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—In reference to "Republican's" remarks in regard to what he designates as "disgruntled taxpayers" holding a public meeting to denounce our "public spirited" Councilmen for improving and keeping clean the streets, for giving the city a sewer system to prevent sickness and pestilence, for granting a trolley franchise, for a water supply, let me say a few words in regard to keeping the streets clean. Seventh street is now clean, or ought to be, as the street cleaning department was devoting its time to that end last Saturday, and burning leaves in front of the Country Clubhouse, and violating a city ordinance at the same time. But look at West Front street! From Grant avenue out it is like a ploughed field. And the sewer system will be fully aired in the courts next month. One of the grievances is that it is breeding sickness in the neighborhood where it is located. Who is to pay for the law suits? Will it be our "public spirited" Councilmen who ignored the petition signed by a great many taxpayers in the West End to locate the beds somewhere else or take the sewage to tide water?

And as for the trolley franchise, most of the taxpayers along West Front street signed at least three petitions to the Council, begging them to grant the company a franchise. And the water supply does not belong to the city. That was handed over to a monopoly.

Now the commuters. We want all we can get to locate here, but who will come here and take up property when taxes are rising and the city likely to go deeper in debt, as it is now going under the rule of our "public spirited Councilmen?" How nicely "Republican" evaded answering the question asked by "Citizen," whether or not he approved the appropriation which was made to the Library, while the hospital has to depend to a great extent on the charity of the people.

These few years back the mechanic has, through dull times, been deprived of at least 20 per cent. of his income, but the taxes on his little home (which is a struggle to raise at best) have been increased and the wild career of extravagance goes merrily on. The News said there are but two months in the year when there is anything like busy times in the tax collector's office. Yet that official receives $2,500 as salary for that two months work. It is money wrung from the taxpayers And he is not the only one by any means whom the citizens are talking about. The News' warning to the Republicans to take a decided stand on this question is too late, as it is already an issue with the citizens.

And as for throwing dust in the eyes of the voters. We have not the dust, and by referring to the local papers published after last city election he can see what side used the dust. I have not the least doubt but the shopkeepers know who spend their money here or in New York; whether it is the townspeople proper or the commuters. So that argument won't work with them. Mechanic.

Joseph Alward Dead.

Former Judge Joseph Alward, of Elizabeth, died of heart disease yesterday at his home in Catherine street. He was in his seventieth year and the oldest member but one of the Union county bar. He was a graduate of Princeton College, and had held the offices of City Attorney, Alderman and Superintendent of Public Schools. He was the first Judge of the Union County District Court. Judge Alward was a lifelong Democrat.

THE SUNDAY LESSON.

INTERNATIONAL SERIES, WITH COMMENTARY BY DR. STEARNS.

Golden Text:—Be strong in the Lord and in the power of his might.—Eph. vi: 10.

Nov. 21, 1897.

10. "Finally, my brethren, be strong in the Lord and in the power of His might." The first three chapters set forth our salvation, or rather His salvation, in all its fullness. Then we are taught in the following chapters what our walk in the Lord, or our daily life, should be, and now in the verses of our lesson we are taught how to do it and to adorn the doctrine of God our Saviour in all things (Titus ii, 10). My readers and hearers must be very familiar with Eph. ii, 10, but it only just comes to me now to associate with it Titus ii, 10. Thank the Lord for the association. May the words grip us with power!

11. "Put on the whole armor of God, that ye may be able to stand against the wiles of the devil." There is a real personal devil, the enemy of God and man, at present the prince of the power of the air, the prince of this world, whose prison will soon be the bottomless pit and his final abode the lake of fire and brimstone (John xiv. 30; Eph. ii, 2; Rev. xx, 2, 3, 10).

12. "For we wrestle not against flesh and blood." The demons who do the devil's work are not all visible in the form of men or women. The air is often full of them. They come at us when we are weak and alone and fairly storm us with their evil thoughts and lies. They come at us in the house of God, and when we read His word, and even when on our knees in prayer. How shall we know them? They are the opposite of all that is of God.

13. "Wherefore take unto you the whole armor of God, that you may be able to withstand in the evil day, and, having done all, to stand." One of the first and greatest things is to understand that as we are saved freely by His grace (Eph. ii, 8; Rom. iii, 24), so we stand continually in the same grace (Rom. v, 1, 2) or undeserved favor of God. Unless we see clearly that all our salvation from first to last is wholly underserved on our part, and is ours only in and through Jesus Christ and His finished work, satan will get many an advantage over us.

14. "Stand, therefore, having your loins girt about with truth and having on the breastplate of righteousness." Our Lord said, "I am the Truth," and He is also made unto us righteousness (John xiv, 6; I Cor. i, 30; II Cor. v, 21), so that when we have learned to see no one but "Jesus only," to "run with patience looking unto Jesus, and ever to consider Him (Math. xvii, 8; Heb. xii, 2, 3), we have learned the secret of standing firmly.

15. "And your feet shod with the preparation of the gospel of peace." The feet shod also takes us back to the Passover verse (Ex. xii, 11), for we can do nothing and are asked to do nothing till we are safe under the blood. We are also reminded by Isa. lii, 7, "How beautiful upon the mountains are the feet of him that bringeth good tidings, that publisheth peace." The first thing is to be made nigh by the blood of Christ, "for He is our peace" (Eph. ii, 13, 14). Then have the mind staid on Him in perfect peace (Isa xxvi, 3). Then carry the tidings of peace through the blood of His cross (Col. i, 20) to every creature.

16. "Above all taking the shield of faith, wherewith ye shall be able to quench all the fiery darts of the wicked one." Many trials are very fiery, but none the less precious as tokens of His approval who gives us fellowship with Himself (I Pet. iv, 12, 13). He has not promised to keep us out of the fire, but to be with us in it, even as with Daniel's friends (Isa. xliii, 2; Dan. iii, 25), and if He can be better seen in the fire with us shall we not praise Him even for that? But as to these fiery darts of the devil which he hurls at us, there is not one that need touch us to harm us, for all may be quenched by a quick and firm "I believe God" (Acts xxvii, 25). Confidence in God reliance upon His Word will do it every time.

17. "And take the helmet of salvation, and the sword of the Spirit, which is the word of God." In I Thess, v, 8, it is written, "For an helmet, the hope of salvation." This is the completion of our salvation at His coming, which is every day nearer than when we believed (Rom. xiii, 11). The blessed hope that purifies (I John iii, 3), for then we shall be like Him, even as to our bodies, for we shall see Him as He is (Phil. iii, 21; Rom. viii, 23). From first to last all the knowledge and comfort of this come to us through His word, which is forever settled in heaven and true from the beginning (Ps. cxix, 89, 160).

18. "Praying always with all prayer and supplication in the Spirit, and watching thereunto with all perseverance and supplication for all saints." Our Lord spent whole nights in prayer. David and Daniel prayed many times a day (Ps. lv, 17; Dan. vi, 10). We should pray without ceasing (I Thess. v, 17). It is possible to be ever in an attitude of prayer, constantly communing with Him about everything. He who prays honestly will expect answers and watch for them as truly as the boy who throws his ball into the air watches for it to return to him.

19. "And for me that utterance may be given unto me, that I may open my mouth boldly to make known the mystery of the gospel." He said to the Corinthians, "In everything ye are enriched by Him, in all utterance and in all knowledge" (I Cor. i, 5). And yet recognizing his own weakness and the reality of the wiles of the devil, he asks prayer for Himself that he may have utterance and boldness for Christ.

20. "For which I am an ambassador in bonds; that therein (margin thereof) I may speak boldly as I ought to speak." The Lord's messengers with the Lord's message are supposed to have no fear of man, nor of the face of man, yet many are very weak, and not many seem to declare, without thought of man's frown or favor, the whole council of God. Many ministers seem to know little or nothing of the mystery of which Paul has just spoken, and more fully in chapter iii, the mystery hid from the beginning of the world and specially revealed to Paul; that during the postponement of the kingdom God is gathering from Jews and gentiles a body for Christ.

CORPORATION NOTICE.

SEWER ASSESSMENTS

SECOND NOTICE.

The subscriber, the Collector of Taxes of the City of Plainfield, hereby gives notice, pursuant to Section 25 of the Act of the Legislature entitled "An act to provide for drainage and sewerage in cities of this state," approved April 7, 1890, and the amendments thereof and supplements thereto, that unless the assessments hereinafter specified, with interest thereon at the rate of one per centum per month, and all costs and fees, shal be paid to the subscriber at his office, No. 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J., within thirty days after the first publication of this (being the second) notice, the subscriber will on Tuesday, the 7th day of December, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven, at his said office, No. 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J., between the hours of one and five o'clock in the afternoon, that is to say, at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day, proceed to make sale o' and sell at public auction the several parcels of land and real estate upon which the said assessment shall remain due and unpaid, being those hereinafter paticularly described, for the lowest term of years, but in no case exceeding fifty years, for which any person will take the same and pay the amount of such assessment, with the interest thereon as aforesaid, and all costs and fees, including the expense of advertisement and sale.

The assessments above referred to are the assessments made by the Commissioners of Assessments of the City of Plainfield heretofore appointed under the ordinance entitled "An ordinance to provide for the appointment of Commissioners of Assessments under Chapter CXLI, P. L. 1895," approved April 25th, 1896, containing the assessments of damages and benefits or expenses, as the case may be, for the making and const ucting of sewers and appurtenances (including house connections), under and by virtue of the Act of the Legislature entitled "An act to provide for drainage and sewerage in cities of this State," approved April 7th, 1890, and acts amendatory thereof and supplementa thereto, and ordinances of said city entitled "An ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved July 25th, 1894; and a further ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage, approved June 21st, 1895, and the ordinance hereinabove first mentioned and other proceedings of the Common Council had under said acts of the Legislature, said assessment and the report of said commissioners covering the whole of said system of sewerage already completed, that is to say: the making and constructing of sewers and appurtenances (including house connections) in streets and parts of streets mentioned in said report, and the constru tion of sewerage disposal beds and appurtenances, which said report and assessment were ratified and confirmed by the Common Council of said City on the twenty-eight day of December, A. D. 1896, and a brief abstract of said assessments showing the name of the owner or owners, when known, a brief description of said lands and real estate, and the amount of unpaid assessments due thereon, is as follows, (the maps referred to in said descriptions being that certain set of maps numbered from 1 to 24, both inclusive, and from 101 to 123, both inclusive, each map being marked "Sewer Construction Assessment Map, dated Dec. 7, 1896," and filed in the office of the Collector of Taxes December 7, 1896, and referred to by said Commissioners of Assessments in their said report and assessment.)

Queen of Spain Has Pardoned the Competitor Prisoners.

CREW SAIL FOR NEW YORK

Minister Woodford Notifies the State Department of Release—Friendly Action of Spain to Preserve Peace with Uncle Sam.

Washington, Nov. 19.—A cable dispatch was received at the State Department yesterday from Minister Woodford at Madrid announcing that the Queen of Spain had pardoned the Competitor prisoners, and that they had been released at Havana.

No explanation has been made of the seeming anomaly of pardoning men who have not been tried, convicted and sentenced, but inasmuch as the release of the prisoners was the main thing desired, and it has been accomplished, the State Department is not inclined to be overcurious or anxious regarding mere form of expression. The discharge of the prisoners has been expected by this Government for several days, as it had been broadly intimated to Secretary Sherman.

Great gratification is expressed at the Department over this additional proof of the desire of Spain to maintain amicable relations with the United States. It will remove an irritating factor in the situation, and enable Congress and the Administration to consider Cuban and Spanish relations in a much calmer state of mind than would have been possible had the unfortunate prisoners been detained.

Soon after Minister Woodford's cablegram reached the State Department one was received from Consul-General Lee which caused some surprise. It stated that the Competitor prisoners had been turned over to him by the Spanish authorities in Havana last Monday, and that they would leave for New York yesterday. Why Gen. Lee did not communicate this fact at once the department officers are at a loss to say. The Competitor prisoners were the last Americans in prison in Cuba.

The men known as the Competitor prisoners are five in number. They are Alfredo Laborde, William Gildea, Ona Melton, William Leavitt and Charles Barnett. The men are all American citizens except Barnett, who is a British subject.

The Competitor, an American schooner, was captured on April 25, 1896, near Berracos, San Cayetano, Cuba. She is the only vessel that has ever been captured by the Spanish patrol. Laborde, who was the master of the schooner, and the four others were charged with landing arms for the insurgents. Capt. Laborde asserted that twenty-four men whom he took on board at Key West as passengers for Lemon City, Fla., had seized the vessel and sailed her to Cape Sable, where they took on board twenty-three men and munitions of war, and then sailed for Cuba.

The expedition was landed, but the five men named were captured. Orders were given that these men be tried by summary court-martial. Consul-General Ramon O. Williams protested against this proceeding, and declared that it was in violation of the Cushing protocol agreed upon by the Governments of the United States and Spain on Jan. 12, 1877.

Our Thanks for the Settlement.

Madrid, Nov. 19.—At a meeting of the Cabinet yesterday Prime Minister Sagasta read a letter from United States Minister Woodford expressing the satisfaction and gratitude of the American Government at the settlement of the Competitor and other questions.

OUR RELATIONS WITH SPAIN.

Havana Paper Declares United States Is Disguised as a Friend.

Havana, Nov. 18.—In a leading editorial La Lucha refers to the alleged cordiality of relations between the United States and Spain. "Such cordiality, however," the newspaper avers, "is no obstacle for the United States not to find the proper means to prevent filibustering expeditions from being fitted out in her territory in aid of the enemies of Spain's sovereignty. This could never occur should the pretended cordiality between the two nations actually exist.

"While Spain yields to every demand of the American Government and permits the United States to intervene one way or another in Spain's own affairs regarding Cuba, does the United States behave in a similar manner towards Spain? We believe not, since the Cuban insurgents are able to dispatch as many expeditions as they can organize despite the vigilance of American warships, which never budge until after it is too late for them to catch the filibusters.

"From all this we must infer either that the United Stated is impotent to act otherwise, or that the relations between the Washington and Madrid Cabinets are not really sincere. Whether it be the one or the other, our opinion is that Spain has no interest whatever in maintaining relations of any kind with a nation which systematically tends to our humiliation.

"It is much better to have the enemy right in front, than have him at home disguised as a friend."

President's Message to Be Lengthy

Washington, Nov. 29.—The President is busy with his message and is devoting several hours each day to its preparation, which will be necessary in order to insure its completion two weeks from Monday, when Congress convenes. Heretofore the President has tried to see callers as usual, but he has found it necessary to refuse to be interrupted.

It was stated yesterday that the message of the President would be quite a lengthy document. The President will have many topics of public importance to discuss, and, although he is unusually concise in his statements, the multiplicity of subjects to be discussed will, it is thought, increase the length of the message somewhat beyond Presidential messages in recent years.

Rockefeller Hall Dedicated To-Day

Poughkeepsie, Nov. 19.—The Rockefeller Hall, given by John D. Rockefeller to Vassar College, and which cost $100,000, will be dedicated to-day. The address will be delivered by Dr. G. Stanley Hall, of Worcester, Mass.

Equal Excellence and Reduced Price.

Equal excellence with a reduced price is making the American Brand of Beef Extract a popular one with all who have seen it. L. W. Randolph is to be the agent for the food preparation in this city, and he is now dispensing free samples to all who call at his store on West Front street. It compares very favorably with other brands, and those who have tried it pronounce it excellent in every respect. It comes in various sized jars which are on exhibition. Its price, which is considerably below that of the other good brands, makes it economical to the user. Miss Josephine Rose, of New York, is in charge of the exhibit and is very glad to dispense free samples of the extract.

Diamond Ring in a Cake.

The Children of Mary, of St. Joseph's church, repeated their entertainment last evening in Saengerbund Hall on Somerset street, and the hall was not large enough to accommodate those desiring to attend. The two most popular dancers in the Hornpipe dance were decided to be Miss Tiny Smith and Mr. Kane. The former was presented with a cake containing a diamond ring, and the latter was given a very large live rooster. The latter present caused considerable fun among those in the audience. The success of the entertainment is assured and the receipts of the church will no doubt be large.

Entertained in Honor of a Friend.

Miss Mabel Maxson entertained a number of friends at her home on West Fourth street, last evening, in honor of her friend, Miss Clara Wells, of Leonardsville. It was a salamagundi party, at which Miss Luella Clawson and Frank H. Smith were the most successful. George Fuller succeeded in winning the booby prize. There were thirty present. After enjoying the refreshments that followed the awarding of the prizes, the guests spent the remainder of the evening in dancing.

Coats Weren't Satisfactory.

The case of Creede & Goodman, of New York, against Policeman George W. Lunger, to recover the value of a number of storm coats furnished policemen in this city, will be tried in Justice Mosher's court this afternoon. The claim of Lunger is that the coats were not as guaranteed, and that he attempted to return them, but the plaintiffs would not take them back. City Judge DeMeza is attorney for the plaintiffs, and S. S. Swackhamer appears for the defendants.

Thanksgiving Services.

The usual Thanksgiving services among the churches will be held next week Thursday morning. At the Park Avenue Baptist church the discourse will be delivered by Rev. Dr. Main, pastor of the Seventh-Day Baptist church. The other service will be held at the Presbyterian church and Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, pastor of the First M. E church, will preach.

—The great sale of a manufacturer's stock of men's and boys' gloves is now in full blast at Crane & Clark's hat store.

STORY TO BE ILLUSTRATED.

A Novel Entertainment Arranged by the Epworth Leaguers.

A novel sociable is being planned for this evening by the social committee of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church. It will be known as a "lunch box" social but that by no means expresses all the plans for the entertainment of the members. There is to be a series of tableaux to illustrate a story that James R. Joy is to read aloud. Then all the men at the social will be furnished with a quantity of beans with which they will proceed to bid for different boxes of lunch, the contents of which are unknown. With the box comes the young woman who prepared it and the purchaser and the maker will eat the contents together. All the young women of the League are requested to be on hand with their box of lunch.

STILL THE NUMBER GROWS.

Three More Persons Confess Their Sins at the Revival Meetings.

At the service last night in Grace M. E. church three more souls were added to the already large list of converts.

The people of this church are alive to their opportunity. Never in the history of the church was such an earnest spirit manifested; never such willingness to work and to lose sight of self.

Tonight at 7:30, before the regular service begins, the pastor will meet in the church all those who are to join on probation next Sunday, and those who have not yet decided upon a church home.

Donations for the Pastor.

Last evening Rev. J. E. Groves, pastor of the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church, was pleasantly surprised by the members of his church. He was found at his home and invited to go to the church, and when he arrived he found a supply of useful articles for his house. It was one of the regular donation affairs that always makes the heart of the pastor glad. He thanked one and all for their kindness, and after a social time was passed the members assisted Rev. Mr. Groves in carrying the goods to his home. Rev. Mr. Mitchell acted as master of ceremony and presented the goods to Mr. Groves, and the latter in reply expressed his appreciation to the donors.

Fanwood's New Hose House Opened.

The Fanwood Fire Company opened its new hose house last night with a dance. The event proved a very fashionable one, and the society people of the township attended in good numbers. In the intermission between the dances refreshments were served under the management of a committee consisting of A. L. Hall, George Renaud, A. Gifford and P. B. Hall. The reception committee was H. P. Robinson, George E. Hall, Wm. H. Hoar, H. N. Stevens and J. H. L. Todd.

An Old Conductor Dead.

The death of Isaac Munn, of Jersey City, occurred this morning after an illness lasting about two weeks. He was about 50 years of age, and for the past thirty years he has been a conductor on the Central Railroad, in fact he was one of the oldest conductors in the service. He had charge of the passenger train going west at 9:54 a. m., and returning at 5:15 p. m. He was one of the best-known employees of the Central and a large circle of friends will mourn his death.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

PERSONAL GOSSIP OF INTEREST TO CITY AND BOROUGH.

In Brief are Told the Daily Doings of Many Residents and Visitors Who Go and Come in a Social and Business Way.

Mrs. Jaegers has moved from Linclon place to West Front street.

Job Coddington, of Somerville, is the guest of relatives and friends in the borough.

Miss Mamie Smith, of Westfield, has accepted a position at White's dry goods store.

Mrs. Charles Conover, of Elmwood place, is confined to the house with an attack of the grip.

Mrs. Dunham, of Madison avenue, is able to be out again after a long and severe illness.

Miss Sadie Blimm, of Somerset street, has returned from a visit with out-of-town friends.

Thomas Robinson, of Newark, has returned home after a visit with friends in Plainfield.

Miss Ella Conkey, formerly of Plainfield, is the guest of friends and acquaintances in this city.

Mrs. Carman, of Elmwood place, has recovered from her severe illness, and is able to go out again.

Miss May E. Howlett, of Elmwood place, has returned from a pleasant visit with Brooklyn friends.

Charles Kiederling, of East Front street, was able to be out today for the first since his serious illness. He is now improving and expects soon to regain his former health.

Fred H. Freeman, of Sandford avenue, who was taken ill with pneumonia last week, has successfully passed through the critical part of his illness and is on a fair way to recovery.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—9 cents yard—One lot Stephens twilled crash, tomorrow, Saturday, at VanEmburgh's.

—Fruit and fresh vegetables of all kinds can be had at Neuman Bros., the Watchung avenue grocers.

—George Murray, of the borough, was fined $5 this morning by Recorder Thomas, on a charge of being drunk and disorderly last evening. Marshal Wise made the arrest.

—Doane & Edsall say that never since they have sold shoes have they given such extraordinary good value as just now. Manufacturers are anxious to move their surplus stocks, and under the strains of unusual competition the retailer is enabled to supply his need at very advantageous prices, and Doane & Edsall say that they are giving their patrons the benefit of their close buying all the time. See "cut" price on men's shoes in their new ad in another column.

Junior Superintendents Met.

A meeting of the Junior Endeavor superintendents of Union county was held in the Y. M. C. A. building yesterday afternoon. The meeting was in charge of the county superintendent, Mrs. W. S Lowry, of this city. About twenty others were present. A paper on "How to Teach the Juniors to Live in the World and Not of It" by Miss Florence Bogert, of Roselle, was read. A discussion on the same topic followed.

Big Lumber Man Fails.

Oshkosh, Wis., Nov. 19.—Henry Sherry, one of the most extensive lumber manufacturers of this State, has made an assignment of all his property for the benefit of his creditors. The several corporations which Sherry controlled are as follows: The Ingersoll Land and Lumber Company, doing business at Eland; the Mineral Lake Lumber Company, Mineral Lake; the Sherry Lumber Company of Neenah, the Sutton Manufacturing Company, the Park Falls Paper and Pulp Company and the Park Falls Lumber Company. Sherry estimates his debts and those of the associate companies at a little less than $1,000,000, and thinks that the assets are enough to pay all the liabilities, if judiciously handled.

Must Bow to Kaiser.

Berlin, Nov. 19.—The Kaiser has decided to open the coming session of the Reichstag on Nov. 30 in person by reading the speech from the throne himself, instead of deputizing the Chancellor to deliver it, as is customary.

The Emperor hopes by taking this course to emphasize and make impressive the passage by the Reichstag of German's naval policy. He will not submit to a rejection of his plans, as was the case at the last session.

British to Occupy Kassala.

Cairo, Nov. 19.—Parsons Pasha starts for Suakim on Tuesday next, from which place he will embark a battalion of infantry and detachments of artillery engineers and camel corps, altogether about 1,500 men, for Masowa, from which place this British force will go to Kassala, in order to take over that place from the Italians, according to the agreement on the subject arrived at between Great Britain and Italy a little more than a month ago.

Reduction in Interest Rates.

Chicago, Nov. 19.—Bankers here are being advised by their New York correspondents that a reduction in interest rates paid on the balances of outside banks is likely to become a common concurrence of the banks of that city within a very few days. Chicago banks are to follow the example of New York.

HOT MEAL COLDLY NAMED

KLONDIKE SUPPER WAS A SUCCESSFUL CHURCH AFFAIR.

Given Under the Direction of a Class in Trinity Reformed Church to Assist the Finances of the Society of the Church.

The rooms over the Misses Gorsline's store on West Front street presented an attractive appearance last evening when Class No. 1 of Trinity Reformed church Sunday school gave what was termed a "Klondike Supper." The name was misleading in one particular, and that was the supper was just opposite to what one would expect to find in the Klondike region. It was a hot supper, and consisted of such substantials as clam chowder, baked beans, ginger bread, apple sauce and all the necessary side dishes.

One thing that added much to the affair was the cheerful and home-like appearance of the rooms. They were prettily decorated, the prevailing color being yellow, as a symbol of gold, while much of the table-ware was of a golden hue. Some of those in charge of the supper made use of the golden colors in their attire.

In the large front room there was the supper table. Between the appointed hours of 6 and 10 o'clock the waitresses were constantly kept busy looking after their patrons.

The room directly back of the supper room was used as a reception parlor, and here a musical box, kindly loaned by Edward White, entertained those who were obliged to wait their turn. Before one could enter the reception room they were compelled to meet E. J. Cooley, who, in his usual suave manner, collected the necessary twenty-five cents.

Another attractive room adjoined the supper room, and here ice cream was served by the waitresses. The hallway was prettily decorated with yellow bunting. One could scarcely get lost with such a genial personage as E. E. Anthony to guide them into the mysteries of the occasion.

The patronage accorded the affair was really encouraging to the members of the class, of which Mr. Anthony is the teacher, and the material assistance given in helping to raise money to furnish and build the new Sunday-school rooms of the church was most gratifying to all. Miss Nettie Randall was the efficient chairman and assisting her were: Mrs. E J. Cooley, Mrs. Scofield, Miss Martin, Miss Duboise, Miss Backer, Miss Swackhamer, Mrs. Ball, Mrs. Reighton, Mrs Lunger, Mrs. Watts, Mrs. Wikoff, Mrs. Swick, Miss Ward, Mrs. Townsend and Mrs. Culeen. Mr. Anthony and Rev. Cornelius Schenck gave their personal attention in seeing that everyone was looked after and properly cared for. The waitresses were: Miss Martha Anthony, Miss Bessie Martin and Miss Nettie Young. John Brooks, of Watchung avenue, who owns the building, donated the use of the rooms to the class who gave the supper.

An additional musical feature was the playing of the organette by Miss May Anthony.

A NOTABLE SPEAKER.

Arthur W. Milbury to Address a Plainfield Audience Tomorrow Night.

The people of Plainfield will be privileged to hear one of the most earnest advocates of Seth Low in the recent campaign in Greater New York at a special Thanksgiving service to be held in the Congregational church tomorrow night, beginning at 7:30 o'clock. Arthur W. Milbury, secretary of the Citizens' Union Lecture Bureau, is to be the speaker.

Mr. Milbury is one of the leaders in the great socialogical experiment that is now being conducted in New York and Brooklyn by the City and Suburban Homes Company. The object is to provide model tenement houses and individual family cottages that will be comfortable, sanitary and wholesome. The scheme is run on a strictly business basis and there is no element whatever of charity in the transaction.

Mr. Milbury's subject will be "Helping Men to Help Themselves," the work of the Industrial Christian Alliance of which he is also secretary. It will be workings of the latter organization that will be the subject of most of his remarks He will also touch on the others. The meeting is a special Thanksgiving meeting and he will draw comparisons between the conditions here and there.

"REPUBLICAN" IS SARCASTIC

SAYS "MECHANIC" TALKS LIKE LAWYER

Touches the Library Appropriation Very Lightly—The New System of Taxation.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—The thanks of the community are certainly due to "Mechanic." He talks like a lawyer. He shows evidence of careful study of city affairs. I appreciate his earnest arguments in defense of his home and friends. No one doubts but that he will be on hand early election day to deposit his vote in the ballot box for reform, as he sees it.

His claim that "the wild career of extravagance goes merrily on" is just the sort of reading one would expect to observe in the sensational "yellow journalism" of the day. But is it true?

The Library appropriation was extravagant, according to many citizens, Republicans as well as Democrats. The Councilmen at first tabled the matter, but upon reflection (?) during a short recess, when prominent city officials and citizens appeared in its interest, the vote was reconsidered and the appropriation was adopted.

As to the charge of unjust discrimination of assessments, which we now hear so much about, Mayor Fisk, with the aid of the Council, is going to inaugurate a new system. The new Board of Assessors will be more in touch with true valuation of property than has been the case heretofore. The wealthy classes may expect an increase of assessed valuations. The poor man's rights will be respected I have no doubt by his ward assessor, who will be better acquainted with his property than one man possibly could be that had the charge of the whole city.

In closing let me say that it is not a question of people being driven from town by high taxation. It is a fact that hundreds of new comers are making Plainfield their home, and there is every reason to believe that the city will increase greater than ever during the coming year. Close up the sewers, stop the trolley, let grass grow in the streets, return to pumps, discharge faithful and competent officials and return to the days when the city accounts were kept by poorly-paid officials in a slovenly manner on slips of paper, then only we may expect an exodus of our wealthy citizens! Plainfield may appear then like a "busted" boomer western city, and shopkeepers have to hunt all day for customers. But then "Mechanic" may have no taxes to pay—and perhaps no work. Will he be better off and happier?

NEARLY SEVENTY CONVERTED.

Great Success of Revivals—Four More Converted Last Night.

Few people in this city are aware of the magnitude of the work now being accomplished in Grace M. E. church. The addition of four in last night's meeting brings the number of conversions close to seventy.

Not only the church in which the meetings are held, but other churches in city and borough, have felt the influence of these meetings. Should several or more of these churches begin a similar series of meetings the whole town would be swept by a wave of spiritual interest, and Plainfield would have a thorough quickening of conscience.

There will be no service tonight. Tomorrow morning there will be baptism. reception of members and communion; and regular gospel service in the evening.

The Proposed County Trolley.

The committee appointed in pursuance of a resolution passed at a meeting of citizens held at the county court house September 30th last to investigate the matter of widening Westfield or North avenue from Elizabeth to Plainfield, and constructing a street railroad thereon by the county, is ready to report. A public meeting will be held at the court house, in the City of Elizabeth, Tuesday evening, November 30th, inst., at 8 o'clock, to receive and consider the report.

Big Bridge Awaits Small One.

It is considered that now would be a good time for the city to attend to their portion of Watchung avenue between the new bridge and Front street, before the weather gets too cold. On the borough side the avenue is completed and the job is a good one. The bridge will probably be opened next week for travel, providing the work on the small bridge over the raceway is completed.

Putting Down Sidewalks.

Already a great number of property owners on Watchung avenue have started to put down stone walks in front of their property. The Lutkins property at the corner of Watchung avenue and Harmony street has been greatly improved in this respect.

A CHURCH CONFERENCE.

NEW YORK AND NEW JERSEY SEVENTH-DAY BAPTISTS MEET.

Four Churches are Represented—No Important Business to be Transacted. Devotional Services Last Night and Today

The annual meeting of the Seventh-Day Baptist churches of New Jersey and New York city is now being held in this city in the Seventh-Day Baptist church. The churches represented are one in New York and four in this State, situated in this city, NewMarket, Shilo and Marlboro.

The first session was held last night in the form of a prayer meeting, led by Rev. Arthur E. Main, pastor of the church. Evangelist E. B. Saunders, of Milton, Wis., was to have led the meeting, but he has been detained by the illness of his wife, and has not yet reached here. The singing was led by D. E. Titsworth.

At 10:30 o'clock this morning the congregation and the visiting delegates assembled in the church and listened to an interesting sermon by Rev. G. H. F. Randolph, of Marlboro. The speaker's text was from Heb. XI, 6:—"But without faith, it is impossible to please God." Everybody wants to please God, he said, and the first step in pleasing Him is to find out what things he wishes us to do. God's revelations show at least four things that we must do to please Him. First we must accept salvation through Christ, then become laborers together with God to bring other souls into fellowship and reconciliation with Him; in the next place we must be obedient children and servants of God. The fourth thing necessary is faith, and without this we cannot accomplish any of the other three things.

In temporal life we anticipate and push out to prove our beliefs according to intelligent evidence. In religious life we also press out to prove the divine according to intelligent evidence. Unless we do this we cannot please God. It is also impossible for us to be successful workers and obedient children without faith. There are so many disheartening things unless these matters are looked at through the eyes of faith.

There will be a Sabbath-school session this afternoon at 3 o'clock and a Christian Endeavor meeting at 4 o'clock, and tonight at 7:45 there will be a meeting addressed by Miss May Dixon, on the subject of "Junior Christian Endeavor Work," and also by Miss Lizzie Fisher, on "Primary Sabbath-school Work."

NOTED SALVATIONISTS.

Lieut.-Col. Brewer to Speak in Various Meetings Tomorrow.

Lieutenant Col. Wm. Brewer, who is to be in this city tonight and tomorrow, has been connected with the Salvation Army for several years. He has held many important positions, among them the command of New England, with headquarters at Boston, and the command of the Northwestern Division, with headquarters at Chicago. He is well known throughout the country, having spoken in many of the leading churches and halls. A welcome demonstration will be given him at the Salvation Army Hall this evening. He will also preside at their 11 o'clock service tomorrow morning and at their 3 o'clock service in the afternoon. At 4:15 he will address the meeting at Y. M. C. A. Hall, subject "The Young man and his life." Tomorrow evening he will occupy the pulpit at the First Baptist church, subject, "Triumphs of the Cross."

Inspected the Machinery.

John Dalziel, principal of the Plainfield Academy, gave a number of his scholars a treat last Thursday by taking them to the Pond Tool Works where they were extended the courtesies of the employes who were willing to show the young boys everything about this large institution. The visit proved to be a great object lesson to the boys and they were intensely interested in what they saw. In the foundry they spent an hour and watched with interest the pouring of a casting thirty feet in length.

Entertained the Sisters.

The members of Minerva Temple, No. 4, Rathbone Sisters, were entertained last evening at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Huntington on Pearl street. All enjoyed themselves in the usual happy manner, after which refreshments were served.

IT IS AN UNFOLDING LIFE

REV. A. C. NICKERSON THUS DEFINES "EVOLUTION" IN A LECTURE.

It Is Not a Fact That Has Burst Upon the World Suddenly, But Was Long Ago Foreseen and Foretold, He Declares.

A good sized audience gathered in All Souls' church last evening to listen to a lecture on "Evolution," by the pastor of the church, Rev. A. C. Nickerson. The lecture was the introductory one of a series of six which are to be given upon the same subject under the auspices of the Woman's Alliance of the church.

Evolution, the speaker said, is not a fact which has burst upon the world suddenly. Superficial persons think that the theory sprang full-armed from the brain of Charles Darwin, when in reality thinkers had been preparing the way for it for centuries. Like all great, divine things, it was long ago foreseen and foretold. Scientists groped after it, asserted its possibility, and one after another they "died without the sight." Our own age has the honor to prove it and to illustrate it, showing the manner of its past and present working. Nearly all intelligent people everywhere now accept evolution as an establishod, universal truth.

Evolution means a gradual process of becoming, an unfolding life. A short history of the growth of the doctrine of evolution from Aristotle down to modern scientists was then given. The only writer who defended evolution in England from 1809 until 1858 was Robert Chambers, the author of "Vestiges of Creation." The book passed through many editions, and stimulated Charles Darwin to the production of his first great work upon the subject, "The Origin of Species." The scientist, Alfred Russell Wallace, made discoveries almost identical to those contained in Darwin's book, and had them in preparation at the same time that Darwin was producing "The Origin of Species." When the two men discovered the fact, they acted toward each other with great courtesy and fairness, neither one trying to steal from the other the honor due from their labors.

The great American scientist, Louis Agazzi, although believing in a theory of developement, was a life-long opponent of Darwin. He helped, however, to build up a true theory of evolution without believing what Darwin taught. He advanced the theory of embryology, which is one of the foundations of modern evolution.

The next lecture of the series will be delivered by Mr. Nickerson in the church one month hence.

MR. KINSMAN'S PLAN.

Blanks are Being Returned in Sufficient Numbers to Show its Popularity.

The blanks that have been sent out by the Republicans in the Third ward, in connection with the plan of making nominations suggested by F. E. Kinsman, are being returned in sufficient numbers, it is said, to give evidence of its practability and popularity. The idea of Mr. Kinsman, in brief, is this: The blanks, with sufficient spaces of the presentment of names for each of the offices to be filled at the convention, is sent to such voters as are selected for an expression. Accompanying the blank is a circular that explains that the person to whom the letter is addressed is to fill out the list and return it to the Republican executive committee of the Third ward by mail on or before Monday noon, November 22d, thus enabling them to intelligently and fairly consider opinions as to the selection of suitable candidates. The names of the individuals nominated by the greatest number will be printed on an official ballot to be voted at the coming primary to be held at the Casino, Tuesday, November 23d, at 8 p. m. In instances where there are a number of nominations necessary, as in the case of delegates to the city convention. and the three members of the city executive committee, names sent in by the largest number of persons will be placed at the head of the list, and those sent in by the next largest number in their order, until the list is complete. The name of no individual receiving less than five votes will be printed on the official ballot. Failure to send in sufficient names for nomination will leave the burden of the nomination on the executive committee as heretofore.

It is understood that anything that may be done in this direction will in no wise interfere with the independent action of the individual at the primary, or prevent oral nominations by persons who may or may not have filled out blanks.

None but official ballots, which will be furnished at the primary, will be allowed to be voted at the primary, but blank spaces will be left to be filled out as desired.

A Local Roustabout Charged With Stealing Comedian Johnson's $65 Overcoat.

While the "Trip to Coontown" company was in this city, William Johnson, the principal comedian, lost an overcoat, and Sam Conway, a local roustabout, was charged with the theft. Johnson appeared before Justice Newcorn and had a warrant issued for the arrest of Conway. Since that time Conway made himself scarce until last evening, when he was spotted by Patrolman Florence McCarthy near the corner of West Third and Liberty streets.

The patrolman called to Conway to halt, but the gentleman of a dusky hue could not see any necessity of obeying orders, and he took to his heels. The patrolman followed and gave a lively chase, but Conway was too swift for the bluecoat. The patrolman drew his revolver and discharged it several times, but it had no effect, as Conway disappeared in the darkness.

The overcoat is reported to be worth $65 and was taken from The Tuileries, on East Front street, while the company was stopping at that place. Conway has given the police considerable trouble before.

GAVE HIMSELF UP.

Brobonski Tired of Trying to Elude the United States Officers.

After lying in hiding for many weeks, Bartholami Brobonski, the Polander who was arrested at his home near Mt. Pleasant and escaped from the custody of a United States Marshal on his way to this city, gave himself up to the United States authorities at Trenton last Monday. He was released by Judge Kirkpatrick after furnishing bail to the amount of $500.

Brobonski came to this country some time ago for political reasons He is the heir to a large fortune in Poland, which he is trying to secure. He was charged recently by a Polish woman with opening a letter addressed to her and a warrant was issued for his arrest under the postal laws. His legal representatives are McNabb & Clark. Through a technical omission he was released without giving bail and departed for his home. He escaped from the officer sent to capture him, as already etated.

Brobonski will appear in the United States District Court November 29th for a hearing.

MR. AND MRS. WHITON AT HOME.

Friends Called to Pay Their Respects and Were Treated Hospitably.

Mr. and Mrs. John M. Whiton gave their first "at home" at their charming residence on Central avenue yesterday afternoon and evening. It was largely attended by their many friends. The interior of the house looked very pretty. The prevailing color of the decorations in the supper room was pink. Miss Nella Whiton assisted them in receiving the guests. They were assisted in the parlor and supper room by Mrs. Frederick Mead, Mrs. John Grey Foster, Miss Isabbele Arnold, Miss Julia S. Scribner, Mrs. Frank O. Herring, Mrs. Albert H. Atterbury and Mrs. George H. Goddard. The following young ladies assisted in serving the guests: The Misses May Tracy, Laura Lovell, Bessie Coe, Marjorie Coe and Lillian Erskine.

MUST PAY $10 FOR A JOKE.

Took a Bicycle Lamp in Fun But Was Accused of Stealing it.

George Kline and Joseph Connett, the two colored boys who pleaded non vult to the charge of stealing T. J. Carey's horses from his barn, came up for sentence at Elizabeth this morning. Judge McCormick sentenced them each to go to jail for five days.

Timothy Ingram was tried at Elizabeth yesterday for stealing a bicycle lantern from a wheel in front of Finlay's saloon. He pleaded not guilty and was acquitted. His companion, John B. Perey, pleaded guilty to the charge, explaining that he took the lamp for a joke. He was sentenced this morning to pay a fine of $10. The fine was paid.

GRANTED THE WRITS.

Watchung Avenue Assessments Heard in Supreme Court.

Chief Justice Magie heard argument at Trenton yesterday with reference to the North Plainfield assessments for the opening of Watchung avenue. Judge McCarter, of the firm of McCarter, Williamson & McCarter, appeared for the Durlachs, and Craig A. Marsh appeared for Sarah A. Coward and twenty-five or more other property-owners. The argument was made by Mr. Marsh and, at its conclusion, Chief Justice Magie said he would grant the writ in all the cases.

COULDN'T LOVE THREE.

LAUGHABLE PREDICAMENT THAT THE SWAINS BECAME INVOLVED IN.

Dramatic Action Seen in an Entertainment in Vincent Chapel—"The Three Lovers," a Poem, Acted out in Pantomime.

Something out of the usual run of entertainment was given at the sociable of the Epworth League of the First M. E. church, in Vincent chapel last evening. The entertainment consisted of a pantomime and a series of tableaux representing different advertisements.

James R. Joy acted as master of ceremonies. He first read a poem entitled "The Three Lovers," which was afterwardsacted out in pantomime. It was humorous and cleverly given. The platform was arranged to represent the interior of a country kitchen. Liakin Smith, impersonated by A. E. Meredith, and his good wife, Miss Elsie Horne, were seated in their easy chairs while their daughter, Bess, the belle of the country, essayed by Miss Bertha Jenkins, was cleaning up. Liakin stroked his grey beard, pointed out the time of day to his good spouse, and then they started for prayer meeting while the daughter remained at home.

A rising young lawyer, Frank MacDonald, nattily attired, entered and in pantomime began to make love. A heavy step was heard outside. Now it happened Farmer Smith had forbidden the young lawyer and his rival, a young farmer, Joe, to call on his daughter. Supposing it was the return of the old folks, Bess and her lover flew about trying to find a place to hide. At last the lawyer crawled into the big churn, which was represented by a barrel. The arrival was the other beau, the young farmer, Joe—Rhey T. Snodgrass. He smirked and smiled, while the audience laughed at his hayseed appearance. He proceeded to make love also, when another step sounded outside and he was hidden up the stairway.

It was Patrick, the hired man. Bert Steiner took the part. Patrick had been placed as guard over Bess to keep the two lovers away, but it happened he had a fondness for his charge himself. He was received in coldness.

Finally the old folks arrived and Mrs. Smith decided to churn at once. Her daughter begged and implored her not to while Pat laughed in anticipation. The cream was poured all over the hiding lawyer and then the good wife began to turn the handle. It was too much for the lawyer. He sprang out all covered with cream, upset the churn and chair and went hopping about the room with Farmer Smith and Patrick in pursuit. As he vanished through the place where the window ought to have been, Farmer Smith sank in a chair in front of the stairway. Now according to the poem, poor Joe, up in the attic, was supposed to roll off the beam and crash through the plaster ceiling. That was a little beyond the powers of the arrangers of the pantomime and Joe was allowed to roll down the stairs instead. He upset Farmer Smith as he fell. Then followed a scrimmage in which the enraged farmer threw chairs at the tumbling lover and both fell down and got up at the same time and added to the general confusion. With the disappearance of Joe behind the scenes the curtain was drawn.

A series of tableaux followed representing different advertisements. Those taking part were Miss Lizzie Stafford, Miss Cora Shepard, Miss Elsie Horne, Miss Edna French, Miss Persis Snodgrass, Rhey T. Snodgrass, and Frank French.

Then followed the auctioning of the lunch-boxes. Mr. Joy acted as auctioneer. The young men patrons ate their lunch with the donator of the box and the rest of the evening passed pleasantly.

The committee in charge consisted of Miss Persis Snodgrass, chairman, Miss Emma Tantum and Miss Bertha Whitney.

A Young Bicycle Thief.

A fourteen year-old lad, named George Cole, stole a ladies' Crawford bicycle at Morristown, Wednesday, and disappeared. The police of that city have offered a reward for information regarding the wheel. It was an 1897 wheel, No. 138,470. As the lad had several friends in Plainfield, it is supposed that he started for this city. He is short, stout, and has blue eyes and light hair.

Inspecting Government Work.

At the Pond Tool Works there has just been completed a disappearing gun carriage for the Government, to be located in the State of Washington. The Government Inspector was in Plainfield yesterday for the purpose of ascertaining whether everything was all right. The carriage will be shipped at once.

THE OFFER TO CANADA

A Commission Conditioned on the Stopping of Sealing.

TERMS OF THE PROPOSALS

Provides for the Suspension of All Killing of Seals During the Next Season—Canada Will Probably Accept the Proposed Commission.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The dispatches from Ottawa announcing that the Canadian Cabinet has decided to send a commission to Washington to negotiate with a similar commission to be appointed by the United States Government touching all the questions at issue has had the effect of drawing forth here, for the first time, a statement of the exact propositions that were laid before the Canadians when they were in Washington.

The Proposals.

Gen. Foster, representing the United States, made the following propositions:

"First—That both nations agree at once to a suspension of all killing of seals during the next season in the Pacific Ocean and Behring Sea, the agreement to go into operation on the first of next month.

"Second—That representatives of the governments of the United States and Great Britain, including Canada, be designated to enter with as little delay as possible upon the consideration of all unsettled questions between Canada and the United States, with the view to a settlement by treaty, this to include the sealing question and any other matters which either government may choose to bring forward."

So far the State Department has not been advised that the Canadian Council has acted upon the propositions, but an early answer is expected.

One important fact is that the modus must be agreed upon positively before the United States consents to the commission. In other words, there must be no killing of the seals while the commission is at work. The commission might take a long time in its deliberations, and if pelagic sealing is to go on meanwhile, it is believed by the experts that there will be no seals left to serve as a basis for negotiations.

Canada's Probable Consent.

The announced purpose of the Canadians to appoint a commission is held to imply that they have decided to accept the condition, namely, the agreement upon a modus vivendi. Nothing has yet been done toward arranging the details of the commission's work, should one be agreed upon. Probably Messrs. Foster and Kasson, and possibly Mr. Hamlin, will represent the United States. Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Ambassador, will be at the head of the British-Canadian Commissioners, and in all probability Sir Wilfrid Laurier will be associated with him if the commission is decided on.

Much misapprehension was caused during the visit of the Canadians by the unofficial character of their discussions, as it was recognized that official negotiations were possible only between the United States and Great Britain. Any commission determined upon at Ottawa would first have to be submitted to the Colonial Office at London. The action of the Canadian Cabinet is not, therefore, final, but is subject to final action in London.

Up to the present time there has been no intimation as to how the British Government would view the formation of a commission.

ACTION OF THE DOMINION CABINET.

Said to Have Decided Favorably to the Proposed Commission.

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 20.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier and Sir Louis Davies have returned from Washington. Within a few hours after their arrival a meeting of the Cabinet was held, at which the Premier explained the recent negotiations. As a result of this meeting, it is stated that the Cabinet has decided to send a commission to Washington to meet with a similar body appointed on behalf of the United States, with ex-Secretary Foster at its head, and endeavor to reach a settlement on all boundary and other questions at present at issue between the two countries.

Premier Laurier said: "It is plain to us that the sealing question cannot be settled by itself. It can only be considered in connection with irritating and important questions. There is no intention whatever of negotiating any reciprocity treaty that would interfere with or affect Canada's existing British preferential tariff."

Sir Louis Davies said: "I have just been reading the press reports sent out from Washington, and they seem to represent our final conclusion fairly well.

"I can add nothing new to what has been said as to the American tariff pressing too heavily upon us in respect to their duties on our lumber, coal and fish. I think that the United States authorities, after they have maturely considered the whole situation in regard to Canada, will agree as to the correctness of our representation. This may carry sufficient weight with the joint commission, should one be agreed to, to bring about such reciprocity arrangements as are most desirable to both countries. From what Gen. Foster has intimated, we think the prospects of a final appointment of a joint commission are good."

Sound-Money League.

Albany, Nov. 20.—The Commercial Travelers' Sound-Money League of the United States, with principal offices in New York City, has been incorporated with the Secretary of State. The objects of the league are to organize commercial travelers into a corporate body committed to the belief in sound money; to disseminate literature upholding the gold standard; to secure the services of able speakers to deliver addresses under the auspices of the league, and to establish branches of the league in all cities of the Union. The directors are Harry W. Dearborn, Isaac Fuld, James M. Battersby, John L. Shepherd and August Stern, of New York City.

To Speak on Currency Reform.

Washington, Nov. 20.—The subject of Secretary Gage's address before the New York Chamber of Commerce, at its annual banquet next Tuesday, will be "Currency Reform; Now or When?"

HANNIS TAYLOR ON CUBA.

He Declares that the Island Is Lost to Spain Forever.

Ithaca, Nov. 20.—Hannis Taylor, former Minister to Spain, delivered a public address on Cuba at Cornell University last night. He was introduced by President Schurman. He spoke at length on the Spanish system of ruling their colonies and discussed the present status of the Cuban situation. He referred to President McKinley's position in the following words:

"I regard the Presidency of the United States as one of the noblest of human institutions, and the first duty of every citizen is to render perfect personal respect to its incumbent, regardless of the question of party. We should be thankful that at this critical moment in our diplomatic history the direction of our foreign affairs is in the hands of a conservative, experienced and patriotic Chief Magistrate, who, by his conduct in peace and war, has won the right to the confidence of us all. Our foreign policy should rest upon a purely non-partisan basis. When the moral dignity of the nation as a whole is involved in its relations with foreign nations, all party differences should stop with the shore. We should then only remember that we are all Americans. If we regard the President's attitude to Cuban affairs from that point of view we cannot fail to perceive that he is now doing his entire patriotic duty.

"If the President makes the fatal mistake of attempting to longer muzzle Congress by putting his imprimatur upon false hopes and empty illusions, before the ink is dry upon his message events will discredit all his predictions. I therefore do not believe that he will attempt a policy so dangerous to his personal fortunes and so contrary to the business interests of the country, that now demands a prompt and peaceful solution of a crisis that hangs like a pall upon our reviving prosperity.

"The President owes it to himself and to the country to submit the whole question, without prejudice and in an impartial spirit, to Congress, the body to which it rightfully and constitutionally belongs. Congress knows all the facts of the case and can deal with them without any diplomatic embarrassments whatever. It can recognize belligerency, or it may cut the Gordion knot once and for all by a prompt recognition of Cuban independence. I have been profoundly impressed by the review recently made of the Cuban situation by that wise and experienced diplomat, ex-Judge Lambert Tree, of Chicago. He affirms that the wisest course now is to recognize independence, and correctly asserts that such an act upon our part would give Spain no right to declare war upon us. Under the law of the nations it would not be a causus belli. I agree with him in that conclusion and in his further statement of the belief that she would not attempt such an impossible enterprise as a war with us."

Mr. Taylor concluded by saying: "Let Congress but speak the final and emphatic word—recognition—and in ninety days the long and bloody tragedy will be over; the whole Christian world will rejoice and say amen; Spain will be rescued from an impossible situation; there will be no war with the United States, and Cuba will be free."

NEWS IN BRIEF.

It is now said that the capture of a fort in Kiao Chan Bay by the Germans, is part of a scheme of Russia, Germany and France to get a base of operation against Japan in case of trouble with the saucy little empire.

A special dispatch from Madrid, published in London, says all the important chiefs of the Philippine Islands have surrendered to the Spanish authorities, and that the Captain-General announces the complete pacification of that colony.

The Secretary of the Treasury has issued a circular to employes to the effect that clerks receiving stated salaries who, without presenting satisfactory reasons therefor, neglect to pay debts contracted for the necessary support of themselves and their families, will not be retained in office.

Poisoned by Ivy

Was in a Dreadful Condition

Happened to Read About a Similar Case—Followed the Other Man's Example and Was Cured.

The following incident is given by Charles Morris, general jobber, 52 Lexington Avenue, North Cambridge, Mass.:

"Several years ago I became poisoned by ivy. I tried many medicines, spending a large sum of money without obtaining a particle of good. My children were also afflicted with the same disease. We were all constant sufferers with an awful itching sensation, and it seemed as if I should tear myself to pieces. I picked up a paper in which I found printed a testimonial from a man in Vermont who had been similarly afflicted and had taken Hood's Sarsaparilla with benefit. I bought a bottle, which we took and it did

Me and My Children

so much good I purchased another supply. We continued taking Hood's Sarsaparilla until we used five bottles and I can safely say that neither myself nor children have any signs of the poison. It has entirely left us and we are perfectly cured. We give the whole credit to Hood's Sarsaparilla. Before resorting to this medicine I was reduced in weight, but now I weigh 175 pounds. Hood's Sarsaparilla has not only done much good but has been the means of saving me a great deal of money. I would not be without it in my house and I heartily recommend it to all who are afflicted. I have written this statement for publication, of my own will, as I want others to know what has done for us." CHARLES MORRIS.

Hood's Pills are the only pills to take with Hood's Sarsaparilla.

Renewing Life.

Dr. Campbell's Capsuloids Supply the Blood with Natural Iron, Renewing the Vitality and Restoring Health.

A celebrated German doctor some time ago suggested that all flour of which bread is made should, by law, contain a certain percentage of iron. If this was done, he claimed, death would only come with old age.

Physicians concede that both health and life depend upon the iron or Hæmoglobin in the blood. When this exists in abundance the blood is rich, red and strong and free from the germs of disease; the pulsation of the heart is regular, the circulation continuous, there is no palpitation, respiration is easy, and the brain is clear.

Modern methods of preparing food are fast diminishing the quantity of iron that nature intended man should get from that food. Science long strove to supply the deficiency. All failed until Dr. Campbell, one of the leading physicians of England, discovered that bullock's blood was charged with iron or Hæmoglobin. He extracted this iron and enclosed it in a gelatine covering in which form it was first administered to chronic sufferers from anæmia and chlorosis. The effect was so marvelous that experiments were then made with severe cases of paralysis, locomotor ataxia, nervous prostration, scrofula and rheumatism. The results have placed Dr. Campbell's name among the most honored savants of the age.

When a Capsuloid is swallowed it goes down the throat like a piece of jelly without injuring the teeth, the gelatine covering melts in a moment and the dissolved Hæmoglobin or natural iron passes directly into the blood, making it rich, red and plentiful.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per large box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price from the office of The Capsuloid Company, Downing Building, 108 Fulton Street, New York City.

Something to Know.

It may be worth something to know that the very best medicine for restoring the tired out nervous system to a healthy vigor is Electric Bitters. This medicine is purely vegetable, acts by giving tone to the nerve centres in the stomach, gently stimulates the Liver and Kidneys, and aids these organs in throwing off impurities in the blood. Electric Bitters improves the appetite, aids digestion, and is pronounced by those who have tried it as the very best blood purifier and nerve tonic. Try it. Sold for 50c or $1 per bottle at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

—There will be special Thanksgiving services in the Congregational church tomorrow evening.

Mr. N. N. Osburn, well-known at Woodstock, Mich., was troubled with a lame back. He was persuaded to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It gave him relief in one night. This remedy is also famous for its cures of rheumatism. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—The cellar for L. W. Randolph's new house in Washington Park is being excavated. It was reported a few days ago in another paper that the house was nearing completion.

Household Gods.

The ancient Greeks believed that the Penates were the gods who attended to the welfare and prosperity of the family. They were worshipped as household gods in every home. The household god of to-day is Dr. King's New Discovery. For consumption, coughs, colds and for all affections of Throat, Chest and Lungs it is invaluable. It has been tried for a quarter of a century and is guaranteed to cure, or money returned. No household should be without this good angel. It is pleasant to take and a safe and sure remedy for old and young. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's, Drug Store. Regular size 50c and $1.

—A very enthusiastic meeting of the Paughcaughnaughsinque Tribe of Red Men was held Wednesday evening. There were a number of speeches on the present condition of the city's affairs.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. The Remedy cured me, and I want all of my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will do them good. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, cor. of Park and North avenues.

Miss Fauks, of Augusta, Ga., has returned from a visit in New York and is spending several weeks at the home of William Thompson, of Central avenue.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75 cents.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

—W. H. Brokaw has just received the contract for erecting an $8,000 residence for Judge Steele, of Brooklyn, who will make Plainfield his summer home.

How to Cure Bilious Colic.

I suffered for weeks with colic and pains in my stomach caused by biliousness and had to take medicine all the while until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured me. I have since recommended it to a good many people. Mrs. F. Butler, Fairhaven, Conn. Persons who are subject to billious colic can ward off the attack by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms appear. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner North and Park avenues.

DUN'S WEEKLY REVIEW.

Trade Is Adjusting Itself to Holiday Markets and Stock-Taking Time.

New York, Nov. 20.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade to-day says that all markets and all industries are working toward the period of Thanksgiving, of stock taking and of holidays. Colder weather has done much to accelerate retail trade, so greatly delayed in many lines by unusually mild and open weather. In spite of this delay, and the idea that it may render prices more favorable to buyers, dispatches from all parts of the West and South show a large volume of business, and though fever at the South hinders and stock speculation here does not swell clearings as it did five years ago, the payments through clearing houses are for the month only 1.5 per cent. less than in 1892, and for the week outside New York 1.2 per cent. larger. The producing force increases on the whole, and many manufacturers are unable to take all the orders offered, while others are committed as far ahead as they are willing to be. The output in several great industries is considerably the largest ever known, and confidence in yet greater business next year is unabated. Hesitation in speculative markets is in part because an immense capital has been turned from them to investment in productive enterprises.

Railway earnings continue large, for November thus far 21.5 per cent. larger than last year, and 2.9 per cent. larger than in 1892, with a heavy westbound tonnage and a growing movement of eastbound cotton, new corn, dressed meats, hides and lumber.

Wheat has advanced a cent during the week, and small fluctuations have been due to reports about Argentina rather than to the heaviest exports ever known. Atlantic exports, flour included, have been in three weeks of November 9,799,369 bushels, against 6,052,106 last year, and in the crop year thus far over 86,000,000 bushels, while Western receipts have been in three weeks 21,203,660 bushels, against 14,796,888 last year. Corn exports have been 7,010,041 bushels, against 6,441,686 last year. Cotton declined to 5.81 cents, with heavy receipts, but closed at 5.87, with better foreign demand, and with frosts which have lessened the prospect of a heavy movement later.

New York banks have received from the interior about one million seven hundred and fifty thousand dollars more money than they have sent out, and find commercial bills unusually scarce, owing to promptness of collections throughout the country. With the West sending surplus cash hither instead of borrowers, rates are low. Failures for the month have been $5,600,424, against $4,725,473 last year; manufacturing $1,839,025, against $1,840,232 last year, and trading $3,023,505, against $2,624,238 last year. Failures for the week have been 267 in the United States, against 344 last year, and thirty-two in Canada, against forty last year.

NICARAGUA CANAL.

Advance Guard of President McKinley's Commission Sails To-day.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Three employes of the Nicaragua Canal Commission left to-day, with a large quantity of provisions, utensils and other outfit for the commission's use, on the Atlas liner Adirondack, which sailed for Port Limon. They start in advance of the Commission, so as to have things ready by the time its members arrive.

The commission, which was appointed by President McKinley last Summer, consists of Rear-Admiral John G. Walker, representing the Navy; Col. Peter Haines, for the United States Army, and Prof. Lewis M. Haupt. They are to survey a route for the Nicaragua Canal.

Rear-Admiral Walker says that the commission will leave here some time next week.

"We shall go on the gunboat Newport, which is now at the Brooklyn Navy Yard," he said. "If we do not start next week we certainly shall before Dec. 1.

"We expect to take about forty men with us on the Newport, but little or no freight, as she is a small boat.

"A thorough survey will be made from the eastern coast to the western, selecting that route for the canal as in our judgment is best."

CROOKS AT WORK.

Gang of Swindlers Have Operated in Albany.

Albany, Nov. 20.—It is believed by the police of New York, Boston and Philadelphia that Albany has been the rendezvous of a notorious gang of crooks which has been swindling merchants in those cities.

The first thing the swindlers do is to obtain, by fraud, credit with the largest merchants and manufacturers. Goods are shipped on credit of one or two months, transhipped and sold. Possibly a part payment is made, but in that event it is made only to obtain a still larger consignment of goods. Meanwhile the goods have reached the hands of their confederates in some far-distant city, and are easily disposed of by low cost. The confederate skips to another city, and awaits there the arrival of another carload of goods.

Pigs Saved Lives.

San Francisco, Nov. 20.—At midnight, Oct. 16, the Illawarra Company's steamer Kamuruaka, one of the best-known vessels on the Australian coast, while on the voyage from Eden to Sydney, struck upon a rock about one hundred and fifty yards from shore, at a point known as Pedro Reef.

The passengers were all in their berths at the time, but fortunately the sea was calm and all were rescued by means of a traveling cage.

In the absence of rockets, lines were taken ashore by several pigs, which swam when thrown overboard, with signal halyards attached to their hind legs. The vessel was a total loss.

Used for Speculative Purposes.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Quite a sensation was caused in Supreme Court circles by the announcement that the decision of the Court in the Bell Telephone case had been used for speculative purposes. At the clerk's office of the Supreme Court not much can be learned in regard to the matter, but it is not believed any of the clerks of the court here are responsible. The decisions of the court are prepared in such a manner that it is impossible for any one connected with the court to get hold of them until they are handed down by the justices.

WEYLER IS ALL RIGHT

Spain Said to be Satisfied With His Excuses.

WILL NOT BE PUNISHED

Interviewed by a Representative of the Government as to His Alleged Misconduct on His Departure from the Island.

Madrid, Nov. 20.—The statements made by Gen. Weyler, late Captain-General of Cuba, to Capt.-Gen. Gamarra upon his arrival at Corunna are declared in official circles here to be entirely satisfactory to the Government, and it is therefore improbable that any proceedings will be taken against him on account of his acts and utterances while in Cuba.

An immense crowd was on the quays to greet Gen. Weyler, who arrived on the Montserrat, but the demonstration was a failure. The General, doubting the nature of his reception, remained on the vessel and kept to his cabin, refusing to see any but representatives of the Government.

Several committees in launches fussed about the Montserrat after she had come to anchor, but they received little encouragement from Weyler.

The ex-Captain-General's son, a lieutenant in the army, with a few friends, went on board the steamship. They were followed by Capt.-Gen. Gamarra, who had been deputed by the Spanish Government to interview Weyler on his alleged misconduct on his departure from the island, and to get a report of his work in Cuba. Gamarra was accompanied by a brilliant staff. His interview lasted for half an hour. Gen. Weyler declined to go ashore, and expressed his desire to proceed on the Montserrat to Barcelona.

The vessel took several hundred sick and wounded soldiers back to Spain.

SIXTEEN DIED OF HUNGER.

Horrible Suffering of Castaways Who Drifted at Sea for 30 Days.

San Francisco, Cal., Nov. 20.—From Auckland comes a story of the terrible experiences of twenty-four shipwrecked Samoans, who were blown far out of their course, and were at sea in a boat for thirty days. Only eight survived.

The party left the island of Tutuila in a large boat for Two Islands, some sixty miles to the eastward. They were blown out of their course and drifted before the wind for sixty days until they made the island of Namuni, which is about nine hundred miles in a direct line from their starting point.

Nearly half of the party died in a boat, one was killed in landing, and some died on the shore, making only eight survivors.

They spread sails to catch rain, which fell heavily and which they stored in boxes.

Shot His Sweetheart.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Edward D. Hayes, a young colored medical student, shot and instantly killed himself at the home of his sweetheart, Mildred Robinson, 334 Elm street, after wounding the young girl who had promised to become his wife. She refused to accede to some request Hayes made, and he drew a revolver from his pocket. As the girl started to run he fired. Closely following her to the stairs, he again pulled the trigger. Then he started upstairs after the girl, firing two more shots as he ran. Only one of the bullets took effect.

Hayes then returned to the hall and shot himself in the head, dying instantly.

Hayes had been for three years a student at Howard University, where he was considered an excellent young man. The woman will recover.

Smuggler Mine Blaze.

Aspen, Col., Nov. 20.—All plans thus far tried have failed to extinguish or lessen the flames in the Smuggler Mine. An effort will be made to run a drift in the foot wall to the burning chambers, whence water can be thrown directly on the smouldering timbers. This foot wall is overlaid with four feet of coal shale, which is thought to be burning and making the deadly gas in the Smuggler and adjacent mines. The manager of the Smuggler is pushing work night and day on this drift, and expects to complete it in two days. It will not only enable the playing of water on the burning timber, but will open a way to extinguish the burning coal shale as well.

Cuban Heroine's Friend.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Evangelina Cisneros appeared in the Supreme Court of the District of Columbia yesterday and made application for the appointment of a guardian.

She had selected Mrs. Mary S. Logan, the widow of Gen. John A. Logan, and Mrs. Logan was present to signify her acceptance. Miss Cisneros has decided to remain in Washington. She will continue her education at a convent here.

Innocent Men in Jail.

St. Louis, Nov. 20.—Father McErlane has received a confession from a prisoner in the City Jail proving that Henry Kaiser and Jacob Heinz, who are serving life sentences for the murder of Edwin E. Brown, a stockman, in 1892, did not commit the crime. The priest says that until the authorities have finished their work on the case he cannot divulge the name of the real culprit.

MR. KINSMAN'S PLAN.

In our news columns today is briefly sketched the plan conceived and elaborated by F. E. Kinsman, in which it is aimed to afford every man who intends to support the Republican nominees in the Third ward in the approaching election the opportunity to freely and successfully record his choice for candidates. A cursory view of the scheme stamps it as an ideal one in attempting to accomplish a reform in political primaries that has long been recognized as necessary for good citizenship—the equal freedom and recognition of every man participating in the meeting which is too often crushed out by the machinations of men versed in the art of shaping such gatherings to their own liking, rather than after the spirit that prevails in the minds of the majority that the proceedings are supposed to represent. Considering the plan from a practical standpoint, we confess that a lively realization of the ways of politicians immediately incurs in our mind the question of whether the party leaders, to whom its carrying out must of necessity be intrusted, will not by much the same devious tricks now in vogue succeed in twisting it about so as to serve their own ends, if the probable sentiment to be expressed through its operation is not just to their liking. No matter what the intrinsic worth of the plan seems in the abstract, when it becomes concrete in the hands of practical politicians it can be shaped so that it bears no resemblance to the outcome for which it was devised. The very fact that it is planned to circumvent political autocrats, and yet depends entirely in its operation upon their organization to effect that purpose, presents a condition that is out of gear with the fitness of things that might otherwise augur its success. Of course, in the test now being made in the Third ward the conditions are favorable for its working satisfactorily, because the party leaders are not confronted with a crisis in their career as they might be at some other time. And yet still we understand that some of the original ideas of Mr. Kinsman have been ignored by the city executive committee and a change made that is construed to mean an advantage for one of the candidates for a Councilmanic nomination over the other names that will be suggested through the method. It is simply an inkling of what might be expected upon a much broader scale if the result was more important. In developing the idea Mr. Kinsman showed careful thought and the outcome in the Third ward primary next Tuesday evening will be watched with interest.

NEW MATERIAL WANTED.

As the time for Republican nominations to be made draws near, there is considerable talk of new material being put in the field in place of some of the present Councilmanic members. In this connection the names of F. E. Kinsman, in the Third ward, and J. Wesley Johnson, in the Second ward, are being prominently mentioned. In fact, the friends of both gentlemen are urging them to allow the use of their names, but as yet neither has fully consented. Both are known as successful business men and it is argued that they have the advantage in chances of election over the present Councilmen from these wards, who are seeking a renomination, in view of the opposition which the latter have engendered in their official conduct and which is certain to lose them votes of men who would otherwise support the party candidates.

Justice Nash's Court.

Justice Nash has issued summons in the following cases for the amounts named: Travis against French Brothers, $147 65 and costs; O'Hara and Wood against French Brothers, $124.80 and costs; Duryea against French Brothers, $100 and costs.

JOTTINGS OF THE DAY.

ENTERPRISINGLY GATHERED AND CONCISELY TOLD BY REPORTERS.

Newsy Notes of More or Less Importance Bunched Together for the Ready Reference of Press Readers.

—The Borough Public School will reopen next Monday.

—Several crosswalks on West Front street, are being repaired.

—Robert Tingley, sub-letter-carrier, is now doing duty in the business part of the city.

—Many of the college boys will return home next week to spend Thanksgiving at home.

—Randolph, the pharmacist, has a tasteful display of stick licorice in one of his show windows.

—A dance will be held this evening in Red Men's Hall under the auspices of the Skandia Society.

—The '98 Stearns wheel is on exhibition at the Bard Cycle Company's store on North avenue.

—Suit has been started in Justice Mosher's court in the case of Holmes against Bebout, for $50.

—Mr. Davis, of East Fifth street, has secured a position as motorman on the Plainfield Street Railway.

—The grounds about the First Baptist church have been made attractive by the sexton, Ed. Maynard.

—The case of Bushnell against Lunger, on contract, has been adjourned for a week at Justice Mosher's court.

—Substitute Letter-Carrier Pearson has secured the position recently held by John Neighbor as a regular carrier.

—An interesting meeting of the First Baptist church Christian Endeavor Society will be held this evening.

—The Plainfield Electric Light Company has erected a new pole on Park avenue, near Justice Nash's office.

—A meeting of the board of managers of the City Union King's Daughters, will be held Thursday, December 2d.

—The foundations for the new Stillman building are now completed, and the other work is being rapidly pushed.

—The Borough Public School teachers have returned from Somerville, where they attended the sessions of the Teachers' Institute.

—Another new house is being erected on Mariners avenue. This will make four new houses on the street erected within a short time.

—Stephenson, the North avenue caterer, is preparing his well-known mince pies for Thanksgiving. If you want one you should place your order early.

—There will be no session in the public schools of Plainfield and North Plainfield Thursday and Friday of next week on account of the Thanksgiving holidays.

—While preparing for your Thanksgiving at home please bear in mind that provisions of any description will be gratefully received for Thanksgiving at Muhlenberg Hospital.

—No more washdays in the house, save yourself an enomerous amount of patience, worry and bother. The city steam and hand laundry, 19 Somerset street, will take the entire family wash.

—Rawson & Company, electricians, of 222 East Front street, are putting in the store windows of the Grand Union Tea Company two handsome gold-plated chandeliers, combination gas and electric light.

—A fine specimen of deer is attracting considerable attention at the meat market of Fred Endress, on West Front street. Plainfielders who have a weakness for venison will now have a chance to taste this rare delicacy.

—Mrs. Denton, of Prospect Hill, had charge of the floral decorations at the Spangenberg-Runyon wedding last evening, and her efforts were praised very much. George F. Brown, of Somerset street, furnished the canopy used at the church.

—A meeting of Paughcaughnaughsinque Council, of the Degree of Pocohontas, was held Thursday evening. A resolution was passed that all the members be notified that the charter was not to be given up and that the council would continue its existence despite the rumors to the contrary.

—The exhibit of the American brand of beef extract at Randolph's pharmacy on West Front street ends tonight. Free samples of the extract are now being given away to all who visit the store, and all have an opportunity to test its excellence. Its advocates seem to have made good their claim that it is equal to the best on the market, and its small price will soon bring it into favor.

Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros. of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

The BALDNESS PROBLEM.

People who find themselves growing up through their hair ought to be prompt in the use of a remedy. It is far easier to prevent baldness than to cure it. But not all people who are bald are hopelessly so. It all depends on the amount of vitality remaining in the hair bulbs. There is one sure way of finding out whether a new growth can be started. Try

ONYX IN KENTUCKY.

VALUABLE BEDS OF THIS STONE DISCOVERED—AN UNUSUAL FIND.

The Field Covers an Area of from 20 to 25 Miles in Length and 12 to 15 in Width, and is the Richest Ever Known—Worth Millions of Dollars.

It has been discovered that there are in the State of Kentucky the richest and most extensive beds of onyx ever known to exist. Their value is billions of dollars. As soon as the working thereof is begun thousands of persons will be given employment.

An idea of the richness of these beds may be gained from the fact that in one tract alone 300,000 cubic feet of onyx that is unsurpassed in texture is visible. The color of the stone varies greatly and in shades hitherto unknown. The average value of onyx ranges from $3 to $15 a cubic foot, and as this onyx is of the superlative degree a child can see its immense value.

Up to the present time onyx beds have been known to exist in Arizona, Arkansas and Virginia. In Arizona, where the richest beds are located, they were a considerable distance from the railroad, making the securing of the onyx an expensive matter. The Kentucky beds are easily accessible, and it is an actual fact that it will be possible to land the onyx in New York City for a sum less per cubic foot than the duty on onyx is to-day. Wondrous tales of what the onyx beds in Old Mexico formerly yielded have been told.

It was calculated that from the Pedrara quarry, in Mexico, which covered three or four acres of ground, more than fifty million dollars' worth of onyx had been taken previous to 1892, when the beds were exhausted. The onyx exported from Mexico is comparatively small in amount and the duty is so great that it makes it exceedingly high priced. It may easily be seen that the prospects of the Kentucky beds are marvellous.

The onyx fields of Kentucky lie about eighty miles south of Louisville.

It is from twenty to twenty-five miles in length, and from twelve to fifteen miles in width.

This great field, practically unknown as yet, is certainly a most important one. It covers a most extended area and contains a large number of most promising deposits. That the stone is in vast quantities is without question. It may be quarried in blocks as large as can possibly be handled, and from those slabs, blocks or columns may be made as large as may be desired for any purpose.

The colors of the stone are varied, intense and unique. In texture it is fine, firm and compact. No clay concretions occur in it, and it is remarkably fine from the small interstices incident to imperfect crystallization called "sand-holes," so common in fine marbles and other crystalline rocks.—St. Louis Star.

YANKEE THRIFT AGAIN.

How a Maine Farmer Managed to Please All Hands.

I heard a story the other day, says a writer in the Washington Post, from Kennebunkport, that remote Maine village, which Assistant Postmaster General Heath declares is the only summer resort in New England worth while. A certain man up there bought an old farm, and having removed the grave stones from the ancient burying grounds on it, proceeded to plow up the spot with the intention of making small potatoes of the ancestors of some of Maine's first families. The first families protested against the desecration, and demanded that the stones be restored. The new owner was obliging, but he was—well, he was a Maine Yankee, and he didn't mean to give up his potato field, so he set the stones up as a sort of fence about his field. They made a very good fence, the first families were satisfied, and the potato crop was one of the largest in the state.

A Good Boat.

An old darky who runs the little ferry across a New England river affords much entertainment to passengers by his quaint remarks.

Not long ago a farmer, who had driven on to the ferry with a heavy load of summer boarders, said, "Uncle Rufe, s'posin' your pulley contrivance should give out, where do you cal'late we'd go?"

"Stay right in de boat," returned the ferryman.

"Yes, but the boat might be in heaven before you knew it," said the farmer.

"Huh! When d'you ever hear ob a boat gwine to heaben?" inquired Uncle Rufe.

"How about the ship of Zion?" asked the farmer.

For a moment the old darky looked perplexed. Then he rallied, and smiled broadly on his persistent face.

"Why, anybody'd take you for an ignorant pusson if you talk like dat," he said; "dat boat wa'nt made ob wood, it war made ob faith, and it ain' got anything to do wid de question, no, sah!"

A Soft Snap.

"I must have been a fool when I married," said little Tompkyns, glaring fiercely at his wife.

"Certainly, my dear," said Mrs. Tompkyns, sweetly. "It couldn't come on so badly all in two years, could it?"—Exchange.

The Sunday-school class was singing, "I want to be an angel."

"Why don't you sing louder, Bobby?" asked the teacher.

"I'm singing as loud as I feel," explained Bobby.

Proceedings of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County.

[OFFICIAL.]

Regular meeting of the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union held Thursday, Nov. 4th, at 2:30 p. m.

Roll call showed all members present except Freeholder Roll—1.

The minutes of the previous meeting, (reading of bills being omitted) were on motion approved as read.

COMMUNICATIONS, PETITIONS, ETC.

From J. W. Fink, county road inspector, as follows, viz:

Westfield, Nov. 3d, 1897.

To the Honorable, the Board of Chosen Freeholders of Union County, N. J.

Gentlemen—The undersigned would respectfully submit to your Honorable Body the following final report of repairs on county roads for the year 1897:

Five miles, 286 feet of road have been repaired with 1½ inch stone, nearly 2 miles with 2 inch stone, 2¾ miles with ¾ inch stone, 14 miles of road have been top dressed with fine stone, 18¾ miles of gutters cleaned, 1¾ miles of washouts filled, 15 miles top dressed with clay. The total number of miles of road that has been repaired with stone, either by 2 inch stone, 1½ inch, ¾ or by top dressing with fine stone is 23¾ miles. The total cost of this work is $17,402.30.

I would also report that the county roads at the present are all in good condition. (Signed).

Very Respectfully,
James W. Fink, Inspector.

On motion of Freeholder Clark, received and placed on file.

From the New York and Orange Railroad Company as follows:

To the Honorable, The Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union:

The New York and New Orange Railroad Company respectfully presents to your honorable body that it is a corporation created under the general railroad law of the State of New Jersey, and that its organization was affected in May last.

That it has complied with the requirements specified in the general law, and its railroad is now in the course of construction in Union Township, in said county of Union.

That the said Railroad Company is an adjunct of and closely connected in interest with, the New Orange Industrial Association, which latter is also a corporation organized under a general law of this State. The said New Orange Industrial Association, is now engaged in and was created for the purpose of developing and bringing into value and prominence a portion of said Union Township. That in the course of this proceeding, and with this end in view it, the Industrial Association has acquired absolute title to more than two square miles of land in the said township; has commenced the grading of streets and avenues through the same, and has expended very large sums of money in acquiring these lands and effecting improvements; and it further intends to develop said lands by erecting buildings and factories; grading and macadamizing streets; erecting buildings, both for residential and for business purposes, and for such other objects as will, in large degree, add to the wealth and taxable valuations of this county.

This Railroad Company, acting under the belief that the roads in said Union Township were under the supervision and control of the Township Committe of said Union Township, in August last, made written representations to said Township Committee that it was about to locate its route through said Township extending northerly from the Central Railroad Company of New Jersey, near Aldene, and that on such projected route it would cross Westfield avenue, Faitoute avenue, and the Galloping Hill road, and stating that the company desired to comply with such reasonable regulations as the said Township Committee might prescribe, and asking said committee to take such action as became necessary in the premises and to notify the said railroad company thereof as speedily as possible. That in pursuance of such request, the matter was considered by the township authorities, and a resolution was passed by the Township Committee, and a copy thereof, duly attested by the Township Clerk, was served upon the said railroad company. With the request of said Township Commttee, as embodied in its said resolution, this company undertakes to comply. The following is a copy of such resolution: The New Orange and New York Railway Co.

Gentlemen:—The following resolutions were passed at a meeting of the Township Committee of Union Township, Union County, N. J., September 27, 1897:

Whereas, The New York and New Orange Railroad Company have notified this Committee that the tracks of the railroad are about to be laid across Westfield and Faitoute avenues and the Galloping Hill road, in this township, and have requested the cooperation of the township authorities in rendering the crossings safe to the traveling public:

Resolved, That it is the opinion of this committee, and their insistment for the public protection is: That the railroad company should protect the crossing at Westfield avenue by the erection and maintenance of gates at that place, and that the same be lowered whenever the avenue is crossed by any locomotive or locomotives with cars in the control of the company, and raised so soon as any train has passed over the same; and further, that no locomotive or cars be allowed to stand across the avenue at any time.

2. And be it further resolved, that the Faitoute avenue and the Galloping Hill Road Crossings be guarded by placing electric alarm bells, or some other suitable device, to warn the traveling public of the approach of locomotive or locomotives and cars, subject to the approval of this committee

3. That a copy of the resolutions be served by the Clerk of the Township upon some one of the railroad officials.

A. M. Woodruff,
Township Clerk.

The railroad company is now informed that Westfield avenue, over which, under sanction aforesaid of the Township Committee of Union Township, it has now laid its tracks, is claimed to be under control and management of your honorable body. This company, therefore, at once, and with all due speed, presents this matter to you, and, while it insists that the general State law, and the decisions of the courts give to it full power and ample authority to place its tracks across any street or road in Union county, it nevertheless desires to act in conformity with the judgment and wishes of your honorable body, and requests that your honorable body will take such consideration as is justified by the premises, to the end that this company may co operate with the Board of Chosen Freeholders in securing the safety, convenience and freedom from delay at the rail road crossing at Westfield avenue of all the inhabitants of the county; and also so that both the railroad trains in crossing Westfield avenue, and the public in their travel over said Westfield avenue, may not be impeded or the safety of any one endangered.

The company expresses the wish that it may be able to comply with any reasonable request which may be desired by your honorable board.

Very respectfully submitted,
N. Y. & N O R R. Co.,
Dennis Long, Vice-President,
C. W. Manahan, Jr., Secretary.

Dated October 14, 1897.

On motion of Freeholder Littell received and placed on file.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES.

Freeholder Swain reported progress on trolley matters, with probable report in full at the next meeting.

By the Committee to settle with County Collector:

To the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union.

Gentlemen:—Your committee to settle with the County Collector, respectfully report that they have examined his books, showing his receipts and disbursements, together with his vouchers, bonds, and coupons paid and bank books, and we find the same agree and are correct in every particular.

His total receipts from the beginning of the fiscal year, to October 1, 1897, were $127 253 17
Disbursements - - - 108,5-5.13

Balance in books - - $18,698.04

October 27, 1897.

George W. Little,
Henry Krouse,
Benjamin King,
Committee.

On motion of Freeholder Miller, received aad placed on file.

By the special committee appointed to draft an ordinance or ordinances relative to obstruction, openings, and nuisances, etc, on county roads.

An ordinance to regulate the use of any road or roads in the county of Union, that are improved and maintained by the Board of Chosen Freeholders of said county.

The inhabitants of the County of Union, by their Board of Chosen Freeholders, do enact as follows:

Section 1. That no person or persons shall disturb or tear up any roads or roads which shall have been improved and maintained by the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union, or any portion thereof, by driving over the same with locked wheels of any vehicle, or by attaching any drag to such vehicle, or otherwise.

Section 2. No person or persons shall be permitted to fill up or obstruct any of the gutters along the sides of such roads.

Section 3 No person or persons shall be permitted to dig up any of said county roads for the purpose of laying, taking up or repairing any pipe or pipes without first having obtained permission of the said Board of Chosen Freeholders so to do.

Section 4 No person or persons shall be permitted to obstruct said roads by the spilling or throwing of stones, dirt or other material on said roads.

Section 5. This ordinance shall be construed to mean such road or roads only as shall have been improved and maintained by the Board of Chosen Freeholders of the County of Union and the control of which said Board of Chosen Freeholders has not surrendered or relinquished, concerning which the Board of Chosen Freeholders has power to pass ordinances under and by virtue of Chapter 165 of the Public Laws of 1897.

Section 6. That every violation of any of the provisions of this ordinance, shall render the offender subject to a fine not exceeding fifty dollars for each offense, with costs, to be sued for and recovered by the clerk of said board, for the use of said board, in any court of competent jurisdiction Laid over for second reading.

NEW BUSINESS.

By Freeholder Littell:

Resolved, That when this board adjourns it stands adjourned to meet again November 18th at 2:30 p m

On motion of Freeholder Miller the resolution was adopted without dissent.

By Freeholder Farrell:

Resolved, That the appropriations for hospitals, be devided in the same manner, and given to the same hospitals as last year. Freeholder Robison moved the adoption of the resolution, and on roll call it was adopted unanimously.

Collars and Cuffs

nicely laundered are essential to every gentleman's toilet. We have every facility for doing up collars and cuffs that are used by the manufacturers in Troy, N. Y. Our plant is an exact duplicate of theirs. So is our work. If you want your collars and cuffs to look like new have our wagon call for them. We are the only laundry in New Jersey having a plant of this kind.

We guarantee linen to last longer when washed by us than when done elsewhere. We absolutely guarantee not to fade colored shirts that, when new, cost $1 or over. We don't know of another laundry that offers to do this. We don't charge any more than the others, either.

GREAT FIRE IN LONDON

More Than $20,000,000 Damage Done by Flames.

WHOLE BLOCKS BURNED

Sixty Great Warehouses Consumed and Hundreds of Firms Burned Out, the Area Swept Being Over 100,000 Square Yards.

The greatest fire in many years visited London yesterday, sweeping an immense business and warehouse district. It started in Hamsell street, and before the Fire Department arrived had already spread to six buildings and was beyond the control of the department. Hamsell street, Wells street, Jewin street, Nicholl Square and whole blocks reaching to Aldersgate and Cripplegate were swept.

At one time the flames reached to within four hundred yards of the General Postoffice, situated on St. Martin's Le Grand.

London, Nov. 20.—The most extensive fire that has occurred in London for ten years started at 1 o'clock yesterday afternoon in Oppenheimer's paper factory, near Aldersgate street. The flames rapidly spread to Wells street, Jewin street, Hamsell street and Nichols square, and by 5 o'clock over fifty large buildings were burning. The fire got beyond control and spread in all directions. Practically the entire fire fighting force of London was summoned to the scene.

The buildings destroyed include several large fancy goods warehouses, and the loss by the destruction of their contents will be enormous. The flames extended to within four hundred yards of the General Postoffice.

The fire is supposed to have originated from an explosion of gas. Six buildings on Hamsell street were ablaze before the firemen got well at work. The extremely narrow streets and the limited water supply rendered their efforts almost futile for nearly three hours. Forty-three business firms on Hamsell street alone were burned out, and nearly fifty buildings, all of them large warehouses, were totally destroyed.

The fire almost surrounded the Cripplegate Church, one of the oldest and most historic buildings in the metropolis. Although it was exposed to most intense heat the church resisted the flames. The vicarage was burned to the ground. The area burned over exceeds two acres.

The warehouses destroyed were mostly five-story brick buildings, though some of them were built of stone. Many of the buildings were filled to the extent of their capacity with Winter stocks of fancy goods. The district burned was the centre of the feather dealers, furriers, mantle and cloak establishments and kindred trades, and was also the location of most of the carriers abroad, including those shipping goods to the United States.

One hundred and fifty warehouses were destroyed, and the loss is estimated at $25,000,000, which is the greatest material damage by fire that London has sustained since the great fire in 1666. It is remarkable that no one was killed. The only injuries reported up to a late hour last evening were those of two firemen, who were hurt by falling walls.

The Scene of the Fire.

Hamsell street, where the great fire originated, is in the Cripplegate district of London, not far from the General Postoffice. Aldersgate street is the largest thoroughfare near the scene of the fire, and passes the General Postoffice into St. Martin's Le Grand, which is opposite the southern portion of the Postoffice.

"The Great Fire of London," which occurred on Sept. 27, 1666, was on Fish Hill street, and destroyed 460 streets, eighty-nine churches and 13,200 houses, valued at over thirty-five million dollars.

DIPHTHERIA IN LEAD PENCILS.

Germs Transmitted Through Exchanges Made in Public Schools.

Indianapolis, Ind., Nov. 20.—City Sanitarian Clark has just concluded an inquiry into the alarming increase of diphtheria among public school pupils since the opening of the Fall session, and announces that the disease has spread in the distribution of pencils and penholders.

Under the system in vogue in schools each child is required to take its pencil and penholder to the teacher's desk in the afternoon. They are placed in a box and the next day are redistributed. Mr. Clark says each child may thus have a different pencil and penholder every day, and as children often hold them in their mouths, disease is thus communicated.

Experiments have been made, and pencils and penholders are to be put through a process intended to kill the disease germs.

Our Naval Reserves.

Washington, Nov. 20.—Secretary Long will, in a few days, issue an order designed to place the State Naval Reserve on a war footing before next Summer. This will be accomplished by the detail of regular naval officers to instruct the militia battalions in the work and duties expected of them in case of hostilities.

The scheme, so far as developed, is to assign the seacoast reserves under supervision of the nearest navy yard commandants. The Massachusetts, New York and Eastern Pennsylvania Reserves will be inspected and taught by officers from the Boston, New York and League Island navy yards. The Rhode Island forces will be under the guardianship of the Newport training station.

Agony in the Death Chair.

Columbus, Ohio, Nov. 20.—Albert Frantz, murderer of Bessie Little, was killed by electricity yesterday. Owing to a bad adjustment of the apparatus he was not dead until the current had been turned on for the fifth time. Smoke arose from the body and the room was filled with the odor of burning flesh.

"I have nothing to say," were Frantz's last words. He declared his innocence in a last appeal to the Governor.

On Aug. 28, 1896, Frantz shot and killed his sweetheart, Bessie Little, at Dayton, Ohio. He had betrayed and then tired of the girl.

Many persons cannot take plain cod-liver oil.

They cannot digest it.

It upsets the stomach.

Knowing these things, we have digested the oil in Scott's Emulsion of Cod-liver Oil with Hypophosphites; that is, we have broken it up into little globules, or droplets.

We use machinery to do the work of the digestive organs, and you obtain the good effects of the digested oil at once. That is why you can take Scott's Emulsion.

SHOOTING AFFRAY IN TEXAS.

One Man Instantly Killed and Another Mortally Wounded.

Dallas, Tex., Nov. 20.—At 6 o'clock last evening, at Waco, Tex., Judge C. B. Gerald, one of the best-known lawyers in this State, shot and instantly killed W. A. Harris, a leading insurance man of Waco, and mortally wounded J. W. Harris, editor of the Waco Daily Times-Herald. The latter will probably die.

Judge Gerald was wounded twice in the affray, one bullet striking him in the back and another in the right wrist. A negro bystander was wounded in the left leg.

The Harris brothers and Judge Gerald met at Fourth street and Congress avenue while on their way home from business. A few words only had passed when the trio began shooting.

Police officers rushed up and seized the combatants, who appeared to be clinched in a bunch. The killing and wounding was done before the officers could get the men separated.

All parties have been known to be going armed, and the tragedy of this evening surprises no one. Editor Brann was not mixed up in it, but there are reasons to believe that the feud is by no means ended. In fact, most people believe that it is only fairly begun.

The Gerald and Harris families are highly connected socially, professionally, politically and in business life.

NEW YORK'S HORSE SHOW.

No Appreciable Diminution of Interest or Attendance.

New York, Nov. 20:—There was no appreciable diminution of interest or attendance at the National Horse Show Association's big exhibition at Madison Square Garden yesterday. Afternoon and evening the big amphitheatre was crowded. The success of the affair financially may be gauged from the fact that the management admits that 18,000 persons saw the programme of Thursday decided.

The big building was ablaze last evening, and the scene at 10 o'clock was full of life and go. The programme was most attractive, and, as but one more day of the exhibition remains, there was a general desire to avoid the crowd, which is always a feature of the closing hours of the show. But apparently there was no escaping the jam. Thousands were of the same opinion, and consequently there were fully ten thousand persons present last evening.

The prize winners and owners follow in the order named:

Cab horses, Dandy, James Hammond; Dandy, Jerome Conners; Klondyke, T. Mooney. Tandems, Coxey, Whirl of Town, C. F. Bates; Northlight, Great Caesar, George S. Gagnon; Duke, Holly, A. J. Nutting. Special prize, Waldorf-Astoria Cup, Von Harbinger, Joseph E. Windener. Jumping six feet six, Chappie, J. Holloway; Perfection, Mrs. Francis Beard; Lady Rosebery, Adam Beck.

No New Trial for Durrant.

San Francisco, Nov. 20.—Another trial for Durrant was refused yesterday by Judge Bahrs, when the prisoner's counsel asked that he be tried for the murder of Minnie Williams, the servant girl who was strangled in the church just a week after Blanche Lamont disappeared. Durrant's counsel asserted that the trial should be held, as it might develop new facts which would reveal the real murderer.

The general opinion is that this was a device to gain time, as the trial and appeals would consume at least two years. The police have a much stronger case against Durrant for Minnie Williams' murder than for the crime for which he is now under sentence of death.

Spanish Victims of War.

Havana, Nov. 17, via Key West, Nov. 20.—Gen. Blanco has reported to the Madrid Government that the losses in the Spanish army in Cuba amount to 103,000 men from the beginning of the war, 40,000 of them now being sick in the Spanish hospitals. Of the 192,000 regular troops received by Gen. Weyler, only 89,000 men fit for duty remain.

Long Strike Settled.

New York, Nov. 20.—The longest strike among the garment workers that ever occurred in New York has been officially closed in favor of the strikers at 160 Rivington street, the cloakmakers' headquarters. The 8,000 girls and men who have been on strike in detachments since mid-Summer are back at work.

Doom of Theatre Hats.

Philadelphia, Nov. 20.—A resolution prohibiting the wearing of any hat or cap in a theatre has been introduced in the City Council and has every probability of becoming a law. The women are much wrought up over the crusade, but appear to be helpless to prevent the adoption of the resolution.

The Queen Thanks Us.

London, Nov. 20.—The United States Embassy has received a letter from the Queen expressing her Majesty's warmest thanks for the many expressions of good will on the part of the citizens of the United States contained in the jubilee addresses of which the Queen has been the recipient.

WITH ROD AND GUN.

Henry Vosseller and Clarence R. Thorn went to Whitehouse today on a short hunting trip.

J. A. Smith and Dr. Cooley have just returned foom the south where they have been hunting game.

The members of the Climax Gun Club held a regular shoot on their grounds last Wednesday afternoon which was well attended by local sports, and some good scores were made. The handicap contest resulted as follows: Smith, scratch, 23: Keller, scratch, 18; Darby, 5, 27; Brantingham, 1, 20; Manning, 1, 21. In the team match Smith and Manning contested against Keller and Brantingham. Each team scored 41 out of a possible 50, and a shoot-off a ten birds followed to decide the match. Keller and Brantingham won the match by score of 18, while their opponents scored 16.

GOLF.

On Thanksgiving Day there will be two events open to all members of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. In the morning beginning at 9:30, handi cap foursomes (partners to be drawn) will be played; and in the afternoon, at 3 o'clock, there will be a driving contest, each participant to drive five balls, the aggregate distance of carry and roll of any three to be taken in each case. Suitable trophies will be awarded. Entrance fee fifty cents for each event. Entries must be in the hands of the committee not later than the evening of November 24th.

THEATRICAL.

The coming to Music Hall this evening of Mark Twain's remarkable play, "Puddn'head Wilson," which has been so skillfully dramatized by Frank Mayo, will do doubt bring out one of the largest audiences of the season. This will be the first appearance here of this beautiful production, which is one of the biggest successes this country has seen in the past few years, not only from a financial point of view but from an artistic standing as well, and why should it not be so? With two such minds as Mark Twain and Frank Mayo in co-laboration it would be strange indeed if this work was anything but interesting and of the brightest order. "Puddn'head Wilson" is not only a great play and a great comedy but it is founded upon a most original theme; the theory of the thumb marks as a means of a personal identification.

The Salter & Martin mammoth original, 3 car load Uncle Tom's Cabin Co, at Stillman Music Hall Wednesday, Nov. 24th, is actually a $20,000 production of this grand old historical play—a magnificent scenic production. It requires a whole train of three sixty-foot palace cars to transport this mammoth spectacular. The parade is the finest ever witnessed.

PYTHIANS BIG TIME.

Perseverance Lodge Accepted its 200th Member Last Night.

The was a big time up at the meeting of Perservance Lodge, Knights of Pythias, last evening, when the third rank was conferred on the 199th and the 200th candidates. The long form was worked by the team assisted by the members of Crescent Division, Uniformed Rank. Grand Master and Exchequer Patrick, of Rutherford, was present and there were delegations from Perth Amboy, Roselle and Elizabeth. Goodwill and Unity Lodges were also represented by large delegations. The members of Perseverance Lodge turned out in large numbers.

After the initiation came songs and speeches and then followed a banquet. The visitors agreed that Perseverance Lodge was the banner lodge of the State and the grand officers agreed with them.

The new uniforms for the initiatory team were received in time to be used last evening for the first time.

HATCHING CANARIES OUT WEST.

Milwaukee Now Supplies This Country With Most of Its Warblers.

Milwaukee supplies the United States with the bulk of the Hartz Mountain canaries, and there is no great crime in the deception, for the Milwaukee bird is really an improvement on the imported article, having just as fine a voice and being much hardier.

Experiences has shown that the imported singer loses the power of transmitting his voice to the young after passing through an American winter. This is the case, also, it is said, with the Tyrolean singers who come to this country, their voices losing the peculiar yodling quality when they have been here a year. The native canary is hardier than the imported ones, and, with proper training, is every bit as good a singer.

Before they are mated the hen birds are kept in separate cages in the music room, carefully fed and made to listen to the music of the singers and the machine used in training their voices. In this way the hen is enabled to transmit the best musical quality to its offspring. The music room is a large one with a south exposure, and is kept with the same scrupulous neatness as the breeding room. In the corner of this room is the bird organ, and with it the little birds are given their vocal training.

When the machine is started the notes emitted are wonderfully like the song of the untutored canary. These notes are known to bird trainers by the term pfeiffen. Gradually the whistle strikes on to a different line. It is an improvement over the pfeiffen, and is called klingel rolle. A higher step still is called the klingel, and a still higher step hohl klingel. Lastly comes what is called hohl rollen, and a bird whose voice has been developed up to that point is worth $50 in the market any day.—Milwaukee Sentinel.

THE BIG GAME TO-DAY.

Last Important Football Day of the Year.

New York, Nov. 20.—This is really the last important football day of the year, although several attractive games will be played on Thanksgiving day. But the big elevens really wind up their heavy schedule this afternoon with what will probably be the best sport of the year.

Primarily the Princeton-Yale match at New Haven will attract the bulk of the public's attention. This game has of late years been played in this city, but it got to be such an immense outing that the college interfered, and it was decided hereafter to play it on college grounds.

Next in importance is the Harvard-Pennsylvania game at Philadelphia. The failure of the crimson to defeat Yale has made this contest particularly interesting, as the Quakers have what is thought to be the strongest eleven in the country, barring Princeton. If by chance Harvard should win from Pennsylvania and Princeton and Princeton should defeat Yale, the season would end with the Tigers having a just claim on the football championship. But if Pennsylvania and Princeton both win there will be the same unsatisfactory state of affairs that has existed since relations with Pennsylvania were severed by both Yale and Princeton in 1894.

Hypnotism Cures a Girl.

Gloversville, N. Y., Nov. 20.—Ida Steele, a pretty 16-year-old girl, has been cured of a serious attack of hiccoughs by hypnotism.

At intervals in the last six years she has suffered frequently from the same cause, but the last attack was the worst of all. Every known remedy was tried by Dr. A. C. Hagadorn, but without success. As a last resort he decided to try hypnotism.

Dr. F. J. Rush, a dentist, who has made a study of hypnotism, was called in. He placed the girl in a hypnotic state, and she was soon quietly resting after several days of constant suffering. When she came out of her sleep the hiccoughs had disappeared entirely, and to-day she is not troubled with them.

Georgia May Forbid Football.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 20.—Gov. Atkinson has before him the Anti-Football bill, which has passed both Houses. Its provisions make participation in a game of football at which an admission fee is charged a misdemeanor. The Governor will probably sign it, but he has several days yet in which to consider it. He is urged to sign it by the authorities of colleges which are rivals of the State University and by church bodies. Mrs. Gammon, the mother of the boy whose death caused the introduction of the bill, insists that it is unwise.

Wants to Succeed Gorman.

Baltimore, Nov. 20.—Gov. Lowndes has become a prominent candidate for the United States Senate, to succeed Senator Gorman. Senator Wellington will to-day take active charge of the Governor's campaign.

Gov. Lowndes' friends assert that their candidate, by a judicious exercise of his admitted power, can easily control votes enough for the caucus to give him the nomination.

POISONED BY SWALLOWING SPIDERS

A Minister Died from the Effects of One Concealed in His Food.

Some remarkable cases of internal poisoning from the bites of spiders, accidentally swallowed, have been reported recently in Kentucky. A Methodist minister, the Rev. Silas Spurrier, swallowed a small spider which had been concealed in an apple dumpling. The inflammation from the bites of the concealed enemy rapidly increased and the patient died before relief could be given. The case has attracted especial attention from the rumor that a woman had purposely placed the spider in the dumpling. When investigations were made it was found that the person suspected had left the country. A woman in Frankfort named Mrs. Pardie also swallowed a black water spider by accident recently. The poison from the bites spread itself through her system until her head and face were badly swollen. She finally recovered.—New York Tribune.

The President's Flag.

It has been the custom for many years to denote the President's presence in the city by flying from the White House the American flag. When the President was out of the city the flag was taken down. The President's own flag is never used except when he goes on board a naval vessel. The President's flag is about the size of the regulation ensign. The body of the flag is blue. In the centre is an eagle, exactly like that on a half dollar. The eagle is embroidered in white. The arrows and olive branch are worked in similar material, and the stars are arranged above the bird. The shield on the breast of the eagle is worked in red, thus giving the national colors—red, white, and blue—and forming a beautiful flag.—St Louis Globe Journal.

He Was Excused.

"You wish to be relieved from jury duty," said a Judge quoted by "The Green Bag," "but you haven't given a good reason." "It is to save money for the people," replied the unwilling talesman. "I have dyspepsia, Judge, and I never agree with anybody. If I go on this jury there will be a disagreement, and the county will have to go to the expense of a new trial." "Excused," said the Judge.

ART IN PHOTOGRAPHY.

BEAUTIFUL EXHIBIT ARRANGED BY THE CAMERA CLUB.

Judges Commenced Awarding Saturday Night—Harold Serrell Carried Off the Honors—Open to Public All This Week.

Tonight the photographic art prints exhibit of the Plainfield Camera Club will be opened to the public. That enterprising organization of amateur photographers yearly prepare something new for the art-loving people of this city. This year they have decided to give an exhibition of prints which will be the largest of its kind ever held here.

The different exhibits were all in place Saturday night so that the judges might look them over at that time and make the awards in the different classes. The judging was done by a committee composed of E. Percy King, a well-known professional from New York, Paul L. V. Thiery, former president of the Newark Camera Club and Julian Scott, the well-known artist in this city. After the judges had completed their labors, a Press reporter was treated to a private view of the exhibition.

Altogether the exhibition is a very creditable one and the Plainfield amateurs show their ability to hold their own with the best of other cities. Besides the local competing exhibitors, of whom there are quite a number there are representatives from the Brooklyn and Newark Camera Clubs. Among the exhibitors who do not compete, there are photographers, both amateur and professional, showing views taken all over the world.

To an expert the exhibition is very good and some excellent work is shown. Many of the modern papers are used and there are various new effects produced. To the popular eye the exhibit will find favor, as it contains many beautiful and interesting views. Every subject is touched upon and there is sufficient variety throughout to prevent any dullness to the uninitiated spectator. There are many familiar scenes that have been photographed and reproduced thus in miniature.

The exhibit is held in the rooms of the Camera Club on the top floor of the Babcock building which are specially adapted to such a purpose. The light is so arranged as to show off the prints to their best advantage and there are no dark corners in which some of the photographs can be hidden away.

The principal award was that of a handsome silver medal for the best collection of photographs of at least six subjects. This was given to Henry B. Vandeveer, of Brooklyn, who has a fine collection on exhibition. Some of his marine views would have done well in that class had they been contesting for the award there. Like most of the photographs on exhibition, his pictures had the dull finish which has so lately come into general use among the experts.

The other awards were as follows:

Portraits—First, M A. Audsley, of Plainfield; second, George E. Hall, of Fanwood.

Genre—First, D L. Plumb, of Newark; second, Mrs. Rand.

Marines—First, William T. Wintringham, of New York; second, George E. Hall, of Fanwood.

Interiors—Harold Serrell, of Plainfield; William T. Wintringham, of New York.

Hand Camera Work—First, Harold Serrell, of Plainfield; second, Mrs Lewis H. Morgan, of Plainfield.

Landscapes—First, Harold Serrell, of Plainfield; second, George E Hal, of Fanwood.

Enlargements—First, William Demarest,

Groups—First, George E. Hall, of Fanwood; second, Harold Serrell, of Plainfield.

Lantern Slides—First, William T. Wintringham, of New York; second, J. Hervey Doane.

As will be noticed after a glance over the awards, Harold Serrell, president of the Plainfield Camera Club, has carried away the honors of the day by winning three first and one second. George E Hall, of Fanwood, was a close candidate for the honors, with three seconds and a first.

Tonight the rooms of the club will be opened for public view at 7:45 o'clock and will remain open until 10:30 o'clock. The rooms will after that be open every afternoon in the week from 2 to 5:30 o'clock and in the evening from 7:45 to 10:30 o'clock. The admission will be 25 cents for adults and 10 cents for children.

APPEAL FOR TEMPERANCE.

FRIENDS OPPOSE LIQUOR LICENSE.

Deprecate the Continued Traffic in Alcoholic Beverages and Urge Voters to Oppose It.

The Society of Friends has issued the following public appeal which explains itself:

TO THE VOTERS OF PLAINFIELD!

You are invited by resolution of the Common Council, unanimously adopted, to vote at the approaching charter election for or against the following proposition, which is directed to be printed upon each official ballot:

THE PROPOSITION.

"Let the Common Council continue the present system of high license to regulate and control the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors."

The undersigned, a committee of the Plainfield Monthly Meeting of the Religious Society of Friends, deeply impressed with the great evil of intemperance, and deprecating the continued traffic in alcoholic beverages, respectfully and most earnestly ask you to vote against the above proposition.

I. Because the high license liquor saloons of Plainfield are a menace to the moral well-being of its citizens, especially of its boys and young men.

II. Because these saloons impoverish the homes of their patrons, and are largely tributary to the pauperism, vice and crime of the city.

III. Because the license system makes responsible for the evil involved in the liquor traffic the citizen who votes for its continuance.

IV. Because it is wrong to legalize, and thus derive public revenue from an evil traffic. "Woe to him that buildeth a town with blood, and stablisheth a city by iniquity!" [Habakukkuk, 2: 12.]

V. Because the timely action of the Common Council brings the opportunity to every citizen, especially to every Christian voter, to give heed to Isaiah's significant message [57: 14:] "Prepare the way, take up the stumbling block out of the way of my people."

HELPING THE UNFORTUNATE.

Work of McAll Mission in Paris Described by Picture and Speech.

The McAll Mission, in Paris, is a work in which many Plainfielders are deeply interested, and the lecture given last Saturday night in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church, under the auspices of the McAll Auxiliary of this city, can hardly fail to awaken still greater interest.

The lecture was delivered by Rev. Dr. Loba, who was at one time connected with the Paris mission work. His talk was illustrated by stereopticon views.

It is among the lower classes of these people that the McAll Mission is doing such a great work. Mission halls are being opened all over the city, and thousands of children drawn into Sunday-schools, young girls rescued from the streets and banded together in Christian Endeavor societies and Young Women's Christian unions. Many pictures of the halls and of typical congregations were shown. The gospel boats, in which the workers often go about to organize new mission stations, were the subject of several very interesting views.

Upon the death of Dr. McAll, about three years ago, his wife, who had always been his devoted helper, took upon herself the task of writing a worthy biography of the great mission worker, and then, laying aside her pen, returned to Paris to take up her husband's work. Closing his lecture with a tribute of respect and honor to this noble and beautiful woman, Dr. Loba commended the cause of this greatest of city missions to the hearts, the prayers, and the purses of his hearers.

Turkeys From the Mayor.

The officials of the borough, including the marshals, certainly have cause for thankfulness this year. When they set down next Thursday to partake of their choice Thanksgiving turkey they will kindly remember His Honor, the Mayor. Mr. Wilson purchased a number of fine turkeys at J. M. SABBATH OBSERVANCE.

REV. A. H. LEWIS' ADVICE TO HIS CHURCH DENOMINATION.

Seventh-Day Baptists Warned Against Being Influenced by Tendencies That Threaten Standard of Sunday Observance

The annual meeting of the Seventh day Baptist churches of New York city and New Jersey was continued Saturday afternoon and evening and yesterday in the Seventh-day Baptist church, of this city.

The sessions of Saturday afternoon were devoted to the discussion of Sabbath-school and Christian Endeavor work, with a number of interesting remarks by delegates. The meeting of Saturday evening was addressed by Miss May Dixon, on the subject of "Junior Christian Endeavor Work," and by Miss Lizzie Fisher, on "Primary Sabbath-school Work."

The meetings were resumed yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, when Mrs. Rheune Randolph, of Mount Pleasant, gave an interesting address on "Woman's Work in the Church and Denomination," and Rev. L. E. Livermore, of this city, spoke on Sabbath-school work, saying that there are four objects in the work, to teach the Scriptures, to convert the pupils, to train them in the Scriptures and to prepare them for Christian work. The way to attain these objects is by the fostering care of the church, by using approved methods and by consecration.

At 11 o'clock an eloquent sermon was preached by Rev. G. B. Shaw, of the Seventh-day Baptist church of New York city. The text of the discourse was Lamentations I, 12: "Is it nothing to thee?"

The principal meeting of the day was held at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon. Rev. F. E. Peterson, of Dunellen, made the first address, which was on the subject of missions. In the foreign field, he stated, effective work is being done by the church's missionaries in China, Holland and London, the expenditures of which for the past year were $3,880. In the home missionary field the church has seventeen workers constantly employed. The large indebtedness of the board will probably make a slight retrenchment necessary during the coming year.

Rev. A. H. Lewis, D. D., next presented the work of the American Sabbath Tract Society, of which he is the secretary. The society was organized in 1819, and since 1865 its work has been both national and international. The speaker dwelt on the dangers which are threatening Sunday observance, such as the Sunday newspaper and Sunday bicycle riding, and warned Seventh-Day Baptists against being influenced or disheartened by similar tendencies, telling them that they must not make their standard of Sabbath observance like the standard of Sunday observance.

Rev. I. L. Cottrell, of Shiloh, next addressed the meeting on the work of the Brotherhood, of which he is the president. The organization is composed of Seventh-Day Baptists who agree to pray for one another every Friday evening. The Brotherhood, he said, stands for a new lease of brotherly love. We should love one another as Christ loved us, and we should not only love but serve one another.

A stirring address on the temperance cause by Principal Frank L. Green, of Brooklyn, was next given. He defined temperance as the spirit and practice of rational self control over the temper, the tongue and the appetites.

At 7:45 o'clock a prayer and conference meeting was held, led by Rev. I. L. Cottrell.

AN EASY PLACE TO REST.

J. W. Richardson Presented With a Sofa by His Church.

Last Saturday evening the officers of the Park Avenue Baptist church presented their pastor, Rev. J. W. Richardson, with a very handsome and costly sofa to be placed in his study at the church. The article was purchased at Packer's and taken to the church, after which a messenger was sent to tell Mr. Richardson to come to the church. When the latter arrived he was greatly surprised, but was equal to the occasion by replying in his usual happy manner. He thanked the donors sincerely for their magnificent gift.

Commissioners of Appeal to Meet.

The Commissioners of Appeal will meet November 23d at 2 o'clock in the afternoon in the Council rooms to meet all taxpayers who have any complaints to submit.

St. Stephen's Church.

The annual parish meeting for the election of wardens and vestrymen to serve for the ensuing year will be held in the church tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

AN INSPIRING SIGHT.

GRACE M E. CHURCH ACQUIRES MANY NEW MEMBERS.

Result of the Revival Meetings That Have Been in Progress and Will Continue—One More Conversion Made Last Night

Yesterday was a red-letter day in the history of Grace M. E. church. At 10:30 a. m. a large congregation had gathered to witness the reception on probation of the young converts. It was an inspiration to Christians to see them gather round the altar two deep and hear them take upon themselves the probationers' vows.

Preceding the reception on probation, eight persons were received by letters from other churches. Then after a short sermon by the pastor a number were baptized. Besides the above, four were received from probation into full membership.

All told, the accessories to this church yesterday were: By letter, 8; from probation, 4; on probation, 43; total, 55.

In the evening the church was again filled. The singing by the choir was especially appropriate and impressive. To the after service a large number remained, and one man professed to having found peace at the altar. There were also several requests for prayer.

The services will be continued every night this week, excepting Saturday.

MATCH CAUSED A LIVELY BLAZE.

Hired Man Threw it on the Floor—Room Soon Discovered in Flames.

A fire which might have resulted seriously had it not been discovered in the nick of time, occurred at the residence of Patrick Traynor, 675 West Seventh street, Saturday night. One of Mr. Traynor's hired men, who rooms in the house, went to his apartment about eight o'clock and lighted the gas, tossing the match upon the floor. He left the house a few minutes later.

At about 9 o'clock the members of the family detected the odor of smoke in several of the rooms, and an investigation was commenced. When the hired man's room was opened a cloud of smoke and flame was discovered. The bed and the window hangings were burning fiercely, and it required the best efforts of Mr. Traynor, assisted by his sons, to extinguish the flames. The damage amounted to $50.

G. L. VanEmburgh Hurt by a Cyclist.

An unknown young bicyclist struck G. L. VanEmburgh Saturday evening on the corner of Park avenue and Front street, throwing Mr. Van Emburgh down, but fortunately doing him no more injury than a few bruises and a shaking up. Mr. VanEmburgh was trying to get out of the way of a horse and wagon that was turning into Park avenue from Front street, when the bicyclist came dashing along, Mr. VanEmburgh did not know of his presence until he was struck and knocked down. The young man was thrown from his wheel, but not injured.

Pets Stolen.

David Ayres, of 214 Grant avenue, has suffered a great loss in having fourteen pigeons and a pet rabbit stolen from his home last week. They were kept in a small house on the rear of the lot, and sometime during the night thieves entered the place and took the inmates. There is not the slightest suspicion as to who the guilty parties are, but the matter has been reported to the police.

A Stag Racket.

Godwin Beard entertained a number of his friends at a "stag racket" held at his home on Hillside avenue, Friday evening. Whist was the principal attraction of the evening. Those present were Curtis Beard, John Hull, Aubrey Hull, William Hobbie, George Proctor Smith, Roy T. Phillips, Harry Woltmann, Morice Dumont, Orville T. Waring, Benjamin O. Bowers, Jr., and Albert Finch.

Post to be Inspected.

At the regular meeting of Winfield Scott Post, No. 73, G. A. R., tomorrow evening, the annual inspection of the post will take place, and the department commander and staff will pay the post an official visit. Officers for next year will also be nominated at this time.

Reception for Pastor.

Next Saturday night a reception will be tendered to Rev. Mr. McKane, pastor of the First Church of Christ, by the members of his congregation. The reception will be given at the home of the pastor, 106 Manning avenue.

Sprained His Knee Cap.

James Taylor, of West Seventh street, sprained his knee cap Saturday. He slipped by accident and fell on his knee.

—Stone Square Lodge, F. and A. M., will meet this evening, and consider important business.

MAKING MEN LIVE BETTER.

WORK OF INDUSTRIAL CHRISTIANS.

The Kindly Interest Taken in the Homeless and Friendless by Good New York People.

There was a good-sized audience present at the Congregational church last evening when A. W. Millbury, of the Industrial Christian Alliance of New York, was present and gave an intensely interesting talk under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the church, on the subject of "Helping men to help themselves." Mr. Millbury told considerable regarding the work that is being carried on in New York, and how they help men to make Christian citizens of themselves.

During the address he gave a number of personal incidents concerning cases that come under his observation. He said that the object of the home is to take the friendless, homeless man and help him to live better. He said that the men who are reached by the home are found to be of tolerably good birth and education. He reported the case of several where they had secured good positions after being helped.

The audience listened attentively to the speaker, showing that their sympathies were with him and his work. At the close a collection was taken for the work. Mr. Millbury also asked for donations of clothing, etc.; in fact anything that could be used in the home to clothe those who come under the influence of the institution.

Violin solos were rendered by P. Ludwig Conde, accompanied by Mrs Barnes on the organ and Mrs. Dwight on the piano, before and after the address. Frank O. Bristol was the precentor.

SAYS HIS WIFE DESERTED HIM.

Lemuel E. Perry Petitions the Court for a Divorce.

Lemuel Perry, the North avenue barber, has begun divorce proceedings against his wife. They have been married for nine years and have been together about half that time. Perry claims that she deserted him September 1, 1896, and went to New Brunswick. Then he claims that he fitted up a house in Plainfield and ordered her to return to his house. She came, he says, when he was not there and loaded the furniture on a truck and disappeared with it, and that he has not seen either her or the furniture.

The petition for divorce was filed in the Court of Chancery at Trenton November 5th, by McNabb & Clark, solicitors for Perry. The citations were served on the defendant November 19th, returnable at Trenton December 13th.

What the Kindergarten Does for the Child.

Miss Fisher, of Boston, a distinguished kindergartner, comes to Plainfield Friday next to talk on the above subject. The gathering to hear Miss Fisher will be in the rooms of the Netherwood kindergarten, which has been admirably fitted for kindergarten purposes in the carriage house of C. P. Ralli. This discourse by Miss Fisher has been arranged with the idea of fostering an appreciation of true and educated kindergarten work in this vicinity. As considerable additional expense is incurred for this occasion, it has been thought desirable that an admission fee, estimated sufficient to cover this, should be charged, and tickets may be had of Mrs. Edgar H. Mumford, 639 Belvidere avenue, Plainfield.

Married for Twenty Years.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald McInnis, of West Third street, corner of Prescott place, celebrated the twentieth anniversary of their marriage last Friday evening, and in honor of the event a few friends gathered at their home and joined in the festivities of the happy occasion. The bride and groom received many congratulations also a number of appropriate gifts. At a late hour supper was served, after which the guests departed for their homes carrying with them many pleasant memories of the celebration.

The Twilight's Masquerade.

The third grand masquerade ball of the Twilight Social Club will take place Thanksgiving Eve, Wednesday, November 24th, in the Crescent Rink. The affair will be up-to-date in every particular, and from present indications it would seem that the Rink will be taxed to its utmost capacity to accommodate all who have signified their intention of being present on this occasion.

To Buy Books for the Poor.

The Children of Mary of St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, give an entertainment in St. Mary's School Hall, on Liberty street, this evening commencing at 8 o'clock. The proceeds will be devoted to the purchase of books for the children of the poor.

ON POLITICAL TONGUES.

COMMITTEE OF FORTY WILL PROBABLY BE ANNOUNCED TOMORROW.

The Consents of All Those Selected Have Not Yet Been Secured—Peaceable Second Ward Republicans—Fight in Third Ward

Both sides are now actively preparing for the coming city election, December 7th. The Citizens' movement is gathering headway and, its leaders claim, will swamp the G. O. P. machine when the election comes. The machine workers are very confident, however, that they will come out of the big end of the horn.

Former Councilman Walter L. Hetfield has appointed the committee of two from each ward, according to the resolution passed at the mass-meeting of the Citizens in Washington Hall. Those already appointed have chosen the other men to act in the committee of forty, which is to prepare the Citizens' ticket, and their names will be announced as soon as the consents of all have been obtained to allow their names to be used in that way. Some of the Republican voters are rather disinclined to come out openly for the movement for fear of "queering" themselves with the machine, but are perfectly willing to work under cover to turn down the present administration.

The leaders of the Citizens' movement have decided to wait for the nominations of the Republicans before showing their hand. The Republican primaries are to be held tomorrow night and the opposition is planning to hold its ratification meeting on Wednesday evening when the report of the committe of forty will be heard and the citizens, who are working against the Republican party this time, will be called on to pass judgment on the ticket which that committee will present.

Harmony promises to reign at the Second ward Republican primary tomorrow night. The kickers are not going to attend, it is claimed, and those who come will probably be solidly in favor of the renomination of Councilman Frost. A committee, composed of Councilman William N. Runyon, W. H. Drayton and John Keeley, called on Councilmam Frost Saturday night, and secured his acceptance to stand for the nomination. It is understood that this committee represented the wishes of the leaders of the party in the ward.

There is going to be a contest at the Third ward primary unless active measures are taken by the machine to squelch one of the candidates which does not seem likely. Councilman Elliott T. Barrows is the candidate for the nomination for the "roosters," as the commuters' and Union County Country Club faction is called. His opponent is D. W. Littell, of West Seventh street, the well-known plumber, who has consented to allow his name to be presented at the primary as a candidate for the Councilmanic nomination. Mr. Littell has been a resident of Plainfield for the last thirty years and is a large taxpayer. He has been a successful business man, knows the needs of the city and is well calculated to conduct the affairs of the city government. He is supported by the faction who want a local business man in the Council and who have not been satisfied with Mr. Barrows' work in the Council.

It is said that some of the men employed in Scott's Press Works have announced their intention of presenting Fred W. Stack's name for a Councilmanic nominee at the Second ward Republican primary tomorrow night.

Billy Greenwood Thrown From His Horse.

William Greenwood, who boards at McVey's Hotel, on North avenue, was enjoying a horseback ride on Mountain avenue this morning when his horse shied suddenly at some object lying in the road and Greenwood was thrown to the ground, striking upon his head. He was insensible for a time, and was taken to his rooms at the hotel, and medical treatment summoned. It is not thought that the injuries are at all serious.

Looking to Christmas.

The members of the primary department of the First Baptist church Sunday-school will give an entertainment next Saturday afternoon in the parlors of the church at 3 o'clock. The proceeds will be devoted to the object of providing a Christmas entertainment for the primary department.

To Meet the Religiously Impressed.

Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D., pastor of Trinity Reformed church, will be in the small hall in the Y. M. C. A. building tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock, for the purpose of meeting and conversing with persons who have recently been religiously impressed.

—A special sale of fifty dozen bunches of fancy table celery will take place at Neuman Bros., today and tomorrow.

CHANGES IN CABINET

Two and Perhaps Three Members Will Resign.

SHERMAN WILL STEP OUT

Secretary of State Certain to Retire to Private Life in the Near Future—Attorney-General to Succeed Chief Justice Field.

Washington, Nov. 22.—At least two, and possibly three, changes in President McKinley's Cabinet will occur in the near future.

It is definitely settled, as already stated in these dispatches, that Attorney-General McKenna will be appointed to the Supreme Court bench on Dec. 6, the first day of the new session of Congress. It is also certain that before long Secretary Sherman will retire to private life.

The other possible change is in the Postoffice Department. Postmaster-General Gary has aspirations for the United States Senate. He has not yet declared himself, but Republican leaders in Maryland will insist that he shall do so at an early date. If he can receive reasonable assurances that he will be elected, Mr. Gary will enter the campaign and leave the Cabinet for that purpose.

The President, it is said, would regret very much to have Mr. Gary leave, being opposed to his entering the Senatorial race. He considers Judge McComas a well-equipped man for the Senate, and if Mr. Gary decides to remain in the Cabinet the support of the Administration will be thrown to the Judge.

Secretary Sherman's Retirement.

No date has yet been fixed for the retirement of Secretary Sherman, and some of his friends deny that he has any intention of leaving the public service until the close of the Administration. The positive statement has been made, however, by competent authority that Mr. Sherman does contemplate leaving the State Department at an early date. It is said that he would have resigned several months ago but for some newspaper statements which represented him as being mentally unequal to the strain of office. He determined to remain in office long enough to disprove these statements.

When it is shown by official correspondence upon foreign questions which will be laid before Congress that he is still vigorous in mind, he will at some opportune time resign. Upon his retirement Assistant Secretary of State Day will become his successor. Mr. Day could have had the office of Attorney-General if he had desired it, and if there had been any doubt about Secretary Sherman's ultimate retirement the probabilities are he would have accepted it.

No one has yet been selected to succeed Attorney-General McKenna. Col. J. J. McCook, of New York, and Judge Nathan Goff have been seriously considered, but for geographical reasons, it is understood, the President has decided to take other names under consideration. The appointment will go either to the West or Middle West. The President will give the appointment to California if he can find the right man there.

Opposition to Mr. McKenna.

It is not certain that Mr. McKenna's nomination to be a Justice of the Supreme Court will be confirmed without serious opposition in the Senate. Several Republican Senators are understood to be opposed to his promotion. It has been reported that Senator Hoar, chairman of the Judiciary Committee, to which the nomination will be referred, will oppose the appointment, and in this case confirmation may be very difficult.

It is certain that the whole power of the American Protective Association will be exerted to prevent the confirmation of Mr. McKenna on account of his being a member of the Roman Catholic Church. A reporter saw Supreme President Echols at the national headquarters of the American Protective Association, and he said that the order would do all in its power to prevent confirmation. He said, with emphasis, that this opposition would not be personal in any respect to Mr. McKenna.

"If we must have another Catholic on the Bench," said he, "I can say with certainty that there is no one we would rather have than Mr. McKenna. He is a very liberal man, and but for the fact that he belongs to a church which makes allegiance to the United States secondary to allegiance to the Pope of Rome we would not oppose his appointment. We believe that with Justice White on the Supreme Bench the Catholic Church already has its full quota, and we will oppose the appointment of another member of that church.

"When the Catholic Church in America has progressed to the point which I fully believe Archbishops Ireland and Keane and other members of the American party in the Church would carry it, and when it has renounced the idea of the temporal power of the Pope, and no longer makes allegiance to him paramount to allegiance to the country, then we shall cease to oppose members of that church politically."

Not Preparing Arbitration Treaty.

Reports to the effect that President McKinley was interested in the preparation of a new arbitration treaty with Great Britain are unwarranted. The President is just now busy in the preparation of his annual message, and he considers of the first importance the annexation of Hawaii, the building of the Nicaragua Canal and the passage of a currency measure that will relieve our financial condition. When Congress had discussed and acted upon these things perhaps he may consider the matter of a new treaty of arbitration with England. Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Ambassador to this country, who is an aspirant for the peerage, undoubtedly would like to gain the eclat for himself that he thinks would result from the adoption of a new treaty of arbitration with his Government. He and his friends in this country are doing all they can to create a sentiment in favor of such a treaty, but the President's advisers say that he is not fathering any new arbitration treaty with England at the present time.

The statement to the effect that the President was not behind Secretary Gage in his scheme for currnecy reform is absolutely incorrect; in fact, the contrary is the case. The President is deeply interested in the success of Secretary Gage's scheme. What the President will have to say upon the question of currency reform in his message will be expressed in a plain, simple, direct manner. There will be no misunderstanding what he means and what he desires.

LONDON'S GREAT FIRE.

Estimates of the Loss Range from $10,000,000 to $60,000,000.

London, Nov. 22.—The last of the flames of the great fire disappeared yesterday, and the burned district was surrounded by enormous crowds of people. The railroads are running excursion trains from the country.

A large number of warehouses of from five to six stories high have been burned and have partly fallen, the whole covering an area of 200 by 150 yards, bounded by Nichols Square, Edmunds place, Jewin Crescent, Australian avenue, Paul's alley and Red Cross street.

All the historic treasures of St. Giles' Church, including the records of Oliver Cromwell's marriage, Milton's burial and of the deaths from the plague in 1665 were removed.

The estimates of the amount of damage done range from £2,000,000 ($10,000,000) to £12,000,000 ($60,000,000), but according to the best opinion the loss is about £2,000,000 ($10,000,000). The official report says the cause of the fire is unknown.

The insurance agents take an optimistic view of the losses, their estimates ranging from £300,000 ($1,500,000) to £800,000 ($4,000,000). It is a fact that dozens of the burned-out firms were not insured, in some cases because they were considered to be undesirable customers and in others because the locality has long been considered dangerous by the insurance companies. The latter assert that the sensational rumors regarding the losses have been prompted on the Stock Exchange in order to influence stocks.

FATAL SHOCK TO MODESTY.

Lady Dies from the Effect of Seeing Her Escort Strip for a Swim.

Cincinnati, Nov. 22.—Miss Clara Hoffman, a handsome young woman and one of the most talented pupils of the Cincinnati Art School, has just died from a shock to her modesty.

Bruce Horsfall, a fellow pupil, in a spirit of fun dared the young woman to take a boat ride with him on the Ohio River in the dark. In the same joking spirit the invitation was accepted, and the couple started out last Thursday upon their adventure.

Upon reaching a dark spot in the current Horsfall thought to carry the jest further by declaring that he was going in swimming from the boat. Miss Hoffman at first supposed that her escort was only talking, but she nearly fainted away when he began to divest himself of his outer garments.

Despite the girl's cries, protests and screams Horsfall deliberately took off his shoes, coat, vest, trousers, and even his shirt, and plunged into the water.

Miss Hoffman dropped into the bottom of the boat in a semi-hysterical fit before she discovered that Horsfall had on a complete bathing suit under his other clothing. As soon as the young artist discovered his companion's condition he hurried ashore with her and took her home.

The next morning she was prostrated with an attack of brain fever, from which she never rallied, dying in a raving delirium early yesterday morning.

ARCHBISHOP TEMPLE TO RESIGN.

Primate of the Church of England Will Retire from Office.

London, Nov. 22.—The Right Hon. and Most Rev. Frederick Temple, D. D., Archbishop of Canterbury and primate of all England, will, it is reported, resign the archbishopric after the seventy-sixth anniversary of his birth, which will occur on Nov. 30.

Although his sight is failing, the reports that the archbishop is in danger of becoming totally blind are denied.

The Archbishop of Canterbury, who was enthroned on Jan. 8 last, as successor to the late Archbishop Benson, was born in 1821. He has been successively head master of Rugby, Bishop of Exeter and more recently Bishop of London. He took a double first class at Oxford, and married a daughter of the Right Hon. W. S. Lascelles.

A Change of Owners.

Chicago, Nov. 22.—The Inter Ocean yesterday published the announcement that it appeared for the first time under the active management of its new owners. It will oppose the Chicago newspaper trust, it declares, and advocate giving to all newspapers who desire it Associated Press news and any other news which it will be desirable for the people to have. It will remain loyal to the principles of the Republican party.

Mr. N. N. Osburn, well-known at Woodstock, Mich., was troubled with a lame back. He was persuaded to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It gave him relief in one night. This remedy is also famous for its cures of rheumatism. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Superintendent Whightman, of the North Plainfield Public High School, spent Sunday at Vineland.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. The Remedy cured me, and I want all of my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will do them good. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, cor. of Park and North avenues.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. How to Cure Billous Colic.

I suffered for weeks with colic and pains in my stomach caused by billiousness and had to take medicine all the while until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured me. I have since recommended it to a good many people. Mrs. F. Butler, Fairhaven, Conn. Persons who are subject to billious colic can ward off the attack by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms appear. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner North and Park avenues.

The Greatest Discovery Yet.

W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

—The dime social held under the auspices of the Christian Endeavor Society of the First Church of Christ recently, will in all probability be repeated at an early date.

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has Lame Back and Weak Kidneys, Malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to the Liver and Kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures Constipation, Headache, Fainting Spells, Sleeplessness and Melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

THORN'S NEW WITNESS

She is a Miss Ziegler, Whose Testimony May Be Important.

CRIME PLANNED LONG AGO

She Will Swear to a Visit Made to Her Cottage Last March by Mrs. Nack, in Company with Guldensuppe.

New York, Nov. 22.—Martin Thorn, indicted with Mrs. Augusta Nack for the murder of William Guldensuppe, the Turkish bath rubber, at the Woodside cottage on June 25 last, was placed on trial for his life the second time in the Queens County Court House at 9.40 this morning. District Attorney Youngs says that the trial will be conducted on the same procedure on which the former trial was begun when interrupted by the illness of Juror Larsen. He expresses himself as being confident of securing a conviction, and intimated that the prosecution, if anything, is stronger than on the previous trial, as during the lapse of ten days he has been enabled to secure many additional points in substantiation of Mrs. Nack's confession, which the defense is preparing to deny.

William F. Howe, Thorn's counsel, on the other hand, has not been idle, and proposes to produce a newly discovered witness, who will give testimony for the defense. Lawyer Moss alleges that this witness will upset the case of the prosecution considerably and the confession of Mrs. Nack, and will help prove the case of the defense that it was Mrs. Nack who lured, shot and killed the Turkish bath rubber in the Woodside cottage, and that it was she who afterward cut the body up in the different portions in which it was found.

The defense, to bear out this latter grewsome part, will endeavor to prove that Thorn is entirely ignorant of surgery, while Mrs. Nack was a skilled woman in her knowledge of the different parts of anatomy, which knowledge she acquired in Germany before receiving her diploma to practice midwifery. Guldensuppe's body was dismembered by a person with a knowledge of surgery, the defense claims.

Both the prosecution and defense will produce new witnesses. Lawyer Howe will leave no stone unturned to break down Mrs. Nack's confession, while District Attorney Youngs is very confident that the story of the woman who admits she lured Guldensuppe to his death will be minutely corroborated, link after link.

The newly discovered witness of the defense is said to be a Mrs. Ida Ziegler, of 1671 West Farms road, in the Annexed District. It is claimed that Mrs. Ziegler will be a very important witness for the defense, and will give evidence tending to show that as early as last March Mrs. Nack had designs on Guldensuppe's life, and that she, accompanied by Guldensuppe, had agreed to hire her cottage which she had for rent in an isolated part of West Farms. Mr. Moss to-day said that Mrs. Ziegler had positively identified Mrs. Nack, and from a photograph of Guldensuppe shown to her the newly discovered witness had also identified the picture as one of the Turkish bath rubber, the man who accompanied Mrs. Nack. After carefully viewing the Ziegler cottage the couple never returned.

District Attorney Youngs attaches much importance to the finding of the saw in the Flushing Meadows since the confession of Mrs. Nack. The latter told the officers of the law where she had accompanied Thorn to hide the saw after the cutting up of Guldensuppe's body. Mr. Howe discredits the saw story and intimates that it was placed where found by the prosecution.

One hundred and fifty talesmen have been empaneled. Mr. Youngs says that not more than two days ought to be occupied in securing a jury, and he expects to open the case for the prosecution not later than Wednesday. On the former trial all jury-getting records in celebrated cases were broken. Twelve good men and true were secured as competent jurors in one day.

Mrs. Nack spends her time knitting in her cell. She is visited almost daily by her spiritual adviser, the Rev. R. H. P. Miles, pastor of the Presbyterian Church, who also visits Thorn. The latter whiles away his time playing pinochle with his cellmates. A strict watch is kept on the prisoner night and day, as the officials have reasons to believe that Thorn might end his life any time he got a convenient chance.

Big Failure in Elmira.

Elmira, Nov. 22.—Hyland & Brown, Elmira's big wholesale and retail dry-goods firm, have failed. They have executed and delivered chattel mortgages aggregating $65,000, and the mortgagees' agents are now in possession of the property of the firm.

The mortgages are in favor of the Second National Bank, of Elmira; Tefft, Weller & Co., H. B. Claflin & Co., Bosart Pere et Fils, Dunham, Buckley & Co., Lee, Tweedy & Co., and James McCreery, all of New York City; Dey Brothers & Co., of Syracuse, and Elizabeth McKenna, of Vermont.

Over two hundred employes were connected with the establishment. Shrinkage in values alone seems to be responsible for the firm's embarrassment.

Judge Nelson Dead.

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 22.—Thomas Leverett Nelson, for nearly nineteen years Judge of the United States District Court for the District of Massachusetts, died at 11.30 yesterday of cancer of the intestines. He was 70 years of age and had been sick since last February.

During his career as a practitioner he was a specialist in equity and bankruptcy, and he was a member of the committee appointed by the Supreme Judicial Court of Massachusetts to revise its rules in equity. The present system is very largely his work. He founded the Worcester Law Library.

Extra Guard for the Laurada.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 22.—A rumor was started last night that an attempt was to be made to steal the Cuban filibustering steamer Laurada, which has been in the hands of the Federal authorities for eight months. While the story was not credited generally, a guard of special deputy marshals was put on board the boat.

GEN. ORDWAY DEAD.

The Former Chief of Ordnance Will Have a Military Burial.

New York, Nov. 22.—Gen. Albert Ordway died at 7.15 last night at the Hoffman House. He had been dangerously sick since his return from Paris last Tuesday. He had been suffering from jaundice for more than a year, and a cold contracted in Paris before he left there had become pleurisy before his arrival here.

Gen. Ordway was a native of Massachusetts, and was in his 55th year. He was graduated from Harvard in 1861, and enlisted for the war as lieutenant in the Twenty-fourth Massachusetts Regiment, which formed a part of the Burnside Brigade, and distinguished itself at Roanoke Island, Newburn and other battles. At the close of the war Gen. Ordway was commanding officer of his regiment. He was afterward Provost Marshal at Richmond, with headquarters in Libby Prison, then Chief of Ordnance at Washington, and he died Brigadier-General commanding the Militia Brigade of the District of Columbia. He has of late years been engaged in various business enterprises and was the president of the American Ordnance Company, formed a year and a half ago. He will have a military burial at Washington.

Gen. Ordway married in Alexandria, Va., in 1866, while he was on duty there. He and Mrs. Ordway and their granddaughter, Miss Padelford, arrived in this country on the Kaiser Wilhelm der Grosse after spending a year and a half in Europe, much of the time in Wiesbaden.

FOSTER WILL FIGHT HARD.

He Intends to Use Every Means to Prevent His Extradition.

Paris, Nov. 22.—William Riley Foster, Jr., who was arrested at Neuilly, near Paris, on Oct. 23, charged with having embezzled $193,000 belonging to the gratuity fund of the New York Produce Exchange while special attorney for the fund in 1888, is making a hard fight against extradition to the United States, an application for which was made to the French authorities by the American Embassy. He has retained as counsel Frederic R. Coudert and Maitre Clunet, the latter the most prominent authority in France on international law.

His wife has started for the United States for the purpose of enlisting the aid of Foster's friends in that country. Just before leaving Paris on this mission Mrs. Foster complained to Gen. Horace Porter, the United States Ambassador to France, of the conditions under which her husband was confined. She declared that he was kept in a small cell along with common criminals and was obliged to sleep on a plank without any bedding. She also alleged that the authorities of the jail would not allow her to supply him with any comforts.

Ambassador Porter thereupon secured from the jail officials some concessions in accordance with which Foster will be more comfortably lodged.

TWO KILLED IN A SMASH-UP.

Five Others Injured, One Mortally, on an Electric Road.

Baltimore, Nov. 22.—Two motormen were killed, a conductor was fatally injured and four passengers were severely hurt yesterday morning in a collision on the Baltimore & Northern road at a point known as Councilman's Hollow, about fourteen miles from this city.

The cars came together with a crash, owing, it is said, to misunderstood orders. Theodore R. Merrick and William F. Horner were the men killed.

The two conductors and the four passengers on the cars were all more or less injured, although their injuries are not supposed to be dangerous.

AUSTRALIA'S BIGGEST FIRE.

$5,000,000 Worth of Property Destroyed in Melbourne.

Melbourne, Nov. 22.—The most extensive fire ever known in Australia started at 2 oclock yesterday morning in the warehouse of Craig, Williamson & Thomas, 22 Elizabeth street, in the centre of this city. A strong wind that was blowing caused the flames to spread with great rapidity, and in three hours a whole block, consisting of seven warehouses and ten stores, was destroyed.

Among the burned buildings were several of the largest soft goods warehouses in Melbourne. The loss is $5,000,000. Many persons have been thrown out of work.

No Trace of Andree Found.

Christiania, Nov. 22.—The whaling steamer Victoria, which was fitted out at the expense of the Norwegian Government to search for Andree, the Arctic explorer, who left Dane's Island on July 11 in a balloon, hoping to cross the North Polar area, has returned to Tromso, from which port she sailed on Nov. 5. No trace was found of the explorer.

The Victoria reports that she landed searching parties ten times on the Daumand Isles.

Bayard to Make a Speech.

Wilmington, Del., Nov. 22.—The gunboat Wilmington is anchored in the Delaware River off this city. To-day she will run up to this city, and to-morrow a punchbowl will be presented to the officers. Thomas F. Bayard will make the presentation speech.

SEEKS A FOURTH TERM.

The secretary of the State Senate is an office which pays well, and is consequently attracting some attention. Henry B. Rollinson, of Union, has had it three years and is a candidate for another term. It is stated that he cannot get it again, especially in view of the fact that the presidency of the Senate is to go to Union county. One county very rarely scoops in two such big offices at the same time. The latest candidate announced for the place is former Assemblyman Wm. H. Cole, of Camden, a stalwart Republican, who has not had much public patronage during his long career as a politician.

Seventy-seven marriages were performed in Camden during last month, as against 333 for the corresponding period of 1896, the result of the Lloyd marriage license law.

The usually correct Paterson Press advises us editorially that the Republican primary in the Third ward of this city has long had the reputation of being "packed."

Former Councilman Spangenberg requests The Press to say that he is entirely "out of politics."

The Republican primaries in the various wards will be held tomorrow night.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

The Baptist church is having its building on Park avenue wired for electric lights. Mr. Dunn, the new postmaster, will remove the postoffice there on December 1st.

No Thanksgiving service will be held in the Baptist church this year. It has been customary for several years to have the three churches unite on that day and hold union services, but this year, for some reason or other, there will be no union service.

The three-year old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros. of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Harry Willoughby, a dairyman, whose farm is near Westfield, lost one of his herd of fine Jersey cows by an accident Saturday night. One of the hands removed the covering from a cesspool in the field where the cattle are kept, and forgot to replace it. During the night one of the cows fell into the opening, and when discovered in the morning the animal was dead.

A special praise service was held by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church in the chapel last evening. Miss A. Halsey led the meeting and the singing was led by a choir of mixed voices under the direction of Roland Randolph. Papers on missionary work in Japan, China, Corea, India and Africa were read by members of the society, and vocal solos were rendered by Miss Reger and Miss Williams.

The Westfield Universal football team defeated the Dunellen team on the North Broad street grounds Saturday afternoon by the score 8 to 6. Dunellen had added a number of outside players to her team, increasing its weight, and at the close of the first half the score was 6 to 0 in Dunellen's favor. The Universal team added three heavier players, Griswold, A. Crooks and Birch. During the second half the advantage was all in Westfield's favor. Two touchdowns were scored, and the game was called, leaving the score 8 to 6 in Westfield's favor.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

Physical Director Heywood and Walter Long were in Newark and New York Saturday, visiting various gymnasiums and making a schedule of basket ball games for the present season.

A double game of basket ball will be played in the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium Thanksgiving Day between the Junior department team and the students' team, and between the Senior Plainfield team and some visiting team. The play will begin at 3:30 o'clock.

Arrangements are being made for a supper to be given to the members of the Y. M. C. A. physical department in the gymnasium on the evening of December 14th. There will be singing, speech-making, college songs and a jubilee.

Elementary examinations in gymnastics will be held at the Y. M. C. A. immediately after Christmas in order to enable the students to register as basket ball players January 1st.

Visitors will hereafter be admitted to the meetings of the business men's class on the first Monday afternoon of each month.

Rev. George Hauser and wife, of Duer street, are enjoying a visit from Mrs. Hauser's sister, Miss Alterheim, of Jersey City Heights.

Mrs. McKane, wife of Rev. Mr. McKane, of the borough, is expected to arrive in Plainfield this week after an extended visit in the west.

Senator Reed and S. St. John Mc Cutchen, of the borough, have returned from New Haven, where they went to see the great football game.

Among the Plainfielders who attended the theatre in New York Saturday evening were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Roome, Mr. and Mrs. Barnaby and Miss May Evans.

George R. Coe, of Third place, and A R. Fisk and Charles J. Fisk, Jr., of West Seventh street, went to Philadelphia Saturday to witness the Pennsylvania-Harvard football game.

Charles Lyman and Dr. Anderson, of this city, were among those who went to New Haven last Saturday to witness the Yale-Princeton football game. When they returned they looked rather disconsolate. However, Dr. Anderson carried a Princeton flag and displayed it without fear or favor.

THE BIG FOOTBALL GAMES.

Yale Defeats Princeton and Pennsylvania Conquers Harvard.

New Haven, Nov. 22.—Princeton went down before Yale Saturday afternoon in one of the grandest struggles ever seen on a gridiron. The score of 6 to 0 tells of a victory for the Blue as fair as it was complete and as brilliant as it was surprising. Except in kicking, Yale's stalwart men outplayed the Tigers in every department of the game.

Certainly more than two-thirds of the 18,000 spectators that gathered about the arena expected to see Yale defeated. The Princeton men were sure of it, and the most hopeful Yale enthusiasts dared only to express confidence that the wearers of the blue would acquit themselves creditably and hold the Princeton score down.

But the football generals had reckoned without their host. The game of a week ago apparently was but excellent training for the Elis; they had been improving every day since, and that uncertainty which makes the sport attractive was demonstrated when the eleven young athletes wearing the proud blue, inexperienced in great battles, higher in weight and lacking the confidence, met their opponents at every point and humbled them in the dust.

The injuries of the Princeton men doubtless had much to do with their defeat. If they had been in perfect shape the teams would probably have played each other to a standstill.

Quakers Conquer Harvard.

Philadelphia, Nov. 22.—Pennsylvania now claims the college football championship of America. Saturday afternoon on Franklin Field, before more than twenty-five thousand persons, they defeated Harvard by a score of 15 to 6. They base their claim on the fact that Yale could not score against Harvard, while they ran up a total of 15 points, and, as Yale tallied 6 points against Princeton on Saturday, they argue that they are 11 points better than Yale and 21 better than Princeton.

The victory was honestly won and well deserved. No fluke decided it. From the start both teams played fine football, and kept it up without intermission until the end. Both teams had been taught the most advanced principles of the game, and had been subjected to the strictest training regime to insure perfect physical condition, and it is doubtful whether twenty-two finer specimens of American manhood ever faced each other in an athletic contest in this country.

To Pennsylvania the result was fraught with the greatest importance. A defeat by Harvard meant a position below that institution and Yale in the college athletic world, while a victory stamped them the championship football team of 1897. It was with this feeling that the sons of Old Penn entered the game, and it was also with this feeling that they played one of the grandest games ever witnessed in this city. They met a foe worthy of their steel, who was not vanquished until the referee blew his whistle at the end of the second half as a cessation of hostilities.

After the game the Pennsylvania men were carried off the field on the shoulders of their enthusiastic fellow students amid a cyclonic burst of cheering, while the Harvard men quietly found their way out by a side entrance, almost unnoticed, there to enter a 'bus and be driven to their hotel, with defeat a grim companion. Thus ended Harvard's football season of 1897.

QUARANTINE ENDS DEC. 1.

Mississippi Follows the Other Southern States in Declaring It Off.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 22.—Mississippi has finally repealed its State quarantine against all points, on all freights and express matter except household and woolen goods and second-hand clothing, to go into effect Dec. 1. This is the last State quarantine to be removed. The Board of Health of Calcasieu Parish abolished quarantine two days ago, but all passengers going west over the Southern Pacific, as well as Health Officer Duperrier, were put off the train at the Calcasieu line by the quarantine guards. This has resulted in a big row, and showed that the Board of Health had forgoten to notify guards that quarantine had been abolished.

The United States Marine Hospital service has decided that there is no further need for disinfecting freight from New Orleans. It will be kept up on freight going over the Southern Pacific until Nov. 24 to keep a pledge to the Texas health authorities, but will be abandoned on that road at that time.

Four Killed in a Fight.

New Orleans, La., Nov. 22.—A four-handed shooting affray occurred yesterday at Bayou Lacombe, in Tammany Parish, in which all the parties were killed. Bayou Lacombe is a settlement in St. Tammany Parish on Lake Pontchartrain, and about twenty miles east of Covington, the parish seat of justice. The population is composed mainly of persons of French origin who farm or hunt for a living, and are usually quiet and peaceable.

Details of the shooting are not at hand, for Bayou Lacombe is considerably out of the line of ordinary travel and hard to reach. The Coroner has been notified, and has left for the scene of the fight.

Big Fire in Paris.

Paris, Nov. 22.—A destructive fire started Saturday afternoon in a shop in the Rue des Pyrenees, in the northeast section of the city. The flames spread rapidly, and before the fire was got under control a large number of small houses and workshops were destroyed. The burned district covers an area of about two acres. The loss is placed at 400,000 francs ($80,000).

After a six-hours battle with the fire the members of the fire brigade were utterly exhausted and were relieved by a force of 250 soldiers, who had been ordered to the scene of the conflagration.

Russia Wants Her Money.

St. Petersburg, Nov. 22.—Russia has made a demand upon the Turkish Government for the payment of the arrears of indemnity owed by Turkey on account of the Russo-Turkish war of 1877.

Russia holds that if the Porte can afford to purchase new and unnecessary armaments it can pay its debts.

evidently, and the business should be done by all means. Buildings require paint. Of course a house may be left unpainted and left to become weatherbeaten and a wreck That doesn't pay, though; it's much cheaper to paint, and our paints in all colors are the best in the market for durability under the most trying conditions. They are well adapted to our exposure and we sell everything in the line of paints and painters' supplies at short prices.

Collars and Cuffs

nicely laundered are essential to every gentleman's toilet. We have every facility for doing up collars and cuffs that are used by the manufacturers in Troy, N. Y. Our plant is an exact duplicate of theirs. So is our work. If you want your collars and cuffs to look like new have our wagon call for them. We are the only laundry in New Jersey having a plant of this kind.

We guarantee linen to last longer when washed by us than when done elsewhere. We absolutely guarantee not to fade colored shirts that, when new, cost $1 or over. We don't know of another laundry that offers to do this. We don't charge any more than the others, either.

A NEW WESTERN IDEA.

Girls Who Give Gold Models of Their Little Fingers to Their Betrothed.

"Do the girls here give gold models of their little fingers to their fiances?" asked the Western girl of the Gothamite.

"Heavens, no!" answered the Gothamite. "It seems to me that that is a rather grewsome souvenir."

"Not at all," answered the Western girl. "It is decidedly dainty, and I'm a little surprised that New York is so far behind the times. The fad started in this way. When the daughter of one of our big Western politicians was six months old, he had a model of her little finger cast in gold. Around the little dimpled digit is a ring of turquoise, which is her birth stone, and it makes a lovely charm for her betrothed's watch chain. He valued it so much that it set other men to thinking, and the result is that as soon as the girl wraps one of these chaps around her own little finger sufficiently for a proposal to follow, he immediately insists upon a gold facsimile of the flesh and blood original. It is a pretty conceit, and is being followed by every Westerner who is in subjection to somebody's little finger.—New York Sun.

Making an Artificial Skin.

A process has been patented in Germany for making a substitute for the natural skin for use in wounds. The muscular coating of the intestines of animals is divested of mucous membrane and then treated in a pepsin solution until the muscular fibres are half-digested. After a second treatment with tannin and gallic acid a tissue is produced which takes the place of the natural skin, and which, when laid on the wound, is entirely absorbed during the healing process.

The Inquiring Mind.

Johnny—Say pa, I want to ask you a question.

Mr. Sniff.—Well, now, I don't know why the Spring doesn't always come in the Fall, or where the wind is when it doesn't blow, or whether, if the almanac makers should leave out the month of August, the corn crop would be ruined by September frosts. But go ahead.

Johnny—Why, pa, I only wanted to know how it comes that no one but children die in childhood?—New York Journal.

SHERIFF'S SALE—In Chancery of New Jersey. Between William C. Stanbery, complainant, and Eve M. Baker et als., defendants. Fi. fa. for sale of mortgaged premises.

By virtue of the above stated writ of fieri facias, to me directed. I shall expose for sale by public vendue at the Court House, in the city of Elizabeth, N. J., on at two o'clock in the afternoon of said day, all those certain tracts or parcels of land hereinafter particularly set forth situate, lying and being in the township of Fanwood, in the county of Union and State of New Jersey. Firstly:

First Tract—Beginning at a stone in the southerly line of the road leading from Scotch Plains to Westfield and corner of Nathan Marsh's land; thence with his line southeastery forty-five degrees two chains and eighteen links to a stone in Noah Parses' line; thence with said Parses' line southwesterly eighty links to a stone; thence northwesterly through the house where it joins the next building two chains and nineteen links to a stone in the southerly line of said road; thence with said southerly side of said road northeastery eighty links to the place of beginning. Containing more or less. Being the same lands conveyed to said James A. Baker, June 4, 1887, by deed recorded in book 189 of deeds, page 561, etc. Secondly:

Second Tract—Beginning at a corner of North First street and is Philip Radins' land; thence along his line a northeast course one hundred and three ft. to a corner of A. D. Baud's line; thence along his line one chain and forty-seven links in a course of north forty-two and a quarter degrees west; thence southwest one hundred and three feet; thence southeast one chain and forty-seven links to the place of beginning. Being the same land conveyed to said James A. Baker, Febr ary 19, 1887, by deed recorded in book 187, page 226, etc.

Third Tract—Beginning at a point at the intersection of the northeasterly side line of Park avenue with the southeasterly side line of Bartle avenue; thence running northeasterly along the southeasterly side line of Bartle avenue one hundred and seventy-four feet to a point in said side line of Bartle avenue; thence southeasterly at right angles with said Bartle avenue thirty-seven feet; thence southwesterly parallel with Bartle avenue one hundred and seventy-six feet, more or less to the northeasterly side line of Park avenue; thence northwesterly along said side line of Park avenue thirty-seven feet, more or less, to the point or place of beginning. Being lot No. 1 on map of Bartle property, dated November, 1897, on file in Union County Clerk's office.

Fourth Tract—Beginning at a point in the southeasterly side line of Bartle avenue said point being distant one hundred and seventy four feet northeasterly from the intersection of the southeasterly side line of Bartle avenue with the northeasterly side line of Park avenue; thence northeasterly along Bartle avenue sixty feet, more or less, to a point and corner of lands conveyed to Baker by George K. Parsell, said deed bearing date March 31, 1885; thence southeasterly along line of said Baker's land one hundred and twenty-one feet, more or less, to a point and corner of said Baker's land; thence southwesterly nearly parallel with Bartie avenue twenty feet to a point in other lands of said Baker; thence southeasterly ten feet, more or less, to a point another corner of said Baker's land; thence southwesterly along the southeasterly side line of Baker's land forty feet to a point thence northwesterly making a new line through Baker's land one hundred and thirty eight feet, more or less, to the point and place of beginning. Being lot No. 2 on above map. It is intended by this last described lot to include all the premises conveyed to James A. Baker described in deed of George K. TO DEFEND HER LIFE

Lawyers Will Contend That Mildred Brewster Was Insane.

THE TRIAL BEGINS TO-DAY

Difficulty in Securing a Jury Is Anticipated, as the Case Has Attracted Much Attention—Jealousy Caused the Tragedy.

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 22.—A strange murder case, the outgrowth of the jealousy of a young woman, was called for trial in the County Court here this morning. Mildred Brewster, who murdered Anna Wheeler on May 29, was called upon to defend a life about which she cares nothing. She professes to long for death, but nevertheless learned counsel will endeavor to save her. The defense will be emotional insanity. The case is attracting great attention in this section of the State, and there was a large crowd in the courtroom at the opening of the trial.

Those engaged in the case expect much trouble in securing a jury. Few persons in this county have not heard of the strange murder, and sympathy for the young woman or for her victim is likely to bar out many of the talesmen. It is expected that no testimony will be introduced before Wednesday.

The trial may bring out many of the circumstances leading up to the murder. Little is known now, but it is believed the defense will reveal all the inner history of the affair.

It is known only that Miss Brewster heard that a certain John Wheeler intended to take Anna Wheeler, who was not related to him, to a memorial service in Barre. She went to the house where Miss Wheeler was employed to make inquiries. They were engaged in conversation for a while, and then they started to go to Wheeler's house, about half a mile away. It was raining and they walked together under an umbrella.

About one hundred yards from their destination Mildred Brewster shot her companion through the brain. Then she shot herself in the head. The young women were found soon afterward, and were carried to John Wheeler's house. They were removed to the hospital later, and Miss Wheeler died, while Miss Brewster lay between life and death for several weeks.

The one desire of Miss Brewster since the shooting has been to die, and the attendants at the hospital declare that on two occasions she attempted to take her life while under their care—once by trying to drown in the bathtub and at another time by taking poison.

Wesley Brewster, of Huntington, father of the young woman, has left his affairs at home in charge of his son and has remained in this city in almost constant attendance upon the prisoner. Her mother died several years ago.

The mental condition of Miss Brewster has been examined into by Dr. F. W. Page, superintendent of the State Asylum, in Waterbury; by Dr. S. E. Lawton, superintendent of the Brattleboro Retreat; by Dr. Charles Page, of Danvers, Mass., and by Dr. Fisher, of Boston.

A letter, which shows the trend of the young woman's mind before the murder, was found in her room. It said:

"Don't blame lovesick girls, for they were made thus loving. A handsome girl is something. One real good, willing, self-sacrificing, more. But the one who loves almost to distraction is the best. Take those lukewarm, indifferent, loveless beauties, you would become marital martyrs. She is the premium wife whose fervid, glowing, devoted, whole-souled love knows no limit; who is spellbound, magnetized and entranced, beside herself when beside her sweetheart, whose love, torrentlike, sweeps all before it, making all possible allowances for imperfections in the loved one and magnifying to the highest degree all his desirable and lovable traits of character.

"MILDRED BREWSTER."

John Wheeler, who now stands as one of the central figures in the case, is 21 years old and is a stonecutter. He came to this city from Montreal about two years ago and became popular in the set with which he allied himself. He is a member of Company H, Vermont National Guard.

A Preacher Three Years Old.

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 22.—In a house out on Auburn avenue yesterday Lawrence Denny, a child of 3 years, preached to an interested assembly. He is small for his age, has large black eyes and a very strong voice. His brow protrudes like that of an old man.

For over a month he has had this gift of preaching, and has created intense interest among the class with whom he lives, who look upon him as a wonder. He regards girls as wicked, and will allow none of them to come near him. Every Sunday there are people anxious to get into the house, so that cards have to be issued during the week to a number sufficient to fill the room in which he preacnes.

Gladstone's Health Good.

London, Nov. 22.—The alarming rumor regarding Mr. Gladstone's health has been widely circulated in the city and has formed the principal topic of conversation at the various clubs.

A dispatch from Hawarden has been received contradicting the rumor and saying that although he has been suffering from insomnia for a week past, Mr. Gladstone has been able to take a considerable amount of outdoor exercise.

Bryan Not to Retire.

Nashville, Tenn., Nov. 22.—Representative Gaines has received a letter from William J. Bryan, in answer to a query by Mr. Gaines as to a published statement that Mr. Bryan had declared he intended to quit politics. The letter said:

"The newspaper item is not true. I expect to remain in politics all my life. Whether I shall ever run for office again depends upon circumstances."

Big Turkey for President McKinley.

Westerly, R. I., Nov. 22.—Horace Vose, who has annually sent a turkey to the President's table since the days of Senator Anthony, of Rhode Island, has selected a bird this year that will weigh twenty-seven pounds. It will be shipped to President McKinley to-morrow.

FEST MADE ABOUT $3,500.

Returns Show the Hospital Benefit to Have Been Very Profitable.

The latest returns from the Spielkartenfest show that the hospital will net about $3,500 from that benefit. The amount is larger than was at first supposed.

—The Klondyke supper given last week by Class No. 1, of Trinity Reformed church Sunday-school, were able to make $25 clear for the furnishing and building fund of the church.

ACCUSED OF ARSON.

George Stewart Charged With Setting Fire to a Cranford House and Barn.

Geo. Stewart, alias Seward was lodged in the Union county jail at 1 o'clock this morning charged with aiding in setting fire to a house and barn which were destroyed early yesterday morning at Cranford. The house was unoccupied. The barn was owned by John Ludlow. Saturday night two turkeys were stolen from a nearby yard and a trail of feathers led to Stewart's house. Constable Denderberger arrested Stewart half a mile from the scene of the fire while the buildings were burning.

Hospital Patients Improving.

Mr. Bennet, of Newark, who is at Muhlenberg Hospital, under the treatment for an illness contracted last week, will soon be able to go home. Albert Lee, of Bound Brook, whose skull was fractured, is improving, and no serious results are anticipated.

—Fancy India River, Fla., oranges, special for Thanksgiving week, are now in stock at Neuman Bros.

TO MAINTAIN UNIFORM RATES.

Master Horseshoers Organize for Their Own Protection.

Last Saturday evening in the rooms over H. J. Martin's blacksmith shop on Somerset street there was a meeting of the horseshoers of the city and the borough, called for the purpose of organizing a local branch of the Master Horseshoers' National Protective Association. C. H. McKee and J. Hewitt, representatives of the National Association, were present and assisted in the organization. There were about sixteen horseshoers present. The objects of the association are to promote the interests of the trade and to establish uniform rates. The association is organized for the purpose of taking in towns within a radius of twelve miles of Plainfield. Each member of the association will be provided with a stamp of the union and they will use it on every shoe they sell.

The following officers were elected at the meeting Saturday night: President, J. E. Flannery; vice president, Frank Hand; recording secretary, H. J. Martin; financial secretary, W. L Sharkey; treasurer, J. Carver; sergeant-at-arms, H. Kliner.

Next Saturday night another meeting will be held at the same place. The local branch will be controlled by the National Association, which is five years old.

AN ALL DAY RALLY.

Mount Zion and Mount Olive Congregations United for Mutual Benefit.

An all-day rally was held in the Fillmore colored Baptist church yesterday in which the congregations of the Mt. Zion A. M. E. church and the Mt. Olive Baptist church, of this city, united. At the morning service Rev. Grant Cannon preached, and special singing by the church choir was a feature. Rev. James Groves, of the Mt. Zion church, preached in the afternoon to a large audience, and music was furnished by the choir of his church. In the evening Rev. Scott Wallace, of Richmond, Va., delivered a discourse. At each of the services appeals were made to the people in behalf of the church treasury and collections were taken. Those who spoke on the financial question were E. B. Maynard, Rev. G. Davidge, of Hackensack, Rev. J. W. Mitchell and Rev. James Groves. A substantial addition was made to the church treasury through the collections.

—At Neuman Bros., the Watchung avenue grocers, can be found the choicest selection of table delicacies for the Thansgiving dinner.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Communion will be celebrated in Trinity Reformed church two weeks from yesterday, December 5th, at the morning service.

—The Whatsoever Circle of King's Daughters of the Park Avenue Baptist church will meet this evening at the home of Miss Lulu Moss.

—Plum pudding, fancy cheeses and fancy table raisins should be ordered from Neuman Bros., the Watchung avenue grocers, for the Thanksgiving dinner.

—A "T and Test" sociable will be given tomorrow evening in the parlors of the Park Avenue Baptist church by the Christian Endeavor Society of the church.

—Put this down in black and white, a batch of linen dark as night will wash as white as broad day light, at City Steam and Hand Laundry, 19 Somerset street.

—A specialty of new nuts of all varieties will be made at Neuman Bros., this week, for the Thanksgiving trade. Mixed nuts or English walnuts, two pounds for 25 cents.

—Next Sunday evening Rev. Mr. McKane, of the First Church of Christ, will preach an appropriate sermon to the members of the Daughters of Rebekah, of this city.

—In selecting your poultry for Thanksgiving it will be well to call at Hummer's market, 220 Park avenue, where you can find, as usual, select Jersey turkeys, chickens and ducks. He also deals in the best Jersey pork and sausage.

Lost His Way and Fell Asleep.

Samuel Covert, a hatter from Orange Valley, drank too much and became bewildered. He lost his way and fell asleep on the lawn of R. I. Richardson, of LaGrande avenue. He was locked up by Patrolman Mattox. Covert had never been arrested before and escaped with a reprimand.

Charles Burnett was charged by Samuel Bolden, colored, with assaulting him on the street. Burnett claimed it was an accident. Trial was set down for next Saturday morning.

Mrs. Pierre Mali, whose summer home is in Johnston Park on East Front street, is one of the patronesses of the benefit performance to be given December 10th at the Knickerbocker Theatre, New York, in aid of the New York Infirmary for Women and Children. The performance promises to be a rare one, and the entire house is selling at $5 a seat.

GOLF.

The finals for the Chapman cup were played last Saturday afternoon on the links of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club. The contestants, Reeve Stockton and Willard Wadsworth, played an even game on the first round and a second round of eighteen holes followed, which resulted in Stockton winning 1 up. Mr. Stockton has now won the cup twice and will hold the same until next spring. If he succeeds in winning the cup the third time it will become his personal property. The match attracted a great many people who were interested in the result of the play. The next play will be Thursday next, when the links will be occupied all day with golf players.

FOOTBALL.

Much interest was shown in this city over the result of the Yale-Princeton football game Saturday afternoon, when the sons of old Eli defeated their opponents from Jersey by a score of 6 to 0. Raymond A. McGee, of this city, was one of the first substitutes on the Yale eleven and lined up along the sidelines to await his turn should he be called. One of the Yale tackles was injured and it was thought that he would have to retire. McGee took off his sweater and was preparing to take the vacant place when the Yale man got up again and returned to his place.

Smoker for Their Friends.

James Monahan and Patrick Lawler gave a chicken supper and smoker to fifteen of their friends at Lawler's home on John street Saturday night. A very pleasant evening was spent.

Among the items of Newport News is reported the departure of Mrs. Julia Ward Howe and Mrs. Maude Howe Elliott for Europe, where they will spend the winter. Mrs. Howe is the mother and Mrs. Elliott the sister of Mrs. Florence Howe Hall of Madison avenue.

COAINA WAS TOO PRETTY

A STORY OF INDIAN LIFE TOLD IN DRAMATIC FORM.

The Piece Acted Skillfully by Members of St. Mary's Society—Names of Those Taking Part—The Hornpipe a Feature.

The entertainment which was given by the Children of Mary of St. Mary's church, in the hall of St. Mary's School, at Liberty and West Sixth streets, last evening, proved to be a most enjoyable affair. The audience was so large that every available bit of standing room in the aisles and at the rear of the room was taken.

The principal part of the entertainment consisted in a dramatic piece dealing with life among the Iroquois Indians, called "Coaina; or The Indian Rose." The story was that of an Indian maiden, Coaina, whose beauty and good qualities awakened the jealousy of Altontinon, her aunt, and Winonah, her cousin. By a skillfully laid plot and a forged letter purporting to come from Father Etienne, the chaplain of the village, Coaina is enticed away and drawn into a situation which casts suspicion upon her, and she is entrapped in the snare and condemned by her tribe to become a slave and wear the robes of a penitent. The sudden death of her daughter, Winonah, awakens the conscience of Altontinon and she makes a full confession of the plot, and Coaina is restored to her position.

Those taking part in the play were: Miss E. Day, Miss K. Flynn, Miss K. Carty, Miss A. O'Keefe, Miss E. O'Keefe, Miss K. Roche, E. Flynn, M. Owens, M. Higgins, E. Lynch, Miss M. Callahan, Miss M. Doll, Miss M. Shannon, Miss M Carty, Miss J. Lutz, Miss E. Barrelle, Miss L. McCarty, Miss E. Corrigan, Masters A. Traynor, H. Shannon, T. F. O'Keefe, T. Parent, P. Galbraith, W. Polon.

In the intermissions between the scenes, musical selections were rendered as follows: Solo, Miss Julia Day; solo, Miss May Flanagan; solo, Miss Ellen Keely; duet, piano and violin, Misses K. Quinn and A Quinn; quartette selection, Misses May Flanagan, Alice Keely and Ellen Keely, and Edward Harding; a duet, Misses A. Keely and E. Keely; and chorus, "Gloria," by the St. Mary's choir of six voices.

"The Spielkartenfest Hornpipe" was danced by the St. Mary's Sailors, consisting of the Misses J. Day, K. Flynn, A. O'Keefe, M. Carty, K. Higgins and L. Day; and J. Moran, M. Higgins, E. Flynn, J. Daly and J. Connors. The dance was greeted with great applause, and an effort was made to induce the dancers to respond to an encore.

The programme closed with a sacred tableau descriptive of the parable of the wise and the foolish virgins. The parable was read by Miss Lena Barrelle, while the scenes were enacted by the following young girls, beautifully robed in white: Lizzie Guinee, Annie Daly, Maggie Harding, Mary Burke, Susan Goff, Georgie Nedles, Tessie Lynch, Clara Flynn, Emily Corrigan, Bessie Shea, Susan McInerney, Jennie Summers, Sarah Hanrahan, Mary Brennan, Blanche Skinner, Loretta Flanagan and Minnie Burke.

Miss M. Smith presided at the piano, Miss K. Quinn at the organ, and Miss A. Quinn furnished the violin accompaniments.

TO ENSURE WISE GIVING.

In Former Years Some Families Received Two or More Thanksgiving Dinners.

In distributing Thanksgiving dinners in past years the Relief Association has found cases where they were sent to those already provided for by other organizations. In some cases persons are known to have received three such dinners, the same family receiving a dinner from each of the branches of the same church.

In order to avoid such demoralizing duplication and to ensure wise giving, organizations and individuals intending to give dinners to the needy are requested to give a list of their intended beneficiaries to Mrs. Woodruff, agent of the Organized Aid Association, 544 West Front street, on or before Wednesday morning.

Entertained Her Sunday-school Class.

Miss Florence G. Hawkins, of La-Grande avenue, entertained the members of her class at the Sunday-school of the Park Avenue Baptist church at dinner last evening. After dinner the guests spent the evening in playing games and singing. Rev. and Mrs. J. W. Richardson spent part of the evening there. The members of the class present were the Misses Emily Runyon, Lillian Richardson, Elsie Giles, Lizzie VanWinkle and Frida Volquarts.

—A specialty of new nuts of all varieties will be made at Neuman Bros., this week for the Thanksgiving trade. Mixed nuts and English walnuts, two pounds for 25 cents.

FEAST FOR ARTISTIC EYES

ART PRINT EXHIBIT OF CAMERA CLUB OPENED AUSPICIOUSLY.

The Attendance Was Very Good and All Expressed Appreciation for the Excellent Work Shown—Some of the Exhibits.

The opening of the photographic art prints exhibition of the Plainfield Camera Club, last evening, proved a very auspicious one. The exhibition was well attended for the first night and all who saw it expressed their appreciation of the excellent work shown.

The exhibits in the class of marines are unusually fine. The first prize in this class was won by William T. Wintringham, of New York, by a set of three frames, entitled "The Paris," "Evening on East River," and "Night in New York Harbor." The moonlight effect in the latter two is very commendable. Henry B. Vandeveer, of Brooklyn, who won the medal for the best set of six or more photographs, also exhibited several fine marine views. The second prize, taken by George E. Hall, of Fanwood, was for several views of the coast and ocean at Newport.

One set of views of special interest to the Plainfielders were a set taken by Harold Serrell of the interior of the club rooms at the time of the loan exhibition last year, showing some of the exhibits. The photographs were very good, taking first prize in the class of interiors. The second prize, taken by Mr. Wintringham, was for a view of the interior of the Field and Marine Club, New York.

A number of familiar scenes were to be noticed in the twenty photographs taken by Harold Serrell and exhibited as hand camera work, taking first award. The prints were on Aristo-Platino paper, 4x5 sheets. A number of views taken with a pocket kodack won second award for Mrs. Lewis H Morgan. There was also an excellent exhibit of hand camera work by Willard M. Miner, but, through an error, it was put in the classes of groups and landscapes, where, of course, it was outrivaled. Four bromide enlargements were shown by William Demarest and carried away first award. They were enlarged from photographs 3½ square to pictures 11 by 14.

George E. Hall, of Fanwood, did specially well with his groups of various kinds. The pictures were clear cut and the figures in them well grouped. Mr. Serrell also showed a number of groups including several taken at Asbury Park, and carried off second to Mr. Hall in the honors in that class.

The exhibit of lantern slides was arranged about a box in the centre of which was an electric light, thus showing off all their good points.

The photographs for exhibition only were quite numerous and included several very valuable collections. One collection of 142 views, taken through Europe of all the principal buildings and places of interest, was very interesting. It was loaned by a friend of the club. The photographs were all large and handsome. Stephen A. Krom had a wonderful exhibit, all the photographs of which were his own work. One set of his pictures, sixty-eight in all, was entitled "Under the Southern Cross," and included views in many of the principal cities of South America in which Mr. Krom has visited. The photographs were printed on platinotype paper and were clear and distinct. They were all the work of a hand camera. Another set of his photographs took in a trip "In the Everglades of Florida," on the west coast of that State. This set numbered eighty-four in all and showed Mr. Krom in his boat. Thirty two other views were of the West Indies, and then there were some thirty miscellaneous ones, including some taken the time Barnum's circus visited this city and the elephants were called to help in the moving of tents on account of the mud. There were other exhibits which will be touched on later in the week.

IN A TRAINING SCHOOL.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Taylor Engaged in Good Mission Work.

The large circle of friends and acquaintances of Mr. and Mrs. E R. Taylor, formerly of Rockview avenue, this city, will be pleased to learn that they are engaged in the noble work of assisting men and women to be missionaries. They are located at Nyack-on the Hudson, at a training school conducted under the auspices of the Christian Alliance. Mr. Taylor has charge of a men's class, while his wife is the teacher of a class for women. They are both doing a good work and have been successful. They were guests of Plainfield friends last evening, returning to Nyack this morning.

COLORED VOTERS BOLT THE G. O. P!
CITIZENS WILL WORK HARD TO WIN!

PROMISES DO NOT SATISFY.

Colored Citizens Met and Declare Their Disgust With the Republicans—To Ask Citizens to Nominate a Colored Man For Councilman-at-Large.

A bombshell of moderate size was exploded in political circles in this city last night by the action of the colored voters in expressing their disapproval of the Republican administration of city affairs, and deciding, virtually, upon giving their support to the Citizens' movement.

The meeting which took this most interesting action was held in Mt. Olive Baptist church, on Liberty street, under the auspices of the Southern League of Colored Voters of Plainfield. The attendance was about two hundred. D. W. Brown, president of the association, was in the chair, and Arthur Venable acted as secretary.

The meeting had progressed but a little when it became evident that there was a feeling of discontent with the powers that be, and that the colored voters, who have always been the backbone of the Republican majority in Plainfield, were in a mood to break away from Republican leadership, and assert its strength in support of the Citizens' ticket.

The first stir in the meeting was caused when President Brown in his opening address expressed the belief that the colored voters of the city had not been quite fairly dealt with, and that promises made to them had not been kept. In order to test the feeling of the meeting on this point, he asked that all those present who were satisfied with the methods of the present administration to arise.

There was a long silence in the room, but no one arose.

Those who were dissatisfied were then told by the chairman to stand up, and a most surprising thing, and one that would have shocked the nerves of any good Republican, if one had been present, occurred.

The audience to a man arose.

The meeting was then thrown open, and everyone present was given an opportunity to express his sentiments. Arthur Venable, secretary of the association, was among those who spoke. He said that while he did not believe in rashly breaking away from one's party, he could not forget that the Republican party of Plainfield had over and over made promises to the colored voters and had failed to keep them.

The feeling was expressed that the colored voters should be represented in the Common Council by one of their own race, and acting on this idea the meeting appointed a committee consisting of John Scott, John Venable, Caesar Taylor, Samuel Bolden and Spencer Conway, to confer with the Committee of Forty of the Citizens' movement with a view to securing the nomination of a colored Councilman at-Large upon the Citizens' ticket, in return for which the colored voters will support the entire ticket, and work for its election.

Hot Shot for "Republican."

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Sensible citizens are not deceived by the senseless gush of your correspondent, "Republican." All his articles prove plainly that he is far more a partisan than citizen, his first aim being the success of the Banker Mayor and his co-partners. "Republican" tells us that Mayor Fisk is to inaugurate a new system of assessing; but why was this not done before? Why this eleventh-hour deathbed repentance? Sensible citizens will, and do, favor a healthy line of city improvements, but oppose the extravagance and wild schemes that have met with favor in the present Council. Exodus of wealthy citizens will take place if we do not keep in the line of economy. Voters, let this Council depart after January 1st. Citizen.

THREE MORE CONVERTS.

Adults Persuaded That They Were Following Life's Wrong Path.

For over two weeks there has been but one service held during which there was not at least one converted in Grace M. E. church. The service last night resulted in the conversion of three persons, all adults. A feeling of deep earnestness and conviction pervaded the meeting.

During the service tonight the Martin Brothers' Quartette will sing.

While the meetings will be continued every night, excepting Saturday, this week, the meeting that will attract the greatest number of people will be the praise service on Thanksgiving night. There will be special music, and a time of great rejoicing and thanksgiving is expected. Rev. W. C. O'Donnell, Ph.D., will preach this evening.

COMMITTEE OF 40 TO MEET.

Netherwood People Are Bitterly Opposed to Present Administration and Will Vote for Citizens' Candidates—J. W. Reinhart Suggested for Council Honors.

In the camp of the Citizens' movement there is unusual activity. There is not any superfluous time left and the leaders in the battle against the Republican machine are doing their best to push matters to a head at once. Tonight, a meeting of the Committee of Forty has been called. It will be held in the city court rooms in the Serrell building. The meeting will be strictly private. Tomorrow night the Citizens' mass meeting will be held to consider the suggestions of the Committee of Forty regarding the nominations.

Former Councilman Walter L. Hetfield, who acted as chairman of the last mass meeting of the Citizens' movement, has appointed the committee of eight, two from each ward, which is to form the nucleus for the committee of forty. They have in turn selected the other eight men from each ward who are to form the rest of the committee of forty. The committee will hold its first and probably last meeting tonight and select a slate that will probably be ratified at the meeting tomorrow night.

The members of the Citizens' committee appointed by Chairman Hetfield are as follows: First ward, John Hope, George Wyckoff; Second ward, George W. Fenno, Wm. K. McClure; Third ward, Charles Burnett, Ethan Lamphear; Fourth ward, George O. Stevens, Herman Weber.

The standard of the opposition to the G. O. P. is now waving proudly from Netherwood Heights, and many of the residents of that neighborhood are rallying around it. The people of Netherwood have not been satisfied with their treatment from the present Republican Council and they are particularly sore against Councilman Frost. J. W. Reinhart, who is taking an active interest in the campaign, has stated his intention of doing all he can to defeat the present Councilman if he runs again. There has been considerable talk among the advocates of the Citizens' ticket to place Mr. Reinhart as nominee for ward Councilman.

The trouble in the ranks of the Republicans of the Third ward is the cause of much hopefulness among the opposition, who hope that it will be the means of electing their candidate. F. E. Kinsman, of Sherman avenue, is spoken prominently of as candidate for the ward councilmanship. Although it is known that his name is being considered by the Republicans as a final settlement of the vexed question as to who is to have the nomination, it is probable that he will be named by the Committee of Forty and then endorsed by the Citizens' mass meeting should he be the Republican nominee.

The First ward is rather quiet as far as the campaign is concerned and has not taken part in the conflict. Former Councilman Hetfield is spoken of as the nominee of the Citizens' movement, although there may be some objection for the reason that he was a member of the "Big Six."

Nobody but those at the head have any idea what is going to become of the Citizens' nomination in the Fourth ward. Henry Leifke is very popular, and, if he will accept it, is likely to be named. There are a number of names mentioned for the other nominations.

The Citizens' mass-meeting will be held tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock in Reform Hall.

J. P. Homan, Herman Weber and James Manning are prominently spoken of as candidates on the Citizens ticket as Councilmen-at Large.

The Gift of King's Daughters.

The Press was slightly in error yesterday when it stated that the officials of the Park Avenue Baptist church presented their pastor with a sofa. It was the members of the Whatsoever Circle, King's Daughters, of the church, that worked so faithfully to secure the handsome gift, and it was that organization that deserves the credit.

Purchased a Restaurant and Business.

Harry Rand, of Front street, has purchased of Mr. Rogers the restaurant business formerly conducted by him and known as the Tuilleries. Mr. Rand took charge today, and will continue the business in the same excellent manner that characterized Mr. Rogers' management.

THE ASSESSORS NAMED.

MAYOR NOMINATES AND COUNCIL FIXED SALARY AT $300 PER YEAR.

Contract Awarded for Extending the Sewer Mains—E. C. Mulford Resigns as Commissioner of Appeal—Buried Wires.

Several important matters were considered by the Common Council last evening when a special meeting was held. All the members were present except Mr. Barrows, who was absent on account of illness in his family. Among the chief matters considered was the awarding of the contract for extending the sewer mains to Patrick Christmas, whose bid was $1,594.90. David Bowden offered to do the work for $1,621.80. F. J. McGover's figures were so high that the street committee did not consider it in detail. The resignation of E. C. Mulford, as a commissioner of appeal, was accepted, and Armstrong Mulford, his son, was appointed to fill the vacancy.

A communication was received from Codington & Swackhamer in which they stated that they had been retained by Mrs. Sarah Milliken, of West Front street, to protect her interest in her claim for damages against the city from the location of the sewer beds near her home. They asked the Council to settle the matter without making it necessary to start a suit. The matter was referred to the Corporation Counsel.

Mayor Fisk communicated with the Council stating that he had been able to secure a contract of agreement from the New York and Philadelphia Telephone Company wherein they would place their wires in this city underground without any expense to the city, and that they would furnish, free to the city, telephones to the number of twelve. His Honor was authorized to sign the contract.

Another important matter was the appointment of the Board of Assessors by the Mayor. The following were appointed: First ward, H. C. VanEmburgh; Second ward, Charles H. Hand; Third ward, J. A. Hubbard; Fourth ward, H. C. Runyon. The appointments were made for three years. As soon as the above men were appointed Mr. Baker moved that the communication be laid on the table. Later Mr. Baker moved that the same be taken from the table and that the Council take a recess of ten minutes to consider the appointments. After the recess the Council confirmed the appointments. The salary named was $300 each per annum.

Mr. Frost, in a resolution, moved that the Council proceed according to law in laying down stone sidewalks in front of a number of properties where the owners had failed to comply with the law. President Dumont opposed the motion. He said it would be impossible to have the walks laid this year, and he did not consider it wise for the city to expend at least $1,500 in laying walks without having some idea when that amount would be returned. He suggested that the street and sewer committee obtain the exact number of feet of walk to be laid as specified in the resolution and report at the next meeting. The resolution called for the laying of walks about the Hotel Hunterston which will cost $500 or $1,000. Lawyer Winfield Angleman appeared for Dr. Hunter, and asked that leniency be shown. He said Dr. Hunter would be willing to lay the walks as soon as the hotel began to pay.

In a communication Corporation Counsel Marsh stated that he had started a suit against Mr. McGinley for the cost of laying a walk. McGinley had offered to settle for $126.08, and he advised the city to accept the offer. In the similar case against Mr. Sheehan, he said that Mr. Sheehan had agreed and was paying $5 a month. He advised that the city accept Mr. Sheehan's offer. The Council concurred in the report of the counsel and the matter was filed.

A petition was received from residents of West Front street asking the Council to give them two sidewalks, one on Front street, opposite Oxford place, and the other on Oxford place, at the same point. The petition was referred to the street committee. There being no other business the Council then adjourned.

A. fourteen times, Lafayette avenue Presbyterian church (Brooklyn) 4 times, Lotus Club, N. Y., 8 times, 7th Reg. N. Y., 7 times, Manhattan Athletic Club, 7 times, Harlem Club, 4 times, Y. M. C. A., New York city, 9 times. "Judge" Green will be assisted by Chas. J. Thompson, necromancer.

—The regular meeting of Unity Lodge, Knights of Pythias, will be held tomorrow evening.

FIGHT IS IN THE THIRD.

D. W LITTELL IS PUSHING E. T. BARROWS FOR COUNCIL HONORS.

The Slate is Practically Decided in the Other Wards—It is Uncertain Who Will be Named for Councilman-at-Large.

Tonight the Republicans of this city will select their candidates for Councilmen at the ward primaries. Each of the wards elect one Councilman except the Fourth, which chooses two men at this election. Then the wards will elect their representative to the city convention, which is to be held Saturday evening, when the three Councilmen-at-Large will be nominated.

As far as the councilmanic slate is concerned tonight it is all made up except in the Third ward. Councilman Ralph I. Tolles is pretty certain of renomination in the First ward where he is quite popular. He has no prominent antagonist in the race for the nomination and is slated for the place. Over in the Second ward, it seems an assured thing that Councilman George H. Frost will be renominated.

There are going to be several candidates on the field in the Third ward, the principal ones being Councilman Elliott T. Barrows and Daniel W. Littell. F. E. Kinsman's plan has succeeded in bringing to the front several candidates, and it was pronounced satisfactory by several of the G. O. P. leaders of that ward when interviewed on the subject this morning. Information from the inside is to the effect that Mr. Littell came out far ahead in the race and that the present Councilman did not come up to expectations as far as the size of his vote was concerned. There are several dark horses in the race but it is generally conceeded that the present Councilman will find his strongest opponent in Mr. Littell. It is hinted that the Councilman is likely to find Mr. Littell too strong for him.

The machine has everything fixed satisfactorily in the Fourth ward. Councilmen W. A. Westphal and Albert H. Leviers will, unless the very unexpected happens, be renominated without any opposition. There is little or no talk about any other candidates.

As far as the selection of Councilmen at-Large there is lots of uncertainty. The present incumbents are not anxious for renomination It is possible that A. C. Stebbins, of the Fourth ward, may be asked to stand again, but the probability is that the Fourth ward will not be represented among the Councilmen-at Large on the Republican ticket, at least. The Fourth has stood there for the last ten years and now has two of the three while the other wards are clamoring for their representatives in the trio. L. B. Bromfield, of the Second ward, seems to be the probable successor of John B. Dumont, the president of the present Council. It is understood that Mr. Dumont does not want the nomination again.

A YOUTHFUL LIFE CUT DOWN.

Councilman and Mrs. E T. Barrows Lose Their Eight-Year-Old Son.

A youthful and bright little life was cut short this morning in the death of Elliot Cobb Barrows, the eight-year-old son of Councilman and Mrs. E. T. Barrows. The little fellow has been sick for a long time, but he has bore up under the affliction with a courage and fortitude that was really remarkable for one of his years. The precepts of Christianity had been instilled and found a ready conception in his mind, and the peace that he found in the realization that there was something better in eternity than could be gained in life was a marked consolation to his last day. The sympathy of the community goes out to Mr and Mrs. Barrows in the loss of their son. The funeral will be held Thursday from the home of his parents, 739 West Eighth street.

ROBBERS USE RED PEPPER.

While Attendant Is Blinded They Steal Two Watches.

Two men entered the jewelry store of P. V. Bergen, in Main street, last evening.

Mr. Bergen had gone to supper and had left his father-in-law, Mr. Morgan, in charge of the place. One of the thieves, an elderly man with red whiskers, threw red pepper into Mr. Morgan's eyes while the other broke the jewelry case with a stone and, grabbing two gold watches, fled.

Neither of the robbers were captured.

A Dime's Worth of Fun.

The dime social held in the W. C. T. U. rooms last evening was successful and well attended. A feature was the talk given by Mrs. Tomlinson on her recent trip to Toronto. A short programme of music was rendered during the evening.

THORN'S SECOND TRIAL

Justice Maddox Succeeds Justice Smith on the Bench.

SEVEN JURORS SECURED

The Interest in the Great Case Continues Unabated—Many Women in the Crowd—Work of Getting the Jury Progresses Rapidly.

New York, Nov. 23.—The trial of Martin Thorn for the murder of William Guldensuppe, the Murray Hill Turkish bath rubber, began all over again yesterday in the Queens County Court House in Long Island City. The original trial, as told in these dispatches, was interrupted by the critical illness of Juror Magnus Larsen, and came to naught.

The juror's sudden attack of appendicitis, for which an operation was performed just in time to save his life, was the climax of sensation in one of the most sensational trials on record. It brought the case to a close, but not until Mrs. Augusta Nack, jointly indicted with Thorn for the murder, had shocked the world by telling from the witness stand the horrible details of the butchery of her former lover by her later one—the man who sat down in front of her, and without so much as the quiver of a nerve, apparently, heard her deliberately consign him to death in the electric chair.

The Trial Opens.

When the lawyers and talesmen arrived they were surprised by the announcement that Justice Smith, who presided at the former trial, was too ill to proceed. Rather than risk a second mistrial of the ill-omened case, messengers were dispatched to Justices Maddox and Gaynor, in Brooklyn. Justice Maddox consented to try the case.

Thorn looked nervous and less self-composed as he entered the courtroom than at his former trial. There were rumors, based upon the observation of jail officials, that he was likely to break down and cause a scene even more sensational than that of Mrs. Nack's confession.

A big crowd arrived early and stormed the courtroom doors. A striking feature of this crowd was the great number of women. There were at least twice as many women as at the former trial.

The examination of talesmen for the jury was begun, and after securing two jurors at 12.30 court adjourned until 1.30.

The trial was resumed at 1.30, and the examination of talesmen continued. At 4.55 the seventh juror was secured, and court adjourned until 9.30 o'clock this morning.

Thorn's Defense at This Trial.

Thorn's lawyer has prepared a new defense, and it is not a weak one. Thorn will be his own defense. His love has turned to hate, and he thinks only of revenge. He will himself go on the stand and swear that Mrs. Nack's story is true except that, instead of himself, she planned the murder; instead of himself, she fired the shot that laid Guldensuppe low, and that she, instead of him, as she has sworn, cut up the bath rubber's body in the bathtub of the lonely Woodside house. He will state that after the deed was done he consented to help dispose of the body for love of the murderess.

Lawyer William F. Howe will use every artifice of law at his command to stimulate in the jurors' minds the idea that Thorn, not Mrs. Nack, has told the truth. He has plenty of evidence and argument on his side—more so, in fact, than the woman has on hers—and he is an adept in the art of confounding a hostile witness and bringing out only what is best in his own.

Which story will the jury believe and what will their verdict be? That is a question which will be answered very soon.

DIVED FROM THE EADS BRIDGE.

Paul J. Tustin Plunges 130 Feet Into the Mississippi at St. Louis.

St. Louis, Nov. 23.—Paul J. Tustin, high jumper in a theatrical company here, dived from the Eads bridge into the Mississippi River yesterday. The jump was 13 feet. It was made from the centre of the bridge, and before Tustin struck the water he turned a complete somersault, striking the river feet first.

The leap was made on a wager between William Garen, manager of the theatre, and the manager of Tustin's troup. Garen thought the cold weather would prevent the dive. Tustin made the jump in costume. He was picked up by a tug chartered for the purpose. When dressed he was arrested and taken to the Chestnut Street Police Station. A charge of disturbing the peace was preferred against him. He was released on bonds. It is not believed that he will be prosecuted.

Tustin emerged from the river without being hurt, though he complained that the cold air and water had given him a shock.

SIX YEARS FOR EMBEZZLERS.

Two Officials of a South Bethlehem Bank Sentenced.

Philadelphia, Nov. 23.—A sentence of six years and six months each at hard labor in the Eastern Penitentiary, and the costs of prosecution, has been imposed by Judge Butler, in the United States District Court, upon John B. Meixell, ex-cashier, and Willis E. Hoch, ex-teller of the South Bethlehem (Pa.) National Bank. Both pleaded guilty to embezzlement.

Examiner Dingham testified that the amount embezzled from the bank was about thirty thousand dollars, and the alterations of the books and accounts to hide the peculations covered a period of about three years. The men admitted having worked together in their wrongdoing.

Gen. Lee Slightly Hurt.

Havana, Nov. 23.—La Lucha says that Consul-General Lee, while on board the steamer Seguranca on his trip from New York to Havana, was wounded on the forehead by a fall in his cabin, due to the tossing of the steamer during rough weather, in which the Seguranca was in some danger. Gen. Lee's forehead still shows a small mark of the wound, which, however, was of no serious importance, and has not interrupted his official work in Havana.

MRS. BOOTH NOW IS A MINISTER.

She Is Formally Ordained to Preach the Gospel.

New York, Nov. 23.—Carnegie Hall was well filled last night at the ordination of Mrs. Ballington Booth, of the Volunteers of America, as an evangelistic minister of the gospel.

Her assumed title is "Minister of the Church of God in General." It was conferred upon her by Dr. MacArthur, for the Baptists; Dr. Bradford, for the Congregationalists; Dr. Gregg, for the Presbyterians, and Dr. Strong, for the Evangelical Alliance.

The meeting was presided over by Chauncey M. Depew, who commented upon the wide scope and self-sacrificing nature of the society's work, and impressed upon his hearers the duty of the public to further financially the interests of the organization.

Mr. Depew was followed by Commander Booth, who submitted a report for the last year. He pointed out that, although somewhat in debt at the time of incorporation, the society had increased its liabilities by only $46. As a result of his appeal for funds almost one thousand dollars was collected from the audience.

The ordination of Mrs. Booth was simple and in accordance with the ritual of the Volunteers. Commander Booth officiated as the ordaining officer. He was assisted by the Rev. Dr. R. S. MacArthur, the Rev. Dr. Amory H. Bradford, the Rev. Dr. Davis Gregg, the Rev. Dr. Josiah Strong, Chaplain Barnes, Brig.-Gen. Fielding, Col. J. G. Hallimond and Col. J. W. Merrill.

Dr. Strong invoked a blessing on the ordaining. After his prayer was finished Mrs. Booth took her station in the centre of the stage and Commander Booth stood beside her. He read the instructions and the obligations, which were repeated by the other officers. Then Commander Booth catechised his wife, and she answered all questions in a quiet, firm tone. Then the clergymen formed a semi-circle about Mrs. Booth as she knelt at a small altar and their hands were placed upon her head and the ritual of consecration was pronounced.

GARY ON POSTAL SAVINGS.

National Debt, He Believes, Might Absorb the Deposits.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Postmaster-General Gary is receiving many letters regarding the postal savings bank proposition, strongly urged by him in his annual report. In the course of an interview Mr. Gary said:

"Only two objections have been seriously urged against a postal savings system. The first is the old contention that the Government ought not 'to go into the business of collecting and taking care of the savings of the people.' I think this is an objection which may properly be left to Congress to answer.

"The other objection is based upon the generally admitted difficulty of finding safe and proper methods of putting the money accumulations to profitable use.

"I deliberately abstained from setting forth a definite plan for the disposition of the savings. I contented myself with a number of suggestions, inviting that critical discussion by the public which has begun already. Perhaps none of those suggestions, nor all of them put together, will prove equal to the task of absorbing profitably the collections of a postal savings system; but I am convinced that the national debt, as it exists to-day, offers a temporary solution of this difficulty."

Hood's Sarsaparilla Makes the Blood Rich and Pure, Creates an Appetite and Restores Health, Vigor and Vitality.

"I feel that I ought to write a few words in praise of Hood's Sarsaparilla, which has done great things for me. I was in a delicate condition and was sick at my stomach and constipated. I tried remedies highly recommended for female weaknesses, but the medicines brought on other troubles. I was so weak I could not attend to my household duties, and I then determined to try Hood's Sarsaparilla. After I had taken this medicine a short time I began to gain strength. I until I was able to work all day without any inconvenience. I have taken Hood's Pills for constipation, and I am better today than I have been for five years. Since taking Hood's Sarsaparilla and Hood's Pills I feel rested in the morning. I am less nervous and am sure I have richer and purer blood. I have always been bothered with scrofula, but now I am rid of it. Before my last child was born I took Hood's Sarsaparilla, and my girl baby was fat and strong, while my other child was not well and lived to be only two years old." MRS. E. F. Mr. N. N. Osburn, well-known at Woodstock, Mich., was troubled with a lame back. He was persuaded to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It gave him relief in one night. This remedy is also famous for its cures of rheumatism. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Frank Schoonmaker, of Central avenue, is home from St. Paul's School, Long Island, for the Thanksgiving holidays.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. The Remedy cured me, and I want all of my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will do them good. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, cor. of Park and North avenues.

Miss Alice Barker, of Grove street, has returned after a visit in Brooklyn.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75 cents.

Hall's Family Pills are the best.

—The Sunday school of the Park Avenue Baptist church will observe the annual celebration of Bible Day next Sunday afternoon.

How to Cure Bilious Colic.

I suffered for weeks with colic and pains in my stomach caused by biliousness and had to take medicine all the while until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured me. I have since recommended it to a good many people. Mrs. F. Butler, Fairhaven, Conn. Persons who are subject to bilious colic can ward off the attack by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms appear. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner North and Park avenues.

—The work on the new dam of the Plainfield Ice and Cold Storage Company is nearly completed and it will be a strong structure.

The Greatest Discovery Yet.

W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

—The women board of managers of the hospital will meet next Friday and transact important business in the settlement of accounts of the Spielkartenfest.

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has Lame Back and Weak Kidneys, Malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to the Liver and Kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures Constipation, Headache, Fainting Spells, Sleeplessness and Melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

OUR REPLY TO SPAIN.

President McKinley Will Now Submit Answers to Spain's Charges.

Washington, Nov. 23.—President McKinley will submit, at the meeting of the Cabinet to-day, the draft of his reply to the latest note of the Sagasta Ministry. It is an elaborate summary of the steps taken by the United States to prevent filibustering. It shows what has been done in this respect, and contains, in addition, an exposition of the policy of this country concerning neutrality obligations.

The note embodies the United States laws against filibustering, shows how closely drawn are the lines, and then in detail sets forth what has been done by the Administration to fulfill these obligations.

It is a comprehensive reply to the charge that the Cuban cause has been promoted, and its leaders supplied with arms and ammunition by expeditions from the United States, whose leaving was connived at by the authorities.

To Deport Alien Laborers.

Washington, Nov. 22.—The forty-stave-cutters arrested by immigrant inspectors in Arkansas and Mississippi for violation of the Alien Contract Labor law, have arrved at Baltimore and will be deported to Bremen next Thursday. Superintendent Powderly says that the 192 immigrants who landed at Galveston last week have separated, and that most of them disappeared in the Louisiana timber swamps. Those whom the inspectors have found say that they were induced to come to this country by an anonymous advertisement which they saw in an Austrian paper. Mr. Powderly says that it will be difficult to make a case against the men.

$11,905,000 for Pensions.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The Interior Department has made a requisition on the Treasury Department for the following pension payments: Boston, $1,950,000; San Francisco, $990,000; Washington, $2,190,000; Augusta, Ga., $825,000; Columbus, Ohio, $4,100,000; Detroit, Mich., $1,350,000. Total, $11,905,000.

Big Raid on Moonshiners.

Hot Springs, Ark., Nov. 23.—Deputy United States Marshal Carpenter and a posse, have arrived here with fifteen illicit distillers, whom they had captured in Scott County. The Marshal destroyed four stills and 4,000 gallons of illicit whisky and beer.

Burglars Make a $4,000 Haul.

Harrisburg, Nov. 23.—There is no clew to the identity of the burglars who robbed the big department store of Dives, Pomeroy & Stewart, in this city, Sunday night. The thieves secured money, checks and goods to the amount of $4,000.

FOR PEACE IN CUBA

Gen. Blanco Tries to Negotiate With the Insurgents.

SENDS AN AGENT TO RABI

But So Far the Cubans Have Refused to Consider the Propositions Made—Effort of Spain to Stop Slaughter Before Congress Meets.

Havana, Cuba, Nov. 23.—Gen. Pando started by train from this city on Saturday last, according to the official announcement, to take charge of the campaign against the insurgents. He was accompanied by his full staff, and was escorted by a company of artillery. It is now stated on good authority that he has been commissioned by Marshal Blanco to enter into communication with the insurgent leaders, with the view to arranging for peace.

This is not mere surmise. It is a statement based on an accurate knowledge of all the facts in the case, and Gen. Pando did not leave this city until he had taken certain steps to further the object in view.

Pando's Peace Agent.

Gen. Pando, after consultation with the Captain-General, first released Damian Caballero, who had been imprisoned on the Isle of Pines, accused of acting as a spy for the insurgents and bringing about the disaster to the Spanish at the battle of Cacao. Gen. Pando then furnished Caballero, who is the godfather of Rabi, the well-known insurgent leader, with a considerable sum of money, and caused him to be landed at Mazanillo, Santiago de Cuba, where a good horse was placed at his disposal. He was also furnished with official documents empowering him to act in behalf of the Spanish commander. From Manzanillo Caballero made his way to the Jiguani Hills, where Gen. Rabi has his headquarters. Jiguani is not far from Bayamo, which is connected by rail with Manzanillo, and Bayamo is about half way between Manzanillo and Honquin. The latter place is connected by rail with the port of Gibara, on the northern coast of Santiago de Cuba. Manzanillo is situated on the eastern coast of Santiago de Cuba.

Gen. Pando instructed Caballero to offer Gen. Rabi a high rank in the Spanish army and a large sum of money, to be distributed among the other insurgent leaders of that part of Cuba, in addition to a large amount of money for Rabi himself, if the latter should succeed in arranging peace. Besides this, Caballero was instructed to inform the insurgent leaders that the Spanish authorities would undertake to honestly establish the new autonomist regime if the insurgent leaders would accept the propositions made to them.

Caballero Unsuccessful.

Although Caballero has not returned, confidential advices which have reached the Spanish officials here indicate that he has so far been unsuccessful.

Previous to leaving Manzanillo Caballero obtained a letter of introduction from a well-known merchant, Senor Solis, of Manzanillo, to Gen. Du Valon, the French leader of the insurgents, with a view of inducing the latter, as well as Rabi, to enter into negotations with the Spanish for a peace settlement.

Caballero arrived safely at Rabi's camp, but his arguments have not had the effect hoped for. It is understood Rabi has replied that he believes the war is about to end in favor of the insurgents; that the Cubans, with the aid of the United States, will gain their independence, and that, therefore, he prefers to continue fighting until the final victory is won.

There is no information as to the result of Caballero's negotiations with Gen. Du Valon, but it is believed that these negotiations are likely also to fail.

Another Scheme.

Gen. Pando meanwhile has put other irons in the fire, in the hope of prevailing upon the insurgents to come to terms. He is in negotiation with three leaders of the last revolution to induce them to go to different insurgent camps and use their influence to bring about peace. These three persons were also offered money for themselves, and were to have been furnished with large sums of money to distribute among their friends. But, it is understood, they at first declined to become Pando's agents, alleging that they have no influence with the insurgent leaders of the present day, and that they would be risking their lives if they ventured into the insurgent camps.

It is believed that this reluctance is due to the fact that the insurgents are anticipating some strong step in their favor when the Unted States Congress meets. Gen. Pando was somewhat mortified at the non-success of his plans, and he informed the three ex-insurgent leaders that he doubted their sincerity, and he indirectly gave them to understand that he believed they were opposed to the sovereignty of Spain over Cuba and had no desire to assist the Spanish authorities in the efforts the latter were making to bring about a peaceful settlement of the troubles in the island.

The Cubans protested that they were sincere and repeated the excuses they had already made for their non-compliance with the requests of the Spanish general. Finally, however, two of the three were induced to start for Manzanillo in another effort to persuade the insurgents to arrange for peace on the basis of autonomy.

The military authorities believe the best way to come to an understanding would be to inflict upon the enemy a signal defeat, which Gen. Pando hopes to accomplish. On the other hand, the revolutionary leaders hope to strike a decisive blow at Spain before Congress

THE ASSESSORS.

Mayor Fisk would have shown a commendable spirit of fairness had he stifled his partisanship long enough last night to have nominated a Democrat as one of the four members of the new Board of Assessors. Perhaps it was not expected that he would do so by those who implicitly believe in the trite saying of "to the victor belongs the spoils," but nevertheless it seems to us that the concession of one of the appointments to the Democrats would have been a good idea. Of the fitness of the men selected for the positions there is aught to say against them, and they will doubtless perform their duties as equitably as their good judgment dictates.

No man in Plainfield has been more bitter in condemnation of the present Republican administration than Harry Runyon. Yet he is rewarded with an appointment as member of the new Board of Assessors at a very comfortable remuneration for the amount of work performed. Mr. Runyon's verbal brickbats must have had a very pleasant sensation for Mayor Fisk.

If the Citizens' really accomplish the defeat of the Republican machine they must work with greater earnestness and speed than their proceedings have been marked with for the last five days.

Judge McCormick's sentence of a wife beater to four years in State prison is the right kind of Jersey justice.

Political rumors are so thick that they obscure all other sorts of public gossip in Plainfield just now.

SNOW KING IS HERE AT LAST.

TWO INCHES OF THE "BEAUTIFUL."

Flakes Began to Fall at 10 o'Clock Last Night, But the Sun Has Melted Most of Them.

Plainfield experienced its first snow storm of the winter last night. There was almost two inches of the white icy blanket that covered the ground when the Plainfielders crawled from their beds this morning and gazed out of the window. For several days the weather has suggested snow. It was cold and raw and the light fleecy clouds partially covered the sky. Two days ago everybody thought that a snowstorm was at hand, but when it did come last night, it was a surprise to all around. The first flakes began to fall at 10 o'clock last evening when the thermometer stood at 38 degrees The mercury slowly fell, as if in company with the snow, until it passed the freezing point by two degrees. The snow continued to fall until an early hour this morning, and as a result Weather Observer Neagle's guage showed that 1.9 inches of snow has fallen. As the sun came out, the snow began to disappear until it is now only to be found in shady places.

Politicians Were Around.

As usual, previous to an election, the city offices are crowded with politicians. Last evening considerable wire-pulling was being done throughout the evening while the Council was in session. There seemed to be several factions at work, but each one apparently accomplished its purpose, and all went away feeling happy.

"The Autocrat" is Out.

"The Autocrat," the publication issued by the pupils of the North Plainfield Public School, has just been issued. It is full of interesting gossip of the scholars as well as selections of a general character. An excellent likeness of Prof. H. J. Wightman is also printed.

Justice Newcorn's Court.

In Justice Newcorn's court yesterday the contract case of Thompson against DeMott was adjourned for one week. Summons was issued in the contract case of Boone against Cavanagh, returnable on the 26th.

JOTTINGS OF THE DAY.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

E. H. Holmes, of Plainfield, was in town yesterday on business.

Justice Storms, of New Market, is suffering with an attack of lumbago.

Duer Randolph, of Elizabeth, spent Sunday with his parents at Greenbrook.

Mr. Egbert, of Staten Island, is visiting his son, A. L. Egbert, of Prospect avenue.

Mrs. Stryker has returned from Somerville where she has been visiting friends.

Mrs. Josephine Dunham and her sister, Mrs. Ayers, visited relatives in Westfield today.

Miss Ethel Fenner, of Church street, will entertain a few friends at her home this evening.

Fred Wilcox is carrying his arm in a sling, the result of a sprain received while playing football.

Mr. and Mrs. John Tingley will spend Thursday with their son, Ulyses Tingley and family, of Bound Brook.

Capt. and Mrs. Thompson were among the boroughites who attended the horse show in New York last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Ulyses Tingley, of Bound Brook, spent Sunday with Mr. Tingley's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Tingley.

Mr. and Mrs. Calvin H. Rugg, of Plainfield, spent Sunday with Mrs. Rugg's parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Swackhamer.

The landlord and tenant case of Burbeck against J. Denger has been settled out of court. It was to have been tried yesterday before Justice Storms, but last Thursday the defendants moved out and thus averted any trouble.

Yesterday afternoon T. C. Bodine lost nine chickens by death. He says that they were killed by a dog owned by Joel Giddis. Mr. Bodine was away at the time, and Mrs. Bodine did not notice anything strange about the yard, until her attention was called to the affair by her husband. When Mr. Bodine reached home seven of the chickens were found dead and two were nearly so. Immediately he secured three freeholders to go to his house and see what had happened, so that he can prosecute by law.

Last Saturday evening a pleasant surprise party was tendered to Miss Margaret Boyle at her home on Front street. The evening was passed in the usual social manner, during which dancing was a feature. At midnight refreshments were served. Among those present were Mrs. Thomas Reidy, Mrs. Boyle, Miss Margaret Boyle, Miss Margaret Sanlor, Miss Margaret Reville, Miss Kate Druhon, Miss Lizzie Cullen, of High Bridge; Miss Lizzie Mickenelay, Miss Mary Meehan, Miss Mary Kenney, Martin Boyle, John Boyle, Edward Kline, John Gurnell, P. J. Berris, P. Lawler, Thomas Kenney, Thomos Meekney, Joseph Kelly.

Last Thursday at New Market in Justice Storms' court was tried the case of Bauer against Gulick, the latter of Lincoln and the former of Somerville. Lawyer Steele represented the plaintiff, and Prosecutor Dungan, of Somerville, represented the defendant. The case was that of where Gulick sold a cow and calf to the defendant, and the latter claimed that Gulick gave him his word that the cow was a fresh one. After the sale the defendant was dissatisfied with his bargain and claimed that he could get no satisfaction. On the other hand letters were offered in evidence showing that Gulick offered to take the cow and calf back if everything was not all right. The suit was for $100 damages. The case was given to the twelve men jury and they were out for three hours. Being unable to agree Justice Storms discharged them. The vote stood 6 to 6. No notice of appeal has been given.

Charles French, a carpenter, was injured yesterday afternoon by falling from a scaffolding on the front of the building now being erected for Robert Woodruff, on North avenue. French Accidentally stepped upon a plank which did not rest firmly and fell from the second story to the ground. He was taken to his home and medical aid was summoned. No bones were broken, but it is feared that more serious internal injuries exist.

THEATRICAL.

The parade to be given at noon tomorrow by the Salter & Martin Uncle Tom's Cabin Company compares favorably with the large circuses. It embraces three bands of music, 20 head of ponies, donkeys and oxen, 12 Siberian bloodhounds, besides numerous chariots, wagons, pony carts, etc.

One of the finest plays that has been produced this season is Elliot Barnes' "Only a Farmer's Daughter," and as interpreted last it not only pleased the audience present, but at times excited them to enthusiasm. The plot is entirely new and original, and worked out in a masterly manner. Probably one of the most pleasing features of the play consists in its utter freedom from all vulgarity or obscenity.—(N. Y. Sunday Courier.) At Music Hall Thursday.

The three-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros. of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

AGED WOMAN ACCUSES A WESTFIELD LAWYER OF FRAUD.

Mrs. L. E. Hart, 82 Years of Age, Assigned Real Estate and Securities to Her Stepson—The Courts are Asked to Restore It.

A strange story of alleged fraud upon Mrs. Sarah Ann Hart, a woman 82 years of age, has come to light in the proceedings which Mrs. Hart has begun in the Court of Chancery, through her attorneys, Codington & Swackhamer and Craig A. Marsh, of this city. The bill is filed against Levi E. Hart, the plaintiff's stepson, who is a lawyer and Justice of the Peace living in Westfield. His wife, Carrie A. Hart, is also named as a defendant. Since the death of her husband, Ebenezer Hart, about twelve years ago, until last February, Mrs. Hart resided in the town of Scotch Plains. She was possessed of considerable property, including a house and lot on Park avenue in Scotch Plains, and a tract of land containing eleven acres, situated in North Plainfield. She also held two mortgages upon real estate, one for $3,500 and the other for $1,000.

In the month of February last Hart induced his stepmother and her invalid son, Manning Parse, to leave Scotch Plains and make their home with him in Westfield. Her brother, Wm. Smock, of Bound Brook, and Wm. C. Stanbery, of Scotch Plains, who until that time had managed her business affairs and looked after the care and protection of her property, tried to dissuade her from going to Westfield, but she and her son left and took up their residence in the Hart family. A short time afterwards Manning Parse, the invalid son, died, and since then until Nov. 7th, the aged woman has lived the life of a recluse in Westfield, seldom seeing her friends and relatives.

During her stay in Westfield Mrs. Hart made an assignment of all her property interests and mortgages to her stepson and his wife, and the claim is now made in court that she was weak in body and mind at the time the assignments were made and incapable of transacting business or properly looking after her interests.

The bill further alleges that Mrs. Hart was desirous of obtaining the counsel of her friends about her business affairs but that her stepson would not permit her to do so, and that when her friends would call to see her he would inform them that she could not be seen.

The assignment of the real estate and mortgages was made on August 9th. The assignment states that the conveyance was made "in consideration of one dollar and other valuable considerations."

It is charged that the assignments were made through undue influence and fraud, and that Mrs. Hart in assigning the mortgages believed that the money was about to be paid to her and that she was merely signing a receipt for the same, and did not know differently until her counsel informed her that by the records in the county clerk's office he had ascertained that she had made a formal assignment of them to Hart.

Hart is now erecting a brick office building in Westfield, and it is charged that the money for this building was obtained from the sale of the $3 500 mortgage obtained from the plaintiff. The bill asks that Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Hart be ordered to reassign to the plaintiff the property formerly in her possession.

AINE'S SEVRES SET.

10,000 PIECES SEEMINGLY ALIKE BUT EVERYONE DIFFERENT

Owned by a Louisiana Planter Whose Home Now Belongs to Gen. Miles—1,000 Guests Frequently Entertained There During Anti-Bellum Days.

In a collection of historic relics of Louisiana are two pieces of china that once belonged to the wealthiest man of that State, Valcour Aine, his income amounting to $5,000,000 a year.

The story of this man's life reads like fiction.

Although he has been dead for about forty years, his hospitality and prominence have survived him.

He frequently invited 1,000 of the most prominent people of New Orleans at a time to visit him, especially the young men and the young ladies.

Valcour Aine's plantation was about fifty miles up the Mississippi River from New Orleans. The place is now owned by Gen. Miles. The garden consisted of fifty acres, and had heating pipes four feet in diameter running two feet under the ground all over it. By this means he could give you in the dead of winter fruits from every clime taken fresh from the trees, and flowers in profusion. The walk from the mansion to the river was inlaid with imported Grecian marble, and to-day the gate columns, with lonic caps of the purest marble, can be seen still standing.

Going back to 1835, it is found that Dr. Antomarchi, Napoleon's last physician, was the guest of the mansion, and a short time afterward he accepted the position of Surgeon-General to the President of Mexico and lost his life. Before Dr. Antomarchi left for Mexico, Valcour Aine offered him $10,000 per year to become his family physician. This offer was rejected by the doctor, as it is understood, so that he could go to Mexico for the purpose of raising an army to again revolutionize France. Marshal Henri G. Bertrand and young Ney, son of the Marshal, came over to New Orleans as assistants and organizers of the new revolution of the French army. This fact is not generally known. Valcour Aine had agreed to advance $1,000,000 to assist the project.

On the arrival of Marshal Bertrand and young Ney they immediately proceeded up the river to the mansion of Valcour Aine. They were received royally, and the evening on which they were about to return to lay new plans, having learned of the failure of Dr. Antomarchi, they decided to return to France and there report to their revolutionary contemporaries.

Tea was served at 10 o'clock at night in a set of enamelled and blue gold Sevres ware. The cups and saucers must have cost not less than $20 each. After tea was over and just before the down steamer arrived the whole service was brought out on the balcony in trays by the servants and ordered to be thrown, each piece, down upon the marble walks as a memento of shattered hopes of the new revolution that was to come, and Valcour Aine himself, being remonstrated with by the Marshal, said: "I do this in order that, when you return to France, you may tell your committee that I, Valvour Aine, entertained you as royally as any Prince of Europe could have done. Take with you back to France one piece of it in its shattered condition as a memento of what is broken in hopes but not lost."

Frequently in this mansion receptions were given that far surpassed anything in to-day

The most romantic stories are told about the 10,000 pieces of porcelain that were painted by the best painters of the Sevres works. All had the appearance of being alike to the eye. Each garland of flowers around each piece and on the edge the initials "F. A.," those of Mrs. Aine, would to all appearances look as though they were uniform. But when closely examined no two plates were ever found to correspond.

Valcour Aine, the millionaire planter, had five daughters and they all became wives of prominent men in New Orleans. Valcour Aine was in the habit of coming to New Orleans usually in November, and there he would order his banker on each visit to pass to the credit of his daughters $25,000 each, in order that they might have pin money for the winter season.—New York Sun.

He Escaped.

A bishop of the Methodist church was preaching a sermon on the vanity of dress, and incidentally alluded to people who wore velvet and gold ornaments.

After the sermon a distinguished member of his conference approached him and said: "Now bishop, I know you were striking at me, for I have a velvet vest and a heavy watch chain."

The bishop smiled, passed his hand over the vest, touched the chain, and then said, with a merry twinkle in his eye: "No, really, Brother B., for the vest you wear is only a cotton velvet and I am half persuaded that your watch chain is brass."—Atlanta Constitution.

Chicken for Dinner Daily.

For twenty-five years chicken has been regularly served for dinner at a Weston, W. Va., hotel, and traveling men call it Chicken House, and ministers vote it a model inn. Few persons, however, are aware of the fact that a condition in the will which passed the title to the property a quarter of a century ago required the heirs to daily serve chicken for dinner so long as the property was used for hotel purposes.—Philadelphia Record.

$13,645,250 IN ONE CHECK.

First Installment of the Union Pacific Purchase Money Paid.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The largest financial transaction in which the Government has taken part since the last bond sale took place yesterday in Washington and New York, in the transfer to the Reorganization Committee of the $13,645,250 of bonds held by the Government as a sinking fund for the company and the payment by the Reorganization Committee of the $58,000,000 bid for the railroad property at the foreclosure sale in Omaha on Nov. 1. The money was deposited to the credit of Treasurer Roberts in the National City Bank at New York, the certificate of deposit being given to James F. Meline, Assistant Treasurer, who represented Mr. Roberts there. A portion of the bonds, $4,500,000 in amount, which had been held in the Sub-Treasury at New York, was delivered at the same time by Mr. Meline to the representatives of the Reorganization Committee. The deposit of the money was announced by telephone to Secretary Gage at 12 o'clock, in a special message from Mr. Meline, whereupon the delivery of the bonds occurred. Two clerks of the bank, Messrs. Creck and Adee, sent to Washington for that purpose, received the bonds here, $9,145,250, in Treasurer Robert's office.

The appearance of the 89 cents in the transaction has given the Treasury officials no end of worry, and the disposition to be made of it may yet be referred to Congress. The sum named in the decree of sale included the 89 cents, but how it got there the Treasury people have no idea. It was an error, and they express to the Reorganization Committee a perfect willingness to waive the Government's claim to it. But the members of the committee said they couldn't avail themselves of the proffered waiver, and there it is. A suggestion to add it to the conscience fund did not meet with the favor of the department. If Congress doesn't come to the relief of the Bookkeeping, Warrant and Public Moneys Division, a new account will have to be opened for the care of that 89 cents.

TROTTERS GO TO EUROPE.

Austrian Horsemen Get the Best Horses at the New York Sale.

New York, Nov. 23.—The most extensive auction sale of trotters and pacers ever held in this country began yesterday at Madison Square Garden. Nearly eight hundred horses are catalogued, and with an intermission on Thursday and Sunday, the sale will be continued day and night until Thursday of next week. Upward of two hundred of the animals that will pass under the hammer have public records ranging from 2.06¼ to 2.30, and this remarkable array of speed has brought together a big crowd of well-known horsemen from all parts of the United States and Canada and from Europe. Mrs. Dan McPhee, widow of the well-known Canadian trainer, who died at Vienna last Spring; John Fleischman, Henry A. Fleischman, Albert Mosher and Schlesinger & Co., all of Vienna, were the most prominent foreign buyers present yesterday. They bought the cream of the offerings.

The Hon. Charles M. Reed's fine show mares, Alice Leyburn and Georgie M., who were so much in evidence at the Horse Show last week, were struck off to Schlesinger & Co., of Vienna, for $6,200.

The once-noted campaigner Pixley, 2.08¼, which was the contending trotter against Alix in the memorable $15,000 Columbian free-for-all race at Chicago in 1893, brought only $650. She is 11 years old. W. M. V. Hoffman, who bought her, refused to take a profit of $700 within one hour after Pixley was knocked down.

NO ARBITRATION TREATY.

Denial of Story that Negotiations Had Been Completed.

Washington, Nov. 23.—It is stated on authority that there have been no recent negotiations between Secretary Sherman and Sir Julian Pauncefote, the British Ambassador, concerning a new arbitration treaty between the United States and Great Britain; that no exchange of notes has occurred between Mr. Sherman and Lord Salisbury on this subject, and that Sir Julian has not mentioned the matter since he returned to Washington some weeks ago from London.

These explicit statements were called out by detailed reports recently published to the effect that negotiations on the new treaty had progressed to the final stage.

Some months ago an intimation was conveyed by the authorities here that a renewal of the negotations on the treaty would be viewed with favor, and a rough draft of a treaty was made, but negotiations were not begun, as it was felt the defeat of the last treaty made it inadvisable to make a new one until positive evidence was at hand that it would not meet the same unfavorable action in the Senate.

A WOOD WORK TRUST NOW.

Seven-Eighths of the Business to Be Controlled by Them.

Philadelphia, Nov. 23.—A special from Williamsport, Pa., says that the American Woodworking Machinery Company has just been organized and will control fourteen concerns manufacturing seven-eighths of the woodworking machinery produced in the United States.

The local members of the combine are Rowley & Hermance, the Williamsport Machine Company, the Lohman Machine Company and Young Brothers. Levi Houston, of Montgomery, is also a member. The capital of the organization is $8,500,000.

The nine other firms that have pooled their issues are Goodell & Walters, Philadelphia; Glencoe Machine Company, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Hoyt Brothers, Aurora, Ill.; Globe Machine Company, Chicago; Fague & Company, Cincinnati; E. & B. Hayes Machinery Company, Oshkosh, Wis.; Frank Clements, Rochester, N. Y.; C. B. Rogers Company, Norwich; Milwaukee Sander Company, Green Bay, Wis.

Explosion in a Newspaper Office.

Binghamton, Nov. 23.—The office of the Chronicle was demolished yesterday morning by the explosion of the boiler used for heating. Big pieces of iron were thrown a hundred feet or more, and the entire front of the building was torn out. All the employes received a severe shaking up, but none was seriously injured.

CAN'T DENY IT.

When Facts Are Brought Home to Us and By Our Neighbors Too—They Are Plainfield Facts.

A wholesome suspicion is one of our characteristics as a people. In matters worthy of investigation we want real tangible facts regarding it. The word of those we know, the nearby evidence obtainable, are generally what we most desire. When we call on a neighbor, a man of business at that, and say "you have had some experience with so and so; what do you think of it?" and he answers "just the thing, I know, because I have tried it," it goes a long way in helping our decision. This is always the case with Doan's Kidney Pills. Everybody who has used them for any kidney complaint will tell you "they are just the thing." Why? Because they do the work every time and in all disordered conditions of the kidneys. The proof lies with your neighbors. Many have been cured in Plainfield, and are ready to tell you or anyone enquiring.

Mr. Robert Love, of 44 Duer street, member of the firm of Love Brothers, grocers, of N 257 West Front street, says! "I suffered from kidney complaint for the last eight or nine years. My chief trouble was pain across the back and a lameness over the kidneys. Colds always settled there and aggravated the pain and lameness. At last my back grew weaker and any heavy lifting or too much standing or sitting gave me additional pain. In the mornings my back bothered me greatly until I moved about and took some exercise, when it became better to a certain extent. I doctored and used different kinds of so-called kidney cures, but it was like throwing money away. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended in our paper and being in shape at the time I got a box from L. W. Randolph's drug store. Before taking half of it my condition was greatly improved and continuing their use all the pain left me. I have felt slight signs of it since, but a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills always drives it away. I always keep them on hand to use if occasion arises. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a grand medicine for kidney trouble and it gives me pleasure to recommend them whenever an opportunity presents itself."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

Five Exceptional Values In The Cloak Section.

Quick selling here brings new goods daily, ofttimes some remarkably good values. Of especial interest are the five assortments of cloaks placed on sale today; interesting not only for their perfection of quality and style, but for the exceptionally low prices. Two assortments at $6 75, two at $8.50, one at $10 50. There are other cloaks here as low as $3 98 and as high as you like.

CUBAN PRISONERS BACK

Arrival in New York of the Competitor's Crew.

TWO YEARS IN CHAINS

The Alleged Filibusters Kept for Eighteen Months Without Exercise or Fresh Air—Their Trial by Court-Martial a Farce.

New York, Nov. 23.—Aboard the Ward Line steamship Saratoga, which reached this port yesterday afternoon from Havana, were the Competitor prisoners, who, after having been imprisoned in the Cabana Fortress for nearly two years, were finally pardoned last week and banished from the island. The men are Laborde, Melton, Gildea, Leavitt and Barnett. They were released by Capt.-Gen. Blanco on instructions from Madrid, and the action was said to be significant of Spain's new policy in Cuba.

During their imprisonment the prisoners were subjected to cruel treatment, beaten and starved, until Gen. Lee interceded and had their rights as American citizens respected.

The little American schooner Competitor was captured in Cuban waters on April 25, 1896, with Capt. Laborde and the other men on board. She carried ammunition, but the men taken prisoners had no arms on their person.

After a summary court-martial, against which the United States protested, all the prisoners were ordered shot, but before Weyler could hasten to execute the sentence Spain rushed in and granted a respite.

Broken in health by their long confinement and the treatment accorded them by their jailers, and clad only in the rags which they have worn since they were captured over a year and a half ago, they made a pitiable spectacle as they walked down the gangplank of the steamer and fell into the arms of their friends, who had been waiting on the dock for hours.

Of the five men who returned yesterday, young Melton was in far the worst condition. He went away on the Competitor a robust man, healthy, strong and weighing 165 pounds. He weighed just 100 pounds when he landed, and was so weak that he could scarcely talk above a whisper. His hands trembled violently, and he looked to be nothing but skin and bones. In this condition he was sent away from Cuba, with no clothing but a white flannel shirt, the trousers which he wore when he was captured, a thin jacket, and shoes and socks. His teeth were chattering with the cold as he stood on the deck of the Saratoga when she hauled into her dock. One of the first men aboard the steamer was a Cuban, who quickly stripped himself of his overcoat and covered the shivering man with it.

William Leavitt, the cook of the Competitor, was in almost as bad condition. The others say that his sufferings have affected his mind. He is a physical wreck, and had no more clothing than Melton. Capt. Laborde was in fairly good shape, although he has aged very much since he went away. He is 39 years old, but looked 55 as he walked down the gangplank yesterday. His hair and beard were dark brown when he went away. They are now streaked with gray. Capt. Laborde walked with the aid of a crutch. His left leg is useless, rendered so by two strokes of paralysis which he had while in prison. In the matter of clothing he was better off than the rest, his brother, Edwards Laborde, having sent him a complete outfit a week before he was released.

Owna Melton, the young newspaper man, went to Cuba on the Competitor in order to get inside the insurgent lines. He had contracted to write a series of articles about the insurgent campaign for a Florida newspaper. His protestations of neutrality when captured availed him nothing, and if anything he was treated worse than the other prisoners. The resolution demanding his immediate release passed the Senate at the last session.

WHITE HOUSE RECEPTIONS.

A Plan to Divide Up the Guests So as to Reduce the Attendance.

Washington, Nov. 23.—An important change in the manner of extending invitations to, and the character of, the regular yearly official evening receptions of the President, was announced yesterday by Mr. John Addison Porter, secretary to the President. Heretofore a card of invitation was for the series of four functions. The new plan is to divide up the persons entitled to attend among the various affairs, so that a member of Congress who is invited to the reception in honor of the Diplomatic Corps will not receive an invitation to the function in honor of the army and navy. Mr. Porter said that his reasons for making the change was the necessity of reducing the attendance, which in previous years had been too great for the capacity of the White House and the safety and comfort of the guests.

As usual the official season will begin with the afternoon reception on New Year's day. It will last from 11 a. m. until 1.30 p. m., half an hour shorter than customary.

Scored the Evangelists.

Pittsburg, Nov. 23.—The second day's session of the Methodist Congress was held in Christ M. E. Church yesterday. Dr. Horace Lincoln Jacobs, of Tyrone, spoke on "Superficial Revivals." He administered a severe rebuke to professional evangelists, saying:

"The labors of professional evangelists, who are far from the New Testament type, who depend upon the might of extreme mannerisms and their experience, who are reprobate concerning the truth, their chief stock in trade being invective and tirade upon the church and the ministry, and who can cite Scripture, as does the devil, for a purpose, have done, alas, too much to produce and spread superficial revivals."

Our Big Wheat Shipments.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—The world's wheat shipments, with comparisons, so far as reported, are: America, last week, 6,553,000 bushels; the preceding week, 5,445,000; same week last year, 3,931,000 Russia, last week, 2,712,000; the preceding week, 3,488,000; same week last year, 4,512,000.

GOVERNMENT LOSES IN TWO SUITS.

Western Union Recovers $258,869. Cramps' Suit Stands.

Washington, Nov. 23.—The Government is loser by two decisions of the Court of Claims. When John Wanamaker was Postmaster-General he issued an order fixing the rate to be paid by the Government for the transmission of telegraphic messages at one mill a word. Against this the Western Union Telegraph Company protested throughout the Administration of which Mr. Wanamaker was a member, and at the close of his term of office sued the Government in the Court of Claims to recover the amount of money to which it thought it was entitled for the business transacted during the existence of that order.

The matter was referred last June to First Assistant Postmaster-General Heath, as master, for examination. In September he reported that the telegraph company was entitled to recover $258,869.84. This report was confirmed by the court yesterday, and judgment given the telegraph company for that sum. The decree, however, expressly stipulates that nothing it contains shall in any manner prejudice the right of the Government in case of any other litigation respecting telegraph rates to assert its right to fix the rates for Government business.

The court also denied the motion of the Government to dismiss the case of Cramp & Sons for the recovery of about two million dollars claimed to be due the firm on its contracts for building war ships because of changes of plans during construction and delays caused by failure to deliver armor on time.

BOILER EXPLOSION KILLS TWO.

One Was an Insurance Company's Inspector Who was Testing the Boiler.

Rochester, Nov. 23.—A boiler in the engine room of the Graves Elevator Works in this city exploded yesterday afternoon, totally wrecking a one-story brick building in which it was located and burying the fireman and Patrick Shields, a boiler inspector, beneath its ruins. At the time of the explosion, Mr. Shields, who lives in Jersey City and represents the Hartford Insurance Company, was making an official test of the boilers. He was found resting against a chimney, with the top of his head blown off. His body and that of the fireman, Robert Henry, were taken to the morgue.

All the windows in the surrounding buildings were blown out, and several workmen employed in a neighboring picture frame factory were injured by flying bricks. The accident called out the entire Fire Department and all the ambulances in the city. The cause of the explosion is not known. The loss is estimated at $40,000.

OBJECTS TO JUDGE HORTON.

Luetgert Says They Can't Drag Him to Trial Again at That Bar.

Chicago, Nov. 23.—"There are not enough guards in the United States to make me go before Judge Horton for trial. If I go to his courtroom it will be because they put me in chains and drag me there, as the soldiers dragged Hammond at Fort Sheridan. I shall never walk. I would rather put a rope around my neck and be hanged here in jail to-day than appear for trial before Horton. He would railroad me to the gallows."

Thus spoke Adolph L. Luetgert, charged with wife murder, whose case was set for retrial before Judge Oliver H. Horton, of the Circuit Court, yesterday.

Luetgert's counsel, Albert Phalen, was equally opposed to Judge Horton, and the attorneys for the prosecution have not consented to try the case before another judge. Unless an agreement is reached by 1 o'clock to-day, it is probable that the defence will ask for a change of venue.

Fourth-Class Postmasters Appointed.

Washington, Nov. 23.—Fifty-nine fourth-class postmasters were appointed yesterday. Among them were the following:

New York—Belfor, Lewis County, Hemon B. Covey; Cooper's Plains, Steuben, G. E. Dunklee; Ingleside, Steuben, Albert Presler; Prattsburg, Steuben, Henry J. Pinneo; Sciota, Clinton, P. A. Fesett; Truthville, Washington, John W. Bander.

New Jersey—Haleyville, Cumberland County, David McElwee.

Fatal Fire in Baltimore.

Baltimore, Md., Nov. 23.—Overheated pipes set fire to the woodwork in the furnace room of W. H. Scott's furniture warerooms on Howard street yesterday. Before the department could respond the adjoining dwellings caught fire, and soon half the block was ablaze.

The employes were hustled out quickly as possible, but one woman was overcome by the smoke and was burned to death. The total loss will reach $200,000, on which there is $106,000 insurance.

Mexican Oranges Coming.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 23.—It is estimated that over five hundred carloads of Mexican oranges will be exported to the United States in the next few weeks.

HAPPENINGS AMONG THE LOCAL FOOTBALL PLAYERS.

Games That are to be Played and Points About Teams and Individual Players That May Prove Interesting to Cranks.

Carl Walz and Morris Dumont, of this city, attended the Yale-Princeton football game at New Haven.

Harry L. McGee, of Orchard avenue, was among those who went to New Haven to witness the Yale-Princeton football game.

The second Alis football team, of this city, will play its final game of the season with the Dunellen team, on Thanksgiving Day.

Candidates for the Plainfield A. A. eleven will meet this evening and tomorrow evening on the Westervelt avenue grounds for practice.

D Kane and George Contrelli, of this city, went to New Haven for a short visit and attended the football game. From thence they went to Hartford and Boston.

Chas. Dupee, of this city, who is now playing fullback on the Yale freshmen eleven, received much commendation from all the critics who saw the games between the freshmen teams of Yale and Harvard, Saturday. His punting, tackling, running and line bucking were spoken of as being of the highest order, and it was said had he received the right support from the rest of the team the Yale team would have won.

The Westfield Club football team was to have played a game in the Journal League series with the Elizabeth Y. M. C. A. team on the North Broad street grounds, Westfield, Saturday afternoon, but just previous to the time for the Elizabeth team to arrive a message was received from its manager stating that Elizabeth did not wish to play, but would forfeit the game. This finishes the season for the Westfield Club team, and leaves it first in the Journal League series, without a single defeat.

The Lincoln football team, of Dunellen, composed partly of Plainfield boys, played a game with the Universals, of Westfield, on the North Broad street grounds, Westfield, Saturday afternoon. The teams were about evenly matched as to weight, but the Lincolns played in grand form and scored a touchdown after eight minutes of play. Phillips kicked goal. They kept the ball in Westfield's territory the rest of the first half, but were not able to score again. In the second half the Universals attempted to put on players of the Westfield Athletic Club team, the champions of The Journal League, but finally decided to keep on playing if allowed three of the large team. This made them much heavier. Birch, fullback of the first team, took the ball over the Lincoln's goal for a touchdown after six minutes of play. He failed at goal. It was dark but the referee ordered play. Richardson, right halfback for the Lincolns, was knocked out on the next play, and while time was being taken out the Universals fullback picked the ball up and made a touchdown. The referee (a Westfield man) ordered the ball to be brought out and put in play properly. There was a discussion as to where it should be placed, and the Universals repeated the trick. The referee called the game. Plainfield claimed the game by a score of 6 to 4 while Westfield claimed it 8 to 6. The referee was undecided, but finally gave the game to Westfield.

CYCLING COMMENT.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Additional locals on page 3.

—Wm. Claassen, the barber, of Park avenue, makes a specialty of ladies' and children's hair cutting.

—The drug stores in the city will be closed Thursday afternoon, Thanksgiving Day, from 1 to 6 o'clock.

—The Klondike supper of Class No. 1, Trinity Reformed church Sunday-school, will realize nearer $35 than $25, as previously reported.

—At Neuman Bros., the Watchung avenue grocers, can be found the choicest selection of table delicacies for the Thanksgiving dinner.

—Two lots were sold yesterday by E. M. French & Co., the real estate dealers and insurance agents. One in North Plainfield and the other on West Fourth street.

—Scheuer & Co., the popular grocers, are building up a big trade as a result of their low prices and fair treatment of customers. A glance over their advertisement in The Press will show the bargains any time.

GIBSON'S FRIENDS ACTIVE AGAIN.

They Prefer Charges Against Mt. Olive's Board of Trustees.

The trouble among the officers of Mt. Olive Baptist church over the case of the pastor, Rev. Philip S Gibson, broke out afresh last evening at the meeting of the deacons, held in the lecture room of the church.

A number of the church members, sympathizers with Mr. Gibson, appeared in the meeting and preferred charges against the present board of trustees. The charges were that the trustees had exercised their authority unduly in locking up the church and preventing worship therein. The incident referred to was the locking of the church a short time ago by the trustees to prevent the pastor from entering it to preach. The complainants asked the board of deacons to oust the trustees from office for this act.

No action was taken in the matter by the deacon's meeting.

Four Score and Two Years Old.

Yesterday afternoon occurred the death of Mrs. Mary Jane Vail, who for several years has been living with her grandson, Edward Vail, of Elmwood place, and where she died. She was eighty-two years old, and up to within a short time ago she was able to go about the house and enjoyed fairly good health. She was well known in this vicinity, where she has lived for years.

Long Suffering Ended.

The death of Mrs. Annie Elizabeth Warman, wife of Thomas E. Warman, occurred this morning at her home on Grove street. She had been for the past twenty years a great sufferer from asthma, and her death was not wholly unexpected. She was forty-seven years, nine months and twenty days old, and leaves a husband and two daughters, the Misses Helen and Bertha Warman.

Stepped in a Trolley Fender.

A horse, attached to one of William Hand & Son's trucks, stepped into the fender to a trolley car on Somerset street at the Green brook bridge this afternoon, and caused considerable trouble before it could be released.

To Eat Thanksgiving Dinner in Jail.

Isaac King, aged 25 years, was arrested as a vagrant by Marshal Campbell on Watchung avenue last evening, and this morning he was sent to Somerville for thirty days.

FAIR IN WASHINGTON HALL.

GIVEN BY DAUGHTERS OF AMERICA.

Large Hall Decorated in an Appropriate Manner—Those That Had Charge of the Booths.

The opening of the fair which is to be held in Washington Hall on West Second street every night this week by Martha Washington Council, Daughters of America, was well attended last evening. The hall was prettily decorated with streamers and flags of red, white and blue, and the various booths arranged about the sides presented a charming appearance.

The booths were in charge of the following: Groceries, Mrs Leonard Bond and Mrs. Fred Welch; candy, Mrs John King, Mrs. I. F. Riker and Miss Maud Kensie; soda water, Wm. Cleaves and John Hafner; fancy table, Mrs. Andrew Mattis, Mrs. S. J. Higgins and Miss Leona Johnson; ice cream, Mrs. Daniel Page and Mrs. William H. Smith; refreshment table, Mrs. Barton McComas, Mrs Joseph Randolph and Mrs. Henry Hoffman.

The most interest was shown by those present in the different contests for prizes which the council is offering. A lady's bicycle and a diamond ring are to be given to the lady who in each contest brings in the largest amount in cash subscriptions. A fine quilt will be awarded to the past councilor of Somerset Council, Jr. O. U. A. M., who shall receive the largest number of votes, and a large handsomely dressed doll will be awarded to the person who is fortunate enough to guess its name right. The doll was named by City Judge DeMeza, at the request of the council.

Excellent music was furnished throughout the evening by Naylor's orchestra of twelve pieces, and dancing was a popular part of the amusement enjoyed by those in attendance. The committee in charge of the dancing was Gilbert S Martin and G. Mattis. T. Z Kensie was in charge of the door, Fred Welch sold tickets, and the chairman of the general committee of arrangements was Mrs. James Radin.

A BOY MISSING FROM HOME.

Irving DeHart, aged 15 years, and son of Mr. and Mrs. Phillip DeHart, of 905 South Second street, has left home and his whereabouts cannot be ascertained. Yesterday morning Irving left his home at the usual hour to attend the High School. He was well dressed in a dark suit of clothes with knee pants, an overcoat of dark color and he wore a dark fedora hat. When he failed to put in an appearance at his home for dinner or at supper his parents became anxious and began to make inquiries about the lad. Mr and Mrs. DeHart then learned to their consternation that the boy had not been seen at school yesterday. They then went to Chief of Police Grant's office last evening and reported the case to him. He took a description of the boy and gave every assurance that the matter would be attended to at once.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Miss Elizabeth Allis, of West Fifth street, is able to be out again after a short illness.

Mr. and Mrs. Olive Newcome Elliot, of Nutley, Essex county, are rejoicing in the gift of a little boy, born Wednesday evening, of last week. The little fellow has been named Edwin Day, after Mr. Elliot's grandfather. Mrs. Elliot's maiden name was Miss Belle Bradshaw. She is a niece of Chief Engineer Doane, of this city.

Y. M. C. A. Notes.

A charge of 10 cents will be made to each member of the gymnasium course taking the elementary physical examinations, which are to be held the second week in December. In return for this fee those passing with a mark of 65 per cent. will be presented with a white triangle, the emblem of the association. Those passing with a mark of 75 per cent will receive in addition to the triangle, a certificate issued by the international committee, while those reaching an average of 85 per cent or over will receive the above mentioned articles and will be registered with the Athletic League of the Y. M. C. A. of North America.

A Bible class composed of gymnasium members only has been organized by Physical Director Heywood, and will meet with him in the Association building every Sunday afternoon at 5:15 o'clock, directly after the adjournment of the men's Sunday afternoon meeting. The subjects taken up are of a practical nature. Last Sunday at its first meeting the class considered "The leader and the man on the low pole."

CITIZENS NAME FULL WARD AND CITY TICKETS.

COMMITTEE OF FORTY SELECTED THE NAMES TO BE RATIFIED BY PUBLIC MEETING.

The Spirit of Non-Partisanship Prevailed—Second Ward Councilman to be Filled Today—Colored Voters Pledge Their Loyal Support to the Ticket.

The Committee of Forty of the Citizens' movement met last evening, and, with one exception, nominated full ward and city tickets to be submitted for ratification at the public meeting to be held this evening in Reform Hall.

Though the meeting was called for 8 o'clock, the members were rather slow in gathering and after their arrival there was more or less time wasted in casual talk and awaiting developments that would effect the situation and possibly direct them in a policy that would add strength to the names to be put in the field. It was nearly 9:30 when Chairman Hetfield called the gathering to order. The first act of the committee was to choose a secretary and John Angleman, of the First ward, was selected.

Chairman Hetfield briefly explained the purposes of the meeting and the nominations by wards were taken up immediately following. While in a few instances there were differences of opinion as to just what should be done there was no serious clashes and things moved along very harmoniously to the end.

The nominations in the First ward were unanimously made as follows: Councilman, Walter L. Hetfield; justice of the peace, Thomas Callahan; constable, Charles Dutcher.

When the Second ward was called for, William K. McClure, representing the ward committee, requested that the committee be empowered to fill the position today, as at that time it was impossible for them to decide on an available candidate—or at least on one whom they could depend upon to accept and make a vigorous fight for election. The request was granted. The other nominations were made as follows: Justice of the peace, J. E. Mosher; constable, Robert Mattox.

In arriving at a decision in the Third ward there was a lively discussion precipitated. Charles Burnett asked that the same motion prevail in reference to the Councilmanic selection as had been permitted in the Second ward.

John Hope, of the First ward, however, had a very different view. He was positive in the opinion that it was not a good policy to delay the nominations and he thought that if F. E Kinsman, whose name had been suggested for the nomination some minutes before in the preliminary remarks, was good enough to be used tomorrow (meaning today) it was just as good to use then. He did not believe in the policy of waiting to see what the Republicans were going to do. If Mr. Kinsman was in sympathy with the movement of the Citizens' and his name was favorably considered for the Councilmanic honor in the Third ward the time to put him in the field was right there.

After several of the committee had expressed themselves over the situation it was concluded to nominate Mr. Kinsman irrespective of what the result of the Republican primary was.

The nominations for the Third ward were then unanimously made as follows: Councilman, Frank E. Kinsman; justice of the peace, J. Oakley Nodyne; constable, Amos Moffett.

The Fourth ward nominations were unanimously made as follows: Councilmen, Henry Liefke, (two years), Elmore D. Moffett, (one year); justice of the peace, Jacob Kriney; constable, Albert Jaeger.

At this point in the proceedings of the meeting a dark cloud, figuratively speaking, appeared on the political horizon of the Committee of Forty and for the time being eclipsed the other work yet to be finished.

Arthur Venable and John Scott, as a committee coming from the meeting held in the Mt. Olive church Monday night, were given a hearing to present the attitude of the colored voters in the present campaign. Mr. Venable secured recognition and said he "'sposed dat de gemmen here had seen what de papers had publicked 'bout de meetin' dat was held in Mt. Olive church last nite," referring to the story in The Press that the colored voters had bolted the G. O. P. and were going to ask the Citizens to nominate one of their race for Councilman-at-Large.

Chairman Hetfield nodded assent.

"We's been gettin' nuthing but promises from de Republicans and we're gettin' putty tired of it," continued the colored spokesman, "an' now we wants to try de oder side. We been libin on promises for de las' twenty-eight and twenty-nine years, bu 'taint such libin' as we can get 'long on, gemmen. We come togeder, gemmen, in Mt. Olive Baptist church las' night and we decided to try to do 'way wid dem dat's been treatin' us dis way. We want to try de oder side, gemmen, and if you stick by us we'll stick by you. Gemmen, we's goin' to support you dis year no mattah what happens to us. Mr. Mayor Fisk he promises us eberything las' year. Tell us he's our frien' and dat anything we want jest call on him. Well, gemmens, I didn't think he'd fall from his word so soon. Gemmen, if you think it proper to do by us de right thing we're goin' to do de right thing by you. We're goin' to support de Citizens' ticket, and dat's a sure thing."

John Scott then got the floor and he sailed into the Mayor with verbal brickbats of large size. He claimed that the Mayor had promised them they would not be hindered in their work of collecting garbage and ashes, but that just as soon as the Republicans got into office Scott said they were prevented from doing business because they were prohibited from dumping the refuse in the city limits. When they went to the Mayor and reminded him of his ante-election declaration of friendship for the colored man he innocently claimed that he wasn't to blame for the restriction of dumping ashes. But Mr. Scott held him virtually responsible.

"All dat we want," exclaimed Scott, "is to libe and let libe, dat's our principles. De Republicans, dey take way our business and all dat we kin do in de winter is to stand 'round de streets now. We kin libe in de summer all right, but in de winter we de pend on the cullecshun of ashes to make a libing out of. And de Republicans deprive us ub our rights. Now, gemmen, all we wants is fair play; you treat us right and we'll do de right thing by you. We're tired of dis Republican business. If you gemmen see fit to nominate Mr. Richard Randolph, who was chosen as de delegate on de Citizens' ticket at de meeting of de cullid voters, den we's goin' to do our best for you. But whatever happens we's goin' to support de Citizens' ticket."

Chairman Hetfield explained to the colored representatives that it seemed as though they had come at a rather late day to ask for representation on the ticket, as the committee had already conferred and decided on the candidates to be named. The majority of them had already been selected when the colored men appeared on the scene, and now to nominate a colored man would necessitate that the conferences be held over again. He could assure them, however, that for one, if he was elected to the Council, he should consider it his duty to restore to them any rights that they had been deprived of by the Republicans. The Citizens, he declared, believed in equal rights for all.

The statement was satisfactory to Messrs. Venable and Scott and they stated that the colored voters would support the Citizens' ticket.

The nominations for the city at large were unanimously made as follows: For City Treasurer, William Thompson; for members of the Board of Freeholders, Vincent L. Frazee and Jeremiah Manning; for Councilmen-at-Large, James P. Homan, James C. Manning and Joseph C. Blimm; for member of the Board of Education, Otto Ahrens.

The committee then adjourned.

The nominations will be presented to the public meeting this evening, and it is expected that a large concourse of voters will be present in Reform Hall to give the stamp of popular approval to the selections.

Grand Masquerade Ball Tonight.

Tonight at the Crescent Rink takes place the third grand masquerade ball of the Twilight Social Club. The committee, composed of F. S. Moore, E. C. Searing, Theodore Smith and Louis Feiring, have made great preparations to make it a success, and from present indications their efforts will prove successful. Those in charge are not novices in such affairs; they have always furnished everything in a style befitting the occasion. The music is one of the most important accessories of the dances given by the Twilights, and it will be furnished by Rogers' full orchestra. 'Nuf ced.

UNITY OF GERMAN STATES.

PROF. WHEFLER'S HISTORICAL TALK.

One of the Most Interesting of the Series of University Extension Lectures.

"German Unity" was the subject upon which Prof. Wheeler, of Yale, spoke at the University Extension lecture, given in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue Presbyterian church last night.

Prof. Wheeler explained clearly the gradual formation of the longing for unity among the German States, the early steps in that direction—the Act of Confederation of 1815, and the calling together of a representative body, chosen by the people, by Frederick William IV—and the fact that when, at the death of Frederick VII, of Denmark, the Scheleswig-Holstein trouble began, Prussia and Austria were the rival powers of Germany. In the conflict which followed, Austria was shut out from Germany, leaving Prussia without a rival, and later, in the Franco-Prussian war, the astonishing success of the German armies created such National pride that all the States became anxious for union. The German Confederation was formed, with William, of Prussia, as President, but he was soon given the title of German Emperor, and Germany became a constitutional empire.

Prof. Weeeler made frequent and enthusiastic mention of Prince Otto Von Bismarck, the great Prime Minister, who early saw the danger to unity which lay in the power of Austria, and who used the whole force of his genius and statesmanship to further the varification of his fatherland. Prof. Wheeler told briefly the life history of this remarkable man, and showed how his appearance at the head of Prussian affairs marked an epoch in history, and how his policies have shaped German affairs.

TEA AND TEST SOCIAL.

Guests Were Put to Their Best Wits for Good Answers.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church held a very enjoyable and novel social in the church parlors last evening It was called a "Tea and Test Social," and proved to be a good fun-maker. Small cards, in colors of white and green, were given to each one as they arrived. The colors were symbolical of the tea plant, and on the back was printed a list of twenty conundrums, opposite which were left blank spaces to be filled by the holder of the card. Each answer contained an emphasis of the letter "T," which conveyed the idea of the scheme. This part of the programme was conducted by Frank Clarkson, of the committee. After each person had filled out their card they exchanged with some other person, and when the time was up Mr Clarkson questioned those present for the answers to the questions.

Following this enjoyable feature, Joseph M. Hawkins took charge and conducted a progressive spelling match. All joined in this pleasant pastime until the rounds had been made. There were several who remained until the last and the teacher was unable to continue the match longer as the hour was getting late.

The last feature was the serving of refreshments by the following committee in charge of the social: Frank Clarkson, chairman; Miss Helen Cuming, Miss Elizabeth VanWinkle, Miss Henrietta Cuming, Miss Lizzie Livezey, H. E. Rider and Arthur Heath.

A THIRTEEN SOCIABLE.

Ladies' Aid Society is Not Superstitious of the Number.

A "Thirteen" sociable will be given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. church in Vincent chapel Friday evening. The affair, as planned, will excel any of the wonderful entertainments given by the famous "Thirteen Club" of New York. The programme will begin at thirteen minutes past eight o'clock. The programme will consist of thirteen members and everybody will be charged thirteen cents to see it. After the programme, ice cream and cake will be served by thirteen waitresses for thirteen cents a plate. They wanted to have thirteen different kinds of ice cream but it would not work. There will be thirteen kinds of cake, however. It is expected that thirteen hundred people will be present.

STANDING OF HIGH SCHOOL.

STUDENTS RECOGNIZED BY WORK.

Graduates Enter Colleges Without Examination and Capture Prizes—Scholarship Given by N. Y. University.

The high standing of the High School and its thorough work shown by the following items seem to indicate that it is one of the best fitting schools to be found for a boy or girl intending to go to college.

Out of the large number of girls admitted this fall to Barnard College, the annex of Columbia, only sixteen were admitted free of condition and among that number was the only girl sent by the Plainfield High School, Miss Sarah Edwards Schuyler.

November 15th the executive committee of New York University placed the Plainfield High School on the list of schools holding "Preparatory School Scholarships." This entitles the school to assign to one of its graduates each year a prize of $400, which covers the tuition for four years at the university.

News has just been received that Lewis Squires, of the Plainfield High School, '97, now at Williams' College, has taken a prize worth $200 for the best entrance examination for that college. This is the second time within four years that one of our graduates has taken the prize for the best entrance examination at college.

KNOCKING DOWN THE PINS.

Bowling Interest at the Park Club is Paramount.

The bowling faction at the Park Club are determined that this season shall be a lively one. The committee in charge have arranged for trophies for the highest score and for the greatest number of 200 scores made during the season. At present F. H Ball holds the highest score, 224. There is bowling every night on the alleys and an individual tournament has started with twenty entries. Every Tuesday and Saturday night there will be special features when the lady friends of the club will grace the clubhouse with their presence. Last evening was the first in this series, and the women were present in large numbers. They amused themselves playing cards, while the male portion spent their time on the bowling alleys. During the evening refreshments were served.

In the contest for the greatest number of 200 scores on the alleys, there are four who hold the record to date. They are F. H. Ball, William Townsend, W. A. Roome, Jr., and F. O. Ball. It is likely that The Journal League series will be started Thursday evening, December 2d. The first game to be played by the Parks will take place Friday evening, December 3d, in this city. Their opponents have not yet been announced. The complete schedule will be out in a few days and will be published in The Daily Press, where all matters of interest to bowlers will be found during the season.

MONDAYS FOR WHIST.

All Members of the Park Club Will Have a Chance at the Game.

Now that the whist players of the Park Club have carried off all the honors obtainable in the State, the club members are taking much interest in the game. The whist committee has decided to give the rest a chance, and so beginning with next Monday evening every Monday evening will be devoted to the game, of which all the male members of the club can take advantage of if they feel inclined There are already many good players in the club, and the plan of the committee is that there are others who would be glad to improve their game by coming in contact with those who have had the benefit of longer practice. The club will issue invitations, good for two months, to a limited number of players outside the membership, so any member who has an outside friend with whom he would like to play as partner, can hand his name to the committee and a card of admission will be issued. The committee consists of George T. Rogers, Joseph H. Howell, Samuel Townsend and Arthur F. Freeman.

The committee hope to find some new material who will eventually take the places of the present whist four that has so successfully defended the name of the Park Club in the whistic arena.

No Important Charge Made.

Alex Thorn, Robert Carson and John P. Emmons, Commissioners of Appeal of the borough, met yesterday afternoon and treated with fifty cases of property-owners who thought that they were unequally assessed. There were no important changes made in the assessments, and when the work was completed everyone seemed to be generally satisfied.

BARROWS WON A VICTORY FOR RENOMINATION.

IT WAS THE BIGGEST REPUBLICAN PRIMARY EVER HELD IN THE THIRD WARD.

F. E. Kinsman and D. W Littell Were the Opposing Candidates—Took Three Hours to Decide the Result—The Other Wards Were Perfectly Harmonious.

FIRST WARD.

The Republicans of the First ward held a very harmonious primary in the headquarters of the Republican Association, on East Front street, last evening. The attendance was fairly large, but no exception was taken to any motion put forward, and no ballot of the voters was necessary to complete the nominations, as in each case the secretary was instructed to cast the ballot for the meeting. The primary was called to order a few minutes after 8 o'clock. Former Assemblyman W. R. Codington was elected chairman; J. B. Coward, secretary; H. C. VanEmburg, judge; and J. F. Buckle and H. C. Corsee, inspectors. The following nominations were then made: Delegates to the city convention, Louis M. Dunavan, Dennis Carney, Harry McDonald, John Rowland, Herbert Templin, J. K. Large, Wm. Jukes and H. C. Newman; for member of Common Council, Ralph I Tolles was renominated. Members of the city executive committee were appointed as follows: C. J. Newman, J. B. Coward and W. R Codington. For Justice of the Peace, Dennis Carney was nominated, and for constable, Henry C. Corsee. The delegates to the city convention were empowered to fill any vacancies which might occur in their number.

SECOND WARD.

In the Second ward there was a "love feast" and the machine worked like a charm. Not one bit of opposition was shown to the "regulars." The meeting was called to order by Rufus K. Case, who served as chairman, and William F. Arnold was the secretary. The secretary cast the ballot for the following persons who were the choice of the primary: Delegates to city convention, S. A. Ginna, G. H. Goddard, Charles S. Foote, Robert Guttridge, Louis Croom, R. D. Jackson, Joseph Sattels; for members of city executive committee, William H Drayton, John E. Keeley, William N. Runyon; for Justice of the Peace, J E. Mosher; for constable, W. R. Mattox. George H. Frost, the present Councilman, was the unanimous choice of the primary for a renomination. There were about one hundred citizens present. The tellers were William F. Drayton and George H. Goddard.

THIRD WARD.

There were two marked peculiarities about the Republican primary in the Third ward, held in the Casino of the Union County Country Club last evening. The Kinsman scheme of primary balloting was used for the first time and proved to be successful as far as giving the voters a chance to make nominations independent of any one faction; and then the "rooters" won an overwhelming victory for their candidate, Councilman Elliot T. Barrows, as the Republican nominee for the Council, that surprised all, including themselves.

The primary was a record breaker as far as attendance was concerned. Republican voters numbering 219 appeared at the appointed hour, the largest number that ever assembled in the Third ward. All three factions were ready for the fray. There was a marked absence of most of the colored men of the ward. Each faction had its workers on deck and there was considerable buttonholing before the primary was called to order. It was a very orderly gathering, however, and all the contest there was was fought out silently at the polls.

The meeting was called to order by Assemblyman-elect Roger F. Murray, of the city executive committee. Mayor Charles J. Fisk was made chairman and O. B. Leonard secretary. Mayor Fisk made a short speech in which he said that any contest that there was in the party should be fought out at the primary and then all should unite to support the ticket that was nominated. The secretary read the call of the meeting. The chairman appointed the following officers of the primary: Judge, F. E. Marsh; inspector, Councilman John T. Baker; clerk, J. Caspar Kirkner.

G. W. V. Moy suggested that Mr. Kinsman be allowed to give an explanation of his scheme for primary balloting. Mr. Kinsman came to the front and made a short address in which he said that the eyes of the voters all over the country were on the primary to see the success of this attempted reform to allow each voter to show his preference without influence. He told that 500 preference ballots had been sent out and that 127 had been received. Others had been received too late to be added. The plan, he said, had needed more time to make it fully successful. As it was, he continued, it was considered a success by the committee.

A committee composed of J. W. Murray, F. H. Andrews, and J. Frank Hubbard, was appointed to fill vacancies in the ticket, and the delegation to the city convention was instructed to fill any vacancies in its own number.

Jacob Kirkner made a few remarks on the situation. He said that he understood that there was quite a strife in the party and that it was in danger of a split. He spoke of F. E. Kinsman as a candidate acceptable to the Citizens' movement as well as to the Republicans. Having lived long in the city and being thoroughly conversant with its needs, he recommended that the nominee from the ward be someone with experience in practical lines. There should be one in the Council with a thorough knowledge of electrical affairs and competent on franchises. Mr. Kinsman was all this, he explained, and was willing to give a portion of his time to the city if put in such a position. The city, he went on to say, had had some experience with people in the Council who did not have experience. He referred particularly, he said, to the sewer beds. He spoke of Mr. Frost's claims that the sewer beds would be utterly free from odors and declared that at present the beds were certainly very offensive.

As there was no one named for Justice of the Peace, D. W. Little presented the name of John Naegle. The polls were then opened and the voters lined up. As each man voted, he gave his name and address and his ballot was deposited in a box. The polls were kept open for half an hour and then the work of counting the votes was begun. A regular tally-sheet was kept and it was 11 o'clock before the last ballot was counted. From the start, it appeared that Mr. Barrows was in the lead for the Councilmanic nomination and he was never headed.

The vote was as follows: For one member of the Common Council; Elliot T. Barrows, 138; Frank E. Kinsman, 37; D. W. Littell, 42.

For Justice of the Peace: John Naegle, 64; J. Oakley Nodyne, 8; E. R. Ackerman, 1.

For Constable: J. Caspar Kirkner, 120; Amos Moffett, 81.

For seven delegates to the city convention: W. H. Rogers, 203; E R. Ackerman, 174; F. H. Andrews, 169; Robert Rushmore, 166; T. J. F. R. Doane, 147; John Cose, 130; F. G. Linn, 121; B. F. Coriell, 80; F. M. Dunham, 62; N. Y. Hull, 53; E. E. Runyon, 49; G. E. Firstbrook, 42; F. E. Marsh, 33; D. E. Titsworth, 32; George W. Rockfellow, 27; C. Woodcock, 15; S. C. Baker, 2; George T. Odiorne, 1.

For three members of the city executive committee: R. F. Murray, 217; W. T. Kirk, 212; F. E. Marsh, 209; Rev. A. H. Lewis, 2; G. W. V. Moy, 1; F. A. Pope, 1; Gen. Negley, 1; E. R. Ackerman, 1; W. H. Rogers, 1; S. C. Baker, 1; Henry Bushnell, 1.

After the result of the primary was announced, the few that had remained through the count adjourned. There was considerable satisfaction expressed by the "roosters" at the easy victory of their candidate and considering the fact that nearly one-half of the Republican voters in the ward turned out, they consider the outlook for the city election very bright.

FOURTH WARD.

It required about five minutes by the watch to transact the necessary business at the Fourth ward primary last evening for there was no opposition to the slate arranged. City Judge DeMeza was made chairman of the meeting after it was called to order by William Newcorn, of the executive committee, and the latter was selected as secretary. The tellers appointed were William Claassen and W. B. Ayers. The following delegates to the city convention were appointed: James Anderson, H. C. Runyon, Edward Galbraith, James Stewart, Albert Demarest, Henry Vogel, John Kavanagh, James Huntington, Charles Foster, George DeMeza and Frank Nelson. The members of the city executive committee elected were W. A. Westphal, William Newcorn and Alonzo T. Ayers. The choice of those present for the ward officers were: Councilmen, two years, W. A. Westphal; one year,

GAGE ON THE CURRERCY

Speaks of Needed Reforms Befor the Chamber of Commerce.

BANQUET A GREAT SUCCES!

New York's Leading Merchants and Fi nanciers Were at the Table—Held a the New Delmonico's—Gov. Black Say New York Hasn't Enough of Push.

New York, Nov. 24.—With all the fes tivities due to the occasion and char acteristics of the institution, the Cham ber of Commerce of the State of Nev York celebrated its 128th anniversar; last night in the new Delmonico ban quet room. Numerically it was th largest banquet ever held by the insti tution, nearly 500 persons being pres ent, among them the Governor of th State, the Mayor of the city, and tw Cabinet officers. For two hours th guests ate, drank and were merry, an after that they listened to speeches o various subjects of moment by me specially qualified and specially invite to speak on those subjects.

The eight tables at which the mem bers and guests were seated complete ly filled the big gold and old rose ban quet room, which for the first time wa thrown open to a banquet. The dec orations of the tables were of crimso meteor roses and pink bridesmaid roses, except in the case of the Presi dent's table, which was decorated witl ferns, orchids and American Beauty roses. At each plate was a menu card showing a symbolical engraving. Over the gold-lettered "Nineteenth Annua

SECRETARY GAGE.

Banquet of the Chamber of Commerce' two female figures, murally crowned joined hands, typifying the union of New York and Brooklyn, while under neath were seen the liner St Louis and the famous locomotive No. 999.

In the orchestra gallery sat a number of ladies, among them the wife and daughter of Secretary Wilson, of the Chamber of Commerce, and the wife and daughter of Rear Admiral Erben Father Ducey and Dr. Chauncey M. Depew also wandered into the gallery during the proceedings, and was followed by John Jacob Astor, who is a member of the Chamber.

Alexander E. Orr, the president of the Chamber, presided. Lyman J. Gage, the Secretary of the Treasury, was the chief speaker and guest of honor. He discussed the financial situation. Mr. Gage said, in part:

"The text to which I was called to speak is thus stated: 'Currency Reform—Now or When?' By implication I am absolved from all obligation to discuss the 'how,' or to go into details of methods to achieve currency reform. This is a great relief to me for two reasons:

"First, it might be injudicious to anticipate here and now what it will be my official duty to set forth a little later on.

"Second, it would be to enter at once the field of greatest controversy, where doubts and fears are most numerous, and where passions and prejudices have their freest play.

"Every one favors reform—his kind of reform. Many are willing to have reform, anybody's kind, if it can be had without struggle and free of cost. Others, seeing that the path of virtue leads to serene and restful plains, are willing to walk in the way of it, even at the cost of present pain and sacrifice.

"Others tell us: 'You shall not contract the currency, nor shall you permit any substitution in the form of bank notes.' With all these limitations, restrictions, and impossible conditions, they respectfully submit that they 'favor' reform.

"These people ought to inform us as to which of the two is the higher wisdom. To avail ourselves of conditions favorable to the highest credit and lowest interest to put our financial house in order, or to wait until another period shall come, when, as in the unhappy days of 1860-'65, we may be forced to face dishonor or to recover ourselves at double interest upon obligations realizing to our Treasury only 60—or 40—per cent. of the face of the contract.

"In a word, I commit myself to the following proposition: At a cost too contemptible for serious consideration, the debatable condition of our currency and banking system may be put upon clearly safe, if not theoretically scientific foundations. This may be secured without any necessary contraction of the circulating medium of exchange, and with no danger of an undue expansion, and, best of all, this desirable end may carry in its effect potential relief to those districts in the South and West, which, though rich in possibilities of soil and climate, have been held back through the absence of banking capital and credit facilities."

Gov. Black responded to the toast "The State of New York." Among other things he said:

"The commerce of New York has been larger than that of all the other ports in this country combined. It has been and is the foundation of her prosperity and greatness. She can with less effort than any other city control the traffic coming from the land and from the sea. And yet, with a magnificent harbor, with a population steadily increasing, she has sat here surrounded by railroads and rivers and the ocean and seen the main source of her power and her glory constantly decline.

"There was a time when nearly seven-tenths of the imports and exports of this country were handled in New York. That has gradually diminished, until now it is scarcely half. During thirty years last preceding 1896 the foreign commerce of New York shrunk from 59 to 51 per cent., while Boston, with a smaller harbor, with no rivers or canals, has during the same period doubled hers. There may be other reasons for this unfavorable comparison, but this at least is one. Boston has done her best, and New York has not. And it has often happened in the world that in time the best efforts of the weak surpass the indifferent efforts of the strong."

Gov. Black was followed by Major-Gen. Wesley Merritt, who took the place of Major-Gen. Nelson A. Miles, who was unable to be present, in responding to the toast, "The Army."

"The Navy" was responded to by Commodore Francis M. Bunce.

Mayor Strong discussed "The Duties and Obligations of a Citizen of New York."

President Daniel C. Gilman, of Johns Hopkins University, was the last speaker. His subject was "Commerce, the Child of Science, and its Filial Supporter."

The dinner wound up with a toast to Mr. Delmonico.

Among the other guests present were Russell A. Alger, Secretary of War; Gov. Black, Mayor Strong, Mayor-elect Van Wyck, Gen. Nelson A. Miles, President Daniel G. Gilman of Johns Hopkins University, President Seth Low of Columbia University, Carl Schurz, Samuel D. Babcock and Henry E. Howland.

The Committee of Arrangements spared no effort to make the dinner surpass all previous affairs of the Chamber in interest, and they were aided in every possible way by George Wilson, the secretary of the Chamber.

Among the members of the Chamber of Commerce who were present were John Jacob Astor, George F. Baker, August Belmont, Calvin S. Brice, Vernon H. Brown, John Claflin, Henry Clews, William P. Clyde, James B. Colgate, S. V. R. Cruger, Chauncey M. Depew, William E. Dodge, and many others.

BRYAN PLAYS FOOTBALL.

Late Presidential Candidate Starts a Game in Missouri.

Columbia, Mo., Nov. 24.—William J. Bryan, late Presidential candidate, appeared in Columbia in an altogether new role. Mr. Bryan participated in his first game of football. Clad in a striped old-gold and black sweater, the erstwhile Presidential candidate appeared on the athletic field of the Missouri University and took part in the game. It was a practice game between the 'Varsity and the Alumni teams, and Mr. Bryan had been persuaded to go to the field by the college boys. Once on the field, it was suggested that the distinguished guest take part in the game.

At the solicitation of Capt. Hill and Coach Young, Mr. Bryan consented to kick off for the Alumni. Capt. Hill offered the Nebraskan his sweater, which was pulled on amid a deafening college yell. Mr. Bryan strode on the field. The ball was placed in position, and, after a few rehearsals, Mr. Bryan planted his No. 10 fairly and squarely under the sphere and the ball went sailing down the field for forty yards. Mr. Bryan retired to the side lines and watched the scrimmage, continuing to wear the sweater during the game. He was much impressed with the play and said that, while it was not played in his college days, he was certain that he would have been on a team had he been given a chance.

BIG VENEZUELAN CONCESSIONS.

Gov. Pingree's Grant Cost $250,000 and is Worth $20,000,000.

Cleveland, Nov. 24.—Dr. S. C. Bothwell, of this city, who has spent most of the last thirty-five years in Venezuela, is authority for the statement that before the week is over there will be incorporated under the laws of New Jersey or Ohio a stock company to be known as the Piriza Railway and Commerce Company. The concern has obtained concessions of territory from Venezuela as large as the State of Ohio. The company is composed of Cleveland and Eastern capitalists and will develop the asphalt mines of Venezuela.

Dr. Bothwell also says that Gov. Pingree of Michigan obtained a grant of the Rio Limon tract of land, embracing a lately discovered asphalt mine, and that the deal was made only after the Michigan man had planked down $250,000 spot cash and had promised to improve the Rio Limon and make it navigable. The grant conceded to Gov. Pingree is reported to be worth $20,000,000.

Three Killed, Two Wounded.

Columbia, S. C., Nov. 24.—Word comes from Batesburg, Edgefield County, that three men were killed and two others wounded there Monday night in a fight among negroes. The men were playing the game of "skin," and the quarrel arose over the possession of something less than a quarter. Several arrests have been made.

Judge Gary to Try Luetgert.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—Judge Joseph E. Gary has been selected to preside at Adolph L. Luetgert's second trial for murder.

The Law of Health.

A Girl Who Broke It To Her Sorrow.

She was a young woman, and she had broken the law; she did not know it, but that did not save her. Candy eating was her crime. Her stomach and bowels were deranged. Her blood almost water. The doctors said she must cease eating candy and begin taking iron, but she could not take the iron which they gave her. It upset her stomach and disagreed with her generally. She heard of Capsuloids and took on with each meal, and dropped all other medicine. They cured her. They cured her absolutely. Capsuloids contain the only natural iron medicine ever yet offered to mankind. It is absolutely non-irritating, and agrees with the weakest stomach.

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per large box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price by the Capsuloid Company, Downing Building, 108 Fulton Street, New York.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. How to Cure Bilious Colic.

I suffered for weeks with colic and pains in my stomach caused by biliousness and had to take medicine all the while until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhœa Remedy which cured me. I have since recommended it to a good many people. Mrs. F. Butler, Fairhaven, Conn. Persons who are subject to bilious colic can ward off the attack by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms appear. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner North and Park avenues.

Mrs. Wallace, of the West End, who has been in Scotland for several months, has returned to her home.

The Greatest Discovery Yet.

W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

—The North Plainfield Public High School will be closed the latter part of this week.

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has Lame Back and Weak Kidneys, Malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to the Liver and Kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures Constipation, Headache, Fainting Spells, Sleeplessness and Melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

HYPNOTISM IN A DIVORCE CASE.

Strange Influence Exercised by Husband Over His Wife.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Hypnotism pervades a divorce suit pending here between Elizabeth Smiley and Charles W. Smiley, the suit probably being the strangest ever filed in the District of Columbia.

Mr. Smiley, the defendant, is a publisher of this city, a man of means, who came from New England. He has lived in Washington for the past eight or ten years. He was married to the plaintiff on April 27, 1893.

Mrs. Smiley, in her bill, alleges that she and her husband are first cousins, and declares that some time previous to their mariage her husband "inoculated her with ideas not in accordance with modern civilization, and that such was the influence he gained over her mind and will that she saw things only in the light in which he presented them to her, rarely exercising her own judgment. So much was this so that she would put in writing requests to him to do many things utterly at variance with common sense, and admissions as to her conduct, which, based on his requirements, would seem bad, but which, judged by the standard that she is now advised ordinarily governs marital relations, would have no such significance. He said her conduct unfitted him for business, and thereby he failed to make as much money as he otherwise would."

She further avers "that he has made her married life one continual self-effacement and abnegation and bending to his will, and she has been made to believe it to be her duty to yield to the slightest wish of an arbitrary and exacting self-appointed judge and master. She must not move if he desired her to be still, or speak if he wanted silence, or obtrude her presence even at meals unless he requested it, the mental pain and anguish she has suffered by reason of his cruelty in this respect being heightened by reason of his false teaching. She thought she deserved such treatment in order to become worthy to move on the same high plane on which he has led her to believe he moves."

The petitioner also asserts that he "made out a list of petty offenses against her, which she still has, for which she should pay fines varying from 5 cents to $1, requiring her to agree to pay the same cheerfully and without appeal or argument as to the right or wrong thereof."

Mrs. Smiley says that about March 17, 1896, he took for her a house in Linden, Md., where she has since lived. He came out occasionally to see her, but has lately forbid her to come to her home in this city "because her presence disturbed the atmosphere in which it was necessary for him to live." Smiley is publisher of the American Monthly Microscopic Journal and the Microscope.

MADE $50,000,000 IN THE KLONDIKE

Patrick Galvin, Who Went to Alaska Poor, Is Now a Croesus.

Philadelphia, Nov. 23.—A man whose partner made $25,000,000 out of the Klondike gold fields, and who is credited with having made twice as much himself, is in this city. His name is Patrick Galvin. One year and six months ago he was a poor man. He now ranks among the multi-millionaire kings, not only of the United States, but of the world. He is here on business, and has been spending much of his time in the East. He came to this city to have a very small amount of his gold dust turned into coin. He is stopping at the Hotel Walton.

He appeared at the Philadelphia Mint Monday morning and was received by Superintendent Kretz. Mr. Galvin said that he was a little short of money, and that he had some gold which he had dug out of the Klondike mines, and added that he wished it turned into money as soon as possible.

His gold was dust, nuggets, and in a granulated condition. It weighed in the neighborhood of five hundred ounces and proved to be of the finest quality. Its value was estimated, and Cashier Murphy was authorized to pay $4,018.51 to Mr. Galvin. While all this was taking place the Klondike millionaire was closeted with the superintendent in his private office.

Mr. Galvin said he had been a newspaper man, had worked on papers in the West, and shortly before going to Klondike was engaged in an editorial capacity on the Helena Independent, the largest paper in Montana. Over four years ago he went to Alaska and settled in Forty Mile, a city a little less than one hundred miles distant from what is now Dawson City. There he took up the hardware business and remained until the gold craze struck the country a little over a year ago.

He sold out his business at once, and with what small capital he could gather started for the gold fields. His wife was with him, and they made the trip together. At that time he had no partner, but went with a party of nine prospectors from Forty Mile. Mrs. Galvin was the first woman to enter the gold fields.

"Claim 39, out of which I made the most money, I paid $10,000 for," said Mr. Galvin. "During the past six months I have taken out gold which I value at over one hundred times that amount. I am now in the possession of many claims, and have working under me between six and seven hundred men. Not one of them receives less than $15 per day, and the bosses receive $25. I had a partner. I recently bought him out. Two years ago I loaned him enough to buy a stove. He is now worth $25,000,000. Any man can go to Klondike and make a living. No man should go, however, with less than $1,200, for he has to take his own provisions with him. Dawson City now numbers over ten thousand inhabitants. It has a theatre, a church, and a number of large stores. I own a store there which cost $200,000. It is built of logs, and is forty-eight feet wide and twice as long. It is not very beautiful to look at, but it is very warm and comfortable. In a few weeks I am going with my sister and wife to County Derry, Ireland, where my parents live. I have not seen them for twenty-five years. I am going to make them comfortable for life.

"When I return I am going to Klondike again, and expect to reach there about the middle of May."

Mr. Galvin is a thin, wiry man, about 5 feet 10 inches in height. He weighs about 140 pounds. He has thin, gray hair, and a kind face. He wears glasses, and was attired in a complete suit of black. He looks more like a well-to-do minister than a gold miner.

RAISING WAGES IN OHIO.

Three Thousand Men to Get an Increase in Youngstown.

Youngstown, Ohio, Nov. 24.—The Bessemer Limestone Company, Carbon Limestone Company and other large limestone operators in Mahoning Valley have posted notice of an advance in wages of 20 per cent., taking effect Dec. 1. The advance will affect 3,000 men, and is due to all the blast furnaces being in operation.

2,000 Miners Get Higher Pay.

Iron Mountain, Mich., Nov. 24.—The Chapin Mining Company, the Powabic Company, the Antoine Ore Company, the Aragon Ore Company and the Pennsylvania Iron Mining Company have announed a 10 per cent. increase in wages, to take effect Jan. 1. The increase affects more than two thousand men.

There is a shortage of men at all of the mines. The mines will be worked steadily throughout the Winter.

Japanese Laborers for Mexico.

City of Mexico, Nov. 24.—Application has just been made to the Mexican Government by a syndicate of Ceylon coffee planters, who have acquired a large tract of coffee land in this country, for permission to import several thousand Japanese laborers to work on the plantation here. The Japanese Minister to Mexico favors the project, and, if the experiment is satisfactory, there will be a considerable influx of Japanese laborers to this country.

VICTORY FOR MACHINE.

The Republicans who are dissatisfied with the prevailing regime in city affairs and sought to reform the party within its own ranks have signally failed of accomplishing that end if the results of the ward primaries are an evidence. In all but the Third ward the men who stand for the same ideas as now in official force were victorious without being put to the trouble of making any sort of fight against the opposition. In the Third ward those who believe that there should be a change in the policy of administering city government had centered their strength, but they were outvoted in sufficient numbers to stamp them as a small minority. In the Fourth ward the Republicans made a pretense of catering to the independent vote by nominating Henry Leifke—one of the prime movers in the Citizens' movement—as a one-year Councilman. Mr. Leifke declares that it is a shallow trick devised to scatter the opposition which the Republicans have encountered in the Fourth ward, and that in no manner is he in sympathy with tendencies of the men who are trying to work both ends. The fact that he was nominated for a two-year term by the Citizens' puts the Republican move to a disadvantage that may not accomplish what it was intended for.

Now that the issues are defined by the popular knowledge of what the candidates represent it remains to be seen whether the dissatisfied Republicans will accept the edict as gained by party organization or whether they will break away and support the Citizens' ticket.

ORGANIZATION NEEDED.

The action of the Committee of Forty last night in naming a full ticket, which will probably be endorsed by the public meeting this evening, gives the citizens something to fight for now. So far there has been a material lacking of what might be called a head or tail to the movement. If the good points of the candidates are to be made to tell forcibly there must be organization that will work speedily and effectively in presenting their side to voters. There is plenty of spontaneous enthusiasm for the movement if it is directed in the right channel, but if left to exert itself without any exact arrangement of ideas the strength will be dispelled by the thorough organization of the Republicans, who will then ride into victory on a good majority.

Rev. Solomon Parsons, who died at his home in Paterson Sunday, was one of the prominent and active figures in the Prohibition party in New Jersey. Early in the history of the prohibition movement in this country Mr. Parson exposed its cause. He was the first member of that party to be nominated for Governor of New Jersey. That was fourteen years ago. Distinguished in appearance, he was also an eloquent speaker and a man of great energy and strong convictions.

DON'T WANT TO PAY DOG TAX.

Principal Complaints Received by Commissioners of Appeal.

Between the hours 2 and 7 o'clock yesterday afternoon and evening the Commissioners of Appeal, consisting of J. B. Coward, August Saltzman and Armstrong Mulford, met in the Council rooms for the purpose of treating with all property-owners who considered the assessment on the real or personal property unjust. There were about seventy-five property-owners who appeared before the commissioners, and each case was treated fairly and with evident satisfaction. The greatest kick seemed to be against the dog tax, and many of those objecting claimed that they do not own dogs. One man claimed this and one of the commissioners said that he knew the man owned a dog for he had an encounter with him when he called at the house not long ago. There were no serious grievances laid before the commissioners.

SCOTCH PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Miss Mattie Brown has returned to her home in Cranford after a visit with relatives in Fanwood.

Fanwood Council, No. 744, Royal Arcanum, held an interesting meeting in its council room last evening.

A concert for the benefit of the Christmas tree fund was given in the Scotch Plains Baptist church last evening. The musical part of the programme was furnished by Allen's band, of twenty pieces, from Cranford.

Goodwill Lodge, No. 101, Knights of Pythias, will hold an entertainment in Scotch Plains tonight. The committee in charge will be John Hand, Charles France and Charles Francisco. Music will be furnished by Guttman's band.

No Thanksgiving Day services will be held in Scotch Plains tomorrow. In years past it has always been customary for the three churches of the place to unite and hold a union Thanksgiving service in the Baptist church, but for some unexplained cause there will be no meeting this year.

Fred K. Fish, Jr., of this city, went to Wilmington, Del., yesterday on business.

The three-year old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros. of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

WEDDED IN ST. MARY'S.

Thomas Roddy and Annie Higgins Joined in Holy Wedlock.

A pretty wedding took place in St. Mary's Roman Catholic church, on Liberty street, yesterday afternoon, when Miss Annie Higgins, daughter of Mrs. Catherine Higgins, of Plainfield avenue, became the bride of Thomas Roddy, of this city.

The ceremony was performed at 4 o'clock by Rev. Father Smyth. The bridemaid was Miss Ella Gerry, a cousin of the bride, and Nicholas Higgins, the bride's brother, acted as best man. The ushers were Phillip McGuire, Hugh Higgins and John Moran.

The decorations in the church were beautiful and appropriate and the attendance of friends of the bride and groom, to witness the ceremony, was large.

After the ceremony was over the bride and groom were driven to the home of the bride's mother, 220 Plainfield avenue, where a reception was held. The guests were served later with an elaborate wedding supper, and dancing was then in order until a late hour. Guests were present from this city, New York, Brooklyn, Elizabeth and Danbury, Conn.

The presents received by Mr. and Mrs. Roddy were especially valuable and numerous.

The couple will reside in this city, with Mrs. Higgins, at 220 Plainfield avenue.

THEATRICAL.

Slater & Martin's Uncle Tom's Cabin Company, with 50 people 3 bands of music, 20 head of ponies, donkeys and oxen, and an abundance of special scenery and effects, comes to the Stillman Music Hall tonight.

Eliott Barnes' "Only a Farmer's Daughter" is strong, direct, and well constructed. The dialogue is terse, clear, and comprehensive. There is neither prolixity or ambiguity, and the object in view is carefully worked out. The best merits of the piece is its adaptability for the stage and the novelty of its construction and effects. At Music Hall tomorrow night.

CAR HORSES HARD TO GET.

Since Electricity Was Introduced the Market Channels Have Been Closed.

One of the most curious effects of the general replacing of horses by electricity and cable traction for drawing street cars is being experienced by one of the extensive car lines. in New York city which still uses horses. The Sun says one would suppose that, since the only lines in the whole country which continue to use horses now form but a very small percentage of those which used them five years ago, these lines would have a much wider range of choice, and could get horses of a grade superior to the general run of those which used to be offered to them. Remarkable as it may seem, this is the exact opposite of the truth.

The New York city line referred to runs in direct competition with the cable lines of the upper west side, and its managers, who recently purchased it, determined as soon as they came into possession to place upon it a superior lot of horses, and in this way improve its running until mechanical propulsion could be introduced. Orders were sent out to buy the needed horses. Much to the surprise of the managers, it was discovered that there were almost no street-car horses of any kind to be bought.

The explanation of this situation lies in the fact that since the demand for street-car horses almost ceased, the trade machinery by which they were gathered has fallen into disuse. A few years ago the street-car horses were one of the most important features of the horse market. They were animals of a standard grade and of almost stable price, and every part of the country contributed its quota. The street-car horse had to be big and able, and sound of limb and wind, but it might be of any age. Few lasted long enough in the service to make the question of a few years more or less of any consequence. The demand was constant, and the price never varied in New York more than from about $125 to $150 each. Dealers could always count upon getting this price and getting it promptly, and as a consequence every horse which would answer the purpose was a safe investment at a little smaller price, and a clean profit of $10 a horse was regarded as a fair margin in handling them.

Horses of all sorts, which lacked the qualities of speed, beauty or youth, but possessed the other requirements, were quickly sorted out from the markets of the whole country, and every big dealer was always able to gather droves of car horses as fast as the companies needed them. The trolley has superseded the car horse, and car horses are no longer quoted as staples in the market. The companies which still use them are obliged to go out and search the marts and buy them one by one, instead of simply sending out an order for 100 or 200 of 500 and getting them readily.

DEPEW TAKES TO THE WHEEL.

The President of the New York Central Surrenders to the Bicycle Craze.

There was a subdued air of excitement around the Grand Central Station. The atmosphere was strongly tainted with a smell of iodine and liniment. Telegraph instruments clicked noisily all the day, and it wasn't long before it was known from one end of the line to the other that the president had taken to riding a wheel. That Chauncey M. Depew, after sixty-three years of total abstinence, suddenly should go on a violent and prolonged bicycle tear was too much. One glance at Mr. Depew as he sat in his office confirmed the report that he is at least an enthusiastic wheelman. Sundry scratches showed that all had not been smooth sailing on the start, but the contour of his face showed a remarkable resemblance to the bicycle face of a veteran.

A year ago Mr. Depew was the stoutest opponent of the bill compelling railroads to carry bicycles as baggage. Now he is a convert to the silent steed. He glories in the victory of the Bicycle Baggage bill, and says, with a chuckle, "It was a great victory for us wheelmen." Mr. Depew caught the bicycle fever at Newport. It was a sudden and violent attack. He learned to ride with remarkable ease, and announced that he would keep at it for all time. He smilingly said that he was not a candidate for a ride on a silver bicycle from Nice to Naples, adding: "I hardly think two trips to Europe in a year would be advisable." He wouldn't discuss makes, century runs, sprockets, saddles or other data dear to a wheelman's heart, and explained apologetically, "I am only a beginner. When everything gets in working order I will be ready to debate with any one."—New York Tribune.

The Cheerful Idiot.

"Are you aware," sair the garrulous boarder, "that oxtail soup was the invention of the French refugees, who used to beg the oxtails because they hay no money to buy soup bones?"

"In other words," said the Cheerful Idiot, "they were reduced to the last extremity."—Indianapolis Journal.

CAN'T DENY IT.

When Facts Are Brought Home to Us and By Our Neighbors Too—They Are Plainfield Facts.

A wholesome suspicion is one of our characteristics as a people. In matters worthy of investigation we want real tangible facts regarding it. The word of those we know, the nearby evidence obtainable, are generally what we most desire. When we call on a neighbor, a man of business at that, and say "you have had some experience with so and so; what do you think of it?" and he answers "just the thing. I know, because I have tried it," it goes a long way in helping our decision. This is always the case with Doan's Kidney Pills. Everybody who has used them for any kidney complaint will tell you "they are just the thing." Why? Because they do the work every time and in all disordered conditions of the kidneys. The proof lies with your neighbors. Many have been cured in Plainfield, and are ready to tell you or anyone enquiring.

Mr. Robert Love, of 44 Duer street, member of the firm of Love Brothers, grocers, of No. 257 West Front street, says! "I suffered from kidney complaint for the last eight or nine years. My chief trouble was pain across the back and a lameness over the kidneys. Colds always settled there and aggravated the pain and lameness. At last my back grew weaker and any heavy lifting or too much standing or sitting gave me additional pain. In the mornings my back bothered me greatly until I moved about and took some exercise, when it became better to a certain extent. I doctored and used different kinds of so-called kidney cures, but it was like throwing money away. Seeing Doan's Kidney Pills highly recommended in our paper and being in shape at the time I got a box from L. W. Randolph's drug store. Before taking half of it my condition was greatly improved and continuing their use all the pain left me. I have felt slight signs of it since, but a few doses of Doan's Kidney Pills always drives it away. I always keep them on hand to use if occasion arises. I consider Doan's Kidney Pills a grand medicine for kidney trouble and it gives me pleasure to recommend them whenever an opportunity presents itself."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

Remember the name Doan's and take no substitute.

IN CHANCERY OF NEW JERSEY

To Charles B. Barber, Mrs. Charles B. Barber Frank W. Tyler and Mrs. Frank W. Tyler.

By virtue of an order of the court of Chancery of New Jersey, made on the day of the date hereof, in a cause wherein Edward Smith is complainant and you and others are defendants, you are required to appear, plead, answer or demur to the bill of said complainants, on or before the first day of December next, or the said bill will be taken as confessed against you.

The said bill is filed to foreclose a mortgage given by Frank H. Odiorne and wife to Edward Smith, dated September 20, 1894, and you, the said Charles B. Barber and Frank W. Tyler are made defendants because you hold encumbrances on said lands or some estate therein, and you the said Mrs. Charles B. Barber and Mrs. Frank W. Tyler are made parties because you are the wives of said Charles B. Barber and Frank W. Tyler respectively, and may claim some interest in the premises by virtue thereof.

New York Announcement.

"Our American Homes and How to Furnish Them."

'Horner's Furniture'

The Best in the Market.

All who desire to buy reliable Furniture, whether in medium or finest grades, will find our stock the most advantageous to select from for these reasons: It represents the productions of the best makers only, and is the largest and most varied in America, while our prices are the lowest at which goods of similar quality can possibly be sold for.

The completeness of our assortments can best be understood from the fact that we exhibit more than five hundred different Bedroom Sets in every variety of wood, over 70 patterns of Brass Bedsteads, as well as endless lines of Parlor, Drawing Room, Library and Dining Room Furniture of the most artistic styles, and ranging from the modest and inexpensive to the most elaborately carved and inlaid.

One floor devoted to Venetian Carved Furniture, French Cabinets, and other foreign productions.

SPAIN FEARS WEYLER

Two Reports of How He Was Received at Barcelona.

CHEERS FROM THE CROWD

The Official Report Says the Public Greeted Him Coldly—Other Reports Say 20,000 Joined in the Demonstration.

Barcelona, Spain, Nov. 24.—Gen. Weyler, the former Captain-General of Cuba, arived here yesterday on board the steamer Montserrat. He landed beneath the Columbus monument at 10 a. m., and was received by about twenty thousand people.

In order to escape the crowd, the General was driven to the house of Deputy Saladrigas, where, however, he was forced to appear upon the balcony, and was applauded by the multitude which had gathered about the house.

A number of bands took part in the welcome, and the Montserrat was met by many boats decorated with flags. When the Captain-General landed, accompanied by Gen. Montaner, he entered the cariage of Deputy Saladrigas, and on the way to the latter's house Gen. Weyler cried: "Long live national production!"

The General also called for cheers for "Spain" and "Spanish Cuba," which met with enthusiastic responses from the populace.

Official Reports of Indifference.

Madrid, Spain, Nov. 24.—The official report of the landing of Gen. Weyler at Barcelona differs from the independent reports. The former says the General landed without the demonstration in his honor assuming the proportions anticipated, and that as he traversed the streets the public appeared indifferent.

The official version adds that six gala carriages awaited the General, but that the crowd was small, little enthusiasm was manifested, and there were no delegations of students or politicians, and that no windows were decorated.

Autonomy Plans Approved.

Madrid, Nov. 24.—The Cabinet has approved the Sagasta scheme for the autonomy of Cuba, with the exception of the clauses of the trade regulations giving the Cuban Chamber the right to fix the Cuban tariff.

This was the part of the plan of autonomy which was opposed by the Catalonian deputation that waited upon Senor Moret, Minister of the Colonies, Monday, to urge the protection of Spanish imports into Cuba.

Trying to Buy Gomes Off.

Washington, Nov. 24.—Information received at the State Department confirms the story from Havana that the Spanish authorities are trying to bribe the insurgent leaders to lay down their arms. Negotiations are now being attempted with Gen. Gomez to abandon the insurgents' cause and retire from the island, accepting a bonus and a pension for life. Should Gomez accept this proposition, it would leave Calixo Garcia the only leader of any prominence in the insurgent ranks, and it is stated that a similar attempt will be made to buy him off.

DOOM FOR MEYER.

The Church Murderer Sentenced to the Death Chair.

New York, Nov. 24.—Constantine Steiger, alias Fritz Meyer, was yesterday sentenced to be electrocuted during the week beginning Jan. 10 next by Justice Fursman in the Criminal Branch of the Supreme Court.

The room was crowded with spectators when the prisoner was brought into court. His face was pallid, but he showed no other outward signs of anxiety. His counsel, Lawyer O'Hare, moved for a new trial on eight counts, and when it was denied he moved for an arrest of judgment. It was overruled.

Judge Fursman then pronounced sentence. His tone was so low as almost to be inaudible, even to the prisoner, but that poor wretch could hear very well the date when he was to pay the law in full for his crime.

The prisoner bore his sentence without wincing. It would have been impossible for him to turn paler, for throughout his appearance in court he was as pale as a corpse.

Steiger shot Policeman Frederick Smith in the Church of the Most Holy Redeemer in East Third street a month ago. He had broken into the church for the purpose of robbing it. There he stumbled upon a burglar alarm, and, his presence becoming known, the police were notified. Among others who responded was Smith, who encountered the burglar in the parochial schoolroom attached to the church. There he shot the policeman and made his temporary escape through a screen window.

The trial was one of the most rapid in the history of the Criminal Court. The murderer was placed on trial within four days after the commission of the crime, and the greater part of the time of the trial was consumed in collecting a jury. The jury promptly convicted him of murder in the first degree, for which he was sentenced yesterday.

Meyer was taken to Sing Sing yesterday afternoon with two burglars, who have been sentenced to two years and four months each. The men are William Chauler and William Purdy, to whom Meyer was handcuffed. The men were in charge of Deputy Sheriffs Engle and Kelly.

Chinese Want to Vote.

Chicago, Nov. 24.—Americanized and native-born Chinese will shortly appeal to Congress for the right of suffrage and ask that body to repeal the anti-Chinese law passed in 1882. A public mass meeting will be held at Central Music Hall next Saturday and prominent Chinese from all over the United States will address the meeting. They will declare that wrongs have been inflicted upon them since they have been refused the rights of citizenship, and will ask the people of the United States to help them in their cause.

Will Hanna Advance Wages?

New York, Nov. 24.—In coal circles it is said that Mark A. Hanna and other coal and iron operators in Ohio and Western Pennsylvania have decided to advance the wages of miners 10 per cent., beginning with Dec. 1.

CASE AGAINST THORN

Witnesses Repeat the Testimony Given at the First Trial.

MAKING RAPID PROGRESS

Martin Thorn Wears a Sickly Smile While Listening to the Evidence Against Him—Sensational Developments Held in Store.

New York, Nov. 24.—The jury to try Martin Thorn for the murder of the bath-rubber, William Guldensuppe, was completed at 12.45 o'clock yesterday afternoon.

District Attorney Youngs began his address to the jury imediately after the court reconvened in the afternoon.

He rehearsed all the frightful details of the plot to murder the bath-rubber, William Guldensuppe; how the victim was lured to the Woodside cottage and shot down in cold blood; the cutting up of the body and its final disposition.

Several new witnesses who had not been present at the preceding trial were in court. There was an air of expectancy, as the belief was general that many surprises were in store, and that the trial would be, perhaps, the most sensational one in the annals of crime.

The crowd was even greater yesterday than on Monday. Many women were present. Thorn seemed paler and more nervous. He sneered venomously every time Mrs. Nack's name was mentioned.

After the District Attorney's opening address, John McGuire, the boy who found the first bundle containing part of the body of Guldensuppe, was called as the first witness.

Other witnesses followed in much the same order as at the opening trial.

Thorn listened sneeringly as the boys and other witnesses told of finding the parts of the body in the East River and at High Bridge. He seemed to appreciate the fact that the chain of evidence was being as carefully and tightly drawn about him as though Mrs. Nack's confession was not depended upon to make a verdict of guilty absolutely certain.

The chain of circumstatial evidence was developed so carefully that even should Mrs. Nack fail to repeat her testimony given at the former trial the District Attorney would still be confident of securing a conviction.

Witness after witness told of finding the parts of the body, of the disappearance of Guldensuppe, of the identification of the parts, and also identified the oilcloth in which they were wrapped and the photographs taken at the Morgue.

Mrs. Nack's name was not mentioned in the opening address to the jury. This worried the defense.

When the taking of testimony was begun it became evident that the prosecution would follow out the procedure intended at the former trial. It had been said that Mrs. Nack would be called upon at once to repeat her testimony, and that the prosecution would rest, after introducing corroborative evidence and proving corpus delicti.

Instead of this, however, the same witnesses called at the beginning of the first trial were called, and it was announced that the testimony would be taken in the regular order, as laid out at first by Mr. Youngs—that is, proving the finding of the pieces of the body, identifying its wrappings, proving that the pieces were parts of one body, proving that this body was Guldensuppe's body, and then proving by Mrs. Nack that Martin Thorn killed him.

Mr. Howe's cross-examination of witnesses indicated that he would make a hard fight against the identification of the body. He brought out that Mr. Newton and he both had scars from felons on a finger of their left hand, just as was observed on the left hand of the body. He attacked the identification of the body as vigorously as if he intended to claim that it was not that of Guldensuppe.

The trial was adjourned at 4.50 o'clock until 9.30 o'clock this morning.

GIGANTIC PIANO TRUST.

Plans for Combining the Biggest Concerns in the United States.

New York, Nov. 24.—All the great piano manufacturing concerns in the United States are working together to form a gigantic trust. It is the intention to absorb at least 200 factories, squeeze out the samller ones, and concentrate the business in a few of the biggest manufactories.

Negotiations are progressing, cloaked under the greatest secresy. It is known that several bankers in the country and Europe have spoken favorably of advancing the $50,000,000 which would be necessary to carry through the deal.

W. W. Kimball, of Chicago, or Alfred Dodge, of this city, it is said, will be president of the new giant enterprise.

The Steinway, Chickering, Knabe and Kimball and Cable companies, with the big concern of Alfred Dodge, would form the nucleus and real strength of the trust.

But four grades of pianos would be manufactured, and all competition and atendant expenses would be eliminated. The trust could absolutely control prices.

Mildred Brewster's Trial.

Montpelier, Vt., Nov. 24.—Mildred Brewster's trial for the murder of Annie Wheeler will not go on at this term of court.

It has been put over till March, that the Supreme Court may decide the technical question raised by the fact that the court stenographer was in the Grand Jury room when the prisoner's case was being considered.

Miss Brewster shot Miss Wheeler and attempted to kill herself last May, jealousy over John Wheeler, whom both girls loved, being the cause.

Delay for Foster.

Paris, Nov. 23.—The extradition of William R. Foster, who was arrested at Neuilly a short time ago upon a charge of stealing $193,000 belonging to the Gratuity Fund of the New York Produce Exchange, has been postponed, probably for three weeks, on account of a tehnical point relating to the absence of a signature from the papers necessary to his surrender to the American authorities.

It is thought that this delay in his extradition has been created in order to enable Foster's friends to arrange a compromise in his case.

GOSSIP FROM GRIDIRON.

HAPPENINGS AMONG THE LOCAL FOOTBALL PLAYERS.

Games That are to be Played and Points About Teams and Individual Players That May Prove Interesting to Cranks.

The greatest and last game of the season in Plainfield will be played on Martine common tomorrow afternoon. Then the Plainfield A. A. will meet their old rivals, the San Remo team of the New York Athletic Club. The game begins at 2:30 o'clock.

The Alis football team will play the last game of the season tomorrow morning against the Universals of Westfield. There is considerable rivalry between the two teams. The game will be played on Martine common, on the gridiron of the Plainfield A. A., and 10 cents admission will be charged.

The Plainfield A. A. eleven will be greatly strengthened for the Thanksgiving Day game by the addition of "Shorty" Milne, the giant guard, who so distinguished himself against the San Remos on Election day. It is expected that Charles Dupee, full back of the Yale freshmen team, will play behind the line for Plainfield, where he did so well last year. Dupee is a fine punter and will add great strength to the team in that way.

The Plainfield Athletic Association has been greatly handicapped during the past few weeks by the loss of so many players by illness, or other unexpected reasons, that they have been unable to secure a team of any calibre. The return of some of the college boys will enable them to put a strong team on the field for Thanksgiving Day, when the San Remo team of the New York Athletic Club plays in this city. The game is called for 2:30 o'clock. The San Remo's played the Plainfield team to a tie on Election Day and have defeated the New Jersey Athletic Club. Last Saturday they defeated the Montclair Athletic Club. They are known as one of the strongest teams in the Metropolitan district, outside of the Elizabeth and Orange A. C's.

WITH ROD AND GUN.

Clarence R. Thorn and Henry Vosseller went hunting at Whitehouse Saturday and returned with six cotton tails.

Alfred I. Smalley, of the borough, was among those who went hunting yesterday. His objective point was Lebanon, Hunterdon county.

Harry Potter and Frank Woodruff went hunting Monday and captured fifteen rabbits and two squirrels. They went over in Washington Valley.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—Additional locals on page 3.

—The circulating department of the Public Library will be closed Thanksgiving Day. The reading room and art gallery will be open at the usual hours.

—Neuman Bros., the Watchung avenue grocers, have received a second shipment of India River Florida oranges, and a stock of fancy table apples, which will be closed out at special prices for Thanksgiving.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Stryker and daughter will spend Thanksgiving Day with Mr. and Mrs. George Saums, of East Second street.

VICTORY FOR BARROWS

Henry Liefke; Justice of the Peace, George W. Eddy; Constable, Aaron Mattox.

It will be noticed that the name of the present councilman, A. H. Leivers, does not appear in the above list. This is explained by the announcement that Mr. Leivers will be nominated for Councilman-at Large from his ward, at the convention Saturday evening.

The vote for the above was unanimous and the secretary cast the ballot for the nominees, and the delegates were empowered to fill any vacancies that might occur in the list of delegates.

FOUR MORE CHANGE THEIR WAY.

The Revival Work in Grace M. E. Church Has No Limit.

Rev. W. C. O'Donnell preached pointedly and powerfully in Grace M. E. church last night on the theme: "Revival Blessings."

That the people may have grown tired in the work, but certainly not tired of it, was made manifest last night by the presence of so many people.

To prove that the work has not yet reached its limit, four young people sought Christ at the altar, and soon rejoiced in His salvation.

The Martin Brothers' quartette were unable to be present, as one of their number has a very heavy cold. The interest has in no way decreased, and by Thursday night will have reached a grand climax. Service begins tonight at 8 o'clock.

NEIGHBOR PLEADED NOT GUILTY.

The Former Letter-Carrier Held Under $1,000 Bail for Appearance.

John Neighbor, the former letter carrier, who was charged with opening a letter and taking money out of it and holding back other letters, came up before Commissioner Whitehead at Newark yesterday. He pleaded not guilty to the charge and was examined. The Commissioner held him for the Grand Jury, which meets the third Tuesday in January. He was held under $1,000 bonds. His former bail was renewed and he was allowed to go.

A Stone Engraved.

Several years ago a gavel stone was presented to Plainfield Division, No. 33, Sons of Temperance, by the late Felix T. Lincoln, who was a staunch supporter of the organization. Recently Mrs. Lincoln had the stone engraved and she has presented it to Howell Division, No. 97, Sons of Temperance. The engraving on the stone was the work of J. E. Townsend, of Somerset street.

A Natural Way About Him.

St. Clair McKelway, editor of the Brooklyn Daily Eagle and Regent of the New York State University, says of "Judge" Green, who will appear at the Y. M. C. A. tomorrow evening: "Wm. B. Green has that gift from nature and that grace from art, which enable him to make language leap with laughter and anon to enforce words wet with tears."

DID THEIR POST WORK WELL.

G. A. R. INSPECTION LAST EVENING.

Inspector Oakley, of Elizabeth, Did the Inspecting and Highly Complimented The Members.

Winfield Scott Post, No 73, G. A. R., met last evening and was inspected by Assistant Inspector Oakley, of Ulric Dahlgren Post, of Elizabeth. The gathering was a large one, for beside the presence of sixty members of Post 73, there was present a number of the department officers, including Department Commander Hayter, of Bloomfield; Senior Vice Commander Hovencamp, of Paterson; Assistant Adjutant General Frank Cole, of Jersey City; Chief Mustering Officer Collier, of Newark; Chief Ordnance Robert Brower, of Maplewood. There was also present a delegation from Ulric Dahlgren Post, of Elizabeth, and one from Wadsworth Post, of Somerville.

Inspector Oakley remarked after the inspection that he had never seen G. A. R. work performed better than it was by Post 73. There were speeches by the visiting officers and comrades, and after the business the comrades adjourned to the room below where they were given a fine supper by the members of the Woman's Relief Corps. The women worked very hard to get up the supper and they deserve much credit for their efforts, which were appreciated by the comrades.

In the business session of the post officers were nominated for the ensuing year. There were several nominations for each office, and the nominations were left open until the next meeting when the election will take place.

ASSESSMENTS LOWERED.

Plainfield Ice Company Will Have $1,500 Less to Pay For This Year.

The Commissioners of Appeal in North Plainfield Township, consisting of Amos Vail, Goldson Smalley and Phillip Ackor, met yesterday afternoon at Pfinger's hotel and had a large time dealing with the taxpapers who were dissatisfied with their assessments. Assessor Clark was present and assisted the commissioners. Out of a list of taxpayers numbering 348 there were only nineteen who were favored by having their assessments changed. The largest cut was in the assessment on the property owned by the Plainfield Ice and Cold Storage Company. They were assessed $3,000 and that amount was reduced to $1,500. The property upon which stands the stone cracker at Scotch Plains received a cut from $2,500 to $1,500. There was a big kick about the dog tax, but in almost every case the tax remained. It seems to be the opinion of those living in the township that their tax rate $2.12 is high, when it is considered that the rate in the borough is $2.19 and the latter has fire protection and police, something that the township has not. In the township the rate is $1.99 exclusive of school tax. The commissioners were in session from 2 o'clock yesterday afternoon until late last evening.

PAST MASTERS WORKED A DEGREE.

The Master Mason Degree Conferred on Winfield S. Angleman.

There was a lively time at Masonic Hall last evening, when Anchor Lodge, No. 149, F. and A. M., held its regular meeting. While the meeting was a regular one it was somewhat out of the ordinary. The Master Mason's degree was conferred on Winfield S. Angleman, not by the regular team but by the past masters of the lodge, five of them in all, C. C. Howard, F. O. Herring, Craig A. Marsh, W. A. Freeman and Dr. H. H. Lowry.

The members of Anchor Lodge turned out in force and there were also present Masons from Elizabeth, Jersey City, Newark and New York. A delegation from Jerusalem Lodge was also present. After the initiation the guests adjourned to the banquet hall, where a banquet was served. There were the usual speeches by different members of the lodge and their guests and all assisted in the general entertainment of the party.

Tried to Paint the Town.

There was one solitary occupant of the city jail this morning. It was Isaac Orleman, drunk and disorderly read the complaint. He was arrested yesterday for having too much "Jersey Lightning" aboard and trying to paint the town a brilliant color. The Judge gave him his choice between a fine of $25 or forty days in jail. He went down to Elizabeth to recuperate.

Martha Washington's Fair.

The fair being held in Washington Hall, West Second street, under the auspices of Martha Washington Council, No. 23, Daughters of America, has thus far proved to be successful. Last evening the attendance was much larger than on the opening night. Dancing is a feature of the fair and the music is excellent.

Burglars Caught.

Chief of Police Sebring, of Bound Brook, detected two men attempting to burglarize Broffery's clothing store in that town last night. They were captured and arrested. They were taken to the Somerset county jail.

NOTICE TO ALL INTERESTED IN UP-TO-DATE LAUNDRY WORK.

We run the laundry and take care of all details, but you "boss" it. We do what you tell us to do. It may give you a new sensation to find that you get a domestic finish when you ask for it, and to discover that your collars are actually ironed in the way that the maker intended them to be ironed.

We are running a laundry with the most improved methods and appliances. We use pure water and good soap. We are using two things that are not commonly used in laundries—care and intelligence. If you have found a laundry that pleases you perfectly, we have nothing to say to you. If you have any reason to be dissatisfied, we would like to give you a practical demonstration of our way of running a laundry.

Tell us where and when to call for your work, when you want it delivered, and let us know any particular thing that you would like to have done with it.

We want you to understand that we are running this laundry for you, and that your wishes are to be regarded in every particular. We will give you just exactly what you want, if we can find out what that is. Perhaps you believe that it is impossible to have your laundry well handled without irritation and annoyance to you. We are sure that you are mistaken. May we have an opportunity of demonstrating it?

New York Bank Messenger Disappears After Cashing a Draft.

New York, Nov. 24.—Daniel A. McClelland, a youth of 22 years, employed as clerk and messenger in the Bronx Borough Bank, was sent to the Twenty-third Ward Bank, 135th street and Third avenue, about 11 o'clock Monday to have a draft on the Chase National Bank cashed.

Two thousand five hundred dollars in fifty and one hundred dollar bills was handed the youth. He left with the cash, and nothing has since been heard of him. The police are looking for him.

McClelland is a son of Dr. McClelland, a dentist in good circumstances in Westchester. He lived with his father, and was considered an exemplary young man. He was attentive to church duties, but the bank officials say he was careless about his work. He is known to have received recently a letter signed "Violet," who is said to be the wife of a bookmaker, and the police expect to find him through her.

LIEUT. O'BRIEN RESIGNS.

Prosecutor in the Romeyn Court Martial to Be a Lawyer.

Atlanta, Nov. 24.—Lieut. Michael J. O'Brien, of the Fifth Infantry, sent in his resignation yesterday, to take effect on March 31, 1898. He was admitted to the bar in Massachusetts before he entered the army, and he will return to that State to practice his profession.

O'Brien was the prosecutor in the now celebrated O'Brien-Romeyn court-martial at Fort McPherson recently, and is one of the best-known officers in the service.

Romeyn knocked O'Brien down on parade for remarks, it was alleged, O'Brien had uttered about Miss Romeyn. This led to the court-martial, in which Romeyn was sentenced to a reprimand.

THE CITIZENS' RATIFY.

COMMITTEE OF FORTY NOMINATIONS ENDORSED BY PUBLIC MEETINGS.

John Ross Named for Councilman in the Second Ward—Speeches Made in Which Present Admistration Was Badly Assailed

The campaign for the coming municipal election is in full blast and everything is booming. Both the machine and the Citizens' movement realize that the time has come for work. Wednesday evening the Citizens took their turn. It was the mass meeting to ratify the slate as suggested by the Committee of Forty. As most of the leaders in the movement to down the machine were members of the Committee of Forty, there was no opposition to the ticket as suggested by the Committee. It was ratified unanimously and all was harmony and peace.

The mass meeting was held in Reform Hall and was fairly well attended although there was no crowd. There was plenty of enthusiasm, however, and after the talking began the audience warmed up to the occasion and howled and and applauded vigorously.

The meeting was called at 8 o'clock but Former Councilman Walter L. Hetfield did not call it to order until forty-five minutes after that time.

The first business was the reading of the ticket as formulated by the Committee of Forty and published in Wednesday's Press. The vacancy in the ticket, the nomination in the Second ward, had been filled. John Ross, of East Sixth street and Franklin place, was the choice for that place. Despite the rumors abroad that F. E. Kinsman would not be nominated in the Third ward, afterward his name was presented with the rest. As Constable in that ward, J. Caspar Kirkners name was presented instead of Amos Moffett's, as Mr. Moffett's term has not expired.

F. M. Bacon announced that Mr. Nodyne, who was named as Justice of the Peace for the Third ward, was not a resident of that ward any more. He made a motion to the effect that the slate, as presented by the Committee of Forty, be accepted and made the tiket of the Citizens' movement. The motion was carried amid great enthusiasm. Then Elmore D. Moffett's motion to the effect that the Committee of Forty be given power to fill all vacancies, was carried without opposition.

Then Chairman Hetfield made an address on the affairs of the city, the doings of the present administration and the intentions of the Citizens' candidates. He thanked the meeting for nominating him as Councilman although he had not sought it and promised to use all fair means to win. He stated very emphatically that he had no money and that the campaign would win by fair means or not at all. He spoke a few words to the colored allies of the movement. He said it was not a partisan movement but for all citizens and tax-payers regardless of color. He told how the colored men who owned their little homes felt the burden of unjust taxation as well as the white people. He said that he gloried that he was a member of the "Big Six" and only wished there was a "Big Eleven" now. He told how the "Big Six" had cleaned the city of debt and left money in the treasury when they departed and he pointed out that the present administration was going to leave a big debt on the city for the next Council to pay off.

He criticized the present Commissioners of Appeal and declared it almost impossible for a poor man to obtain redress from unfair assessments. He referred to the present Board of Assessors and said that while personally he liked H. C. VanEmburgh and Harry C. Runyon very much and considered them both gentlemen, they were by no means his idea of an assessor and he thought they was by no means fitted for the place which was a very important one.

Elmore D. Moffett aod John Ross, two of the candidates, said a few words about the right of appeal being taken away from city court cases which was done, he said, through the influence of the Republican machine and the Corporation Counsel. Arthur Venable and Louis Peterson spoke as representatives of the colored vote and aired their grievences.

J. H. Craig said their was plenty of odor up West Front street now days. He told about the Industrical Home and how there were two old women there with a matron to take care of them and an Overseer-of-the-Poor to look after the two old women and the matron. Some of his remarks were of a humorous character. Patrick Revel added a few remarks about the unfairness of the valuation of property. The meeting then adjourned and the crowd broke up into little groups to continue the conversation.

TRIBUTE TO A YOUNG LIFE.

Impressive Funeral Services Over the Remains of a Popular Little Fellow.

Many sorrowing friends gathered at the home of Councilman and Mrs. Elliot T. Barrows, 737 West Seventh street, yesterday morning at 10 o'clock, to attend the funeral services of their young son, Elliott Cobb Barrows. The lad had been a favorite with all who had known him and there were many to unite with the sorrow-stricken father and mother in mourning the loss of the bright little life. The floral offerings were many and very beautiful. A handsome floral star was sent by the police department. The lad had always had a great fondness for boats and a floral ship was sent by one who knew him and loved him well.

The services were simple and were conducted by Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards. He made a touching address about the departed one and told of his short and beautiful life, of his wish to go to his Heavenly Father and the beautiful way in which he pictured his Heavenly home. He told also of his great thoughtfulness for others, even in the time of great bodily suffering.

A quartette composed of Mrs. Frank Clawson, Miss Hardenberg, Elmer E. Runyon and Charles L. Lewis sang four times during the service. Their selections were "Shall We Gather at the River?" "We Shall Meet Beyond the River," "Now the Day is Over" and another selection. The singing was very beautiful.

The remains were interred at Hillside Cemetery according to a wish of the lad. Short exercises were held at the grave where the bereaved family and the immediate friends gathered.

Appreciation of Services.

Lloyd H. McKee, a clerk in the Essex County Clerk's office at Newark, and a step-brother of J. W. VanSyckle, of this city, was agreebly surprised last Wednesday, when seventy-two lawyers of Newark presented him with a diamond scarf pin and a pair of diamond-studded link cuff buttons. It was an expression of appreciation for the kindly treatment received in the county clerk's office.

Suing a Policeman.

The case of Creede & Goodman, of New York, against Policeman George W. Lunger, to recover the value of a number of storm coats furnished policemen in this city, will be tried by a jury in Justice Mosher's court this afternoon. The counsel in the case are City Judge DeMeza, for the plaintiffs, and S. S. Swackhamer for the defense.

Justice Mosher's Court.

The contract case of Albrecht against Voegler was tried in Justice Mosher's court, and judgment was rendered for the plaintiff for $28.73 and costs. W. Gordon Williams appeared as attorney for the plaintiff.

The case of Holmes against Bebout, on contract, which was to have been tried in Justice Mosher's court Wedday, was postponed for one week.

Shoot for a Pig.

The Plainfield Independent Gun Club held its annual Thanksgiving shoot yesterday afternoon, and the event attracted a large gathering of spectators. The shoot began at 2 o'clock, and was continued until late in the afternoon. The first prize was won by Thomas Melker, the second to C. E. Speckley and the third to J. A. Blatz. A pig weighing one hundred was divided among the prize winners.

FIRE LADDIES BIG TIME.

AN ENGINE COMPANY ENTERTAINED OUT-OF-TOWN GUESTS.

A Parade and "Wash" Followed by a Spread in the Rink and Speeches by Various Ones Made the Affair Pleasant.

The members of Plainfield Engine Co., No. 2, of the fire department, had a jolly time yesterday when they entertained the members of Protection Hose Co., of Bayonne, and Mercer Engine Co., No. 3, of Princeton. For sometime past there has been the very best of feeling between these fire laddies, and yesterday's event was only another tie that bind the members more closely than ever. Early in the afternoon the visitors from Bayonne arrived and a little later the Princeton firemen appeared on the scene. A committee consisting of First Assistant Chief James A. Martin, William Townley, C. Smith' Harry Connett and William Schaefer went to Metuchen in stages and met the Princeton firemen at that place.

When the firemen assembled about 3 o'clock a line was formed and No. 2 engine was taken out for a "wash." As usual, she worked fine. The test was made on the Park avenue bridge just below the Baptist church. Before reaching that point there was a short parade about the city. The firemen were headed by the Independent Fife and Drum Corps, followed by Chief T. O. Doane, and Assistants Martin and Murray, the visitors and members of No. 2 Company. The boys made a fine showing.

After the "wash" the engine was returned to fire headquarters, and the firemen were escorted to the Crescent Rink where the festivities of the occasion were continued very successfully. As soon as they arrived they found a bountiful supper awaiting them.

Councilman W. N. Runyon assumed the part of toastmaster and in his usual happy manner introduced the speakers after he had first welcomed the visitors. Among the speakers and entertainers were Mayor Opdyke, W. H. Cottrell, Samuel Ross, Captain Green, First Assistant Harry Margerum, of Princeton; Harry Burgess, of Brooklyn; William Curley and several others from Bayonne. Captain Green is the oldest member of the Princeton department, and gave the boys a good talk. Samuel Ross entertained with a song and dance. There were also songs by Joseph Barrett, Messrs. Vail, J. Moran, of Plainfield; J. Farrow, of Bayonne, while "Billy" Runyon was unable to escape until he favored the audience with "Put Me Off at Buffalo," and several other songs. Some of the other notable speakers were Chief Doane, of the Plainfield Department, and Alex. Titsworth, representing the Exempt Firemen's Association. Mr. McBeth, of the West End, gave a clever exhibition of club swinging.

A feature of the event was the music by Plainfield's new band, under the leadership of Benjamin LaVere. While the guests were seated at the table the band rendered favorite selections and were heartily cheered throughout. The Independent Fife and Drum Corps was also present and did the honors by playing some of their best.

To Mrs. William Townley, Mrs. William Chamberlain, Mrs. C. J. Newman, Mrs. Carman, Mrs. R. B. Rogers, the Misses Doyle, Georgie Eick and Grace Huff belongs the credit of furnishing and arranging the supper. They were highly praised for their great efforts to provide such and elaborate and bountiful spread.

The committee of arrangements consisted of Robert Eick, chairman; Frank Eick, Bert Towley, Charles Smith, J. Dawe, William Schaefer. Credit should also be given to R. B. Rogers who worked so hard and faithfully to make the affair a success, as did also all the other members of the committees. Honorable mention should be made of a song rendered by George E. Rogers, Jr., young son of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Rogers. He won great applause.

The affair wound up in a blaze of glory and when the visitors returned home they carried with them pleasant memories of Plainfield and the firemen who treated them so well.

Episcopal Service.

Yesterday morning the regular Thanksgiving service was held at the Church of the Holy Cross and the rector, Rev. T. Logan, delivered an appropriate sermon. The church decorations were very attractive and in keeping with the event celebrated. The attendance of worshippers was large and everyone enjoyed the service.

Sues the Central Railroad.

Robert Carson has commenced suit in Justice Moffett's court for $200 against the Central Railroad. The action is brought in tort, and will be tried December 6th. W. S. Angleman is the plaintiff's attorney.

WED THANKSGIVING EVE.

M'NABB-FOUNTAIN NUPTIALS WERE HAPPILY CELEBRATED.

The Ceremony Performed in the Home of the Bride, Which Had Been Beautifully Arranged for the Special Occasion.

The home of School Commissioner and Mrs. Robert M. Fountain, of Jackson avenue, was the scene of one of the prettiest of weddings last Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, when their daughter, Miss Georgia L. J. Fountain became the wife of Charles J. McNabb, of the popular law firm of McNabb & Clark, of this city.

The ceremony, which was that of the Episcopal church, was performed by Rev. T. Logan Murphy, rector of the Church of the Holy Cross, which is the church of the bride.

The bride was attended by four bridemaids, Miss Ida Fountain, sister of the bride; Miss May McNabb, sister of the groom; Miss Mazie Porter, of Brooklyn; Miss Sadie McCloskey, of Elmhurst, L. I., and they were all charmingly gowned in white organdie trimmed with nile green silk and lace. The bride was richly gowned in white corded silk, trimmed with chiffon lace and pearl trimmings. She carried white roses, while the bridemaids carried white chrysanthemums. The flower girls were Sadie and Mildred Fountain, sisters of the bride. They were gowned in white.

The home was beautifully decorated with chrysanthemums, pinks, ferns and greens, and in each of the rooms the decorations were tastefully arranged.

Robert M. Clark, Jr., the law partner of the groom, was the best man. The bridal party presented an exceedingly attractive scene as they formed a semi-circle in the parlor, where the marriage was performed in the presence of the relatives of the contracting parties, and guests from Plainfield, New York, Brooklyn, Bound Brook and Elmhurst, L. I. Following the ceremony the guests offered congratulations to the popular young couple, and all wished them long life, with plenty of happiness and success. After congratulatfons a pleasing wedding supper was served, after which the bride and groom fooled their friends in a clever manner.

It had been prearranged by Robert M. Clark, Jr., Edward Clark, of this city, and Dr. Vail and Harry Potter, of Rahway, that the newly-wedded couple should be well showered with rice, and they purchased forty pounds of that article. They also had some placards printed upon which was the inscription "We Have Just Been Married," and it was their intention of placing the cards in a prominent place in the car when they went away. They also purchased a small bell which they were going to hang in a convenient place in the car. While all these arrangements were being made, the bride and groom quietly arranged their affairs and went out of the back door to Fairview avenue. There they found a carriage in waiting for them. They were far away when the guests discovered what had happened, and of course the four young men were checkmated.

Among the very handsome gifts received were several sets of silverware, glassware, and an exquisite oil painting, the gift of Miss McNabb, sister of the bride, who was the artist. Another handsome gift was a deed given by the groom's parents for a valuable piece of property in this city.

Mr. and Mrs. McNabb went to Brooklyn for a short visit, and from there they will go to Washington where they will spend the remainder of their honeymoon.

BROKE GROUND IN A RELIGIOUS MOOD

East Third Street Chapel Started in a Novel Way.

Ground was broken for the new building of the East Third Street Mission, last evening, in a pouring rain. A meeting was held in the present building at the usual time and all united to give thanks for their many blessing.

At 9 o'clock, twenty of the workers of the mission, including men and women, donned their wraps and went to the site of the new building. L W Randolph, superintendent of the Sunday-school, offered prayer and made a short address and then was the first to break ground. The rest, armed with picks and shovels, joined in and ground was regularly broken for the new structure.

The architect of the new building is Charles Smith. Seaman Williams & Co. have the contract for the mason work and Peason & Gayle for the carpenter work.

A Missionary Address.

Rev. J. C. R. Ewing, of Lahore, gave an interesting and instructive missionary talk on India, in the chapel of the Crescent Avenue church, Wednesday evening, before a good sized audience.

MR. KINSMAN WON'T STAND.

ACCEPTS THE REPUBLICAN DEFEAT.

Says He Cannot Consistently Take a Citizens' Nomination After Being Defeated in His Own Party.

F. E. Kinsman has furnished The Press with the following copy of a letter which explains itself:

Plainfield, Nov. 25th, 1897.

Walter Hetfield, Esq., Chairman Citizens' Executive Committee, Plainfield, N. J.:

My Dear Sir—I noticed by the morning papers that at last night's primaries the Citizens party honored me with the nomination of Councilman for the Third ward, notwithstanding my written request to the contrary. I assure you I am not insensible to so pronounced an expression of good will and evident appreciation of my efforts in behalf of the community in which we live, but I am compelled to decline the nomination, having already placed myself in the hands of my friends in the Republican primaries. It is well known that their loyal support was entirely unsolicited and was no doubt based upon my action in their primary. I therefore feel as though I should cast reflection upon them, and dishonor upon myself, should I desert the party which had already given me so substantial a vote of confidence. Sincerely regretting that my friends, as represented in your primaries, are so situated as to be unable to assist in securing my nomination in the Republicen city convention as Councilman at large, I remain

Yours respectfully,
F. E. Kinsman.

Mr. Arens Declines.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—While I appreciate the honor conferred by the action of the Citizens' committee in nominating me for a member of the Board of Education, I must say that it was done without my knowledge or consent, and I respectfully decline to stand for the office under any circumstances.

Otto Arens.

FOR THE YOUNGER SET.

Charming Social Event Given by Mrs B. A. Hegeman, Jr.

A charming social event of the season was the tea given last Wednesday afternoon by Mrs. Benjamin Arrowsmith Hegeman, Jr., of Washington Park, in honor of Miss Ida Strauss, daughter of Charles Strauss, formerly of New York, but now of Watchung avenue, this city.

The hours were from 4 to 6 o'clock, and during that time the elegant home of the hostess was thronged with guests, chiefly the younger set. The decorations consisted almost entirely of pink and green, and the effect was greatly admired.

Mrs. Hegeman was assisted in receiving by Mrs. Charles A. Reed, Mrs. James T. Scott, Mrs. William L. Saunders and Miss Grace Cooley. At the table, presiding, were Mrs. Gustavus E. Struss and Mrs. William Journeay Roome, while those who assisted in the dining room were Miss Gertrude Andrews, Miss Grace Haviland, Miss Marion Henderson, Miss Edith Clapp, Miss Alice Thompson and Miss Virginia Hegeman.

In the dining room the decorations were very attractive, and especially was this true of the table adornments. The entire affair was complete in its arrangement and the hospitality of the hostess and her asststants was proverbial.

Germans Had a Good Time.

Last Wednesday evening a vocal concert and ball was given in Saengerbund Hall under the auspices of the Plainfield Gesang and Turn Verein. The programme consisted of songs by the German and Swedish sections, a tenor solo by Herman Eichhorn entitled "Love Song" from the opera "Walkuere," by Wagoner; a comical recitation "The Old Maid Before the Ball,' by Otto Kellar; a baritone solo by Charles Dresselt. The programme concluded with a most amusing play called "The Two Rivals." The parts were taken by Charles Dresselt, Otto Kellar, Charles Steuerwald and Henry Haurand. Prof. Schultz's orchestra furnished the music.

Sleight of Hand Exhibition.

An entertainment was given in the Mt. Olive Colored Baptist Church, last evening, under the auspices of the Ladies' Sewing Circle of the church. The principal part of the entertainment consisted in a sleight of hand exhibition by Joseph Bolan, of North Plainfield. At the close of the exhibition supper was served by the ladies of the church. The proceeds of the aff ir will go into the church treasury.

—A beautiful display of the leading makes of corsets is made by Edward White. It embraces all the best corsets that are in the market such as Her Majesty's, Thompson's Glove Fitting, Warners, U-B, P-U and Sonnette.

DESTROYERS OF PEACE.

ILL TEMPER AND INJUSTICE CONDEMNED BY REV. A. E. MAIN.

Eloquent Sermon at Union Service in Park Avenue Baptist Church, Yesterday Morning—What Would Make a Model City.

A union Thanksgiving service of all the churches in the southern section of Plainfield was held in the Park Avenue Baptist church yesterday morning at 10:30 o'clock. The audience was a large one, and the Thanksgiving sermon was preached by Rev. Alfred E. Main, pastor of the Seventh-day Baptist church, of this city.

The text was from Nehemiah 8:10, "The joy of the Lord is your strength." The speaker said by way of introduction that it was after the work wrought by Nehemiah and his fellow workmen in rebuilding Jerusalem that the men and women of the nation came together to hear an explanation of the book of the law. When they heard it, however, it made them weep, they had not heard the promises in so long a time. It was then that Nehemiah had said, "Go your way, eat the fat and drink the sweet, and send portions unto them for whom nothing is prepared; for this day is holy unto our Lord; neither be ye sorry, for the joy of the Lord is your strength."

Men and women do find pleasure in sin; as the poet Burns said, "We are half mud and half marble." One of the signs of the grievous times in the last days, of which Paul wrote to Timothy, is that men shall love pleasure greater than God, and these men are both sinful and miss the real object at which they aim. The joy of the Lord is a joy of which he is the real source and provider, and it can be known only in a life of righteousness. In respect to their sources and spheres our joys are of two classes, natural and supernatural, but it should be remembered that God is immanent in both.

We greatly need the strengthening help of joy in our cares, sorrows and work. What says the word concerning its possession? "For the kingdom of God is not meat and drink, but righteousness and peace, and joy in the Holy Ghost." Note the order of experiences here: first righteousness, then peace with God and with one another, and then peace and joy in the Holy Spirit.

"Fellow Christians, fellow citizens, men and brethren who make our laws," said Mr. Main in closing, "what hearts and homes and churches, what a city ours would be, if henceforth, we would do right in families, in social life, in business relations and social affairs. Ill temper, injustice, lust and strong drink are the unrighteous destroyers of our peace, and the enemies of our joy. In thankfulness to the joys that have come to our lives and homes, may we seek first and more earnestly the Kingdom of God, which is righteousness, peace and joy in the Holy Ghost; for it is only the joy of the Lord which gives strength."

The Thanksgiving service held at the First Presbyterian church yesterday morning was largely attended by worshippers, and the service was an inspiring one. The musical part of the service was in charge of Organist W. E. MacClymont and a choir of mixed voices. On the platform were seated Rev. C. E. Herring, Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes, Rev. Dr. G. W. Smith, Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D., of this city, and Rev. Charles E. Scudder, of Newark. The service opened with a prayer by Rev. Mr. Scudder, which was followed with Scripture reading by Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes. Another prayer was then offered by Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D. The sermon was delivered by Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass who took for his text, "They Thanked God and Took Courage." The speaker said that he thought everyone had great cause for thankfulness after passing through a year marked by a most peculiar crisis, and the people could now rejoice with the prospects of great prosperity. He mentioned with gratefulness the devout spirit with which the Chief Executive had issued the Thanksgiving proclamation, but gave prominence to the fact that the people owe their obedience to a Higher Power.

The speaker noted with feelings of gratefulness the increased spirit on the part of the people to assist the poor, and of the spirit of goodness which is growing in the Church of God. His remarks concerning the manner in which the people should appreciate the many gifts of God were listened to with considerable interest. At the close of the discourse Rev. Dr. G. W. Smith offered prayer and pronounced the benediction. During the service a collection was taken for the Plainfield Relief Association.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Leader, of Duer street, spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mrs. Leader's mother, Mrs. McKee, of Brooklyn.

SPANISH BOMB FOR LEE

An Attempt to Blow Up the U. S. Consul's Headquarters.

EXCITEMENT IN HAVANA

Gen. Lee Will Cause a Rigid Investigation to Be Made—Police Ridicule the Report—Cubans Fire a Volley at Gen. Blanco's Palace.

Havana, Nov. 26.—Consul-General Lee will cause a rigid investigation to be made into the attempt of the person or persons, whose identity is as yet undiscovered, to blow up the United States Consulate building.

The police have been working on the case, but their efforts have amounted to little, and they have not succeeded in throwing the least light on the mystery.

There is much excitement in the city over the affair, and every one is anxious to learn the details. The police are extremely reticent about the whole affair.

The act is supposed to have been the work of volunteers, who are greatly incensed over Blanco's new order, which sends many of them to fight.

Early Wednesday morning, while it was still dark, a watchman saw a man stooping in a corner of the doorway of the house in which the Consulate is located. His actions excited the suspicions of the watchman, who walked quickly toward him. The fellow immediately ran away.

GEN. FITZHUGH LEE.

The watchman, upon investigating, found a huge bomb in the doorway. Its fuse had not been lighted, and undoubtedly the quick action of the watchman saved the place.

The bomb was taken to the police. It has not been examined, nor will it be until the arrival of an expert from the Ordnance Department.

One arrest was made soon after the discovery of the bomb. The prisoner, however, explained the impossibility of his having any connection with the affair, and he was allowed to go.

Raid Near Blanco's Palace.

The news has been received of a raid by fifty insurgents, who went within rifle shot of Gen. Blanco's palace, where they remained more than two hours, looting several stores and a priest's house within a hundred yards of the Canavas fortress. This is looked upon as the most daring raid of the war.

The insurgents fired a volley across the narrow strip of water at Gen. Blanco's palace, and then retreated amid a tremendous fusilade. No one is known to have been killed. The attack had been well planned, and Gen. Blanco is greatly incensed because of the raid.

Gen. Blanco's shake-up of the police force throughout the island is causing considerable comment. The heads of the departments of police were nearly all changed, and whenever fraud or undue cruelty were discovered drastic measures were taken.

REAL CUBAN HEROES.

Choose Cabanas to Freedom and a Compromise with Spain.

Havana, Nov. 26.—After the order had been issued for the release of Gen. Rius Rivera and Col. Bacallao, who were captured by Gen. Hernandez de Velasco last March, both men were conducted to the palace.

Marshal Blanco received them and proposed that they should help to restore peace by assisting in the establishment of autonomy.

They declined to accept his proposition. He then requested them to make a formal compromise, and to agree not to take up arms again against Spain.

This also they refused, declaring, on the contrary, that when actually free they would return to the insurgent camp.

After this high-spirited reply they were promptly returned to Cabanas Fortress, where they now remain prisoners of war.

CUTTER BEAR STARTS.

Leaves Seattle to Rescue Crews of Ice-Bound Whaling Vessels.

Seattle, Nov. 26.—The revenue cutter Bear started yesterday on its errand of mercy in behalf of the ice-bound whalers in the Arctic Ocean.

Eight whaling vessels, carrying 250 men, are known to be hemmed in the ice floes. Lieut. Jarvis and Lieut. Berthalf will be Capt. Tuttle's assistants.

This is the first attempt ever made to penetrate the Arctic fastnesses in the Winter time from this point. Capt. Tuttle expects to reach Sledge Island with the Bear. From there a rescuing party will cross to Point Rodney, on the mainland. From Cape Prince of Wales reindeer will be used to penetrate into the real ice wastes.

Lieut. Jarvis will have charge of the land expedition. He expects to do a thousand miles of reindeer sledging in the search for the ice-bound whalers.

Fitzsimmons Nearly Knocked Out.

Topeka, Nov. 26.—Mike Conley came near knocking out Bob Fitzsimmons at the Crawford Opera House last night. An exhibition sparring bout between the champion and his boxing partner wound up the entertainment. At the end of the second round Fitzsimmons staggered back into his corner and into a chair. He clasped his hands to his heart, while the attendants pressed to his side and offered a bottle to him. He paid no attention to them. "It's gone," he groaned, "but the audience don't know it. I smiled and spit it out." The bout had cost him one of his teeth and the humiliation of being almost knocked out.

TO STOP IMMIGRATION.

Bureau Officers Believe It Should Be Temporarily Suspended.

New York, Nov. 26.—The possibility of the introduction at the coming session of Congress of a bill restricting or suspending immigration for the next ten years has caused considerable of a stir among the steamship companies here, and has awakened a lively agitation in favor of such a measure in certain quarters.

Those who most strongly recommend the advisability of at least temporarily stopping the tide of immigration to these shores are officers and employees generally of the immigration station at this port. This is particularly true of the members of the Board of Special Inquiry, who, perhaps, more than anybody else, know more of the character of the men and women who are daily flocking here from Europe.

The various men who comprise this board as citizens are outspoken in declaring that the interest of the country almost demands that some measure be adopted by Congress to keep out the alien paupers who are emigrating here in large numbers, and succeed in evading the restricting provisions of the law through various devices. The only remedy suggested is an absolute suspension of immigration for a long period.

When United States Senator Fairbanks visited the Barge Office in this city a week ago he expressed his astonishment at the low order of the great majority of the immigrants who were then passing through. Mr. Fairbanks is chairman of the Immigration Committee of the Senate, and the impressions which he received from his visit to the immigrants' quarters, he said, would be of immense value to him at the forthcoming session of Congress.

Secretary Gage and his assistant, Mr. Spaulding, and Commissioner-General Powderly have been investigating the immigration question very thoroughly during the past few months, and it is said that the Administration at Washington has decided upon its policy in the matter.

PULLMAN PORTER ARRESTED.

Accused of Attempting to Rob a Passenger of $42,000.

St. Louis, Nov. 25.—Lee Pitts, a colored Pullman porter living here, is a prisoner at the Four Courts on the charge of attempted robbery. A. E. Hill, a broker of Providence, R. I., says that Pitts tried to steal from his pocket an envelope containing $39,000 in certified checks and $3,000 in cash.

Hill was a passenger on the Baltimore & Ohio train which arrived in St. Louis from the East to-day. When it reached the Union station he caused the arrest of Pitts. At the Four Courts Mr. Hill related this story:

"Just after the train passed Odin, Ill., this morning, the porter pulled the curtains aside and reached into my berth. He took $10 out of my trousers pocket, and then thrust his hands into my inside pocket, where I had an envelope containing $42,000 in cash and checks. I awoke just in time to save the envelope. I grappled with the negro, and the encounter attracted the attention of the Pullman conductor, J. B. Hodges. He ordered the negro to return the $10 he had taken."

Mr. Hill is the owner of some lead and zinc mines at Joplin, and he is on his way there. He says he will remain in St. Louis long enough to push the prosecution.

CORBETT AND FITZ TO FIGHT?

Renewed Reports that the Pugilistic Will Meet in the Ring Again.

Buffalo, Nov. 26.—The following report that Fitzsimmons and Corbett would meet again in the ring was published by the Buffalo Express yesterday:

"Within ten days Corbett and Fitzsimmons will sign articles for another battle for the heavy-weight championship of the world."

This positive statement was made by William J. Connor, one of the most trusted agents of James J. Corbett, and William A. Brady, who is Corbett's manager.

"This statement is made on the authority of a letter which I have just received from headquarters," said Mr. Connor, "and it is positive and certain. I could tell you the time and place where the principals and their managers will meet, but for certain reasons I am not at liberty to do so until I receive permission from Mr. Brady. Fitzsimmons is now in St. Louis and Corbett is in New York, but they will get together within the time mentioned."

TWO LYNCHED IN GEORGIA.

Negro Strung Up for Assaulting a White Girl.

Waycross, Ga., Nov. 26.—The rattle of musketry which accompanied the lynching of a strange negro, could be heard in this city at 8 o'clock last night. At dark the negro called at the house of Eli Davis, a well-known planter, and found his 17-year-old daughter alone. He assaulted her in the most violent manner, leaving her for dead. Soon hounds were on his track, and he was caught near town, where he was hanged and his body was filled with buckshot.

Lynched for Mule Stealing.

Jesup, Ga., Nov. 26.—A determined party of men overtook a party of officers yesterday who were escorting a negro named Jerry Johnson to Screven Jail. They seized the prisoner, set him up on the road, and riddled him with bullets.

Johnson had stolen a mule from a farmer named Popham. Wednesday night he was arrested, and, upon trial before a magistrate yesterday morning, was committed to jail. Why lynching should have been resorted to under the circumstances is a mystery.

Mr. N. N. Osburn, well-known at Woodstock, Mich., was troubled with a lame back. He was persuaded to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It gave him relief in one night. This remedy is also famous for its cures of rheumatism. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Miss Emery, of Madison avenue, entertained a few of her friends Wednesday evening.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. The Remedy cured me, and I want all of my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will do them good. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, cor. of Park and North avenues.

The Greatest Discovery Yet.
W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

A Clever Trick.
It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has Lame Back and Weak Kidneys, Malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to the Liver and Kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures Constipation, Headache, Fainting Spells, Sleeplessness and Melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

William C. Marchant, of Yonkers, N. Y., was entertained yesterday by his daughter, Mrs. Horsely Barker, of Grove street.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. DREYFUS IS ALL THE TALK.

France Greatly Interested in the Mysterious Affair.

Paris, Nov. 26.—The Dreyfus affair continues to furnish a fruitful topic of conversation. It is asserted by friends of Count Esterhazy, who, it is said in some quarters, is himself guilty of selling the French military secrets to a foreign government, for which crime Capt. Dreyfus is now serving a life sentence, that he became entangled with the Dreyfus family through his efforts to learn who the guilty person really was. He employed Sir George Lewis, the well-known London solicitor, and instructed him to do his utmost to find out who it was who had sold the secret of the French defenses.

Sir George employed an American woman to act as a detective. She went to Paris and obtained lodgings in the house occupied by the porter of the German Embassy, it being said that Germany was the power that had purchased the secret information. The woman was instructed to make the acquaintance of the porter, and to elicit from him all the information he had of the case.

She learned that soon after Dreyfus was condemned the porter had heard military officers at the Embassy talking the matter over in an excited manner. He heard such words as "shameful" and "meanness," and the expression, "The Emperor ought to know that." Count Esterhazy's name was mentioned by the officers, and his alleged connection with the case was traced from their conversation.

VIENNA'S BEAR GARDEN.

The Uproar in the Reichsrath Yesterday Only Noise and Epithets.

(Cable Dispatch to the New York Sun.)

Vienna, Nov. 26.—The German opposition in the Reichsrath are stoutly disclaiming responsibility for the disgraceful scenes which took place in Wednesday night's sitting of that body. They maintain that the majority purposely excited the Leftists, and declare that the tumult in the House was prearranged by the majority.

When the sitting of the Reichstag was resumed yesterday the Deputies found that doors had been erected closing in all approaches to the tribune.

Herr von Abrahamovicz, the President, took the chair to call the Chamber to order, when the Leftists immediately resumed their obstructive tactics, howling, shouting and banging upon desks and hurling all sorts of epithets at the presiding officer, amid cries of "Shame!" The President tried to speak, but Herr Wolff shouted: "Some one else must take the chair, but not this swindler!" The Chamber was soon in a furious uproar, and the sitting was suspended until later in the day.

THORN TOLD O'BRIEN

He Offered to Reveal Everything About the Guldensuppe Murder.

A MYSTERIOUS STATEMENT

Capt. O'Brien Refused Steadfastly to Disclose the Fact of This Confidence When Lawyer Howe Cross-Examined Him at the Trial.

New York, Nov. 26.—"If you will promise me immunity from punishment or will let me plead guilty in a moderate degree, I am ready to tell all I know about the murder of William Guldensuppe."

This is the sense of the mysterious statement, until yesterday unrevealed, that Martin Thorn made to Capt. Stephen O'Brien at Police Headquarters the day after his arrest.

Capt. O'Brien, as reported in these dispatches, refused steadfastly to disclose the fact of this confidence when Mr. Howe cross-questioned him at Thorn's trial.

O'Brien had related in detail all that took place that morning at headquarters, when he questioned Thorn for two hours or more. But in the cross-examination of O'Brien on Wednesday Mr. Howe asked:

"What else did Thorn tell you?"

"I cannot reveal that," O'Brien replied. "Thorn did tell me more, but I gave him my word I would not disclose it."

Mr. Howe thought for several minutes, and then said:

"Well, Captain, under those circumstances, I cannot ask you to violate your word. I will not press the question further."

So O'Brien left the stand with a new mystery in the case.

The jurymen had waited patiently to see if O'Brien would be put upon the rack and made to disclose the statement reposed in confidence in him by the murderer, but nothing more was said.

Now, however, it is known that Thorn pleaded for clemency, knowing that the grip of the law was upon him. In his desperation he sought to save his own life by divulging the tale of the butchery of the bath rubber.

Capt. O'Brien could not promise the immunity or the clemency Thorn hoped to gain, so Thorn failed to account for his actions on the day of the murder.

That Thorn did offer to make some statement other than that which was dragged out of him by O'Brien's systematic questioning is evident from one bit of testimony the Captain gave. He stated on the witness stand that he had warned Thorn that whatever he disclosed would be used against him.

One phase presented by this disclosure of the confidential offer of Thorn to O'Brien is that O'Brien, in his official capacity as Captain of Police, received a confidence from a man accused of murder and then declined to reveal it when placed on the stand during the trial of that accused person.

The trial was resumed this morning at 9.30 o'clock, with a deeper, intenser interest. The great scenes of the trial—Augusta Nack testifying against Martin Thorn, John Gotha testifying against Martin Thorn, Herman Nack testifying against Augusta Nack, Martin Thorn testifying against Augusta Nack—are yet to be enacted.

Tommy Ryan Wins at Elmira.

Elmira, N. Y., Nov. 26.—Before the Maple Avenue Athletic Club last night Tommy Ryan, of Syracuse, fought Jim Ryan, of Australia. Ex-Champion Paddy Ryan, of Troy, was the referee. The first round started in lively, both men getting in body blows. Little damage was done. In the third round the Australian had the best of it, landing heavily on Tommy's stomach. A change occurred in the fourth, and Jim retired groggy to his corner. He was weak when he stepped to the centre in the fifth round. Tommy started in to finish his opponent. In one minute and twelve seconds he landed a stiff upper cut on Jim's left jaw, sending him to the floor and knocking out several teeth. He failed to raise and was counted out.

Swindler Gets Eight Years.

London, Nov. 26.—The trial of "Capt." James Henry Irvine Cruickshank, who was arrested in September upon a charge of defrauding Lady Randolph Churchill, her sisters, Mrs. Frewen and Mrs. Leslie, and a number of other ladies out of sums aggregating about $50,000, representing that that money was to be invested in an American railroad construction syndicate, took place in the Old Bailey Court yesterday.

Cruickshank pleaded guilty and was sentenced to eight years' imprisonment.

Congressional Library Opened.

Washington, Nov. 26.—The Congressional Library was opened to the public yesterday, and all who wished were given an opportunity to inspect the handsome building, although the reading room and offices were closed. It is estimated that many thousands of persons took advantage of the holiday to visit the building.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Rain Tonight; Saturday Clearing Weather; Decidedly Colder Saturday. At 2 o'Clock the Thermometer at Leggett's Pharmacy Registered 56 Degrees.

The Society of Friends in Plainfield has come out in opposition to the "present system of high licence to regulate and control the sale of spirituous and fermented liquors." This matter is to be voted on at the coming charter election. The Friends give as their reasons that the high licence liquor saloons are a menace to the moral well being of the citizens of Plainfield, especially its boys and young men; that the saloon impoverishes the homes of their patrons; that the licence system makes responsible for the evil involved in the liquor traffic, the citizens who votes for its continuance. The people of Plainfield have the issue plainly before them, and must decide for or against the present system.—Somerville Unionist Gazette.

A CLEVER MONOLOGIST.

Miss Beatrice Herford Was an Easy and Graceful Entertainer.

The audience that gathered in the Casino, Wednesday evening, listened to an entertainment that was worthy of a far larger attendance than was present. Miss Beatrice Herford, in her character monologues, was the principal entertainer, assisted by Miss Augustus Pemberton, a favorite Philadelphia singer. Miss Herford is a very clever young lady from Boston, who has struck out on an entirely original vein. She calls her entertainments monologues and so they are, in so far as she does them all by herself. Miss Herford impersonated one character and the others were left to the imagination of the audience. She did so in such a clever manner that her hearers had no difficulty in understanding the situation. She was really funny but not consciously though. She did everything with perfect ease and grace and proved a delightful entertainer. Miss Pemberton had a charming voice that was well appreciated.

First of the Star Course.

The first of the Star course of entertainments under the management of the Y. M. C. A., was given in Y. M. C. A. hall last evening. The attraction of the evening was Judge William B. Green, whose humorous selections proved a source of great merriment to the audience. A special hit was scored by his imitation of a schoolboy's rendering of Whittier's poem, "Barbara Fretchie," which was given with perfect art. Mr. and Mrs. Charles L. Thompson, assisted by an accompanist, gave a clever exhibition of necromancy.

Dr. Riggs Called.

The Rev. Dr. James F. Riggs, a professor of Rutger's College, has received a call to the pastorate of the Brick Presbyterian Church at East Orange. He has not yet decided whether he will accept the call or not. It will be remembered with pleasure that Dr. Riggs has lectured in Plainfield many times, and has also occupied the pulpit at Trinity Reformed Church. He has been preaching for several months at Brick Church, and has won many friends and admirers. He has been offered a salary at $5,000.

Special Meetings

A series of gospel meetings will commence tonight in the Seventh-Day Baptist church, Central avenue and Fifth street, under the leadership of Evangelist E. B. Saunders, of Milton, Wis. He is also the official head of the organized Endeavor Work of the denomination. A cordial invitation to attend these meetings is hereby extended to everyone.

Their Annual Camp Dinner.

The members of the Point Breeze Camp, many of whom live in Plainfield, are arranging to enjoy their annual camp dinner. It will be given in New York, and H. D. Brewster, W. J. Roome and B. A. Hegemen, Jr., have the matter in charge. It will probably be an elaborate affair.

—November 8th The Press published a story concerning the death of Abraham Snyder at Chimney Rock, which, it is now stated by those who were present at the time, was slightly inaccurate. It is stated that Mr. Snyder's illness was not due to dissipation and that he got very good care while he was prostrated.

DEFEAT ENDED SEASON.

SAN REMO FOOTBALL TEAM WERE VICTORIOUS YESTERDAY.

A Demoralized Eleven Represented Plainfield, Though the Battle Was Hard Fought—The Line Up and the Score.

The first defeat of its career ended the season for the football eleven of the Plainfield Athletic Association, yesterday. Their victorious opponents were the San Remo team of the New York Athletic Club, the old rivals of the Plainfield team, and they won by a score of 12 to 0, after a hard fought game on Martine common.

It was a badly demoralized team that lined up for Plainfield. The plans of the management for the strongest team of the year had been unsuccessful and fully half of the team, that had been expected to represent Plainfield on the gridiron, was unable to play for one reason or another. The Yale men who had been counted on were unable to play, owing to a request of the faculty that no 'varsity men should take part in outside games. Hallock and Freeman were ill. Milne was detained for other reasons. Lewis and Saltzman were out of town. Harry L. McGee played behind the line at full back and proved a blessing. His long low punts saved the home team many yards and he ran well and tackled well. His fellow workers, Smith and Cathcart, did great work.

The visitors were considerably strengthened since the Election Day game when Plainfield tied them. They proved themselves gentlemen and thorough sportmen for the game was a remarkably clean one throughout and there was an absence of slugging and scrapping on the part of both teams. The visitors showed a better offensive game than Plainfield and the greater weight of their line combined with excellent team work finally won them the game.

The field was in very poor condition, being extremely muddy and slippery. Many a pretty play was spoilt by a slip in the mud. Despite the damp weather, fully five hundred people crowded along the sidelines to witness the contest.

Plainfield had the eastern goal to defend in the first half and had the kickoff. It was easy to see that the teams were well matched but the superior team play of the visitors began to tell. McGee was called on several times to punt and he kicked the ball well out of danger. Luters kicked too high and Waring, catching one of his punts, ran twenty-five yards before being downed. The ball moved up and down the field, Plainfield gaining every time on the kicks. At last San Remo pushed Plainfield down the field slowly but surely. Every inch of ground was stubbornly contested. At last the ball was carried to Plainfield's three-yard line and Zimm dived through the line to be downed by Serrell behind the line. Luters kicked the goal. Score: San Remo, 6; Plainfield, 0. The fight was continued without advantage for either side until the end of the first half.

In the second half, Plainfield braced up and forced the fighting for a time. The local team was at last compelled to stand on the defensive, and the Plainfield line shook sadly under the repeated plunges of the New York backs. The lack of practice on the part of the Plainfield boys was evident, but they did some great work. The centre trio did brilliant work and made many pretty tackles. Those three men were in every play. The fight grew hotter and both sides played their best. Step bp step Plainfield was forced to her goal and just fifteen seconds before time was called Mitchell was pushed over the line for a touchdown. Luters kicked the goal. That ended the game. Score: San Remo, 12; Plainfield, 0.

The teams lined up as follows:

Plainfield A. A.		San Remo.
Serrell	right end	Freess
Huntington	right tackle	O'Donnell Zimm
Brown	right guard	Carr, O'Donnell
Cuming	centre	Morris
McClure	left guard	Clark, Gillam
Ryder	left end	Mitchell McMillen
Waring	quarterback	deCasanova
Cathcart	right halfback	Zimm Mitchell
Smith	left halfback	Luters
McGee	fullback	Wenck

Time of Game—halves of 25 and 20 minutes; touchdowns—Zimm, 1, Mitchell, 1; goals from touchdowns—Luters, 2; referee—Roger F. Erickson, of Plainfield; umpire—H. D. Brennan, of New York; linesmen—T. J. Steen, of New York, and A. Willis West, of Plainfield; timekeepers—L. T. Carr, of New York, Harry Lovell, of Plainfield, and Raymond A. McGee, of Yale University.

A KIND SPIRIT FLOWN.

The Community Loses a Good Christian Woman.

In the death of Mrs. Thomas E. Warman, of 104 Grove street, which occurred last Tuesday morning, this vicinity loses a most valued resident. She had been a great sufferer from asthma for the past twenty years, which had so reduced her strength that a slight cold taken last week brought about complications which in her weakened condition she could not withstand, and her death was rather unexpected.

Mrs. Warman was well known to many residents of this city and her kindness to fellow-sufferers will long be remembered. She was an active worker in benevolent and charitable institutions, and her visits to Muhlenberg Hospital and the Children's Home were looked upon with pleasure to herself and to those with whom she came in contact. She was a steadfast worker and earnest believer in the Episcopal church, which faith she adopted at an early age, and she was a member of the Church of the Holy Cross, where she was accepted by letter some twenty years ago. Her husband and two daughters are the only surviving members of the family.

The funeral services were held at her late home, 104 Grove street, this afternoon, Rev. T. Logan Murphy, her pastor, officiating. There was a large attendance of friends and acquaintances. Interment was in Hillside cemetery.

Everything Will Be Thirteen.

A thirteen social will be held in the First Methodist church Thursday evening, which promises to be a unique affair. It will begin at 8:13 o'clock, an admission fee of 13 cents will be charged, the programme will consist of thirteen on a side, and ice cream will be served at thirteen cents a plate.

The three-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros. of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

Revival Do Not Seem to Decrease at Grace M. E. Church.

Though the weather last night was unfavorable it did not seem to interfere with the attendance at the praise service held in Grace M. E. church. There was a most gratifying attendance and the entire congregation felt in the spirit of praise.

A great many remained to the after-meeting which followed, and ere long two souls were seeking at the altar, and later professed to having found peace. Wednesday evening, also, there were two earnest seekers.

There will be no service in this church tomorrow night.

CORPORATION NOTICE.

SEWER ASSESSMENTS

SECOND NOTICE.

The subscriber, the Collector of Taxes of the City of Plainfield, hereby gives notice, pursuant to Section 25 of the Act of the Legislature entitled "An act to provide for drainage and sewerage in cities of this state," approved April 7, 1890, and the amendments thereof and supplements thereto, that unless the assessments hereinafter specified, with interest thereon at the rate of one per centum per month, and all costs and fees, shall be paid to the subscriber at his office, No. 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J., within thirty days after the first publication of this (being the second) notice, the subscriber will on Tuesday, the 7th day of December, eighteen hundred and ninety-seven, at his said office, No. 109 Park avenue, Plainfield, N. J., between the hours of one and five o'clock in the afternoon, that is to say, at two o'clock in the afternoon of that day, proceed to make sale of and sell at public auction the several parcels of land and real estate upon which the said assessment shall remain due and unpaid, being those hereinafter particularly described, for the lowest term of years, but in no case exceeding fifty years, for which any person will take the same and pay the amount of such assessment, with the interest thereon as aforesaid, and all costs and fees, including the expense of advertisement and sale.

The assessments above referred to are the assessments made by the Commissioners of Assessments of the City of Plainfield heretofore appointed under the ordinance entitled "An ordinance to provide for the appointment of Commissioners of Assessments under Chapter CXLI. P. L. 1895," approved April 25th, 1896, containing the assessments of damages and benefits or expenses, as the case may be, for the making and constructing of sewers and appurtenances (including house connections), under and by virtue of the Act of the Legislature entitled "An act to provide for drainage and sewerage in cities of this State," approved April 7th, 1890, and acts amendatory thereof and supplemental thereto, and ordinances of said city entitled "An ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage," approved July 25th, 1894; and a further ordinance to provide for the construction of a system of sewerage, approved June 21st, 1895, and the ordinance hereinabove first mentioned and other proceedings of the Common Council had under said acts of the Legislature, said assessment and the report of said commissioners covering the whole of said system of sewerage already completed, that is to say: the making and constructing of sewers and appurtenances (including house connections) in streets and parts of streets mentioned in said report, and the construction of sewerage disposal beds and appurtenances, which said report and assessment were ratified and confirmed by the Common Council of said City on the twenty-eight day of December, A. D. 1896, and a brief abstract of said assessments showing the name of the owner or owners, when known, a brief description of said lands and real estate, and the amount of unpaid assessments due thereon, is as follows, (the maps referred to in said descriptions being that certain set of maps numbered from 1 to 24, both inclusive, and from 101 to 123, both inclusive, each map being marked "Sewer Construction Assessment Map, dated Dec. 7, 1896," and filed in the office of the Collector of Taxes December 7, 1896, and referred to by said Commissioners of Assessments in their said report and assessment.)

good qualities are easily determined from the poor. The solid chunks that are free from slate is the coal that brings the biggest prices. Crumbling coal is the kind that makes the dust and it's the kind you get when you are not careful where you buy. We sell the honest, solid coal for the price you've paid for the other sort.

evidently, and the business should be done by all means. Buildings require paint. Of course a house may be left unpainted and left to become weatherbeaten and a wreck. That doesn't pay, though; it's much cheaper to paint, and our paints in all colors are the best in the market for durability under the most trying conditions. They are well adapted to our exposure and we sell everything in the line of paints and painters' supplies at short prices.

M'KINLEY IS CAUTIOUS

He Will Make No Radical Move for Currency Reform.

GUARDED IN HIS MESSAGE

Secretary Gage May Speak More Boldly and Tell What He Refused to Tell in New York—Opposition of the Silver Men.

Washington, Nov. 26.—Secretary Gage's speech at the New York Chamber of Commerce dinner on the necessity of currency reform has created much discussion in Washington regarding the forthcoming views of the Administration. Mr. Gage carefully avoided any recommendation or positive statement of policy in order not to anticipate the President's message to Congress and his own report.

Most members in the city agree that the currency needs readjusting, but they also are firmly convinced that there can be no currency legislation so long as the Senate is in the hands of a silver majority. There is a feeling in Administration circles, however, that something may be accomplished by a moderate presentation of the currency question, which will commend itself to respectful discussion. It is recognized that no change such as the retirement of the greenbacks need be recommended, and as to funding the greenbacks in low interest bonds, that is an equal impossibility. The opposition of the silver men is admitted to be logical from their viewpoint as advocates of fiat money.

Must Speak Cautiously.

In attempting to meet this discouraging situation the President and his Secretary of the Treasury feel called upon to exercise great caution in the presentation of their arguments. The President has neglected no opportunity since his inauguration faithfully to carry out the pledges of the campaign. interest, and he has recommended the He has counseled with every influential appointment of a commission to deal with financial evils. The fact that Congress, in part, thought proper to disregard his suggestion does not abate any of his ardor.

At the same time, he cannot avoid recognition of the fact that prosperity has returned, and still is returning, and that much of the apprehension felt a year ago has disappeared. The President realizes also that the progress of prosperity may be retarded. Conditions are likely to arise in the present unguarded condition of the reserve which would cause trouble, and he does not fail to appreciate the dangers which might be caused by war rumors or sudden conflict with some foreign nation. Such a calamity instantly would precipitate a run upon the Government's stock of gold.

Confidence of the People.

Members of the Cabinet are gratified by the consciousness that the people of the United States, without regard to party, seem extremely well disposed towards President McKinley and willing to give his advice fair hearing. There has yet been but little criticism of any of his acts.

As evidence of the remarkable sympathy with the present Administration, it is pointed out that the criticism which formerly was vented on account of Cuban affairs has disappeared. The McKinley policy has had also the conciliatory assistance of the Sagasta Ministry.

Much of the President's message has been outlined for him in the reports of his chief advisers, but there are many delicate touches to be put upon it. To this most important work Mr. McKinley will now address himself with great earnestness after the holiday of Thanksgiving.

Secretary Gage will be allowed more latitude in discussing the financial question than the President will take for himself, but there will be the most perfect harmony in their views.

TRIPLE MURDER BY AN INDIAN.

Killed His Wife and Child and a Would-Be Rescuer.

Duluth, Mich., Nov. 26.—Word has just reached here of a shocking Indian murder that took place on the Fon du Lac Reservation, forty miles north of here. A Chippewa half-breed named John Anamasin, crazed with liquor and in a fit of drunken rage, attacked his wife and threw her on the floor, where he beat and kicked her into unconsciousness.

When Anamasin had finished his work another Indian by the name of Peterson, who happened to be passing the house, broke into the room and attempted to protect the prostrate woman. Anamasin seized a heavy club and turned his atention to Peterson, knocked him down and literally pounded his head into a pulp. He then took the body and threw it into a creek near by, and, returning to the house, saturated the floor of the room in which his wife and child lay with kerosene and applied the match.

A number of neighboring Indians by this time became aware that something was wrong, and, breaking into the house, succeeded in getting the woman and child out, but the rescuers barely escaped with their lives. Both Mrs. Anamasin and the child died within a half hour after being taken from the house.

A squad of Indian police has captured Anamasin.

Girls as Church Ushers.

Trenton, Nov. 26.—The Rev. Maurice Penfield Fikes, of the First Baptist Church, has introduced in his church a novel feature in the form of girl ushers. Last Sunday was the first time that the experiment was tried. It was necessary to set chairs in the aisles to accommodate the crowd. When the girls started for the money they got it. When counted, there was nearly $300 to add to the treasury of the church.

The innovation made by Pastor Fikes does not, however, meet with the approval of his brother preachers.

Steerage Rates to Advance.

Berlin, Nov. 26.—The North German Lloyd Steamship Company and the Hamburg Packet Company announce that from Sunday, Nov. 28, the rate for steerage passengers on their lines to New York will be 150 marks.

The present charge for transportation in the steerage on the Hamburg-American line is, by express steamer, $38.50; by regular steamer, $36, a little over 112 marks.

GOLF.

Yesterday morning on the links of the Hillside Tennis and Golf Club handicap foursomes occupied the attention of the members of the club and a great number were interested in the result. Two handsome silver cups were offered as prizes, and it is doubtful if there has been any more exciting contest on the links during the season than that of yesterday morning. The two cups were won by W. T. Kaufman and F. W. Walz after a spirited contest. Below will be found the scores in full:

In the afternoon there took place the long distance driving contest. There was great interest in this event, and there were some fifteen entries. J. H P. Wharton was the lucky member to win the contest. His first drive was 163 yards, 6 inches, and the second was 170 yards and 8 inches, while the last drive was 175 yards, 1 foot and 8 inches. Mr. Wharton was thereupon awarded the cup which was offered as a prize.

The rest of the afternoon was devoted to play by individual members, who sought the game for the mere pleasure. This practically ends the golf season, and it is not likely there will be any more match plays or contests.

BASKET BALL.

Two interesting basket ball games id Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, yesterday afternoon. The game between the Students' and Junior teams was played in fifteen minutes halves, and resulted in a victory for the Juniors by the score 16 12. A game was also played between the business men's and the evening teams, in which some very quick passing was done. The game was won by the score 16 4.

Entertained His Shopmates.

THE TWILIGHT MASQUERADE.

Gay Costumes and Happy Dancers Made it a Great Success.

The masquerade ball of the Twilight Social Club was held in the Crescent Rink, Wednesday evening, amid all the glamour of the bright lights and the gay and startling costumes. All sorts of characters appeared on the floor behind the impenetrable masks.

The grand march did not begin until 11 o,clock, owing to the burning out of a fuse and the consequent extinguishing of all the electric lights. The new fuse had to be sent for and put in place. The march was headed by the committee in gorgeous costumes of cavaliers. Over 150 couples followed them.

Then followed waltz and two-step, quadrille and lanciers, and the strange characters with their expressionless masks, were all animation. At 1 o'clock came the removing of the masks and the numerous surprises that were attendant on it. A turkey supper was then served of which the dancers partook. The dancing continued until morning. The committee in charge of the ball was composed of F. S. Moore, E. C. Searing Theo. Smith and Louis Feiring. Moore and Smith had charge of the floor. The ball proved to be a success financially as well as otherwise.

THEATRICAL.

Theatre goers should be delighted to know that they are to have a visit from that eminent artist, Miss Kate Claxton, who will present an elaborate revival of D'Ennery's famous idol, the "Two Orphans," which is to be produced for one night only at the Stillman Music Hall Nov. 29th with a cast which for strength and balance has never been excelled.

Henry E. Dixey, in magic and mirth, will appear in Music Hall Saturday evening, December 4th.

Wedded in St. Mary's Church.

The marriage of Miss Margaret J. Culliney, of 501 Monroe avenue, and Charles J. McCarty, an employe for the past nine years of George W. Eddy, the West End butcher, took place yesterday afternoon at 4 o'clock at St. Mary's church on Liberty street in the presence of a large number of friends and relatives. A reception followed last evening at 501 Monroe avenue where the bride and groom will reside in the future. The marriage ceremony was performed by Rev. Father Smyth, rector of the church.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

Aaron Kline, of Chicago, is visiting Plainfield friends and acquaintances.

John Redmond, of Washington, D. C., has returned home after a visit with Messrs. Daley, of Manning avenue.

Mrs. Vanderbilt and daughter, of Baptisttown, N. J., is spending a few days with her sister, Mrs. R. O. Howell, of Westervelt avenue.

Charles Schermerhorn and wife, of West Front street, enjoyed the festivities of Thanksgiving Day with Mr. Schermerhorn's brother at Trenton.

E. Z. Penfield, of Port de Paix, Hati, arrived in the city last evening on a visit to his mother, Mrs. R. P. Penfield and Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Struthers, of 819 College Place.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—The Greenwood Evangelists will conduct an experience meeting this evening in the Presbyterian church at Westfield.

—Harry Jessup, of West Front street, sang several solos very acceptably at the East Third Street Mission last evening.

—Joseph Bennett, who has been confined to the hospital for several days, was able to go home yesterday. Albert Lee is improving, and his recovery is now assured.

—Mayor C. J. Fisk remembered the members of the fire and police departments yesterday by presenting each one with a fine turkey. They all appreciated the beneficence of His Honor.

THANKSGIVING IN WASHINGTON.

How the President and Cabinet Spent the Day at the Capital.

Washington, Nov. 26.—Thanksgiving Day was generally observed in Washington. The Federal departments, as well as District offices, public schools and banks were closed. Many of the leading business houses suspended business for the entire day, while those that remained open during the morning hours generally closed at noon.

The day at the White House was spent quietly. The President and his household were free from the affairs of official life, as the mansion was strictly closed to all except social visitors. President McKinley, accompanied by Mrs. McKinley, their niece, Miss Barber, and Mrs. Smith, daughter of ex-President Hayes, attended church in the morning.

As stated the other day, the Cabinet circle generally observed the day in Washington, the only member who was out of town being Secretary Long and family, who took a delightful trip down the Potomac. The Secretary of the Navy has not opened a regular establishment in Washington, having a flat at the Portland House.

Secretary Bliss rather unexpectedly came to Washington from New York, accompanied by his family, arriving here Wednesday night.

Secretary Gage, who went to New York to attend the Chamber of Commerce banquet, returned early yesterdal morning and spent the day with his family.

In the afternoon there were numerous football games, the sport being still in vogue here Thanksgiving Day, although it has generally been superseded in many Northern cities as a Thanksgiving Day feature. The games were well attended.

The weather in Washington was cloudy and quite cold, but it did not interfere with the many concerts and entertainments and family gatherings which had been arranged for Thanksgiving night.

Runaway Bank Clerk Returns.

New York, Nov. 26.—Donald McClelland, clerk of the Bronx Borough Bank, at 731 Tremont avenue, who disappeared on Nov. 22 with $2,500 of the bank's money, was arrested in this city last night and locked up at Police Headquarters. He had been to Chicago and had returned to give himself up. He had notified the police what train he would take, and they met it at the station.

McClelland is about 23 years old, and up to a few weeks ago was believed to be a model young man. He was a member of the Presbyterian church in West Chester, taught a Sunday-school class, sang in the choir, and was a member of the Young People's Christian Endeavor Society. In addition to this he belonged to the Total Abstinence Society of St. Peter's Episcopal Church.

Trying to Settle the British Strike.

London, Nov. 26.—The entire time of yesterday's sitting of the conference between the federated employers and the striking engineers was occupied in discussion of the amendment submitted by the representatives of the engineers yesterday to the employers' resolution defining their freedom of management in workshops without outside interference. The conference had arrived at no decision upon the amendment when the sitting adjourned.

The Hawaiian Minister Returns.

Washington, Nov. 26. — Minister Hatch, of Hawaii, who has returned to Washington after a long absence, brings confirmation of the reports that the differences between his Government and that of Japan have reached a basis insuring amicable adjustment. He believes that there will be no opposition of any weight to the annexation of the islands, and looks forward to the ultimate ratification of the pending treaty.

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—P. A. B. Widener, the street railway magnate, has bought the portrait of Pope Julius II., by Raphael, a picture on wood, 58 centimetres high and 45 centimetres broad.

It was painted in 1509, and descended through the following collections: Victoria Della Rovere, Casa Ferdinand II. de Medici, Marquise Ardeti, Signor E. Bajoochi, all in Rome, and Baron von Leyden, Herr Van Vlaardingen, Holland, from whom Mr. Widener secured it.

The price paid is $100,000. It will be presented, with his other pictures, to the new gallery in Fairmount Park Philadelphia.

YESTERDAY'S FOOTBALL GAMES.

Pennsylvania Defeats Cornell in a Hard-Fought Battle.

Philadelphia, Nov. 26.—The University of Pennsylvania and the Cornell football teams played their annual Thanksgiving game on Franklin Field yesterday afternoon.

The betting was very quiet. The Quakers bet even money that Cornell would not score. It was well-nigh impossible to get any one to bet that Cornell would win, and the few wagers that were made on the Ithacans were with heavy odds on Pennsylvania.

When the teams lined up about twenty thousand spectators were on the field. Pennsylvania ran on the field at 2.02 o'clock, followed by Cornell.

Cornell won the toss for selection of goal, and selected the east end, having a slight advantage over the southeast wind thereby.

The Quakers were surprised at the remarkable showing made by Cornell at the start, and when time was called for the first half the ball was in Pennsy's thirty-yard line, the score being: Pennsylvania, 0; Cornell, 0.

Not a cheer was raised by the discouraged Quakers between halves. Woodruff urged his men to play a hard game in the second half, and strive to wind the Cornellians.

Cornell's play in the first half showed the eleven to be the best ever turned out by Ithaca, and fully equal to Harvard.

The second half started at 3.13 o'clock, and was a fast and hard-fought battle to the finish. The Quakers had the advantage of the wind, but wet ground made long runs dangerous.

When time was called the ball was in midfield.

Final score: Pennsylvania, 4; Cornell, 0.

Lafayette, 22; Lehigh, 0.

South Bethlehem, Nov. 26.—Lafayette and Lehigh played a spirited game of football here yesterday afternoon before a tremendous crowd. Lehigh went in the fight to keep Lafayette's score below that of the first game this season, and did so. Lafayette played without Walbridge, her star halfback, and in consequence was weakened by the displacing of her line, Duffey going to halfback and Chalmers taking his place at tackle. Weidenmeyer was called on to do star work, and came up to the demand every time. He played a beautiful game. Shortly after the contest opened he got the ball for a run around the end and made thirty yards, carrying the ball dangerously near the Lehigh line. The latter made a brave stand and kept their opponents off for a time, but Weidenmeyer finally went through for touchdown. Rinehart kicked a goal.

In the next play there was some kicking of the ball on both sides, Lehigh resorting to this to keep the ball from her goal line. Weidenmeyer, however, plunged through the centre for fifteen yards and a touchdown, from which Rinehart kicked a goal. The half ended: Lafayette, 12; Lehigh, 0.

Lehigh braced up in the second half, and for ten minutes it was a pretty exhibition. Then Weidenmeyer, by a succession of short runs, aided by good interference by Rinehart, Boyd and Herr, scored a touchdown, Rinehart kicking the goal. There was another touchdown made by Werthington fifteen minutes later, bringing the score up to 22.

The try at goal failed and the game ended: Lafayette, 22; Lehigh, 0.

MICHAEL AN EASY WINNER.

Welsh Cycling Wonder Too Much For Starbuck.

New York, Nov. 26.—Scalps are no new things with little Jimmy Michael, the Welsh racing wonder. He got another last evening from Frank Starbuck, the Quaker, defeating him roundly in a twenty-five-mile paced race in Madison Square Garden before the largest crowd ever gathered in the amphitheatre to witness a bicycle race.

At the end of the contest the diminutive flyer was a trifle over two miles in the lead, Starbuck having fallen behind continually after the second mile, when he led for two laps. The winner's time was 50m. 29 1-5s., which is pretty fast traveling, although not near the record.

The track was nine laps to the mile, and the manner in which the principals and their pacing men flew around the corners was enough to make one's hair stand on end. Women held their breath, men looked serious and the younger element cheered when the turns were made, and when the cracks flew up the straights everybody seemed in duty bound to shout. It was a great night for the sport of cycling. It established beyond any doubt that racing on wheels has found a warm place in the hearts of those who love a contest in which a steady nerve, muscle and speed win applause.

At the end of the race Michael was going like a streak, while Starbuck, over two miles in the rear, pedaled as if he had no interest in the contest whatever.

The fastest mile was the ninth, which was covered in 1.57 2-5. The second mile, when Starbuck led, was done in 2.05 1-5. The winner received $1,400 for his fifty minutes' work and the loser got $600. Each man had the privilege of using as many pacemakers as he desired, and each had about thirty, mounted on tandems and triplets.

Blizzard in Nebraska.

Omaha, Neb., Nov. 26.—Last evening the mercury dropped to zero, and a fearful gale from the northwest swept fine particles of snow in every direction throughout Nebraska.

The snow is piling up in huge drifts in the streets, impeding all kinds of traffic. Out in the State the situation is even worse.

In the extreme western part of the State the fiercest sort of a blizzard exists, and more damage is threatened to stock interests than at any time this Fall.

Durrant May Die Soon.

San Francisco, Nov. 26.—Assistant Attorney-General Carter will appear in the Supreme Court to-morrow and ask that the stay of execution in the case of Blanche Lamont's murderer, Durrant, be vacated. If this motion is granted, Durrant will be taken before Judge Bohrs on Monday and again sentenced to death. Fifteen days will be allowed to the murderer before he is hanged.

It is probable that he will die before Jan. 1, as his attorneys have exhausted every resource to save him.

NOTICE TO ALL INTERESTED IN UP-TO-DATE LAUNDRY WORK.

We run the laundry and take care of all details, but you "boss" it. We do what you tell us to do. It may give you a new sensation to find that you get a domestic finish when you ask for it, and to discover that your collars are actually ironed in the way that the maker intended them to be ironed.

We are running a laundry with the most improved methods and appliances. We use pure water and good soap. We are using two things that are not commonly used in laundries—care and intelligence. If you have found a laundry that pleases you perfectly, we have nothing to say to you. If you have any reason to be dissatisfied, we would like to give you a practical demonstration of our way of running a laundry.

Tell us where and when to call for your work, when you want it delivered, and let us know any particular thing that you would like to have done with it.

We want you to understand that we are running this laundry for you, and that your wishes are to be regarded in every particular. We will give you just exactly what you want, if we can find out what that is. Perhaps you believe that it is impossible to have your laundry well handled without irritation and annoyance to you. We are sure that you are mistaken. May we have an opportunity of demonstrating it?

NEEDN'T PAY FOR A COAT

POLICEMAN LUNGER, THE DEFENDANT, GETS THE VERDICT.

Several Other Policemen Interested in the Matter—It was Proven to the Satisfaction of the Jury that the Coats Leaked.

The case of Creamer & Goodman, manufacturers of rubber goods, against Policeman George W. Luuger, was tried by a jury of six men in Justice Mosher's court, yesterday afternoon. After listening to the testimony of the witnesses and the arguments of counsel the jury found a verdict for the defendant after five minutes' deliberation.

The trial was an amusing one throughout, and the passages at arms between the opposing lawyers and between them and the witnesses, kept the crowd that packed the court room in a state of continual merriment.

Policeman Lunger purchased four rubber storm coats of Creamer & Goodman, last July, for himself and Policemen Vanderweg, Higgins and Fraleigh. The coats were guaranteed not to leak.

After using them a short time the policemen returned the garments with the complaint that they would not shed water. The firm claimed that it was impossible for the coats to leak, and immediately returned them to this city. They then brought action against Lunger to compel payment for the coats. City Judge DeMeza represented Creamer & Goodman, and S. S. Swackhamer appeared for the defense.

Merle F. Legge, an expert in rubber goods, was placed upon the stand by the plaintiffs to prove that the coats did not leak. To prove his contention to the satisfaction of the jury, Mr. Legge suspended one of the coats over a pail of water and filled the coat with water. Lawyer Swackhamer objected to this and raised a laugh by putting forth the argument that the coats were not bought for the purpose of carrying water in them.

The defense introduced as witnesses Policemen Lunger, Vanderweg, Higgins, Mattox, Saunders, Kiely, Totten, McCarty, Myers and Fredrickson, all of whom testified that the coats in question had leaked when worn in a shower by the officers. Each witness had to run the gauntlet of Judge DeMeza's cross questioning, and not one escaped unscathed.

The jury, composed of Henry H. Jessup, Charles M. Ulrich, Charles C. Lister, Michael Coyne, George Huff and R. F. Hazard, was only five minutes in reaching a verdict.

PULLED 150 CARS.

Central Railroad Locomotive Put to a Severe Test.

Yesterday afternoon on the Central Railroad a test was made to ascertain if an engine could pull 150 coal cars. Heretofore the highest number drawn was 130, and it was confidently believed that 150 could be taken behind an engine. No. 363 was the engine used, and the run was from Phillipsburg to Jersey City. In the caboose were Superintendent of Engineers, Mr. Beck, J. H. Ohlhausen and W H. Peddie. They were highly pleased with the result of the experiment and, no doubt, in the future the coal engines will take the above number of cars on a trip. The train yesterday was about a half-mile in length.

MINISTERS TO EXPLAIN.

Clergy Want the Voters to Understand the License Proposition.

The Ministers' Association of this city has decided to take a part in the coming campaign that is to precede the charter election of December 7th. The reason for the action is the proposition that is to be voted upon at the election, the question of prohibition or license for the local saloons. The association will hold a mass meeting at Music Hall Sunday afternoon, Dec. 5th. Aaron M. Powell will be the chairman of the meeting and will make an address. There will be several other speakers.

To Attend Divine Service.

A Thanksgiving Service.

The Christian Endeavor Society of the Park Avenue Baptist church held a special Thanksgiving service in the chapel last evening. It was led by Miss Cora Richardson. Owing to the storm, the attendance was not very large.

Remains Steadfast.

JUST HELPED THEMSELVES.

THE BARTENDER WAS TOO SLOW.

Firemen Took Possession of a Metuchen Hotel and Ran Things to Suit Themselves.

The New York Tribune this morning publishes the following from New Brunswick:

"A mob of Princeton firemen took forcible possession of the Hotel Brunswick in Metuchen Thursday evening. They ousted Rudolph Becker, the proprietor, and his bartender and took charge of the bar.

"When Mercer Hose Company, of Princeton, uncovered a memorial tablet on Princeton battlefield some time ago, a Plainfield company was entertained at Princeton. The Plainfield men returned the compliment by inviting a large number of the Princeton men to a Thanksgiving Day celebration at Plainfield.

"They went to Metuchen by train and then drove to Plainfield. They planned to make the return trip in the same way. When they reached Metuchen, homeward bound, they were looking for fun. They had to wait nearly two hours for a train, and they decided to put it in at the Hotel Brunswick. They swarmed into the hotel barroom, pushed the regular patrons to one side and began calling for drinks. The attendants did not respond fast enough to suit the thirsty men, and, going behind the bar, they began to help themselves. Resistence was useless. The protests of the hotel men were laughed at, and they were told that the best way for them to avoid trouble was to keep quiet. In ten minutes, without any fighting or bloodshed, the hotel was in the hands of the enemy. Becker could do nothing but stand one side and see his wines and liquors disposed of. The town of the Metuchen has no police force, and the village constable and his deputy could do nothing. Relief did not come until the midnight train carried the invaders to Princeton. This morning Becker received a note from the Princeton firemen, in which they stated that if he would send his bill it would be paid in full.

THEY ARE TRUE TO G O.P.

THE "REPRESENTATIVE" COLORED VOTERS PASS RESOLUTIONS.

Colored Republican Ward Heelers Insist That the Mass of Their Race Will Support the Present Administration.

The colored voters of this city are apparently an unknown quantity in this year's campaign, and each passing day seems to make a deeper enigma of the question of how to control them, which the political managers of both sides are studying.

In years past the colored voters of this city have been considered as solidly Republican, but early in the present campaign signs of dissatisfaction appeared among them. First came the demand for the nomination of a colored Councilman-at-large, and when this was denied by the G. O. P. managers, the disaffection grew until it culminated in the meeting of colored citizens last Monday night, which expressed its indignation at the bad faith and broken promises of the Republican leaders, and appointed a committee to make overtures and offers of support to the committe in charge of the Citizens' movement.

Last night a new phase occurred in the situation. A meeting of colored voters was held in the headquarters of the Republican Association on East Front street and endorsed the Republican candidates. The attendance was not very large, but those present claimed to be the leaders of the colored voters of the city, and repudiated the insinuation that there was a suspicion of disloyalty to Republicanism among the rank and file of their people. William Mayhew acted as chairman of the meeting, and William Cline as secretary. A committee consisting of Alonzo Hill, William A. Cline, William Fisher, Edgar McCray, Frank Nelson, James Babbitt, Jacob Dunham, Abram Brown, William Downs, James Scott, John Scott, William Mayhew, L L Croom and Fred Ellerson, was appointed to draft a resoultion expressing the sentiments of the meeting. They reported the following resolution, which was adopted unanimously:

WHEREAS, A committee of colored voters waited on the Citizens' committee and pledged the support of the colored voters of the city of Plainfield to the Citizens' ticket; and

WHEREAS, This action was undertaken without the consent or wishes of the majority of the colored voters of the city of Plainfield;

Resolved, That we, the representative colored voters from the various wards of the city here assembled, hereby repudiate the action of the aforesaid committee, and reaffirm our allegiance to the Republican party, whose principles we have always upheld.

Resolved, That we pledge our influence, interests and support to the regular nominees of the Republican party, and shall do all that lies in our power from now on until after election to insure the election of the regular Republican candidates, and call upon the colored voters of the city of Plainfield to do likewise.

SOCIETY BUDS BLOSSOMED IN FASHION'S CIRCLE.

HOMES MADE FLORALLY BEAUTIFUL AND CHARMINGLY GRACEFUL BY FAIR ENTERTAINERS.

The Fashion and the Culture of the City Pay Their Respects to Mesdame and Miss Baker and Welcome Miss Lowe as a Debutante of the Season.

A decided social triumph was that of yesterday afternoon when Mrs. William Ebbets Lowe, of 1024 Park avenue, formally introduced her daughter, Miss Lowe, to Plainfield society. The hours were from 4 to 7 o'clock, and during that time the best of society assembled and welcomed Miss Lowe in a most flattering manner. There were fully three hundred guests present to do honor to Mrs. Lowe and her charming daughter.

The palatial home was made a scene of beauty by the artistic hands of the decorator. The prevailing color was yellow. Particularly effective was this color in the dining room. There was a profusion of southern smilax that added much to the decorations, and the arrangement of choice roses throughout the rooms was especially admired.

Those assisting Mrs. Lowe and her daughter in receiving were Miss Florence Waring, Miss Gertrude Andrews and Miss Lulu Holly, of Plainfield; Miss Lockwood, of Philadelphia; Miss Deshler, of Columbus, O.; Miss Reynolds, of Orange. Those assisting in the dining-room were Mrs. Ely, of New York, sister of Mrs. Lowe and Mrs. Lockwood, of Philadelphia. The gowns of those participating in the affair were exquisite creations of the modiste's art.

The music was furnished by a mandolin quartette from Landers' orchestra, of New York, and it was one of the marked features of the affair. A delightful supper was served to the guests, and this added not a little to the completeness of the event.

Between the hours of 7 and 11 o'clock the time was given up to the younger set and dancing was fully enjoyed by them. Music was furnished by Rogers' orchestra. There were many who remained in the evening to further partake of the generous hospitality of the hostess and her daughter.

Miss Gertrude Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John T. Baker, gave a reception at her home, 429 Stelle avenue, last evening. The lower floor of the house was beautifully decorated with roses, chrysanthemums, smilax and palms, furnished by McIntosh, of New York.

Miss Baker, assisted by Mr. and Mrs. Baker, received in the large reception room, which was festooned with smilax and banked with roses so that it presented the appearance of a veritable fairy bower. Throughout the evening supper was served in the dining room, which was made beautiful with chrysanthemums and smilax arranged with a green and white effect. The supper was served by Maresi, of New York city.

After 12 o'clock dancing was enjoyed by the younger guests for a time. The music was furnished by Kroll, of New York city.

The number of invitations sent out was 800, and fully half that number, including the fashionable set of this city, and also guests from New York, Jersey City, Pittsburg, Brooklyn and Boston were present.

Mrs. Baker and Miss Baker will be at home on December 9th and 16th.

LAST "AT HOME."

Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Whiton Entertained in a Sumptuous Manner.

The second and last "at home" given by Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Whiton at their residence, 821 Central avenue, took place last evening. It was very largely attended by society people from Plainfield, New York and Brooklyn. The decorations consists principally of LaFrance roses which were tastefully arranged about the rooms.

Those assisting Mrs. Whiton in receiving and in the dining room were Mrs. Lapsley, Miss Mary Tweedy, Mrs. George Randall, Miss Minnie Wood, Miss Marion Dumont and Miss Harriet Goddard.

The hours were from 4 to 10:30 and during that time the house was thronged with society people who thoroughly enjoyed the hospitality evidenced by the host and hostess. During the evening supper was served daintily by those assisting.

In Honor of a Guest.

Mrs. Higgins and her daughter, Miss Higgins, of West Fourth street, entertained a few friends at their home last evening in honor of Miss Johnson, of Harlingen, Somerset county. Games furnished the principal amusement. Among those present were Miss Mary Giles, Miss Jennie Giles, Miss Lucy Westphal, the Misses Conover, Mrs. Robinson, Miss Johnson, Mrs. Higgins, Miss Higgins, Fred Schomp, Harley Apgar and James Daley.

Friendship.

An eminent writer describes friendship as "a jewel whose lustre the strong acids of poverty and misfortune cannot dim." It is indeed a precious jewel, but there are others, and you can find them, together with every thing else in the jewelry line, at Collier's, the only jewelry store in Plainfield where costomers have the advantage of the trading stamp.

An Earnest Spirit Manifested.

The meeting held last night in Grace M. E. church was very interesting. While there were no seekers at the altar there was manifest an earnest desire for salvation on the part of those unsaved. The special meetings will be continued tomorrow evening. The official board will meet after tomorrow evening's service.

Died Suddenly.

Miss Sarah Townsend died suddenly this morning at the home of her sister, Mrs. Joel Manning, of Plainfield avenue, where she has been living.

—Richard E. Pease will lead the meeting at the East Third Street Mission, at 8 o'clock tomorrow evening.

NO CAUSE FOR ACTION.

Jury Decides Against Plaintiff in Blatz against Rilling Case.

The landlord and tenant case of Blatz against Rilling was tried a second time yesterday afternoon before Justice Mattison and a twelve-men jury, consisting of W. H. Coombs, W. O. Baird, Duer W. Baird, C. Frank French. J. J. Kliner, Charles Force, J. G. Haberle, George Hughes, Lewis Beekman, Robert Schlereth, Theodore Stites and Charles Dorematt. Lawyer Clarence Murphy, of the firm of Murphy & Blatz, appeared for the plaintiff and Lawyer Walter Hetfield represented the defendant.

It will be remembered that this case was tried a short time ago, and after the jury remained out all night they were unable to agree. The case is one where Mr. Blatz claimed rent for his store on Somerset street occupied by Rilling. The latter claimed that he did not owe the money. The case occupied most of the afternoon, and when it was given to the jury it took them about fifteen minutes to bring in a verdict of no cause for action. This verdict did not please the plaintiff's lawyer, and he asked Justice Mattison to have the jury retire again and bring in a verdict according to the evidence. The Justice declined to comply with the request. As yet no notice of appeal has been given, and just what the plaintiff will do has not been learned.

AN UNRULY TONGUE.

Borough Recorder Added Thirty Days to a Sentence on Account of It.

Marshall Campbell made the arrest of three umbrella tramps yesterday afternoon in Washington Park. They were presuming to mend umbrellas but in reality they were begging. At some of the homes where they called were inclined to be abusive. The three tramps were Thomas Burns, of Somerville, Michael Donough, of Fairview, Pa., and John Green, of Philadelphia. They were arraigned this morning before Recorder H. S. Thomas, and all but Burns were given thirty days. The latter became abusive in court and his tongue became very unruly. To quiet the unruly member the Recorder added thirty days to his fine. This had a soothing effect on Burns and he became quite docile. The three men were taken to Somerville this morning.

DAMAGED IN TRANSIT, IT IS SAID.

Brooks Carson Wants the Central Railroad to Pay Him $200.

An interesting case for damages is pending in the court of Justice Moffett against the New Jersey Railroad Company. The action is for $200, and is brought by Brooks Carson, a florist whose greenhouses are on Manning avenue, near Belmont, North Plainfield. Carson purchased a boiler in New York city, last August, to be used for heating his greenhouses. He had the article shipped to this city by freight, and when it reached the station here, Carson alleges, it had been broken so as to prove utterly worthless to him. The claim of the plaintiff is that the hole in the side of the boiler was caused by the carelessness of the railroad employes in handling it.

The case will be tried December 6th.

EDITOR WAS VICTORIOUS.

THE TRIALS OF J. ALFRED POTTER.

Another Encounter of the Cranford Journalist With the Town Solons.

Even under the most auspices circumstances the life of a country editor cannot be likened unto a bed of roses, but the career of John A. Potter, who wields a trenchant pen in the columns of the Cranford Chronicle, seems particularly beset with a thorny path.

As the trials and tribulations of John Alfred have developed from time to time they have been recorded in this paper. Press readers no doubt well remember the Cranford editor's numerous "go-ins" with the Township Committee over the payment of a small bill for printing, the squabble finally being dubed by the saucy editor as the "small potatoes" case.

After his dispute with the town solons the editor had a quarrel with his landlord—ejection proceedings, libel suits, etc., etc., being the complications growing out of the affair.

Now he has just gone through another encounter with the township officials and comes out of the squabble with the halo of victory hovering around about him.

This latest brush, it seems, was in this way: Editor Potter bought a piece of property in Cranford on which the town flagpole stood. The pole was kept under the supervision of the Township Committee, and they asked the editor not to disturb it. The latter agreed to let it stand as long as he had no other use for the ground. But very recently, and quite unexpectedly, the editor saw a business opportunity and decided to enlarge his present building. He notified the officials of his determination and asked them to remove the flagpole. They paid no heed to his letter for several days, and in the meantime he penned another note anent the subject. Then one of the officials told the editor they would attend to the matter, but named a day for action that was too far distant to suit the doughty editor.

Then it was that the newspaper man got his dander up again and he proceeded at once to employ a contractor to remove the pole. The contractor went resolutely to work and the officials were struck with astonishment. They held whispered consultations over the "defi" of the editor. The impudence of the editor! they reasoned, for daring to act so independently. However, they realized that Potter was in no mood to be trifled with. So on Thanksgiving day they visited the editor and made overtures to amicably settle the matter by assuming the expense of removing the pole and keeping it in their custody.

The editor acquiesced.

HUSBAND WAS JEALOUS.

VENTED HIS SPITE BY TEARING DOWN A CHICKEN COOP.

Charles Bonny, a Colored Citizen, Told a Tale of Domestic Woe—Had to Give Bonds to Keep Peace With His Wife.

Charles Bonny, a colored denizen of Dunlap row, East Sixth street, tore down the chicken coop in his back yard yesterday afternoon. There was not anything remarkable in the fact but for the trouble that preceded it. Bonny came home to dinner and his wife was sitting down stairs with her neighbors. The Bonnys occupy the second floor. Bonny wanted his dinner, but Mrs. Bonny was in no hurry to get it, and Bonny's temper rose accordingly. There were words said that were rather strong and both were excited. Then Bonny cleaned out the chicken coop and said that he would begin on the inside of the house as soon as he had time.

He was arrested by Roundsman Frederickson on complaint of his wife and this morning was brought before City Judge DeMeza, charged with being disorderly and using profane language. He explained that there was a man in the case. This troublesome man, he claimed, was all the time fussing with his wife and she paid but little attention to her husband when her bachelor friend was around. The friend, he said, was Mr. Croom. Bonny was held in $100 bail to keep the peace.

John Scott was given his choice between a fine of $10 or thirty days in jail for acting improperly on Watchung avenue, wanting to fight. He was arrested Wednesday night by Roundsman Flynn. He was represented by Wm. Newcorn. R. M. Clark acted as prosecutor.

The charge against Charles Burnett, the contractor, was dismissed. He was accused by Samuel Bolden, colored, with assaulting him on the street. Burnett was represented by R. M. Clark.

THE THIRTEEN SOCIAL.

A UNIQUE EVENT ARRANGED BY METHODIST WOMEN.

The Only Bad Luck That Accompanied the Use of the Fabled Number Was Torrents of Rain.—All Had a Delightful Time.

The fabled bad luck of the number 13 was felt at the "thirteen social," given by the Ladies' Aid Society of the First M. E. church in Vincent chapel, last evening. It was accompanied by torrents of rain which prevented the expected thirteen hundred people from coming. There was a good attendance notwithstanding the rain and everybody found thirteen reasons for being satisfied that they had come.

The sociable was something entirely new for Plainfield and it found general favor with all. The visitors were first waylaid at the door by G. Q. Packer and paid their thirteen cents admission. They were then allowed thirteen glances about the room before taking a seat. The first part of the evening was devoted to an entertainment of thirteen numbers. H. A. McGee acted as master of ceremonies.

The programme opened with an original poem by Miss Edna French, written for the occasion. It was read by Miss French. Then came a piano solo by Miss Gertrude Sharpe and a vocal solo by Miss Mabel Templin. Frank O. Bristol was good for two numbers. His first was that of several of the characters from Dickens' "David Copperfield." He then told the story of a stuttering young man. Number six was something very amusing. Three small sons of Charles H. Lyman appeared as three pickinnies, arrayed in fantastic costumes and with faces covered with burnt cork. They sang "Little Alabama Coon" in most original fashion. One of the small trio forgot to bow to the audience until he was half through his verse whereupon he went back to the beginning and started over after bowing profoundly to the audience.

A cornet solo by Robert Davis and a recitation by Fred Lynn followed.

"Reveries of a Bachelor" was a novel number, indeed. The platform was arranged to represent a study with a frame at the rear. Harlan E. Snodgrass was the "bachelor" and he seated himself in an easy chair on the platform and was supposed to indulge in a reverie. The different characters of his reverie appeared in the frame while the soft notes of music were to be heard. The first vision that presented itself to the eyes of the audience was a fair girl, with long hair and summer gown and hat, a summer girl perhaps. She was impersonated by Miss Edna Harris. The next was a prim miss in the black cassock and white surplice of some church choir. Miss Lucie Palmer Davis took the part. The next vision was from some yacht, as her natty sailor's costume and marine glasses suggested. Miss Persis Snodgrass took this part. Miss Elsie Horne stepped into the frame in her riding habit, as if she had just returned from the hunt. Miss Bertha Jenkins in fancy gown and carrying tamborine suggested that the "bachelor" was thinking of the Spielkartenfest. The last vision was one that brought the day-dreaming "bachelor" to his feet and caused the vision to blush in a very life-like manner. Miss Amelia Day appeared in the frame dressed as a bride as the rest disappeared behind the screen. Then the "bachelor" departed also and the "Reverie" was over.

The next number was announced to be a newly-discovered poet, and Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass told of his experiences in writing rhyme to order. A spelling match was next held in which Miss Stackhouse was the victorious one. The other twelve participants were the Misses Eva Jenkins, Alice Jenkins, Elsie Horne, Lucie Palmer Davis, Persis Snodgrass and Maud French; Frank MacDonald, James A. Stafford, Alvah Davis, Robert Davis, Orrin H. Snodgrass and Frank O. Bristol.

The programme ended with the appearance of a strange biped, on the inside of which was Rhey T. Snodgrass. The bird chased the youthful ones about the room and after performing all sorts of queer stunts disappeared in the dressing room.

The other twelve parts of the sociable were divided into ice-cream eating and conversation. Ice cream was sold for thirteen cents a plate and the thirteen kinds of cake were passed. The committee of thirteen in charge of the sociable consisted of Mrs. G. Q. Packer, chairman; Mrs. Noah W. Pike, Mrs. L. M. French, Mrs. D. E. Davis, Mrs. J. C. Peck, Mrs. H. A. McGee, Mrs. C. E. Horne, Mrs. J. H. McNaughton, Mrs. O. L Jenkins, Miss Minnie Sharpe, Miss Susie Jackson, Mrs Charles H Lyman and Mrs. W C. Snodgrass. It was quite late when the sociable broke up and everybody turned homeward with the hope that the ladies might hold thirteen other sociables as successful as this one.

BARBER GOTHA'S STORY

Relates Thorn's Confession of the Guldensuppe Murder.

CASE OF THE PEOPLE RESTS

Mrs. Nack Not Called to Repeat Her Confession—Prosecution Decided to Call No More Witnesses—An Adjournment Until Next Monday.

New York, Nov. 27.—The prosecution suddenly rested in the Thorn trial at 2.45 yesterday afternoon.

The case against Thorn was closed without calling Mrs. Nack as a witness.

Court adjourned until 9.30 o'clock Monday.

John Gotha's betrayal of the confidence reposed in him by his friend, Martin Thorn, was the sensation of the trial yesterday.

Gotha told in minute detail the story of the killing of William Guldensuppe in the Woodside cottage as Thorn had confessed it.

"I have known the defendant for nine or ten years," began John Gotha, looking directly at District Attorney Olcott, "and have roomed with him in the same house. I know Mrs. Nack. I have met them together. I knew William Guldensuppe. He had a fight in February last in Mrs. Nack's flat, and Thorn's eyes were blackened. He told me of it, and said he intended to get even. He had a pistol, which he showed me, and said he intended to use it on Guldensuppe. That is the pistol."

A common revolver was handed up to the witness and he identified it.

"In May last I went to a baseball game with Martin Thorn," continued the barber, "and on the way home he showed me a knife, a long dirk, which he said he intended to use on Guldensuppe. I laughed it off. On June 21 he told me he had rented a house in the country and was going to move into it with Mrs. Nack. The next time I saw him was Saturday night, June 26, at Malony's, where he roomed occasionally, and where I did also. I saw from my room into his and saw his clothes hanging up. I called out to know if he was in bed, and he said yes, that he was tired and had been out driving all day with Mrs. Nack.

Says Thorn Confessed.

"The next time I saw Thorn was on June 28 at noon. He told me that the moving had been postponed."

"When did you next see the defendant?" asked Mr. Olcott.

"On July 5," was the reply. "He came into the barber shop where I was working at Eighth avenue and 125th street. I was not busy and he sat down and told me to cut his hair. His mustache had been shaved off. I had been reading of the Guldensuppe murder, and I knew the police were after Thorn. He asked me to meet him the next afternoon. I didn't want to get into any trouble, but I agreed, and we met in a saloon at 130th street and Eighth avenue. We sat down and talked about the murder."

"What did he say about the murder?" asked Mr. Olcott.

"First he denied," replied Gotha, shifting his glance for a moment to the face of the prisoner, "and then he said that he had done it. He told of how he and Mrs. Nack had made up a plan to get Guldensuppe over to Woodside. He went over there about 9.30 o'clock to try his pistol. He shot it off several times to see it was in good order."

The witness paused for a moment and moistened his lips with his tongue.

"Well?" said Mr. Olcott, interrogatively.

"Thorn told me," went on the barber, "that he met Mrs. Nack and they went to the house together. Guldensuppe came about 11 o'clock. Thorn was upstairs hiding behind some door. Guldensuppe went upstairs to look through the rooms and he opened a closet. As he did so Thorn says he went up and shot him in the back of the head. Guldensuppe fell. Thorn ran downstairs and told Mrs. Nack he had done it. Then he went back and found Guldensuppe alive. He dragged him over to the bathtub."

The voice of the witness had sunk almost to a whisper. He paused for a moment and then continued: "Thorn told me that when he pulled Guldensuppe over to the bathtub he (Guldensuppe) was snoring. He put him in the tub and cut off his head with a razor. He sliced off the tattoo marks from the chest.

"He told me he cut the rest of the body with a saw, placed the head in plaster of paris and threw it into the river. The next meeting," continued Gotha, "was the night of July 6. Then the police arrested him."

Thorn sat through the recital without moving a muscle of his face. At times he leaned forward as if to catch more clearly the words of the witness. But he did not wince, not even when Gotha told about cutting off the head of the still breathing victim.

When court reconvened for the afternoon session Gotha was submitted to a searching cross-examination by Lawyer Howe. It was the liveliest scene yet enacted at the present trial, but was a disappointment so far as any upsetting of the witness was concerned.

Another sensation scarcely less stronger than this was created by the generally accredited rumor that Mrs. Nack would not repeat her confession accusing Thorn. Howe evidently believed it and appeared to be chagrined.

"They are afraid to call her," he said. "I throw down the gauntlet and they refuse to take up my challenge."

The District Attorney devoted his attention to tracing Thorn's movements on the day of the murder and on the day after, when the fragments of the body were disposed of. Link by link he brought the evidence down to the actual commission of the crime.

Much of the testimony given by the witnesses examined during the early part of the session was interesting, but everything was overshadowed by the story told by Gotha.

Mrs. Nack was in court, but not during Gotha's story. She was summoned for the purpose of being identified by Police Capt. O'Brien, of New York.

Mrs. Nack May Yet Testify.

It was announced by Judge Weller at the conclusion of the prosecution that in case Thorn was put on the stand in his own defense and attempted to throw the blame for the murder upon Mrs. Nack she would be called in rebuttal as a witness against him.

In explaining why Mrs. Nack was not put on the stand Judge Weller said: "We are reserving Mrs. Nack for a second bombardment. We feel that our case is made out so strongly in every particular that there is no necessity to place her on the stand and subject her to attack. Her presence on the witness stand would not have strengthened our case one bit. Our case is strong beyond strengthening. Mrs. Nack may be called in rebuttal—that is, if Martin Thorn insists upon seeking to throw the blame of the murder upon her.

"We did not wish to subject Mrs. Nack to a fire of questions at the hands of the defense. Besides, as I have said, our case is strong enough without her testimony."

Lawyer Howe announced immediately after the trial adjourned that he would close the case by Monday afternoon. "I am very much pleased with the outlook. The case of the people is not half so strong as it promised to be when the other trial was on its way. I knew the people would be afraid to call Mrs. Nack, and my opinion has been realized. I do not think that the jury believes Gotha any more than it did Mrs. Nack, judging the latter case by what I read in the newspapers."

MURDERED FOUR MEN.

Captain Cut Their Throats and Threw Them Into the River.

Washington, Nov. 27.—An investigation of the finding of the bodies of two men, which were washed ashore at Colonial Beach, sixty miles from Washington, on the Potomac, on Nov. 18, has led to the discovery of a quadruple murder by the captain of an oyster boat dredging in the vicinity.

The throats of both men had been cut. One of the bodies had been identified as that of Joseph Canter, of Anacostia, a suburb of this city.

According to the story of an oysterman, the trouble occurred in the oyster fields about Nov. 15, and arose over a dispute regarding the wages of the men, which were then due.

In the fight which ensued four men were deliberately killed by the captain, their throats cut and their bodies cast into the water.

The narrator of the story claims to have effected his escape, and after many hardships managed to reach the shore in safety. The name of the boat as well as that of the captain and the three other murdered men, is unknown.

Every effort is being made to locate the murderer and his craft, which is now supposed to be in the oyster fields between Maryland and Virginia.

The authorities at Colonial Beach are also dragging the river in the hope of recovering the two other bodies.

The Michael-Starbuck Race.

New York, Nov. 27.—Jimmy Michael's decisive victory over Starbuck at Madison Square Garden on Thursday night was freely discussed by wheelmen yesterday. It was generally conceded that Starbuck was not in the best possible condition when the race began, and at the fifth mile seemed to be fagged out.

As on two former occasions, the Philadelphian cannot lay his defeat to poor pacemaking. Although for the first three miles—the only time that he was a factor in the race—his pacing crew did not pick him up with the same precision and regularity that Michael's did, still he was not able to follow the pace cut out for him. After the fourth mile the race was simply a walkover for the "Midget."

Michael has been matched with Edouard Taylore, the French middle-distance champion, who is considered to be a wonder by his countrymen.

Convent to be Erected in Washington.

Washington, Nov. 27.—The purchase of forty-four acres of land in the immediate vicinity of the Catholic University for the site of a Franciscan convent had its origin in the closing of a number of Franciscan monasteries in Italy and the desire of the Holy Father to concentrate at the national capital the leading educational influences of the church in the United States.

A colony of Franciscans, comprising eleven of the most learned men in the order, now attached to the Pope's household in various capacities, will establish the convent. The building is to be of white marble, according to plans that have been perfected under the Pope's personal supervision. Work will be begun at once, and the new building will be occupied as soon as possible.

A Tumor Formed

Finally It Broke Inwardly and Discharged

Trouble Began With Dyspepsia and Impure Blood

Thorough Course of Hood's Sarsaparilla Completely Cures.

There is danger in impure blood. Disease and suffering are surely coming to those who neglect this threatening symptom. Read this:

"Gilliam, Missouri.

"C. I. Hood & Co., Lowell, Mass.:

"Gentlemen:—My troubles began with nervous headaches, which would last me for two or three days. The doctors pronounced my trouble dyspepsia, but they could not do anything for me, and advised a change of location. At the age of 55 a tumor formed on my spine, which but did not rise or discharge. The doctor thought best to cut it out, but I objected. It finally broke and discharged a great deal. The doctors said they could do nothing for it. Then the tumor began to rise inwardly and discharge. I read much about cures by Hood's Sarsaparilla and thought I would try it. Before I had finished taking one bottle I was much relieved. I continued the use of Hood's Sarsaparilla, and after taking 12 bottles I was entirely cured. I am now well, have a good appetite and feel that I owe my life to Hood's Sarsaparilla." W. D. FORE.

The Greatest Discovery Yet.

W. M. Repine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill., "Chief," says: "We won't keep house without Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds. Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr. King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our home, as in it we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Colds, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr. King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of cures and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Rev. Orrin W. Snodgrass, of Central avenue, is home from Drew Seminary for a few days vacation.

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Anybody can try it who has Lame Back and Weak Kidneys, Malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to the Liver and Kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures Constipation, Headache, Fainting Spells, Sleeplessness and Melancholy. It is purely vegetable, a mild laxative, and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Electric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50c a bottle at L. W. Randolph's Drug Store.

Miss Estella Davis, of East Orange, is a guest of her cousin, Miss Lucie Palmer Davis, of East Fifth street.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. How to Cure Bilious Colic.

I suffered for weeks with colic and pains in my stomach caused by biliousness and had to take medicine all the while until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured me. I have since recommended it to a good many people. Mrs. F. Butler, Fairhaven, Conn. Persons who are subject to bilious colic can ward off the attack by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms appear. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner North and Park avenues.

DUN'S WEEKLY REPORT.

Business Shows a Satisfactory Condition, Especially in Exports.

New York, Nov. 27.—R. G. Dun & Co.'s weekly review of trade, issued today, says: "The heavy exports of wheat, with the renewed advance in price, is the most interesting and important feature of the week's events. Since Aug. 1, when the extent of foreign deficiency became realized, exports have been larger than in corresponding weeks of any previous year. The cotton exports have also become very heavy, and the outgo of corn falls but little below last year's unprecedented record, while in exports of manufacturing products, especially machinery, all records for the season have been surpassed. While the aggregate for November last year was over $109,000,000, shipments from New York for three weeks have been but slightly smaller, with a fair prospect that the known increase in cotton and other products from other ports may make up the deficiency. Meanwhile, imports are running behind last year's, at New York nearly $2,000,000 this month, so that another excess of exports over imports amounting to about $60,000,000 for the month is probable. But this would make an excess of about $225,000,000 in four months. After the slight decline last Saturday wheat rose to $1.00⅛ for November, with No. 2 red and other grades selling many cents higher. Corn continues to go abroad in quantities almost as large as last year, when all past records were broken, but the price has slightly declined.

"Cotton declined to 5.81 cts., the lowest point for many years, with scarcely any indication of speculative effort. More has come into sight this month than during the same time in 1894 from the largest crop ever raised, while takings by Northern and Southern spinners have been smaller, and print cloths and some other staple goods are at the lowest quotations ever known. In such conditions weakness is natural, although extreme estimates of pield are not by some entirely credited.

"The iron industry shows no decrease in production or consumption of pig, but with much reduced orders for products excess of production is expected. A better demand helps to raise the price of anthracite coal here to $4.15.

"The woolen manufacture is still consuming heavily in execution of past orders, and many agents are sold so far ahead that they seek no further business.

"Failures in three weeks of November have been $8,888,333, against $8,269,646 last year, $8,819,979 in 1895, $8,088,429 in 1894, and $17,609,079 in 1893; manufacturing, $3,908,401, against $3,355,742 last year, and trading, $4,206,513, against $4,639,901 last year. Failures for the week have been 236 in the United States, against 300 last year, and 25 in Canada, against 38 last year."

M'KINLEY IN GOLD.

A Statue of the President That Will Cost a Million.

Washington, Nov. 27.—F. D. Higbee, of Chicago, who is to make the million-dollar solid gold statue of President McKinley, saw the President yesterday by appointment.

President McKinley was notified of the project some time ago, and partly consented to it, or, at least, he did not frown upon it. The interview was to settle the matter finally, and arrangements may be made for the posing.

"The statue will be made, without any doubt," Mr. Higbee said. "The Western capitalists who are to furnish the $1,050,000 that it will cost have already put up the money, and everything is ready to begin the work as soon as we have the design. The statue will be of solid gold, life-size, with a solid gold pedestal, which will make the whole seven feet high.

"I built and am the owner of the Ada Rehan statue of solid silver for the World's Fair.

"This colossal figure will be the largest lump of gold the modern world has even seen."

ARRESTED FOR KAISER MURDER.

James A. Clemmer Captured in Newark—Confesses His Guilt.

Newark, Nov. 27.—James A. Clemmer, of Norristown, Pa., was arrested on Broad street at noon yesterday by Chief of Detectives Stainsby and Detective Sergeant Cosgrove for a murder committed in Norristown on Oct. 28, 1896. The prisoner, when taken to Police Headquarters, searched and confronted with evidence of his connection with the crime for which he was arrested broke down, admitted his guilt, and expressed a willingness to go to Norristown without any delay.

The first intimation the Newark police had of Clemmer's presence in this city was received Thursday from James A. Strasburger, District Attorney of Columbia County, Pennsylvania, where Clemmer, with three others, was indicted for the murder of Mrs. Emma P. Kaiser. The murdered woman's husband, who was one of the trio indicted for the crime, has already been convicted and is now under sentence of death.

Elizabeth L. Dekalb, another of the accused persons, is now on trial. Clemmer was the only one at large.

The crime was the culmination of an alleged conspiracy on the part of Charles O. Kaiser, James A. Clemmer and the Dekalb woman, who had several aliases, to secure a policy of $10,000 on the life of the murdered woman, who had been insured for that amount a year previous.

The insurance company set its detectives to work on the case, and discovered that Mrs. Kaiser, instead of having been killed in a struggle with robbers, as was alleged, was really murdered.

The killing of the woman was regarded as one of the most brutal in the annals of crime in Columbia County.

On Oct. 28, 1896, the day Mrs. Kaiser was murdered, she was asked to go riding by her husband in company with two friends.

A year previous he had her life insured for $10,000, and from that time on the woman told a friend that her husband acted as if anxious that she would die.

When she learned that one of the "friends" was Miss Dekalb, who was responsible, in her opinion, for alienating her husband's affections, she demurred.

Kaiser, his wife, Clemmer and Miss Dekalb drove away from the Kaiser homestead early in the morning. That was the last time Mrs. Kaiser was seen alive.

Late the same night Kaiser, Clemmer and Miss Dekalb returned with Mrs. Kaiser's dead body. They drove at once to police headquarters and related the story of being attacked by highway robbers, whom they were unable to repulse until Mrs. Kaiser was shot dead, when the alleged robbers fled.

Kaiser was arrested and later tried, convicted and sentenced to death. Clemmer and Miss Dekalb fled, but the woman was afterward lured from Trenton, where she lived under an assumed name, to Philadelphia, and taken into custody.

WILL NOT FIGHT.

Corbett and Fitz Know Nothing of Reports of a Meeting.

New York, Nov. 27.—A meeting between Corbett and Fitzsimmons in the prize ring seems to be as remote as ever. A story was printed in a Buffalo newspaper that Fitzsimmons had agreed to a match with Corbett. In reply to a telegram, Corbett said:

"Taunton, Mass., Nov. 26.—Have heard nothing about it. However, I am ready to make a match any time with Fitz.

"JAMES J. CORBETT."

Martin Julian telegraphed:

"Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 26.—No truth whatever in the report. Corbett evidently feels the need of Fitzsimmons' name to boom his business. He is dying hard, poor fellow.

"MARTIN JULIAN."

Missouri Pacific Salaries Restored.

St. Louis Nov. 27.—Fifteen thousand employes of the Missouri Pacific & Iron Mountain Railroad system, whose salaries were cut from 5 to 20 per cent. in 1893, have been made glad by a proclamation issued by President George Gould restoring wages to their former basis. The Missouri Pacific system, including the Iron Mountain, gives employment to 25,000. The monthly pay roll averages $1,000,000.

Western Storm Abating.

Lincoln, Neb., Nov. 27.—The great blizzard has abated somewhat. In the western section of the State much snow has fallen. The greatest damage has been done by the coating of ice on the range, which prevents cattle from breaking through and securing grass. Detailed reports of the damage have not yet been received, but the losses are supposed to be heavy.

Sealing Negotiations Checked?

Washington, Nov. 27.—No word of the reported refusal of the Canadian Government of the propositions of the United States for a modus vivendi to stop the killing of seals while a commission is engaged in arranging other issues between the United States has come to the State Department or to the British Embassy here.

A PREMIUM ON LAZINESS.

Referring editorially to the Kinsman plan introduced in The Third ward Republican primary, the Elizabeth Journal says:

This is the lazy citizen's ideal method. Nothing would suit him better, unless it would be the appointment of a factotum to do his political thinking for him, and a phonograph to growl his dissent after the ticket is made and the election is over. The Republican Executive Committee of Plainfield is to be commended for endeavoring to get an expression of the people at the primaries, but what a comment on American citizenship it is when such efforts have to be made! The idea is shocking that an American citizen should take no interest in the government of his own city when that government is placed in his own hands. Here is an effort to make political duties and responsibilities so light and easy that the citizens and taxpayers need not take his slippered feet from off the fenders, need not move out of his easy chair, need not leave his tasteful home, need not do anything, in fact, but use his lead pencil. Shades of Washington and Webster and Lincoln! Can't the use of the pencil be also eliminated? Why should an American citizen be compelled to write? But, seriously, are not the duties of good citizenship held too cheaply already? If they are made lighter and held chaper, will not the citizen grow still more indifferent? How many citizens would pay their taxes if they are not compelled to? How many would bear their share of maintaining public institutions if it were not imperative? What is the use of making discretionary the very fundamental principles of a Republican form of government and compelling the citizens to attend to questions of policy? What's the use of begging citizens to do their duty to the State? They will not do it. The only way to meet this growing evil of indifference to political duties is to make such duties imperative and compulsory.

TRADING STAMPS.

The trading-stamp scheme is in court in Washington on a test of its legality, and some retail dealers in New Haven are agitating the question of legal proceedings there. Thus far action has been limited in the latter place to the unanimous adoption of a resolution by the Retail Merchants' Association condemning the scheme as an unnecessary tax upon the dealers. As has been stated, this tax, ostensibly to secure cash trade, amounts to about 5 per cent. on sales, and the advantages are largely with the corporation which sells the stamps to the dealers, and redeems a customer's collection of them in cheap wares. Many New Haven dealers assert that those who give trading stamps charge higher prices for their wares. While it is human nature to seek something for nothing, it is not human nature to give it. One plan suggested in New Haven to end what has become a nuisance, is to undersell the stamp givers, and that, with other ideas, is now under consideration by a committee.—Evening Post.

Former Speaker and Judge Joseph Cross, former Senator Benjamin Vail, of Rahway, and N. C. J. English, of Elizabeth, have announced themselves as candidates for the office of Judge of the Court of Common Pleas of Union county now held by Judge McCormick. Gov. Griggs will name the successful man some time this winter.

Andrew Vanderbeek, who served Plainfield faithfully for several years as a member of the Board of Freeholders, is being pushed for a Republican nomination for the same office this year. His name will be presented at the city convention this evening.

In a Healthy Condition.

At the annual parish meeting of St. Stephen's church, held Tuesday, the following officers were elected to serve the parish during the ensuing year: Wardens, Wm. Palmer Smith, G. Seabury Guion; vestryman, N. P. T. Finch, C. P. Ralli, C. Sturtevant W. J. Beal, Hugh Knox, John Duck, Lowndes Smith. The treasurer read his annual report in which he stated that the church was completely out of debt. There is a balance on hand of $100. The parish has held its own in a remarkable manner, when one considers the stringency of the times, and the losses consequent on removals from the city of many families connected with the church.

An all-day service in commemoration of St. Andrew's Day will be held in All Saints' church next Tuesday. The morning service, at 10:30 o'clock, will be of a missionary character, and will be addressed by a mission worker from Brazil. The afternoon services will be in charge of the ladies of the church. Rev. E. H. True, the pastor, will deliver an address and other interesting parts will be included in the programme. An entertainment by the choir guild of the church will be given in the Fanwood clubhouse in the evening.

State Encampment May Come Here.

There is some talk on the part of those connected with the management of the G. A. R., of the Department of New Jersey, of having the next State encampment in this city. If they should decide to come to Plainfield there will probably be at least 1,500 delegates. Plainfield has never had the honor of entertaining the department, and no doubt she would give a royal time to all who come. It is thought that the Crescent Rink building could be secured in which to hold a camp-fire.

Patrolmen are Thankful.

The members of the Patrolmen's Benevolent Association extend their heartiest thanks to Mayor C. J. Fisk for so kindly remembering them at this season; and also extend their heartiest to J. H Tier for so kindly remembering them.

APPEAL FOR A WORTHY WIDOW.

A Comfortable Home for Her if She Can be Sent to North Carolina.

At this time of Thanksgiving the Organized Aid Association is forced to appeal to the sympathies of Plainfield in behalf of a poor widow, with two children, who has no means of support, and is too feeble to work. A home awaits her in North Carolina, among her friends, who would gladly care for her and her children if they were there. These friends, however, are not able to pay the traveling expenses from Plainfield. The woman has no friends in Plainfield who can help her.

The Organized Aid Association knows the worthiness of this widow—her helplessness and her need—but the Association is powerless to do more than to make this appeal for the substantial sympathy of contributions of money. Twenty-five dollars is needed. Miss Tweedy, 125 Crescent avenue, has kindly consented to receive contributions.

The amount needed is a small sum to provide a home for a family of three for the winter.

In behalf of the Organized Aid Association.

E. C. Searing, foreman of The Press composing room, is detained at his home, suffering from the effects of a cold, which has affected one of his eyes.

The three-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros. of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

The Lustre of Hair

In its lustre lies the beauty of hair. Healthy hair has a delicate glossy appearance that no art can imitate. If hair becomes dull and lifeless, it will soon begin to fall out, because the vitality is gone The use of our

PA WON'T GO HIS BAIL.

Sam Conway Says He Didn't Steal, But He Was Afraid of the Police.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—In an article in The Press of a few days ago, it was stated that Samuel Conway was chased by an officer for stealing an overcoat. He (Samuel) wishes to say he did not take the coat, and did not run because he was guilty, or could be found guilty, but ran because he did not care to be imprisoned for what he did not do, as his parents have refused to go bail for him any more.

He wishes to state, also, that on account of his past actions, feeling the disgrace which he has brought upon himself and parents, that he has tried to lead, and is leading a better life, and is not guilty of the theft.

ALASKA WAS CHEAP.

ITS WHALEBONE HAS MORE THAN PAID ITS PURCHASE PRICE.

All Told the Frozen North Has Rendered Uncle Sam $103,000,000 Since 1867—We Gave Russia $7,000,000 for the Territory in That Year.

Pretty nearly everybody knows what Alaska cost us. William H. Seward signed the treaty of annexation March 30, 1867. It was ratified on the 20th of June, of that year and the territory was turned over to a force of United States soldiers on October 9 at Sitka. The town was then called New Archangel. The price paid was $7,200,000. The $7,000,000 was for the land. It is not often that one hears what the $200,000 was for. That sum went to Russian trading companies who had received concessions from their government. To them it was so much money picked up in the middle of the road, since it did not cost them anything, but they were much out of pocket, all the same. Because of this there is grumbling about the Alaskan sale in Russia to this day. Often some fellow, whose father was a fur trader, will get full of vodki and denounce the "crime of '67." Of course, they have not heard of the "crime of '73." While the price paid for Alaska is generally known, few people are aware of the tremendous returns from the land of snow and seals. It has paid for itself many times over and its career as a revenue producer is in its infancy. The fact is that Alaska has given back more than its purchase price in whalebone alone. The returns from this article were $7,000,000 in 1890. They are now something like $9,000,000.

Alaska has paid us to date $103,000,000. This enormous sum has been derived from furs, herring, salmon, cod, ivory, whalebone and gold. At the time of the last census the United States had taken out $76,000,000. Since then we have been enriched by $27,000,000. Of this $20,000,000 has been gold and the remainder from other products. These are giant figures, but they are the exact truth. The first actual settlement of that wonderful country will begin next spring. The sum total of what it will add to the world's wealth in the coming years passes conjecture. It will be a pile of money, mountainous and sublime.

It is a singular fact that the existence of gold in quantities along the tributaries of the Yokon was known to a few men a century and a half ago The truth has been held back by the fur trading companies. They were not after minerals and they feared the ruin of their industry, which was in itself a gold mine. Trappers, explorers and men who lived with the Indians were forbidden to tell what they knew on pain of death. The Russia Fur Company did summarily shoot one man who grew excited with drink and blabbed. That death is still remembered in Alaska, having been passed from mouth to mouth, as is the manner of unlettered peoples. Other fur companies have done nothing to develop the country and have kept their lips sealed. They foresaw the effect of a torrent of immigration. Such things cannot be hidden, however. The secret is out at last.

The revealment is due primarily and almost wholly to a company that has its headquarters in Chicago. The Northwestern Transportation and Trading Company has done more to open Alaska to the world than all other corporations combined. It has established trading posts along the Yukon and thus made possible the penetration of the dread interior. From this has come the discovery of masses of gold and the resultant Klondike rush. It has been always the policy of this company to take in as many men as possible. The more men, of course, the more trade. The policy of the Alaska Commercial Company, the great sealing corporation has been directly converse. It has discouraged immigration. An illy concealed threat has lurked behind its utterances. It has had a tremendous "pull" in Washington. Such has been the strength of this "pull" that it has not only restrained legislation, it has made laws. For a long time it had no rival. Indeed, in its own peculiar field of endeavor it may be said to have none now. The four Pribyloff Islands—St. Paul, St. George, Walrus and Beaver—alone have produced something more than $70,000,000 in seal skins.

It is a prevalent idea that the Alaskan territory produces only gold and things of the sea, but this is wrong. Even in Klondike, which is far removed from the mollifying influences of the Japanese current, hardy vegetables grow in profusion, although cauliflower and asparagus will not ripen. Hay is as high as a man's head. When the country comes to be better known it will be found capable of making many things for humanity now unthought of.

Reported Soft Coal Deal.

Washington, Nov. 27.—According to a dispatch from Charleston, W. Va., important Eastern interests have a scheme on foot aiming at the control through the Chesapeake & Ohio Railroad, of the soft coal markets of both the East and West. Every part of the enterprise, from the ownership of the coal lands to the final delivery of the product, will be managed by one head representing one interest.

Illinois Coal Strike Over.

Coal City, Ill., Nov. 27.—The strike in the Wilmington coal field is broken The mines of the Star Coal Company the Big Four Coal Company and the Wilmington Coal Mining and Manufacturing Company resumed work yesterday at the 77½-cent scale. Over 500 miners are employed in these mines.

A HORSE THAT EATS RAW MEAT.

Cured of Stealing Fish by a Crabs Tenacious Grip.

The most extraordinary appetite known in a horse belongs to Billy, a handsome bay, owned by a firm in San Francisco.

Billy's duties are to draw the firm's delivery wagon, and his stand is on Merchant street, in front of the shop. Here he is often on exhibition, eating with an apparent relish steak, liver, tripe, and, in short, almost any variety of meat handed him. Sometimes, after having had his fill of oats and hay, he refuses to munch meat, but this seldom occurs.

Billy's appetite developed several months ago. No one knew of it until one day he was seen to reach into a butcher cart that was tied just ahead of him and calmly begin eating a steak. After that he was fed often with the firm's wares, and many a bet has been won and lost on his appetite.

The horse formerly varied his carnal meals by purloining fish, but he was cured in a manner that was ludicrous to the spectators, but very painful for the equine phenomenon.

He reached into a fish wagon one day, when his olfactories detected the odor of his favorite smelt, but an active and belligerent crab took offence at the intrusion and promptly fastened to his lower lip.

Billy shook his head frantically and whinnied in pain, but the crustacean held on until he was crushed by being banged against the side of the wagon. Since then the horse has kept clear of fish.—San Francisco Call.

LEGS LOST IN BATTLE.

Evidence That the Soldiers was Not Trying to Avoid the Enemy.

"I can tell almost to a certainty to which branch of the service he belonged when I see an old soldier stalking around on one leg," said Colonel Lamar Fontaine, of Mississippi, the famous Confederate scout and poet. "If the left leg is missing then I am pretty certain he belonged to the infantry, and if he is minus the right leg, then I feel safe in betting that he was a cavalryman. In either case the absence of the leg proves more conclusively than the written record that the man who lost it was fighting like a soldier when wounded.

"The reason the infantryman loses the left leg in battle is this: Infantrymen are drilled to place the left foot forward when firing in order to balance the body so that steadier aim can be taken. This naturally acts as a protection to the right leg, which, of course, is more or less concealed. Consequently the bullet of the enemy is much more apt to find lodgement in the left leg than the right. Now, the cavalryman uses a pistol nearly altogether. It is handier and less cumbersome. The pistol is held in the right hand, and this causes the cavalryman, when firing, to place his right foot forward for support. In this way that side of him is much more likely to suffer than the left. But, as I said, either case is conclusive evidence to me that the soldiers thus maimed were facing the enemy when shot. The loss of the leg indicates almost to a certainty that the sufferer was standing in military position and not crouching or running."—St. Louis Republican.

REASONING OF A MONKEY.

By Frightening a Fruit-Seller, He Secured a Good Meal.

Monkeys love by nature to imitate what they see, and have been known to smoke a pipe, and to pretend to read a book that they have seen other people reading. But sometimes they can do a great deal more than this and show that they can calculate and reason better than many men, says Lang's Animal World.

A large Abyssinian monkey was one day being taken around Khartoum by its master and made to perform all sorts of tricks for the amusement of bystanders. Among them was a date-seller, who was squatting on the ground beside his fruit. Now the monkey was passionately fond of dates, but being very cunning was careful not to let this appear, and went on performing his tricks as usual, drawing, little by little, nearer to the date-basket as he did so.

When he thought he was near enough for his purpose he first pretended to die, slowly and naturally, and then, after lying for a moment on the ground as stiff as a corpse suddenly bounded up with a scream straight in front of the date-seller's face and stared at him with wild eyes.

The man looked back at him spellbound, quite unaware that one of the monkey's hind feet was in the date-basket, clawing up as much fruit as his long toes could hold. By some such trick as this the monkey managed to steal enough food daily to keep him fat and comfortable.

Testing Water.

To test the purity of water, there has been found no better or simpler way than to fill a clean bottle three-fourths full of water to be tested, and dissolve in the water half a teaspoonful of the purest sugar—loaf or granulated will answer; cork the bottle and place it in a warm position for two days. If in twenty-four or forty-eight hours the water becomes cloudy or milky, it is unfit for domestic use.

Lace from Leaves.

The beautiful lace known as Fayal lace is made from the fibres in the leaves of the bitter-aloe—grown in the Azores, or Western Islands—a relative of the common century-plant.

This lace is manufactured by women, but the necessary skill is so rarely attained that there are but twenty-five persons on the islands who can make it.—Harper's Round Table.

Oxygen and Iron.

Two Great Essentials of Life. The Latest Discovery of Science.

Doctors of all schools agree that oxygen and iron are essentials of life. It is well known that it is the oxygen in the air which gives the life, and it is the oxygen in the air also which has the greatest power in destroying germ diseases and restoring health. Almost all chronic ailments are quickly killed when concentrated oxygen from the air is brought in contact with them. Nature has arranged that we shall breathe oxygen into our lungs, and that this oxygen shall then be taken up by the blood. It is the iron or Hæmoglobin in the blood which attracts the oxygen from the air cavities in the lungs and carries it to every part of the body. Therefore you must have iron or Hæmoglobin in your blood, for if you have not, your blood becomes thick, heavy, and impure. Pimples, blotches, eruptions and other skin affections result. The tongue grows furred. There is languidness, biliousness, lack of appetite, nervousness and either constant drowsiness or inability to sleep. Ordinary preparations of iron fail to effect a cure because they are not in the form demanded by nature; they cannot be taken up by the blood, merely serving as an irritant to stomach and bowels. Dr. Campbell, an eminent practitioner of London, England, has succeeded in extracting from the blood of healthy bullocks, iron as it exists in the human blood. This is redissolved and enclosed in a soft pointed gelatine covering called Capsuloids. In this form it is being used by the leading English physicians. It has lately been introduced to this country and can be used by anyone, young or old, with the best results

Dr. Campbell's Red Blood Forming Capsuloids are sold by all leading druggists at 50 cents per large box, six boxes for $2.50, or sent direct at the same price from the office of The Capsuloid Company, Downing Building, 108 Fulton Street, New York City.

BRITISH FIGHT FRANCE

Battle Said to Have Been Fought in Hinterland.

STORY DOUBTED IN LONDON

The Danger, However, from the Proximity of the Forces of the Two Countries in West Africa Had Been Pointd Out.

Berlin, Germany, Nov. 27.—A dispatch to the Frankfort Zeitung from Rome reports that a sanguinary conflict has taken place between the French and British at Nikki, in the Lagos Hinterland.

London, England, Nov. 27.—While the accuracy of the statement contained in the Rome dispatch to the Frankfort Zeitung announcing that a conflict has taken place between the French and British troops in the Lagos Hinterland is doubted, the London morning papers yesterday pointed out the imminent danger resulting from the proximity of the two forces in the contested territory.

Nikki Reported Captured.

Later in the day a rumor was received at the British Colonial Office to the effect that there had been a collision between the British and French forces at Nikki, which is said to have been captured by the French troops.

The officials of the Colonial Office, however, consider this report to be highly improbable, as, they explain, the British police in the Hinterland, who are in very limited numbers, had strict orders to avoid any collision with the French. It is also understood that the French forces had been instructed not to come into conflict with the British.

The British forces in the Hinterland, it is further stated, are being reinforced considerably.

The Colonial Office late last evening received a cable message from Lagos, stating that a rumor is current among the natives there of a collision between 400 British and French troops.

The report, it is believed, will prove to be founded on a conflict between the French and some natives.

Story of the Trouble.

The trouble of which the reported conflict is the outgrowth is of about thirty years' standing, dating from 1868. In 1870 France and Great Britain opened negotiations for the settlement of their respective frontiers in West Africa. In the last ten years several agreements have been reached, but each nation has continued to grab all the territory possible.

The British Niger Company, which was first in the field, concluded a number of treaties with native chiefs, bringing the whole of the Borgu and Dahomey hinterland within the British sphere. This was during the Fall of 1894.

In the meanwhile the French were trying to establish a great African empire, to extend from Algeria to the basins of the Congo and the Upper Nile. But for this purpose it was necessary to secure the hinterland of Lagos and Carnotville, in Northern Dahomey, which became the base for dispatching a number of French expeditions into the interior, with this object in view.

The British Niger Company, however, getting wind of the French plans, dispatched Capt. Lugard, now Maj. Lugard, to Nikki, the capital of Borgu, for the purpose of negotiating a treaty with the native ruler, and the English officer was fortunate enough to reach there before a French officer, Commandant Decoeur, who was bound for the same place and with the same intention, although the latter had the start, and Lugard secured the treaty and carried it away three weeks before Decoeur arrived at Nikki.

The French, however, seemed to have chosen to disregard this fact, and have dispatched armed expeditions not only to Nikki, but to Broussa, which has all along been acknowledged to be within the sphere of British influence.

France Has Russia's Backing.

Jingoism in France, already excited on the West African subject, has been intensified recently by the arrival in Paris of the band of the Czar's Preobrajensky Regiment, sent to the French capital as an earnest of Russian friendship, and the flames of Chauvinism have been still further fanned by the announcement that a strong detachment of Russian cavalry and artillery will shortly sail from Odessa to Djibutil, northeast coast of Africa, and thence will go to the capital of King Menelik of Abyssinia, in order to assist the French to "thwart the British in grabbing Central Africa."

SHERMAN NOT TO RETIRE.

All Reports to the Contrary Declared to Be Without Foundation.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Those close to President McKinley say that all hands have become somewhat annoyed at the reports, constantly circulated, to the effect that John Sherman, Secretary of State, is to be retired. The best information, obtained from those conversant with the situation, is that President McKinley has not the slightest notion of taking any step that would lead to the retirement of Mr. Sherman, and that no one is better acquainted with the facts than Secretary Sherman himself.

Most of the talk concerning Mr. Sherman, it was added, was started by certain persons in the confidence of Whitelaw Reid, editor of the New York Tribune, who has desired very much to succeed Mr. Sherman as Secretary of State. The straight information from the White House is that all the stories concerning the alleged proposed retirement of Mr. Sherman have never had the slightest foundation.

Taylor Did Not Speak.

Washington, Nov. 27.—Tongues are wagging here because Mr. Hannis Taylor, ex-Minister of the United States to Spain, was announced to deliver a lecture Thursday at the Catholic University, and without any explanation the event was declared off.

One report has it that Minister De Lome quietly suggested to the university authorities that Spain was a Catholic country, and that as Taylor would almost certainly allude in vigorous terms to the Cuban question, he ought not to speak in that building.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

Will Advise Continuance of Pacific Cuban Policy.

SPAIN'S PAPERS WITHHELD

Administration Wants to Show Its Desire to Settle Question Amicably Before Taking Sharp Measures—Restriction of Immigration.

Washington, Nov. 27.—President McKinley read his message at the meeting of the Cabinet yesterday, except the financial feature, which was read at last Friday's meeting. The message's principal contents have been presented from time to time, so that interest in the document is centred now not so much on what the President will say as the manner in which he will say it. Regarding Cuba, it is understood he will advise a continuance of the Government's policy until the new Spanish Administration has had an opportunity to demonstrate its willingness and ability to pacify Cuba and settle the conditions there. In the meantime, the correspondence between the Government and Spain will be withheld, at least until it is called for by one of the branches of Congress.

Hawaiian Treaty.

Hawaii will come in for some share of attention. The ratification of the treaty of annexation negotiated by Secretary Sherman and Commissioners Thurston, Keeney and Hatch, and signed last June, will be urged. It is now before the Foreign Relations Committee of the Senate, a favorable report upon it having been ordered by a a vote of 9 to 2. A sub-committee, consisting of Messrs Foraker, Clark and Morgan, has been at work during the recess looking up the history of and authorities upon similar treaties.

The result of their labors is to be incorporated in the committee's report. The attention of Congress will be called to the necessity of legislation along the lines laid down in the immigration bill, which failed to become a law at the last session. Senator Fairbanks, chairman of the Committee on Immigration, is at work on a measure which he is preparing after a number of consultations with the President, and which, it is presumed, reflects the views of the Administration. The educational test imposed in the bill of last session will be retained, and is made the chief feature of the bill. The bill which permitted the separation of families has been abandoned. The Senator has received assurances of support from the German press and leaders who antagonized the measure of last Winter.

President McKinley will refer to civil-service reform in his message, and will advise the support and extension of the law.

The absolute quiet prevailing in regard to the Cuban situation was indicated very plainly at yesterday's discussion of that part of the message relating to foreign affairs. It is understood that the President's references to Spanish-Cuban matters were passed over in order to allow more time for the consideration of the sections dealing with the reciprocity treaties which the State Department is negotiating with foreign countries under the authority conveyed in the Dingley tariff law.

Foreign Relations.

Germany and some other nations are not pleased with the new tariff, and there is a probability that they will retaliate if reciprocity treaties cannot be arranged. A general discussion of this feature of the foreign relations of the United States took place, with a view, it is said, of reaching a conclusion as to the grounds to be taken by the President in his message.

Secretry Sherman laid before the Cabinet telegrams from Consul-General Lee and Consul Barker, at Sagua La Grande, Cuba, reporting the release of Louis Somelion, otherwise Rafael Fernandez. It was announced that no more Americans were in Cuban prisons.

A fact indicating the peaceful aspect of the situation is the absence in Ohio of Judge Day, the Assistant Secretary of State, who has direct charge of the Spanish-Cuban question for the United States. He will be away until Congress convenes, and nothing of an interesting nature affecting the relations of Spain and the United States is expected to occur before his return.

Two Hundred Thousand May Strike.

London, Nov. 27.—A general strike, involving 200,000 operatives, will almost certainly follow if the cotton manufacturers insist on cutting wages 5 per cent. The manufacturers asked a vote of the operatives on a proposition to refer the matter to arbitration, and the returns now in are sufficient to show an overwhelming majority against it. As the manufacturers announce their determination to make the cut in wages, it is generally believed that a strike that will paralyze the industry throughout the nation is inevitable.

Big Fire at Kittanning, Pa.

Pittsburg, Nov. 27.—The fire which broke out in the village of Kittanning at 2 o'clock yesterday morning destroyed property valued at $70,000 before it was extinguished. The fire started in the cellar of the McCullough Hardware Company's store on Market street, presumably from natural gas. There were many narrow escapes from death and injury. Dr. Samuel Jessup was severely burned about the face. James Bush was badly cut by falling glass and there were several minor accidents.

Jailed for Flirting.

Knoxville, Tenn., Nov. 27.—The first arrest under Tennessee's "Johnny" bill was made in this county on Thanksgiving Day, when Lynn Chamberlain, the son of a prominent patent medicine manufacturer, was locked up.

The charge against young Chamberlain was for flirting and walking with Miss Anderson, the 15-year-old daughter of one of the most prominent citizens. The young man had been previously warned to cease his attentions to the girl.

Germany Wants Redress.

London, Nov. 27.—Special dispatches received here from Shanghai say that Baron von Heyking, the German Minister to China, has presented to the Chinese Government the demands of Germany for the recent murder of German missionaries and the destruction of German mission property.

FOOTBALL.

The Alis football team, of this city, played its last game of the season Wednesday morning on Martine common, and defeated the formidable Universals, of Westfield, by a score of 8 to 0. But for an error of judgment on the part of the referee, the score would have been six points more. The teams were fairly and evenly matched. Westfield had a heavier line and the Alis boys superior interference. By backing the centre, the Universals managed to make small but steady gains, but the local team more than made up for them by their excellent end runs that netted from five to forty yards on various occasions. In a scrimmage, a Westfield man lost the ball and it bounded out of the bunch. Dumont ran with it from the centre of the field and made a touchdown, but the referee claimed that he took it away from the Westfield runner when he had no right to do so. It was not counted. In the first half Thomas finally made a touchdown and Dumont missed the goal. The fight continued in the second half and Cuming at last circled Westfield's left end for another touchdown a few seconds before time was called. Dumont kicked over one of the goal posts, but the referee declared it no goal.

PARTICULAR MENTION.

A. E. Meredith, of West Sixth street, is spending the Thanksgiving vacation at Boston.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles C. Dilts spent Thursday as the guests of Mr. and Mrs. T. O. Doane, in Plainfield.

Mrs. Marsh and Miss Jackson, of Brunswick, Me., are spending the winter in Plainfield at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J W. Yates, of East Seventh street.

A party consisting of Walter Manning, Blanchard Randolph and Allan Taylor, of this city, are enjoying a hunting trip of several days in the Adirondack lakes. The principal sport of the party is duck shooting.

Mrs. John Weir and her daughters, Misses Francis and Helen Weir, formerly of Rockview avenue, have returned to Plainfield after spending the summer at Hamilton, N. Y., and are located on Crescent avenue.

Mrs. John D. Hunt, of Elmhurst, L. I., aged 82 years, and mother of Mrs. R. M. Fountain, of Jackson avenue, was among the guests that attended the wedding of her granddaughter, Miss Georgia Fountain to Charles J. McNabb, last Wednesday evening.

Miss May Rodman, daughter of Rev. E. M. Rodman, of East Seventh street, has issued invitations to her young lady friends for a tea to be given Thursday, December 2d, from 4 to 6 o'clock in honor of her cousin, Miss Elsie Rodman, who has recently moved to Plainfield.

Mrs. Florence Howe Hall, of Madison avenue, has been on an extended lecture tour in Massachusetts and Connecticut, addressing a large number of woman's clubs in these States Wednesday she lectured before Miss Mason's school at Tarrytown on-the-Hudson, New York.

THEATRICAL.

A melodrama that has lived and will live long without the metericious aid of pile drivers or steamboat explosions that keep the audience's attention at the highest pitch, and that, too, without a cascade of real water, a locomotive or a fire engine under steam, must have some singular merit that many modern plays lack. The Two Orphans tells the story of engrossing interest by a series of vivid pictures. Its development is natural, its conclusions plausible and satisfactory. It is seldom that playgoers see such a strong actress as Miss Claxton, supported by a carefully selected company of players as that which comprise the support of this sterling actress. Miss Claxton has added a sketch, which was endorsed by the New York press as a great success. It is an episode of 1645, entitled "The Fate of Half Past Four."

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—All bills against the city must be City Clerk's hand by Tuesday night.

—The street railway employes have decided to hold a ball some date in February.

—Odds and ends of beef and pork, cheap, tonight, Jed Smalley's market 94 Somerset street.

—At the meeting of Perseverance Lodge, No. 74, K. of P., last evening, two candidates were elected to membership.

—A new shipment of extra India River, Florida, oranges and fancy table apples has just been received by Neuman Bros, and is being closed out at special prices.

—Prudent housewives should not miss the special sale of high grade canned goods which is now being held by Neuman Bros., the Watchung avenue grocers. Special prices by the dozen or case.

—Marshal Cambell was on duty this morning in the borough in place of Chief Marshal Wilson, who is detained at home by illness. This afternoon Marshal Whitely performed duty. The latter will also remain on duty tonight.

—The wet weather has caused quite a boom in the shoe trade. Doane & Edsall report a large increase during the past few days. They say they have never been so well prepared with such a full stock as now and they have no trouble in fitting all who come.

—Tuesday next will be registration day, and the Boards of Registry and Election in the several wards of the city will meet to correct and revise the polling lists and also to add the names of those entitled to vote at the city election, which occurs on Tuesday, December 7th.

—Miss Grace Wilder, a talented missionary worker and speaker will address the Christian Endeavor meeting to be held at the Crescent Avenue church Friday evening, December 3d. All of the Plainfield Endeavor societies will be invited to attend this meeting

A Graphaphone Concert.

William Moore, of the Church of the Heavenly Rest, entertained the members of the church and Sunday-school last evening in the Parish house, by giving a graphaphone concert, which lasted from 8 to 10 o'clock. Despite the stormy weather there was a large attendance.

A Salamagundi Party.

Miss Eva Jenkins gave a pleasant Salamagundi party at her home, corner of Sixth and Washington streets, on Thursday evening, in honor of her sister, Miss Alice Jenkins, who is at home on a short vacation from the State Normal school, at Trenton. Progressive games were played, and at a late hour refreshments were served. About twenty young people were present.

Sporting Club Organized.

Several young men of this city met last evening and organized a club to be known as the "Manhattan Sporting club." The officers elected were: President, Garret Mattis; vice-president, Walter Higgins; treasurer, William Cleaves; secretary, Frank Grenville Meeker; financial secretary, William McLoughlin; sergeant-at arms, Thomas Dorematt; assistant sergeant-at arms, Harry Mattis. The committee on rooms consists of William McLoughlin and Walter Higgins. The club will hold a meeting this evening.

Wedded at St. Mary's.

Miss Anna Roth, daughter of Martin Roth, Sr., of Exchange alley, and Peter Blaich, of this city, formerly of Brooklyn, were married at St. Mary's church Wednesday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Miss Bertha Philpott, of North Plainfield, was the bridemaid, and Ira Gaston, of North Plainfield, was best man. The bride wore a traveling gown of pearl grey broadcloth, trimmed with steel white silk. The bridemaid was attired in white.

Camp Inspection.

Next Tuesday evening John Hand Camp, No. 28, Sons of Veterans, will hold their annual inspection, and five candidates will be initiated. Several division officers will be present, and every member of the camp is urged to attend.

A Patriotic Man.

Jacob Varian, of East Fifth street, was the only Plainfielder, so far as known that displayed the American flag last Thursday in honor of the celebration of "Evacuation Day," the anniversary of which event occurred on that day.

Surprised by His Friends.

The friends of Chester Dennis, of West Front street, gave him a surprise party last evening in honor of his twenty-eighth birthday. There were nineteen present. He was presented with a handsome rocking chair by his friends.

Uncle Sam's Men to Meet Here.

The New Jersey State Association of Letter Carriers met at Morristown Thanksgiving Day. There were seven present from this city. It was decided to meet in Plainfield next year.

—Tomorrow afternoon at 3 o'clock there will be a revival meeting at the Monroe Avenue church and all young men in that vicinity are cordially invited to attend.

—Miss Charlotte Messerschmith will sing at the service to be held at Monroe Avenue church tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock. All are earnestly invited to be present.

Superintendent H. C Squires, Hope Chapel, conducted the missionary service held at Warren chapel last evening. The attendance was large considering the weather, and a profitable time was experienced by all.

AIRSHIP TO KLONDIKE.

Atlantic and Pacific Aerial Navigation Company Has a New Scheme.

San Francisco, Nov. 27.—Hiram S. Maxim, superintendent of construction of the Atlantic and Pacific Aerial Navigation Company, announces that the company now has in course of construction an airship in which it is expected to make the trip to the Klondike.

"When everything necessary is on board," said Mr. Maxim, "the ship will weigh 5,000 pounds, and we shall take on board about one ton weight of passengers and provisions.

"The propelling power will be a sixteen-horse power naphtha engine, which will be made out of aluminum as far as that metal can be used, and will weigh, complete, 900 pounds. The gasoline will be stored in tanks, which will contain a sufficient quantity to drive the vessel around the earth.

"The skin of the ship will be double, and the intermediate space will be filled with hydrogen gas. This gas will be confined in separate compartments, and will be in the upper part of the cylinder and in the cones."

Attorney-General McKenna the Man.

Washington, Nov. 26.—It is generally conceded that Attorney-General McKenna will be appointed successor to Justice Field on the Supreme Court bench, and that the nomination will be sent to the Senate a few days after the assembling of Congress.

The venerable Justice Field will retire on Dec. 1. About the only opposition now known of to the appointment of Judge McKenna is from the American Protective Association, but high officials of the Government declare that it will have no weight in the matter.

Gentlemen who enjoy the confidence of the President state that he has not fully determined on the new member of the Cabinet.

Cleveland has Buncoed.

Cleveland, Nov. 27.—Several Cleveland detectives are in New York City in quest of two New York bunco men, who represented themselves to Marx Bernstein, a wholesale liquor dealer, as Siberian miners. They wanted to sell him $15,000 worth of gold dust from Siberian mines for $12,000. The deal was consummated in a hotel on Broadway, in New York, about two weeks ago. Bernstein has just discovered that his $15,000 worth of gold dust is brass filings. Sam Jacobs, the alleged go-between, is a prisoner here.

Rev. Sam Jones is telling his audiences just who will go to heaven and who will be denied that privilege. It is hardly necessary to state that those who decline to contribute to the Jones plate are denied places on that gentleman's eligible list.

A YOUNG NAPOLEON OF FINANCE.

A Leader in Speculation on the Chicago Board of Trade.

George B. French, the man who distributes orders on the Chicago Board of Trade for some unknown influence which thus far has proved itself powerful enough to master any market that it enters, is a Virginian, a member of one of the oldest families of that state, a breat great-grandson of General Mercer, who fell at the battle of Princeton. He was born at Richmond in 1864, graduated at Princeton College in 1884 and went on the New York Stock Exchange in 1885. He was heavily short of stocks and closed them out at a loss just before the panic of 1893.

Mr. French then quit Wall street and went to Arizona to look at a gold mine in which he was interested. Finding it a swindle he started out through the Colorado desert, joining a party of prospectors. On his way to New York in October of that year he stopped at the world's fair. He called on President Roswell Miller of the Chicago, Milwaukee and St. Paul road while here and was offered a position in the general freight department of the road. He remained at this six months, when he decided that he did not know the details of the freight business, gave up the position and applied for a place as trucker in the local freight offices. Here he remained six months, when he returned to his old position in the freight department. In 1895 his ability in the freight department was recognized by his appointment as traveling freight agent for Minnesota. In the latter part of that year he was sent for by E. P. Ripley, then third vice president of the St. Paul road and made chief clerk of the general freight department.

Mr French gave up his position last March and entered the grain trade. He is unostentatious in appearance and manner, simply looking the gentleman that he is. In all of his business dealings with members of the board he has inspired confidence that he is a man who can be thoroughly trusted. Somewhat above the medium height, well built, well proportioned, smooth shaven, with a clear blue eye, fresh and fair complexion, and wearing a neat business suit for sack pattern, he presents the picture of a man who is full of strength, quiet confidence in himself and with considerable regard for others. He has none of the self conceit which many older men might feel if given the responsibility of handling millions of dollars worth of property and, despite the fact that he mingles daily with the thousand or more other members of the board, the identity of his principals is as much a secret to everybody as it was when he first appeared on 'change.—Chicago Times-Herald.

Ball Bearing Oarlocks.

The introduction of a new oarlock for boats, involving an additional extension of the ball-bearing system in minimizing friction, is announced As described the row locks in this case are of brass, with three-point, ball-bearing, case-hardened steel working parts; they are furnished in either polished brass or nickel-plated, as may be desired. These materials will not bend or spread, and so the oars will move in them always the same, and thus there can be no liability to uneven rowing on account of the locks being of different shapes and angles, as is not infrequently the case with compositions of a softer character. The statement is made that this ball-bearing rowlock affords an ease in rowing which is most remarkable.—Chicago Tribune.

Not Apprehensive.

"It's all right," said the elderly gentleman who has an unwavering confidence in masculine superiority, "let the girls improve their minds as much as they possibly can. I have never been otherwise than thankful that I had my daughter taught the dead languages, the English classics, law, rhetoric, and athletic accomplishments."

"Have they led to a career?"

"Not yet. But they're going to lead to one. She is now teaching them all to my grandson."

A Pessimist and No Patriot.

"Is it possible," exclaimed the astonished man in the bicycle suit, "that you can say that you have no reverence for the flag of your country when you think of all it has cost to place it in the proud position is occupies?"

"I don't care a dern," retorted the old gentleman, with the long beard and the Bryan button. "S'pose you think fer a minute what them son-in-laws of mine has cost, fer instance; but that don't make them none the less no-account than they air."

Thoughtful.

"Didn't she seem at all affected when you told her how her refusal had wrecked your hopes?"

"No."

"Not even when you told her that you had become desperate and were going on an expedition to the North Pole?"

"Not a bit."

"Didn't she offer you any little parting token—any little memento of the past?"

"Yes. She did that. She said that if I wanted her to she'd work my monogram on a pair of ear muffs."—Washington Star.

NOTICE TO ALL INTERESTED IN UP-TO-DATE LAUNDRY WORK.

We run the laundry and take care of all details, but you "boss" it. We do what you tell us to do. It may give you a new sensation to find that you get a domestic finish when you ask for it, and to discover that your collars are actually ironed in the way that the maker intended them to be ironed.

We are running a laundry with the most improved methods and appliances. We use pure water and good soap. We are using two things that are not commonly used in laundries—care and intelligence. If you have found a laundry that pleases you perfectly, we have nothing to say to you. If you have any reason to be dissatisfied, we would like to give you a practical demonstration of our way of running a laundry.

Tell us where and when to call for your work, when you want it delivered, and let us know any particular thing that you would like to have done with it.

We want you to understand that we are running this laundry for you, and that your wishes are to be regarded in every particular. We will give you just exactly what you want, if we can find out what that is. Perhaps you believe that it is impossible to have your laundry well handled without irritation and annoyance to you. We are sure that you are mistaken. May we have an opportunity of demonstrating it?

FOR MENTAL LIBERTY.

A MINISTER'S IDEA OF THE PURPOSES OF JR. O. U. A. M.

The Members of That Order Hear an Encouraging Sermon Preached by Rev. J. O Kelvey Especially For Their Benefit.

The members of Franklin Council, No. 41, and Somerset Council, No. 104, Jr. O. U. A. M., attended divine service last evening at Warren chapel in a body. There was a very large delegation of the members, and a cordial greeting was given them by the pastor, Rev. J. O. McKelvey. The chapel was appropriately decorated for the occasion. Several large American flags were draped about the platform, and on the platform there was an arrangement of potted plants, while suspended over the pulpit was the inscription, "Welcome Jr. O. U. A. M." Mr. McKelvey delivered a strong sermon which was very impressive. He said that he was glad to have the opportunity to preach Christ to the order represented, and secondly he was glad to say that his sympathies were with the men of Plainfield, and thirdly he stated that he agreed with the order and its principles and objects. In commencing his sermon, Mr. McKelvey gave a brief outline of the principles and objects of the order and connected each one with Gospel truths, and he then took his text from the fifth chapter chapter of Galatians, "Stand therefore in the liberty wherewith Christ has made you free." Continuing, he said in part: "National liberty means that we as a nation are independent of every other nation. I has been said that our Government is not stiff enough, but it stands where she can afford not to pay attention to every little dog that may bark at her heels. Mental liberty is freedom from ignorance. Ignorance is a menace to any nation and should be remedied. This mental liberty is exhibited in our magnificent public schools and the system used. Our country is dotted with school buildings and we should be proud of them. As I understand it your order stands to defend any influence that tends to take away our freedom. The United States has for a long time been the dumping ground for the ignorance of some of the foreign nations. Our Nation always was a place for the down-trodden and oppressed, but we have no room for anarchists, and if those are your sentiments, I am with you. We have bodiily liberty, liberty of the press and speech, and we are free to give expression to our thoughts. There was a time when a man was not able to own liberty of conscience and during the past centuries it has been a football. Whenever State and Church have been united corruption has always followed, but today we can worship God according to our own will without fear of molestation.

"As I understand it your order accepts the Bible as the Word of God. No honest man can be a member of your order and not accept the Bible as the Word of God. If he does not accept it as such he has no right to membership. This liberty that we have been thinking about is just what Christ came to give us, also freedom from sin. How are we to get that liberty. Men have tried to buy salvation by giving largely to the church, but money cannot save you. Law cannot legislate a man good. It turns him out a worse criminal than he was before he came under its provisions. Christ has said "Ye shall know the truth and the truth shall make you free," and that is the way we are to get liberty and freedom by accepting Christ as our personal Saviour, and He will save all who come to Him."

AN ARTISTIC SUCCESS.

Camera Club Event Pleased Those Who Attended It.

The photographic art prints exhibition of the Plainfield Camera Club, held in the club gallery in the Babcock building, came to an end on Saturday evening. The exhibition was a great success from an artistic point of view. It was well attended and all who saw it were well pleased with it.

During the latter part of the week, an exhibit of the Vive camera work was added. It included about forty views, all taken with hand camera and showing excellent work.

Practice Bowling.

This evening on the alleys of the Park Club there will be three practice games between the team from Roselle and the Park Club. The games will start at 8:15. Last Saturday night three more 200 scores were added to the list. The successful bowlers were Davin Lenox, Walter McGee and D. Hallock. F. O. Ball and W. J. Roome are now tied for one of the monthly trophies, and F. H. Ball still holds the highest score to date.

NEWS SCORED IN PULPIT

REV. W. R. RICHARDS ASHAMED OF ONE OF ITS EDITOR ALS.

It Was the Comment Made About Popular Sentiment and the Saloons—Many Ministers Preached for Temperance.

Rev. W. R. Richards, pastor of the Crescent Avenue church, preached a very eloquent sermon yesterday morning at his church. His sermon related to the question of licensing saloons, and he spoke very strongly against allowing them to exist in Plainfield. He referred to a recent editorial in the News in which it was stated that the city was in need of the money received from the saloons for license fees. He said that he was ashamed that there should be any newspaper in Plainfield that would utter such sentiments and he hoped that none of his congregation would agree with the idea there expressed.

Rev. Cornelius Schenck, Ph.D., delivered a telling sermon to his congregation yesterday on the subject of voting against the present high license system of this city at the coming election. He proved conclusively that voting for no license would reduce the temptation to drink and would reduce pauperism and crime. The latter he proved by reading the figures from the official records of the city for the year when the saloons of Plainfield were closed for eleven months. No license, he also claimed, would increase the value of real estate and thus enrich the community at large. If it's right to have saloons on Front street and Second street, said the reverend gentleman, why not have them on Seventh street, near the home of the Councilman who votes for the saloons? It would also contribute to every religious and moral influence in the city to vote for no license, he said, and also relieve us of compicity in the business. He made a prophecy that if license was carried at the coming election it would result in an increased number of saloons over the present number. In closing he made an urgent appeal to his congregation to do their duty on election day and vote against license.

Rev. Dr. D. J. Yerkes delivered a strong temperance sermon at the First Baptist church yesterday morning in connection with the coming city election when the people of this city will have an opportunity to vote high or no license. Dr. Yerkes presented many practical suggestions, and he did not believe that high license would check the growing evil. He contended that it made no difference whether there were twelve saloons or fifty. He hoped that the people of Plainfield would vote conscientiously, and if the result should be no license, he also hoped that it would have some effect on the councilmen.

Sermons on the same subject were preached in almost all of the local churches yesterday morning, according to an agreement at the Ministers Association. Rev. Dr. W. C. Snodgrass, pastor of the First M. E. church, gave a fifteen-minute talk on the subject before his regular sermon.

WENT HOME TO BE SURPRISED

Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Vail Received an Unexpected Visitation.

A pleasant surprise party was given to Mr. and Mrs. Wallace Hall, at their home on Plainfield avenue, Saturday afternoon and evening, in honor of the the thirtieth anniversary of their marriage. The party was arranged by Mrs. Charles Vail, the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Hall, and the surprise was a complete one. Mrs. Hall was induced by her daughter to spend Friday and Saturday morning with a friend in this city, and during her absence an elaborate turkey dinner was prepared, and other preparations were completed for the surprise which was sprung upon Mr. and Mrs. Hall upon their return to their home in the afternoon. About twenty-five friends were present to offer their congratulations, and all sat down to dinner at 1 o'clock. Games were then played and dancing was enjoyed until late in the evening. Mr. and Mrs. Hall received a number of beautiful and valuable gifts from their friends. The guests were from New York, Jersey City, Brooklyn and this city.

A Debating Society.

A debating society has been organized by a number of young men of this city, mostly law students. The prime movers were William V. Nash and Charles O. Dunlap, of Murphy & Blatz's law offices. Among those who have signified their intention of joining are William Sweeney, George Neilson, Edward Baker, Rufus LaRue, William Swalm, Harvey Linbarger, C. O. Dunlap and William Nash. The first meeting will be held at the home of Mr. Dunlap December 7th.

THE G. O. P. CITY TICKET; CITIZENS' MAKE CHANGES

EVERYTHING MOVED HARMONIOUSLY IN NAMING THE COMPLETE REPUBLICAN TICKET.

John VanHerwerden Substituted for John Ross as Councilmanic Candidate for Citizens in Second Ward—Several Other Changes Are Made.

In the absence of W. R. Codington, chairman of the Republican city executive committee, the convention last Saturday evening was called to order by the vice-president, Roger F. Murray. E. R. Ackerman was selected as chairman of the convention. Chas. S. Foote was chosen secretary.

The first business was that of nominating a candidate for the office of city treasurer. The Third ward nominated W. F. Arnold, the present holder of the office, and as there were no other nominations, his name was the choice of the convention.

For Councilmen-at-large there were four nominations: First ward, J. F. Buckle; Second ward, C. S. Foote; Third ward, F. H. Andrews; Fourth ward, A. H. Leivers. C. S. Foote, moved to make the nominations unanimous, inasmuch as there were only three to be nominated.

It looked as though there was going to be quite a contest in the nominations for Freeholders, as the Second ward presented the name of former Freeholder Andrew Vanderbeek. The First ward presented the names of John H. Tier, Sr., and the Third ward that of J. Frank Hubbard. The last two received the nomination, Mr. Vanderbeek receiving only thirteen votes.

For member of the Board of Education the Second ward presented the name of L. N. Lovell to succeed himself, and there being no other nominations he was the choice of the convention.

L. M. Dunavan, J. T. Baker and A. W. Demarest were appointed a committee to fill any vacancies, should there be any. The chair appointed Daniel Galbraith as judge, John Rowland as inspector and Charles W. Smith as clerk, to serve during the session of the convention. Everything was harmonious and the programme went off without a hitch. The full delegation from each ward was present and the members were unanimous as to the selections of the candidates that were chosen.

A conference of the leaders in the Citizens' movement was held Saturday evening and several chances made in the ticket to be presented to the voters on election day in opposition to the regular Republicans.

The most important change was the substitution of John VanHerwerden, of 1308 South avenue, for John Ross as Councilmanic candidate in the Second ward. The Citizens' considered Mr. VanHerwerden as a very strong candidate and insist that Councilman Frost will not have a walk-over by any means for a re-election. In National and State politics he is a Republican. Mr. VanHerwerden is a young man in years but is said to be an astute and conservative business man who would care for the interests of the ward in a satisfactory manner. He is especially strong in the Netherwood district where the feeling against Councilman Frost is very strong on account of the lack of improvements in the way of roads and sidewalks. Mr. VanHerwerden is a member of the Hill side Golf and Tennis Club, the Park Club and the Y. M. C. A. He is a bank clerk in New York.

For one of the Freeholders former Councilman Hermon Weber, of the Fourth Ward, is a candidate in the place of Vincent J. Frazee.

The declination of Otto Arens to stand as a candidate for member of the Board of Education has been adjusted by Eugene Laing, the Park avenue gents' furnishing goods dealer, consenting to become a candidate.

The Citizens' leaders are encouraged materially in the way their ticket has been strengthened, and they will work hard for its success.

The necessary petitions for the nominations were filed with the City Clerk today.

The two places on the ticket that still remain unfilled are the Third ward councilman and the City Treasurer, but it is hoped that before the day is over some representative men can be prevailed upon to accept the nomination.

REVIVAL INTEREST CONTINUES.

Grace M. E. Meetings Attract a Large Number of People.

The revival meetings in Grace M. E. church continue to attract a large number of people. The same spirit of earnestness and interest, that has marked all previous meetings, were manifested last night. Rev. W. P. Drew's sermon was on "Temptation" and was a forcible presentation of this important truth.

A very impressive after-meeting followed the sermon, during which there was manifested on the part of several a desire for salvation.

Services will be held this week Tuesday, Wednesday and Thursday evenings.

RAIDED DISORDERLY HOUSE.

The Proprietress and Two Others Were Fined by the City Judge.

For some time the police have been watching a house at the corner of South Second street and Prescott place, which was said to have a rather unsavory reputation. Last Friday night a white man living in the neighborhood went to the place. He was found in a dazed condition next morning lying close to his own door. He showed the marks of an assult and claimed that he had been brutally beaten and robbed. He claimed to have lost about $20.

Early last evening, Chief Grant and Sergeant Kiely raided the place and made three arrests. This morning three prisoners were arraigned before City Judge DeMeza. Mary Ann Henderson, who claimed to be the tenant of the place, finally pleaded guilty after being confronted by the others and was sentenced to pay a fine of $50 or go to jail for sixty days. Martha VanNest and William Osbourne, both colored, were fined $5 for being disorderly. Osbourne is a married man and lives at the corner of Plainfield avenue and South Second street. He pleaded guilty.

Park Club Social Season.

The social season opened at the Park Club Saturday evening when an informal dance was held in the club house. It was arranged by the regular entertainment committee. The patronesses were Mrs. Samuel Townsend, Mrs. George Hallock, Mrs. Charles A. Reed, and Mrs. E. T. Douglass. There were about a hundred present including many of the junior members of the club. A few invitations for friends of members were issued. The little ball-room of the club was crowded most of the evening. Light refreshments were served at 11 o'clock.

CARRIAGES COLLIDED.

Mrs. Pliny Fisk in a Dangerous Position, but Escaped Unhurt.

The carriage of Mrs. Pliny Fisk was badly damaged in a collision on Park avenue this morning, and Mrs. Fisk, who was its only occupant, was given a bad fright. The carriage was being driven along Park avenue, between Fifth and Sixth streets, a few minutes after 10 o'clock this morning, and the coachman, in response to an order from Mrs. Fisk, stopped the horse suddenly. At the same instant a carriage, which was following it closely, collided with the rear wheel of Mrs. Fisk's carriage and completely demolished it, throwing the vehicle over upon its side. Mrs. Fisk clambered out unhurt and sought refuge from the rain in a house nearby. The horse, fortunately, did not take fright, and no further damage resulted. The carriage which caused the damage was driven by John Goodman.

Miss Radin Won the Bicycle.

The fair held under the auspices of Martha Washington Council, No. 23, Daughters of America, closed Saturday night in Washington Hall, when the contests were awarded. The bicycle was presented to Miss Laura Radin as she turned in the largest amount of money, $36. The diamond ring was awarded to Mrs. Leonard Bunn who collected about $29. The handsome doll was captured by Miss Emma Luft, who guessed the name, which was Martha Washington, the name selected by City Judge George W. DeMeza. Garret S. Mattis and Mrs. J. B. Higgins secured the two quilts. The proceeds will probably reach over $200.

A Harvest Service.

A special service appropriate to the harvest time was held in the Crescent Avenue Church, last evening. There were a number of special selections by the regular quartette choir assisted by Miss Florence M. Kline, contralto. The sermon was by the pastor, Rev. Dr. W. R. Richards, from a text in Mark 4, 26.

In Honor of Her Guests.

Miss Mary Collier gave a Salamagundi party Saturday afternoon in honor of her guests, the Misses Ketcham, of Brooklyn. A number of young women from this city were present. The first prize was won by Miss Clara Long.

MUST PAY THE PIPER.

ONE VIEW THAT A CITIZEN TAKES OF THE GITY GOVERNMENT.

Declares That the Muncipalty Has Nothing to Show for the Big Sum of Money That is Spent Annually by the Council.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Things are looking up. There seems to have been a general improvement in business matters, and our city authorities evidently intend to keep abreast of the times, as they have notified the taxpayers that the amount of their already generous Christmas offering must be largely increased. There is an old saying that "They who dance must pay the piper." That might afford us some consolation if we had enjoyed ourselves in that direction, but as the lays of our piper were chiefly sewer pipe, the cry of the children in the market place of old, "We have piped unto you and ye have not danced," would seem to more accurately describe our situation. True, we have danced attendance on the Martin Act Commissioners to protest against being obliged to pay debts incurred by others, and also upon the City Collector to pay taxes and assessmets for the sewer and sewer connections, for grading, curbing, flagging, etc. Really, that sewer is responsible for a large portion of the increase in the tax levy, and the end is not in sight, as an ordinance has recently been adopted providing for the tearing up of some fifty more streets and avenues in order that an addition to "the system of sewerage" may be constructed. But we are assurred that this is simply for the purpose of "permitting" such work to be done when the property owners desire it. Well, it is gratifying to note that our rulers are gracefully gliding down from the high perch which they so recently occupied as creators and preservers of our system of sewerage. Heretofore, property owners have been treated with scant courtesy, and their wishes have not been considered. And we have had a brief respite, also, from their talk about a City Hall to be built at an estimated cost of $50,000, and an actual cost of untold thousands more.

Either the protests of citizens or the near approach of election, or both, have had a salutary effect. After election there may be a sudden return of confidence and again there may not. System is a good thing, but in our city it seems to be confined to sewerage. There may be a system of crosswalks, but if there is it doesn't keep pace with the former. East Front street was torn up for sewer pipes as far as Berckman street, and although it was left in a wretched condition for nearly two years there was no crosswalk above Sandford avenue, and there is no prospect of one, although property owners have been obliged to curb and flag their sidewalks, sometimes upon both sides of the street, and sometimes upon only one side, indicating a lack of system in that direction also.

Why should the tax rate of a little city like ours be higher than that of the largest city in the State. In Newark it is and has been under 2 per cent. Ours was 2.30 last year, 2.52 this year and next to nothing to show for it.

Common Sense.

ITALIANS IN A SCRAP.

Westfield Justice of the Peace Had an Exciting Experience.

Justice E. R. Collins had an exciting experience with a number of frantic Italians, in the Italian boarding house of Niccolo Collucci, on Central avenue, yesterday afternoon. An Italian named Frank Rock, who had been boarding at Collucci's, asked the aid of the Justice in recovering a coat which he had left at Collucci's. When Rock and the Justice entered the house half a dozen Italians, who were playing cards at a table, arose and leaped upon their fellow-country man. Rock was immediately thrown to the floor, and one of the men drew a knife, with apparently murderous intent. The Justice took in the situation and acted quickly. Drawing a six-shooter he stood over the prostrated form of Roch and commanded the Italian to draw back. A glance at the muzzle of the Judge's six-shooter had a pacifying effect upon the crowd, which drew back and allowed Roch to leave the house. The coat was then recovered by the Justice.

Reception to a Pastor.

The reception given last Saturday evening to the Rev. Mr. and Mrs. McKane at their home on Manning avenue, by the members of the First Church of Christ, was a very pleasant affair. The guests enjoyed both vocal and instrumental music. The singing of Mrs. McKane was a treat. Games of all kind were played, and this afforded a very pleasant method of passing the time. Refreshments were served in abundance to all, and it was nearly 12 o'clock when the gues s departed for their homes.

PAVING TROLLEY WAY.

BRUNSWICK MAGNATES TALK TO REPRESENTATIVE DUNELLEN MEN.

The Occasion Was the Birthday Anniversary Dinner of a Prominent Citizen—Senator Daly Was a Conspicuous Guest There

There was a happy gathering of prominent men at Taylor's Hotel in Dunellen, Saturday afternoon. The purpose of the spread was three fold. In the first place it was in honor of the celebration of the anniversary of W. J. Wingers, one of Dunellen's most popular citizens. It was he that gave the sumptuous repast. In the second place the gathering had for its object a discussion of the proposed trolley through the borough, and lastly the subject of macadamizing the road from Dunellen to Bound Brook came in for a share of the discussion. The importance of the last two named subjects can be appreciated when it is known that the members of the Middlesex County Board of Freeholders were present, as was also Edward Radell, of the Brunswick Traction Company, several officials of Dunellen and other prominent men interested in the borough. The personage of the greatest note was Senator W. C. Daly, of Hudson County. He occupied the seat at the head of the table beside the celebrant, W. J. Wingers.

It was about 2:30 when the guests took possession of the dining room and partook of one of the best of dinners as served by mine host Taylor. The menu was complete.

It was while enjoying the good things provided that those present fell into a discussion of the topics. The company first enjoyed one of Senator Daly's best talks. It was practical, to the point and full of good advice. He praised Dunellen and her officials, and in strong words advised the latter how to deal with the trolley company that now wants to take possession of the borough. He cited many incidents where trouble was caused by the introduction of the trolley on certain conditions, and it was against these that he warned the borough people His speech contained a great deal of humor.

Remarks were made by Mayor Brakeley, of Dunellen, who said that he was first, last and always for those things that look to the interest of the borough. His speech was cordially received and applauded. Edward Radell, of the Brunswick Traction Company, then talked in a very fair and honest manner, and said that his company in asking for a franchise, expected to do exactly the right thing and comply with the condition of the agreement between the company and the borough. He did not blame the borough for being very strict and was inclined to uphold them for their honest methods.

Another interesting speaker was County Superintendendent of Schools, H. B. Willis, of New Brunswick, and Engineer Atkinson, of the Brunswick Traction Company, also made a few remarks of much interest. Everybody agreed that the trolley is a good thing and so was the macadamizing of the road between the borough and Bound Brook.

Those present thoroughly enjoyed the hospitality of W. J. Wingers, and in the discussion of the different subjects no one lost sight of the fact that it was Mr. Wingers who was celebrating. The latter was one of the principal speakers, and his popularity was clearly shown by the very generous applause given him after his remarks.

Those numbered in the party included Senator Daly, Lawyer George Abbott, C. F Guth, Dr. Robert Roessler, of Hoboken; Dennis Vanderbilt, of Milltown; H. S. Gaston, of New Market; W. E Carman, of Metuchen; County Engineer Robert Dougherty, Edward Radell, Engineer Atkinson, H. B. Willis, counsel for the Board of Freeholders, of New Brunswick; Alfred Mundy, director of the Board of Freeholders; J. Y. Wilson, W. J. Wingers, Mayor Brakeley, Postmaster Charles Coriell, F. A. Gise, Abner S. Coriell, Jr., Eugene Runyon, Howard Bird, W. E Brace, J. F. Burke, representing S. Z. Dickson, of Dunellen; Hon. James Fountain, Old Bridge; Michael Welsh, of South Amboy; D. W. Clayton, clerk of the Board of Freeholders; Asbury Fountain, of Browntown.

Don't Like Promises

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—The coming city election will show to the Citizens that Mr. Kline and Mr. Fisher do not carry the colored vote in their pockets though they, in all probability, try to blind the colored voter and feed him on promises. They will find that many will not follow their lead, but will aid the Citizens in their efforts for better government.

Second Ward Colored Republican.

WHAT THORN WILL SAY

Will Take the Witness Stand and Deny He Killed Guldensuppe.

WILL ACCUSE MRS. NACK

Says She Sawed Up the Body—Love Led Him to Help Her—The Accused Man Says He Will Prove His Innocence.

New York, Nov. 29.—Martin Thorn will be put upon the stand some time to-day in his own defense, and he will deny that he killed William Guldensuppe, or that he ever boasted to any person that he had killed his rival in the affections of Mrs. Augusta Nack.

The trial was resumed at 9.30 o'clock. The witnesses in Thorn's behalf will be himself, Carl Merick, a former employer, who will testify to the defendant's good character; Mrs. Zelger and others, who will tell of Mrs. Nack's record, and possibly Herman Nack, the husband.

Thorn's fate depends wholly upon the impression he makes upon the jurors. If they believe that he did not kill Guldensuppe, and had no knowledge of the murder until after it had been committed by Mrs. Nack, he will be acquitted. The circumstantial evidence against him is very strong, but the only direct link to connect him is John Gotha's statement.

The fact that Mrs. Nack was not produced as a witness by the prosecution in this trial was a surprise to many, but to none more than to Mr. Howe himself. It is very probable that Mrs. Nack's failure to testify will rob Mr. Howe of an important factor in the defense. He has announced that he will put the husband of the woman on the stand to tell the story of her past life and impeach her character. Now that Mrs. Nack has not appeared it is considered doubtful whether Mr. Howe will be able to use Mr. Nack at all. Again, it is possible that Mrs. Nack will be called in rebuttal, but this is likely to depend largely on the strength of Thorn's defense.

What Thorn Will Testify.

William F. Howe, Thorn's lawyer, says that the defendant will go on the stand to-day and will tell his own story of the murder of Guldensuppe, which Mr. Howe relates as follows:

Martin Thorn made the acquaintance of Mrs. Nack just as she testified on the witness stand. She was at that time living with William Guldensuppe, who passed as her husband, in the Ninth avenue home of the midwife. Mrs. Nack did not love Guldensuppe. She fell in love with Thorn. Finally, one day, Guldensuppe and Thorn had some trouble. They came to blows, a revolver was drawn, and it was discharged by accident. Then Guldensuppe blackened Thorn's eye, and Guldensuppe swore that he would kill Thorn the first time they met.

Thorn left the house of the midwife. But after that Mrs. Nack and Thorn used to meet. She was deeply in love with the barber, and it is true, no doubt, that Thorn also loved Mrs. Nack.

Finally, Mrs. Nack decided to get rid of Guldensuppe. She did not care for him any longer. She wanted to live with Thorn as his wife, just as she had lived with Guldensuppe. She went to hire the Woodside cottage. She told Thorn that she wanted the place so that she might live there undisturbed; that they might not be surprised by Mr. Nack, for Thorn knew that Mrs. Nack's husband was still living, and that there had been no divorce. She told Thorn that Guldensuppe could not find her at Woodside, because the place was a remote one. Thus it came about that they hired the house.

Guldensuppe Kept in the Dark.

To Guldensuppe Mrs. Nack did not breathe one word about her intentions of living with Thorn. On the contrary, she told her old lover that she would run a baby farm at Woodside, and then she invited Guldensuppe over to the house to inspect it. She arranged to take Guldensuppe there. She wanted to get rid of him. She wanted to kill him, and it was for that purpose only that she hired the Woodside cottage.

The day before Mrs. Nack lured Guldensuppe to the Woodside cottage she went to Long Island City and purchased the oilcloth and the cheesecloth. She acknowledged that on the witness stand during the first trial. She also acknowledged that she had purchased the oilcloth for no other purpose than to wrap up Guldensuppe's body after she had killed him.

Thorn was told by Mrs. Nack to come over to Woodside shortly before noon, Friday, June 25. Mrs. Nack and Guldensuppe arrived at the cottage together. They were seen to enter the place. We have a witness, a witness called by the prosecution, who swore that she saw Thorn enter the Woodside cottage fully an hour after the arsival of Mrs. Nack and Guldensuppe.

After Mrs. Nack got Guldensuppe into the cottage she shot him dead. Then she waited for the arrival of Thorn. She shot him with the pistol which was found in her own house by the detectives, and which has been offered in evidence by the prosecution. Many thanks to the District Attorney because he has thus saved us the trouble of putting that pistol in evidence. Mr. Youngs has been very kind in aiding us to prove our client's innocence.

Guldensuppe had been dead about an hour when Thorn arrived. He rang the bell and Mrs. Nack opened the door for him.

"Martin," she said to him, "Guldensuppe is upstairs. I have killed him."

Thorn Led to the Bata. Room.

She took Thorn by the arm and led him upstairs. There on the floor lay the body of William Guldensuppe, murdered by the hand of his former mistress. Thorn looked at the body. He saw the blood oozing from a pistol wound in the head. Thorn was terrified.

"What shall we do now?" he asked, in utter despair.

"That's all right," replied the midwife. "I have looked out for all this. We will cut him up. I have made all the arrangements," and then the midwife showed Thorn the oilcloth and the cheesecloth she had purchased the day before.

Mrs. Nack and Thorn then dragged the body to the adjoining bathroom. They took off the clothing, and then they began to cut up the body in the tub. They washed each portion and then wrapped it up in a separate bundle. Thorn helped the woman. He helped her because he loved her, and because he wanted to shield her.

Thorn had nothing to do with the cutting up of the body except to hold it. Mrs. Nack, who knows considerable about anatomy, did the dissecting all alone.

That evening they took the clothes over to Mrs. Nack's home, in this city, and there the murderess burned the clothing. She has confessed to that. Then the next day they got rid of the body, just as Mrs. Nack swore on the witness stand.

It is true that Thorn had a conversation with Gotha. But Gotha lies when he says that Thorn confessed to him that he killed Guldensuppe. What Thorn told to Gotha was this: He said: "Mrs. Nack has killed Guldensuppe and I helped her to get rid of the body." That is all there is to that.

Gotha and the Reward.

Gotha knew that there was a reward offered for the arrest of Thorn, provided Thorn was the murderer. Now, Mrs. Nack, the real murderess, was in custody at that time. Therefore Gotha could not have claimed the reward unless he declared that Thorn was guilty.

Nobody believes Gotha. I know that he is a bad witness. I know that he told a deliberate lie. Thorn trusted him, and this man tried for money, no doubt, to send him to his doom.

I firmly believe that it was Mrs. Nack who killed Guldensuppe. I firmly believe that every fair-minded man and woman, after reading the above statement, will agree with me that Thorn is innocent. No mater what his moral character may have been, he did not commit murder. He is innocent, and I know of no reason why, in the name of justice, he should not acquited.

District Attorney Youngs says he will call Mrs. Nack to the witness stand in rebuttal. He is convinced that the jury now stands ready to convict, but he will call the woman to disprove Thorn's allegations. He regards either acquittal or a disagreement as impossible.

E. M. Friend, Mrs Nack's lawyer, told me that his client had repented and expressed a willingness to aid justice.

"She told the whole truth, and nothing but the truth, on the last trial," remarked Mr. Friend. "She will repeat her statement after Thorn has woven his romance."

If Mr. Howe finishes his case to-night it is probable that the lawyers and Justice Maddox will have completed their addresses and charge to the jury by to-morrow night, or at the latest, on Wednesday morning, when Thorn's fate will be left to the twelve men who nave been under lock and key for a week. been under lock and key for nearly a week.

TRAIN ROBBERS CAUGHT.

The Men Who Held Up the Santa Fe Train at Grant's Are in Custody.

Albuquerque, N. M., Nov. 29.—Telegrams received here announce the capture by Daim Graham, constable at Bisbee, Ariz., of the train robbers who held up the Santa Fe passenger train at Grant's three weeks ago. The robbers are Jesse Williams, Tom Anderson and an unknown man who refuses to disclose his name.

The hold-up occurred in Valencia County, in this judicial district; and District-Attorney Fincial is preparing the papers necessary for the extradition of the prisoners from Arizona to this Territory. While the exact amount of the booty secured by the robbers is not known, it is estimated to have been between $25,000 and $100,000. Under the laws of New Mexico train robbery is a capital offense, and if the men now under arrest are convicted of the hold-up their lives will probably pay the forfeit.

Cubans Capture a Spanish Fort.

Havana, Nov. 28, via Key West, Nov. 29.—Reports from Santiago de Cuba province have been received here to the effect that the important Spanish fort at Poloalto, between Tunas de Zasa and Jucaro, surrendered to the patriots a few days ago after a short engagement in which only one Spanish soldier was killed and two wounded. After the first volley of the Cubans the Spanish gave up the fort, with their rifles, ammunition and artillery. The whole garrison, composed of 150 men, surrendered, but the prisoners were released by the insurgents two hours later. The Cubans belonged to a detachment of Gen. Calixto Garcia's army. Fear of the use of dynamite by the patriots is said to have been the cause of the speedy surrender of the Spanish.

Americans in Cuba Need Help.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Consul-General Lee has made a report to the Secretary of State in which he says there are 1,607 American citizens in Cuba dependent upon charitable assistance. They have been partly provided for out of the $50,000 appropriated by Congress.

Gen. Lee says that in making provision for the relief of these citizens more than fifteen hundred dollars a week must be expended. He has drawn $25,000 of the sum appropriated, of which two drafts for $5,000 each were drawn this month. He expresses the opinion that a considerable time must elapse before the indigents will be self sustaining.

Closing Republican Headquarters.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Senator Hanna is expected in Washington the latter part of this week, and will probably arrive Thursday or Friday. He will be accompanied by Maj. Dick, secretary of the Republican committee. In this connection it is asserted that the Republicans will abandon their Washington headquarters after Jan. 1. The Republican Congressional Committee will do the chief work in the Congressional campaigns next year for the Republicans.

Free Pills.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of constipation and sick headache. For malaria and liver troubles they have proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25c. per box. Sold by L. W. Randolph. Druggist.

Miss Alice Jenkins, of East Sixth street, returned to her studies at Trenton Normal School, this morning, after spending Thanksgiving at home.

The Surprise of All.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

John V. Beekman, Jr., of West Eighth street, returned to his studies at the Massachusetts Institute of Technology, today.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75 cents.

How to Cure Bilious Colic.

I suffered for weeks with colic and pains in my stomach caused by biliousness and had to take medicine all the while until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured me. I have since recommended it to a good many people. Mrs. F. Butler, Fairhaven, Conn. Persons who are subject to bilious colic can ward off the attack by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms appear. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner North nd Park avenues.

NO TWO MINUTE TROTTER.

Robert Bonner Thinks Chances of Such a Record Are Somewhat Remote.

"Talk about horses?" said Robert Bonner, the lover of trotting animals, "why certainly!" And he waved the reporter to a seat.

Mr. Bonner is so hale and hearty in action and speech that it is hard to realize how long ago he bought Dexter. "The performance of Star Pointer in cutting the pacing record within the two minute limit," said Mr. Bonner, "doesn't appeal to me personally, so very much. I don't take much interest in pacers. I have never owned one. Last winter I said to J. Malcom Forbes, the yachtsman and horseman of Boston: 'I wouldn't give more than two cents apiece for 'em.' We were talking of pacers at the time.

"'Well, Mr. Bonner,' said Forbes, 'you value them more highly than I do; my price for 'em is ten cents a dozen.' As Mr. Forbes once paid $125,000 for a trotting stallion which covered a mile in 2:10¾, the largest price ever paid for a trotter in this country, his estimate of pacers is comparatively low.

"The ultimate horse—the highest speed at which the future trotter or pacer will be driven—is something about which we can tell nothing; so much depends upon mechanical improvements and the condition of track and wind.

"The bicycle record for one mile has been lowered from about 2:30 to the time of a running horse within a very few years by the use of the pneumatic tire and the ball-bearing axle. The bicycle sulky increased the speed of trotters by five or six seconds. In some cases it increased the pace of colts by eight or nine seconds, yet many drivers hesitated at first to use it. We cannot tell what further change may be in store for the horseman. It may be in the tracks; it may be in the shoeing of horses. If no further improvements are made to aid the speed of the horse, I do not myself expect to live to see a horse trot in two minutes.

"There is the question of wind resistance. A good many old horsemen have told me that they never realized the force of wind resistance, just as they never fully appreciated the value of good roads until they themselves had ridden the bicycle and furnished their own motive power. The wheel has unquestionably helped horsemen to a better understanding of the conditions of speed. I have known the wind to make a difference of three seconds in a quarter of a mile in the speed of a trotter."

"The track must make a great difference, Mr. Bonner. Which is the fastest track in the country?"

"The Terre Haute track is considered the fastest. Western tracks generally are fast. Some drivers speak of tracks on prairie soil as 'springboards.' The Columbus, O., track is very fast, and I look upon it as next to Terre Haute, with Nashville third. The Meadville track, and that at Rigby, Me., are considered the fastest of our Eastern tracks.

"As for the ultimate horse—the limit of speed—well, no one knows. But I think all horsemen are agreed that, barring new mechanical agencies, record breaking must be less frequent in future, and must generally proceed by fractions of a second.—New York World.

PROPER DRESS FOR THE NECK.

Ties and Stocks Are of Gorgeous Hues, and Floral Boas to be Worn.

[By special arrangements with the N.Y.Sun.]

The butterfly bow tie has a most unusual appearance when untied, and to the uninitiated it appears less like a tie than almost anything else one could imagine. In reality it is nothing more nor less than a wide string tie with broad ends so notched as to, when tied, give the fluffy effect of a narrow Windsor. It possesses one very great advantage to feminine minds, as it is so easily tied correctly. In fact, it would be next to impossible to tie it any other way. The most stylish are in dark plaids and Roman stripes in any and all colors. They should be selected to contrast and not match the waists with which they are to be worn.

The accordion-plaited bow is a made-up tie, two full accordion-plaited ends fastened to a plain band by a puffy little knot in the center. These come in all solid colored and figured silks and in the black satin. The newest, and perhaps the most stylish, are of shaded silk, the outer edge of the bow being much brighter than the center and the band on which it is made. One pretty tie of this description had ends of rose cerise shaded to black, and fastened to its black band with a soft cerise knot.

Something entirely new and for evening wear is the floral boa. It is a thick garland of bright colored flowers, to be worn close around the neck, with ends of broad taffeta ribbon. These are especially designed to take the place of the ostrich boa for evening wear in the early fall before one feels the need of furs. They are much cheaper than ostrich boas and, as they are generally becoming, will doubtless be much worn. A striking one, and becoming to a brunette, is of large, yellow chrysanthemums; with three rows of blossoms and twelve in a row, with four broad streamers of yellow taffeta ribbon. On the ends of each of these ribbons was fastened a chrysanthemum, giving the effect of large, fluffy tassels.

A pretty model for a gown is shown in one of the accompanying illustrations. It is composed of black cloth and cerise silk. The black cloth skirt is tucked to just above the knees. The pouched bodice of the cerise silk is braided back and forth with black velvet ribbon in two widths. The sailor collar and epaulets are of white embroidered muslin, and so is the yoke, which is crossed with the velvet ribbon from each shoulder toward the front, where the ribbons fasten with a cut steel buckle to a narrow band of silk. The tight sleeves are puffed at the top and are finished at the wrists with embroidered muslin frills. Several bands of the two widths of velvets are set around the sleeves above the elbow.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Rain or Snow Tonight; Tuesday Clearing Weather; Colder Tonight; Decidedly Colder Tuesday.

At 2 o'Clock the Thermometer at Leggett's Pharmacy Registered 40 Degrees.

Christmas was just four weeks off last Saturday, and already the stores of local merchants are beginning to show the preparations that are being made for a fine display of holiday goods. It is a matter of fact that the Plainfield tradesmen are the most progressive lot to be found in the suburban section. They cater extensively to the whims of fashion and novelty and deserve liberal patronage from all Plainfielders. A perusal of the advertising columns of The Press is ample index for the prospective customers to find opportunities for spending their money to good advantage.

The Attorney-General has been remiss in delaying the Palisades cases, unless all reports are mistaken. It is to be feared that South Jersey does not appreciate the great interest in this subject which exists in the northern part of the State. There are several quarrymen violating the law, and while the most serious attack upon the Palisades is being made by one quarryman who is beyond the reach of the statute, much good would be done by punishing the others. Energetic action is needed, and should not be delayed on any pretext.—Newark Call.

SOMERSET COUNTY TROLLEY

CROSS STATE LINE ARE VICTORIOUS.

New York and Philadelphia Company Defeats the Brunswick Traction Company for Right of Way.

The New York and Philadelphia Traction Company has won a victory in the war with the Brunswick Traction Company in Somerset county. Two months ago the Brunswick Traction Company started to build a line from New Brunswick to Bound Brook on the North side of the Raritan river. About the same time the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company hurried to get the right of way to build a competing line from Bound Brook to New Brunswick on the south side of the Raritan river. The Franklin Township Committee and the Commissioners of South Bound Brook were in session one month ago and were about to grant to the New York and Philadelphia Company franchises to construct its competing line when they were held up by an order issued by Chancellor McGill at the instigation of the Brunswick Traction Company which restrained the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company from building or operating in the State. The writ was recently signed in the Chancery Court.

Chancellor McGill said he had issued the writ with the understanding that the people of Somerset county objected to the construction of a trolley road by the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company, but as the affidavits presented by the defendants showed that the chief objection came from a rival company he would strike out that part of the restraining order prohibiting the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company from building or operating in the State. The Commissioners of South Bound Brook and the Franklin Township committee held special meetings Saturday night and granted the delayed franchise, giving the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company the right of way from Bound Brook to the Middlesex county line, a distance of seven miles. The company has agreed to construct its line within ninety days.

The Brunswick Traction Company has constructed its line on the north side of the Raritan river, but is held up about one mile from Bound Brook, through trouble in crossing the tracks of the New Jersey Central Railroad. The New Jersey Central is openly supporting the New York and Philadelphia Traction Company, and a constant watch is kept on the crossing in order to frustrate any attempt of the Brunswick Traction Company to put a large force at work in the night.

Many People Go and Come in the Pretty Suburban Town—Items Interesting Because of Their Brevity

Elmer Wherry, of New York city, spent Sunday as the guest of J. C. Morrow, of Park street.

Rev. Charles Fiske, rector of St. Paul's Episcopal church, has entered a sermon in the New York Herald's prize contest.

Miss Emma Starr, of the Trenton State Normal School, is spending a short vacation at her home on North Broad street.

Dr. and Mrs. T. R. Harvey have been entertaining Frank Gilpin, Mrs. Harvey's brother, und C. E. Ellenberger, both of the Philadelphia Dental College.

William Bastable has returned to his studies in St. Paul's School, Garden City, L. I, after spending a vacation of several days at his home on North Broad street.

Miss Nettie Johnston, who is studying at the State Normal School, Trenton, has returned after a few days visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Samuel Johnston, of North Broad street.

A canine with destructive tendencies entered the henhouse of W. M. Stamets, on South Broad street, Saturday night and slaughtered thirty chickens. The fact was not discovered until yesterday morning.

A special consecration and temperance meeting was held by the Christian Endeavor Society of the Presbyterian church last evening. C. B. Smith led the meeting and H. Y. Porter and Miss Estelle Clark were received into membership.

Rev. Samuel Frender, a converted Jewish rabbi, delivered an interesting address in the Presbyterian church last evening on the Hebrews of today. He described in a pleasing manner the Synagogue service, Rabbinical costumes, the present Passover service and the Jewish wedding ceremonies.

A special missionary service was held in the Congregational church, last evening. Mrs. Caswell of the Congregational Home Missionary Society made an address, and a thank offering for missions was taken. The meeting was arranged by the Young Ladies' Missionary Society of the church.

The case of Dr. H. H. Butler against Mrs. W. R. Littlefield, to recover a bill of $6 for medical services to the defendant's cow, was tried by Justice Toucey and a jury in the town rooms, Saturday. Paul Q. Oliver appeared as the plaintiff's attorney. After a long deliberation the jury disagred.

Natalie Brown, the six-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Brown, of Prospect street, received a fracture of the left arm some weeks ago, and a friend of Mr. Brown's who is not a surgeon, volunteered to set the bone. He was allowed to do this and the arm healed and was apparently nearly well when it began again to give the child pain. A physician was called and after making an examination he decided that the bone was improperly set, and ordered the child taken to the Elizabeth hospital Saturday. It will be necessary to break the fracture and reset the bone properly.

An Honest Conductor.

A few days ago Miss Addie Weaver, of West End Park, was riding in a trolley car, and in getting on or off she dropped her pocketbook. It was picked up by Conductor Martin Lance and returned to the car-house to Superintendent Adelman. The latter discovered that the owner of the book was Miss Weaver and returned it to her. The honesty of the conductor was highly commended.

The three-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros. of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

—Try Neuman Bros. pure mocha and Java coffee. This mixture has become a special favorite with Plainfield housewives, because of its purity and extra high flavor.

PREMATURE GRAYNESS.

A tendency to early grayness may be hereditary, but as a rule an unhealthy condition of the scalp is responsible.

Hair turns gray when the glands have so far lost their vitality as to be unable to secrete the coloring matter. This condition is usually due to dandruff or some other scalp affection.

RUM AND QUININE HAIR TONIC

puts the scalp in a healthy condition, stimulates the growth of hair, removes dandruff and prevents grayness and baldness.

OVER 6,000 LIVES LOST

Result of the Terrible Typhoon in the Phillipine Islands.

MANY EUROPEANS DEAD

Full Details of the Disaster Not Yet Known, but the Property Loss Will Reach Millions — Whole Towns Devastated.

San Francisco, Nov. 29.—The typhoon which swept over the Philippine Islands on Oct. 6 was the cause of one of the worst disasters that has been reported from the southern ocean in many years. Thousands of lives were lost, including those of many Europeans, and the damage to property was something appalling. Telegraphic advices concerning the calamity have been very meagre.

The difficulty of getting news from the islands is great at any time, and owing to the remoteness of some of the provinces visited by the hurricane full details of the storm did not reach Hong Kong until Nov. 1. The steamer Gaelic from the Orient brought letters and papers which contain accounts of the ravages of the tidal wave and the winds. Several towns were swept or blown away. Fully four hundred Europeans were drowned and it is estimated that 6,000 natives perished.

The hurricane struck the island at the Bay of Santa Paula, in the Province of Samar. It devastated the entire southern portion of the island and cut off communication with the rest of the world for two days. On the 12th the hurricane reached Leyte and struck the capital of Tacloban with great fury. In less than half an hour the town was a mass of ruins. The natives were panic stricken and tried to make their way to clear ground.

Four hundred of them were buried beneath the debris of wrecked buildings and 126 corpses of Europeans were recovered from the ruins when the native authorities instituted a search for the dead. Reports from the southern coast were received which claimed that a score of small trading vessels and two Sydney traders were blown ashore and the crews were drowned. The sea at Samoa swept inland nearly a mile, destroying property valued at several million dollars and causing a great number of deaths among the natives.

GOING SLOW ON THE YUKON.

Canada Likely to Modify Her Obnoxious Mining Regulations.

Ottawa, Nov. 29.—Upon the return of the Yukon surveyor, Mr. William Ogilvie, to Ottawa, he will at once prepare a report to the Minister of Interior upon the Yukon country. His advice, based upon experience, will have the effect of undoing, to a very considerable extent, the Yukon mining regulations sanctioned by the Minister during the piping times of the Klondike craze.

So far as can be learned, the Dominion Government does not intend to do anything in the way of constructing, or aiding in the construction, of a Yukon telegraph line this Winter. Dawson City, also, is not to be the headquarters of the Administration. Maj. Walsh has been instructed to look out for a more central location, and not to be in too much of a hurry, either, in making the selection. Additional customs offices are to be established, and it will be impossible to choose the locations for them until the several routes of travel have been fairly well ascertained. The Minister of Interior has instructed Mr. McArthur, who recently surveyed the Dalton trail for the Government, to make a track survey of the overland route from Edmonton to the Yukon.

FARMERS BURN A NEGRO ALIVE.

His Crime the Killing of a White Youth —The Sheriff is Helpless.

Southport, N. C., Nov. 29.—During the Fall several farmers have been mullet fishing on Therry Grove Beach, near Little River, S. C. Two weeks ago one of the fishermen's son, named Stephens, left for his home on the Waccamaw River with an ox and cart, carrying a package of money.

Stephens' father went home a week ago but found nothing had been heard of his son since he left the beach.

It was learned that a negro, Nathan Willis, had borrowed a gun and left the beach shortly after young Stephens departed.

A posse was organized by the Sheriff and Willis was traced thirty miles to Town Creek, N. C., where he was found on Wednesday, having in his possession Stephens' ox, cart and clothes. He was brought back to South Carolina.

Reports came in yesterday that Willis was taken from the Sheriff Thursday night by a mob of farmers and carried off into the woods, where he was chained between two pine trees. Light wood was piled around him and he was burned to death.

Condemned Boilers Explode.

Pittsburg, Nov. 29.—By the explosion of a boiler yesterday afternoon at Laughlin & Co.'s rolling mill, at Soho and Brady streets, John P. Mullen, the engineer, was killed, and C. O. Armes, colored, John Carsey, and John Pierpont were mortally injured. The plant is known as the old Moorhead-McClean Mill. The original owners failed, and with the return of prosperity the property was bought by Laughlin & Co. and started up. The battery of boilers that blew up was closed down two weeks ago for repairs, a big crack having developed in one of them.

Murder with an Ax.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 29.—The police are searching the city for Lawrence Doyle, who is said to have killed Amos Hamblin on the Spencer farm, near Carey's Corners, five miles north of this city, yesterday afternoon.

It is said the men, both of whom are employed on the farm, had been drinking hard cider all day, and towards evening became quarrelsome, and in a dispute over a girl it is alleged that Doyle struck Hamblin on the head with an ax, killing him instantly.

Americans at a Bull Fight.

Neuva Laredo, Mexico, Nov. 29.—Several thousand Americans from all parts of Texas witnessed a bull fight here yesterday afternoon. It was a good exhibition of the brutal sport, and delighted the Mexican spectators. Two horses were killed, and one bull fighter was seriously gored by a vicious bull.

SAYS REED BUNCOED HIM.

Farmer Brown Says He Swindled Him Out of $2,000.

Worcester, Mass., Nov. 29.—Charles R. Brown, a wealthy farmer of Gardiner, Mass., has identified the man confined in Worcester jail under the name of John Reed as one of two who buncoed him out of $2,000 cash at his place in Gardiner about Nov. 1. They played the old three-card game, and let Brown win $1,000. He drew $2,000 out of the bank to add to his capital for a later session at the cards, and placed all in a box provided by one of the bunco sharps. He took the box home with him to dinner, intending to return and play further in the afternoon. At the dinner hour he became curious to see the money he had won, and broke open the box. It contained the usual stone wrapped in a newspaper and a letter advising him to quit gambling. Reed and an associate who escaped tried to work the same dodge in Harvard two weeks ago, and the town constable got after them. Reed drew a revolver and escaped, but was arrested in Clinton an hour later. He was fined for gambling, and is held in heavy bonds to await the action of the Grand Jury for assault with a pistol on Constable William Hanna, of Harvard.

Warrants are at the jail for the arrest of Reed in case he should get bail. He is wanted in connection with a $5,000 bunco game at Stafford Springs, Conn.; a $4,500 job at Framingham, Mass.; one of $3,500 at Chelmsford; one of $4,500 at Franklin, N. H., and one of $3,000 at Bridgewater, Mass., in addition to the Gardiner job. The six jobs were alike, and the total proceeds of the pair in three months, so far as is known, is $22,500. The officers are unable to identify Reed, except that they know he has lived in Northern New York.

COUNT BADENI RESIGNS.

The Emperor Also Declares the Reichsrath Adjourned.

(Cable Dispatch to the New York Sun.)

Vienna, Nov. 29.—The return to this city of Emperor Francis Joseph from Walsee, where he was visiting his daughter, has been immediately followed by two steps which have in view the ending of the Parliamentary pandemonium and the solving of the government deadlock. The first step was the publishing of an imperial letter to Count Badeni, the Prime Minister, declaring the Reichsrath adjourned. The second step was an announcement made at 3 o'clock yesterday morning from the steps of the Parliament building, by Dr. Lueger, the well-known Anti-Semite leader in the Reichsrath and Burgomaster of Vienna, who shouted to the crowd in front of the building: "Badeni has just given his resignation. The people's will is fulfilled."

The people were jubilant when they heard of the retirement of the Prime Minister, and they gave vent to their feelings by waving their hats and shouting "Hoch!" Dr. Lueger had an audience with the Emperor, who told him of Count Badeni's resignation and of his acceptance of it.

Dr. Baron De Gautsch von Frankenthurn, at present Minister of Public Instruction and Ecclesiastical Affairs, will succeed Count Badeni.

The news of the resignation of the Prime Minister kept the Ring-strasse crowded until late last evening, the Socialist workmen and German students rejoicing, boasting and arguing, instead of taking part in violently demonstrative processions, with which the day began. When the resignation became known in Gratz, the capital of Styria, this evening, the city was immediately illuminated.

LOCKED IN THE ARCTIC ICE.

Eleven New England Men with the Whalers Off Point Barrow.

New Bedford, Mass., Nov. 29.—Locked in the Arctic ice off Point Barrow, and down the Alaskan coast in the direction of the Mackenzie River, where those of the whalers whose positions are not known are supposed to be, are eleven New England men, most of whom are well known to the seafaring men of this city. Among them are Capt. A. C. Sherman, master of the steam bark Orca, and First Mate T. L. Ellis, both of this city. Capt. Sherman is one of the best-known sailing masters in this part of the country, and as he has wintered in the Arctic twice before his friends here are not in the least worried. His mother-in-law, Mrs. Ebenezer Nye, of Williams street, whose husband was lost while whaling in the Arctic, is fearful that those of the relief expedition who sailed on the Bear last Saturday will fare worse than the sailors of the ice-locked ships.

Mock Hanging Became Real.

Reading, Nov. 29.—Harry Hendricks, aged 15 years, with a number of other boys, were playing about a stable at Downington Saturday engaged in the game of "banter." One boy proposed a hanging match. Young Hendricks agreed, and dared his companions to follow his example. A halter was procured, and Harry, by means of a stool, mounted to the crossbeams, around one end of which he fastened the piece of harness, tying the other end around his throat. He smiled at the group below, and they shouted in glee. Suddenly Harry's feet slipped, and he fell with a shriek, which was strangled in his throat by the band that tightened about his neck and cut into the flesh. The other boys in horror fled for help. A man quickly responded and cut the boy down. Drs. Tyndell and Kerr, after an examination, said that the boy's neck was broken. He was carried home in a dying condition.

Elliot Danforth to Wed Again.

Riverhead, L. I., Nov. 29.—The engagement of Miss Mary B. Roat of this village to Elliot Danforth, chairman of the Democratic State Committee, has been announced. Miss Roat is a daughter of George W. Roat, a clothier of this place. She has been a teacher in the Riverhead public school about eight years. Her resignation, to take effect on Jan. 1, has been tendered. She is a brunette, and is considered one of the most stylish girls here.

Disastrous Prairie Fire in Texas.

San Antonio, Tex., Nov. 29.—Another disastrous prairie fire has just swept over the greater parts of Crosby, Hale and Lubbock counties, completely destroying the range and many ranch buildings. Two bands of sheep, one numbering 2,000 head and the other 1,200 head, were caught in the fire and every animal burned to death.

GERMANY'S PLANS IN CHINA.

Eight Cruisers and 3,500 Men Will Be in Kiao Chou Bay.

Berlin, Nov. 29.—The presence of Emperor William at Kiel upon the occasion of swearing in the naval recruits has had the expected effect of clearing the situation so far as Germany's attitude towards China and Hayti is concerned. Within two months a squadron of eight fine cruisers, having on board 3,500 men, will be assembled in Chinese waters, and the fact that Prince Henry of Prussia, brother of His Majesty, is to command half this force leads probably to the reports, current in government circles, that hot work is expected, as Prince Henry's great ambition for years has been to win naval laurels.

Furthermore, the correspondent here of the Associated Press has been told by gentlemen who were at Kiel upon the occasion referred to that Emperor William, in conversation with Admiral Von Knorr, Commander-in-Chief of the Imperial Navy, and with Prince Henry, made use of the expression:

"We must forestall England."

This remark was made while the Emperor was enlarging on the situation in China and dwelling on the fact that the advantage gained by the quick action of the German naval forces in Kiao Chou Bay must be followed by an adequate strengthening of the squadron by the forces available.

The German newspapers are almost unanimous in demanding that Germany seize the present opportunity to obtain adequate and tangible compensation for her support of China in the peace negotiations with Japan in 1896. The Deutche-Zeitung is the mouthpiece of this feeling when it says: "We rejoice to say that we thus have a guarantee that the German Empire sends out a fleet with the firm purpose of obtaining tangible results on the coasts of the Yellow Sea, for it is the second time that a Hohenzollern Prince has hoisted his flag against exotic piracy, and we are certain he will only return crowned with laurel."

AIR-SHIP THAT SAILED.

Floatd in Different Directions at Will of the Inventor.

Topeka, Kan., Nov. 29.—Charles Haas, of Topeka, on Saturday manipulated an airship successfully in the presence of a large crowd. The ship is twelve feet square, and is equipped with numerous wings, or sails, and propellers. The machine is constructed so as to sail in a high wind without the aid of the equipment, that being necessary only when the wind is low.

The wind was very high, and Haas did not need the propellers, nor did he venture on a trip, but he put 200 pounds of rock in the ship's hull to test its carrying powers. The ship sailed rapidly and smoothly into the air for 500 feet, when it was stopped by a rope to which it was attached. The ship was sent up several times in different directions, Haas being able to guide it with two ropes fastened to the sails.

Haas proposes to use an electric motor for his propellers. Several Topeka men, after seeing the exhibition, volunteered to put up money for Haas to make further experiments.

OKLAHOMA WANTS TO COME IN.

Meetings All Over the Territory in Favor of Statehood.

Perry, Oklahoma, Nov. 29.—The people of Oklahoma are now much interested in Statehood, and the next Congress will be asked to make the Territory a State. In nearly every county in the Territory meetings are being held, at which resolutions favoring immediate Statehood are passed. Two weeks ago the Territorial Press Association met at Hennessey and passed strong resolutions on this line, and since then nearly every city has followed.

Oklahoma has over 300,000 population, and her top assessment amounts to nearly $30,000,000. The advocates of Statehood argue that nearly one-half of the States were admitted with a less population and less wealth. It is the desire to get immediate Statehood, and thus be able to have the Indian Territory attached to the new State as the different reservations are thrown open to white settlement. Both Territories would make a State of more than 500,000 inhabitants.

Postmaster-General in New York.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Postmaster-General Gary, accompanied by his private secretary, Mr. Dawson, left last night for a visit to New York City. The visit of the Postmaster-General is official in its character, and is made for the purpose of giving him an opportunity to personally inspect the postoffices of the big city. As stated some days ago, the Postmaster-General has in contemplation many schemes for the improvement of the postal facilities of Greater New York which he believes will be for the benefit of the great metropolis. The Secretary will be absent from Washington for several days.

Eckels Sends In His Resignation.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Comptroller of the Currency Eckels has completed his annual report and placed his resignation in the hands of the President, to take effect Dec. 31. The next day he will take charge of the Commercial National Bank, of Chicago, to the presidency of which he was recently chosen. An interesting feature of the Comptroller's report will be a chart showing the relative condition of the national banks at the 160 periods of their existence when reports were called for by the Comptroller. A historical review of national banking will also be in the report.

Missing Man Found Frozen to Death.

Albany, Nov. 29.—The body of William H. Burhams, a well-known Albanian, who disappeared a week ago Friday, was found yesterday frozen stiff in a swamp, close by the Central Hudson tracks, about a mile and a half from West Albany. He was last seen near the West Albany Hotel, and it is thought that while mentally deranged he wandered away and dropped down from exhaustion. Burhams had been in the employ of Capitol Commissioner Perry for years, and leaves a wife and grown daughters. He was 58 years old.

Wages Will Be Advanced.

Pittsburg, Nov. 29.—Jones & Laughlins have notified 3,000 of their employes who work by the day that, beginning Dec. 1 their wages will be advanced 10 per cent. The wages of these men range from $1.50 to $3 a day, and were reduced 10 per cent. a year ago.

READY FOR CONGRESS

Many Improvements Made in the Legislative Buildings.

SESSION BEGINS ON DEC. 6

The Senate Wing Has Received the Most Attention in the Way of Renovation—Historical Pictures Badly Damaged by Rain.

Washington, Dec. 29.—Preparations are nearly completed for the coming session of Congress, which convenes next Monday. A large force of men has been at work for the past month getting the big building on Capitol Hill in shape for the 450 statesmen who will be due here at the opening of the first regular session of the Fifty-fifth Congress.

Col. Dock Bright, the sergeant-at-arms of the Senate, has inaugurated so many changes and has decorated and frescoed the Senate side of the Capitol to such an extent that it will be hard to find room for additional improvements. The new carpet for the floor of the Senate, which was purchased last year, is still in good condition, and the new theatre chairs in the galleries lend a fresh and bright appearance to that portion of the chamber. The marble walls and pillars will be scrubbed this week, and when Vice-President Hobart calls the Senators to order on Dec. 6 everything in the Senate wing of the Capitol will be in good condition. The old Colonial clock, which stands in a niche of the wall just opposite the main entrance to the Senate chamber, is being cleaned and oiled, after which it will receive a new coat of varnish. This clock is one of the curiosities of the Capitol. It was made in 1818, and is the oldest timepiece in the big building.

Assistant Doorkeeper Loney Stewart is busy sorting out the stationery for the Senators. Every year the members of this august body vote for their own use a good supply of note paper of all sizes, and enough pencils, pens, etc., to give them a good start on their Congressional labors. This year each Senator will receive a large morocco leather portfolio, handsomely mounted in silver, in which he can carry his papers. He will also get a silver paper-cutter, a silver-mounted blotter, and a liberal batch of note paper and envelopes. The total cost of each Senator's outfit is estimated at $14. This, of course, does not come out of the yearly allotment of $150 for stationery supplies that goes to each member of the upper house.

Over on the House side preparations are also progressing for the reception of the members. A new green carpet, splotched with red, is to replace last year's covering for the floor of the House. A new rug will be supplied for the Speaker's lobby, and this will be about the extent of the new furnishings. Some of the corridros have been painted and a few of the old decorations have been retouched.

During the past Summer many severe rainstorms swept over Washington, and water forced its way through the windows above the frieze and in dripping down badly streaked the pictures. About a hundred feet of the fresco is greatly marred, and the rain appears to have almost completely ruined this portion of the pictures. Many of the figures are almost entirely obliterated.

In the various government departments there is a general resting on the oars for the coming of Congress. All the bureau chiefs have submitted to their secretaries their reports of the operations of their respective divisions during the past fiscal year, and several of the secretaries themselves have handed in their recommendations to the President. Two of the Cabinet officials, however, make their report direct to Congress, and as yet there is only speculation as to what will be the nature of their recommendations. The Secretary of the Treasury and the Secretary of State are the two executive officers who report directly to Congress, but Secretary Gage has already outlined a plan for a new currency system which he will submit to the Senate and House. Secretary Sherman will give his attention to the annexation treaty with Hawaii, and is also expected to have something to say about the Spanish-Cuban trouble, with regard to its bearing on the affairs of the United States.

Secretary Long has told of the need for more ships, and, above all, for better docking facilities than we now have. The Postmaster-General has already made known his pet hobby—the establishment of postal savings banks—and he will do his utmost to get Congress to adopt his scheme. Mr. Gary will also have to arrange for an adjustment of the postal service in Greater New York after the consolidation of the two cities is effected. Gen. Alger has made some important recommendations in relation to our seacoast defense. There is also much talk just now about a reorganization of the artillery forces of the army, and Mr. Alger referred to this matter also in his report. Secretary Cornelius N. Bliss' report has already reached the public, and his views on pension matters, the treatment of the Indians, etc., are therefore known. Secretary Wilson, of the Agricultural Department, is much interested in the cultivation of beet sugar, and he has also some original ideas in regard to the possibilities of enlarging our foreign trade in farm products. Congress will have enough to keep it busy from the day it meets until the Fourth of July if it gives the attention to the various recommendations of the members of the Cabinet that those officials believe they deserve.

Whitney Wants Blue-Grass Horses.

Lexington, Nov. 29.—Ex-Secretary of the Navy William C. Whitney and C. T. Barnes, of New York, and Sir Edwin and Lady Colbert, of England, arrived here yesterday afternoon by special train over the Cincinnati Southern Railroad to purchase fine horses.

The ex-Secretary last night offered John E. Madden $15,000 for the 2-year-old brown colt Plaudit, by Himyar—imp. Cinderella. It has not yet been accepted.

New Issue of Notes.

Washington, Nov. 29.—Assistant Secretary Vanderlip has authorized the director of the Bureau of Engraving and Printing to print and deliver to the United States Treasurer $48,000,000 as follows: United States notes, $12,000,000; silver certificates, $24,000,000; treasury notes of 1890, $6,000,000.

THEATRICAL.

"Madeline of Fort Reno" will be presented at the Music Hall on Friday night.

The amusement sensation of the coming week will be the appearance of Henry E. Dixey as a magician at the Music Hall. Though Mr. Dixey has but recently entered the magical field as a performer in public, he has had many years of experience in it as an amateur, and so expert did he become that but a few years ago Hermann, the Great, who seemed even then to have a premonition of the fate that was in store for him, made overtures to Mr. Dixey to become his associate and partner in magic. Mr. Dixey's programme is of the most interesting character, and includes a half hour of divertisement pure and simple, in which Mr. Dixey appears in several of the characterizations which have made him world famous.

We are to have a splendid revival of D'Ennery's immortal drama, "The Two Orphans," by the favorite actress Miss Kate Claxton. It has been several years since Miss Claxton has favored the country with her notable representation of Louise, the poor blind girl. The play is to be produced at the Stillman Music Hall tonight in most perfect style. Elaborate costuming, new and characteristic scenery.

Normal School Girl Met Her Friends.

Miss Eva Jenkins, of East Sixth street, gave a salamagundi party Thursday evening in honor of her sister, Miss Alice Jenkins, who was home from the Trenton Normal School for her Thanksgiving vacation. The first prizes were won by Miss Charlotte Messersmith and Thomas Stafford. The booby prizes were awarded to Miss Lizzie Stafford and Ephriam Vail.

Raised Money for Christmas.

Saturday afternoon last the members of the primary department of the First Baptist church Sunday-school gave an entertainment in the Sunday-school room for the purpose of raising money for the annual Christmas entertainment. Mrs. Powlison, superintendent of this department, was in charge and she was assisted by the teachers in this department. The programme consisted of readings, recitations, singing and dialogues by the members of the various classes. There was a large attendance of members and friends of the church, who materially aided the little ones to secure the desired amount of money that is needed.

Former Assemblyman Bullock Missing.

Former Assemblyman Samuel Bullock, who was a conspicuous figure in the Legislatures of 1894 and 1895, left his home in Paterson several days ago and none of his relatives and friends seem to know his whereabouts. When last heard from he was at Pittsburg, Pa., suffering from pleurisy. His brother, Arthur B. Bullock, failed to find him. Mr. Bullock spent three or four months of this year in the west. He returned about six weeks ago. While he seemed to be cheerful, there was something in his manner that indicated despondency.

A Growing Society.

The local branch of the National Horseshoers' Association met on Saturday evening in the hall over H. J. Martin's shop on Somerset street. Two new members were elected and several important matters discussed. The association decided to meet every Thursday evening at the above place, and the territory will cover all places between Westfield and New Market, including Dunellen.

$100 For a Dead Dog.

Before Justice Clark at Scotch Plains this morning the case of DeLucio against Kendall was tried, and judgment was given the plaintiff for $100. Kendall was charged with going into the plaintiff's yard recently and shooting a valuable dog. Lawyer Walter Hetfield, of this city, represented the plaintiff.

Married in August.

Announcement is made of the marriage of Miss Lottie May Smith, formerly of this city, but now of Newark, and Charles E. D. Baxter, also of Newark. The wedding took place on Sunday, August 22d. The bride and groom now reside at No. 50 East Park street, Newark.

Neaf Apgar Improving.

The many friends of Neaf Apgar, who was accidentally shot in the foot at his hotel, the Pine Point House, at Orange Lake, N. Y., will be pleased to learn that he is now considerably improved, and that it will not be necessary to have the injured foot amputated.

John Wilcox, of Princeton, was the guest of friends in this city, Friday.

Mrs. Isaac Brokaw, of Duer street, is much improved from a serious illness.

TO BUILD A FIREMEN'S HOME.

President Spencer Names the Committee to Engineer the Project.

Gen. Bird W. Spencer, of Passaic President of the New Jersey State Firemen's Association, was authorized at the last annual meeting of the association to appoint a committee to provide ways and means for the construction of a firemen's home for aged and indigent firemen of the State.

The committee as appointed yesterday consists of Gen. B. W. Spencer, William H. Hancock, Comptroller of the State of New Jersey; William Bettle, Commissioner of Banking and Insurance of the State of New Jersey; Major Benjamin W. Cloud, of Woodbury; ex-Chief Engineer William M. Jeffries, of Burlington; William T. Corliss, of Red Bank; Charles N. Reading, of Frenchtown; John McKiernan, of Paterson; William H. Brown, of Newark; Former Governor George T. Werts, of Jersey City, and Edward I. Condit, of East Orange.

The committee will meet in Newark at an early date. They are to continue in office until their labors are completed.

To Hear Tax Complaints.

The State Board of Taxation will hold a session at the Somerset County Court House at 10:30 a. m., Friday, December 3d, for the purpose of hearing complaints of taxpayers from excessive or unjust assessments. Appeals may be brought before the State Board of Taxation at this session by filing with the clerk of the Board an appeal and serving a copy of the same with a notice in writing upon the clerk or attorney of the taxing district where the property is situate. Such appeal must be presented to the Board at least three days before the time designated in the notice for hearing.

EARLY INTELLIGENCE.

—A number from this city will attend a big meeting of Mecca Temple, Mystic Shrine, at New York, this evening.

—The cases of Coddington against Clark and Wolf against Ryno, which were tried in Justice Nash's court some time ago, have been appealed.

—Cape May county farmers are slaughtering their swine to escape a possible invasion of the plague which has ravaged pens in the neighboring counties.

—The members of the Daughters of America attended the patriotic services held in Warren chapel last evening, when the pastor, Rev. Mr. McKelvey preached a National sermon to the Jr. O. U. A. M.

—A party consisting of Walter Manning, Chas. Randolph, Allen Taylor and Albert Woltman, returned last evening from a hunting trip to Orange Lake in northern New York State. The party had excellent luck and they managed to bag a considerable lot of game.

His Theory.

"A great many women marry men for the purpose of reforming them," remarked the observant citizen.

"I suppose so," replied the man who was reluctantly writing a check, "but sometimes they misjudge a man. Now that you remind me of it, I believe my wife unjustly suspected me of the habit of saving too much money."—Washington Star.

Electric Tornado Alarms.

A cyclone or a tornado will rush suddenly upon a township and leave it in ruins a few minutes later. This fact has resulted in the invention of a barometer, built on such lines that, a few minutes before the arrival of a violent atmospheric disturbance, the mercury, being agitated, rings an electric alarm and gives fair warning.

Tame Enough.

Jersey Native (indifferently)—Not at all! Not at all! Why, they'll eat right out of your hand!—Puck.

Nothing to Tell.

Mother: "What did your father say when he saw his broken pipe?"

Innocent; "Shall I leave out the wicked words, mamma?"

Mother: "Certainly."

Innocent: "Then I don't believe there is anything to tell you, mamma."

His Yearn.

"Shay, m' (hic) frien'!" said Lushington, after vainly fumbling with his latch-key for twenty minutes.

"Well?" returned the passer-by.

"Have you (hic) got such a shing as a spare key (hic) hole about you?"—Judge.

Not a Judge.

NOTICE TO ALL INTERESTED IN UP-TO-DATE LAUNDRY WORK.

We run the laundry and take care of all details, but you "boss" it. We do what you tell us to do. It may give you a new sensation to find that you get a domestic finish when you ask for it, and to discover that your collars are actually ironed in the way that the maker intended them to be ironed.

We are running a laundry with the most improved methods and appliances. We use pure water and good soap. We are using two things that are not commonly used in laundries—care and intelligence. If you have found a laundry that pleases you perfectly, we have nothing to say to you. If you have any reason to be dissatisfied, we would like to give you a practical demonstration of our way of running a laundry.

Tell us where and when to call for your work, when you want it delivered, and let us know any particular thing that you would like to have done with it.

We want you to understand that we are running this laundry for you, and that your wishes are to be regarded in every particular. We will give you just exactly what you want, if we can find out what that is. Perhaps you believe that it is impossible to have your laundry well handled without irritation and annoyance to you. We are sure that you are mistaken. May we have an opportunity of demonstrating it?

SHARP LETTERS BETWEEN A COUNCILMAN AND A NETHERWOOD MAN.

Anthony R. Dyett Insists That the East End of the City is Neglected in a Disgraceful Manner—Mr. Frost's Tart Reply.

Considerable dissatisfaction has been expressed from time to time by the citizens and property-owners in Netherwood over what has been termed the bad condition of the streets and sidewalks in that section. Frequent communications have been addressed to the Common Council regarding needed improvements in Netherwood, and some differences of opinion have almost necessarily arisen between the petitioners and those who were looked to to carry out the wished for charges.

Among those who went in strong for repairs on the sidewalks of Netherwood was Anthony R. Dyett, who is the owner of a pretty residence at 473 Belvidere avanue. September 16th Mr. Dyett wrote a letter to Councilman Frost, of the Second ward, complaining of the heavy growth of weeds along the sidewalk on Belvidere avenue, which he stated were so high and rank as to ruin the clothing of persons using the sidewalk in wet weather. Mr. Dyett also complained that the law to compel the laying of flag sidewalks had not been enforced by the Common Council, and urged that immediate steps be taken to compel violators of the law to lay suitable sidewalks, so that it would not be necessary for residents to walk in mud in order to reach the station.

Mr. Frost replied to this communication on September 24th, saying that as chairman of the committee on streets and lights he had instructed the street commissioner to send a man to Netherwood to inspect the streets, and had learned that the weeds complained of by Mr Dyett were growing on grass plots in front of private residences, which it was not the duty of the city to keep mowed The owners of the property could be compelled to do their duty by an appeal to their pride or by the slow process of law.

Concerning the laying of flagging the Councilman went on to say that the street commissioner could not compel property owners to obey the ordinance except after months of legal process, and as no money had been appropriated for the enforcement of the law, the committee did not deem it prudent policy to exhibit its weakness. He suggested that a local improvement association could accomplish much at trifling expense

To this letter of Councilman Frost's Mr. Dyett sent an answer, dated November 9th, thanking him for the removal of weeds along Belvidere avenue, as far as they had been removed, and taking issue with him upon the question of the enforcement of the sidewalk ordinance. He stated that he had addressed Mr. Frost as the representative of his section in the Common Council, and not as a member of the street commission. Since the Common Council had passed the ordinance in question it was their duty, Mr. Dyett maintained, to make provision for its enforcement and then to enforce it. It was nobody's fault but the Council's that the necessary appropriations had not been made. He made the point that while the inhabitants of Belvidere avenue, from Rahway road to the Central Railway station, had paid in taxes in the last five years $40,000, not one dollar had been expended on street improvements along the property in return by the city. This he called "unjust discrimination," and stated his fear that someone might be seriously injured at night on the bad crossings and the city be mulcted of a considerable sum.

Coming Back to Plainfield

Alexander Martin, of Brooklyn, a former resident of this city and a member of No. 2 Engine Company, has purchased of C. H. Hand a handsome residence on East Sixth street and will move there with his family at an early date. Mr. Martin when living in this city was in the employ of the late Alex. Warnock at his bakery on West Front street. That was in 1873. Mr. Martin is now an engineer on the elevated road in Brooklyn, and his many friends will welcome him back to Plainfield.

First Church Anniversary.

The Monroe Avenue M. E. church will celebrate its first anniversary on the first Sunday in January which happens to fall on January 2d. On that date, it is proposed to have special exercises of the church and Sunday school. The past year has been a wonderful one for the church and the members have much to be thankful for.

DR. LEWIS VIGOROUSLY ATTACKS THE LICENSE SYSTEM.

The Traffic is an Enemy to All the Good Influences of the Community and It Ought Not to Be Countenanced.

To the editor of The Daily Press:—The timely words of various Plainfield pastors as to the vote on the license question in Plainfield at the coming election are worthy of the most careful consideration. Men like the pastors in Plainfield, men of culture, of wide observation, and of good common sense have a right to be heard on such an issue. The too common notion, especially among politicians, that preachers are harmless fellows who are expected to say "goody goody platitudes" concerning public affairs, which no one need to heed, is a shame to those who hold it and an insult to religion. Men who represent the highest interest of the community, as pastors do, who are expected to uplift all classes and especially the fallen, are not to be ignored when great moral issues are under consideration. If what the various pastors have already said, and what they may yet say, goes unheeded by the voters at the coming election, then worse things await our city in whose prosperity business men and politicians claim to have great interest.

"The question at issue is only an informal expression of opinion," you say. True. But that expression is of great moral value whatever else it may be. The Common Council has offered the voters of Plainfield, nay, it has invited an honest expression of opinion concerning a question which, at best, even from the political and economic standpoint is fraught with serious difficulties. The question is not whether liquor will be drunk in Plainfield. Grant that it will. This is the question: Shall we continue a policy which unites one of the greatest political and commercial influences in the United States for the upbuilding of the greatest creator of crime in the nation. The liquor traffic loves the license system. It is protected and strengthened by it.

That system has created a giant monopoly, which does more to corrupt politics and debauch municipal governments than all other monopolies combined. While the liquor sellers and brewers and distillers can keep the better class of people deluded with the idea that it is a good to sustain the license system they are safe, protected by the folly of their enemies. I say enemies, for churches and schools and homes are the natural enemies of the saloon system. Since the chance is now given it is the duty of every voter who desires to see the political and commercial power of the saloons broken to vote against the present system.

As I am not now a pastor in Plainfield, but only a "plain citizen," I am bold to plead with Christian men to heed the united protest of their pastors against the existing state of things. You have made your pastor a leader in the moral and religious upbuilding of the city, in the protecting of your children against evil. The saloon is organized and intrenched evil. It is concentrated crime. Every Christian man owes it to himself, and to the community and to God to speak now. What shall we do without the saloons? I will answer tomorrow.

A. H. Lewis.

Girls to Have Regular Gymnasium.

It is the intention of the Girls' Athletic Association of the Plainfield High School, as soon as the funds in the treasury of that organization are large enough, to equip the upper story of the Whittier building as a regular gmnasium for their own benefit. With the exception of the classes at the Y. M. C. A. gymnasium, there is no place in the city where the girls can have any regular exercise and the introduction of basket ball has awakened them to the delights of physical exercise. There is some talk of an entertainment for the benefit of the proposed gymnasium.

Successful Gospel Meetings.

Gospel meetings in the Seventh-day Baptist church every night, with preaching by Evangelist Saunders, at 8 o clock. The meeting on Sunday night was one of real and great spiritual power. The attendance was good, and the people, professing Christians and others, seemed to be deeply moved.

Lamp Exploded.

Last evening about 6 o'clock a lamp exploded at the home of Mrs. J. S. Cutter, on West Front street, but before any damage resulted the lamp was thrown out doors. The light attracted considerable attention from the people passing, and at first it was thought that something serious would result.

The Widening of Westfield Avenue From Elizabeth to Plainfield Declared to Be Feasible.

The Capitalists Devise Plan Which They Think Will Satisfy Objecting Property Owners.

The plans of Frank Bergen for county ownership of trolley lines will be again considered tonight at the Courthouse, Elizabeth, when another public meeting will be held to receive the final report of the committee that was selected last September to devise a plan for widening Westfield avenue, and so mapping it out that there could be a double track trolley line, a cycle path, a dirt driveway and a macadam road the entire length of the avenue. Westfield avenue is the county road from Elizabeth to Plainfield.

The committee's report will undoubtedly recommend that the avenue should be widened to 100 feet, the widening to begin at Orchard street, in Elizabeth, and end at Watchung avenue, in Plainfield, except for a short distance through the villages of Cranford and Westfield, where the cost of widening would probably be excessive. It is estimated that the cost of the proposed improvement would be as follows:

Right of way	$37,600.00
Removal of buildings	71,300.00
Grading, pipes, bridges and masonry	23,680.90
Twelve mile double-track railroad, including overhead work	196,104.00
Cycle path, twelve feet wide	24,010.00
Ten per cent. for contingencies	35,259.40
Total	$387,853.40

The committee will also recommend that in view of the benefit which will accrue to land along the avenue by this improvement, a part of the cost of widening it, say $50,000, should be assessed on the property specially benefited. There are about 105,000 lineal feet of building lots on the avenue, including both sides, and an average assessment of 50 cents a front foot would yield over $50,000, which should be used as a sinking fund to relieve the county to that extent.

A bill has also been drafted by the committee to give legislative authority to the county to make the improvements.

It provides that the Board of Chosen Freeholders of any county in the State shall have power to construct and maintain a single or double track street railroad on any road or highway that has been or shall be under control of the board, and to equip the street railroad for operation by electricity or by other motive power, except steam locomotives.

When the street railroad shall have been constructed it shall be lawful for the board to lease the same for operation to any person or corporation for a period not exceeding twenty-five years, upon such terms as may be agreed upon, and to renew the lease from time to time.

It is provided that upon ascertaining the cost of improving any public highway the board shall cause notice to be given by publication that an application will be made to the Circuit Court of the county for the appointment of three disinterested freeholders as commissioners to make an estimate and assessment of the special benefit conferred by the widening, straightening or changing the location of any such highway. The Court shall then appoint three commissioners, who will make the assessments and report to the Court. The Court shall direct notice to be given, by publication, of a time and place for hearing any objections that may be made to the assessments; and after a hearing the Court shall either confirm the report or refer it back to the same or other commissioners to be appointed.

Upon confirming the report it shall be filed in the office of the clerk of the county, and a copy, so far as relates to lands assessed for special benefit lying in each township, borough, municipality or taxing district through which the highway extends, shall be delivered to the collectors of taxes of such townships, boroughs, municipalities or taxing districts, and after the filing of the report the assessments shall remain as first lien upon the land so assessed.

Provision is also made so that the Board of Chosen Freeholders may borrow such sums of money as may be necessary for the purpose of constructing the street railroad or otherwise improving any highway, and to issue either registered or coupon bonds therefor, provided that the bonds shall be made payable at a period not longer than thirty years from their date, shall bear interest at a rate not exceeding five per cent. per annum, and, that it shall not be lawful to issue any bonds or incur any obligations to an amount in excess of two per cent. of the assessed value of the real estate in the county.

Mr. and Mrs. David M. Runyon have returned from their honeymoon, and are now residing on Arlington avenue.

Much interest was awakened in Union county, and especially in Westfield, by the announcement which is now made public, that the Elizabeth and Westfield Electric Railway Co., which has been striving for months to gobble up the county road between Elizabeth for the laying of its tracks, has decided to abandon that effort and run on a new route from Westfield to Cranford, which will not include the county road.

The original purpose of the company was to lay its tracks over the county road from Cranford to Middlesex street, in Westfield, through the town on Middlesex, Broad and Elm streets and North avenue, and thence on North avenue to the Fanwood line, then to Scotch Plains and to this city. In the amended scheme, the route from this city to Broad street, Westfield, which does not include the county road, is left unchanged. After reaching Westfield the proposed new route will run on North avenue to Elm street, on Elm to Broad street, to Middlesex, to Picton street, and on Picton to Chestnut street, in Oakland, and thence on Second avenue to the Cranford line.

It is thought that there may be some difficulty experienced in getting the right of way through Cranford township, and in case this should occur, the company has made arrangements to run around the township on the western side.

The action of the company is relinquishing its effort to secure the county road will be regarded as surprising by those who are familar with the efforts it was willing to make to secure the use of the road. It is probable, however, that the desired privelege could never have been secured from the Westfield Township Committee, as a meeting of the citizens of the Township, which was held in the Westfield Club Hall on October 8th, passed a resolution instructing the township committee not to grant a franchise for a trolley upon the county road?

The proposed new route is open to no serious objections, and a franchise will probably be secured without difficulty. It is said that the right of way in the form of the consent of property owners, has already been secured by the company.

DR. RIGGS ACCEPTS.

Will Become Pastor of the Brick Church, East Orange.

Rev. Dr. James F. Riggs, professor of Hellenistic Greek and New Testament Exegesis in the Theological Seminary of the Reformed church at New Brunswick, who has been called to become pastor of Brick Presbyterian church, East Orange, has announced that he will accept the call as soon as he could be released by the classis of the Reformed church.

This will probably not be until June, when the seminary closes. Until that time he will preach in Brick church and take general charge of its affairs. His salary at Brick church will be $5,000.

Likes Mr. vanHerwerden.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—The placing of John vanHerwerden, of Netherwood, on the Citizens' ticket, as Councilman from the Second ward, was an excellent selection, and he will receive the support of the majority of the voters of the Second ward.

His election to the Council will be a great benefit to the city at large as he, if elected, will not be Councilman for any one particular section, but for any movement or project that will enhance the welfare of our beautiful city. Should he be elected he will not be a willing dupe to any clique or ring.

As an enthusiastic wheelman he is interested in the good roads movement, and will use all efforts to place the highways in a suitable condition for travel.

An anti-Frost Republican.

Lincoln's New School House.

The new schoolhouse at Lincoln is completed and will be dedicated with appropriate exercises tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. County school superintendent of Middlesex county will be present and deliver an address. S. S. Swackhamer, of this city, has also been invited to speak.

Going to the Pacific Slope.

N. B. Smalley, of Somerset street, is anticipating a trip to California at an early date. He has a friend in that country who is desirous of having Mr. Smalley pay him a visit, and it is quite likely Mr. Smalley will go.

ELOPED WITH A NEGRO?

RATHER STRANGE DISAPPEARANCE OF A RASH YOUNG WOMAN.

Had Been Associating With Colored Men and Her Sister Objected—Seen at the Station With Colored Sport.

A young woman, aged nineteen, who has been living with her married sister on West Fourth street, has disappeared in the direction of New York. Her sister is much worried on her account, as she fears that she went in the company of a young colored man, who has been paying her attentions clandestinely.

Yesterday afternoon the married sister reported to Chief Grant that her sister had taken her trunk and gone somewhere. She thought, however, that the young sister was to be found at Battle Row where she has been going much of late. She then went on to tell of her troubles over the actions of the young woman. It seems that the young woman had been going frequently to Battle Row, and had, on the sly, grown very intimate with several colored men. The married sister had ordered her to leave them alone and forbidden the men to come near the house, but the younger sister presisted and yeeterday packed her trunk and departed without telling where she was going.

Chief Grant investigated the matter and found that the young woman had not been to Battle Row all day and that her trunk had been expressed to New York in the morning. The young woman's mother lived in New York and the Chief thought that it was to her home that she was going.

Somebody had seen the young woman at the station, and it was also reported that a young colored man had been seen with her. The Chief was unable to verify the last rumor and believed that it originated in someone's imagination. The married sister is still greatly worried on her account, however.

The married sister is Mrs. James Wilkinson, of 624 West Fourth street, whose husband is employed as orderly at Muhlenberg Hospital. She is sure that her sister, Helen, is in hiding in the neigborhood of Battle Row. The colored man, whom she alleges Helen ran away with, is named Fred Taylor.

IT WAS ONLY SMOKE.

A Borough Dwelling Was Thought to be on Fire.

This morning Julius Stahl, of Somerset street, was called to the home of B. A. Hegeman, Sr., on Sycamore avenue, to attend to a fire that was supposed to be in the house. The house was full of smoke. Mrs. Hegeman called the Chief Marshal on the telephone, but he was not at home. Mrs. Wilson answered the call and in turn summoned Mr. Stahl. The latter went to the house with two extinguishers, but they were not needed. It was learned that a new furnace had been set up in the cellar, and underneath the furnace had been placed wooden blocks. Owing to the failure to remove the blocks when the fire was started in the furnace the wood became overheated and smoked considerably. The damage was slight.

CHRISTMAS AT THE HOSPITAL.

Arrangements Are Being Made to Give the Patients Good Cheer.

It is expected that Christmas will be observed in the usual manner at Muhlenberg Hospital this year. Last year the celebration had to be given up on account of there being contagious disease at the institution, but this year those in charge are hoping that nothing will interfere with the arrangements. The choir from Grace P. E. church will be one of the attractions, and there will be entertaining short talks. There will be the usual Christmas tree, which will be illuminated at 3 o'clock, and many other things will be on the programme to make it an interesting one to all.

Volunteers of America.

Captain W. J. Shipway will address the meeting at the Volunteers' armory on Front street at 8 o'clock this evening on the subject "The Seven Last Sayings of a True Martyr." The address will be interspersed with sacred songs, with guitar and concertina accompaniment. This may be the captain's farewell address, as he soon expects to take up the work of the Volunteers in Wilkesbarre, Pa.

Boys Annoy Chinamen

It has become the habit of a number of small newsboys to annoy the Chinese laundrymen on West Front street every afternoon and working the Celestials into a rage. Chief Grant warns the boys that if they are caught by the police they will be dealt severely with.

—Plainfield housewives will find it to their advantage to try Neuman Brothers' mixture of mocha and Java coffee, which has become famous for its fine flavor and rich quality.

BARROWS IN IT ALONE.

CITIZENS' MAKE NO REGULAR THIRD WARD COUNCIL NOMINATION.

Unable to Get an Available Candidate in Time,—City Treasurer Not Nominated by Citizens—The Republicans Are Confident.

It looks as if Councilman Barrows would go it alone in the Third ward after all. Yesterday was the last chance the Citizens' had of nominating a candidate for Third ward by petition and no petition was filed. The question of who the candidate should be was as far as ever from being answered and so the nomination is left blank.

The Committee of Forty has filled all the ward tickets with the exception of that in the Third for Councilman and the city ticket with the exception of a city treasurer. The other nominations seem to suit the rank and file of the workers in the movement and they are now turning their minds toward active work. The Citizens' nomination for city treasurer is still vacant and it is probable that nothing will be done in that direction. There is a feeling against the present Third ward councilman and the leaders in the Citizens' movement feel that a good candidate would stand a fair show for victory. The only method to place anyone before the voters of the voters of the ward now is by the use of pasters. If the right man can be found for the place, then Mr. Barrows will not have everything his own way, otherwise he will be the only candidate for the office.

As was to be expected, the Republicans predict an over-whelming victory for the G O P. and say that the Citizens' movement has but little strength. One of the leading Fourth ward politicians confidentally admitted, however, that there was likely to be a hot fight in the Second ward and that Mr. VanHerwerden would give Councilman Frost a hard rub for the place. It will be remembered that it was directly against the wishes of the rest of the machine workers, that the G. O. P. men of the Second ward nominated Mr. Frost. The machine leaders in the Third and Fourth wards declared that he would not strengthen the ticket and asked that somebody else be named. The Second ward men replied that the feeling for Frost was very strong among the Republicans of the Second ward and that they wanted him. They also intimated that Mr. Barrows would weaken the ticket more than Mr. Frost would. The battle was declared drawn and both sides withdrew and nominated who they pleased. There is still a trace of feeling over the incident and many from the Third and Fourth wards would like to crow over their friends from the Second and cry, I told you so.

Judging from the unanimity at the primaries of the G. O. P. and from past experience, the outsiders supposed of course that the Republican city convention would agree and all would be serene. But it wasn't. The Second ward delegation bolted and attempted to run through two of their number for nominations that the rest claimed they were not entitled to. As a result, the nomination for councilman-at large went to the Third ward instead of the Second.

SWALLOWED A SCARF PIN.

Most Remarkable Thing Was That There Were No Serious Results.

Otto Linke, the ten-year-old son of Frank Linke, the West Front street liquor wholesaler, has been having an unenviable experience. The lad was playing with a gold scarf pin Sunday and while holding it carelessly in his mouth swallowed it. Mr. and Mrs. Linke were much frightened at the mishap and at once summoned the family physician, who did all in his power to lessen the danger of a fatal result. It was feared every moment that the pin, which was fully two inches in length, might pierce a vital organ and bring about a fatal result. The anxiety continued until this morning, when the physician succeeded in removing the pin before it had caused any injury. The escape seemed like a miraculous one. The boy attended school as usual today.

Music and Farce.

A dramatic entertainment by the Choir Guild of All Saints' P. E. church, Scotch Plains, will be given this evening at the Fanwood Club House. The programme will consist of two one-act comedies and a farce, also musical selections by talented artists. All who go are promised a good time.

The "No License" Movement.

Next Thursday evening at Hope chapel there will be a mass meeting to advance the interest of the "no license" movement now in progress in this city. The meeting will be addressed by Rev. Dr. A. H. Lewis, H. C. Squires and E. R. Ackerman.

THORN ON THE RACK

Tells the Jury That Mrs. Nack Killed Guldensuppe.

THE DEFENSE OUTLINED

Lawyer Howe Denounces Mrs. Nack as the Arch Fiend of the Century and Declares that Thorn Is Innocent—The Defense Rests.

New York, Nov. 30.—When it was promised six weeks ago by the counsel for Martin Thorn that the most astonishing denouement ever known in a murder trial would be sprung, it was generally understood that Lawyer Howe intended to introduce evidence to dispute the identification of the dismembered human body and that a witness would be produced who would swear that William Guldensuppe was still alive. Indeed, the impression was allowed to get abroad and was never contradicted that the missing Turkish bath attendant might walk into court and disprove instantly by his living presence that he had been murdered at all. A postponement was obtained on the ground that a witness would be brought on from Germany to testify to having seen him in the flesh there and talked with him.

The defendant himself repudiated this promised dramatic ending of the trial on the witness stand yesterday. He swore that he had not committed the murder, but that Augusta Nack had; that Guldensuppe was really dead and had really been assassinated, but that he had no hand in the crime.

Mr. Howe began his opening address to the jury immediately after court was convened. He spoke in deep, sepulchral tones, with solemnity and after the manner of a man delivering an oration at the side of a bier. Before he began he asked that John Gotha be brought into court, and the barber took the witness stand to be asked but a single question.

"Gotha," asked the lawyer, in his most impressive tones, "were you ever an inmate of the inebriates' home at Fort Hamilton?" "No, sir," replied the witness, loudly and positively. "Never?" repeated Mr. Howe, with rising inflection. "No, sir," and with this answer the barber was permitted to retire.

Says Mrs. Nack Did It.

"Martin Thorn is innocent of the murder of William Guldensuppe," began the defendant's attorney, suddenly, "and we shall show you that the crime originated in the mind of the assassin, Augusta Nack; we shall show you it was she who hired the Woodside cottage for the purpose of converting it into a slaughter house and taking the life of her lover."

Placing his hand on his heart, and with an indescribable air of sincerity, Mr. Howe declared that he was in the sere and yellow leaf, in the Autumn of life, and that in his long experience at the criminal bar he had never knowingly deceived a jury.

"You come here, gentlemen of the jury," he continued in a voice choked with emotion, "not thirsting for blood. You have not given up your peaceful avocations and given your children their farewell kiss to take the life of a fellow man."

Howe's Scathing Denunciation.

Then exhausting the vocabulary of the terms of horrible things, he described the killing in the cottage, beginning with the decoying of the victim to Woodside and ending with the disposal of the evidence. It was all Mrs. Nack. It was Mrs. Nack who planned, and it was Mrs. Nack who executed. He quoted from "Lady Macbeth" and from "Hamlet." He painted his client as a plastic tool in the hands of a vile and designing woman; a chivalric protector, who sought to protect the object of his infatuation, but without criminal knowledge. The co-defendant was painted in the colors of a fiend incarnate; a creature beside whom Lucretia Borgia was a white-winged dove of innocence, while Thorn was held up as a weak unfortunate.

As to the evidence, Mr. Howe said that the only thing that the people had produced to connect the defendant with the murder was the testimony of John Gotha. "Thorn will tell you," continued the counsel, "how he came to talk with Gotha, and how Gotha, Judas-like, went to the police and related a conversation that never took place. We shall show you, gentlemen of the jury, that while Thorn was under arrest he told a series of lies; that he, poor, infatuated idiot, was trying to shield her by these false statements."

Before Thorn was called as a witness three of his former employers testified to his good character.

The cross-examination was unimportant, and when it was concluded a recess of ten minutes was taken so that the courtroom might be ventilated.

Immediately upon court being reconvened, and after Justice Maddox had warned the spectators against making any demonstration or interrupting the proceedings in any way whatever Martin Thorn was called to the witness stand.

The prisoner was deathly pale, but self-possessed. He looked inquiringly at Justice Maddox for a moment, gave one glance at the jury and then fixed his gaze on the face of Lawyer Howe as he arose to begin the examination.

Thorn Tells His Story.

The story told by Thorn of the murder was substantially the same as printed in these dispatches yesterday. Thorn told the story without faltering. He spoke for the most part in a low voice difficult to hear in the rear of the room. He was calm and self-possessed.

He told with many details a story which represented Mrs. Nack as dismembering the remains and wrapping the parts up in bundles. Thorn said he held the head while Mrs. Nack covered it with plaster of paris. He also helped to hold the body while she cut it up.

Cross-examination up to the recess did not shake the prisoner's testimony so far as the story of Guldensuppe's death went.

Thorn faced Judge Weller calmly and took plenty of time to frame his answers. He admitted several lies, but when it came to the incidents that occurred in the cottage on June 25 he told one story and stuck to it.

The evidence in some places was so sensational that before the trial opened the women were ordered excluded from the courtroom. Three, however, got past the doorkeepers and occupied seats in the gallery.

At 3.10 the prosecution finished the cross-examination of Thorn, and Lawyer Howe proceeded with the redirect examination.

Lawyer Howe is desirous of producing as testimony in corroboration of Thorn's story the testimony of Mrs. Nack in the mistrial. This caused a legal storm. District Attorney Olcott and Judge Weller declared that that testimony was irrelevant and could not be introduced. Judge Maddox said such testimony could be brought in only should Mrs. Nack die.

Lawyer Howe jumped to his feet and said: "Mrs. Nack is dead to us and to all the purposes of the law. She is engulfed in a tomb and is protected by the prosecutors, who are afraid to produce her on the stand. They protect her now when she is not on trial. I ask that you, Judge Maddox, protect Martin Thorn.

"I ask Your Honor to make an order directing the woman to be produced in court. I will make her my witness."

Judge Maddox replied: "The Court has no authority to bring a person into court in custody. There is a legal process to be followed."

Defense Rests.

Thorn was excused from the stand at 4.34 and the defense rested its case.

The trial was adjourned at 5 o'clock until 9.30 this morning.

Lawyer Howe will subpena Mrs. Nack by habeas corpus, and she will be placed on the witness stand to-day. She may refuse to testify, however.

To-day will probably be devoted to the addresses of the lawyers, and it is very possible that the case may go to the jury late in the day. Thorn will soon know his fate. It is said he would prefer conviction to a disagreement of the jury, but if he has made such a statement he has done so for effect.

A hung jury would be a virtual victory for Mr. Howe, and would doubtless mean that Thorn would never sit in the electric chair. If the barber is not convicted at this trial, when almost no defense has been made for him, he will never be convicted.

NEW VANDERBILT LINE.

Short Lines of Western Roads to Be Welded Into a Trunk Line.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—John Jacob Astor and a distinguished party of Eastern capitalists and railroad magnates are in Chicago to take steps for welding several short lines of Western roads into a new trunk line from Chicago to New York. The new route is to find its terminals over the Nickel Plate and the Illinois Central.

It is but another giant link in the Vanderbilt trunk-line system, having for its special purpose an invasion of the Pennsylvania roads in Ohio and Indiana territory, and to provide more adequate terminal facilities in this city for the Nickel Plate road as well as the practical construction of a double track for that road from Cleveland to this city.

Those in the party were Mr. Astor, A. B. Ely, George Chapman and G. F. Hawkins, of New York, and W. T. Rainey, of Philadelphia.

With the exception of Mr. Hawkins, who is Mr. Astor's private secretary, they were all directors of the Findlay, Fort Wayne & Western Railroad, a short line of only eighty miles, extending from Fort Wayne, Ind., to Findlay, Ohio.

WOMAN MUST HANG.

Widow Nobles, Who Murdered Her Husband in Georgia.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The United States Supreme Court has affirmed the decision of the Georgia Supreme Court in the case of Mrs. Nobles, convicted of the murder of her husband. She claimed due process of law had been denied her.

The result of the decision is that the sentence imposed by the Court can now be executed.

Mrs. William Nobles and Gus Fambles were sentenced to death for the murder of Farmer Nobles, and Miss Debbie Nobles was sentenced to the penitentiary for life.

Nobles was about 60 years old. His wife said he "pestered her" and offered Fambles $10 to kill the old man. His nerve failed, however, and Mrs. Nobles did the deed herself.

She struck her husband in the back of the head with a hatchet in a corn crib and Fambles finished the butchery. The daughter was in the plot, but did not take a hand in the killing.

The People Believe

What They Read About Hood's Sarsaparilla

Their Faith in This Medicine is Grounded on Merit

They Know It Absolutely Cures When Other Medicines Fail

Hood's Sarsaparilla is not merely a simple preparation of Sarsaparilla, Dock, Stillingia and a little Iodide of Potassium.

Besides these excellent alteratives, it also contains those great anti-bilious and liver remedies, Mandrake and Dandelion. It also contains those great kidney remedies, Uva Ursi, Juniper Berries, and Pipsissewa.

Nor are these all. Other very valuable curative agents are harmoniously combined in Hood's Sarsaparilla, and it is carefully prepared under the personal supervision of a regularly educated pharmacist.

Knowing these facts, is the abiding faith the people have in Hood's Sarsaparilla a matter of surprise? You can see why Hood's Sarsaparilla cures, when other medicines totally, absolutely fail.

"My little girl was afflicted with eczema and suffered for seven years. She was attended by physicians and tried many different kinds of medicine without relief. After taking a few bottles of Hood's Sarsaparilla she was cured." MRS. EMMA FRANKLIN, Honeoye, New York.

Edward Petrie, of East Sixth street, spent Saturday and Sunday with his brother, John Petrie, of New York.

Bucklen's Arnica Salve.

The best salve in the world for cuts, bruises, sores, ulcers, salt rheum, fever sores, tetter, chapped hands, chilblains, corns and all skin eruptions, and positively cures piles, or no pay required. It is guaranteed to give perfect satisfaction or money refunded. Price 25 cents per box. For sale by L. W. Randolph.

Mr. Brown, of Park avenue, is much improved from a serious illness and is now able to sit up each day.

Mr. N. N. Osburn, well-known at Woodstock, Mich., was troubled with a lame back. He was persuaded to use Chamberlain's Pain Balm. It gave him relief in one night. This remedy is also famous for its cures of rheumatism. For sale by T. S. Armstrong, Apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

William H. Smith, of Elmwood place, spent Sunday with relatives at Orange.

"The worst cold I ever had in my life was cured by Chamberlain's Cough Remedy," writes W. H. Norton, of Sutter Creek, Cal. This cold left me with a cough and I was expectorating all the time. The Remedy cured me, and I want all of my friends when troubled with a cough or cold to use it, for it will do them good. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, cor. of Park and North avenues.

George Horne, of Willow avenue, returned to his studies at Lehigh University, last evening.

Free Pills.

Send your address to H. E. Bucklen & Co., Chicago, and get a free sample box of Dr. King's New Life Pills. A trial will convince you of their merits. These pills are easy in action and are particularly effective in the cure of constipation and sick headache. For malaria and liver troubles they have proved invaluable. They are guaranteed to be perfectly free from every deleterious substance and to be purely vegetable. They do not weaken by their action, but by giving tone to stomach and bowels greatly invigorate the system. Regular size 25c. per box. Sold by L. W. Randolph, Druggist.

Miss Florence Duck, of West Seventh street, has returned to her studies at the Trenton Normal School.

The Surprise of All.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discovery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with LaGrippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into Hasty Consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at L. W. Randolph's drug store.

Miss Grace Lefferts, of New Brunswick, is the guest of her friend, Miss Etta Raybert, of North avenue.

by local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portions of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the Eustachian Tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces. We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of Deafness (caused by catarrh) that cannot be cured by Hall's Catarrh Cure. Send for circulars, free. F. J. CHENEY & CO., Toledo, O. Sold by Druggists, 75 cents.

How to Cure Bilious Colic.

I suffered for weeks with colic and pains in my stomach caused by biliousness and had to take medicine all the while until I used Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy which cured me. I have since recommended it to a good many people. Mrs. F. Butler, Fairhaven, Conn. Persons who are subject to bilious colic can ward off the attack by taking this remedy as soon as the first symptoms appear. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner North and Park avenues.

PENSION ATTORNEYS' FEES.

Not Entitled to an Additional Fee for Securing an Increase.

Washington, Nov. 30.—Assistant Secretary of the Interior Webster Davis has rendered a decision in an attorney's appeal claim for fee which will affect every pension attorney in the United States. It was in the case of H. S. Berin, of Washington, attorney for Jacob Young, late of Troop B, Tenth Cavalry. The facts are:

"The claimant was pensioned under the general law at the rate of $8 per month. On July 14, 1890, he applied for pension under act of June 27, 1890. Certificate issued March 3, 1892, to allow pension under said act at the rate of $12 per month from date of application and claimant's name dropped from the rolls under the general law. The appellant, in claimant's behalf, on Sept. 16, 1896, filed under the general law a claim for restoration and increase. Certificate issued July 14, 1897, to restore the claimant's name to the rolls under the general law and to allow straight increase at the rate of $14 per month from Feb. 10, 1897. On this issue Mr. Berlin was certified a fee of $2. Upon appeal he contended that he should have been allowed a fee of $11 in addition for securing an increase of the former rate allowed under the general law, as the claimant's name was restored to the rolls under that law."

Assistant Secretary Davis says: "The rule may be properly stated as follows: The restoration of a pensioner's name to the rolls under any law, as the result of the allowance of a claim for increase when the claimant's title to pension under that law is admitted, does not entitle an attorney to any greater fee than he would be allowed for securing increase, were the claimant in receipt of pension by virtue of the law under which the application for increase was made."

As a fee was denied the appellant for the reasons indicated, his claim, in this case, was rejected.

STOCK BOARD WORK STOPPED.

Pennsylvania Has No Money to Protect Her Cattle.

Harrisburg, Nov. 30.—Owing to lack of funds the State Live Stock Sanitary Board is much hampered in its efforts to prevent the spread of diseases among cattle. Under the act establishing the board the expenses of enforcing the laws relating to diseased cattle are met out of moneys in the State Treasury not otherwise appropriated. All expenses are paid by the Auditor-General and State Treasurer on approval of the Governor and Secretary of Agriculture Owing to the contingent character of the appropriation the board meets every six months to decide on the amount which can be used during the following six months. For the year ending May 30, 1897, $50,000 was given, and on June 1 last another meeting of the board was held and $20,000 was set apart for its uses. This period expires to-day, and as no money has been appropriated for the following six months, and none is available, the board will suspend active operations.

No salaries are paid by the board, but the expenses of investigation and quarantine are considerable. All diseased cattle killed under the direction of the board are paid for at the maximum figure of $25. State Veterinary Surgeon Pearson has control of the tuberculin tests, which have established the presence of tuberculosis in many herds of cattle throughout the State. Hundreds of cattle have been killed after having been condemned by veterinary surgeons, and in many cases the presence of disease could not possibly have been detected except through the scientific test.

ANOTHER HOSPITAL MASSACRE.

Cubans Fight Desperately, but Ten Are Killed.

Havana, Nov. 29, via Key West, Nov. 30.—Another Cuban hospital has been destroyed by the Spanish guerrilla forces of Cabanas at Herraduras, Pinar del Rio province. When the sick and wounded patriots saw that they were surrounded they resolved to fight desperately to the last.

After a terrible engagement they were able to break through the Spanish lines and save some of their sick and wounded. But seven of the number, who were almost dying with malaria, were captured and immediately put to death by the Spaniards. Three women were also made prisoners and were slain. The bodies of the victims were heaped together and burned with the three huts in which the hospital was established.

The insurgents, although they were almost unarmed and most of them were sick and therefore practically inferior to their assailants, killed one Spanish captain and three soldiers and wounded five soldiers.

WARNING TO GERMANY.

Uncle Sam Puts a Check on Ambitions Regarding Hayti.

Berlin, Nov. 30.—The State Department at Washington has requested United States Ambassador White to ascertain exactly the intentions of Germany with respect to the claims of Herr Leuders, whose recent imprisonment in Hayti has caused friction between the German and Haytian governments.

Mr. White has also been instructed, if any schemes of annexation exist, or if there is an intention to make an excessive demonstration with a view of unduly punishing Hayti, to intimate to the German Government that the United States could not tolerate either of the courses before mentioned, though in principle having no objection to Germany obtaining satisfaction.

REVENUE COLLECTOR MISSING.

Failed to Account to Brewers for Over $19,000 of Their Money.

Albany, Nov. 30.—Developments show that Collector of Internal Revenue Louis W. Pratt has failed to account for $19,219 of the funds which came into his charge by virtue of his office. He left town last Tuesday and has not been seen nor heard from since.

His accounts with the Government are all right. The shortage is in the funds which were placed in his hands by Troy and New York brewers about a week previous to the time the Dingley tariff bill went into effect for the purchase of revenue stamps.

Nearly one hundred thousand dollars was deposited with Mr. Pratt on this account, but he returned at different times during the past four months either in revenue stamps or cash all but $19,219. The brewery companies which state that Mr. Pratt failed to account for moneys advanced by them are the S. Bolton Sons' Brewing Company, of Troy, $13,458.75; Quandt Brewing Company, of Troy, $2,583.75; Ruscher Brewing Company, of Troy, $2,928.55; David Mayer Brewing Company, of New York City, $250.

Owing to Mr. Pratt's continued absence, the authorities at Washington yesterday appointed his deputy, H. P. Draper, to take charge of the affairs of the revenue department here. Government Inspector James C. Wheeler began an examination of Mr. Pratt's accounts last week in order that the affairs of the office might be ready to turn over to his Republican successor, soon to be appointed, Mr. Pratt's term having expired on Nov. 18. Inspector Wheeler says that the Government accounts are satisfactory and that no shortage appears.

It has been known for some time that Mr. Pratt was in financial difficulty, brought about principally through disastrous real estate speculations in which he embarked in this city several years ago, and that his home and furniture had been placed on the market. His bondsmen, becoming fearful of his financial condition, asked to be relieved, and Mr. Pratt transferred his bond of $200,000 to the City Trust Company, of Philadelphia. As the moneys missing were not department revenues, it is said that the brewers will have to bear their loss; that the Government is not responsible and that the surety company cannot be proceeded against.

Mr. Pratt was always a strong Cleveland Democrat until last Fall's Presidential campaign, when he became an ardent Bryanite. He was one of the leading henchmen of Supreme Court Justice D. Cady Herrick, who secured his appointment, and until his prominence in politics interfered was a prominent churchman. His wife and her four children are now staying at her brother's home. The Secret Service detectives are looking for Pratt.

SAUSAGE MAKER'S TRIAL.

Luetgert, with New Attorneys, Appears in Court.

Chicago, Nov. 30.—The second trial of Adolph L. Luetgert for the murder of his wife was called before Judge Gary yesterday. The big sausage maker was represented by ex-Judge Lawrence Harmon and Attorney Max Riese, Attorney Phalen having withdrawn from the case after a heated interview with Luetgert and the new lawyers.

The courtroom was packed with spectators when the court was called to order. Most of the session was taken up by Mr. Harmon in arguing that Judge Gary should not try Luetgert on the ground that he was not qualified to sit as a criminal judge.

Judge Gary overruled the motion of the defense, intimating, however, that he was willing that some other judge should sit in the case, providing counsel for the defense could come to an agreement with the prosecution as to who should hear it.

Cabinet Place for Judge Day.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The President has tendered William R. Day, now First Assistant Secretary of State, the position of Attorney General, to succeed Joseph McKenna.

Judge Day will eventually accept the place, unless Secretary John Sherman should resign, thereby permitting his first assistant to become head of the State Department.

The vacancy on the bench of the United States Supreme Court, which will occur Thursday, when Justice Field's resignation takes effect, will remain open until it has been determined which of the two Cabinet portfolios shall be given to Judge Day.

Big Banking Trust.

New York, Nov. 30.—The forthcoming application in the Supreme Court for an injunction restraining the United States Bank officials in this city from delivering any stocks or assets to the National City Bank is said to be an effort to block the actions of a vast trust which is said to aim at gaining control of the country's whole banking system.

The Standard Oil and Sugar trusts, aided by J. Pierpont Morgan, C. P. Huntington and other capitalists, are said to be the promoters of the alleged combine.

Commercial Cable & Telegraph Co.

Albany, Nov. 30.—The Commercial Cable and Telegraph Company has been incorporated by the Secretary of State with a capital of $100,000. The general route of the company is stated to be from New York City to Mojave, Cal., touching at all important cities on the route, and having branches from the main line throughout the States traversed; also through the New England and Southern States, and from New York to England and France.

WEATHER INDICATIONS.

(Furnished by Weather Observer Neagle.)

Fair Tonight and Wednesday; Warmer Wednesday.

At 2 o'Clock the Thermometer at Leggett's Pharmacy Registered 35 Degrees.

AFTER THE COLORED VOTE.

The G. O. P. managers in this city are determined that every effort shall be employed to win their straying colored sheep back into the fold of Republicanism. Last Friday evening a meeting of the Republican colored ward workers was held in the G. O. P. headquarters on East Front street, and they passed a resolution expressing their loyalty to the party and its candidates. The effect of this was not altogether what had been hoped for, however, and so it was decided by the powers that be to have the resolution, with a few unimportant changes, circulated for signatures among the colored voters. This was carried into effect, and for the past few days the papers have been circulating briskly, and many signatures have been secured.

The Press was in error yesterday in stating that John VanHerwerden, the Councilman candidate of the Citizens in the Second ward, was a member of the Park Club.

The Boards of Registry meet today to add names for city election, but it is probable that there will not be many changes in the roll of voters.

A BOWLING SCHEDULE.

How the Teams in the Journal League Will Play.

The new schedule for the Central Journal Bowling League was issued last evening for the first, and will be read by a great many bowlers with much interest. Two team prizes will be given, the first one valued at $25, and the second at $20. There will be individual prizes also. The first prize for the highest average, valued at $10; the second prize, highest average spare, $5. No player will receive more than one prize. Seventy-five per cent. of the games must be rolled to qualify for individual prizes, but the average will be computed from the total number of games rolled. Visiting clubs are to take the alleys at 7:45 o'clock p. m., and retain them until the game commences. The games are not to be called later than 8:15. The following is the schedule:

Wednesday, Dec. 1st, Westfield against N. J. A. C.
Thursday, Dec. 2d, E. A. C. against Roselle.
Tuesday, Dec. 8th, Westfield against E. A. C.

GOVERNORS ARE THANKFUL.

Muhlenberg's Managers Appreciated the Big Benefit's Workers.

Now that the affairs of the Spielkartenfest have been settled up, the last remaining duty of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital, under whose management the great benefit was given, was to extend their thanks to their assistants. At a meeting of the Board of Governors, held at the Public Library last evening, the following resolution was unanimously passed:

Resolved, That the thanks of the Board of Governors of Muhlenberg Hospital are hereby extended to the ladies of the Woman's Auxiliary Board for their unselfish and successful work, in so largely adding to the hospital funds, through the "Spielkartenfest," and to the people of Plainfield for their liberal co-operation and patronage.

The peport of the Medical Director for the past month, Dr. E W. Hedges, was received. It showed that 16 patients had been admitted during the month; 17 had been discharged cured, and 3 discharged improved. One had died. The total number treated was 34, and the number remaining is 13. There were 45 dispensary patients and 152 visits to dispensary by patients.

A Great Clothing Sale!

IS TAKING PLACE AT

214 W. FRONT ST., NEXT TO Music Hall.

Great sale of suits, pants, overcoats, ulsters and reefers. Sale opens up again tomorrow, Saturday, November 20, at 7:30 a. m. prompt, rain or shine. Enormous stock of fall and winter clothing now on sale. $12,000 worth of men's and boys' fine winter clothing from late failure of a big clothing house is now being sold at our place of business on Front street, next to Music Hall. After being in business 20 years, one of the largest clothing firms in New York is compelled to suspend business. Swamped entirely and forced into bankruptcy and to make an assignment on account of dull business, closed by the hard times and the scarcity of money-saving ready cash on hand, we made them an offer of 30c on the dollar. It was decided to remove the entire stock to our place to be sold at retail at Less Than 40c On What the Goods COST TO MAKE!

Save this price list and bring it with you; ask for any of these bargains and remember there are Hundreds More Besides.

Men's all wool plaid suits at $4.75, worth $12; silk roll melton fall and winter overcoats, $5.75, worth $14.75; cutaway diagonal dress suits, satin lined, $8.25, actually worth $22; finest worsted dress pants, $2.50, worth $7.50; men's heavy Shetland storm ulsters, $6.25, worth $16.50, imported English silk lined clay worsted double and single breasted and cutaways in black, blue or brown cheviots, suits $6.90; worth $18; imported English silk lined clay worsted dress suits, $8.90, worth $25; youth's nobby strait cut suits, $4.50, worth $10; men's English silk mixed cass sack suit, $6.50, worth $13; men's hair lined striped pants, $1.25, worth $2.50; men's $24 overcoat in fine Kersey or imported melton at $8.50; men's patent beaver overcoats, black or blue, $6.75, worth $18; boys' school suits, boys' winter suits, ulsters and reefers by the hundred; suits, overcoats and pants to 50 inch sizes and a thousand other bargains are in this sale. Remember this firm has failed and did not pay a single cent for this stock. It is now being sold at 40c on the dollar less than cost.

NO BETTER OPPORTUNITY

has ever been offered to the public of Plainfield and vicinity to get a supply of clothing at a mere trifle of its cost. Fine Sunday overcoat, blue or black, at $8.75, worth $18; an elegant melton or kersey all wool serge lined overcoats at $5.90, worth $16; a very fine all wool men's suit at $3.60, worth $11; children's suits from 69c up; men's ulsters from $2 up. Goods and prices tell the story. Come tomorrow, there will be a big demand for these bargains, and everything will go very rapidly. It will pay you handsomely to attend this sale if you are in need of any clothing and want to save money.

NEWS OF THE SUBURBS.

THINGS THAT INTEREST SCOTCH PLAINS AND DUNELLEN.

Brief and Terse Observations Gathered by Alert Press Reporters to be Perused at the Supper Table at Your Leisure

DUNELLEN AND NEW MARKET.

Miss Phillips, of Hopewell, has been visiting in town for a few days.

Miss Roeder Brakeley, of Easton, is visiting her uncle, Mayor Brakeley.

John Griggs, of New Brunswick, has been visiting borough relatives.

Mrs. G. F. Giles, who has been visiting friends at Dover, has returned home.

Mrs. W. H. Terry, who has been the guest of friends in Brooklyn, has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Craig have returned from a visit with relatives at High Bridge.

Mrs. R. H. Duncan and Miss Wolf, of Philadelphia, are visiting Capt. and Mrs. W. H. Thompson.

P. C. Staats is somewhat improved from a slight illness, which detained him at home over Sunday.

Samuel Merrill, who has been troubled a great deal of late with rheumatism, is much improved.

The work of macadamizing Front street is almost completed, and the road is one of the best in this section.

Mr. and Mrs. John Wherely, of Somerville, have returned home after a visit with Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Swackhamer.

Miss Ethel Fenner, of Pluckamin, has returned to her home after a visit with her sister, Mrs. Harry Swackhamer.

Mrs. Churchill is detained at her home by illness, and her many friends are hoping that the illness will not prove serious.

Louis Thomas and Thomas Thomas have returned to their studies at Princeton College, after a pleasant visit at ther home in the borough.

The union meetings will be continued this week. Tomorrow evening the service will be held in the M. E. church and Friday evening at the Seventh-Day Baptist church.

Last Sunday evening the members of Lakeside Council, Daughters of Liberty, attended divine service at the New Market Baptist church and listened to an instructive sermon by the pastor, Rev. Frank Fletcher.

A sociable will be held Tuesday evening, Dec. 7th, at the home of Lewis Harris, New Market. Those who have been invited will meet at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Fritts and will be conveyed to the scene of festivities in carriages.

It is now considered that at the meeting of the Council Monday evening, Dec. 6th, there will be some opposition offered to the introduction of the trolley, as some of the property owners have many different ideas as to how it shall be operated and constructed.

Last evening Mr. and Mrs. Fred Nelson were tendered a surprise party by their many friends in the borough and New Market. It was a farewell gathering, as Mr. and Mrs. Nelson will move this week to Basking Ridge. There was a large gathering of friends and the time was passed in dancing and having a good time.

SCOTCH PLAINS AND FANWOOD.

Miss Mildred Sawyer has returned to her home in Montclair, after spending a few days with relatives in Fanwood.

The funeral of Mrs. Mary A. Drake, widow of the late Aaron Drake, was held in the Scotch Plains Baptist church this morning at 10:30 o'clock. Rev. J. S. Braker officiated, assisted by Rev. J. H. Parks, D. D., who was her former pastor. The attendance was very large. Interment was made in the Scotch Plains cemetery.

All day services in observance of St. Andrew's Day were held in All Saints' church today. The morning service at 10:30 o'clock was of a missionary character, and was addressed by a mission worker from Brazil. The afternoon service, in charge of the ladies of the church, was addressed by Rev. E. H. True, the pastor. Tonight the choir guild of the church gives an entertainment in the Fanwood Clubhouse for the benefit of the church.

WESTFIELD

VARIOUS BITS OF NEWS.

WESTFIELD HAPPENINGS SERVED UP TERSELY FOR THE PRESS.

Many People Go and Come in the Pretty Suburban Town—Items Interesting Because of Their Brevity

The Westfield Club football team has disbanded for the season.

Rutherford Pierson, of North Broad street, is confined to his home by illness.

Fred Hegemen, of Prospect street, is able to be out after an illness of several days.

The W. C. T. U. held a meeting of special interest in Temperance Hall this afternoon.

Atlas Lodge, No. 125, F. and A. M., held a communication in its lodge rooms in Masonic Hall last night.

Road Overseer Connoly is having flag crosswalks laid at the intersection of streets in several parts of the town.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kells have returned to their home in Brooklyn after a visit with Frank P. Kelley, of South Broad street.

Miss Margerie Pierson has returned to her home in Bayonne after spending several days in Westfield as the guest of Mrs. Sherman Cooper.

Justice L. E. Hart has issued an attachment against the goods and chattels of W. W. Gilby, on the suit of the Jersey Central Railroad Company.

Miss Emma M. Starr has returned to her studies in the State Normal School, Trenton, after spending her Thanksgiving vacation at her home in Westfield.

The Westfield Universal football team will play its last game of the season with the All-Around A. A., team of Elizabeth, on the North Broad street grounds, Saturday afternoon.

Thomas Hyslop, of South Broad street, who has been suffering for some weeks with a foreign growth upon his neck, was taken to the Elizabeth General Hospital yesterday where he will undergo an operation.

The I. O. S. will hold its regular monthly meeting at the residence of H. A. Knight, on Elm street, Thursday night. Dr. R. R. Sinclair will then deliver the first of a series of lectures on the subject of first aid to the injured.

The ladies of St. Paul's Episcopal church will hold a village fair in Gale's clubhouse on Elm street tomorrow and Thursday. Groceries and Chritmas gifts will be on sale. The proceeds of the fair will be added to the church treasury.

Mrs. Nettie M. Rowell appeared before Justice of the Peace Collins, in Westfield, yesterday, and swore out a complaint charging Michael Dor with committing a felonious assault upon her two little daughters. Caroline, the older of the girls, is six, and Jennie, the younger, is only three years of age. Mrs. Rowell whose home is in New York city, has been visiting her mother, Mrs. William Dawes, of Central avenue, and Dor was engaged several days last week to cut firewood upon the Dawes place. He is a middle aged Irishman, and has lived in Westfield at few months, staying at an Italian boarding house on Central avenue. Last night Justice Collins and Constables Marsh and Chamberlain went to the boarding house and made a search for the accused man. He was not to be found.

—A meeting of the Borough Board of Education was held last evening, but only routine business was transacted.

—All bills against the city must be in the hands of the City Clerk by tonight to ensure payment by the Council next Monday.

—The regular fall union meeting of King's Daughters will be held in the parlors of the Crescent Avenue church, Thursday at 3 o'clock. Miss Curry, who is interested in the summer camps of Westfield, will speak. A large attendance is requested.

The three-year-old boy of J. A. Johnson, of Lynn Center, Ill., is subject to attacks of croup. Mr. Johnson says he is satisfied that the timely use of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy, during a severe attack, saved his little boy's life. He is in the drug business, a member of the firm of Johnson Bros. of that place, and they handle a great many patent medicines for throat and lung diseases. He had all these to choose from, and skilled physicians ready to respond to his call, but selected this remedy for use in his own family at a time when his child's life was in danger, because he knew it to be superior to any other, and famous the country over for its cures of croup. Mr. Johnson says this is the best selling cough medicine they handle, and that it gives splendid satisfaction in all cases. Sold by T. S. Armstrong, apothecary, corner Park and North avenues.

C. G. Book, general agent of the New Jersey Building, Loan and Investment Company, is in this city in the interest of the company.

PREMATURE GRAYNESS.

A tendency to early grayness may be hereditary, but as a rule an unhealthy condition of the scalp is responsible.

Hair turns gray when the glands have so far lost their vitality as to be unable to secrete the coloring matter. This condition is usually due to dandruff or some other scalp affection.

RUM AND QUININE HAIR TONIC

puts the scalp in a healthy condition, stimulates the growth of hair, removes dandruff and prevents grayness and baldness.

THEATRICAL.

"Madeline of Fort Reno" will be the attraction at Music Hall Friday. It is a romantic western military drama. "Madeline of Fort Reno" is a consistent play, as the scenes and incidents depicted have actually occurred, and as Long Bros., Pawnee Bill and May Lillie are the producers the audience is assured of a production in which nothing can be felt to be wanting. Typical western characters are introduced to the audience including U. S. Cavalrymen and soldiers, scouts, cowboys and a tribe of genuine Souix Indians, who have been procured by the management of this production, and are traveling about by the consent of the Government of the United States.

Our amusement loving public has a great treat in store for this week, for Saturday night Henry E. Dixey, who has just achieved a most notable success in the art magique in New York, will make his first appearance in this city at Music Hall. Mr. Dixey has been an adept in the art diobloique for several years, though it has only been recently that he has appeared as a magician in public.

NEW TARGETS FOR THE ARMY.

Old Bull's-Eyes to Give Way to Figures of Men, Stationary and Movable.

When the trained marksmen of the Transvaal routed the regular troops of Great Britain at Majuba Hill by shooting with such marvelous skill as to pick off the redcoats like so many deer on a hill, a great outcry was heard in British army circles against the folly of teaching a soldier to shoot by placing him opposite a target and telling him to place a bullet as near to the bull's-eye as possible.

The United States Army officers have just come to the same conclusion as did the British after the disaster of Majuba Hill. As a consequence of this awakening there will shortly be issued a set of targets to be used at the various rifle ranges that will revolutionize the old system of training soldiers to become marksmen. Instead of the bull's-eye in the center of a square target, the object to be aimed at will be a black mark representing, as nearly as possible, the figure of a man as it appears when he lies prone on the ground, rifle presented, in the act of taking aim.

A second target will show the figure of a man taking aim while in a kneeling position. The figure is mounted on a square background of white, and is carefully drawn to measurements so as to present a mark as nearly as possible like that at which the soldier would have to shoot were he fighting for his life in actual conflict. This figure will be used as a target at medium distances, from five to six hundred yards.

Still another target represents the full figure of a man standing and firing. This is for long distance practice and will enable a marksman to see exactly the effect produced by his skill in firing. Every shot that hits the figure would kill or maim were the target a living mark.

The largest target of all, and the one therefore, that will be used at extreme range, is intended to represent the figure of a mounted man. This is more particularly designed for carbine practice by cavalrymen. The troopers will be taught to shoot at the target from horseback as well as dismounted, and, as in the case of the standing man target, will be instructed to aim at the centre of the mass, the idea being that killing the horse of a cavalryman does no less damage to the fighting effectiveness of an enemy's force than shooting the rider.

A project of introducing moving targets based on the same system as that described above is being considered by the military authorities.—New York Herald.

JUSTICE IN ALASKA.

An Appeal to Congress for a Court in Circle City, in the Yukon Valley.

A cry for justice comes to Congress from Alaska, says the New York Sun. Away up in the Yukon Valley is a place called Circle City, where there is a population of 5,000 loyal citizens of the United States. Sitka, the capital of Alaska, where the federal court is held, is so remote that the people in and about Circle City can not go so far to obtain judicial assistance or protection; and they want Congress to give them a court in their own region. In a letter addressed to the Governor of Alaska, by Mr. George W. Morgan, who describes himself as the chairman of the grand jury at Circle City, the writer says that "it would take one year for a witness to leave here and attend court in Sitka, thereby causing not only a great loss of time, but great expense to himself, as he would not be able to return here until the next year." It appears from a petition accompanying this letter that the grand jury of which Mr. Morgan was chairman was a select body of citizens appointed at a meeting of the residents of the mining district "to inquire into the causes which led to a recent homicide in our midst," and that in fact there is no justice whatever there except wholly outside the law through the agency of miners' meetings. This is an evil which ought promptly to be remedied by congressional action.

A $3,000 SADDLE.

Much Silver Used In Its Adornment and More Added Each Year.

The finest and most costly saddle in America is owned in California, where it was manufactured. It is owned and was designed by Dixie W. Thompson, a wealthy rancher of Ventura county, whose home is in Santa Barbara. The saddle is of typical Mexican pattern, with a high pommel, well hollowed seat, and the most elaborate trappings. The work was done in Santa Barbara under Mr. Thompson's supervision, and is such as only the Spanish could produce. The saddle is of fine embossed leather, set thick with silver buttons and rosettes, the pommel incased with silver, the corners of the apron tipped with it, the stirrups faced and edged with silver half an inch thick, elaborately chased and carved. The saddletree is hung with silver rings to answer the vaquero's requirements. The girth is woven from horses' manes by native artisans, and is full eight inches broad. The reins, martingales, and whips, are composed of solid silver in woven strands. The bridle, reins, and accessories, weighing about twelve pounds, are worth about $250 in the value of coin silver used. Each year Mr. Thompson adds something to the beauty and value of the saddle, and it has already cost about $3,000.

The X rays are now used in the Queen's kitchen. They are an instant and infallible detective of stray fish bones, plum stones and what not that may accidentally get into the royal food. The ray lifts a great weight of responsiblity fom the cook's mind.

A MOORISH EXECUTION.

The Murderer of a Christian Regarded as a Martyr.

A correspondent at Tangier gives the following account of the execution of a native for the murder of Herr Hassner, a German banker. "The circumstances of the murder have remained entirely mysterious. The German legation here put pressure on the local authorities. After a short time a woman went over to Gibraltar for safety, and sent word from there that she could throw light on the affair. Upon her information three men—a Spaniard and two Moors—were arrested and thrown into the prison. Here they were tortured by the thumbscrew, and the Spaniard confessed. He, however, was claimed by the Spanish authorities, and what has become of him I do not know. The other two were kept in prison. They lay chained hand and foot by a heavy three-inch chain in a small dungeon, where they remained in almost pitch darkness, with nothing to eat but bread and water, and very little of that. Of course, had not the murdered man been a European, little would have been heard of the matter. A message then came from the Sultan that one of the men was to be shot. The Basha, who is an authority here, desired this to be carried out in private, but the German Minister insisted upon a public execution. On the day of the execution I went down to the soko (market place).

About a dozen Europeans only were present, and among them were two French ladies on horseback. A posse of soldiers soon marched through the gateway, having in their midst the condemned man himself, seated on a donkey, with his feet chained together. I think he was too much dazed to comprehend fully all that was passing. The prisoner was taken, unresisting, off the donkey, and made to kneel with his face away from the soldiers. Two of the men were told off to shoot him. They refused, upon which the Basha's head man, with asperity, repeated the order. Then they walked up to within five yards of the prisoner and fired two shots into his back. The corpse was buried in sacred ground. All the Moors, even the authorities, Basha included, looked upon the prisoner as a martyr. Why, they asked, should a good Mohammedan die for a dog of a Christian? The feeling is universal, and if it were not for the legations, Europeans would not be very safe.—London Times.

An Unexpected Indorsement.

An exchange relates that Stephen Girard, the infidel millionaire of Philadelphia, on one Saturday ordered all his clerks to come on the morrow to his wharf and help unload a newly arrived ship. One young man replied, quietly:

"Mr. Girard, I can't work on Sunday."

"You know the rules."

"Yes, I know. I have a mother to support, but I can't work on Sundays."

"Well, step up to the desk, and the cashier will settle with you."

For three weeks the young man could find no work; but one day a banker came to Girard to ask if he could recommend a man for cashier in a new bank. This discharged young man was at once named as a suitable person.

"But," said the banker, "you discharged him."

"Yes, because he would not work on Sundays. A man who would loose his place for conscience's sake would make a trustworthy cashier." And he was appointed.

Descendents of the Queen.

The Queen of England's decendants either now occupy or will in due course sit upon seven thrones—namely, those of the British Empire, the German Empire, the Russian Empire, the Kingdom of Greece, the Duchy of Saxe-Coburg and Gotha, the Grand Duchy of Hesse and the Duchy of Saxe-Meiningen—an amount of territory ruled by her descendants which must comprise at least half of the entire globe. Her Majesty is also a relative of the King of Hanover, the King of Denmark and the King of the Belgians. The Queen, it may be mentioned, became a grandmother when she was 40.

Coal Oil for Snake Bites.

One day last week Thomas Pruett was in the corn crib when a large copperhead snake, which was concealed in a pile of corn husks, bit him on the thigh. Thomas made a hasty retreat with the snake hanging to his pants with its fangs. He says he does not know how he got out of the crib or how the snake got loose. His son came with a pitchfork and killed the snake. They applied coal oil to the bite, and beyond a little puffing up and some purple spots it did not amount to much.—Paoli, Ind., Republican.

The Smallest Newspaper.

The smallest newspaper in the world is published in Guadalaaraj, in Mexico. The E. Telegrafo, a weekly publication, is printed in eight columns, each 4⅛ inches wide, on thick manilla paper.

Among the many remedies for indigestion is the agreeable one of the rocking-chair. An excellent medical authority declares that the slow, rocking motion after meals stimulates the digestive functions, and gives marked relief. The patient ought to be placed in an almost horizontal position.

The Thames of England is 170 miles long. The river of the same name in Canada, is said to be 160 miles long. Its namesake in the United States is hardly more than a dozen miles in length, but is better for navigation than either.

A SMUGGLER'S TRICK.

Paste Diamonds Made to Serve Many Valuable Ones.

"All this talk about smuggling recalls some of the things I learned when I was in the service," announced a retired crook catcher the other day. "New ways of beating the government are being devised right along and many of the tricks I discovered are old now. There used to be more trouble with the diamond smugglers than there appears to be at present. I have found the sparklers in women's back hair, hat ornaments, hollowed shoe heels and sewed up in various articles of wear; in dog collars, in horses' hoofs, in fruits and vegetables, in trunks with false bottoms, in pipes and cigars, in canes, on the necks of carrier pigeons and even buried in men's flesh after the manner of the Kaffir diamond thieves.

"But the man who did the slickest business, without ever being suspected, told me about it afterwards. He was a retired detective who had served with great credit. Shortly before resigning he claimed to have received a beautiful diamond ring with three very large stones, from a New Yorker for whom he had been able to save a good deal of money. It was certainly a magnificent ring and the matter was duly exploited in the papers. He professed to be doing a private business, that took him across the river frequently, and he would often use the ferry three or four times a day. He always wore the dazzling ring and I looked at it every day for months. Yet that fellow was making big money smuggling diamonds.

"How? Why, he had a paste ring made exactly like the genuine one. He would wear the paste one over, leave it to be set with diamonds, wear them back, have them replaced with paste, and thus carry on the game right before our admiring eyes. We never suspected the rascal."

VALUABLE ADVICE FROM THE BENCH

His Bluff Worked and the Legal Reputation of the Justice was Saved.

A country justice had been elected but a few days, when a young lawyer rushed in and demanded a capias. Now, that justice did not know a capias from a police cell, but he disliked to admit his ignorance. So he said,—

"Now, see here, my friend. You are a young lawyer, and, I fear, lack experience. I would advise you not to be too hasty. Don't be in a hurry. Wait twenty-four hours and then, if you think best, come to me, and I will give you a capias."

The young lawyer agreed and went away. The justice spent the remainder of the day getting acquainted with the writ called capias. When the limb of the law appeared the next morning, the court felt himself qualified to issue capiases by the bushel.

Before he could speak, the young lawyer said,—

"Mr. Justice, you were right. I was too hasty. I have that matter fixed up all right and do not need a capias. I have come to thank you for the good advice, and have also brought you the two dollars fee you would have received for the capias, as I don't want you to lose by your good deed."

He went away believing the justice to be a paragon of good sense and legal lore.

EARLY AMERICAN BISHOPS.

They Were Obliged to Travel to London for Consecration.

The London News, writing of the conference of the Anglican prelates recently held at Lambeth, says:

"Before the war of the American independence the American Episcopalians who were connected with the English church were never suffered to have a Bishop amongst them, but remained under the jurisdiction of the Bishop of London. The rite of confirmation was unknown, and every candidate for ordination was obliged to travel to England. Out of fifty-two candidates who came from America for ordination in 1767, ten died on the voyage. At length, after the United States had been declared independent, Dr. Seabury was ordained Bishop of Connecticut by the Primus and Bishops of Scotland, the prelates of the English church having refused to consecrate him."

Science and Sentiment.

If scientists could have their own way, the world would soon be a very dull treadmill of existence. As it is, they are crushing out many af the joyous customs and habits that have stood for centuries.

Just now there is wailing and gnashing of teeth among the brides, and the brides to be, in the Hungarian district of Alfold, because the government has interfered with their wedding gifts. It has always been one of the local customs for a bride to wash and comb the hair of her guests, who in turn put sums of money into the basin of water as an unpleasant duty, perhaps, but what will a woman not do for the sake of a dowry? Official doctors have declared that the result of this is a spreading of disease, and the government itself has put a stop to the usage.

Be of Some Account.

Have a mission in life. Be of some account. Do not court responsibility, neither shirk it when it is laid upon you. See God's hand in every movement, and note its bearing upon you personally. He has use for you somewhere, and often where you least expect. Fall in line with His will from time to time. He may not have a conspicuous place for you to labor, but He will bring out, if you follow His guidance and are faithful, your talents in the sphere where you can do the best for His and for others.—Presbyterian.

Great Grumblers.

Grumbling Will Cease if Plainfield People Will Follow This Citizen's Advice.

When the kidneys are sick they grumble.

You hear them clear through the back.

You feel them clear through the body.

They grumble when overtaxed.

Know how the kidneys grumble?

It's a simple thing; your back will tell you.

Backache is the first grumbling warning.

The kidneys give it and if you heed it not,

Look out for trouble, it will surely come.

Urinary trouble, kidney trouble and many miseries.

Doan's Kidney Pills are made for kidneys only.

They cure every form of kidney ill

The experience of Plainfield people proves this.

Here's a case in point:

Mrs. R. A. Martin, of No. 70 Jackson avenue, says: "I have had pains in my back and loins for about one year or more, no doubt being caused by my kidneys being out of order. I felt it more in the morning just after getting up or if I did any stooping or lifting. Notwithstanding the fact that I took all kinds of medicine I never found anything which helped me until I got Doan's Kidney Pills at L. W. Randolph's drug store; they not only removed the pain, but they have strengthened me in other ways. I can cheerfully recommend Doan's Kidney Pills to anyone suffering with a lame back."

Doan's Kidney Pills are for sale by all dealers. Price 50 cents. Mailed by Foster-Milburn Co., Buffalo, N. Y., sole agents for the U. S.

STARVING IN ALASKA

Prospect of Famine Cause Miners to Desert Dawson City.

FOOD TAKEN BY FORCE

Steamer Held Up at Circle City and Provisions Taken—Thieves Slain in Dawson—Mining Laws Causing Considerable Trouble.

Seattle, Wash., Nov. 30.—Twenty-five Klondike miners, who have arrived here on the steamer City of Seattle from Skaguay with over one million in gold and drafts, describe a great exodus from the gold diggings at Dawson. The supply of food was nearly gone, and the departure of hundreds for points further down the Yukon was seen to be the only alternative to starvation.

Until late in September, when ice closed the Yukon, there was hope that enough food might be brought in to provision Dawson for the Winter. When this was seen to be impossible, Capt. Hansen, manager for the Alaska Commercial Company, hurried to Dawson from Fort Yukon to warn the people of their danger.

The Canadian officials—Capt. Constantine, of the mounted police; H. W. Davids, Collector of Customs, and Thomas Faucett, Gold Commissioner—issued a notice, which was posted up all over town, advising every one who hadn't laid in a Winter's supply of food to hurry down to Fort Yukon and other points on the lower river where supplies were comparatively abundant.

Great Privation Certain.

When the miners now here left Dawson it seemed probable that at least one thousand men would take their departure. All the stores had closed; they had nothing more to sell.

However, at best they will hardly find more than enough to sustain life through the Winter. The highest estimates of the amount of freight down the river do not exceed two thousand tons. With the persons who are now preparing to go, or considering the advisability of going, there will be in the lower country probably more than three thousand. Much of the freight is not food, and there is probably not enough to fully supply more than two thousand.

Every avenue of relief is closed. No more food can come by the river from St. Michael's or over the passes, and the people of the Yukon must settle down to a life of privation without hope of relief from any source until the middle of next June.

Impossible to Get Out.

Were it possible, many would go out. When the ice has formed it is possible for the hardiest to go out over the pass about Jan. 1. If they go they must carry along for themselves and dogs more food than would be necessary to carry them through the Winter.

More than this, such a trip is beyond the reach of many, for the price of dogs is beginning to be beyond the reach of most purses.

An epidemic of crime is the result of scarcity of food in Dawson. Within a week thirty robberies of caches were reported to the mounted police, and two thieves caught in the act of looting coaches have been killed by the owners.

Under ordinary circumstances Canadian law might have dealt severely with the shooters, but in this case there being no food for the prisoners, they were ordered to depart quickly down the river. This they did.

Indignation in the Camp.

The decision of the Canadian Government to let the new mining laws stand and collect the excessive royalties demanded has caused intense excitement in Dawson.

The secretary of the Mine Owners' Association estimates that the mines of Eldorado Creek would produce $4,000,000. He says that the proposed royalty will close them all, or that the owners will do only enough work to hold their leases from the Government. Some of the Canadians, who are large owners, talk of rebellion, and say that they will not submit to what they call an outrage. A meeting will be called immediately, and it is proposed to send a representation to Ottawa.

These are the three provisions of the new law which have proven most objectionable to the miners:

First—A royalty tax of 10 per cent. on the gross yield of each mine up to $20,000 per year, and 20 per cent. of that part in excess of the $20,000.

Second—Creek claims hereafter located shall be but 100 feet in length, instead of 500 feet, as under the old law.

Third—Alternate claims shall be reserved by the Government and sold at auction.

Miners Hold Up Steamers.

The miners at Circle City and its neighborhood, in the American section of the gold country, have forcibly detained the North American Trading and Transportation Company's steamer Portus B. Weare and compelled the officers to discharge sufficient of her cargo to meet their pressing wants.

The steamer, in charge of the manager of the company, E. E. Weare, and carrying 200 tons of freight, had passed the Yukon flats, and it was the intention to stop at Circle City only long enough to discharge provisions for the company mess. She had no sooner made fast, however, than she was boarded by a committee of six, the chairman of which said the miners were prepared to pay any price the company might exact.

The demand met with a direct refusal from Mr. Weare, who declared that the cargo must go directly to Dawson City, as much of it was in bond. The chairman made a peculiar signal, and immediately fifty men, armed with rifles and shotguns, ranged themselves on a bluff commanding the boat. Mr. Weare was told that if he attempted to put a man in the pilot-house his action would be resented, and the man would be compelled to leave the wheel. This had the desired effect.

The steamer Bella, which went up the river a few days later, met a similar reception, and had to put ashore fifty tons of provisions. Even now, Circle City has scarcely enough food for more than six months.

It is announced in Washington that the State Department will act in the dispute between Germany and Hayti only in the event of a violation of international law by the former country.

TO INDORSE MR. GAGE

No Difference Between President and Secretary.

TWO IN PERFECT ACCORD

The Former's Message Will Advise That Time Be Given for a Trial of Spain's Reforms in Cuba—No Indecisive Document.

Washington, Nov. 30.—"I am sure when the public reads the text of the President's message, and the text of my report to Congress, they will see that the two are in accord."

These were the words of Secretary Gage yesterday when asked about the newspaper reports that the President and he were not of one mind in regard to the financial recommendations to be made to Congress. The Secretary did not care to discuss the subject any further, because he has made it a rule not to notice newspaper guesses in regard to his report or the President's recommendations. He made the above declaration when the matter was mentioned to him, at the same time saying that, as it was but a few days before both the President's message and his own report would be made public, he thought it better for the people to wait until that time rather than believe the speculative reports and unfounded rumors now being published.

Unfounded Reports.

Both at the Treasury and the White House the stories published yesterday were pronounced unfounded, and it is stated on the highest authority that there is no difference between the President and his Secretary of the Treasury in regard to the coming message. It has been stated, and wisely, too, that the President will not go into detail or elaborate the plan for currency reform as will Secretary Gage, because he is not expected to do so, it being the province of the Secretary under the law to report directly to Congress. The part of the President's message referring to the Secretary's report is written in no uncertain tone, and it is satisfactory to Secretary Gage in every particular. It ends with the following sentence:

"I earnestly recommend to the careful consideration of Congress the recommendations contained in the report of the Secretary of the Treasury."

The President, in the financial part of his message, does not use the same language as the Secretary of the Treasury, but expresses his views in the same way. The difference in phraseology may have been the foundation for the assertion that there is a difference between the two high officials, but this is the only foundation whatever for the reports which have been published within the last two or three days.

Plain Talk on Cuba.

The part in regard to Cuba will be clear cut and written in the plainest and most straightforward manner. It will hold out the hope that beneficial results may be expected from the new policy adopted by Spain, and either directly or indirectly will suggest to Congress the propriety of taking no action with respect to Cuba until time has been allowed for a trial of the new policy. The purpose of the message, in this respect, will be to maintain the present neutral attitude of the United States until after the middle of January.

While the scheme of autonomy, as outlined in the communication to Senor De Lome from his Government is a disappointment, not being nearly as liberal as was expected, the President does not feel called upon to pass judgment upon it, but can merely wait to see how it will be received in Cuba. No better proposition being presented, however, he will await the result with less feeling of confidence than he would if something more substantial had been proposed.

SUFFOCATED IN A TUNNEL.

Peculiar Accident Causes the Death of Three Train Men.

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 30.—Asphyxiation caused the death of three men in the Grand Trunk Railway tunnel Sunday night. The victims were Henry J. Courtney, engineer; Arthur Dunn, conductor; John Dalton, brakeman.

A train which was being hauled through to the Canadian side broke in two. The engine backed down to get the detached portion of the train, but for hours nothing was heard of the crew.

Finally a searching party found the bodies and also rescued William Dunn, fireman, and William Potter, brakeman, in an unconscious condition. Three members of the searching party were also overcome, but were later rescued by another party. The tunnel gas arises from the hard coal used by the locomotives.

GOSSIP FROM GRIDIRON.

HAPPENINGS AMONG THE LOCAL FOOTBALL PLAYERS.

Games That are to be Played and Points About Teams and Individual Players That May Prove Interesting to Cranks.

The San Remo team was very anxious to play here again after Thanksgiving but the loss of so many players made it impossible for the Plainfield A. A. team to make another attempt to defeat the New York cracks. Next year, however, a series of games between the two teams is assured.

Plainfield was well represented on the Lehigh freshman eleven this fall. Everett J. Peck, of Myrtle avenue, was chosen captain and played end until an accident to his knee compelled him to stop for the season. J. Vincent Rittenhouse, of East Sixth street, played half back on the same team.

The Universals, of Westfield, were to play the Lincolns, of Dunellen, but the Westfield team failed to show up. The Dunellen team, which is largely composed of Plainfielders, was longing for another chance to meet the Plainfield team, but the latter were evidently not so anxious for another game.

In the San Remo-Plainfield game, Thomas U. Smith made the longest run of the day, covering nearly eighty yards before he was downed. The signal was given for a fake kick and McGee dropped back as if to kick. The visitors were deceived, and Snediker made a big hole in the line through which Smith plunged for a long run.

There was some criticism of the management of the Plainfield A. A. that they did not schedule games with the small college teams in the vicinity. The truth of the matter is that the management wrote in plenty of time but the colleges did not want to play. They had nothing to gain and lots to lose by meeting the Plainfield team. Rutgers had already had her scrub team nearly swept out of existence and she did not care to risk the 'varsity team. Stevens' Institute had heard considerable about Plainfield's strength and would not come.

The football season is over in Plainfield. The Plainfield Athletic Association has disbanded its team for the year. While there have been mistakes made, the management of that team has much to be thankful for. Plainfield was given the strongest team that ever played on gridiron in this city and but for several unfortunate happenings that come to every club, the season was a successfully one. Financially, the club was a success and sufficient money was taken in to pay off every bill and leave a small balance behind which will be turned into the treasury for use next year. The greatest hinderance to the management was that the local players would not turn out to practice as they should and so the team play that was expected did not appear in most of the games. Individually, most of the players were excellent and there was excellent material to work with.

STRIKES AND SPARES.

Last evening on the Park Club alleys a picked team from the the club's bowlers met the team from the Roselle Club in three practice games prior to the opening of the season tomorrow. Those who bowled for the Parks were F. H. Ball, George Worth, Percy Sandford, F. O. Ball and Dr. C. R. Thiers, and the Roselle team comprised Greaves, Hebbard, Smith, Patterson and Warner. Early in the evening Allan Laing bowled in place of Mr. Worth until the latter arrived. The Park team only won one game, the first one, while their opponents carried off the honors for the other two. In the first game the Parks scored 731 and the Roselle team 723. In the last two games the visitors rolled scores of 779 and 813 as against 710 and 795 for the Parks. There was nothing of any special interest about the games, and no high scores were made. The Park team showed up fairly well, but Mr. Ball has not yet decided on the team that will bowl during the season. There were a number of spectators present last evening who seemed to enjoy the return of this most popular sport.

Wm. VanAlstyne, of Madison avenue, has been selected as manager of the Y. M. C. A. bowling department. He will be on hand every Friday night to assist those wishing to bowl. A pin boy will be on hand that evening from 7:30 until 9:30 o'clock.

VARIOUS SPORTS.

There is considerable talk among the boys of the High School, of this city, about organizing a basket ball team here. There is plenty of good material in the High School and many of the boys are very anxious to play. The enthusiasm over the game among the girls is largely responsible, and the boys are planning to practice in the Whittier school when it is not being used by the cadet company or the girls.

CYCLING COMMENT.

C. Frank French has renewed his membership in the L. A. W., through Local Consul Thomas A. Cuming.

THANKS TO ALL.

Woman's Auxiliary Grateful to All Who Helped at the 'Fest.

The Woman's Auxiliary Board of Muhlenberg Hospital desire to thank all who kindly assisted in making the Spielkartenfest a success, particularly the dancers, chaperones, and the members of the Park Whist Club, without whose aid the 'Fest would have been impossible. To Andrew Kenney, for efficient management of advertising; the Daily Press and News for liberal notices; Henry Bowen, for complimentary descriptions in New York Herald; William Gilbert, for programme design; Elmer Runyon, for tenor solos; Messrs. Evarts Tracy and Napier for designs of booths; Mr. Runyon, for use of telephone; Mr. Radford, for ushers' badges; Messrs. Edward White, G. Q. Packer and A. T. Gavett, for articles loaned; Messrs. Boice, Runyon, Ulrich, Mundy, Rogers, Steiglets, Gavin, Neuman Bros. and Demarest & Son for liberal donations of merchandise; Messrs. Armstrong and Hall for advance sale of tickets; Messrs. F. R. Stevens, Woolston, Milliken, Spangenberg and O'Brien for valuable assistance in many ways; William Hand & Son and T. J. Carey for gratuitous carting. We also desire to thank the public generally for its liberal patronage, which has enabled the Woman's Board to accomplish a result so gratifying.

Case Has Not Been Appealed.

The statement made an another newspaper last night to the effect that the suit of Creamer & Goodman, of New York city, against Policeman George Lunger, to compel payment for a number of storm coats purchased by policemen, which was decided by a jury in favor of the defendant in Justice Mosher's court, last Friday, had been appealed, was not correct. The plaintiffs have decided to drop the matter where it is, and no further legal process will be taken.

REV. W. R. RICHARDS EXPLAINS.

He Quotes His Words in Reference to the News Editorial.

To the Editor of The Daily Press:—Your paper last evening contained a reference to my sermon of the day before which was not quite correct. In quoting from a recent editorial in one of our papers I did not name the paper and, furthermore, made no charges against the writer of the article. There was nothing in what I quoted to show whether the materialistic view presented in the article received the writer's own endorsement as what ought to prevail, or whether he merely stated it as the view which he thought would prevail in the action of our city government. So nearly as I can remember my words were these: "I have read these sentences with a feeling of shame, and I ask you, as Plainfielders, whether you are willing to endorse that as the proper policy for our city to adopt."

The error in your report was unintentional, I think, but, in justice to myself and others concerned, it seems to call for this word of correction.

THE QUEEN CITY BAND.

Plainfield's New Musical Organization Duly Organized.

The new band in this city which excited so much favorable comment at the dinner given by the firemen on Thanksgiving day at the Pierce Cycle Academy by its excellent renditions, was duly organized last evening at its rooms on East Front street, with a charter membership of eighteen. The organization was conducted in a thorough business-like manner, and the following officers were elected to serve one year: President, O. C. Nichols; vice-president, Adolph Kahrmen; secretary, Owen Smith; treasurer, David Urin; business manager, Benj. LaVere; librarian, Chris. Sorenson, Jr.

The band will hereafter be known as the Queen City band, and has no connection whatever with the Plainfield Cornet band. The band starts off with a bright future in prospect, and promises something novel and good in the line of band concerts next summer, and judging by the progress already made, it may be safe to say that the citizens of the city will, in this band, have one of which they may feel duly proud.

First of Dime Sociables

The first of a series of dime sociables, under the auspices of the Woman's Temperance Aid Society, held at Mrs J. S. King's, of West Second street, last night, was a complete success. Music, vocal and instrumental, readings and recitations were the order of the evening, followed by refreshments. Among those present were several from Somerville and Paterson.

Just Wanted a Vacation

A young lad named DeHart, living on West Third street, who disappeared some time ago, was found a few days ago by his mother. The boy had gone to Pennsylvania, where he was visiting his relatives. He made no excuse for his actions, except that he wanted a little vacation. He is now at his home and attending school again.

THE DESIRABILITY of a Piano in your home is a proposition that you would never seek to dispute. It is one of the things that is incontestably true.

The only objection with most people is the supposed excessive cost. We wish those who want music in their homes and haven't got it, to come and see us. We can make the buying of a Piano such an easy matter that they will surely asquiesce.

—An interesting meeting of the Plainfield Primary Teachers' Union was held in the small hall of the Y. M. C. A. building yesterday afternoon.

—The Thursday night meeting at the Reform Club this week gives promise of being one of the best this season. A fine programme has been arranged.

—There is to be a meeting this evening at Red Men's hall, under the auspices of Washington Camp, No. 30, P. O. S. of A. There will be addresses by State Vice-President J. W. Decker, of Newark, State Organizer G. W Smith, of Phillipsburg, and Mr. Grey, of Cranford. N J.

Alarm Came While Chief was There.

Chief T. O. Doane and Drivers Geo. Feiring and James Bailey went to Newark yesterday to witness the weekly drill of the fire department of that city. They found that a party of Chinamen, who were visiting the industries and institutions of this country, were to visit the department during the afternoon and there was to be a special alarm sent in for their benefit. While Chief Doane was talking with the Newark chief the alarm came in and the two chiefs went in the chief's wagon. It was half an hour before the appointed time and was thought to be a real fire, but on arriving at the box the visitors were discovered.

Earthquake Shocks in Mexico.

City of Mexico, Nov. 30.—Severe earthquake shocks have been felt throughout the State of Guerrero during the past five days, and in some of the mountain villages people are panic stricken. At Chilpancingo, the capital of the State, the shocks were the severest felt for several years.

Dauntless Off to Cuba Again.

Jacksonville, Fla., Nov. 30.—The tug Dauntless has fooled the United States officials again, and is off Cubaward with a large cargo of arms and ammunition. On Nov. 19 the Dauntless left here towing the schooner Jennie Thomas, ostensibly bound for Savannah.

Chaplain Goodwin Resigns.

Washington, Nov. 30.—The Rev. Montgomery M. Goodwin, a chaplain in the United States Navy, has found a way out of a serious difficulty by resigning his office. The President has accepted the resignation, to take effect to-day. Chaplain Goodwin was reported to the Navy Department last week by Capt. H. F. Picking for drunkenness.

NOTICE TO ALL INTERESTED IN UP-TO-DATE LAUNDRY WORK.

We run the laundry and take care of all details, but you "boss" it. We do what you tell us to do. It may give you a new sensation to find that you get a domestic finish when you ask for it, and to discover that your collars are actually ironed in the way that the maker intended them to be ironed.

We are running a laundry with the most improved methods and appliances. We use pure water and good soap. We are using two things that are not commonly used in laundries—care and intelligence. If you have found a laundry that pleases you perfectly, we have nothing to say to you. If you have any reason to be dissatisfied, we would like to give you a practical demonstration of our way of running a laundry.

Tell us where and when to call for your work, when you want it delivered, and let us know any particular thing that you would like to have done with it.

We want you to understand that we are running this laundry for you, and that your wishes are to be regarded in every particular. We will give you just exactly what you want, if we can find out what that is. Perhaps you believe that it is impossible to have your laundry well handled without irritation and annoyance to you. We are sure that you are mistaken. May we have an opportunity of demonstrating it?

The Polished Man

never wears polished linen. It's not good form; besides, the polish makes a brittle surface which cracks the fibre and ruins the linen.

Our domestic finish is the correct style—more than that, it makes a soft pliable surface that gives long life to the linen.

We can launder 15,000 collars and cuffs daily. We want yours.
